This DASV [Digital American Standard Version] was produced to explore the potential of the digital medium for communicating the Word of God.

This is a project of Dr. Ted Hildebrandt,

It was developed based on the American Standard Version (ASV) of 1901.

I have sought to use the digital medium--text, audio, visual--to communicate God's Word freely in a digital and globally networked environment making my explorations available to anyone for the glory of God and the good of those seeking own spiritual development or helping others. Please feel free to use the DASV in new projects harnessing the digital medium in new creative expressions of the Word of God. The copyright notification must be displayed [© DASV Bible, Ted Hildebrandt, 2011] and the wording left unchanged.

This project owes its origins to my students Maggie Austen and Katie Moss. Thanks for helping me to see the potential of this medium.

It is dedicated to my grandfather Alex Affleck who passed the legacy on to my late father Ted Hildebrandt who instilled in me a love for God's word and the discipline and tenacity to complete such projects. My mother Elaine Hildebrandt who has proof read all of this and encouraged me over a lifetime of service. Thanks to God for my wife, Annette and my children, Rebekah and grandson Ben, Natanya, Zach, Elliott all gifts and true to their names.

<sup>2</sup> And the earth was formless and empty; and darkness covered the surface of the deep, and the Spirit of God hovered over the surface of the waters.

<sup>3</sup> And God said, "Let there be light," and there was light.

<sup>5</sup> And God called the light "day," and the darkness he called "night." And there was evening and there was morning, the first day.

<sup>6</sup> And God said, "Let there be an expanse between the waters, and let it separate the waters above from the waters below."

<sup>7</sup> And God made the expanse, and separated the waters which were under the expanse from the waters which were above the expanse. And it was so.

<sup>8</sup> And God called the expanse "sky." And there was evening and there was morning, the second day.

<sup>9</sup> And God said, "Let the waters under the expanse be gathered together into one place, and let the dry land appear." And it was so.

<sup>10</sup> And God called the dry land "earth," and the waters that were gathered together he called "seas." And God saw that it was good.

<sup>11</sup> And God said, "Let the earth produce vegetation, seed bearing plants and fruit-trees with seed-bearing fruit each according to its kind on the earth." And it was so.

<sup>12</sup> And the earth brought forth vegetation--plants bearing seed each after their kind, and trees bearing fruit with seeds, each after their kind. And God saw that it was good.

<sup>13</sup> And there was evening and there was morning, the third day.

<sup>14</sup> And God said, "Let there be lights in the sky to separate the day from the night; and let them be markers for the seasons, and for days and years;

<sup>15</sup> and let them be lights in the expanse of the heavens to give light on earth." And it was so.

<sup>16</sup> And God made the two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night--he also made the stars.

<sup>17</sup> And God set them in the expanse of the heavens to give light on the earth, <sup>18</sup> and to rule over the day and over the night, and to separate the light from the darkness. And God saw that it was good.

<sup>19</sup> And there was evening and there was morning, the fourth day.

<sup>20</sup> And God said, "Let the waters teem with swarms of living creatures, and let the birds fly above the earth across the open expanse of the heavens."

<sup>21</sup> And God created the great sea-creatures, and every living creature that moves and swarms in the waters, each after its kind, and every winged bird after its kind. And God saw that it was good.

<sup>22</sup> And God blessed them, saying, "Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let birds multiply on the earth."

<sup>23</sup> And there was evening and there was morning, the fifth day.

<sup>24</sup> And God said, "Let the earth bring forth living creatures each according to its kind: cattle, creeping things and beasts of the earth each according to its kind. And it was so.

<sup>25</sup> And God made the beasts of the earth each according to their kind, and the livestock after their kind, and everything that creeps on the ground after its kind." And God saw that it was good.

<sup>26</sup> And God said, "Let us make man in our image, according to our likeness. And let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of the sky, and over the livestock, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth."

<sup>27</sup> So God created humans in his own image, in the image of God he created him. He created them male and female.

<sup>28</sup> And God blessed them and said to them, "Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it and rule over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of the sky, and over every living thing that moves on the earth."

<sup>29</sup> And God said, "Look, I have given you every seed bearing plant which is upon the surface of all the earth, and every tree which yields fruit with seed. They will be your food.

<sup>30</sup> And to every beast of the earth, and to every bird of the sky, and to everything that creeps on the earth, that has life, I have given every green plant for food." And it was so.

<sup>31</sup> And God saw everything that he had made, and indeed, it was very good. And there was evening and there was morning, the sixth day.

DASV: Genesis 2

<sup>1</sup> So the heavens and the earth were finished, and all their hosts.

<sup>2</sup> And on the seventh day God finished the work he had done, and he rested on the seventh day from all the work that he had done.

<sup>3</sup> And God blessed the seventh day, and made it holy; because on it he rested from all the work that he had done in creation.

<sup>4</sup> This is the account of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day when the LORD God made the earth and the heavens,

<sup>5</sup> when no bush of the field was yet on the earth, and no plant of the field had yet sprung up; for the LORD God had not caused it to rain on the earth, and there was no man to till the ground;

<sup>6</sup> but a mist came up from the earth, and watered the whole surface of the ground.

<sup>7</sup> Then the LORD God formed man from the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living being.

<sup>8</sup> Now the LORD God planted a garden in Eden, that is in the east; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

<sup>9</sup> And out of the ground the LORD God made every tree grow that is pleasant to the sight and good for food. The tree of life and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil were in the middle of the garden.

<sup>10</sup> And a river flowed out of Eden to water the garden; and from there it divided and became four branches.

<sup>11</sup> The name of the first is Pishon. It flows around the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold.

<sup>12</sup> And the gold of that land is good; the fragrant bdellium resin and onyx stone are also there.

<sup>13</sup> And the name of the second river is Gihon. It flows around the whole land of Cush.

<sup>14</sup> And the name of the third river is Tigris. It goes along the east side of Assyria. And the fourth river is the Euphrates.

<sup>15</sup> Then the LORD God took the man and put him in the garden of Eden to tend and to keep it.

<sup>16</sup> And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, "You are free to eat of any tree of the garden <sup>17</sup> but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, you may not eat, for in the day that you eat it you will surely die."

<sup>18</sup> Then the LORD God said, "It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make him a helper suitable for him."

<sup>19</sup> So out of the ground the LORD God had formed every beast of the field, and every bird of the sky; and brought them to the man to see what he would call them. And whatever the man called every living creature, that was its name.

<sup>20</sup> And the man gave names to all livestock, and to the birds of the sky, and to every beast of the field; but for the man there was no suitable helper found.

<sup>22</sup> And from the rib, that the LORD God had taken from the man, he made a woman, and brought her to the man.

<sup>23</sup> Then the man said, "This at last is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh. She will be called 'Woman,' because she was taken out of 'Man.'"

<sup>24</sup> That is why a man leaves his father and his mother, and is joined to his wife, and they become one flesh.

<sup>25</sup> And the man and his wife were both naked and were not ashamed.

DASV: Genesis 3

<sup>1</sup> Now the serpent was more crafty than any beast of the field which the LORD God had made. And he asked the woman, "Did God really say, 'You may not eat of any tree of the garden'?"

<sup>2</sup> And the woman said to the serpent, "We may eat from the fruit of the trees in the garden, <sup>3</sup> but from the fruit of the tree that is in the middle of the garden, God did say, 'You may not eat it or touch it, or you will die.'"

<sup>4</sup> But the serpent said to the woman, "You certainly will not die!

<sup>5</sup> For God knows that in the day you eat it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil."

<sup>6</sup> So when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it looked pleasing to the eyes, and that the tree was desirable to make one wise, she took some of the fruit and ate it. Then she gave some to her husband who was with her, and he ate it.

<sup>7</sup> Then the eyes of both of them were opened, and they knew that they were naked. So they sewed fig leaves together, and made loincloths for themselves.

<sup>8</sup> When they heard the voice of the LORD God walking in the garden in the cool of the day, the man and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the LORD God among the trees of the garden.

<sup>9</sup> And the LORD God called to the man, "Where are you?"

<sup>10</sup> And he answered, "I heard your voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked, so I hid myself."

<sup>11</sup> And he said, "Who told you that you were naked? Have you eaten from the tree, that I commanded you not to eat?"

<sup>12</sup> And the man said, "The woman you gave to be with me, she gave me the fruit from the tree and I ate it."

<sup>13</sup> Then the LORD God said to the woman, "What is this you have done?" And the woman said, "The serpent deceived me, and I ate."

<sup>14</sup> And the LORD God said to the serpent, "Because you have done this, you are cursed above all livestock, and above every beast of the field; upon your belly you will go, and you will eat dust all the days of your life.

<sup>15</sup> And I will put hostility between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed; he will bruise your head, and you will strike his heel."

<sup>16</sup> To the woman he said, "I will greatly multiply your pain and your conception. In pain you will give birth. Your desire will be to your husband, but he will rule over you."

<sup>17</sup> And to Adam he said, "Because you have listened to the voice of your wife, and have eaten from the tree I commanded you, saying, 'You may not eat from it,' cursed is the ground because of you; in toil you will eat of it all the days of your life.

<sup>18</sup> It will produce thorns and thistles and you will eat the plants of the field.

<sup>19</sup> By the sweat of your brow you will eat bread, until you return to the ground from which you were taken. For dust you are, and to dust you will return."

<sup>20</sup> Then Adam named his wife "Eve," because she was the mother of all living.

<sup>21</sup> And the LORD God made clothing of animal skins for Adam and his wife, and clothed them.

<sup>22</sup> And the LORD God said, "Look, the man has become like one of us, knowing good and evil. Now, he must not be allowed to reach out his hand and also take from the tree of life, eat, and live forever."

<sup>23</sup> Therefore the LORD God sent him out of the garden of Eden, to till the ground from which he was taken.

<sup>24</sup> So he drove the man out; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden cherubim and a flaming sword flashing every way, to guard the way to the tree of life.

<sup>1</sup> Now the man knew Eve his wife; and she conceived, and gave birth to Cain, saying, "I have produced a man with the help of the LORD."

<sup>3</sup> Over the course of time, Cain brought some of the fruit of the ground as an offering to the LORD, <sup>4</sup> while Abel brought some of the fat of the firstlings of his flock. And the LORD looked with favor on Abel and his offering.

<sup>5</sup> but he did not look with favor on Cain and his offering. So Cain was very angry and his face downcast.

<sup>6</sup> Then the LORD said to Cain, "Why are you angry, and why is your face downcast?"

<sup>7</sup> If you do well, will you not be accepted? But if you do not do well, sin is couching at the door. It desires to have you, but you must rule over it."

<sup>8</sup> Now Cain spoke to Abel, his brother. "Let's go out into the field." And when they were in the field, Cain rose up against his brother Abel and killed him.

<sup>9</sup> And the LORD said to Cain, "Where is your brother Abel?" And he replied, "I do not know, am I my brother's keeper?"

<sup>10</sup> And he said, "What have you done? Listen! The voice of your brother's blood cries to me from the ground.

<sup>11</sup> And now you are cursed from the ground, which has opened its mouth to receive your brother's blood from your hand.

<sup>12</sup> When you till the ground, it will no longer yield to you its strength. A fugitive and a wanderer you will be on the earth."

<sup>13</sup> And Cain said to the LORD, "My punishment is greater than I can bear.

<sup>14</sup> Behold, today you have banished me from the face of the ground. I will be hidden from your face. I will be a fugitive and a wanderer on the earth, and whoever finds me will kill me."

<sup>15</sup> So the LORD said to him, "Not so! For whoever kills Cain will suffer vengeance sevenfold." Then the LORD put a mark on Cain, so that no one finding him would murder him.

<sup>16</sup> Then Cain went out from the presence of the LORD and dwelled in the land of Nod, to the east of Eden.

<sup>17</sup> And Cain knew his wife, and she conceived, and bare Enoch. Then Cain built a city. He named it after the name of his son, Enoch.

<sup>18</sup> And to Enoch was born Irad, and Irad fathered Mehujael, and Mehujael fathered Methushael, and Methushael fathered Lamech.

<sup>19</sup> And Lamech took two wives; the name of the one was Adah, and the name of the other Zillah.

<sup>20</sup> And Adah bore Jabal. He was the father of those who live in tents and have livestock.

<sup>21</sup> And his brother's name was Jubal. He was the father of all those who play the harp and pipe.

<sup>22</sup> And Zillah also bore Tubal-cain, the forger of all tools of bronze and iron. Tubal-cain's sister was Naamah.

<sup>23</sup> Then Lamech said to his wives, Adah and Zillah, "Hear my voice you wives of Lamech, listen to my speech. For I have killed a man for wounding me, a young man for hurting me.

<sup>25</sup> Now the man knew his wife again, and she bore a son, and called his name Seth. For, she said, "God has appointed me another seed instead of Abel, because Cain killed him."

<sup>26</sup> And a son was also born to Seth, and he called his name Enosh. Then men began to call upon the name of the LORD.

DASV: Genesis 5

<sup>1</sup> This is the account of the descendants of Adam. In the day when God created man, he made him in the likeness of God.

<sup>2</sup> Male and female he created them, and blessed them, and called them "humankind" in the day when they were created.

<sup>4</sup> Adam lived 800 years after the birth of Seth, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>5</sup> So all the days of Adam were 930 years, and he died.

<sup>8</sup> So all the days of Seth were 912 years, and he died.

<sup>10</sup> Enosh lived 815 years after the birth of Kenan, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>11</sup> So all the days of Enosh were 905 years, and he died.

<sup>14</sup> So all the days of Kenan were 910 years, and he died.

<sup>28</sup> When Lamech was 182 years old, he fathered a son.

<sup>29</sup> He named him Noah, saying, "He will bring us relief from our work and from the toil of our hands, because of the ground that the LORD has cursed."

<sup>30</sup> Lamech lived 595 years after the birth of Noah, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>31</sup> So all the days of Lamech were 777 years, and he died.

<sup>32</sup> When Noah was 500 years old, he fathered Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

DASV: Genesis 6

<sup>1</sup> When men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and daughters were born to them,

<sup>2</sup> the sons of God saw that the daughters of men were beautiful, and any they wanted they took for their wives.

<sup>3</sup> Then the LORD said, "My spirit shall not strive with man forever, for he is flesh; his days will be 120 years."

<sup>4</sup> The Nephilim were on the earth in those days, and also afterward, when the sons of God went to the daughters of men, and they bore children, who became the heroes of old, warriors of renown.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD saw that the wickedness of man was great on the earth, and that every inclination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.

<sup>6</sup> And the LORD was sorry that he had made humans on the earth, and it grieved him in his heart.

<sup>7</sup> And the LORD said, "I will blot out man whom I have created from the face of the earth; man, and animals, and creeping things, and birds of the sky; for I am sorry I ever made them."

<sup>12</sup> And God saw that the earth was corrupt, for all flesh had corrupted their ways on the earth.

<sup>13</sup> So God said to Noah, "I have decided to put an end to all flesh; for the earth is filled with violence because of them; now look, I will destroy them along with the earth.

<sup>14</sup> Make yourself an ark of gopherwood. Make rooms in the ark, and cover it with tar inside and out.

<sup>17</sup> For behold, I will bring flood waters on the earth, to destroy from under heaven all flesh in which is the breath of life. Everything that is in the earth will die.

<sup>18</sup> But I will establish my covenant with you; and you, your sons, your wife and your sons' wives will come into the ark.

<sup>19</sup> And from every living thing of every kind, you shall bring two of every kind, male and female, into the ark, to keep them alive with you.

<sup>20</sup> Of the birds after their kind, and of the animals after their kind, of every thing that creeps on the ground after its kind, two of every kind will come to you, to keep them alive.

<sup>21</sup> Also take with you all kinds of food, for yourself. Store it up and it will be food for you and for them."

<sup>22</sup> So Noah did everything that God commanded him.

DASV: Genesis 7

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Noah, "Enter the ark, you and all your family, for I have seen that you alone are righteous before me in this generation.

<sup>2</sup> Of every clean animal, take seven pairs, the male and its female; and of the animals that are not clean, one pair, the male and its female.

<sup>3</sup> Of the birds of the sky, seven pairs, male and female, to keep their kind alive on the face of all the earth.

<sup>4</sup> In seven days, I will cause it to rain upon the earth for forty days and forty nights. Then I will blot out every creature that I have made from the face of the earth."

<sup>9</sup> two by two, male and female, they entered the ark with Noah, just as God commanded Noah.

<sup>10</sup> And after seven days, the flood waters came on the earth.

<sup>11</sup> In the six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, on the seventeenth day of the month, on that very day all the fountains of the great deep burst out, and the windows of heaven were opened.

<sup>12</sup> And the rain fell on the earth for forty days and forty nights.

<sup>13</sup> In the very same day Noah and his sons, Shem, Ham and Japheth, along with Noah's wife and his son's three wives, entered into the ark;

<sup>14</sup> they and every animal after its kind, and all the livestock after their kind, and every creeping thing that creeps on the earth after its kind, and every bird after its kind, every sort of bird.

<sup>15</sup> Two by two from all flesh which had the breath of life, they went in with Noah into the ark.

<sup>16</sup> And those that entered in, went in male and female of every kind, just as God commanded him. Then the LORD shut him in.

<sup>17</sup> Now the flood continued forty days on the earth; and the waters increased, and floated the ark, and it rose high above the earth.

<sup>18</sup> And the waters rose and increased higher on the earth; and the ark floated on the face of the waters.

<sup>21</sup> And all flesh died that moved on the earth: birds, livestock, animals, and every creeping thing that creeps on the earth, and all human beings.

DASV: Genesis 8

<sup>1</sup> But God remembered Noah, and all the wild animals, and all the livestock that were with him in the ark. Then God made a wind blow over the earth, and the waters subsided.

<sup>2</sup> The springs of the deep and the windows of heaven were stopped, and the rain from heaven was restrained.

<sup>8</sup> Then he sent out a dove, to see if the waters had receded from off the face of the ground.

<sup>9</sup> But the dove found no place for its feet to land. So it returned to him in the ark, for the waters still covered the face of the whole earth. Then he put forth his hand, and took it, and brought it back to him in the ark.

<sup>11</sup> In the evening, when the dove came back to him; there was in her mouth a freshly picked olive leaf. So Noah knew that the waters had subsided from the earth.

<sup>12</sup> Then he stayed seven more days, and sent out the dove. This time it did not again return to him.

<sup>13</sup> Now in Noah's six hundred and first year, in the first day of the first month, the waters were dried up from off the earth. Then Noah removed the covering of the ark and saw the face of the ground was drying.

<sup>14</sup> And in the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, the earth was dry.

<sup>15</sup> Then God said to Noah,

<sup>16</sup> "Go out of the ark, you and your wife, your sons and your sons' wives with you.

<sup>17</sup> Bring out with you every living thing that is with you of all flesh--birds, livestock and every creeping thing that creeps on the earth--that they may breed abundantly in the earth, and be fruitful and multiply on the earth."

<sup>20</sup> Then Noah built an altar to the LORD, and took some of all the clean beasts and clean birds, and offered burnt offerings on the altar.

<sup>21</sup> And the LORD smelled the sweet aroma. And the LORD said in his heart, "I will never again curse the ground because of human beings, for the imagination of the human heart is evil from his youth. Neither will I ever again destroy every living thing as I have done.

<sup>22</sup> As long as the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night will not cease."

DASV: Genesis 9

<sup>1</sup> Then God blessed Noah and his sons, and said to them, "Be fruitful, multiply, and fill the earth.

<sup>2</sup> The fear and the dread of you will be on every beast of the earth, every bird of the sky, everything that creeps on the ground and all the fish of the sea; they are delivered into your hand.

<sup>3</sup> Every moving thing that lives will be food for you; just as I gave you the green plants, now I give everything.

<sup>4</sup> But you shall not eat meat with its life, that is, its blood still in it.

<sup>5</sup> And I will surely require a reckoning for your lifeblood, from every beast will I require it, as well as from human beings, I will demand an accounting for human life.

<sup>10</sup> and with every living creature that is with you, the birds, the livestock, and every beast of the earth; all those that have come out of the ark--for every creature on the earth.

<sup>11</sup> I establish my covenant with you. Never again will all flesh be cut off by the waters of the flood; and never again will there be a flood to destroy the earth."

<sup>12</sup> Then God said, "This is the sign of the covenant that I make between me and you and every living creature with you, for all future generations:

<sup>13</sup> I have set my rainbow in the clouds, and it will be the sign of a covenant between me and the earth.

<sup>14</sup> When I bring clouds over the earth, and the rainbow appears in the clouds, <sup>15</sup> then I will remember my covenant, that is between me and you and every living creature of every kind. Never again will the waters become a flood to destroy all flesh.

<sup>16</sup> And when I see the rainbow in the clouds, I will remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of every kind that is on the earth."

<sup>17</sup> Then God said to Noah, "This is the sign of the covenant which I have established between me and all flesh that is on the earth."

<sup>18</sup> Now the sons of Noah who came out of the ark, were Shem, Ham and Japheth. And Ham was the father of Canaan.

<sup>23</sup> Then Shem and Japheth took a garment and laid it on both their shoulders, and went backward, and covered the nakedness of their father. So their faces turned backward, and they did not see their father's nakedness.

<sup>29</sup> So all the days of Noah were 950 years, and he died.

DASV: Genesis 10

- <sup>1</sup> This is the account of the sons of Noah: Shem, Ham, and Japheth--after the flood sons were born to them.
- <sup>2</sup> The sons of Japheth: Gomer, Magog, Madai, Javan, Tubal, Meshech and Tiras.
- <sup>3</sup> The sons of Gomer: Ashkenaz, Riphath and Togarmah.
- <sup>4</sup> And the sons of Javan: Elishah, Tarshish, Kittim and Rodanim.
- <sup>5</sup> From these the seafaring peoples spread into their lands, each with its own language, by their families in their nations.
- <sup>6</sup> And the sons of Ham: Cush, Mizraim, Put and Canaan.
- <sup>7</sup> The sons of Cush: Seba, Havilah, Sabtah, Raamah, Sabteca; and the sons of Raamah: Sheba and Dedan.
- <sup>8</sup> And Cush fathered Nimrod; he became a mighty warrior on the earth.
- <sup>9</sup> He was a mighty hunter before the LORD; therefore it is said, "Like Nimrod a mighty hunter before the LORD."
- <sup>10</sup> And the beginning of his kingdom was in Babel, Erech, Akkad and Calneh, in the land of Shinar.
- <sup>11</sup> From that land he went into Assyria and built Nineveh, Rehoboth-Ir and Calah,
- <sup>12</sup> and Resen between Nineveh and Calah; that one is a great city.
- <sup>13</sup> And Mizraim fathered Ludim, Anamim, Lehabim, Naphtuhim,
- <sup>14</sup> Pathrusim, Casluhim and Caphtorim from whom the Philistines came.
- <sup>15</sup> Canaan fathered Sidon his firstborn, Heth,
- <sup>16</sup> and the Jebusites, Amorites, Girgashites,
- <sup>17</sup> Hivites, Arkites, Sinites,
- <sup>18</sup> Arvadites, Zemarites and Hamathites. Afterward the families of the Canaanites spread out.
- <sup>19</sup> And the territory of the Canaanites was from Sidon, in the direction of Gerar, to Gaza, all the way over to Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah and Zeboiim, as far as Lasha.
- <sup>20</sup> These are the sons of Ham, according to their families, languages, lands and nations.
- <sup>21</sup> To Shem, the father of all the children of Eber, the elder brother of Japheth, children were born.
- <sup>22</sup> The sons of Shem: Elam, Asshur, Arpaxad, Lud and Aram.
- <sup>23</sup> The sons of Aram: Uz, Hul, Gether and Mash.
- <sup>24</sup> Arpaxad fathered Shelah; and Shelah fathered Eber.
- <sup>25</sup> To Eber were born two sons: the name of the one was Peleg, for in his days the earth was divided, and his brother's name was Joktan.
- <sup>26</sup> Joktan fathered Almodad, Sheleph, Hazarmaveth, Jerah,
- <sup>27</sup> Hadoram, Uzal, Diklah,
- <sup>28</sup> Obal, Abimael, Sheba,

<sup>3</sup> They said to one another, "Come, let us make bricks and bake them hard." They had brick for stone and tar for mortar.

<sup>4</sup> Then they said, "Come, let us build a city for ourselves, with a tower that reaches up to heavens, and let us make a name for ourselves; lest we be scattered all over the face of the whole earth."

<sup>5</sup> But the LORD came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of men had built.

<sup>6</sup> And the LORD said, "Look, they are one people, and they all have one language; and this is only the beginning of what they will do. Now nothing will stop them from what they plan to do.

<sup>7</sup> Come, let us go down, and confuse their language, so that they will not understand each other's speech."

<sup>8</sup> So the LORD scattered them from there all over the face of the whole earth, and they stopped building the city.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore its name was called Babel; because there the LORD confused the language of all the earth. From there the LORD scattered them over the face of the whole earth.

When Shem was 100 years old, he became the father of Arphaxad two years after the flood.

<sup>11</sup> After he became the father of Arphaxad, Shem lived 500 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>13</sup> After he became the father of Shelah, Arphaxad lived 403 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>14</sup> When Shelah was 30 years old, he became the father of Eber.

<sup>15</sup> After he became the father of Eber, Shelah lived 403 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>16</sup> When Eber was 34 years old, he became the father of Peleg.

<sup>17</sup> After he became the father of Peleg, Eber lived 430 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>18</sup> When Peleg was 30 years old, he became the father of Reu.

<sup>19</sup> After he became the father of Reu, Peleg lived 209 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>20</sup> When Reu was 32 years old, he became the father of Serug.

<sup>21</sup> After he became the father of Serug, Reu lived 207 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>23</sup> After he became the father of Nahor, Serug lived 200 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

<sup>25</sup> After he became the father of Terah, Nahor lived 119 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

Terah fathered Abram, Nahor, and Haran. And Haran fathered Lot.

<sup>29</sup> And Abram and Nahor both married. The name of Abram's wife was Sarai; and the name of Nahor's wife was Milcah--the daughter of Haran, who was the father of both Milcah and Iscah.

<sup>31</sup> Then Terah took Abram his son, and his grandson Lot, the son of Haran, and Sarai his daughter-in-law, his son Abram's wife; and together they moved out of Ur of the Chaldeans, to go to the land of Canaan. But when they came to Haran they stayed there.

<sup>32</sup> And the days of Terah were 205 years, and Terah died there in Haran.

DASV: Genesis 12

<sup>1</sup> Now the LORD said to Abram, "Leave your country, your relatives and your father's house, and go to the land that I will show you.

<sup>2</sup> And I will make you into a great nation, and I will bless you, and make your name great, so that you will be a blessing.

<sup>3</sup> And I will bless those who bless you, and he who curses you, I will curse. Through you all the families of the earth will be blessed."

<sup>5</sup> And Abram took Sarai his wife, his nephew Lot and all their possessions that they had accumulated, and the people that they had acquired in Haran, and they set out for the land of Canaan. Then they came to the land of Canaan.

<sup>6</sup> Abram traveled through the land to the site of Shechem, by the oak of Moreh. Now the Canaanites were in the land at that time.

<sup>7</sup> And the LORD appeared to Abram, and said, "To your descendants I will give this land." There he built an altar to the LORD who had appeared to him.

<sup>8</sup> From there he moved on to the hill country to the east of Bethel, where he pitched his tent with Bethel to the west, and Ai to the east. There he built an altar to the LORD, and called on the name of the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> Now there was a famine in the land. So Abram went down into Egypt to stay there since the famine was severe in the land.

<sup>11</sup> As he was about to enter Egypt, he said to Sarai his wife, "Look, I know that you are a beautiful woman.

<sup>12</sup> When the Egyptians see you, they will say, 'This is his wife.' Then they will kill me, but let you live.

<sup>13</sup> So please say you are my sister that it may be well with me because of you, and that my life may be spared because of you."

<sup>18</sup> So Pharaoh called Abram, and said, "What is this that you have done to me? Why did you not tell me that she was your wife?"

<sup>19</sup> Why did you say, 'She is my sister,' so that I took her for my wife? Now therefore here is your wife, take her, and get out of here."

<sup>20</sup> Then Pharaoh ordered his men concerning him, and they escorted him, his wife, and all that he had away.

DASV: Genesis 13

<sup>1</sup> So Abram left Egypt, he, his wife, and Lot and all that he had, and went into the Negev.

<sup>4</sup> This was the place where he had first made an altar. There Abram called on the name of the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> So strife broke out between the herdsmen of Abram's livestock and the herdsmen of Lot's livestock. At that time the Canaanites and the Perizzites lived in the land.

<sup>8</sup> Then Abram said to Lot, "Let there be no conflict between me and you, and between my herdsmen and your herdsmen, for we are family.

<sup>10</sup> Then Lot lifted up his eyes, and saw all the Jordan valley, that it was well watered everywhere like the garden of the LORD, like the land of Egypt as you go to Zoar. This was before the LORD had destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah.

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD said to Abram, after that Lot had separated from him, "Lift up your eyes, and look toward the north, south, east and west;

<sup>15</sup> for all the land that you see, I will give to you and to your descendants forever.

<sup>16</sup> And I will make your descendants as the dust of the earth, so that if a person can count the dust of the earth, then your seed also will be able to be counted.

<sup>17</sup> Get up, walk through the length and breadth of the land; for I will give it to you."

<sup>18</sup> Then Abram moved his tent, and came and settled by the oaks of Mamre, which are at Hebron. There he built an altar to the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> All these joined forces in the Valley of Siddim (that is, the Salt or Dead Sea).

<sup>5</sup> So in the fourteenth year Kedorlaomer, and the kings that were with him, came and defeated the Rephaim in Ashteroth Karnaim, and the Zuzim in Ham, and the Emim in Shaveh-kiriathaim, <sup>6</sup> and the Horites in the mountains of Seir, as far as El-paran, on the edge of the wilderness.

<sup>7</sup> Then they turned back and came to En-mishpat (that is Kadesh), and smote all the country of the Amalekites, and also the Amorites, who lived in Hazazon-tamar.

<sup>10</sup> Now the Valley of Siddim was full of tar pits; and as the kings of Sodom and Gomorrah fled some fell into them, while the rest fled into the hills.

<sup>11</sup> So the victors seized all the plunder of Sodom and Gomorrah and all their food, and went their way.

<sup>13</sup> But one who escaped came and told Abram the Hebrew who lived by the oaks of Mamre, the Amorite, brother of Eshcol, and brother of Aner who were Abram's allies.

<sup>16</sup> Then he brought back all the goods, and also brought back his nephew Lot with his goods, and the women and the people.

<sup>17</sup> After his return from his victory over Kedorlaomer and the kings that were with him, the king of Sodom went out to meet him in the Valley of Shaveh (that is, the King's Valley).

<sup>18</sup> Then Melchizedek, king of Salem, brought out bread and wine; he was priest of God Most High.

<sup>19</sup> And he blessed him, and said, "Blessed be Abram by God Most High, Creator of heaven and earth.

<sup>20</sup> And blessed be God Most High, who has delivered your enemies into your hand." And Abram gave him a tenth of everything.

<sup>21</sup> Then the king of Sodom said to Abram, "Give me the people, but take the goods for yourself."

<sup>22</sup> But Abram said to the king of Sodom, "I have lifted my hand swearing to the LORD, God Most High, Creator of heaven and earth,

<sup>23</sup> that I will not take even a thread or a thong of a sandal or anything that is yours, so that you will never say, 'I made Abram rich.'

<sup>24</sup> I will accept what my young men have eaten, and the share for the men who went with me, Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre. Let them take their share."

DASV: Genesis 15

<sup>1</sup> After these things the word of the LORD came to Abram in a vision, saying, "Fear not, Abram, I am your shield, and your reward will be very great."

<sup>2</sup> But Abram said, "O Sovereign LORD, what will you give me, since I am still childless, and Eliezer of Damascus is the heir of my estate?"

<sup>3</sup> Then Abram said, "Look, you have given me no children, so one of my servants will be my heir."

<sup>4</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to him, saying, "This man will not be your heir. But a son coming from your own body will be your heir."

<sup>5</sup> Then he brought him outside, and said, "Look up at the heavens, and count the stars, if you can count them." Then he said to him, "that's how many your descendants will be."

<sup>6</sup> And Abram believed the LORD; and he reckoned it to him as righteousness.

<sup>7</sup> Then the LORD said to him, "I am the LORD who brought you out of Ur of the Chaldeans, to give you this land as your possession."

<sup>8</sup> But Abram said, "O Sovereign LORD, how can I know that I will inherit it?"

<sup>9</sup> And the LORD said to him, "Bring me a three-year old heifer, a three-year old female goat, a three-year old ram, a turtledove and a young pigeon."

<sup>10</sup> So Abram brought him all these, and cut them in two, and laid each half beside the other. But he did not cut the birds in two.

<sup>11</sup> And when birds of prey came down upon the carcasses, Abram drove them away.

<sup>12</sup> Now as the sun was going down, Abram fell into a deep sleep; and a deep and dreadful darkness came over him.

<sup>13</sup> Then the LORD said to Abram, "Know for certain that your descendants will be aliens in a land that is not theirs, and they will be slaves and oppressed there for four hundred years.

<sup>14</sup> But I will punish that nation that they will serve, and afterward they will come out with great wealth.

<sup>15</sup> But you will go to your fathers in peace. You will be buried in a good old age.

<sup>18</sup> In that day the LORD made a covenant with Abram, saying, "To your descendants I have given this land, from the river of Egypt to the great river, the Euphrates River:

<sup>1</sup> Now Sarai, Abram's wife, had borne him no children. But she had an Egyptian servant, whose name was Hagar.

<sup>4</sup> Now Abram slept with Hagar, and she became pregnant. When she saw that she was pregnant, she despised her mistress Sarai.

<sup>5</sup> Then Sarai said to Abram, "You are responsible for this wrong done to me. I gave my servant into your embrace and when she saw that she was pregnant, she despised me. May the LORD judge between you and me."

<sup>8</sup> And he said, "Hagar, Sarai's servant, where have you come from and where are you going?" Then she said, "I am running away from my mistress Sarai."

<sup>9</sup> Then the angel of the LORD said to her, "Return to your mistress, and submit to her authority."

<sup>10</sup> The angel of the LORD said to her, "I will greatly multiply your descendants so that they will not be able to be numbered."

<sup>11</sup> And the angel of the LORD said to her, "Look, you are pregnant and will give birth to a son. And you shall call his name Ishmael, because the LORD has listened to your affliction.

<sup>12</sup> He will be a wild donkey of a man. His hand will be against every one, and every one's hand will be against him. He will live having hostility against all his kin."

<sup>13</sup> So she called on the name of the LORD who spoke to her, "You are the God who sees me;" for she asked, "Have I really seen the One who sees me?"

<sup>15</sup> So Hagar bore Abram a son. And Abram named his son, whom Hagar bore, Ishmael.

DASV: Genesis 17

<sup>1</sup> When Abram was 99 years old, the LORD appeared to Abram, and said to him, "I am God Almighty. Walk before me, and be blameless.

<sup>2</sup> And I will make my covenant between me and you, and will give you numerous descendants."

<sup>4</sup> "As for me, this is my covenant with you, you will be the father of a multitude of nations.

<sup>5</sup> No longer will your name be called Abram, but your name will be Abraham because I will make you the father of a multitude of nations.

<sup>6</sup> I will make you extremely fruitful, and I will make nations from you, and kings will come from you.

<sup>7</sup> I establish my covenant between me and you and your descendants after you throughout their generations as an everlasting covenant. I will be your God and the God of your descendants after you.

<sup>8</sup> I will give to you, and to your descendants after you, the land where you are now a foreigner, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession; and I will be their God."

<sup>9</sup> Then God said to Abraham, "As for you, you shall keep my covenant, you, and your descendants after you throughout their generations.

<sup>10</sup> This is my covenant, that you shall keep, between me and you and your descendants after you: every male among you will be circumcised.

<sup>11</sup> You must circumcise the flesh of your foreskin and it will be a sign of the covenant between me and you.

<sup>12</sup> Throughout your generations, every male will be circumcised when he is eight days old, including anyone born in your household, even any foreigner bought with money who is not of your offspring.

<sup>13</sup> Whether one is born in your house, or purchased with your money, they must be circumcised. So shall my covenant be marked in your flesh for an everlasting covenant.

<sup>14</sup> Any uncircumcised male who is not circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin will be cut off from his people; he has broken my covenant."

<sup>15</sup> Then God said to Abraham, "As for Sarai your wife, you shall not call her name Sarai, but her name will be Sarah.

<sup>16</sup> I will bless her, and moreover, I will give you a son by her. Yes, I will bless her, and she will be a mother of nations; kings of peoples will come from her."

<sup>17</sup> Then Abraham fell on his face, laughed and said in his heart, "Will a child be born to him that is a hundred years old? Will Sarah, who is ninety years old, give birth?"

<sup>19</sup> But God said, "No, Sarah your wife will bear you a son; and you shall call his name Isaac. And I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant for his descendants after him.

<sup>20</sup> Now as for Ishmael, I have heard you. Look, I will bless him too, and will make him fruitful, and will multiply him exceedingly. He will be the father of twelve princes, and I will make him into a great nation.

<sup>21</sup> But my covenant I will establish with Isaac, whom Sarah will bear to you at this set time next year."

<sup>23</sup> Then Abraham took Ishmael his son, and all who were born in his house, and all who had been bought with his money, every male among the men of Abraham's household, and he circumcised the flesh of their foreskin that very same day, just as God told him to do.

<sup>1</sup> The LORD appeared to Abraham by the oaks of Mamre, as he sat by the entrance of the tent in the heat of the day.

<sup>2</sup> He lifted up his eyes and saw three men standing near him. When he saw them, he ran to meet them from the entrance of the tent, and bowed down to the ground.

<sup>3</sup> He said, "My lord, if I have found favor in your eyes, do not pass by your servant.

<sup>4</sup> Let a little water be brought, so you can wash your feet and rest under the tree.

<sup>5</sup> And let me fetch a little bread, so you may refresh yourselves before continuing on, since you have visited your servant." And they said, "All right do as you have said."

<sup>7</sup> Then Abraham ran to the herd, and took a calf, tender and good, and gave it to a servant who quickly prepared it.

<sup>8</sup> Then he took curds and milk along with the calf he had prepared, and set it before them. He stood by them under the tree while they ate.

<sup>9</sup> They said to him, "Where is Sarah your wife?" And he replied, "There, in the tent."

<sup>10</sup> Then one of them said, "I will certainly return to you at this time next year; and Sarah, your wife, will have a son." And Sarah was listening by the entrance of the tent behind him.

<sup>11</sup> Now Abraham and Sarah were old, and well on in years. Sarah was long past the age of childbearing.

<sup>12</sup> So Sarah laughed within herself, saying, "Can a worn-out woman and a old man finally have this pleasure?"

<sup>13</sup> Then the LORD said to Abraham, "Why did Sarah laugh, saying, 'Will I really have a child, now that I am old?'

<sup>14</sup> Is anything too hard for the LORD? When I return to you next year at this time, Sarah will have a son."

<sup>15</sup> But Sarah denied, saying, "I did not laugh"; for she was afraid. Then he said, "No, you did laugh."

<sup>16</sup> Then the men got up from the meal and looked out toward Sodom. And Abraham went with them to send them on their way.

<sup>17</sup> And the LORD said, "Shall I hide from Abraham what I am about to do, <sup>18</sup> since Abraham will surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth will be blessed through him?"

<sup>19</sup> For I have chosen him, so that he may instruct his children and his household after him, that they may keep the way of the LORD, to do righteousness and justice; so that the LORD may bring upon Abraham what he has promised him."

<sup>20</sup> So the LORD said, "Because the cry against Sodom and Gomorrah is great, and because their sin is so grievous;

<sup>21</sup> I will go down and see if they are as bad as the outcry against them that has come to me. If not, then I will know."

<sup>22</sup> So the men turned from there and went toward Sodom, but Abraham still stood in front of the LORD.

<sup>23</sup> Abraham approached him and said, "Will you really sweep away the righteous with the wicked?"

<sup>24</sup> What if there are fifty righteous in the city, will you sweep it away and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are in it?

<sup>25</sup> Surely you will not do such a thing, to slay the righteous with the wicked, so that the righteous are treated like the wicked. Far be it from you. Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?"

<sup>26</sup> Then the LORD replied, "If I find in Sodom fifty righteous inside the city, then I will spare the whole place for their sake."

<sup>27</sup> Then Abraham answered, "Since I have been so bold to speak to the Lord, I, who am but dust and ashes, <sup>28</sup> what if five of the fifty righteous are lacking, will you destroy all the city for lack of five?" Then he said, "I will not destroy it, if I find there forty-five."

<sup>29</sup> Again he spoke to him, "What if there are only forty found there?" And he said, "I will not do it for the sake of forty."

<sup>30</sup> Then he said, "Please, Lord, do not get angry if I speak, what if there are thirty found there?" And he said, "I will not do it, if I find thirty there."

<sup>31</sup> Then he said, "Since I have undertaken to speak to the Lord, what if there are twenty found there." And he said, "I will not destroy it for the twenty's sake."

<sup>32</sup> Finally Abraham said, "Oh, let the Lord not be angry, but I will speak one more time, what if ten are found there." And he said, "I will not destroy it for the sake of the ten."

<sup>33</sup> Then the LORD went on his way after he had finished speaking with Abraham. And Abraham returned to his place.

DASV: Genesis 19

<sup>1</sup> The two angels came to Sodom, in the evening, as Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom. When Lot saw them, he stood up to meet them and bowed with his face to the ground.

<sup>2</sup> He said, "My lords, turn aside to your servant's house, and spend the night and wash your feet. Then you can get up early and be on your way." "No," they replied "we will spend the night in the city square."

<sup>3</sup> But he urged them strongly, so they turned aside to him and entered his house. He made a feast for them, baking unleavened bread, and they ate.

<sup>4</sup> But before they lay down, the men of the city, the men of Sodom, both young and old, from every part of the city surrounded the house.

<sup>5</sup> Then they called to Lot, "Where are the men that came to you tonight? Bring them out to us, so that we can have sex with them."

<sup>6</sup> But Lot went outside to meet them and shut the door behind him.

<sup>7</sup> and said, "I beg you, my brothers, do not act so wickedly.

<sup>8</sup> Look, I have two daughters that have not known a man; please let me bring them out to you, and you can do to them as you wish. Only do not do anything to these men, for they have come under the protection of my roof."

<sup>9</sup> Then they retorted, "Stand back." And they said, "This fellow came here as a foreigner, and now he wants to judge us. Now we will deal worse with you, than with them." And they pressed in hard against Lot to break the door down.

<sup>10</sup> But the men reached out their hands and pulled Lot into the house with them and shut the door.

<sup>12</sup> Then the men said to Lot, "Do you have anyone else here? Do you have any sons-in-law, sons, daughters, or anyone else in the city? Get them out of this place.

<sup>13</sup> For we will destroy this place, since the outcry against this place has become great before the LORD, so the LORD sent us to destroy it."

<sup>14</sup> Then Lot went and spoke to his sons-in-law, who were going to marry his daughters, and said, "Get up and get out of this place, for the LORD is about to destroy the city." But he seemed to his sons-in-law to be joking.

<sup>15</sup> The next morning the angels hurried Lot along, saying, "Get up, take your wife, and your two daughters that are here, lest you be swept away in the punishment of this city."

<sup>16</sup> But he hesitated, so the men grabbed his hand, and the hand of his wife, and the hands of his two daughters, the LORD being merciful to him, and they brought him out and put him outside the city.

<sup>17</sup> When they had brought them out, one of them said, "Escape for your life. Do not look back or stay anywhere in the plain. Escape to the mountains or you will be swept away."

<sup>19</sup> Look now, your servant has found favor in your sight, and you have shown me great kindness by saving my life, but I cannot escape to the mountains or disaster will overtake me and I will die.

<sup>20</sup> Look, this town is near enough to flee to, and it is a small one. Let me escape there--is it not a little one?--and my life shall be saved."

<sup>21</sup> And he said to him, "Alright, I will grant you this favor also, and I will not overthrow the town which you have spoken of.

<sup>22</sup> But hurry, escape there; for I cannot do anything until you arrive there." Therefore the name of the city was called Zoar.

<sup>24</sup> Then the LORD rained down on Sodom and on Gomorrah burning sulfur and fire from the LORD out of heaven.

<sup>25</sup> So he overthrew those cities, and all the valley, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and even the vegetation that grew upon the ground.

<sup>27</sup> Early the next morning Abraham got up and went to the place where he had stood before the LORD.

<sup>28</sup> He looked down toward Sodom and Gomorrah, and toward all the land of the plain, and the smoke rose from the land like the smoke from a furnace.

<sup>29</sup> So when God destroyed the cities of the plain, then God remembered Abraham, and sent Lot out of the midst of the destruction, when he destroyed the cities in which Lot lived.

<sup>30</sup> And Lot went up out of Zoar, and lived in the mountains, with his two daughters; for he feared to live in Zoar. So he and his two daughter lived in a cave.

<sup>31</sup> Then the firstborn said to the younger, "Our father is old, and there is no man in the earth to marry us as is customary throughout all the earth.

<sup>32</sup> Come, let us get our father drunk, and we will lie with him, so that we may preserve the family line of our father."

<sup>33</sup> So they got their father drunk that night. Then the firstborn went in, and slept with her father; and he was unaware of when she lay down and when she got up.

<sup>34</sup> The next day, the firstborn said to the younger, "Last night I slept with my father; let us get him drunk again tonight and you go and sleep with him, that we may preserve the family line of our father."

<sup>35</sup> So they got their father drunk that night too, and the younger arose, and slept with him; and he was unaware of when she lay down, and when she got up.

<sup>37</sup> And the firstborn bare a son, and named him Moab. He is the father of the Moabites to this day.

<sup>38</sup> And the younger, also bore a son, and named him Ben-ammi. He is the father of the Ammonites to this day.

DASV: Genesis 20

<sup>1</sup> From there Abraham journeyed toward the region of the Negev, and settled between Kadesh and Shur. He stayed for a while in Gerar.

<sup>2</sup> Then Abraham said of Sarah his wife, "She is my sister." So Abimelech, king of Gerar, sent and took Sarah.

<sup>3</sup> But God came to Abimelech in a dream at night, and said to him, "You are as good as dead, because of the woman you have taken; for she is a married woman."

<sup>4</sup> Now Abimelech had not gone near her. And he said, "Lord, will you destroy an innocent nation?"

<sup>5</sup> Did he not tell me himself, 'She is my sister?' Even she herself said, 'He is my brother.' I have done this with a clear conscience. My hands are clean."

<sup>6</sup> Then God said to him in the dream, "Yes, I know that you have done this with a clear conscience, so I stopped you from sinning against me. Therefore I did not let you touch her.

<sup>7</sup> Now then return the man's wife. For he is a prophet, and he will pray for you, and you will live. And if you do not return her, know that you will surely die, you, and all who belong to you."

<sup>8</sup> So Abimelech got up early in the morning, called all his servants, and rehearsed all these things in their ears; and they were very afraid.

<sup>9</sup> Then Abimelech called Abraham, and said to him, "What have you done to us? How have I sinned against you that you would bring such great guilt on me and on my kingdom? You have done things to me that should never be done."

<sup>12</sup> Besides, she really is my sister, the daughter of my father, but not of my mother; and she became my wife.

<sup>13</sup> When God caused me to wander from my father's house, I said to her, 'This is how you can do to show me loyal love. Everywhere we go, say about me, 'He is my brother.'"

<sup>14</sup> Then Abimelech took sheep and oxen, and male and female servants, and gave them to Abraham, and he gave back Sarah his wife to him.

<sup>15</sup> And Abimelech said, "Look, my land is before you. Live wherever you want."

<sup>16</sup> To Sarah he said, "I have given your brother a thousand pieces of silver. It is compensation in the eyes to all that are with you. You are completely vindicated."

<sup>17</sup> Then Abraham prayed to God, and God healed Abimelech, his wife and his female servants so that once again they could have children.

<sup>18</sup> For the LORD had closed all the wombs of the house of Abimelech, because of Sarah, Abraham's wife.

DASV: Genesis 21

<sup>1</sup> The LORD visited Sarah just as he said, and the LORD did for Sarah as he had promised.

<sup>2</sup> So Sarah became pregnant and bore Abraham a son in his old age, at the appointed time that God had said it would happen.

<sup>4</sup> And Abraham circumcised his son Isaac when he was eight days old, as God had instructed him.

<sup>6</sup> Sarah exclaimed, "God has made me laugh. Everyone who hears this will laugh with me."

<sup>7</sup> She said, "Who would have ever said to Abraham, that Sarah should nurse children? For I have borne him a son in his old age."

<sup>8</sup> The child grew, and was weaned. And Abraham made a great feast on the day that Isaac was weaned.

<sup>10</sup> she said to Abraham, "Throw out this slave girl and her son. For the son of this slave girl will not be heir along with my son Isaac."

<sup>12</sup> Then God said to Abraham, "Do not be upset over the boy, or your slave girl. Listen to all Sarah has said to you. For your descendants will be counted through Isaac.

<sup>13</sup> And I will make the son of the slave girl into a nation too, because he is your offspring."

<sup>16</sup> Then she went and sat down across from him about a bow shot away. For she said, "Do not let me watch the death of the child." So she sat across from him, lifted up her voice and wept.

<sup>17</sup> Then God heard the voice of the boy. And the angel of God called to Hagar from heaven, and said to her, "What's wrong, Hagar? Fear not. For God has heard the voice of the boy there.

<sup>18</sup> Get up, pick up the boy, and hold him by the hand. For I will make him into a great nation."

<sup>19</sup> Then God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water. She went, and filled the skin with water, and gave the boy a drink.

<sup>20</sup> Now God was with the boy, and he grew. He lived in the wilderness, and as he grew up he became an archer.

<sup>22</sup> At that time, Abimelech and Phicol, the captain of his army, said to Abraham, "God is with you in everything you do.

<sup>23</sup> Now therefore, swear to me by God that you will not deal falsely with me, or with my son, or with my son's son. But according to the loyal kindness that I have shown you, you show to me, and to the land where you have lived as a foreigner."

<sup>26</sup> Then Abimelech replied, "I do not know who did this. You did not tell me, and I had not even heard of it until today."

<sup>31</sup> That is why he called that place Beersheba, because the two of them swore an oath there.

<sup>32</sup> So they made a treaty at Beersheba. Abimelech and Phicol, the captain of his army, got up and returned to the land of the Philistines.

DASV: Genesis 22

<sup>1</sup> Some time after these things, God tested Abraham, and said to him, "Abraham." And he answered, "Here I am."

<sup>2</sup> Then God said, "Take your son, your only son, Isaac, whom you love, and go to the land of Moriah. Offer him up as a burnt offering on one of the mountains I will tell you about."

<sup>3</sup> So Abraham got up early in the morning, saddled his donkey, took two of his young servants with him, and Isaac his son. After he chopped the wood for the burnt offering, he got up, and went to the place God told him about.

<sup>4</sup> On the third day Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw the place in the distance.

<sup>5</sup> Then Abraham said to his young servants, "Stay here with the donkey, while the boy and I will go over there. We will worship, and then we will come back to you."

<sup>6</sup> Then Abraham took the wood for the burnt offering, and laid it on his son Isaac. Then he took the fire and the knife in his hand, and the two of them went on together.

<sup>7</sup> Isaac said to Abraham his father, "Father." He answered, "Here I am, my son." And he said, "Look, here is the fire and the wood. But where is the lamb for the burnt offering?"

<sup>8</sup> And Abraham replied, "God himself will provide the lamb for a burnt offering, my son." So they went on together.

<sup>9</sup> Then they came to the place God had told him about. There Abraham built an altar and arranged the wood on it. Then he bound Isaac his son, and laid him on the altar, on top of the wood.

<sup>11</sup> Then the angel of the LORD called to him out of heaven, and said, "Abraham, Abraham." And he answered, "Here I am."

<sup>12</sup> And he said, "Do not lay your hand on the boy. Do not do anything to him. For now I know that you fear God, seeing you have not withheld your son, your only son, from me."

<sup>13</sup> Then Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns. Abraham went over and took the ram, and offered it up as a burnt offering instead of his son.

<sup>14</sup> So Abraham called the name of that place Yahweh-yireh--the LORD will provide. It is said even to this day, "In the mount of the LORD it will be provided."

<sup>16</sup> and said, "I have sworn by myself," said the LORD, "because you have done this thing, and have not withheld your son, your only son, <sup>17</sup> I will surely bless you, and I will multiply your descendants as the stars of the heavens, and as the sand on the seashore. Your descendants will possess the gate of their enemies.

<sup>4</sup> "I am a stranger and a foreigner among you. Sell me a piece of land for a burial site among you, that I may bury my dead out of my sight."

<sup>6</sup> "Hear us, my lord. You are a mighty prince among us. You may bury your dead in the choicest of our tombs. None of us will withhold from you his tomb for burying your dead."

<sup>8</sup> And he said to them, "If you should agree I may bury my dead out of my sight, then hear me, and intercede with Ephron the son of Zohar for me,

<sup>9</sup> that he may sell me the cave of Machpelah, that he has; it is at the end of his field. I will pay him full price to acquire it for me in your presence for a burial site."

<sup>10</sup> Now Ephron was sitting among the sons of Heth; and Ephron, the Hittite, answered Abraham in the hearing of the Hittites, who had come to the town gate, saying,

<sup>11</sup> "No, my lord. Hear me out. I give you the field and the cave in it. In the presence of the children of my people, I give it to you. Bury your dead."

<sup>13</sup> Then he spoke to Ephron in their hearing of the people of the land, "But if you will, please hear me out. I will give the price of the field. Accept it from me, so that I may bury my dead there."

<sup>15</sup> "My lord, listen to me, the piece of land is worth 400 shekels of silver, but what is that between me and you? Bury your dead."

<sup>16</sup> So Abraham agreed to pay Ephron. Abraham weighed out for Ephron the silver which he had stipulated in the hearing of the Hittites, 400 shekels of silver, according to the current weights among the merchants.

<sup>17</sup> So the field of Ephron, in Machpelah, that is east of Mamre, the field and the cave in it, and all the trees that were in the field, and all around its border was secured

<sup>20</sup> So the field, and the cave in it, were secured by Abraham as property for a burial site from the Hittites.

DASV: Genesis 24

<sup>1</sup> Now Abraham was old, well on in years, and the LORD had blessed Abraham in all things.

<sup>2</sup> Abraham said to his servant, the oldest in his house who had charge over all he had, "Put your hand under my thigh.

<sup>3</sup> I want you to swear by the LORD, the God of heaven and the God of the earth, that you will not take a wife for my son of the daughters of the Canaanites, among whom I live.

<sup>4</sup> But go instead to my country and to my relatives and find a wife for my son Isaac."

<sup>5</sup> Then the servant said to him, "What if the woman is not willing to follow me back to this land. Should I bring your son back to the land from which you came?"

<sup>7</sup> For the LORD, the God of heaven, who took me from my father's house, and from the land of my birth, spoke swearing to me, 'To your descendants I will give this land.' He will send his angel before you, so that you may find a wife for my son from there.

<sup>8</sup> But if the woman is not willing to follow you, then you are freed from this my oath. Only do not bring my son back there again."

<sup>11</sup> He made the camels kneel down outside the city by a well of water as evening was near, at the time when women go out to draw water.

<sup>12</sup> So he prayed, "O LORD, the God of my master Abraham, please grant me success today, and show faithful love to my master Abraham.

<sup>13</sup> Here I am standing by the spring of water, and the daughters of the people of the city are coming out to draw water.

<sup>14</sup> Let it be that the woman to whom I say, 'Let down your jug, that I may drink.' May she reply, 'Drink, and I will give your camels water also.' Let her be the one you have chosen for your servant Isaac. This is how I will know that you have shown faithful love to my master."

<sup>16</sup> And the young woman was very beautiful, a virgin, who had never slept with a man. She went down to the spring, and filled her jug, and came up.

<sup>17</sup> Then the servant hurried to meet her, and said, "Please, give me a drink of water from your jug."

<sup>19</sup> When she had finished giving him a drink, she said, "I will draw water for your camels too, until they have had enough."

<sup>23</sup> and said, "Whose daughter are you? Please, tell me. Is there room for us to stay in your father's house?"

<sup>25</sup> She added, "We have enough straw and feed and a room for you to spend the night."

<sup>27</sup> He said, "Blessed be the LORD, the God of my master Abraham, who has not forsaken his loyal love and faithfulness to my master. As for me, the LORD has led me straight to the house of my master's relatives."

<sup>30</sup> As soon as he saw the ring, and the bracelets on his sister's arms, and when he heard the words of Rebekah his sister, saying, "This is what the man said to me," he approached the man, who was standing by the camels near the spring.

<sup>31</sup> He said, "Come in, O blessed of the LORD. Why are you standing outside? For I have prepared the house, and a place for the camels."

<sup>32</sup> So the man went into the house, and Laban unloaded the camels. He gave straw and feed to the camels, and water to wash his feet and the feet of the men traveling with him.

<sup>33</sup> Food was served for him to eat. But he said, "I will not eat, until I have said what I need to say." Laban replied, "Tell us."

<sup>35</sup> The LORD has blessed my master greatly and he has become very wealthy. And he has given him flocks and herds, silver and gold, male and female servants and camels and donkeys.

<sup>36</sup> Sarah, my master's wife, bore my master a son when she was old. And to him he has given all that he has.

<sup>37</sup> Now my master made me swear, saying, 'You must not take a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites, in whose land I dwell.

<sup>38</sup> But you must go to my father's house, and to my relatives, and find a wife for my son.'

<sup>39</sup> Then I said to my master, 'What if the woman will not come back with me.'

<sup>40</sup> He said to me, 'The LORD, before whom I walk, will send his angel with you, and make your journey successful. You will find a wife for my son from among my relatives and from my father's house.

<sup>41</sup> When you come to my relatives, if they will not give her to you, then you are free from my oath.'

<sup>42</sup> So I came this day to the spring, and said, 'O LORD, the God of my master Abraham, if you are making my journey successful,

<sup>43</sup> here I am standing by the spring of water then let it be that when the young woman comes to draw water, and I will say to her, "Please, give me a little water from your jug to drink."

<sup>44</sup> Then she will say to me, "Drink, both you, and I will also draw water for your camels." May this be the woman whom the LORD has chosen for my master's son.'

<sup>45</sup> Before I had finished speaking in my heart, here came Rebekah with her jug on her shoulder. And she went down to the spring, and drew water. And I said to her, 'Please, give me a drink.'

<sup>46</sup> And she quickly let down her jug from her shoulder, and said, 'Drink, and I will give your camels a drink too.' So I drank, and she watered the camels too.

<sup>47</sup> And I asked her, 'Whose daughter are you?' And she replied, 'The daughter of Bethuel, Nahor's son, whom Milcah bore him.' So I put the ring in her nose, and the bracelets on her arms.

<sup>48</sup> Then I bowed my head, and worshipped the LORD, and blessed the LORD, the God of my master Abraham, who led me in the right way to take my master's brother's granddaughter for his son.

<sup>49</sup> Now if you will show loyal love and faithfulness to my master, tell me; and if not, tell me; so that I will know whether to go to the left or right."

<sup>50</sup> Then Laban and Bethuel answered, "The thing has come from the LORD. We cannot speak to you anything either bad or good.

<sup>53</sup> And the servant brought out jewels of silver and gold, and clothing, and gave them to Rebekah. He also gave her brother and her mother precious gifts.

<sup>54</sup> Then he and the men who were with him ate and drank, and he stayed the night. When they got up in the morning, he said, "Send me back to my master."

<sup>55</sup> But her brother and mother said, "Let the girl stay with us a while, at the least ten days and after that she may go."

<sup>56</sup> But he requested, "Do not delay me seeing the LORD has made my journey successful. Let me leave that I may go to my master."

<sup>60</sup> And they blessed Rebekah, and said to her, "Our sister, may you be the mother of thousands of ten thousands, and let your offspring possess the gate of their enemies."

<sup>63</sup> Isaac went out to meditate in the field in the evening. And as he lifted up his eyes he looked and saw there were camels approaching.

<sup>65</sup> Then she said to the servant, "Who is this man walking in the field to meet us?" And the servant said, "It is my master." And she took her veil, and covered herself.

<sup>21</sup> Isaac prayed to the LORD for his wife, because she was childless. And the LORD answered him, and Rebekah his wife became pregnant.

<sup>22</sup> But the children struggled together within her. And she said, "If this is the way it's going to be, why is happening to me?" And she went to ask the LORD.

<sup>23</sup> The LORD answered her, "Two nations are in your womb, and two peoples will be separated from inside you. One people will be stronger than the other people. The elder will serve the younger."

<sup>26</sup> When his brother came out his hand was grabbing onto Esau's heel. So he was named Jacob. Now Isaac was 60 years old when they were born.

<sup>30</sup> So Esau said to Jacob, "Please, give me some of that red stew. I'm starved." That is why he was called Edom--Red.

<sup>33</sup> Jacob demanded, "Swear to me first." So he swore to him. And he sold his birthright to Jacob.

<sup>34</sup> Then Jacob gave Esau some bread and lentil stew. He ate and drank, then got up, and went on his way. So Esau despised his birthright.

DASV: Genesis 26

<sup>1</sup> There was a famine in the land, after the former famine that was in the days of Abraham. So Isaac went to Abimelech king of the Philistines, at Gerar.

<sup>2</sup> The LORD appeared to him, and said, "Do not go down to Egypt. Settle in the land that I will tell you about.

<sup>3</sup> Remain in this land, and I will be with you, and will bless you. For to you and your descendants, I will give all these lands, and I will keep the oath that I promised to Abraham your father.

<sup>4</sup> I will multiply your descendants as the stars of heaven, and will give to your descendants all these lands. And through your descendants all the nations of the earth will be blessed.

<sup>7</sup> When the men of the place asked him about his wife, he said, "She is my sister." For he was afraid to say, "She is my wife." For he thought, "the men of this place will kill me for Rebekah, because she is so beautiful."

<sup>8</sup> After Isaac had been there quite a while, Abimelech, king of the Philistines, looked out the window, and saw Isaac caressing his wife Rebekah.

<sup>9</sup> So Abimelech summoned Isaac, and said, "Look, surely she is your wife. Why did you say, 'She is my sister'?" Isaac replied, "Because I thought, I might die because of her."

<sup>10</sup> Then Abimelech said, "What is this you have done to us? One of the people might easily have slept with your wife, and you would have brought guilt on us."

<sup>13</sup> The man became rich, and grew in wealth until he became very wealthy.

<sup>14</sup> He acquired flocks, herds and a great household so that the Philistines were jealous of him.

<sup>16</sup> Then Abimelech said to Isaac, "Leave us. For you have become more powerful than we are."

<sup>18</sup> Isaac reopened the wells, that had been dug in the days of Abraham his father, for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham. And he gave the wells the same names that his father had called them.

<sup>20</sup> But the herdsmen of Gerar quarreled with Isaac's herdsmen, saying, "The water is ours." So he called the name of the well Esek, meaning "argument", because there they argued with him.

<sup>21</sup> Then they dug another well, and they quarreled over that one too. So he called the name of it Sitnah, meaning "hostility".

<sup>22</sup> Then he moved from there, and dug another well. And they did not quarrel over that one. So he called the name of it Rehoboth, meaning "room". And he said, "For now the LORD has made room for us, and we will prosper in this land."

<sup>24</sup> And the LORD appeared to him the same night, and said, "I am the God of Abraham your father. Fear not, for I am with you. I will bless you, and multiply your descendants for the sake of my servant Abraham."

<sup>25</sup> So he built an altar there, and called upon the name of the LORD. He pitched his tent there, and Isaac's servants dug a well there.

<sup>27</sup> Isaac asked them, "Why have you come to me, seeing you hate me, and have sent me away from you?"

<sup>28</sup> They replied, "We see clearly that the LORD is with you. And we said, 'Let there be a treaty between us, and let us make a covenant with you,

<sup>29</sup> that you will not harm us, just as we have not harmed you, but we have done nothing but good to you, and have sent you away in peace. You are now blessed by the LORD.'"

<sup>31</sup> Early the next morning they got up, and swore an oath to one another. Then Isaac sent them on their way, and they left him in peace.

<sup>32</sup> That same day, Isaac's servants came, and told him concerning the well that they had dug, and said to him, "We have found water."

<sup>35</sup> And they were a cause of grief for Isaac and Rebekah.

DASV: Genesis 27

<sup>1</sup> Now when Isaac was old, and his eyes were so clouded that he could not see, he called Esau his elder son, and said to him, "My son." He replied, "Here I am."

<sup>3</sup> Now please take your weapons, your quiver and your bow, and go out to the field and hunt some wild game for me.

<sup>4</sup> Then prepare me some delicious food, just the way I like it, and bring it to me so that I may eat and bless you before I die."

<sup>6</sup> Then Rebekah spoke to Jacob her son, "Look, I heard your father speak to Esau your brother, saying,

<sup>7</sup> 'Bring me wild game, and make me some delicious food, so that I may eat and bless you before the LORD before I die.'

<sup>8</sup> Now therefore, my son, listen to me, do exactly what I tell you.

<sup>9</sup> Go to the flock, and bring me two choice young goats. And I will prepare them as delicious food for your father, just the way he likes it.

<sup>10</sup> Then you will bring it to your father, so that he may eat and bless you before he dies."

<sup>11</sup> But Jacob said to Rebekah his mother, "Look, my brother Esau is a hairy man, and I have smooth skin.

<sup>12</sup> What if my father touches me? I will be found to be deceiving him and I will bring a curse on myself rather than a blessing."

<sup>15</sup> Then Rebekah took the best clothes of Esau her elder son, that she had in the house, and put them on Jacob her younger son.

<sup>18</sup> So he came to his father, and said, "My father." And he said, "Here am I. Who are you my son?"

<sup>19</sup> Then Jacob replied to his father, "I am Esau your firstborn. I have done just as you told me. Now sit up and eat some of my game, so that you may bless me."

<sup>20</sup> But Isaac said to his son, "How did you find it so quickly, my son?" And he said, "Because the LORD your God granted me success."

<sup>21</sup> Then Isaac said to Jacob, "Come near, so that I may touch you, my son, to determine whether you are really my son Esau or not."

<sup>22</sup> So Jacob drew near to Isaac his father, and he touched him, and said, "The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau."

<sup>23</sup> He did not recognize him, because his hands were as hairy as his brother Esau's hands. So he blessed him.

<sup>24</sup> Then he asked, "Are you really my son Esau?" And he replied, "I am."

<sup>25</sup> So he said, "Bring it to me, and I will eat of my son's game, then I will bless you." So he brought it to him and he ate. He also brought him wine and he drank.

<sup>27</sup> So he came and kissed him. And he smelled the smell of his clothes, and blessed him, saying, "Ah, the smell of my son is as the smell of a field that the LORD has blessed.

<sup>28</sup> May God give you from the dew of heaven and from the richness of the earth, plenty of grain and new wine.

<sup>29</sup> Let peoples serve you, and nations bow down to you. May you be master over your brothers, and let your mother's sons bow down to you. Cursed be every one that curses you, and blessed be everyone who blesses you."

<sup>30</sup> As soon as Isaac had finished blessing Jacob, when Jacob was scarcely gone out from the presence of Isaac his father, Esau his brother came in from his hunting.

<sup>31</sup> He too made delicious food and brought it to his father. Then he said to his father, "My father, please sit up and eat some of my game, so that you may bless me."

<sup>32</sup> But Isaac his father said to him, "Who are you?" And he replied, "I am your son, your firstborn, Esau."

<sup>33</sup> Then Isaac shook violently, and said, "Who was it that just hunted game and brought it to me, and I ate it just before you came, and blessed him? Yes, and he will be blessed."

<sup>34</sup> When Esau heard the words of his father, he wailed with a loud and bitter cry, and said to his father, "Bless me too, my father."

<sup>36</sup> Esau responded, "Is he not rightly named Jacob? For he has cheated me these two times. He took away my birthright and now he has taken away my blessing." Then he asked, "Have you not reserved any blessing for me?"

<sup>37</sup> Then Isaac answered Esau, "Look, I have made him your master and I have given him all his brothers as servants. I have sustained him with grain and new wine. What can I do now for you, my son?"

<sup>38</sup> Esau said to his father, "Do you have only one blessing, my father? Bless me too, O my father." Then Esau lifted up his voice and wept aloud.

<sup>39</sup> Isaac his father answered, "Your dwelling will be away from the richness of the earth, and from the dew of heaven above.

<sup>40</sup> And you will live by your sword and you will serve your brother. And it will come to pass, when you break free you will break his yoke from off your neck."

<sup>41</sup> So Esau hated Jacob because of the blessing with which his father blessed him. And Esau said in his heart, "The days of mourning for my father are near. Then will I kill my brother Jacob."

<sup>42</sup> When Rebekah was told the words of Esau her elder son, she sent for Jacob her younger son, and said to him, "Look, your brother Esau, is comforting himself by planning to kill you.

<sup>45</sup> When your brother's anger subsides, and he forgets what you have done to him, then I will send and bring you back from there. Why should I be bereaved of you both in one day?"

<sup>46</sup> Then Rebekah said to Isaac, "I am sick to death of these Hittite women. If Jacob marries a Hittite woman like the women of this land, what good will my life be to me?"

<sup>3</sup> May God Almighty bless you, and make you fruitful, and multiply you, that you may become a large nation.

<sup>4</sup> May He give you the blessing of Abraham, and to your descendants after you, that you may possess the land where you now live as a foreigner, the land God gave to Abraham."

<sup>5</sup> Then Isaac sent Jacob away. And he went to Paddan-aram to Laban, son of Bethuel the Aramean, the brother of Rebekah, Jacob's and Esau's mother.

<sup>6</sup> When Esau saw that Isaac had blessed Jacob and sent him away to Paddan-aram, to find a wife there and that he blessed him commanding him, "You shall not marry a Canaanite woman,"

<sup>9</sup> So Esau went to Ishmael, and married Mahalath the daughter of Ishmael, Abraham's son, and sister of Nebaioth, in addition to the wives that he already had.

<sup>11</sup> And he arrived at a certain place, and he stayed there all night, since the sun had set. He took one of the stones of the place, and put it under his head, and lay down to sleep in that place.

<sup>12</sup> Then he dreamed of a ladder set up on the earth, with its top reaching to heaven, and the angels of God ascending and descending on it.

<sup>13</sup> The LORD stood at the top of it, and said, "I am the LORD, the God of Abraham your father, and the God of Isaac. The ground on which you lie, I will give to you and to your descendants.

<sup>14</sup> Your descendants will be like the dust of the earth, and you will spread out to the west, east, north and south. Through you and your offspring will all the families of the earth be blessed.

<sup>15</sup> I am with you, and will protect you wherever you go, and will bring you back again into this land. For I will not leave you, until I have done what I have promised you."

<sup>16</sup> Then Jacob awoke from his sleep, and he said, "Surely the LORD is in this place and I did not know it."

<sup>17</sup> And he was afraid, and said, "How awesome is this place! This is none other than the house of God. This is the gate of heaven."

<sup>18</sup> Jacob got up early the next morning, and took the stone that he had put under his head, and set it up as a memorial pillar, and poured olive oil on the top of it.

<sup>19</sup> And he called the name of that place Bethel. But the name of the city was formerly called Luz.

<sup>20</sup> Then Jacob made a vow, saying, "If God will be with me, and will protect me in this journey that I am taking, and will give me bread to eat, and clothes to wear,

<sup>21</sup> and I will return to my father's house safely, then the LORD will be my God,

<sup>22</sup> then this stone, which I have set up for a memorial pillar, will be God's house and I will give you a tenth of all that you give me."

DASV: Genesis 29

<sup>1</sup> Then Jacob went on his journey, and came to the land of the people of the east.

<sup>5</sup> So he asked them, "Do you know Laban the son of Nahor?" And they answered, "We know him."

<sup>6</sup> Then he asked them, "Is he doing well?" And they replied, "Yes, he is well and look, here comes Rachel, his daughter, with the sheep."

<sup>7</sup> He said, "Look it is still broad daylight, it is not time for the flocks to be rounded up. Water the sheep and then take them back to graze some more."

<sup>8</sup> But they said, "We cannot, until all the flocks are gathered together and the stone is rolled from the mouth of the well. Then we water the sheep."

<sup>12</sup> Jacob told Rachel that he was her father's relative, and that he was Rebekah's son. So she ran and told her father.

<sup>13</sup> When Laban heard this news about Jacob, his sister's son, he ran out to meet him, and embraced him, kissed him and brought him to his house. Then Jacob told Laban all these things.

<sup>14</sup> Then Laban said to him, "Surely you are my flesh and blood." And he stayed with him for a month.

<sup>15</sup> Laban said to Jacob, "Because you are my relative, should you work for me for nothing? Tell me what your wages should be?"

<sup>18</sup> Now Jacob loved Rachel. So he said, "I will serve you seven years for Rachel your younger daughter."

<sup>20</sup> So Jacob served seven years for Rachel. But they seemed to him like a few days, because of his love for her.

<sup>21</sup> Then Jacob said to Laban, "Give me my wife that I may marry her, for I have finished the days of my agreement."

<sup>25</sup> When morning came, there was Leah. So Jacob complained to Laban, "What is this you have done to me? Did not I serve you for Rachel? Why have you tricked me?"

<sup>27</sup> Complete this one's week, then we will give you the younger one too for the service of another seven years."

<sup>31</sup> When the LORD saw that Leah was unloved, he opened her womb. But Rachel was barren.

<sup>32</sup> So Leah conceived and bore a son, and she called his name Reuben, for she said, "The LORD has seen my affliction. Surely now my husband will love me."

<sup>33</sup> She conceived again and bore a son and said, "Because the LORD has heard that I am unloved, he has given me this son also." So she named him Simeon.

<sup>34</sup> She conceived again and bore a son and said, "Now, this time my husband will become attached to me, because I have borne him three sons." Therefore he was called Levi.

<sup>35</sup> She conceived again and bore a son and she said, "This time will I praise the LORD." Therefore she named him Judah. Then she stopped having children.

DASV: Genesis 30

<sup>1</sup> When Rachel saw that she bore Jacob no children, she became jealous of her sister; and said to Jacob, "Give me children, or else I will die."

<sup>2</sup> Jacob became angry with Rachel and said, "Am I in the place of God, who has kept you from having children?"

<sup>3</sup> Then she said, "Here is my servant Bilhah, sleep with her that she may bear children for me, so I also may have children through her."

<sup>6</sup> Then Rachel said, "God has vindicated me, and has also heard my voice, and has given me a son." So she named him Dan.

<sup>8</sup> Then Rachel said, "With mighty wrestlings have I wrestled with my sister, and have prevailed." So she named him Naphtali.

<sup>13</sup> Then Leah said, "I am happy! For women will call me happy" So she named him Asher.

<sup>14</sup> Now during the wheat harvest Reuben went and found mandrakes in the field and brought them to his mother Leah. Then Rachel said to Leah, "Please, give me some of your son's mandrakes."

<sup>15</sup> But she said to her, "Is it a small matter that you have taken away my husband? Would you now take away my son's mandrakes too?" Then Rachel said, "He may sleep with you tonight for your son's mandrakes."

<sup>16</sup> When Jacob came in from the field that evening, Leah went out to meet him, and said, "You must sleep with me because I have paid for you with my son's mandrakes." So he slept with her that night.

<sup>17</sup> Then God listened to Leah, and she conceived and bore Jacob a fifth son.

<sup>18</sup> Leah said, "God has rewarded me, because I gave my servant to my husband." So she named him Issachar.

<sup>20</sup> Leah said, "God has endowed me with a good dowry; now my husband will respect me, because I have borne him six sons." So she named him Zebulun.

<sup>23</sup> She conceived, and bore a son, and said, "God has taken away my disgrace."

<sup>24</sup> So she named him Joseph, saying, "May the LORD add another son to me."

<sup>25</sup> And it came to pass, when Rachel had borne Joseph, that Jacob said to Laban, "Send me away, that I may go home to my own country.

<sup>26</sup> Give me my wives and my children for whom I have served you, and let me go, for you know my service how I have worked for you."

<sup>27</sup> Then Laban said to him, "If now I have found favor in your eyes, stay here, for I learned by divination that the LORD has blessed me for your sake."

<sup>28</sup> Then he said, "Name your wages, and I will pay it."

<sup>29</sup> So Jacob replied to him, "You know how I have served you, and how your livestock have fared with me.

<sup>30</sup> For you had little before I came, and it has increased greatly; and the LORD has blessed you wherever I turned. Now when can I provide for my own family?"

<sup>31</sup> Then he asked, "What shall I give you?" Jacob responded, "You shall not give me anything. If you will do this thing for me, I will again tend and guard your flocks.

<sup>32</sup> I will pass through all your flock today, removing from there every speckled or spotted sheep, and every black sheep, and all spotted or speckled goats will be my wages.

<sup>33</sup> So my honesty will answer for me later, when you shall come to oversee my wages paid me, every one that is not speckled and spotted among the goats, and black among the sheep, if found in my possession will be counted as stolen."

<sup>35</sup> So he removed that day the male goats that were striped and spotted, and all the female goats that were speckled and spotted, every one that had white in it, and all the black sheep, and gave them into the care of his sons.

<sup>42</sup> but for the feeble of flock he did not put them in. So Laban got the feebler, and Jacob the stronger.

<sup>43</sup> Thus the man grew very wealthy, and had large flocks, and female and male servants, and camels and donkeys.

DASV: Genesis 31

<sup>1</sup> Now Jacob heard the words of Laban's sons, saying, "Jacob has taken everything that was our father's. He has gotten rich off what belonged to our father."

<sup>3</sup> Then the LORD said to Jacob, "Return to the land of your fathers, and to your relatives; and I will be with you."

<sup>4</sup> So Jacob sent and called Rachel and Leah to the field where his flocks were,

<sup>5</sup> and said to them, "I see your father's attitude is not as favorable to me as before, but the God of my father has been with me.

<sup>7</sup> Yet your father has deceived me, and changed my wages ten times; but God has not allowed him to harm me.

<sup>8</sup> If he said, 'The speckled will be your wages,' then all the flock bore speckled; and if he said, 'The striped will be your wages,' then the whole flock bore striped.

<sup>9</sup> In this way God has taken away your father's livestock, and given them to me.

<sup>10</sup> Once, at the time when the flock mated I lifted up my eyes and saw in a dream, that the male goats that were mating with the flock were striped, speckled, and spotted.

<sup>11</sup> The angel of God said to me in the dream, 'Jacob,' and I answered, 'Here I am.'

<sup>12</sup> He said, 'Lift up your eyes, and see all the male goats that are mating with the flock are striped, speckled, and spotted, for I have seen all that Laban has done to you.

<sup>13</sup> I am the God of Bethel, where you anointed a pillar and made a vow to me. Get up now and get out of this land, and return to the land of your birth."

<sup>15</sup> Are we not treated by him as foreigners? For he sold us, and has used up the money he got for us.

<sup>16</sup> For all the riches which God has taken away from our father, that is ours and our children's. Now then, whatever God has said to you, do."

<sup>18</sup> and he took away all his livestock, and all his property that he had acquired in Paddan-aram, and set out for the land of Canaan where Isaac, his father was.

<sup>21</sup> So he fled with all that he had. He got up and passed over the Euphrates River and headed for the hill country of Gilead.

<sup>23</sup> So he gathered a group of his relatives with him, and pursued after him seven days until he caught up with him in the hill country of Gilead.

<sup>24</sup> Then God came to Laban the Aramean in a dream at night, and said to him, "Be careful that you do not speak to Jacob either good or bad."

<sup>26</sup> Then Laban accused Jacob, "What have you done, that you deceived me, and carried off my daughters as captives of war?"

<sup>27</sup> Why did you flee secretly, and trick me, by not even telling me, so that I might have sent you away with joy and songs accompanied by tambourines and harps.

<sup>28</sup> Why did you not allow me to kiss my sons and my daughters? Now what you did was foolish.

<sup>29</sup> It is in the power of my hand to harm you, but the God of your father spoke to me last night, saying, 'Be careful not to say anything to Jacob either good or bad.'

<sup>30</sup> Even though you needed to go because you longed to return to your father's house, but why did you steal my gods?"

<sup>32</sup> But with whomever you find your gods, they shall not live. Before our relatives, point out what is yours, and take it back." Now Jacob did not know that Rachel had stolen the gods.

<sup>33</sup> So Laban went into Jacob's tent, then into Leah's tent, and then into the tent of the two female servants; but he did not find them. After he went out of Leah's tent, he entered into Rachel's tent.

<sup>34</sup> Now Rachel had taken the household gods, and hid them in the camel's saddle, and sat on them. Laban thoroughly searched the tent, but did not find them.

<sup>35</sup> Then she said to her father, "Do not be angry my lord. I cannot rise before you for I am having my monthly period." Though he searched, he did not find the household gods.

<sup>36</sup> Then Jacob was angry and argued with Laban. "What is my offense? What is my sin that you have chased me down in hot pursuit?"

<sup>37</sup> Now that you have thoroughly searched through all my stuff, what have you found in all the household goods? Set it here before your relatives and mine, that they may judge between us.

<sup>38</sup> For twenty years have I been with you, your ewes and your female goats have not miscarried their young, nor have I eaten the rams of your flocks.

<sup>39</sup> That which was torn by beasts I did not bring to you. I bare the loss of it myself. You made me pay for everything, whether it was stolen by day or night.

<sup>40</sup> This is what it was like, by day the heat consumed me, and at night it was the frost; and sleep fled from my eyes.

<sup>41</sup> For twenty years have I labored in your house. I served you fourteen years for your two daughters, and six years for your flocks and you changed my wages ten times.

<sup>42</sup> Except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, and the Fear of Isaac, had been with me, surely even now you would have sent me away empty-handed. God has seen my affliction and the labor of my hands, and rebuked you last night."

<sup>43</sup> Then Laban replied to Jacob, "These women are my daughters, and the children are my children, and the flocks are my flocks, and all that you see is mine. But what can I do this day to these my daughters, or to their children whom they have borne?"

<sup>44</sup> Now come, let us make a covenant, you and I; and let it be a witness between me and you."

<sup>48</sup> Then Laban said, "This heap is witness between me and you this day." That is why it was named Galeed.

<sup>49</sup> It was also called Mizpah, for he said, "The LORD watch between me and you, when we are out of one another's sight.

<sup>50</sup> If you mistreat my daughters, or if you take wives besides my daughters, though no one is with us; God is a witness between you and me."

<sup>51</sup> Then Laban said to Jacob, "Look at this heap and the pillar, that I have set up between you and me.

<sup>52</sup> This heap is a witness, and this pillar is a witness, that I will not pass over this heap to harm you, and you will not pass over this heap and this pillar to harm me.

<sup>53</sup> The God of Abraham, and the God of Nahor, the God of their father, judge between us." So Jacob swore by the Fear of his father Isaac.

<sup>54</sup> Then Jacob offered a sacrifice in the mountain, and called his relatives to eat bread. They ate bread, and spent the night there in the hill country.

<sup>5</sup> I have oxen, donkeys, flocks, and male and female servants. I have sent to tell my lord, so that I may find favor in your sight.'"

<sup>6</sup> The messengers returned to Jacob, saying, "We went to your brother Esau. He is already coming to meet you, and there are four hundred men with him."

<sup>7</sup> Then Jacob was greatly afraid and distressed. So he divided the people who were with him, the flocks, herds, and camels, into two camps.

<sup>8</sup> For he thought, "If Esau comes and attacks one camp, then the other camp that is left may escape."

<sup>9</sup> Then Jacob prayed, "O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, O LORD, who told me, 'Return to your country, and to your relatives, and I will do you good.'

<sup>10</sup> I am not worthy of the least of all the kindness and faithfulness that you have shown to your servant; for with just my walking stick I passed over this Jordan River; and now I have two camps.

<sup>11</sup> Deliver me, I pray, from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau; for I fear him, that he may come and attack me, along with the mothers and children.

<sup>12</sup> And you said, 'I will surely do you good, and make your seed as the sand of the sea, too many to be counted.'"

<sup>13</sup> So he spent the night there. Then he took from what he had with him and sent it as a gift to his brother Esau:

<sup>14</sup> two hundred female goats and twenty male goats, two hundred ewes and twenty rams,

<sup>15</sup> thirty female camels with their young, forty cows and ten bulls, twenty female donkeys and ten male donkeys.

<sup>16</sup> He delivered these into the hand of his servants, each herd separately, and said to his servants, "Go ahead of me, and put a space between each of the herds."

<sup>17</sup> Then he instructed the first group, "When Esau my brother meets you, and asks, 'To whom do you belong?' or 'Where are you going?' or 'To whom do these animals ahead of you belong?'

<sup>18</sup> then you will say, 'They are your servant Jacob's. They are a gift sent to my lord Esau. And look, he himself is coming behind us.'"

<sup>19</sup> Then he also instructed the second, and third, and all that followed the herds, saying, "You are to say the same thing to Esau, when you meet him.

<sup>20</sup> And you will say, 'Look your servant Jacob is behind us.'" For he thought, "I will appease him by sending gifts ahead of me. After that I will see his face; perhaps then he will accept me."

<sup>21</sup> So the gifts were sent on ahead of him, while Jacob himself spent that night in the camp.

<sup>22</sup> That same night he got up, and took his two wives, his two female servants, his eleven children, and crossed the ford of the Jabbok.

<sup>25</sup> When the man saw that he could not overcome him, he touched the socket of his hip; and the socket of Jacob's hip was dislocated, while he wrestled with him.

<sup>26</sup> Then he said, "Let me go, for the day is breaking." But Jacob replied, "I will not let you go, until you bless me."

<sup>28</sup> Then he said, "Your name shall no longer be called Jacob but Israel, because you have struggled with God and with men, and have prevailed."

<sup>29</sup> Then Jacob asked him, "Please, tell me your name." And he replied, "Why do you ask about my name?" And he blessed him there.

<sup>30</sup> So Jacob named the place Peniel, for he said, "I have seen God face to face, and yet my life has been spared."

<sup>32</sup> Therefore to this day the children of Israel do not eat the tendon attached to the hip socket, because he struck Jacob's hip socket tendon.

<sup>1</sup> Then Jacob lifted up his eyes, and saw Esau was coming, and four hundred men with him. So he divided the children among Leah, Rachel, and the two female servants.

<sup>5</sup> Then he lifted up his eyes and saw the women and the children, and asked, "Who are these with you?" And Jacob answered, "The children whom God has graciously given your servant."

<sup>6</sup> Then the female servants came forward, they and their children, and bowed down.

<sup>7</sup> Then Leah and her children came up, and bowed down. Finally, Rachel and Joseph approached and bowed down.

<sup>8</sup> Then Esau asked, "What do you mean by sending all this company that I met?" And Jacob answered, "To find favor in the your sight, my lord."

<sup>9</sup> Then Esau said, "I have plenty, my brother; keep what you have for yourself."

<sup>10</sup> But Jacob insisted, "No, please, if I have found favor in your sight, then receive my gift from my hand; forasmuch as I have seen your face, as one sees the face of God, and you have received me favorably.

<sup>11</sup> Take, I beg you, my gift that was brought to you; because God has dealt graciously with me, and I have plenty." So Jacob urged him, and Esau took it.

<sup>12</sup> Then Esau said, "Let us be on our way. Let's go. I will go in front of you."

<sup>13</sup> But Jacob said to him, "My lord knows that the children are tender, and the flocks and herds are nursing their young. If they are driven too hard for even one day, all the flocks will die.

<sup>14</sup> Please, may my lord, go on ahead of his servant and I will follow more slowly, according to the pace of the herds and the children, until I come to my lord in Seir."

<sup>15</sup> So Esau suggested, "Let me now leave some of my men with you." And Jacob responded, "What need is there for that? Let me find favor in the sight of my lord."

<sup>17</sup> But Jacob journeyed to Succoth, where he built a house and made shelters for his livestock. So the name of the place is called Succoth.

<sup>20</sup> There he erected an altar, and called it El Elohe Israel.

DASV: Genesis 34

<sup>1</sup> Now Dinah the daughter of Leah, whom she had borne to Jacob, went out to visit the young women of the land.

<sup>6</sup> Then Hamor the father of Shechem went out to Jacob to speak about the matter with him.

<sup>7</sup> Now the sons of Jacob came in from the field, as soon as they heard about it. The men were grieved and furious, because he had done such a disgraceful thing in Israel by lying with Jacob's daughter. Such a thing ought never to be done.

<sup>8</sup> But Hamor appealed to them, saying, "The soul of my son Shechem longs for your daughter. Please give her to him as his wife.

<sup>10</sup> You shall live with us, and the land will be open before you. Live, trade and acquire property in it.

<sup>11</sup> Then Shechem said to her father and brothers, "Let me find favor in your eyes, and whatever you ask for I will give you.

<sup>12</sup> Ask me for an expensive bridal price and gift, and I will give whatever you ask, just give me the girl as my wife."

<sup>14</sup> They said to them, "We cannot give our sister to one who is uncircumcised. It would be a disgrace to us.

<sup>15</sup> We will consent but only on this condition, if you will become like us, with every male among you being circumcised.

<sup>16</sup> Then we will give our daughters to you, and we will take your daughters for ourselves, and we will live among you and become one people.

<sup>17</sup> But if you will not listen to us to be circumcised, then will we take our daughter and go."

<sup>19</sup> The young man did not delay in doing what was requested, because he was delighted with Jacob's daughter. Now he was the most highly respected in the house of his father.

<sup>21</sup> "These men are at peace with us; therefore let them live in the land, and trade in it; for the land is large enough for them. Let us take their daughters for wives, and let us give our daughters to them.

<sup>22</sup> But they will agree to live with us and become one people only on one condition, that every male among us must be circumcised, just as they are circumcised.

<sup>24</sup> All who went out of the town gate listened to Hamor and his son Shechem, and every male was circumcised, everyone who went out of his town gate.

<sup>25</sup> But on the third day, when they were sore, two of the sons of Jacob, Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brothers, took their swords and entered the town unopposed, and slaughtered all the males.

<sup>30</sup> Then Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, "You have brought trouble on me by making me stink to the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites and Perizzites. My numbers are few, they will join forces against me and attack me, and I and my entire household will be destroyed."

<sup>31</sup> But they replied, "Should he treat our sister like a prostitute?"

DASV: Genesis 35

<sup>1</sup> Then God said to Jacob, "Get up, go to Bethel, and settle there. Make there an altar to God, who appeared to you when you fled from the face of your brother Esau."

<sup>2</sup> Then Jacob said to his household and to all that were with him, "Get rid of the foreign gods that are among you, purify yourselves and change your clothes.

<sup>3</sup> Let us get up and go up to Bethel where I will make an altar to God, who answered me in the day of my distress, and has been with me wherever I have gone."

<sup>4</sup> So they gave Jacob all the foreign gods that they had, and the rings that were in their ears. Then Jacob hid them under the oak that was near Shechem.

<sup>5</sup> As they journeyed the terror of God fell upon the towns that were round about them and they did not pursue after the sons of Jacob.

<sup>6</sup> So Jacob and all the people with him came to Luz (that is, Bethel) in the land of Canaan.

<sup>7</sup> There he built an altar, and called the place El-bethel, because there God was revealed to him when he fled the face of his brother.

<sup>9</sup> Then God appeared to Jacob again, when he came from Paddan-aram, and blessed him.

<sup>10</sup> God said to him, "Your name is Jacob. Your name will no longer be called Jacob, but Israel shall be your name." So God called his name Israel.

<sup>11</sup> Then God said to him, "I am God Almighty. Be fruitful and multiply. A nation and a company of nations will come from you, and kings will come from your body.

<sup>12</sup> The land I gave to Abraham and Isaac, I will give the land to you and your descendants after you."

<sup>13</sup> Then God went up from the place he spoke with him.

<sup>14</sup> Jacob set up a pillar in the place he spoke with him, a pillar of stone. Then he poured out a drink offering on it and poured olive oil on it.

<sup>15</sup> So Jacob called the name of the place where God spoke with him, Bethel--House of God.

<sup>17</sup> When she was in hard labor, the midwife said to her, "Do not be afraid, for you are having another son."

<sup>18</sup> As she was dying (for she was dying) she called his name Ben-oni--Son of my sorrow, but his father called him Benjamin--Son of my right hand.

<sup>19</sup> So Rachel died, and was buried in the way to Ephrath (that is, Bethlehem).

<sup>5</sup> and Oholibamah bore Jeush, Jalam, and Korah. These were the sons of Esau, who were born to him in the land of Canaan.

<sup>6</sup> Then Esau took his wives, his sons and his daughters, and all the people in his household, his cattle, all his animals and all his possessions he had acquired in the land of Canaan, and went into a land a distance away from his brother Jacob.

<sup>7</sup> For their possessions were too great for them to live together; and the land where they were living could not support them because of their livestock.

<sup>39</sup> When Baal-hanan the son of Achbor died, Hadar reigned in his place. The name of his town was Pau and his wife's name was Mehetabel, the daughter of Matred, the daughter of Me-zahab.

<sup>1</sup> Now Jacob settled in the land his father had lived in as a foreigner, the land of Canaan.

<sup>2</sup> This is the account of Jacob. When Joseph was seventeen years old, he was tending the flocks with his brothers. He was a boy working with the sons of Bilhah and Zilpah, his father's wives. But Joseph brought their father a bad report about them.

<sup>3</sup> Now Israel loved Joseph more than all his children, because he was the son of his old age. So he had a special robe made for him.

<sup>4</sup> When his brothers saw that their father loved him more than all his brothers, they hated him, and could not speak kindly to him.

<sup>5</sup> Once Joseph had a dream, and when he told it to his brothers they hated him even more.

<sup>7</sup> We were binding sheaves of grain in the field, when all of a sudden my sheaf rose up and stood upright while your sheaves gathered around and bowed down to my sheaf."

<sup>8</sup> Then his brothers retorted, "Are you actually going to reign over us? Are you really going to rule over us?" And they hated him even more for his dreams, and for his words.

<sup>9</sup> Then he had another dream, and told it to his brothers, "Look, I had another dream: the sun, moon and eleven stars were bowing down to me."

<sup>10</sup> When he told his father along with his brothers, his father rebuked him, saying to him, "What is this dream that you have had? Will I, your mother and your brothers really come to bow down to the ground before you?"

<sup>11</sup> So his brothers were jealous of him. But his father kept what was said in his mind.

<sup>13</sup> Israel said to Joseph, "Are not your brothers grazing the flock in Shechem? Come, I will send you to them." He replied, "I am ready to go."

<sup>14</sup> So Jacob said to him, "Go now, see if it is going well with your brothers, and with the flock. Then report back to me." So he sent him from the valley of Hebron, and he arrived at Shechem.

<sup>15</sup> And a man found him wandering in the fields and the man asked him, "What are you looking for?"

<sup>20</sup> Come on, let's kill him, and throw him into one of the cisterns, and we will say, 'A wild animal has eaten him.' Then we will see what becomes of his dreams."

<sup>22</sup> Then Reuben suggested to them, "Do not shed blood; throw him into this cistern that is in the wilderness, but do not lay a hand on him." He did this so he might rescue him from their hand, and restore him to his father.

<sup>24</sup> Then they took him and threw him into the cistern. Now the cistern was empty with no water in it.

<sup>26</sup> So Judah said to his brothers, "What benefit is there if we kill our brother and conceal his blood?

<sup>27</sup> Come, let's sell him to the Ishmaelites, and not lay a hand on him, for he is our brother, our own flesh." So his brothers agreed with him.

<sup>28</sup> Now there passed by Midianite merchants; so they hoisted Joseph up out of the cistern. Then they sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for twenty pieces of silver and they brought Joseph to Egypt.

<sup>29</sup> Now when Reuben returned to the cistern, Joseph was not in the cistern, so he tore his clothes.

<sup>30</sup> He returned to his brothers, and said, "The boy is gone! Where can I go now?"

<sup>31</sup> So they took Joseph's robe, killed a male goat, and dipped the robe in the blood.

<sup>32</sup> Then they brought the special robe to their father, and said, "We found this. See whether it is your son's robe or not."

<sup>33</sup> Jacob recognized it, and said, "Yes, it's my son's robe. A wild animal has eaten him. Without doubt Joseph has been torn to pieces."

<sup>35</sup> All his sons and all his daughters attempted to console him but he refused to be comforted. He said, "No, I will go down to the grave grieving for my son." So his father wept for him.

<sup>8</sup> Then Judah said to Onan, "Go in to your brother's wife, and perform the duty of a brother-in-law to her, in order to raise up offspring for your brother."

<sup>9</sup> But Onan knew that the offspring would not be his. So whenever he went in to his brother's wife, that he spilled his semen on the ground, so as not to produce offspring for his brother.

<sup>10</sup> What he did was evil in the sight of the LORD, so he put him to death too.

<sup>11</sup> Then Judah said to Tamar his daughter-in-law, "Remain a widow in your father's house, until my son Shelah grows up." For he thought, "Or else he also may die, like his brothers." So Tamar went and lived in her father's house.

<sup>13</sup> Then Tamar was told, "Look, your father-in-law is going up to Timnah to shear his sheep."

<sup>16</sup> So he went over to her by the roadside, and said, "Come, let me have sex with you," for he did not know that she was his daughter-in-law. Then she asked, "What will you give me so you may sleep with me?"

<sup>17</sup> He responded, "I will send you a young goat from the flock." She asked, "Will you give me a pledge until you send it?"

<sup>18</sup> And he replied, "What pledge shall I give you?" She said, "Your personal seal, your cord, and the staff that is in your hand." So he gave them to her, and had sex with her, and she became pregnant by him.

<sup>21</sup> So he asked the men who lived there, "Where is the shrine prostitute, that was at Enaim by the roadside?" But they answered, "There has been no shrine prostitute here."

<sup>22</sup> Then he returned to Judah, and said, "I could not find her, moreover the men of the place said, 'There has been no shrine prostitute here.'"

<sup>23</sup> Then Judah said, "Let her keep those things for herself, or we will become a laughingstock. I sent this young goat, and you have not been able to find her."

<sup>24</sup> About three months later, Judah was told, "Tamar, your daughter-in-law, has become a whore and she has become pregnant by her prostitution." So Judah demanded, "Bring her out and let her be burned to death."

<sup>25</sup> When she was brought out, she sent to her father-in-law, saying, "I am pregnant by the man who owns these," and she said, "Please identify the owner of the signet, cords and staff."

<sup>26</sup> Then Judah recognized them, and said, "She is more righteous than I because I would not give Shelah my son to her." And he never slept with her again.

<sup>29</sup> But then he drew his hand back, and his brother came out. So she said, "What a breaking out you have made for yourself!" Therefore his name was called Perez.

<sup>30</sup> Afterward his brother came out, who had the scarlet thread on his hand, and he was named Zerah.

DASV: Genesis 39

<sup>3</sup> When his master saw that the LORD was with him and that the LORD made everything he did succeed,

<sup>5</sup> From the time that he made him overseer in his house and of everything he had, the LORD blessed the Egyptian's house for Joseph's sake. The blessing of the LORD was on everything he had both in the house and field.

<sup>6</sup> So he left all that he had in Joseph's care and he did not concern himself with anything except the bread he ate.

Now Joseph was well-built and good-looking.

<sup>7</sup> After a while his master's wife set her eyes on Joseph, and she said, "Sleep with me."

<sup>8</sup> But he refused and said to his master's wife, "Look, my master does not concern himself with anything in this house with me here. He has put everything that he has into my care.

<sup>9</sup> There is no one greater in this house than I am. He has not withheld anything from me but you, because you are his wife. How then could I do such a wicked thing and sin against God?"

<sup>11</sup> But one day he went into the house to do his work and there were no other household servants inside.

<sup>14</sup> she called her household servants, and spoke to them, saying, "See, my husband has brought in a Hebrew to insult us. He came in to sleep with me, but I screamed with a loud voice.

<sup>17</sup> Then she told him this story, "The Hebrew servant, whom you have brought to us, came on to me to humiliate me.

<sup>19</sup> When his master heard his wife's story, that she told him, "This is the way your servant treated me," he became furious.

<sup>20</sup> So Joseph's master took him and threw him into the prison, the place where the king's prisoners were locked up. He stayed there in prison.

<sup>21</sup> But the LORD was with Joseph and showed kindness to him and gave him favor in the sight of the head prison guard.

<sup>22</sup> The head guard put Joseph in charge of all the prisoners that were in the prison. He was in charge of whatever happened there.

<sup>23</sup> The head guard did not pay attention to anything that was under Joseph's care because the LORD was with him and the LORD made him successful in everything he did.

<sup>6</sup> When Joseph came to them in the morning and saw them, he saw that they were troubled.

<sup>7</sup> He asked Pharaoh's officials who were with him in custody in his master's house, "Why do you look so sad today?"

<sup>8</sup> They replied, "We have both dreamed a dream but there is no one to interpret them." Then Joseph said to them, "Do not interpretations belong to God? Please tell me about them."

<sup>9</sup> So the chief butler told his dream to Joseph, "In my dream, there was a vine in front of me.

<sup>10</sup> The vine had three branches. As soon as it budded its blossoms came out and its clusters ripened into grapes.

<sup>11</sup> Now Pharaoh's cup was in my hand so I took the grapes and squeezed them into Pharaoh's cup and I placed the cup in Pharaoh's hand."

<sup>13</sup> In three days Pharaoh will lift up your head and restore you to your post. You will put Pharaoh's cup in his hand, just as you used to when you were his cupbearer.

<sup>14</sup> But remember me when it goes well for you, and please show kindness to me by mentioning me to Pharaoh and bring me out of this house of confinement.

<sup>15</sup> For I was kidnapped from the land of the Hebrews and I have done nothing here that they should have put me into a dungeon."

<sup>16</sup> When the chief baker saw that the dream interpretation was favorable he said to Joseph, "I also had a dream, and there were three baskets of white cakes on my head.

<sup>19</sup> Within three days Pharaoh will take your head off, and will impale you on a pole and the birds will eat your flesh off of you."

<sup>8</sup> In the morning his spirit was troubled so he sent and called for all the magicians and wise men of Egypt. Then Pharaoh told them his dream, but there was no one who could interpret them for Pharaoh.

<sup>9</sup> Then the chief butler spoke to Pharaoh, "Today I remember my faults.

<sup>11</sup> we each had a dream on the same night, each dream had its own interpretation.

<sup>12</sup> There was there a young man, a Hebrew, servant to the captain of the guard with us there. We told him our dreams and he gave an interpretation to each of us according to our dream.

<sup>13</sup> It turned out just like he had interpreted to us, I was restored to my office, and the baker was impaled."

<sup>14</sup> Then Pharaoh sent and called Joseph, and they quickly brought him out of the dungeon. He shaved himself and changed his clothes and came before Pharaoh.

<sup>15</sup> Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I have had a dream, and there is no one who can interpret it. I have heard about you, that when you hear a dream you are able to interpret it."

<sup>18</sup> Then there came up out of the river seven cows, fat and healthy and they grazed in the reeds.

<sup>21</sup> But after they had eaten them up, no one would have known that they had eaten them because they were still as thin as before. Then I awoke.

<sup>24</sup> Then the thin ears swallowed up the seven good heads of grain. Now I told it to the magicians but there was no one that could explain its meaning to me."

<sup>25</sup> Then Joseph said to Pharaoh, "The dreams of Pharaoh have the same meaning. God has revealed to Pharaoh what he is about to do.

<sup>26</sup> The seven good cows are seven years. The seven good heads of grain are seven years. The dreams are the same.

<sup>27</sup> The seven lean and scrawny cows that came up after them are seven years, and also the seven empty heads of grain scorched by the east wind, they are seven years of famine.

<sup>30</sup> But after that will come seven years of famine and all the plenty will be forgotten in the land of Egypt. The famine will consume the land.

<sup>33</sup> Now therefore Pharaoh should find a man who is discerning and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt.

<sup>35</sup> Then let them gather all the food of these good years that come, and store up grain under the authority of Pharaoh for food in the cities, and let them keep it.

<sup>36</sup> The food should be held in reserve for the land to counter the seven years of famine, which will be in the land of Egypt; so that the land will not perish as a result of the famine."

<sup>37</sup> The plan seemed good in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of all his servants.

<sup>38</sup> Then Pharaoh said to his servants, "Can we find anyone like this, a man in whom the spirit of God is?"

<sup>39</sup> So Pharaoh said to Joseph, "As God has shown you all of this, there is none so discerning and wise as you are.

<sup>40</sup> You shall oversee my house, and all my people will submit to your orders. Only in regard to the throne will I be greater than you."

<sup>41</sup> Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "See, I have put you in charge over all the land of Egypt."

<sup>43</sup> He made Joseph ride in the chariot as the second-in-command. And they cried out before him, "Bow the knee." So he put him in charge over all the land of Egypt.

<sup>44</sup> Now Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I am Pharaoh, and without your approval no one will lift up his hand or his foot in all the land of Egypt."

<sup>45</sup> Then Pharaoh called Joseph's name Zaphenath-paneah; and he gave him Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera priest of On as a wife. And Joseph took charge over the land of Egypt.

<sup>46</sup> Now Joseph was thirty years old when he stood before Pharaoh king of Egypt. So Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh, and went throughout all the land of Egypt.

<sup>48</sup> During those seven years, he gathered up all the food which was in the land of Egypt, and stored up the food in the cities. He put in each city food from the surrounding fields.

<sup>49</sup> So Joseph stored up so much grain it was as the sand of the sea, until he stopped measuring it because it was beyond measuring.

<sup>50</sup> Joseph had two sons born before the year of the famine. Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera priest of On bore them to him.

<sup>51</sup> Joseph called the name of the firstborn Manasseh saying: "God has made me forget all my trouble and all my father's house."

<sup>52</sup> The name of the second he called Ephraim: "For God has made me fruitful in the land of my affliction."

<sup>53</sup> The seven years of plenty in the land of Egypt, came to an end.

<sup>54</sup> Then the seven years of famine began, just as Joseph had said. There was also famine in all the other lands; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread.

<sup>55</sup> But when all the land of Egypt was famished, the people cried to Pharaoh for bread. Then Pharaoh said to all the Egyptians, "Go to Joseph, do whatever he says to you."

<sup>56</sup> When the famine was spread over all the face of the earth, Joseph opened all the storehouses, and sold it to the Egyptians. Now the famine was severe in the land of Egypt.

<sup>57</sup> So all the world came to Egypt to Joseph to buy grain, because the famine was severe in all the earth.

DASV: Genesis 42

<sup>1</sup> When Jacob found out there was grain in Egypt, Jacob asked his sons, "Why are you staring at each other?"

<sup>2</sup> Then he said, "I have heard that there is grain in Egypt. Go down there and buy grain for us so that we may live and not die."

<sup>5</sup> So the sons of Israel went to buy grain along with others who came, for the famine was in the land of Canaan also.

<sup>6</sup> Now Joseph was the governor over the land. He was the one who sold grain to all the people of the land. When Joseph's brothers arrived, they bowed down before him with their faces to the ground.

<sup>7</sup> When Joseph saw his brothers, he recognized them, but he pretended to be a stranger to them, and spoke harshly to them. He asked them, "Where did you come from?" And they replied, "From the land of Canaan, to buy food."

<sup>9</sup> Then Joseph remembered the dreams that he had dreamed about them, and said to them, "You are spies. You have come to see how vulnerable the land is."

<sup>13</sup> They replied, "We your servants are sons of one man, twelve brothers in the land of Canaan. The youngest is this day with our father, and one is no longer alive."

<sup>14</sup> Then Joseph said to them, "It is just like I said to you, 'You are spies.'

<sup>16</sup> Send one of you back, and let him bring your brother, and the rest of you shall be put in prison that your words may be tested whether you are honest or else by the life of Pharaoh surely you are spies."

<sup>18</sup> Then Joseph said to them on the third day, "Do this and live, for I fear God:

<sup>19</sup> if you are honest men, let one of your brothers stay confined in prison; but go, carry back grain for your starving families.

<sup>20</sup> But bring your youngest brother to me. So your words may be verified and you will not die." So that is what they did.

<sup>21</sup> Then they said one to another, "Surely we are guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the distress of his soul, when he pleaded with us, but we refused to listen. This is why this distress has come upon us."

<sup>24</sup> Then he turned away from them and wept. When he returned he spoke to them, and took Simeon from them and bound him before their eyes.

<sup>28</sup> He said to his brothers, "My money has been returned; and here it is in my sack." Then their heart failed them and they turned trembling to one another, saying, "What is this that God has done to us?"

<sup>29</sup> When they came to their father Jacob in the land of Canaan, they told him all that had happened to them, saying, <sup>30</sup> "The man, the lord of the land, spoke harshly with us, and accused us of spying out the country.

<sup>31</sup> But we told him, 'We are honest men. We are not spies.

<sup>32</sup> We are twelve brothers, sons of our father, one is no longer alive, and the youngest is now with our father in the land of Canaan.'

<sup>33</sup> But the man, the lord of the land, said to us, 'This is how I will know that you are honest men. Leave one of your brothers with me, and take grain for your starving families, and go your way.

<sup>34</sup> But bring your youngest brother to me. Then I will know that you are not spies, but honest men. Then I will give you back your brother, and you may trade freely in the land.'"

<sup>35</sup> As they emptied their sacks, each man's bag of money was in his sack. When they and their father saw their bags of money, they were afraid.

<sup>36</sup> Then Jacob their father complained to them, "You have bereaved me of my children. Joseph is gone. Simeon is gone. And now you want to take Benjamin away. All these things are against me."

<sup>37</sup> Then Reuben spoke to his father, "You may kill my two sons, if I do not bring him back to you. Put him in my hands and I will bring him back to you."

<sup>38</sup> But he replied, "My son will not go down with you. For his brother is dead and he is the only one left. If he is harmed on the journey you are making, then you will bring down my gray hairs in sorrow to the grave."

<sup>2</sup> So when they had eaten the grain that they had brought from Egypt, their father said to them, "Go again, buy us a little food."

<sup>3</sup> But Judah said to him, "The man solemnly warned us, saying, 'You will not see my face unless your brother is with you.'

<sup>4</sup> If you send our brother with us, we will go down and buy food for you.

<sup>5</sup> But if you will not send him, we will not go down, for the man said to us, 'You will not see my face, unless your brother is with you.'"

<sup>6</sup> Then Israel complained, "Why did you bring this trouble on me, by telling the man you still had another brother?"

<sup>7</sup> They replied, "The man questioned us thoroughly about ourselves, and about our family, asking, 'Is your father still alive? Do you have another brother?' So we answered his questions this way. How could we have known that he would say, 'Bring your brother down here?'"

<sup>8</sup> Then Judah said to Israel his father, "Send the boy with me and let us go now that we may live and not die--both we and you and also our children.

<sup>9</sup> I will guarantee his safety. You may hold me responsible for him. If I do not bring him back to you, and place him before you, then let me bear the blame forever.

<sup>10</sup> If we had not delayed so long by now we could have returned twice."

<sup>11</sup> Then their father Israel said to them, "If it must be so, then do this. Take some of the best products of the land in your bags. Bring them down to the man as a gift--a little balm, a little honey, spices and myrrh, pistachio nuts and almonds.

<sup>14</sup> May God Almighty grant you mercy before the man, that he may release to you your other brother and Benjamin. As for me if I am bereaved of my children, I am bereaved."

<sup>18</sup> But the men were afraid when they were brought to Joseph's house, and they said, "We are brought in because of the money that was returned in our sacks the first time, he wants a pretext that he may seize us and attack us and take us for slaves and take our donkeys."

<sup>19</sup> So they came near to Joseph's household manager and spoke to him at the door of the house, <sup>20</sup> and confessed, "Oh, my lord, we came down the first time to buy food.

<sup>21</sup> But when we came to a place to spend the night we opened our sacks and each man's money was in the mouth of his sack, our money in full. We have brought it back with us.

<sup>22</sup> We have also brought down additional money to buy food. We have no idea who put our money in our sacks."

<sup>23</sup> Then he said, "Peace be to you, do not be afraid, for your God, and the God of your father, has given you treasure in your sacks; I did receive your money." Then he brought Simeon out to them.

<sup>24</sup> The manager brought the men into Joseph's house, gave them water and they washed their feet. Then he gave their donkeys fodder.

<sup>26</sup> When Joseph came home, they presented him the gifts that they had brought with them into the house. Then they bowed down to the ground before him.

<sup>27</sup> After asking them how they were doing, he inquired, "Is your father well, the old man of whom you spoke, is he still alive?"

<sup>28</sup> They replied, "Your servant, our father, is well; he is still alive." They bowed their heads and prostrated themselves.

<sup>29</sup> As Joseph looked up he saw Benjamin his brother, his mother's son, and said, "Is this your youngest brother, the one you told me about?" Then he said, "God be gracious to you, my son."

<sup>30</sup> Then Joseph hurried away for his heart was overcome because of his brother and he sought a place to weep. So he entered into his private room and wept there.

<sup>31</sup> Then he washed his face and came out. He controlled himself, and said, "Serve the food."

<sup>32</sup> So they served him by himself, and then them by themselves, and the Egyptians who ate by themselves, because the Egyptians refuse to eat bread with Hebrews for that is detestable for the Egyptians.

<sup>33</sup> Now they were seated before him, from the firstborn according to his birthright down to the youngest. The men looked at each other in amazement.

<sup>34</sup> When he gave portions to them from his table, Benjamin's portion was five times as much as any of theirs. So they drank and were merry with him.

DASV: Genesis 44

<sup>1</sup> Then Joseph directed the household manager, saying, "Fill the men's sacks with food, as much as they can carry, and put each man's money in his sack's mouth.

<sup>4</sup> When they had gone a short distance out of the city, Joseph said to his household manager, "Go, pursue the men and when you have overtaken them, say to them, 'Why have you repaid evil for good?

<sup>5</sup> Is not this the cup my master drinks from and uses it for divination? You have done evil by doing this.'"

<sup>6</sup> So he overtook them, and he repeated these words to them.

<sup>7</sup> Then they answered him, "Why does my lord say such things? There is no way your servants would do should such a thing.

<sup>8</sup> Look, the money we found in the mouth of our sacks we brought back to you from the land of Canaan. So why would we steal gold or silver from your master's house?

<sup>9</sup> Whichever of your servants has it, let him die, and the rest of us will be my lord's slaves."

<sup>10</sup> So he replied, "Now let it be according to what you have said. The one with whom it is found will become my slave but the rest of you will go free."

<sup>14</sup> When Judah and his brothers came to Joseph's house, he was still there. So they fell on the ground before him.

<sup>15</sup> Then Joseph said to them, "What have you done? Don't you know that a man like me can discover things like this through divination?"

<sup>16</sup> Then Judah said, "What can we say to my lord? What explanation can we give? Or how can we clear ourselves? God has exposed your servant's guilt. We are now my lord's slaves, both we and the one in whose hand the cup was found."

<sup>17</sup> Then he said, "I would never do that. Only the one in whose hand the cup was found will be my slave. But as for the rest of you, go up in peace to your father."

<sup>18</sup> Then Judah approached him, and said, "Oh, my lord, please let your servant speak a word to my lord privately, and do not be angry with your servant, for you are like Pharaoh himself.

<sup>19</sup> My lord asked his servants, saying, 'Do you have a father or a brother?'

<sup>20</sup> And we told my lord, 'We have an aged father and a young brother born in his old age. His brother is dead and he is the only one left of his mother's children and his father loves him.'

<sup>21</sup> Then you said to your servants, 'Bring him down to me, that I may see him with my own eyes.'

<sup>22</sup> Later we said to my lord, 'The boy cannot leave his father, for if he leaves his father, his father would die.'

<sup>23</sup> And you said to your servants, 'Unless your youngest brother come down with you, you shall not see my face again.'

<sup>24</sup> When we returned to your servant, my father, we told him the words of my lord.

<sup>26</sup> But we said, 'We cannot go down unless our youngest brother goes with us, only then will we go down. For we cannot see the man's face unless our youngest brother is with us.'

<sup>27</sup> Your servant, my father, said to us, 'You know that my wife bore me two sons.

<sup>28</sup> The one is gone from me, and I thought, 'Surely he is torn in pieces; and I have not seen him since.

<sup>29</sup> If you take this one also from me, and he is harmed, you will bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave.'

<sup>30</sup> So now if I come to your servant my father, and the boy is not with us, seeing that his life is bound up in the lad's life;

<sup>31</sup> when he sees that the boy is not with us he will die, and your servants will bring down the gray hairs of your servant, our father, with sorrow to the grave.

<sup>32</sup> For your servant became a guarantee for the boy to my father, saying, 'If I do not bring him back to you, then will I bear the blame before my father forever.'

<sup>33</sup> So please let your servant stay as my lord's slave instead of the boy and let the boy go back with his brothers.

<sup>34</sup> For how can I return to my father, if the boy is not with me? I cannot bear to see the sorrow that would come on my father."

DASV: Genesis 45

<sup>1</sup> When Joseph could no longer control himself before all his attendants, he cried out, "Send every one away from me." So no one stood with him when Joseph made himself known to his brothers.

<sup>2</sup> Then he wept so loud even the Egyptians heard it, and the house of Pharaoh found out about it.

<sup>3</sup> Then Joseph announced to his brothers, "I am Joseph, is my father still alive?" And his brothers could not answer him for they were stunned by his presence.

<sup>4</sup> Joseph said to his brothers, "Please come closer to me." So they came near. And he said, "I am Joseph your brother, whom you sold into Egypt.

<sup>5</sup> Now do not be upset or angry with yourselves that you sold me here; for God sent me ahead of you in order to preserve life.

<sup>6</sup> For these past two years the famine has been in the land and there are still five years where there will be neither plowing or harvesting.

<sup>7</sup> But God sent me ahead of you to preserve you a remnant on the earth, and to save your lives by a great deliverance.

<sup>8</sup> So it was not you who sent me here, but God. He has made me a father to Pharaoh, lord of all his house and ruler over all the land of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup> Now hurry back to my father, and say to him, 'This is what your son Joseph says, "God has made me lord of all Egypt. Come down to me, do not delay.

<sup>10</sup> You will dwell in the land of Goshen, and you will be near me, you, your children and your grandchildren, your flocks and your herds and all that you have.

<sup>11</sup> I will provide for you there for there will be five more years of famine. Otherwise you, your household and all you have will come to poverty.

<sup>12</sup> Then you will see with your own eyes and the eyes of my brother Benjamin, that it is my mouth that speaks to you."

<sup>13</sup> Tell my father of all my honor in Egypt, and everything that you have seen. Now hurry and bring my father down here."

<sup>14</sup> Then he threw himself on the neck of his brother Benjamin and wept. Benjamin also wept on his neck.

<sup>15</sup> He kissed all his brothers, and wept over them and afterwards his brothers talked with him.

<sup>17</sup> Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Tell your brothers, 'Do this: load your animals and return to the land of Canaan.

<sup>18</sup> Get your father and your households and come to me. I will give you the best of the land of Egypt and you shall eat the fat of the land.'

<sup>19</sup> Now you are commanded, to say: 'Do this: take wagons from the land of Egypt for your children and your wives, and bring your father back here.

<sup>21</sup> So the sons of Israel did as he directed. And Joseph gave them wagons according to the command of Pharaoh, and gave them provisions for the journey.

<sup>22</sup> To each of them he gave a new set of clothes; but to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of silver and five sets of clothes.

<sup>24</sup> Then he sent his brothers away and they left. Now he said to them, "Do not quarrel about this on way."

<sup>25</sup> So they went up out of Egypt and came into the land of Canaan to Jacob their father.

<sup>26</sup> And they told him, "Joseph is still alive and he is ruler over all the land of Egypt." Jacob's heart was so stunned he could not believe them.

<sup>27</sup> But when they told him all the words Joseph had said to them, and when he saw the wagons that Joseph had sent to carry him, the spirit of Jacob their father revived.

<sup>28</sup> Then Israel said, "It is enough, Joseph my son is still alive. I will go and see him before I die."

DASV: Genesis 46

<sup>1</sup> So Israel took his journey with all that he had and came to Beersheba, and offered sacrifices to the God of his father Isaac.

<sup>2</sup> Then God spoke to Israel in the visions at night, and said, "Jacob, Jacob." And he replied, "Here I am."

<sup>3</sup> Then he said, "I am God, the God of your father. Do not be afraid to go down to Egypt, for I will make you into a great nation there.

<sup>4</sup> I will go down with you to Egypt and I will surely bring you back again. Joseph's own hand will close your eyes."

<sup>6</sup> They also took their cattle and their goods that they had acquired in the land of Canaan, and came to Egypt, along with Jacob and all his descendants, <sup>7</sup> his sons, grandsons with him, his daughters and his granddaughters, and all his descendants he brought with him to Egypt.

<sup>12</sup> The sons of Judah: Er, Onan, Shelah, Perez and Zerah (but Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan). The sons of Perez were Hezron and Hamul.

<sup>20</sup> To Joseph in the land of Egypt were born Manasseh and Ephraim, whom Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera priest of On, bore to him.

<sup>26</sup> All the descendants who came with Jacob to Egypt, who were his direct descendants, were sixty-six, not including the wives of Jacob's sons.

<sup>27</sup> Joseph had two sons who were born to him in Egypt. So there were seventy in all of the descendants of the house of Jacob, who came to Egypt.

<sup>29</sup> Then Joseph prepared his chariot and went to meet Israel his father in Goshen. When he presented himself to him, he fell and wept on his neck for a good while.

<sup>30</sup> Then Israel said to Joseph, "Now let me die, since I have seen your face, that you are still alive."

<sup>31</sup> Then Joseph said to his brothers and to his father's household, "I will go and tell Pharaoh, 'My brothers and my father's household, who were in the land of Canaan, have come to me.

<sup>34</sup> You should tell him, 'Your servants have been keepers of livestock from our youth even until now, both we and our fathers.' So that you may live in the land of Goshen, for the Egyptians despise shepherds."

DASV: Genesis 47

<sup>1</sup> Then Joseph went in and told Pharaoh, "My father and my brothers, with their flocks and their herds and all that they have, are come from the land of Canaan. They are now in the land of Goshen."

<sup>3</sup> Pharaoh asked his brothers, "What is your occupation?" And they replied to Pharaoh, "Your servants are shepherds, just like our ancestors were."

<sup>4</sup> Then they said to Pharaoh, "We have come to live temporarily in the land for there is no pasture for your servants' flocks because the famine is severe in the land of Canaan. So please let your servants live in the land of Goshen."

<sup>5</sup> Then Pharaoh spoke to Joseph, saying, "Your father and your brothers have come to you.

<sup>6</sup> the land of Egypt is before you; settle your father and your brothers in the best of the land. Let them live in the land of Goshen. If you know any capable men among them, then put them in charge of my livestock."

<sup>7</sup> Then Joseph brought in Jacob his father and presented him to Pharaoh. And Jacob blessed Pharaoh.

<sup>9</sup> Jacob replied to Pharaoh, "The years of my pilgrimage are 130 years. The years of my life have been few and troublesome, but they have not come close to the years of my ancestors in the days of their pilgrimage."

<sup>11</sup> So Joseph settled his father and his brothers, and gave them territory in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, in the region of Rameses, as Pharaoh had instructed.

<sup>12</sup> Joseph provided food for his father, his brothers and all his father's household, according to the number of their children.

<sup>13</sup> But there was no food in all the land for the famine was very severe. The land of Egypt and the land of Canaan wasted away because of the famine.

<sup>14</sup> Joseph collected all the money that was found in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan, in exchange for the grain which they purchased. So Joseph brought the money into Pharaoh's house.

<sup>15</sup> When all the money in the land of Egypt and Canaan was spent, all the Egyptians came to Joseph and pleaded, "Give us food. Why should we die before your very eyes because our money is gone?"

<sup>16</sup> Then Joseph said, "Give me your livestock and I will give you food in exchange for your livestock, since your money is gone."

<sup>17</sup> So they brought their livestock to Joseph; and Joseph gave them food in exchange for the horses, flocks, herds and donkeys. That year he fed them with food in exchange for all their livestock.

<sup>18</sup> When that year was finished, they came to him the next year, and said to him, "We cannot hide from my lord that our money is gone and the herds of livestock are my lord's. There is nothing left in the sight of my lord but our bodies and our land.

<sup>19</sup> Why should we die before your eyes, both we and our land? Buy us and our land for food and we and our land will become Pharaoh's slaves. But give us seed that we may live and not die and that the land not become desolate."

<sup>20</sup> So Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh. All the Egyptians sold him their fields because the famine was so severe for them. So the land became Pharaoh's.

<sup>21</sup> As for the people, he made them slaves from one border of Egypt to the other.

<sup>22</sup> Only the land of the priests he did not buy, for the priests ate from a special allotment Pharaoh gave them; that is why they did not sell their land.

<sup>23</sup> Then Joseph said to the people, "Look, today I have bought you and your land for Pharaoh, here is seed for you. Farm the land.

<sup>24</sup> But when you gather the crops, you shall give a fifth to Pharaoh, and the other four parts will be yours for seed for the field, and food for you, those of your households and your children."

<sup>25</sup> Then they said, "You have saved our lives. May it please my Lord, we will be Pharaoh's slaves."

<sup>26</sup> So Joseph made it a statute concerning the land of Egypt to this day, that Pharaoh should have one fifth. Only the land of the priests did not become Pharaoh's.

<sup>27</sup> Now Israel settled in the land of Egypt, in the region of Goshen and they acquired property there. They were fruitful and multiplied greatly.

<sup>28</sup> Jacob lived in the land of Egypt seventeen years. So the days of Jacob, the years of his life, were a 147 years.

<sup>29</sup> When the time of Israel's death drew near, he called his son Joseph, and said to him, "If now I have found favor in your sight, please put your hand under my thigh, and show me kindness and faithfulness. Do not bury me in Egypt.

<sup>30</sup> When I rest with my fathers, carry me out of Egypt, and bury me in their burial place." So Joseph said, "I will do as you have said."

<sup>31</sup> He said, "Swear to me." So Joseph promised him. Then Israel bowed in worship at the head of the bed.

DASV: Genesis 48

<sup>1</sup> Now after these things, Joseph was told, "Your father is sick." So he took his two sons Manasseh and Ephraim with him.

<sup>2</sup> When Jacob was told, "Your son Joseph has come to you." Israel summoned his strength and sat up in the bed.

<sup>3</sup> Then Jacob said to Joseph, "God Almighty appeared to me at Luz in the land of Canaan, and blessed me.

<sup>4</sup> He said to me, 'I will make you fruitful and multiply you. I will make you into a multitude of nations, and will give this land to your seed after you for an everlasting possession.'

<sup>5</sup> Now your two sons, who were born to you in the land of Egypt before I came to you in Egypt, are mine. Ephraim and Manasseh shall be mine just as Reuben and Simeon are.

<sup>6</sup> Your offspring that you father after them will be yours. In their inheritance they will be listed with the names of their brothers.

<sup>7</sup> As for me, when I came from Paddan, to my sorrow, Rachel died in the land of Canaan on the way, some distance from Ephrath. So I buried her there beside the road to Ephrath" (that is, Bethlehem).

<sup>9</sup> Then Joseph answered his father, "They are my sons, whom God has given me here." Jacob said, "Bring them to me, so that I may bless them."

<sup>10</sup> Now the eyes of Israel were so dim with age that he could not see. So Joseph brought them near him and he kissed and embraced them.

<sup>11</sup> Then Israel said to Joseph, "I never expected see your face, but now God has even let me see your children too."

<sup>15</sup> He blessed Joseph, and said, "May the God before whom my fathers Abraham and Isaac walked, the God who has been my shepherd all my life to this very day, <sup>16</sup> the Angel who delivered me from all harm, bless the boys. May my name be preserved through them, and the name of my fathers Abraham and Isaac. May they grow into a multitude on the earth."

<sup>19</sup> But his father refused and said, "I know, my son, I know. He too will become a people, and he too will be great. Nevertheless his younger brother will be greater than he is, and his descendants will become a multitude of nations."

<sup>20</sup> So he blessed them that day, saying, "By you Israel will pronounce a blessing, saying, 'May God make you as Ephraim and Manasseh.'" So he put Ephraim ahead of Manasseh.

<sup>21</sup> Then Israel said to Joseph, "I am about to die, but God will be with you and bring you back to the land of your fathers.

<sup>22</sup> Beyond that which I have given to your brothers, I am giving you the mountain slope that I took from the Amorites with my sword and bow."

DASV: Genesis 49

<sup>1</sup> Then Jacob called his sons and said, "Gather around so I can tell you what will happen to you in the days to come.

listen to Israel your father.

<sup>3</sup> Reuben, you are my firstborn, my might, and the beginning of my strength.
You excel in dignity and are first in power.

<sup>4</sup> Unstable as water, you will no longer excel, for you went up on your father's bed,
then you defiled it--he went up onto my couch.

<sup>5</sup> Simeon and Levi are brothers.
Their swords are weapons of violence.

<sup>6</sup> Let my soul not enter their council,
my glory, do not join with their assembly, for in their anger they killed men, and just for pleasure they hamstringed oxen.

<sup>7</sup> Cursed be their anger, for it was fierce, and their wrath, for it was cruel.
I will divide them in Jacob,
And scatter them in Israel.

<sup>8</sup> Judah, your brothers will praise you.
Your hand will be on the neck of your enemies;
Your father's sons will bow down before you.

<sup>9</sup> Judah is a lion's cub.
From the prey, my son, you are gone up.
He crouches, he lies down like a lion,
Like a lioness, who will dare rouse him?

<sup>10</sup> The scepter will not depart from Judah, nor the ruler's staff from between his feet, until he comes to whom it belongs,
and nations will be obedient to him.

<sup>11</sup> Binding his donkey to the vine,
And his donkey's colt to the choice vine.
He has washed his garments in wine, and his vesture in the blood of grapes:

<sup>12</sup> His eyes will be darker than wine,
And his teeth whiter than milk.

- <sup>13</sup> Zebulun will settle by the seashore and he will be for a haven of ships.
His border will extend up to Sidon.
- <sup>14</sup> Issachar is a strong donkey, lying down between the saddlebags.
- <sup>15</sup> When he sees a resting place that it was good, and the land that it was pleasant,
he will bow his shoulder under the load, and became a servant under forced labor.
- <sup>16</sup> Dan will judge his people, as one of the tribes of Israel.
- <sup>17</sup> Dan will be a serpent by the road,
an adder in the path,
that bites the horse's heels,
so that its rider falls over backward.
- <sup>18</sup> I wait for your salvation, O LORD.
- <sup>19</sup> Gad will be raided by a gang of raiders but he will attack them at their heels.
- <sup>20</sup> Asher's food will be rich, and he will produce royal delicacies.
- <sup>21</sup> Naphtali is a doe let loose,
He bears beautiful fawns.
- <sup>22</sup> Joseph is a fruitful vine,
A fruitful vine by a fountain.
His branches run over the wall.
- <sup>23</sup> The archers have fiercely attacked him, they shot at him and harassed him.
- <sup>24</sup> But his bow remained firm, and his arms were strengthened by the hands of the Mighty One of Jacob, by the Shepherd, the Rock of Israel,
- <sup>25</sup> because the God of your father will help you, because the Almighty will bless you,
with blessings from heaven above, blessings of the deep that lies below, blessings of the breasts and womb.

<sup>26</sup> The blessings of your father are stronger than the blessings of the eternal mountains, the bounties of the ancient hills.

May they be on the head of Joseph, and on the crown of the head of him who was set apart from his brothers.

<sup>27</sup> Benjamin is a ravenous wolf, in the morning devouring its prey, and in the evening dividing up the plunder."

<sup>28</sup> All these are the twelve tribes of Israel. This is what their father spoke to them when he blessed them. He blessed them each with an appropriate blessing.

<sup>29</sup> Then Jacob charged them saying, "I am about to be gathered to my people. Bury me with my fathers in the cave in the field of Ephron the Hittite,

<sup>32</sup> It is the field and the cave that was purchased from the sons of Heth."

<sup>33</sup> When Jacob finished instructing his sons, he drew his feet up into the bed, breathed his last and was gathered to his people.

<sup>4</sup> When the days of mourning for him were past, Joseph spoke to the house of Pharaoh, saying, "If now I have found favor in your sight, please speak in the ears of Pharaoh, saying,

<sup>5</sup> "My father made me swear, saying, "I am about to die. Bury me in my grave that I have dug in the land of Canaan.'" Now therefore let me go up and bury my father; then I will return."

<sup>7</sup> Then Joseph went up to bury his father. With him went up all the servants of Pharaoh, the elders of his house, all the elders of the land of Egypt,

<sup>9</sup> Both chariots and horsemen went up with him. It was a very great company.

<sup>14</sup> After burying his father, Joseph returned to Egypt, he, his brothers and all who went up with him to bury his father.

<sup>15</sup> When Joseph's brothers saw that their father was dead, they said, "What if Joseph bears a grudge against us and pays us back for all the harm we did to him."

<sup>16</sup> So they sent a message to Joseph, saying, "Before your father died he gave these instructions, <sup>17</sup> 'Say to Joseph, "Please forgive, the sin of your brothers, and their wrong, that they did to harm you." Now, we beg you, forgive the sin of the servants of the God of your father.'" Then Joseph wept when they spoke to him.

<sup>18</sup> Then his brothers also came and threw themselves down before him and said, "We are your servants."

<sup>19</sup> But Joseph replied to them, "Do not be afraid. Am I in the place of God?"

<sup>20</sup> As for you, you intended to harm me; but God intended it for good, to preserve many people alive as he is doing this day.

<sup>21</sup> Do not be afraid. I will provide for you and your children." So he comforted them and spoke kindly to them.

<sup>23</sup> Joseph saw Ephraim's children to the third generation; the children also of Machir the son of Manasseh whom Joseph counted as his own children.

<sup>24</sup> Joseph said to his brothers, "I am about to die. But God will surely visit you and bring you up out of this land into the land that he swore to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob."

<sup>26</sup> So Joseph died at 110 years of age. They embalmed him and he was put in a coffin in Egypt.

DASV: EXODUS
DASV: Exodus 1

<sup>8</sup> Now there arose a new king over Egypt, who did not know Joseph.

<sup>9</sup> He said to his people, "Look, the Israelites are more numerous and stronger than we are.

<sup>10</sup> Come, let us deal shrewdly with them or they will multiply, and if a war breaks out they may join our enemies, fight against us and escape from our land."

<sup>15</sup> Then the king of Egypt spoke to the Hebrew midwives, one of whom was named Shiphrah, and the other Puah.

<sup>16</sup> "When you help the Hebrew women in childbirth and see them on the birthstool, if it is a son, kill him; but if it is a daughter, let her live."

<sup>17</sup> But the midwives feared God, and did not do what the king of Egypt had commanded them, they let the boys live.

<sup>18</sup> Then the king of Egypt summoned the midwives, and asked them, "Why have you done this, letting the boys live?"

<sup>21</sup> It came to pass, because the midwives feared God, that he made households for them.

<sup>22</sup> Then Pharaoh ordered all his people, saying, "Every son that is born, you must throw into the river, but every daughter you may let live."

<sup>2</sup> The woman conceived and bore a son. When she saw that he was a good child, she hid him three months.

<sup>3</sup> But when she could not longer hide him, she got a papyrus basket for him, and coated it with tar and pitch. Then she put the child in it and placed it in the reeds by the river's bank.

<sup>6</sup> When she opened it, she saw the child. Then the baby cried and she had compassion on him, and surmised, "This is one of the Hebrews' children."

<sup>7</sup> Then his sister asked Pharaoh's daughter, "Shall I go and call a nurse from the Hebrew women for you, so that she may nurse the child for you?"

<sup>8</sup> Pharaoh's daughter replied, "Go." So the girl went and called the child's mother.

<sup>9</sup> Then Pharaoh's daughter said to her, "Take this child and nurse him for me, and I will pay you your wages." So the woman took the child and nursed him.

<sup>10</sup> When the child grew, she brought him to Pharaoh's daughter, and he became her son. She called his name Moses, saying, "Because I drew him out of the water."

<sup>12</sup> He looked this way and that, and when he saw that no one was around, he killed the Egyptian and hid him in the sand.

<sup>13</sup> When he went out the next day, two Hebrew men were fighting; so he asked the one in the wrong, "Why are you beating your fellow Hebrew?"

<sup>14</sup> He retorted, "Who made you a ruler and a judge over us? Do you intend to kill me, like you killed the Egyptian?" Then Moses was afraid and thought, "Surely what I did is known."

<sup>15</sup> When Pharaoh heard about this, he sought to kill Moses. But Moses fled from Pharaoh, and settled in the land of Midian, where he sat down by a well.

<sup>17</sup> But when some shepherds came and drove them away, Moses stood up and helped them and watered their flock.

<sup>18</sup> When they returned to Reuel their father, he asked, "How is it that you have come home so soon today?"

<sup>19</sup> They answered, "An Egyptian delivered us out of the hand of the shepherds, and he even drew water for us and watered the flock."

<sup>20</sup> Then he said to his daughters, "Where is he? Why did you leave the man there? Invite him so that he may eat bread."

<sup>22</sup> She bore a son, and he named him Gershom, for he said, "I have been a foreigner in a foreign land."

DASV: Exodus 3

<sup>1</sup> Now Moses was tending the flock of Jethro his father-in-law, the priest of Midian; and he led the flock to the far side of the wilderness, and came to the mountain of God, to Horeb.

<sup>2</sup> There the angel of the LORD appeared to him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush. He looked and the bush burned with fire but the bush was not consumed.

<sup>4</sup> When the LORD saw that he had turned aside to see, God called to him out of the midst of the bush, and said, "Moses, Moses." He replied, "Here I am."

<sup>5</sup> Then he said, "Do not come closer. Take your sandals off your feet, for the place where you are standing is holy ground."

<sup>6</sup> He added, "I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob." So Moses hid his face; for he was afraid to look at God.

<sup>7</sup> Then the LORD said, "I have surely seen the oppression of my people who are in Egypt, and have heard their cry because of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows.

<sup>8</sup> So I have come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians and to bring them up out of that land to a good and spacious land, to a land flowing with milk and honey; to the region of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites.

<sup>9</sup> Now, look, the cry of the children of Israel has come to me; and I have seen how the Egyptians have oppressed them.

<sup>10</sup> So come now and I will send you to Pharaoh, that you may bring my people, the Israelites, out of Egypt."

<sup>11</sup> But Moses said to God, "Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh, and bring the Israelites out of Egypt?"

<sup>12</sup> God answered, "Certainly I will be with you, and this shall be the your sign that I have sent you: when you have brought the people out of Egypt, you will worship God on this mountain."

<sup>13</sup> Then Moses objected to God, "If I come to the children of Israel and say to them, 'The God of your fathers has sent me to you,' and they ask me, 'What is his name?' What should I tell them?"

<sup>14</sup> God answered Moses, "I AM WHO I AM"; and he said, "You will say this to the Israelites, 'I AM has sent me to you'."

<sup>15</sup> God also said to Moses, "Say this to the children of Israel: 'the LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob, has sent me to you.' This is my name forever and this is my memorial for all generations.

<sup>16</sup> Now go, gather the elders of Israel together, and say to them, the LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, has appeared to me, saying, 'I have seen what has been done to you in Egypt

<sup>17</sup> and I promise that I will bring you up out of the affliction of Egypt to the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites to a land flowing with milk and honey.'

<sup>18</sup> And they will listen to your voice and you and the elders of Israel will go to the king of Egypt, and you will say to him, 'The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has met with us. So let us go now three days' journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God.'

<sup>19</sup> But I know that the king of Egypt will not give you permission to go unless compelled by a mighty hand.

<sup>20</sup> Then I will stretch out my hand and strike Egypt with all my wonders that I will do among them and after that he will let you go.

<sup>21</sup> I will give this people favor in the sight of the Egyptians, so that when you leave you will not leave empty-handed.

<sup>22</sup> Every woman should ask from her neighbor and anyone living in her house, for jewelry of silver and gold, and clothes and you shall put them on your sons and daughters. This is how you will plunder the Egyptians."

DASV: Exodus 4

<sup>1</sup> Then Moses responded, "What if they do not believe me, or listen to me; for they will say, 'the LORD has not appeared to you?'"

<sup>2</sup> The LORD asked him, "What is that in your hand?" He replied, "A staff."

<sup>3</sup> And he said, "Throw it down on the ground." So he threw it on the ground, and it became a serpent, and Moses ran away from it.

<sup>4</sup> Then the LORD told Moses, "Reach out your hand, and grab it by the tail"--so he reached out his hand, caught it, and it became a rod in his hand.

<sup>5</sup> "They will believe this sign that the LORD, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has appeared to you."

<sup>6</sup> The LORD also told him, "Put your hand into your cloak." So he put his hand into his cloak, and when he took it out, his hand was leprous, as white as snow.

<sup>7</sup> Then he said, "Put your hand into your cloak again." So Moses put his hand into his cloak again, and when he took it out of his cloak, it was restored again like the rest of his flesh.

<sup>8</sup> "If they will not believe you, or respond to the first sign, they will believe the latter sign.

<sup>9</sup> If they do not believe these two signs, or listen to you, then you will take some water from the river, and pour it on the dry ground. The water that you take out of the river will become blood on the dry ground."

<sup>10</sup> Then Moses protested to the LORD, "O, Lord, I am not eloquent, neither in the past, nor since you have spoken to your servant, but I am slow of speech, and slow of tongue."

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD asked him, "Who made man's mouth? Or who makes a person mute or deaf, or seeing, or blind? Is it not I, the LORD?"

<sup>12</sup> Now therefore go, and I will be with your mouth, and will teach you what you will say."

<sup>14</sup> And the anger of the LORD burned against Moses, and he said, "What about Aaron your brother, the Levite? I know that he can speak well. Look, he is coming out to meet you, and when he sees you, his heart will be glad.

<sup>15</sup> You will speak to him and put words in his mouth. I will be with your mouth and with his mouth and will teach you what you to do.

<sup>16</sup> He will speak to the people for you. It will be that he will be like a mouth to you, and you will be like God to him.

<sup>18</sup> So Moses went back to Jethro his father-in-law, and requested, "Let me go back to my relatives who are in Egypt, and see if they are still alive." Jethro replied to Moses, "Go in peace."

<sup>20</sup> So Moses took his wife and his sons, and set them on a donkey, and returned to the land of Egypt. Moses took the staff of God in his hand.

<sup>21</sup> The LORD said to Moses, "When you get back to Egypt, see that you perform before Pharaoh all the wonders which I have given you power to do. But I will harden his heart and he will not let the people go.

<sup>23</sup> and I have told you, 'Let my son go, that he may worship me' but since you have refused to let him go, I will kill your son, your firstborn.'"

<sup>24</sup> On the way where they spent the night, the LORD met him and was about to kill him.

<sup>25</sup> Then Zipporah took flint, and cut off the foreskin of her son, and touched his feet with it; and said, "Surely you are a bridegroom of blood to me."

<sup>26</sup> So he let him alone. At that time she said, "A bridegroom of blood", referring to the circumcision.

<sup>27</sup> Now the LORD had told Aaron, "Go into the wilderness to meet Moses." And he went, and met him at the mountain of God, and kissed him.

<sup>28</sup> Then Moses told Aaron all the words of the LORD by which he had sent him, and all the signs that he had commanded him to do.

<sup>30</sup> Aaron spoke all the words that the LORD had spoken to Moses, and performed the signs in the sight of the people.

<sup>31</sup> Then the people believed. When they heard that the LORD was concerned about Israelites, and that he had seen their plight, they bowed their heads and worshipped.

DASV: Exodus 5

<sup>1</sup> Afterward Moses and Aaron came and said to Pharaoh, "This is what the LORD says, the God of Israel, 'Let my people go, that they may celebrate a feast to me in the wilderness.'"

<sup>2</sup> But Pharaoh retorted, "Who is the LORD that I should obey his voice and let Israel go? I do not know the LORD, and besides I will not let Israel go."

<sup>3</sup> They said, "The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Let us go on a three day journey into the wilderness, so that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God, or he may strike us with pestilence or the sword."

<sup>8</sup> But require the same quota of the bricks, as they made before. Do not reduce it at all, for they are lazy. This is why they cry, 'Let us go and sacrifice to our God.'

<sup>9</sup> Make the work harder for the men so that they have to work at it and not pay attention to lying words."

<sup>10</sup> So the taskmasters and foremen of the people went out, and they spoke to the people, saying, "This is what Pharaoh says, 'I will not give you straw.

<sup>14</sup> The Israelite foremen, whom Pharaoh's taskmaster had put over the Israelites, were beaten and asked, "Why have you not met your quota of bricks both yesterday and today as before?"

<sup>16</sup> No straw is given to your servants, yet they demand from us, 'Make bricks,' and, your servants are beaten; but the fault is with your own people."

<sup>17</sup> But he snapped back, "You are lazy, you are lazy. That is why you say, 'Let us go and sacrifice to the LORD.'

<sup>18</sup> Now get back to work, for you will not be given straw, yet you must still deliver the same number of bricks."

<sup>21</sup> They groaned to them, "The LORD look on you, and judge, because you have made us a stench in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of his servants, and have put a sword in their hand to kill us."

<sup>22</sup> Then Moses returned to the LORD and complained, "O Lord, why have you made trouble for this people? Why did you ever send me?"

<sup>23</sup> For ever since I came to Pharaoh to speak in your name, he has made trouble for this people and you have done nothing at all to deliver your people."

DASV: Exodus 6

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Now you will see what I will do to Pharaoh. Forced by my strong hand, he will let them go, and because of my strong hand, he will even drive them out of his land."

<sup>2</sup> God spoke to Moses, and said to him, "I am the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> I appeared to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, as God Almighty; but by my name, LORD, I did not make myself known to them.

<sup>5</sup> Moreover, I have heard the groaning of Israelites, whom the Egyptians are enslaving, and I have remembered my covenant.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore say to the Israelites, I am the LORD, and I will bring you out from under the slavery of the Egyptians, and I will deliver you from bondage to them, and I will redeem you with an outstretched arm and with great acts of judgment.

<sup>7</sup> Then I will take you to be my people, and I will be your God, and you will know that I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from the Egyptian slavery.

<sup>8</sup> I will bring you in to the land that I swore to give to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. I will give it to you for a possession. I am the LORD."

<sup>9</sup> So Moses told this to the Israelites, but they would not listen to Moses because of their disheartened spirit and their cruel bondage.

<sup>10</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>12</sup> But Moses protested to the LORD, "If the Israelites have not listened to me, then how will Pharaoh ever listen to me, for I am such a poor speaker?"

<sup>13</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron and gave them a charge for the Israelites, and Pharaoh king of Egypt to bring the Israelites out of the land of Egypt.

The sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel, were Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi; these are the clans of Reuben.

<sup>26</sup> These are the same Aaron and Moses, to whom the LORD said, "Bring out the Israelites from the land of Egypt according to their platoons."

<sup>28</sup> Now when the LORD spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt,

<sup>29</sup> the LORD said to Moses, "I am the LORD. Tell Pharaoh king of Egypt everything that I am telling you."

<sup>30</sup> But Moses said before the LORD, "Look, I am such a poor speaker, why would Pharaoh listen to me?"

DASV: Exodus 7

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "See, I have made you like God to Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron will be your prophet.

<sup>2</sup> You will speak everything I command you, and your brother Aaron will tell Pharaoh, that he must let the Israelites leave his land.

<sup>3</sup> But I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and although I multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, <sup>4</sup> Pharaoh will not listen to you. So I will lay my hand on Egypt, and bring out my platoons, my people the Israelites, out of the land of Egypt by great acts of judgment.

<sup>5</sup> Then the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD, when I stretch out my hand against Egypt, and bring out the Israelites from among them."

<sup>9</sup> "When Pharaoh says to you, 'Perform a miracle,' then tell Aaron, 'Take your staff and throw it down in front of Pharaoh, and it will become a snake.'"

<sup>10</sup> So Moses and Aaron went in to Pharaoh, and they did as the LORD had commanded. Aaron threw down his staff in front of Pharaoh and his servants, and it became a snake.

<sup>12</sup> Each one threw down his staff and they became snakes. But Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs.

<sup>13</sup> Yet Pharaoh's heart was hardened, and he did not listen to them just as the LORD had predicted.

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Pharaoh's heart is stubborn, he refuses to let the people go.

<sup>15</sup> Go to Pharaoh in the morning, when he goes out to the water, and stand on the bank of the river to meet him. Take in your hand the staff that was turned to a snake.

<sup>16</sup> Then declare to him, 'The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has sent me to tell you, "Let my people go, that they may worship me in the wilderness. But until now you have not listened.

<sup>17</sup> 'This is what the LORD says, "By this you will know that I am the LORD." Look, I will strike with the staff that is in my hand the waters of the Nile, and they will be turned to blood.

<sup>18</sup> The fish that are in the Nile will die, and the river will stink so that the Egyptians will be unable to drink water from the Nile.'"

<sup>19</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Tell Aaron, 'Take your staff, and stretch out your hand over the waters of Egypt, over its rivers, canals, pools and over all its reservoirs, so that they may turn to blood. There will be blood throughout all the land of Egypt, even in the wooden containers and stone jars.'"

<sup>20</sup> So Moses and Aaron did just as the LORD commanded; and he lifted up the staff, and struck the waters that were in the river, in the sight of Pharaoh and his servants. All the water that was in the river turned to blood.

<sup>21</sup> The fish that were in the river died and the river began to stink, and the Egyptians were unable to drink the water and there was blood everywhere in the land of Egypt.

<sup>22</sup> But the magicians of Egypt did the same by their secret arts, so Pharaoh's heart was hardened, and he did not listen to them just as the LORD had predicted.

<sup>23</sup> Then Pharaoh turned and went into his house, and he did not take even this to heart.

DASV: Exodus 8

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh, and tell him, 'This is what the LORD says, "Let my people go, that they may worship me.

<sup>2</sup> But if you refuse to let them go, I will plague your entire country with frogs.

<sup>3</sup> The Nile river will swarm with frogs, and they will come up and go into your house, your bedroom and even on your bed, and into the house of your servants, and on your people, and into your ovens and into your kneading bowls.

<sup>4</sup> The frogs will come up on you, your people and on all your servants.'"

<sup>5</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Tell Aaron, 'Stretch out your hand with your staff over the rivers, canals and pools, and make the frogs come up on the land of Egypt.'"

<sup>7</sup> But the magicians did the same things by their secret arts and brought up frogs on the land of Egypt.

<sup>8</sup> Then Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron, and said, "Plead with the LORD that he take away the frogs from me and my people, and I will let the people go, that they may sacrifice to the LORD."

<sup>9</sup> Moses said to Pharaoh, "You have the honor to tell me: when I should pray for you, your servants and your people, that the frogs may be destroyed from you and your houses and stay only in the Nile?"

<sup>10</sup> Then he said, "Tomorrow." Moses replied, "It will be exactly as you have said, that you may know that there is none like the LORD our God.

<sup>11</sup> The frogs will leave you, your houses, your servants and your people. They will stay only in the Nile."

<sup>15</sup> But when Pharaoh saw that there was relief, he hardened his heart and would not listen to them, just as the LORD had predicted.

<sup>16</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Tell Aaron, 'Stretch out your staff and strike the dust of the ground, so that it may become gnats throughout the land of Egypt.'"

<sup>17</sup> So they did it. Aaron stretched out his hand with his staff, and struck the dust of the ground, and there were gnats on both man and animals. All the dust of the ground became gnats throughout all the land of Egypt.

<sup>18</sup> The magicians tried with their secret arts to produce gnats, but they could not. So there were gnats on both man and animals.

<sup>19</sup> Then the magicians said to Pharaoh, "This is the finger of God." But Pharaoh's heart was hardened, and he would not listen to them; just as the LORD had predicted.

<sup>20</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Get up early in the morning and stand before Pharaoh as he comes to the water, and tell him, 'This is what the LORD says, "Let my people go, that they may worship me.

<sup>21</sup> If you refuse to let my people go, I will send swarms of flies on you, your servants, your people and into your houses. The houses of the Egyptians will be full of swarms of flies, and the ground will be covered with them.

<sup>22</sup> But on that day I will set apart the land of Goshen, where my people live, so that no swarms of flies will be there, so that you may know that I am the LORD in the midst of this land.

<sup>23</sup> So I will put a division between my people and your people. This sign will happen tomorrow."

<sup>24</sup> So the LORD did it; and there came great swarms of flies into the house of Pharaoh, and into his servants' houses. The whole land of Egypt was ruined by the swarms of flies.

<sup>26</sup> But Moses said, "It would not be right to do so. For the sacrifices we offer to the LORD our God would be an abomination of the Egyptians. If we offer sacrifices that are an abomination to the Egyptians right before their eyes, will they not stone us?"

<sup>27</sup> We must go three days' journey into the wilderness and sacrifice to the LORD our God, just as he commands us."

<sup>28</sup> Then Pharaoh said, "I will let you go, that you may sacrifice to the LORD your God in the wilderness. Only you must not go very far away. Pray for me."

<sup>29</sup> Moses answered, "As soon as I leave you, I will pray to the LORD that tomorrow the swarms of flies will leave Pharaoh, his servants and his people. Only do not let Pharaoh act deceitfully any more in not letting the people go to sacrifice to the LORD."

<sup>31</sup> The LORD did as Moses asked and he removed the swarms of flies from Pharaoh, his servants and his people. Not one remained.

<sup>32</sup> But Pharaoh hardened his heart this time also and he would not let the people go.

DASV: Exodus 9

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh and tell him, 'This is what the LORD says, the God of the Hebrews, "Let my people go, that they may worship me.

<sup>2</sup> For if you refuse to let them go, and continue to hold them,

<sup>4</sup> But the LORD will make a distinction between the livestock of Israel and the livestock of Egypt; and nothing that belongs to the Israelites will die.'"

<sup>5</sup> Then the LORD set a time, saying, "Tomorrow the LORD will do this in the land."

<sup>6</sup> The LORD did this on the next day; and all the livestock of Egypt died; but from the Israelite livestock not one died.

<sup>7</sup> Then Pharaoh sent and found out that not even one of the livestock of the Israelites died. But the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

<sup>8</sup> So the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "Take handfuls of soot from a furnace, and let Moses throw it into the air in the sight of Pharaoh.

<sup>9</sup> It will become fine dust over all the land of Egypt, and will cause boils to break out on both man and animals throughout all the land of Egypt."

<sup>11</sup> The magicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils, for the boils had broken out on the magicians as well as on all the Egyptians.

<sup>12</sup> But the LORD hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he would not listen to them, just as the LORD had predicted to Moses.

<sup>13</sup> Now the LORD said to Moses, "Get up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh, and say to him, 'This is what the LORD says, the God of the Hebrews, "Let my people go, that they may worship me.

<sup>14</sup> For I will this time send all my plagues on you yourself, your servants and your people, so that you may know that there is none like me in all the earth.

<sup>15</sup> For by now I could have stretched out my hand and struck you and your people with pestilence, and destroyed you from off the earth.

<sup>16</sup> But for this reason I have raised you up, to show you my power and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth.

<sup>17</sup> But are you still exalting yourself against my people and will not let them go?

<sup>18</sup> Take note, tomorrow, about this time, I will cause a very severe hailstorm, like has never been in Egypt since the day it was founded until now.

<sup>19</sup> So quickly send your livestock and all that you have in the field into a safe place. For every man and animal that is left in the field and not brought home, the hail will come down on them and they will die."

<sup>22</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward the sky, that there may be hail in all the land of Egypt, on man and animal, and on every plant of the field, throughout the land of Egypt.

<sup>23</sup> So Moses stretched out his staff toward the sky, and the LORD sent thunder and hail, and lightening fell on the earth. So the LORD rained hail upon the land of Egypt.

<sup>24</sup> So there was hail and lightning flashing with it. It was so severe that there had never been anything like it in all the land of Egypt since it became a nation.

<sup>25</sup> The hail struck down everything in the field in the land of Egypt, both man and animal. The hail also struck every plant of the field and even shattered every tree of the field.

<sup>26</sup> Only in the land of Goshen, where the Israelites were, there was no hail.

<sup>27</sup> Then Pharaoh sent and summoned Moses and Aaron, and said to them, "I have sinned this time. The LORD is righteous and I and my people are wrong.

<sup>28</sup> Plead with the LORD, for there has been enough of these mighty thunderings and hail; and I will let you go. You need stay no longer."

<sup>29</sup> Then Moses said to him, "As soon as I am gone out of the city, I will spread my hands out to the LORD, the thunder will cease, and there will be no more hail, so that you may know that the earth is the LORD's.

<sup>30</sup> But as for you and your servants, I know that you still do not fear the LORD God."

<sup>31</sup> Now the flax and the barley were destroyed, for the barley had formed ears, and the flax was in bloom.

<sup>32</sup> But the wheat and emmer were not destroyed because they grow later.

<sup>34</sup> When Pharaoh saw that the rain, hail and thunder had ceased, he and his servants sinned once again and hardened his heart.

<sup>35</sup> So the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the Israelites go, just as the LORD had predicted through Moses.

DASV: Exodus 10

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh, for I have hardened his heart and the heart of his servants, that I may show these my signs among them.

<sup>2</sup> So that you may tell in the hearing of your son, and your grandson how I have made a mockery of the Egyptians and about my signs that I have performed among them, so that you may know that I am the LORD."

<sup>3</sup> So Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh, and said to him, "'This is what the LORD says, the God of the Hebrews, 'How long will you refuse to humble yourself before me? Let my people go that they may worship me.

<sup>4</sup> If you refuse to let my people go, tomorrow will I bring locusts on your country.

<sup>5</sup> They will cover the surface of the ground so that no one will be able to see the ground. They will eat the little you have left from the hail and they will consume every tree that grows for you in the field.

<sup>6</sup> Your houses will be filled, and the houses of all your servants, as well as the houses of all the Egyptians. It will be something that even your fathers and your grandfathers have never seen, since the day that they were on the earth to this day.'" After that he turned and left Pharaoh.

<sup>7</sup> Then Pharaoh's servants said to him, "How long will this man have us trapped? Let the men go, that they may worship the LORD their God. Do you not realize that Egypt is destroyed?"

<sup>8</sup> So Moses and Aaron were brought back to Pharaoh. Then he said to them, "Go, worship the LORD your God, but who exactly is going with you?"

<sup>9</sup> Then Moses replied, "We will go with our young and old; with our sons and daughters, with our flocks and herds; for we must hold a feast to the LORD."

<sup>10</sup> He said to them, "The LORD be with you if I let you and your children go. Certainly you have some evil intent in mind.

<sup>11</sup> No! Only your men may go and worship the LORD, for that is what you asked for." Then they were driven out from Pharaoh's presence.

<sup>12</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the land of Egypt for the locusts, that they may come up on the land of Egypt and eat every plant of the land, all that was left over from the hail."

<sup>13</sup> So Moses stretched out his staff over the land of Egypt, and the LORD brought an east wind on the land all that day and night. When the morning dawned, the east wind brought the locusts.

<sup>14</sup> The locusts went up over all the land of Egypt, and settled all over the country of Egypt. It was so severe that never before were there such locusts or will there be ever again.

<sup>15</sup> They totally covered the surface of the ground, so that the land was darkened by them. They devoured every plant of the land and all the fruit of the trees that the hail had left. Nothing green remained on any tree or plant of the field, throughout all the land of Egypt.

<sup>16</sup> Then Pharaoh quickly summoned Moses and Aaron and he said, "I have sinned against the LORD your God and against you.

<sup>17</sup> Now therefore, please forgive my sin just this once and pray to the LORD your God, that at least he would take away this death from me."

<sup>19</sup> Then the LORD turned a very strong west wind, which blew the locusts driving them into the Red Sea. Not even one locust remained in all the country of Egypt.

<sup>20</sup> But the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart and he did not let the Israelites go.

<sup>21</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward the sky, that there may be darkness over the land of Egypt, a darkness so thick it may be felt."

<sup>22</sup> So Moses stretched out his hand toward the sky and there was absolute darkness in all the land of Egypt for three days.

<sup>23</sup> No one could see anyone else, for three days no one moved from their place. But all the Israelites had light where they lived.

<sup>24</sup> Then Pharaoh summoned Moses, and said, "Go, worship the LORD. Just leave your flocks and your herds here. Even your children may go with you."

<sup>25</sup> Then Moses said, "You must also let us have sacrifices and burnt offerings, that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God.

<sup>26</sup> Our cattle also will go with us; not a hoof will be left behind. For we must take them to worship the LORD our God; for we do not know what will be needed to worship the LORD, until we get there."

<sup>28</sup> Then Pharaoh said to him, "Get away from me. Watch yourself that you never see my face again; for in the day you see my face you will die."

<sup>29</sup> Moses said, "As you wish, I will never see your face again."

DASV: Exodus 11

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "I will bring one more plague on Pharaoh and on Egypt; after that he will let you go. When he lets you go, he will completely drive you out of here.

<sup>2</sup> Tell the people, that each man should ask his neighbor and each woman her neighbor for items of silver and gold."

<sup>4</sup> So Moses announced, "'This is what the LORD says, 'About midnight I will go throughout Egypt, <sup>5</sup> and all the firstborn in the land of Egypt will die, from the firstborn of Pharaoh who sits on his throne, to the firstborn of the slave girl who is behind the hand mill including all the firstborn of the livestock.

<sup>6</sup> Then there will be a loud cry throughout all the land of Egypt, such as has never been, nor will ever be again.

<sup>7</sup> But not even a dog will growl at any of the Israelites, at either man or animal.' Then you will know that the LORD makes a distinction between Egypt and Israel.

<sup>8</sup> All your servants will come to me, and bow down before me, saying, 'Get out, along with all the people who follow you.' After that I will leave." Then he left Pharaoh hot with anger.

<sup>9</sup> The LORD said to Moses, "Pharaoh will not listen to you; so that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Egypt."

<sup>10</sup> So Moses and Aaron did all these wonders before Pharaoh, but the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he would not let the Israelites go out of his land.

DASV: Exodus 12

<sup>2</sup> "This month will be your beginning of months. It shall be the first month of the year for you.

<sup>3</sup> Tell the whole community of Israel, 'In the tenth day of this month every man shall take a lamb according to their father's house, a lamb for each household.

<sup>4</sup> If the household is too small for a lamb, then he and his next-door neighbor will take one according to the number of the people, the lamb is to be divided according to what each one can eat.

<sup>6</sup> Keep it until the fourteenth day of this month, then the whole assembled community of Israel will kill it at sundown.

<sup>7</sup> Then they are to take some of the blood and put it on the two doorposts and on the lintel of the houses where they will eat it.

<sup>12</sup> For on that night I will pass through the land of Egypt and will strike down all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both man and animal; and I will execute judgment on all the gods of Egypt. I am the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> The blood will be a sign for you on the houses where you are. Then when I see the blood, I will pass over you, and there will be no plague on you to destroy you when I strike the land of Egypt.

<sup>14</sup> This day will become a day of remembrance for you, and you will keep it as a feast to the LORD throughout your generations, keep it as a permanent ordinance.

<sup>15</sup> For seven days you are to eat unleavened bread. On the first day remove yeast from your houses, for whoever eats leavened bread from the first day until the seventh day, that person must be cut off from Israel.

<sup>16</sup> On the first day there shall be a holy assembly and on the seventh day another holy assembly. No type of work is to be done on these days except that which each person eats, that alone may you prepare.

<sup>17</sup> You shall celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread; for on this very day I brought your platoons out of the land of Egypt. Therefore celebrate this day throughout your generations as a permanent ordinance.

<sup>18</sup> In the first month, from the evening of fourteenth day of the month, until the evening of the twenty-first day of the month, eat unleavened bread.

<sup>19</sup> For seven days there must be no yeast found in your houses. For whoever eats anything leavened, that person must be cut off from the community of Israel, whether he is a foreigner or one who is born in the land.

<sup>20</sup> You must eat nothing leavened; wherever you live you are to eat unleavened bread."

<sup>21</sup> Then Moses called for all the elders of Israel, and said to them, "Go, and select lambs for yourselves according to your families, and kill the Passover lamb.

<sup>22</sup> Take a bunch of hyssop and dip it in the blood that is in the basin, and brush it on the lintel and the two doorposts from the blood that is in the basin. None of you shall go out the door of his house until the morning.

<sup>23</sup> For the LORD will pass through to strike the Egyptians; but when he sees the blood on the lintel and the two doorposts, the LORD will pass over the door, and will not suffer the destroyer to come in to your houses to strike you.

<sup>25</sup> When you enter the land that the LORD will give you, just as he promised, observe this ceremony.

<sup>27</sup> answer, 'It is the Passover sacrifice to the LORD, for he passed over the houses of the Israelites in Egypt, when he struck the Egyptians, but spared our houses.'" And the people bowed their heads and worshipped.

<sup>28</sup> So the Israelites went and did just as the LORD commanded Moses and Aaron.

<sup>29</sup> At midnight, the LORD struck all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharaoh, who sat on his throne, to the firstborn of the prisoner who was in the dungeon and all the firstborn of the livestock.

<sup>30</sup> Then Pharaoh got up in the night, he, all his servants and all the Egyptians, and there was a great cry in Egypt, for there was not a house in which there was not someone dead.

<sup>31</sup> During the night he summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "Get up, get out from among my people, both you and the Israelites and go, worship the LORD, as you have requested.

<sup>32</sup> Take your flocks and your herds also, just as you have demanded, and leave. But bless me too."

<sup>36</sup> The LORD gave the people favor in the sight of the Egyptians, so that they let them have what they asked for. So they plundered the Egyptians.

<sup>37</sup> Then Israelites journeyed from Rameses to Succoth. There were about 600,000 men on foot, besides women and children.

<sup>38</sup> A mixed multitude also went up with them along with a large number of livestock, both flocks and herds.

<sup>39</sup> They baked unleavened cakes from the dough that they brought out of Egypt; for it was not leavened, because they were driven out of Egypt and could not wait, nor had they prepared any provisions for themselves.

<sup>42</sup> It is the night the LORD kept his promise bringing them out of the land of Egypt. This is that night of the LORD. It is to be observed by all the Israelites throughout their generations.

<sup>43</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "This is the ordinance of the Passover. No foreigner shall eat it.

<sup>44</sup> But every one's servant who has been bought for money, after you have circumcised him may eat it.

<sup>48</sup> If a foreigner lives with you and celebrates the Passover to the LORD, all his males must be circumcised, and then he may come near and celebrate it and he will be as one that is born in the land, but no uncircumcised person shall eat it.

<sup>49</sup> The same law will apply to the one who is native-born and to the foreigner who lives among you."

<sup>51</sup> On that same day, the LORD brought the Israelites out of the land of Egypt by their platoons.

DASV: Exodus 13

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses,

<sup>2</sup> "Dedicate to me all the firstborn; whatever is first to open the womb among the Israelites, both man and animal, is mine."

<sup>3</sup> Moses said to the people, "Remember this day you came out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. For the mighty hand of the LORD brought you out of this place. No leavened bread may be eaten.

<sup>5</sup> When the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Hivites and Jebusites, which he swore to your forefathers to give you, a land flowing with milk and honey, then you are to observe this ceremony in this month.

<sup>6</sup> Seven days you must eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day there will be a feast to the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> Eat unleavened bread for seven days. No leavened bread should be seen with you, nor shall there be any yeast seen with you in all your borders.

<sup>8</sup> On that day you will tell your son, 'It is because of what the LORD did for me when I came out of Egypt.'

<sup>9</sup> It will serve as a sign to you on your hand and as a reminder on your forehead, so that the law of the LORD may be in your mouth, for with a mighty hand the LORD brought you out of Egypt.

<sup>10</sup> So you must keep this ordinance at its appointed time from year to year.

<sup>11</sup> Now when the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanites, as he swore to you and your forefathers, when he gives it to you, <sup>12</sup> then you must set apart to the LORD the first offspring that opens the womb and every firstborn male of the livestock will be the LORD's.

<sup>13</sup> Every firstborn donkey you are to redeem with a lamb; and if you do not redeem it, then you must break its neck. Every firstborn male you must redeem.

<sup>14</sup> In the future when your son asks you, 'What does this mean?' Then you will answer him, 'By a mighty hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt, from the house of slavery.'

<sup>15</sup> When Pharaoh stubbornly refused to let us go, the LORD killed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both the firstborn of man and animal. That is why I am sacrificing to the LORD every male that opens the womb and redeem all my firstborn sons.'

<sup>16</sup> It will be for a sign on your hand, and a symbol on your forehead for by a mighty hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt."

<sup>17</sup> When Pharaoh had let the people go, God did not lead them by the way of the land of the Philistines, although that was closer; for God said, "If the people face war they will change their minds and return to Egypt."

<sup>18</sup> So God led the people around by the way of the wilderness to the Red Sea and the Israelites went up out of the land of Egypt ready for battle.

<sup>19</sup> Then Moses took the bones of Joseph with him, for Joseph made the Israelites swear, "God will surely visit you and you must carry up my bones with you out of here."

<sup>21</sup> By day the LORD went before them in a pillar of cloud to lead them in the way, and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light so they could travel by day and by night.

DASV: Exodus 14

<sup>2</sup> "Tell the Israelites, to turn back and camp by Pi-hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea, camp opposite Baal-zephon by the sea.

<sup>3</sup> For Pharaoh will think 'The Israelites are wandering around in the land, the wilderness has closed in on them.'

<sup>4</sup> Then I will harden Pharaoh's heart and he will chase after them. But I will get honor through Pharaoh and all his army; then the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD." So that is what they did.

<sup>5</sup> When the king of Egypt was told that the people had fled; Pharaoh and his servants changed their minds toward the people, and they said, "What have we done, letting Israel go from serving us?"

<sup>7</sup> He took six hundred specially selected chariots, along with all the rest of the chariots of Egypt with officers over all of them.

<sup>8</sup> Then the LORD hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he chased after the Israelites for the Israelites went out defiantly.

<sup>9</sup> Then the Egyptians chased after them, all the horses and chariots of Pharaoh and his horsemen as well as his army and overtook them camping by the sea, by Pi-hahiroth across from Baal-zephon.

<sup>10</sup> As Pharaoh drew near, the Israelites looked up and there were the Egyptians marching after them. They were terrified. So the Israelites cried out to the LORD.

<sup>11</sup> Then they accused Moses, "Did you bring us out here to die in the wilderness because there were no graves in Egypt? What have you done to us bringing us out of Egypt?"

<sup>12</sup> Is this not what we told you would happen in Egypt, saying, 'Leave us alone so we may serve the Egyptians? For it was better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in the wilderness.'"

<sup>13</sup> But Moses replied to the people, "Do not be afraid, stand firm and see the salvation of the LORD that he will accomplish for you today; for the Egyptians you see today, you will never see again.

<sup>14</sup> The LORD will fight for you, you have only to be still."

<sup>15</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Why are you crying out to me? Tell the Israelites to move forward.

<sup>16</sup> Then lift up your staff and stretch out your hand over the sea, and divide it so that the Israelites may go through the sea on dry ground.

<sup>17</sup> I will harden the hearts of the Egyptians and they will go after them then I will get glory through Pharaoh, all his army, his chariots and horsemen.

<sup>18</sup> Then the Egyptians shall know that I am the LORD when I have gotten glory through Pharaoh, his chariots and horsemen."

<sup>19</sup> Then the angel of God, who was leading before the army of Israel, moved and went behind them. The pillar of cloud moved from in front of them and stood behind them.

<sup>20</sup> It came between the camp of Egypt and the camp of Israel. There was the cloud and the darkness, yet it lit up the night so that one could not come near the other all night.

<sup>21</sup> Then Moses stretched out his hand over the sea and the LORD drove the sea back by a strong east wind all night, and made the sea into dry land and the waters were divided.

<sup>26</sup> Then the LORD told Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the sea, so that the waters may surge back over the Egyptians, their chariots and their horsemen."

<sup>27</sup> So Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the sea returned to its normal depth at sunrise and the Egyptians fled before it. So the LORD overthrew the Egyptians in the midst of the sea.

<sup>31</sup> When Israel saw the great power which the LORD displayed over the Egyptians, the people feared the LORD, and they believed in the LORD and in his servant Moses.

DASV: Exodus 15

- <sup>1</sup> Then Moses and the Israelites sang this song to the LORD,
"I will sing to the LORD, for he has triumphed gloriously;
the horse and his rider he has thrown into the sea.
- <sup>2</sup> The LORD is my strength and song, and he has become my salvation.
This One is my God, and I will praise him;
my father's God, and I will exalt him.
- <sup>3</sup> The LORD is a warrior;
the LORD is his name.
- <sup>4</sup> Pharaoh's chariots and his army he has cast into the sea, and his chosen officers are drowned in the Red Sea.
- <sup>5</sup> The deep waters covered them.
They dropped down into the depths like a stone.
- <sup>6</sup> Your right hand, O LORD, is glorious in power,
Your right hand, O LORD, shattered the enemy.
- <sup>7</sup> In the greatness of your majesty you overthrew those who rose up against you.
You unleashed your wrath,
it consumed them like stubble.
- <sup>8</sup> By the blast of your nostrils the waters piled up,
the floods stood upright as a heap;
the deep waters hardened in the heart of the sea.
- <sup>9</sup> The enemy said, 'I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil.
My desire will devour them;
I will draw my sword,
my hand shall destroy them.'
- <sup>10</sup> You blew with your breath, the sea covered them.
They sank like lead in the mighty waters.
- <sup>11</sup> Who is like you, O LORD, among the gods?
Who is like you, glorious in holiness, awesome in splendor, doing wonders?
- <sup>12</sup> You stretched out your right hand,
The earth swallowed them.
- <sup>13</sup> In your steadfast love you led the people whom you have redeemed.
You guided them by your strength to your holy dwelling.
- <sup>14</sup> The nations have heard, they tremble;
anguish has seized the inhabitants of Philistia.
- <sup>15</sup> The chiefs of Edom were dismayed;
The mighty men of Moab, trembling has seized them.
All the inhabitants of Canaan melted away.
- <sup>16</sup> Terror and dread has fallen on them;

By the greatness of your arm they are as still as a stone;
Till your people pass over, O LORD,
Till the people pass by whom you have purchased.

<sup>17</sup> You will bring them in and plant them in the mountain of your inheritance, the place, O LORD, where you have made for your dwelling, the sanctuary, O Lord, that your hands have established.

and the LORD brought the waters of the sea back on them;
but the Israelites walked on dry land through the middle of the sea.

and all the women went out after her with tambourines and dancing.

"Sing to the LORD, for he has triumphed gloriously;
the horse and his rider he has thrown into the sea."

<sup>22</sup> Then Moses led Israel away from the Red Sea, and they went out to the wilderness of Shur. They went three days into the wilderness and found no water.

<sup>23</sup> When they came to Marah, they could not drink of the waters of Marah, because they were bitter, that is why its name was called Marah.

<sup>24</sup> So the people grumbled against Moses, saying, "What can we drink?"

<sup>25</sup> So Moses cried to the LORD, and the LORD showed him a tree. Then he threw it into the water, and the water turned sweet. There he made a statute and an ordinance for them, and there he tested them.

<sup>26</sup> He said, "If you will listen carefully to the voice of the LORD your God, and will do what is right in his eyes, and will give ear to his commandments and keep all his statutes, then I will bring none of the diseases on you which I have brought upon the Egyptians; for I am the LORD who heals you."

<sup>27</sup> Then they came to Elim where there were twelve springs of water and 70 palm trees and they camped there by the water.

DASV: Exodus 16

<sup>1</sup> Then they set out from Elim and the whole Israelite community came to the wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their leaving the land of Egypt.

<sup>3</sup> The Israelites said to them, "If only we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the pots of meat, when we ate bread till we were full, for you have brought us out into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger."

<sup>4</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Look, I will rain down bread from heaven for you; and the people will go out and gather a day's portion every day. So I will test them whether they will walk in my law or not.

<sup>5</sup> On the sixth day they should prepare what they bring in and it will be twice as much as they gather on normal days."

<sup>6</sup> Then Moses and Aaron said to all the Israelites, "At evening you will know that the LORD has brought you out of the land of Egypt.

<sup>7</sup> In the morning you will see the glory of the LORD; for he has heard your grumblings against the LORD and who are we that you should complain against us?"

<sup>8</sup> Then Moses said, "You will understand this when the LORD provides you meat to eat in the evening and in the morning your fill of bread, for the LORD has heard your grumblings that you grumbled against him. Who are we? Your complaints are not against us, but against the LORD."

<sup>9</sup> Moses said to Aaron, "Tell all the Israelite community, 'Come near before the LORD; for he has heard your complaining.'"

<sup>10</sup> As Aaron spoke to the whole Israelite community, they looked toward the wilderness, where the glory of the LORD appeared in the cloud."

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>12</sup> "I have heard the grumbling of the Israelites, tell them, 'At twilight you will eat meat, and in the morning you will be filled with bread then you will know that I am the LORD your God.'"

<sup>13</sup> That evening quails came and covered the camp, and in the morning the dew covered the camp.

<sup>14</sup> When the dew had evaporated there on the wilderness ground was a fine flaky substance like a thin frost on the ground.

<sup>15</sup> When the Israelites saw it, they said to each other, "What is it?" For they did not know what it was. Then Moses said to them, "It is the bread which the LORD has given you to eat."

<sup>16</sup> This is what the LORD has commanded, "Each one of you is to gather as much as he needs. Two quarts per person according to the number that are in his tent."

<sup>19</sup> Then Moses said to them, "Let no one leave any of it until the morning."

<sup>20</sup> But they did not listen to Moses and some of them left part of it until the morning, and it bred worms and began to stink. So Moses became angry with them.

<sup>21</sup> They gathered it morning by morning, every one according to what he wanted to eat and when the sun warmed up, it melted.

<sup>22</sup> On the sixth day they gathered twice as much food, four quarts for each one, and all the community leaders came and told this to Moses.

<sup>23</sup> Then he said to them, "This is what the LORD commanded, 'Tomorrow is a day of solemn rest, a holy Sabbath to the LORD. Bake what you want to bake and boil what you want to boil today and anything that remains left over put aside for yourself until the morning.'"

<sup>24</sup> So they set it aside until the morning, as Moses ordered, and it did not stink, nor were there any worms in it.

<sup>25</sup> Then Moses said, "Eat it today; for today is a Sabbath to the LORD. Today you will not find it in the field.

<sup>26</sup> Six days you will gather it, but on the seventh day, which is the Sabbath, there will be none."

<sup>27</sup> On the seventh day, some people went out to gather it, and found none.

<sup>28</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "How long will you refuse keep my commandments and my instructions?"

<sup>29</sup> See, the LORD has given you the Sabbath. That is why he gives you the food for two days on the sixth day. Each of you should remain in his place, let no one go out of his place on the seventh day."

<sup>30</sup> So the people rested on the seventh day.

<sup>31</sup> The house of Israel called its name "manna." It was like coriander seed, white, and it tasted like wafers of honey.

<sup>32</sup> Then Moses said, "This is the thing the LORD has commanded, 'Let a two-quart pot of it be kept for coming generations, that they may see the food with which I fed you in the wilderness, when I brought you out of the land of Egypt.

<sup>33</sup> Then Moses said to Aaron, "Take a pot and put two quarts of manna in it, and lay it up before the LORD, to be kept for future generations.

<sup>34</sup> As the LORD commanded Moses, so Aaron put it before the Testimony, to be preserved.

<sup>35</sup> So the Israelites ate manna forty years, until they came to a habitable land. They ate the manna until they came to the border of the land of Canaan.

<sup>36</sup> Now the two quarts, an omer, was about a tenth of an ephah."

DASV: Exodus 17

<sup>1</sup> Now the whole Israelite community journeyed from the wilderness of Sin, moving from place to place according to the instruction of the LORD. They camped in Rephidim but there was no water for the people to drink.

<sup>2</sup> So the people quarreled with Moses and demanded, "Give us water to drink." Moses responded to them, "Why do you quarrel with me? Why do you test the LORD?"

<sup>3</sup> But the people were thirsty for water, so the people murmured against Moses and said, "Why did you bring us up out of Egypt to kill us, our children and our cattle with thirst?"

<sup>4</sup> Then Moses cried to the LORD, "What shall I do with this people? They are just about ready to stone me."

<sup>5</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go ahead of the people and take with you some of the elders of Israel along with your staff in your hand, with which you struck the Nile, and go.

<sup>6</sup> Look, I will stand before you there on the rock in Horeb and you will strike the rock, and water will come out of it, so that the people may drink." Then Moses did it in the sight of the elders of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> So he called the name of the place Massah (test), and Meribah (arguing), because there the Israelites quarreled and tested the LORD, saying, "Is the LORD among us, or not?"

<sup>9</sup> So Moses said to Joshua, "Choose some men to go out and fight with Amalek. Tomorrow I will stand on the top of the hill with the staff of God in my hand."

<sup>12</sup> But Moses' hands became heavy so they took a stone and propped it up under him for him to sit on. Then Aaron and Hur held up his hands one on the one side and the other on the other side. So his hands were steady until the sun went down.

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Write this down on a scroll as a reminder and recite it in the ears of Joshua: 'I will utterly blot out the remembrance of Amalek from under heaven.'"

<sup>15</sup> Moses built an altar and called the name of it Yahweh-nissi (the LORD is my banner);

<sup>16</sup> for he said, "A hand was lifted up to the throne of the LORD because the LORD will make war with Amalek from generation to generation."

DASV: Exodus 18

<sup>1</sup> Now Jethro, the priest of Midian, Moses' father-in-law, heard of all that God had done for Moses, and for Israel his people, and how that the LORD had brought Israel out of Egypt.

<sup>3</sup> along with her two sons. The name of the one was Gershom, for he said, "I have been a foreigner in a foreign land."

<sup>4</sup> The name of the other was Eliezer, for he said, "The God of my father was my help and delivered me from the sword of Pharaoh."

<sup>6</sup> He sent word to Moses, "I, your father-in-law Jethro, am coming to you, with your wife and her two sons."

<sup>7</sup> Then Moses went out to meet his father-in-law, and bowed down and kissed him. They asked about each other's welfare then they entered into the tent.

<sup>8</sup> Moses told his father-in-law all that the LORD had done to Pharaoh and the Egyptians for Israel's sake; all the hardships that had happened along the way and how the LORD had delivered them.

<sup>10</sup> Then Jethro said, "Blessed be the LORD, who has delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of Pharaoh; who has delivered the people from under the hand of the Egyptians.

<sup>11</sup> Now I know that the LORD is greater than all gods; because he rescued the people from Egyptians who had so arrogantly oppressed them."

<sup>12</sup> Then Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, brought a burnt offering and sacrifices for God. Aaron and all the elders of Israel came to eat bread with Moses' father-in-law in God's presence.

<sup>13</sup> The next day, Moses sat to judge the people while the people stood around Moses from morning until evening.

<sup>14</sup> When Moses' father-in-law saw all that he did for the people, he asked, "What is this that you are doing for the people? Why do you sit judging by yourself alone and all the people stand around you from morning until evening?"

<sup>15</sup> Moses answered his father-in-law, "Because the people come to me to inquire of God.

<sup>16</sup> When they have a dispute, they come to me and I decide between a man and his neighbor. I inform them of the decrees of God and his laws."

<sup>18</sup> You will surely wear yourself out, both you and these people who are with you. For this thing is too heavy for you. You are not able to do all by yourself.

<sup>19</sup> Now listen to me, I will give you advice and may God be with you. You should represent the people to God, and bring their cases to God.

<sup>20</sup> Teach them the decrees and the laws, and show them the way they should go and the work they should do.

<sup>21</sup> But choose out of all the people, capable men, who fear God, honest men who hate dishonest gain. Put them over the people as rulers of thousands, hundreds, fifties and tens.

<sup>22</sup> Let them judge the people at all times. But every difficult case they may bring to you, but every minor matter they can judge by themselves. So it will be easier for you and they will help share the load with you.

<sup>23</sup> If you do this, and God commands you so, then you will be able to endure, and all these people also will be able to go home satisfied."

<sup>24</sup> So Moses listened to the advice of his father-in-law and did all that he had said.

<sup>27</sup> Then Moses sent his father-in-law on his way and he returned to his own land.

DASV: Exodus 19

<sup>1</sup> In the third month after the Israelites had gone out of the land of Egypt, on that very day they came to the wilderness of Sinai.

<sup>3</sup> Then Moses went up to God, and the LORD called to him from the mountain, "This is what you will say to the house of Jacob and tell the Israelites:

<sup>4</sup> 'You have seen what I did to the Egyptians and how I carried you on eagles' wings and brought you to myself.

<sup>5</sup> Now therefore, if you will obey my voice and keep my covenant then you will be my special possession from among all peoples. For although all the earth is mine,

<sup>6</sup> you will be for me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation.' These are the words you will speak to the Israelites."

<sup>7</sup> So Moses came and summoned the elders of the people and presented all these words that the LORD had commanded him.

<sup>8</sup> All the people answered together, "All that the LORD has commanded, we will do." So Moses reported the words of the people back to the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "I am coming to you in a thick cloud, so that the people may hear when I speak with you and believe you forever." Then Moses told the words of the people to the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to the people, and consecrate them today and tomorrow and have them wash their clothes, <sup>11</sup> and be ready for the third day, for on the third day the LORD will come down on Mount Sinai in the sight of all the people.

<sup>12</sup> You must set boundaries for the people all around it, saying, "Be careful not to go up onto the mountain or touch its border. Whoever touches the mountain will be put to death."

<sup>13</sup> No hand will touch him, but he shall be stoned or shot through with arrows whether it is an animal or a human being. He shall not live. But only when the trumpet sounds a long blast may they go up on the mountain."

<sup>14</sup> So Moses went down from the mountain to the people and consecrated the people; and they washed their clothes.

<sup>15</sup> Then he said to the people, "Be ready for the third day. Do not have sexual relations with your wives."

<sup>16</sup> On the third day in the morning, there were thunder and lightning and a thick cloud on the mountain. There was a loud trumpet blast and all the people that were in the camp trembled.

<sup>17</sup> Then Moses brought the people out of the camp to meet God and they stood at the foot of the mountain.

<sup>18</sup> Now Mount Sinai was totally covered with smoke, because the LORD descended on it in fire, and its smoke went up like the smoke of a furnace and the whole mountain shook violently.

<sup>19</sup> When the sound of the trumpet grew louder and louder, Moses spoke, and God answered him with thunder.

<sup>20</sup> The LORD came down on Mount Sinai, on the top of the mountain. The LORD called Moses to the top of the mountain and Moses went up.

<sup>21</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go back down, warn the people, so they do not break through to see the LORD or many of them will perish.

<sup>22</sup> Let even the priests who come near to the LORD, consecrate themselves so that the LORD does not break out on them."

<sup>23</sup> Moses said to the LORD, "The people cannot come up to Mount Sinai for you warned us, saying, 'Set boundaries around the mountain and consecrate it.'"

<sup>24</sup> The LORD replied, "Go down and when you come up bring Aaron with you, but do not let the priests or the people break through to come up to the LORD so he will not break out against them."

<sup>25</sup> So Moses went down to the people and told them.

<sup>2</sup> "I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

<sup>4</sup> You shall not make for yourselves a graven image, nor any likeness of anything that is in heaven above or that is in the earth beneath or that is in the water under the earth.

<sup>5</sup> You shall not bow down to them or serve them, for I, the LORD your God am a jealous God, punishing the children for the sin of the fathers to the third and the fourth generation of those who hate me, <sup>6</sup> and showing steadfast love to a thousand generations of those who love me and keep my commandments.

<sup>10</sup> but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God. On it you shall not do any work, you, or your son, or your daughter, or your male servant, or your female servant, or your livestock, or the resident foreigner who is within your gates.

<sup>11</sup> For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea and all that is in them, but he rested on the seventh day. Therefore the LORD blessed the Sabbath day and set it apart as holy.

<sup>12</sup> Honor your father and mother that your days may be long in the land the LORD your God gives you.

<sup>17</sup> You shall not covet your neighbor's house, you shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his male servant, or his female servant, or his ox, or his donkey, or anything that is your neighbor's."

<sup>18</sup> Then all the people observed the thunderings and lightnings, and the sound of the ram's horn, and the mountain smoking; and when the people saw it, they trembled and stood at a distance.

<sup>19</sup> So they said to Moses, "You speak to us, and we will listen, but do not let God speak with us or we will die."

<sup>20</sup> Moses said to the people, "Do not be afraid, for God has come to prove you, that his fear may be upon you so that you do not sin."

<sup>21</sup> But the people stood at a distance and Moses drew near to the thick darkness where God was.

<sup>22</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Tell this to the Israelites, 'You have seen for yourselves that I spoke with you from heaven.

<sup>23</sup> You shall not make any gods of silver alongside me, you shall not make for yourselves idols of silver or gold.

<sup>24</sup> You shall make an altar of earth for me, and sacrifice on it your burnt offerings and your peace offerings, your sheep, and your oxen; in every place where I cause my name to be remembered I will come to you and I will bless you.

<sup>25</sup> But if you make an altar of stone, you shall build it of uncut stones; for if you use your tool on it, you have profaned it.

<sup>26</sup> You shall not go up steps to my altar so that your nakedness is not exposed on it."

<sup>1</sup> "Now these are the legal judgments that you are to set before them.

<sup>2</sup> If you buy a Hebrew slave, he will serve you six years and in the seventh he will go free, paying nothing.

<sup>3</sup> If he came in by himself, he will go free by himself; if he came in married, then his wife will go free with him.

<sup>4</sup> If his master gave him a wife and she bore him sons or daughters; the wife and her children will be her master's, and he will go free by himself.

<sup>5</sup> But if the servant declares, 'I love my master, my wife and my children; I will not go out free;'

<sup>6</sup> then his master must bring him to the judges, and his master will bring him to the door, or to the doorpost; and his master will pierce his ear through with an awl; and he will serve him forever.

<sup>7</sup> And if a man sells his daughter to be a female slave, she will not go out as the male slaves do.

<sup>8</sup> If she does not please her master, who has promised to marry her, then he must let her be redeemed. He has no right to sell her to foreigners, because he has dealt unfairly with her.

<sup>9</sup> If he promises her in marriage to his son, he will deal with her according to the customs like she was a daughter.

<sup>10</sup> If he takes another woman; her food, clothes and marital rights, he must not diminish.

<sup>11</sup> If he does not provide these three things for her, then she will go free, paying nothing.

<sup>12</sup> Whoever strikes a person so that he dies, must be put to death.

<sup>13</sup> But if he did not do it with premeditation, but God lets him fall into his hand; then I will appoint a place for you where he may flee to.

<sup>14</sup> But if he deliberately attacked his neighbor to slay him with cunning; you will take him even from my altar that he may be put to death.

<sup>18</sup> If men fight and one strikes the other with a stone or his fist, and he does not die, but is confined to his bed;

<sup>19</sup> if he recovers and walks outside with his staff, then the one who struck him will be innocent but he must pay for the loss of his time and care for him until he is totally healed.

<sup>20</sup> If a man strikes his male or female slave with a rod and he dies; the owner must be punished.

<sup>21</sup> But if the slave recovers in a day or two, he should not be punished; since he is his property.

<sup>22</sup> If men fight and hit a pregnant woman so that her child is born prematurely, but without serious injury; he will surely be fined, in accordance to the demands of the woman's husband and as the court determines.

<sup>27</sup> If he knock out his male or female slave's tooth, he must let him go free as compensation for the tooth.

<sup>28</sup> If an ox gores a man or a woman to death, the ox must be stoned and its flesh may not be eaten. But the owner of the ox will not be held liable.

<sup>29</sup> But if the ox had been known to gore in time past, and its owner was warned and he did not keep it in, then if it kills a man or a woman, the ox must be stoned and its owner must also be put to death.

<sup>30</sup> If a ransom is required, then he must pay the redemption for his life whatever is demanded of him.

<sup>31</sup> Whether it gores a son or a daughter, the owner will be dealt with according to this same rule.

<sup>32</sup> If the ox gore a male or female slave, then the owner must pay their master thirty shekels of silver and the ox must be stoned.

<sup>33</sup> If a man opens a pit or if a man digs a pit and does not cover it, and an ox or a donkey falls into it,

<sup>34</sup> the owner of the pit must make full restitution; he must pay money to its owner and he may keep the dead animal.

<sup>35</sup> If one man's ox hurt another's, so that it dies, then they will sell the live ox, divide the money for it and split up the dead animal.

<sup>36</sup> But if the ox was known to gore in time past, and its owner did not keep it in, he must pay ox for ox, but he may keep the dead animal."

DASV: Exodus 22

<sup>1</sup> "If a man steals an ox or a sheep and kills or sells it, he must pay back five oxen for an ox, and four sheep for a sheep.

<sup>2</sup> If a thief is caught breaking in and is struck so that he dies, the one who struck him shall not be guilty of bloodshed.

<sup>3</sup> If the sun has risen on him, there shall be guilt for his bloodshed; and he must make full restitution. If he has nothing to repay with, then he himself will be sold for his theft.

<sup>4</sup> If the stolen animal is found alive in his possession, whether it be an ox, donkey or sheep, he shall repay double.

<sup>5</sup> If a man lets a field or vineyard be grazed on, or lets his animal loose, and it grazes in another man's field; he must make restitution from the best of his own field and of the best of his own vineyard.

<sup>6</sup> If a fire breaks out and catches the thorn bushes on fire, so that the stacked or the standing grain or the field is consumed; he who started the fire must make restitution.

<sup>7</sup> If a man gives his neighbor money or stuff for safekeeping, and it is stolen out of the man's house; if the thief is caught, he must repay double.

<sup>8</sup> If the thief is not found, then the owner of the house must be brought before God to determine whether he has laid his hand on his neighbor's goods.

<sup>9</sup> For every case of illegal possession, whether it be an ox, a donkey, sheep, clothes, or for any kind of lost thing, where someone says, "This is mine," the cause of both parties will be brought before God and the one who God declares guilty must repay double to his neighbor.

<sup>10</sup> If a man gives his neighbor a donkey, ox, sheep or any beast for safekeeping; and it dies, is hurt, or is carried off, without anyone seeing it,

<sup>11</sup> then an oath before the LORD will be taken by the both of them, that he has not laid his hand on his neighbor's goods; and the owner thereof should accept it, and he will not have to make restitution.

<sup>12</sup> But if it is stolen from him, he will repay its owner.

<sup>13</sup> If it is torn in pieces by a wild animal, then he will bring it for evidence and he will not have to make restitution for the mangled animal.

<sup>14</sup> If a man borrows any animal from his neighbor, and it is hurt, or dies when its owner was not with it, the borrower must make full restitution.

<sup>15</sup> But if its owner was with it, the borrower will not have to repay. If it was rented out, it is covered by the rental fee.

<sup>21</sup> You must not mistreat a foreigner or oppress him, for you were foreigners in the land of Egypt.

<sup>23</sup> If you take advantage of them at all, and they cry out to me, I will surely hear their cry;

<sup>24</sup> and my wrath will burn, and I will kill you with the sword and your wives will be widows and your children fatherless.

<sup>26</sup> If you take your neighbor's cloak as collateral for a loan, restore it to him before the sun sets, <sup>27</sup> for that is his only covering; it is his only cloak for his body. What else does he have to sleep in? And when he cries out to me, I will listen, for I am gracious.

<sup>28</sup> You must not blaspheme God or curse a ruler of your people.

<sup>29</sup> You must not delay an offering from your grain harvest or the product of your wine presses. Your firstborn sons you shall give to me.

<sup>30</sup> Do the same with your oxen and your sheep. For seven days it may stay with its mother but on the eighth day you shall give it to me.

<sup>31</sup> You will be a holy people to me. Therefore do not eat any meat that is torn by wild animals in the field. You must throw it to the dogs."

DASV: Exodus 23

- <sup>1</sup> "You shall not spread a false report. Do not join hands with the wicked by being a malicious witness.
- <sup>2</sup> You shall not follow a crowd to do evil; you shall not testify in a lawsuit siding with the crowd so as to pervert justice.
- <sup>3</sup> You shall not be partial to a poor man in his lawsuit.
- <sup>4</sup> If you find your enemy's ox or his donkey going astray, you should bring it back to him.
- <sup>5</sup> If you see the donkey of someone who hates you fallen under its burden, you should not just leave it there, you must help by setting it free.
- <sup>6</sup> You shall not deny justice to your poor in his lawsuit.
- <sup>7</sup> Keep away from a false charge and do not kill the innocent and righteous, for I will not acquit the wicked.
- <sup>8</sup> You shall not take a bribe, for a bribe blinds those who should see and twists the words of the righteous.
- <sup>9</sup> You shall not oppress a foreigner, since you know the heart of a foreigner, seeing you were foreigners in the land of Egypt.
- <sup>10</sup> For six years you shall sow your land and harvest its crops.
- <sup>11</sup> But on the seventh year you shall let it rest and lie fallow; that the poor of your people may eat and what they leave the animals of the field may eat. Do the same thing for your vineyards and your olive groves.
- <sup>12</sup> Six days you shall do your work, but on the seventh day you shall rest; so that your ox and your donkey may have rest, and your female slave's son and the foreigner may be refreshed.
- <sup>13</sup> Pay attention to everything I have said to you. Do not mention the name of other gods, or let them be heard on your lips.
- <sup>14</sup> Three times a year you shall hold a feast to me.
- <sup>15</sup> The Feast of Unleavened Bread you shall celebrate; for seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, as I commanded you, at the time appointed in the month Abib for that's when you came out from Egypt. No one shall appear before me empty-handed.
- <sup>16</sup> Celebrate the Feast of Harvest, from the first fruits of your labors which you have sown in the field. Celebrate the Feast of Ingathering at the end of the year, when you have gathered in your harvest from the field.
- <sup>17</sup> Three times in the year all your males must appear before the Lord GOD.
- <sup>18</sup> You shall not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread or shall any of the fat of my feast remain until the next morning.
- <sup>19</sup> The first of the firstfruits of your ground you shall bring into the house of the LORD your God. You shall not boil a young goat in its mother's milk.

<sup>20</sup> See, I am sending an angel before you, to protect you along the way and to bring you into the place that I have prepared.

<sup>21</sup> Pay attention to him and listen to his voice. Do not rebel against him, or he will not pardon your transgression, for my name is in him.

<sup>22</sup> But if you listen carefully to his voice and do all that I say; then I will be an enemy to your enemies and an adversary to your adversaries.

<sup>23</sup> For my angel will go before you and bring you into the land of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hivites and the Jebusites, and I will wipe them out.

<sup>24</sup> You must not bow down to their gods, or serve them, or follow their practices. You must totally demolish them and smash their sacred pillars to pieces.

<sup>25</sup> You shall serve the LORD your God, and he will bless your bread and your water and I will take sickness away from among you.

<sup>26</sup> No one will miscarry her young or be barren in your land. I will give you a long life full of days.

<sup>27</sup> I will send my terror before you and will throw into confusion all the people who oppose you and I will make all your enemies turn their backs to you and run.

<sup>28</sup> I will send hornets before you that will drive out the Hivite, Canaanite and Hittite from before you.

<sup>29</sup> I will not drive them out in one year or the land would become desolate and the wild animals would multiply against you.

<sup>30</sup> Little by little I will drive them out before you, until you have increased enough to possess the land.

<sup>31</sup> I will set your border from the Red Sea to the sea of the Philistines, and from the wilderness to the Euphrates River. For I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand and you will drive them out before you.

<sup>33</sup> They shall not dwell in your land lest they make you sin against me; for if you serve their gods it will surely be a snare to you."

DASV: Exodus 24

<sup>1</sup> Then he said to Moses, "Come up to the LORD, you and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu and seventy of the elders of Israel, and worship at a distance.

<sup>2</sup> But Moses alone may come near the LORD, but the others may not come near, and the people may not come up with him."

<sup>3</sup> Then Moses came and told the people all the words of the LORD, and all the regulations. All the people answered with one voice, and said, "All the words that the LORD has spoken we will do."

<sup>4</sup> So Moses wrote down all the words of the LORD. Early the next morning he got up and built an altar at the foot of the mountain. He set up twelve pillars according to the twelve tribes of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> Then he sent young Israelite men, who offered burnt offerings and sacrificed peace offerings of oxen to the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> Moses took half of the blood and put it in bowls. The other half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar.

<sup>7</sup> Then he took the Book of the Covenant and read it in the hearing of the people. They responded, "All that the LORD has spoken we will do. We will obey."

<sup>8</sup> So Moses took the blood and sprinkled it on the people, and said, "This is the blood of the covenant, that the LORD has made with you in accordance with all these words."

<sup>9</sup> Then Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel went up.

<sup>10</sup> They saw the God of Israel. Under his feet was pavement like sapphire stone and it was as clear as the sky itself.

<sup>11</sup> But God did not lay his hand upon the chief Israelite men. So they saw God and ate and drank.

<sup>12</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Come up to me on the mountain and wait there. I will give you the tablets of stone with the law and the commandment that I have written, in order that you may teach them."

<sup>14</sup> But he told the elders, "Wait here for us, until we come back to you. Aaron and Hur will stay with you. Whoever has a conflict, he may go to them.

<sup>16</sup> The glory of the LORD stayed on Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it for six days. On the seventh day he called to Moses from within the cloud.

<sup>18</sup> Moses entered into the cloud when he climbed up the mountain. Moses stayed on the mountain forty days and forty nights.

DASV: Exodus 25

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses,

<sup>3</sup> This is the offering that you may accept from them: gold, silver and bronze,

<sup>7</sup> onyx stones and gems to be set in the ephod and the breastpiece.

<sup>8</sup> Let them make a sanctuary for me so that I may dwell among them.

<sup>9</sup> According to all that I show you regarding the pattern of the tabernacle and the pattern of all its furniture, that is exactly how you are to make it.

<sup>10</sup> They shall make an ark of acacia wood: 45 inches long, 27 inches wide and 27 inches high.

<sup>12</sup> You shall cast four rings of gold for it and put them on its four feet with two rings on the one side and two rings on the other.

<sup>17</sup> You shall make a mercy-seat lid of pure gold. It shall be 45 inches long and 27 inches wide.

<sup>18</sup> You shall make two cherubim of gold; you shall make them from hammered metal on the two ends of the mercy-seat lid.

<sup>19</sup> Make one cherub on the one end and one cherub on the other end. The cherubim on the two ends shall be made as one piece with the mercy-seat lid.

<sup>21</sup> You shall put the mercy-seat lid on the ark; and in the ark you shall put the testimony tablets that I will give you.

<sup>22</sup> I will meet with you there and from above the mercy-seat lid between the two cherubim that are on the ark of the testimony I will communicate to you all of my commands for the Israelites.

<sup>23</sup> You shall make a table of acacia wood: 36 inches long, 18 inches wide and 27 inches high.

- <sup>24</sup> You shall overlay it with pure gold and make a gold molding rim around it.
- <sup>25</sup> You shall make around it a border rim 3 inches wide and make a gold molding around its rim.
- <sup>26</sup> You shall make four rings of gold for it and put the rings in the four corners where its four legs are.
- <sup>27</sup> The rings shall be close to the rim as places for the poles used to carry the table.
- <sup>28</sup> You shall make the poles of acacia wood and overlay them with gold, so that the table may be carried with them.
- <sup>29</sup> You shall make its dishes, pans, pitchers and the jars of pure gold for the pouring out drink offerings.
- <sup>30</sup> You shall put the bread of the Presence on the table before me always.
- <sup>31</sup> You shall make a lampstand of pure gold. The base and shaft of the lampstand shall be made of hammered metal along with its cups, buds, and flowers from one piece of metal.
- <sup>32</sup> There shall be six branches going out of its sides, three branches of the lampstand on the one side and three branches on the other.
- <sup>33</sup> There shall be three cups shaped like almond flowers with buds and blossoms on each branch and three cups shaped like almond flowers with buds and blossoms on the other branch, similarly for all six branches that shall extend from the lampstand.
- <sup>34</sup> On the lampstand center make four cups made like almond flowers with its buds and blossoms.
- <sup>35</sup> There will be a bud under each two branches one piece with it, and a bud under the next two branches one piece with it and a bud under the third two branches one piece with it according to the six branches extending from the lampstand.
- <sup>36</sup> Their buds and branches shall all be one piece all of it hammered out of pure gold.
- <sup>37</sup> You shall make the seven lamps for it and set the lamps on it so that they give light in front of it.
- <sup>38</sup> Its snuffers and trays shall be of pure gold.
- <sup>39</sup> The lampstand and its utensils shall be made of seventy-five pounds of pure gold.
- <sup>40</sup> Make sure that you make them according to the pattern that has been shown to you on the mountain."

<sup>2</sup> Each curtain shall be 42 feet long and 6 feet wide. All the curtains shall have exactly the same measurement.

<sup>3</sup> Five curtains shall be joined together and a second set of five curtains also joined one to another.

<sup>6</sup> You shall make fifty gold clasps and join the long curtains sets to one another with the clasps, so that the tabernacle is one whole unit.

<sup>11</sup> Make fifty bronze clasps and put the clasps into the loops to join the tent together, so that it may be one whole unit.

<sup>19</sup> Make forty bases of silver to fit under the twenty boards; two bases per board for its two pegs, and two bases under the next board for its two pegs.

<sup>21</sup> and their forty bases of silver, two bases for the first board, and two bases under the next board.

<sup>27</sup> and five crossbars for the framing boards for the other side of the tabernacle, and five crossbars for the framing boards for the back side of the tabernacle on the west.

<sup>30</sup> Then you shall set up the tabernacle according to the pattern you were shown on the mountain.

<sup>36</sup> You shall make a curtain for the entrance of the tent of blue, purple and scarlet yarn and fine twined linen, the work of the embroiderer.

DASV: Exodus 27

<sup>1</sup> "You shall make the altar of acacia wood, seven feet six inches long, and seven feet six inches wide; the altar shall be square and four feet six inches high.

<sup>3</sup> Make its pots to take away its ashes, and shovels, basins, meat-hooks and its firepans, all its utensils of bronze.

<sup>4</sup> You shall make a bronze grating for it and on the four corners of the net make four bronze rings.

<sup>5</sup> You shall install it under the ledge of the altar, so that the net may reach halfway down the altar.

<sup>7</sup> And its rods shall be put into the rings, and the rods shall be on the two sides of the altar when it is carried.

<sup>8</sup> Make the altar a hollow box with boards. Make it just like you were shown on the mountain.

<sup>13</sup> The width of the courtyard on the east side shall be seventh-five feet.

<sup>17</sup> All the posts around the courtyard shall have hooks and bands of silver and bronze bases.

<sup>19</sup> All the utensils of the tabernacle used in its service and all its tent pegs and all the pegs for the courtyard shall be made of bronze.

<sup>20</sup> You shall command the Israelites to bring you pure olive oil pressed for the light so that the lamps may burn continually.

<sup>21</sup> In the Tent of Meeting, outside the special curtain which is in front of the testimony, Aaron and his sons shall attend to it from evening to morning before the LORD. It shall be a permanent ordinance throughout their generations among the Israelites."

DASV: Exodus 28

<sup>1</sup> "Then bring near Aaron your brother and his sons with him, from among the Israelites so that they may serve as my priests--Aaron and his sons, Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

<sup>2</sup> You shall make holy garments for your brother Aaron for glory and for beauty.

<sup>3</sup> You shall speak to all who are wise-hearted, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they make Aaron's garments to consecrate him so that he may serve as my priest.

<sup>4</sup> These are the garments that they shall make: a breastpiece, an ephod, and a robe, and a woven tunic, a turban and a sash. They shall make holy garments for your brother Aaron and his sons, so that they may serve as my priests.

<sup>7</sup> It shall have two shoulder pieces attached to its two ends, so it may be joined together.

<sup>9</sup> You shall take two onyx stones and engrave the names of the sons of Israel on them.

<sup>14</sup> and two braided chains of pure gold; like a cord, and attach the corded chains to the filigree settings.

<sup>24</sup> You shall attach the two woven gold chains to the two rings on the ends of the breastpiece.

<sup>26</sup> You shall make two rings of gold and attach them on the two edges of the breastpiece, on the inside next to the ephod.

<sup>28</sup> They shall tie the breastplate by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a blue cord, so it may be above the decorative waistband of the ephod, and so that the breastpiece shall not come loose from the ephod.

<sup>30</sup> And you shall put inside the breastpiece of decision the Urim and the Thummim. They shall be on Aaron's heart when he goes in before the LORD. Aaron shall bear the decisions for the Israelites on his heart before the LORD continually.

<sup>35</sup> Aaron shall wear it when he ministers and its sound will be heard when he goes in to the holy place before the LORD, and when he comes out, so that he does not die.

<sup>41</sup> You shall put them on Aaron your brother and on his sons with him. Then you shall anoint, consecrate and sanctify them, so that they may serve as my priests.

<sup>42</sup> You shall make them linen undergarments to cover their naked bodies; from the hips to the thighs.

<sup>43</sup> And they shall be worn by Aaron and his sons when they go in to the Tent of Meeting, or when they come near to the altar to minister in the holy place; so that they do not incur guilt on themselves and die. It will be a permanent ordinance for him and his descendants after him."

DASV: Exodus 29

<sup>1</sup> "This is what you shall do to consecrate them, so that they may minister to me as priests. Take one young bull and two rams without defect,
<sup>2</sup> and unleavened bread, unleavened cakes mixed with olive oil and unleavened wafers spread with oil. You shall make them of fine wheat flour.
<sup>3</sup> You shall put them into one basket and bring them in the basket with the bull and the two rams.

<sup>5</sup> You shall take the garments and clothe Aaron with the tunic, the robe of the ephod, the ephod, and the breastpiece, and wrap the skilfully woven waistband around the ephod.

This is how you shall consecrate Aaron and his sons.

<sup>15</sup> You shall also take the one ram, then Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram.

<sup>17</sup> You shall cut the ram into pieces and wash its internal organs and legs and put them with the other pieces and its head.

<sup>18</sup> Then you shall burn the whole ram on the altar. It is a burnt offering to the LORD, a sweet aroma, an offering made by fire to the LORD.

<sup>21</sup> You shall take some of the blood that is on the altar and some of the anointing oil, and sprinkle it on Aaron and his garments and on his sons and their garments with him. Then he shall be holy along with his garments, his sons, and his sons' garments.

<sup>22</sup> Also you shall take the fat of the ram, the fat tail, the fat that covers the internal organs, the lobe of the liver, the two kidneys and the fat that is on them along with the right thigh; for it is a ram of consecration,

<sup>24</sup> You shall put all these in the hands of Aaron and his sons and wave them as a wave offering before the LORD.

<sup>25</sup> You shall take them from their hands and burn them on the altar along with the burnt offering for a sweet aroma before the LORD. It is an offering made by fire to the LORD.

<sup>28</sup> It belongs to Aaron and his sons as their portion forever from the Israelites for it is a offering and it shall be an offering from the Israelites from the sacrifices of their fellowship offerings. It is their offering to the LORD.

<sup>29</sup> The holy garments of Aaron shall be handed down to his sons after him; they shall be anointed and consecrated in them.

<sup>30</sup> The son who is priest after him shall put them on for seven days when he comes to the Tent of Meeting to minister in the holy place.

<sup>31</sup> You shall take the ram of consecration and boil its meat in a holy place.

<sup>33</sup> They alone may eat those things by which atonement was made, to ordain and consecrate them. But no one else may eat these things because they are holy.

<sup>34</sup> If any of the meat of the ordination or any of the bread is left over until morning, then you shall burn it up with fire. It must not be eaten, because it is holy.

<sup>35</sup> This is what you will do to Aaron and to his sons, according to all that I have commanded you. For seven days you shall consecrate them.

<sup>36</sup> Every day you shall offer a bull for a sin offering for atonement. You shall purify the altar when you make atonement for it. You shall anoint it to consecrate it.

<sup>37</sup> Seven days you shall make atonement for the altar and consecrate it. Afterwards the altar shall be absolutely holy. Whatever touches the altar will be holy.

<sup>38</sup> Now this is that what you shall offer on the altar daily: two lambs a year old.

<sup>39</sup> Offer the one lamb in the morning and the other lamb in the evening.

<sup>40</sup> With the one lamb offer a two quarts of fine flour mixed with the one quart of oil from pressed olives and the one quart of wine for a drink offering.

<sup>41</sup> Offer the other lamb in the evening, with the same grain offering and drink offering as in the morning, for a sweet aroma, an offering made by fire to the LORD.

<sup>42</sup> It shall be a regular burnt offering throughout your generations at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting before the LORD, where I will meet with you to speak to you.

<sup>43</sup> There I will meet with the Israelites and it shall be sanctified by my glory.

<sup>44</sup> So I will make holy the Tent of Meeting and the altar. Aaron and his sons will I make holy to minister before me as priests.

<sup>45</sup> Then I will dwell among the Israelites and will be their God.

<sup>46</sup> Then they will know that I am the LORD their God who brought them out of the land of Egypt, so that I might dwell among them. I am the LORD their God."

<sup>2</sup> It shall be square, 18 inches long, 18 inches wide, and 36 inches high. Its horns shall be of one piece with it.

<sup>3</sup> You shall overlay it with pure gold, its top, all sides and its horns. You shall make a molding of gold round it.

<sup>4</sup> You shall make two gold rings for it under its molding on its two opposite sides. They shall hold the poles by which it will be carried.

<sup>5</sup> You shall make the poles of acacia wood and overlay them with gold.

<sup>6</sup> You shall put it in front of the curtain that is before the ark of the testimony, before the mercy-seat lid that is on top of the testimony, where I will meet with you.

<sup>7</sup> Then Aaron shall burn fragrant incense on it every morning; he shall burn it when he trims the lamps.

<sup>8</sup> Every evening when Aaron lights the lamps, he shall burn it, a perpetual incense offering before the LORD throughout your generations.

<sup>9</sup> You shall not offer strange incense on it, or any burnt offering or grain offering, and you must not pour any drink offering on it.

<sup>10</sup> Once a year Aaron shall make atonement on its horns. Once a year he shall make atonement for it with the blood of the sin offering of atonement throughout your generations. It is most holy to the LORD."

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses,

<sup>12</sup> "When you take a census of the Israelites to count them, then everyone is to give a ransom for his life to the LORD so that no plague will come on them when you number them.

<sup>13</sup> This is what each one shall give that is numbered: half a shekel according to the shekel of the sanctuary (the sanctuary shekel is twenty gerahs, about half an ounce). The half a shekel is an offering to the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> Everyone who is twenty or older who is numbered in the census, shall give the offering to the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> The rich shall not give more and the poor shall not give less than the half shekel, when they give the offering to the LORD, to make atonement for your lives.

<sup>16</sup> Then you shall take the atonement money from the Israelites and shall give it for the service of the Tent of Meeting, that it may be a memorial for the Israelites before the LORD, to make atonement for your lives."

<sup>17</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses,

<sup>18</sup> "You shall also make a bronze basin and the bronze stand for washing. You shall put it between the Tent of Meeting and the altar and put water in it.

<sup>20</sup> When they go into the Tent of Meeting or when they approach the altar to minister or burn an offering made by fire to the LORD, they must wash with water, so that they do not die.

<sup>22</sup> Then the LORD told Moses,

<sup>23</sup> "Take the finest spices: twelve and a half pounds of liquid myrrh, and six and a quarter pounds each of sweet-smelling cinnamon and fragrant calamus,

<sup>24</sup> and twelve and a half pounds of cassia, measured by the sanctuary shekel, along with a gallon of olive oil.

<sup>27</sup> the table and all its utensils, the lampstand and its utensils, the altar of incense, <sup>28</sup> the altar of burnt offering along with all its utensils, and the basin with its stand.

<sup>29</sup> Consecrate them so that they may be most holy; whatever touches them will become holy.

<sup>31</sup> Then you shall announce to the Israelites, "This shall be my holy anointing oil throughout your generations.

<sup>32</sup> It must never be poured on the human body, and you must not blend any like it by this same formula. It is holy, and it shall be holy to you.

<sup>35</sup> and make it for incense blended by the art of the perfumer, seasoned with salt, pure and holy.

<sup>36</sup> Grind the mixture into a fine powder and put it before the ark of the testimony in the Tent of Meeting where I will meet with you. It shall be most holy for you.

<sup>37</sup> The incense that you make according to this formula you must not make for yourselves. It shall be regarded by you as holy to the LORD.

<sup>38</sup> Whoever makes any like it to use as perfume, must be cut off from his people."

<sup>5</sup> and in cutting of stones for setting, and in carving of wood, to work in all kinds of craftsmanship.

<sup>6</sup> Moreover I have appointed to work with him Oholiab, the son of Ahisamach, from the tribe of Dan; and in the heart of all the craftsmen I have put wisdom, that they may make all that I have commanded you:

<sup>8</sup> the table and its utensils, the pure gold lampstand with all its utensils, the altar of incense--

<sup>9</sup> the altar of burnt offering with all its utensils and the basin and its stand,

<sup>10</sup> and the finely woven garments, even the holy garments for Aaron the priest and the garments of his sons, to minister as priests,

<sup>11</sup> the anointing oil and the incense of fragrant spices for the holy place. They are to make them according to all that I have commanded you."

<sup>12</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses,

<sup>13</sup> "Tell the Israelites, 'You must keep my Sabbaths, for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations; so that you may know that I am the LORD who sanctifies you.

<sup>14</sup> You must keep the Sabbath for it is holy to you. Anyone who profanes it must be put to death; for whoever does any work on that day, that person must be cut off from among his people.

<sup>15</sup> Six days shall work be done, but the seventh day is a Sabbath of complete rest, holy to the LORD, whoever does any work on the Sabbath day, he must be put to death.

<sup>16</sup> Therefore the Israelites must keep the Sabbath by observing the Sabbath throughout their generations. It is a perpetual covenant.

<sup>17</sup> It is a sign forever between me and the Israelites. For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he rested and was refreshed."

<sup>18</sup> When he finished speaking to Moses on Mount Sinai, he gave him the two tablets of the testimony, tablets of stone, written by the finger of God.

DASV: Exodus 32

<sup>1</sup> When the people saw that Moses delayed to come down from the mountain, the people gathered themselves around Aaron, and said to him, "Come, make gods for us, that will go before us; as for this Moses, the man who brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him."

<sup>2</sup> So Aaron said to them, "Break off the golden earrings that are on the ears of your wives, your sons and your daughters, and bring them to me."

<sup>3</sup> All the people took off the golden earrings that were in their ears and brought them to Aaron.

<sup>4</sup> He received it from their hand, and fashioned it with an engraving tool, and made a molded calf. Then they announced, "These are your gods, O Israel, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt."

<sup>5</sup> When Aaron saw this, he built an altar before it; and Aaron made a proclamation and said, "Tomorrow there will be a festival to the LORD."

<sup>6</sup> So they got up early on the next day and offered burnt offerings, and brought peace offerings; and the people sat down to eat and drink, and indulged in pagan partying.

<sup>7</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, "Go, get down; for your people, that you brought up out of the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves.

<sup>8</sup> They have quickly turned aside from the way that I commanded them, they have made a molten calf, and have worshipped it and have sacrificed to it and said, "These are your gods, O Israel, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt."

<sup>9</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "I have seen this people, and look how stiff-necked they are.

<sup>10</sup> Now therefore leave me alone, that my wrath may burn hot against them and that I may destroy them, but I will make you into a great nation."

<sup>11</sup> But Moses implored the LORD his God, and said, "LORD, why does your wrath burn hot against your people, whom you have brought out of the land of Egypt with great power and with a mighty hand?

<sup>12</sup> Why should the Egyptians say, 'For evil purposes he brought them out to kill them in the mountains and to destroy them from the face of the earth'? Turn from your fierce anger and change your mind about bringing this disaster against your people.

<sup>13</sup> Remember Abraham, Isaac and Israel, your servants, to whom you swore by your own self, and said to them, 'I will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have spoken of will I give to your descendants, and they shall inherit it forever.'"

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD changed his mind concerning the disaster that he said he would bring on his people.

<sup>15</sup> Then Moses turned, and went down from the mountain with the two stone tablets of the testimony in his hand. The tablets were written on both sides, written both on the front side and on the back.

<sup>16</sup> The tablets were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, engraven upon the tablets.

<sup>17</sup> When Joshua heard the noise of the people as they shouted, he said to Moses, "There is the sound of war in the camp."

<sup>18</sup> But Moses replied, "It is not the sound of those shouting because of victory, or the sound of those who cry out in defeat but the sound of singing revelers that I hear."

<sup>19</sup> As soon as he came near the camp, he saw the calf and the dancing. Then Moses' anger burned hot and he threw the stone tablets out of his hands, and broke them at the foot of the mountain.

<sup>20</sup> Then he took the calf that they had made, burned it with fire, ground it to powder, scattered it on the water and made the children of Israel drink it.

<sup>21</sup> Then Moses said to Aaron, "What did this people do to you that you have brought such a great sin on them?"

<sup>22</sup> Aaron replied, "Do not let your anger burn hot my lord. You know this people, that they are bent on evil.

<sup>23</sup> For they said to me, 'Make us gods, who will go before us. As for this Moses, the man who brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him.'

<sup>24</sup> Then I said to them, 'Whoever has any gold, let them take it off.' So they gave it to me and I threw it into the fire and out popped this calf."

<sup>25</sup> When Moses saw that the people were running wild (for Aaron had let them go wild, making them a joke to their enemies.)

<sup>26</sup> So Moses stood in the gate of the camp, and said, "Whoever is on the LORD's side, come join me." All the Levites gathered around him.

<sup>27</sup> Then he said to them, "'This is what the LORD says, the God of Israel, 'Each man strap his sword on his thigh, and go back and forth from one entrance to the other throughout the camp, with each man killing his brother, his friend and his neighbor.'"

<sup>28</sup> So the Levites did according to the word of Moses. About 3,000 people died that day.

<sup>29</sup> Then Moses said, "Today you have been consecrated to the LORD, yes, every one at the cost of his son and brother; so he has bestowed on you a blessing this day."

<sup>30</sup> The next day Moses said to the people, "You have committed a great sin; and now I will go up to the LORD; perhaps I can make atonement for your sin."

<sup>31</sup> Then Moses returned to the LORD and said, "Oh, what a great sin this people have committed. They have made for themselves gods of gold.

<sup>32</sup> But now, please forgive their sin, but if not, then blot me out of your book that you have written."

<sup>33</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Whoever has sinned against me, that person alone will I blot out of my book.

<sup>34</sup> Now go, lead the people to the place that I have told you about. Look, my angel will lead the way before you. Nevertheless on the day I punish, I will certainly punish them for their sin."

<sup>35</sup> Then the LORD sent a plague on the people because they made the calf, the one Aaron made.

DASV: Exodus 33

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, "Get up, leave here, you and the people that you have brought up out of the land of Egypt, go to the land of that I swore to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, saying, 'I will give it to your descendants.'

<sup>2</sup> I will send an angel before you and I will drive out the Canaanites, Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites.

<sup>3</sup> Go up to a land flowing with milk and honey. But I will not go up among you, for you are a stiff-necked people, and I might destroy you along the way."

<sup>4</sup> When the people heard this bad news, they mourned; and no one put on his ornaments.

<sup>5</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Tell the children of Israel, 'You are a stiff-necked people; if I go up among you for one moment, I might destroy you. Therefore now take off your ornaments, then I will decide what to do with you.'"

<sup>7</sup> Now Moses used to take the tent and to pitch it outside the camp, far away from the camp. He called it, "the Tent of Meeting." And everyone who sought the LORD went out to the Tent of Meeting that was outside of the camp.

<sup>11</sup> Thus the LORD would speak to Moses face to face, as a man talks to his friend. Then Moses would return to the camp but his assistant Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, did not leave the tent.

<sup>12</sup> Then Moses said to the LORD, "See, you have been telling me, 'Bring up this people' and you have not let me know whom you will send with me. Yet you have said, 'I know you by name and you have also found favor in my sight.'

<sup>13</sup> Now if I have found favor in your sight please show me your ways so that I may know you and find favor in your sight. Consider also that this nation is your people."

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD replied, "My presence will go with you and I will give you rest."

<sup>15</sup> Moses said, "If your presence does not go with us, do not make us move from here.

<sup>16</sup> For how will it be known that I have found favor in your sight, I and your people? Is it not by the fact that you travel with us that we are distinguished, I and your people, from all the other people that are on the face of the earth?"

<sup>17</sup> Then the LORD answered Moses, "I will do this very thing that you have asked for; for you have found favor in my sight and I know you by name."

<sup>19</sup> He replied, "I will make all my goodness pass before you, and will proclaim the name 'the LORD' before you. For I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious and will show mercy on whom I will show mercy."

<sup>21</sup> Then the LORD explained, "Look, there is a place by me where you may stand on the rock.

<sup>22</sup> When my glory passes by I will put you in a cleft in the rock and cover you with my hand until I have passed by.

<sup>23</sup> Then I will take away my hand, and you may see my back but my face must not be seen."

DASV: Exodus 34

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Cut out two tablets of stone like the first ones. I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets that you broke.

<sup>2</sup> Be ready by the morning. Come up in the morning to Mount Sinai and present yourself there to me on the top of the mountain.

<sup>4</sup> So he cut out two tablets of stone like the first ones. Then Moses got up early in the morning and went up on Mount Sinai, as the LORD had commanded him. He took in his hand two tablets of stone.

<sup>5</sup> Then the LORD descended in the cloud and stood with him there as he proclaimed the name: "The LORD (Yahweh)."

<sup>6</sup> Then the LORD passed by in front of him, and proclaimed, "The LORD, the LORD, a God compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, and abundant in loyal love and truth, <sup>7</sup> keeping loyal love for thousands of generations, forgiving iniquity, transgression and sin. Yet he will by no means pardon the guilty, visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children, and on the children's children to the third and fourth generation."

<sup>8</sup> Then Moses quickly bowed his head to the ground and worshiped.

<sup>9</sup> He requested, "If now I have found favor in your sight, O Lord, let the Lord, I pray, travel with us. They are indeed a stiff-necked people but pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us for your inheritance."

<sup>10</sup> Then the LORD replied, "Look, I am making a covenant before all your people. I will do marvels such as have never been done in all the earth, nor in any nation. All the people among you will see the power of the LORD. It is an awesome thing that I do for you.

<sup>12</sup> Be careful not to make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land where you are going, lest it become a snare among you.

<sup>13</sup> Instead you are to tear down their altars, dash their pillars to pieces and cut down their Asherah poles.

<sup>18</sup> You must celebrate the feast of unleavened bread. Seven days you must eat unleavened bread, as I commanded you, at the time appointed in the month Abib; for in the month Abib you came out from Egypt.

<sup>19</sup> Every firstborn of the womb is mine; that includes all your male cattle, the firstlings from the herd or flocks.

<sup>20</sup> The firstborn donkey you shall redeem with a lamb. But if you do not redeem it, then break its neck. All the firstborn of your sons you shall redeem. No one should appear before me empty-handed.

<sup>21</sup> Six days you may work, but on the seventh day you must rest; even in plowing time and in harvest you must rest.

<sup>23</sup> Three times a year all your males must appear before the LORD God, the God of Israel.

<sup>24</sup> For I will drive out nations before you, and enlarge your borders. No one shall covet your land, when you go up to appear before the LORD your God three times in the year.

<sup>26</sup> The first of the first fruits of your ground you must bring to the house of the LORD

<sup>27</sup> Then the LORD told Moses, "Write down these words: for in accordance with these words I have made a covenant with you and with Israel."

<sup>28</sup> He was there with the LORD forty days and forty nights during which time he did not eat bread or drink water. He wrote on the tablets the words of the covenant, the Ten Commandments.

<sup>29</sup> Now when Moses came down from Mount Sinai with the two tablets of the testimony in Moses' hand, Moses did not realize that the skin of his face shone because he had spoken with the LORD.

<sup>30</sup> When Aaron and all the Israelites saw the skin of Moses' face shining they were afraid to come near him.

<sup>32</sup> Afterward all the Israelites came near and he commanded them all that the LORD had told him on Mount Sinai.

<sup>34</sup> But when Moses went in before the LORD to speak with him, he took off the veil until he came out. Then he would come out and tell the Israelites what he was commanded.

<sup>35</sup> When the Israelites saw the face of Moses, that the skin of his face shone, Moses would again put the veil on his face until he went in to speak with the LORD.

DASV: Exodus 35

<sup>1</sup> Moses assembled the whole community of the Israelites, and said to them, "These are the things that the LORD has commanded you to do:

<sup>2</sup> For six days work may be done; but the seventh day shall be a holy day for you, a Sabbath of solemn rest to the LORD. Whoever does any work on it must be put to death.

<sup>3</sup> You must not even kindle a fire in any of your dwellings on the Sabbath day."

<sup>5</sup> 'Take an offering to the LORD from among you. Whoever has a willing heart, let him bring the LORD's offering: gold, silver, bronze,

<sup>6</sup> blue, purple, scarlet yarn and fine linen; goats' hair,

<sup>8</sup> olive oil for the light, spices for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense;

<sup>9</sup> and onyx stones and gems to be set on the ephod and the breastpiece.'

<sup>10</sup> Let everyone who is skillful among you come and make all that the LORD has commanded:

<sup>11</sup> the tabernacle, its tent, with its covering, its clasps and its frames, its bars, its pillars and its bases;

<sup>12</sup> the ark with its poles, the mercy seat and the curtain that conceals it;

<sup>14</sup> the lampstand also for light and its utensils and its lamps, and the olive oil for the light;

<sup>15</sup> the altar of incense with its poles, the anointing oil and the fragrant incense, and the curtain for the entrance at the opening of the tabernacle;

<sup>17</sup> the curtains for the courtyard walls with its posts and bases, and the curtain for the entrance to the courtyard;

<sup>18</sup> the tent pegs for the tabernacle, the pegs for the courtyard and their ropes;

<sup>21</sup> Everyone whose heart was stirred came, and everyone whose spirit was willing, brought the LORD's offering, for the work of the Tent of Meeting, and for all its service, and for the holy garments.

<sup>22</sup> So both men and women came, as many as had a willing heart, and brought brooches, earrings, rings and necklaces, all sorts of gold jewelry. They presented a wave offering of gold to the LORD.

<sup>23</sup> Everyone who had blue, purple or scarlet yarn or fine linen, or goats' hair, rams' skins dyed red or fine leather brought them.

<sup>24</sup> Everyone who could make an offering of silver or bronze brought it as an offering to the LORD; and everyone who had acacia wood of any use for the project, brought it.

<sup>28</sup> and the spice, and the olive oil for the light, the anointing oil and the fragrant incense.

<sup>29</sup> The Israelites brought a freewill offering to the LORD; every man and woman whose heart was willing brought material for all the work that the LORD had commanded through Moses to be done.

<sup>30</sup> Then Moses said to the Israelites, "See, the LORD has called by name Bezalel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah.

<sup>31</sup> He has filled him with the Spirit of God, with wisdom, understanding and knowledge in all kinds of crafts;

<sup>32</sup> to design skilful works in gold, silver and bronze,

<sup>33</sup> in cutting of stones for setting, and in carving of wood, to work in all kinds of skilful crafts.

<sup>34</sup> He has put in both his heart and Oholiab, the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan the ability to teach others.

<sup>35</sup> He has he filled them with wisdom of heart, to work all kinds of crafts done by an engraver, designer, or an embroiderer working with blue, purple, or scarlet yarn or with fine linen, or by a weaver. They were skilled craftsmen in every type of work and skillful design.

DASV: Exodus 36

<sup>1</sup> Bezalel and Oholiab and every skilled person in whom the LORD had given wisdom and understanding to know how to do all the work for the construction of the sanctuary, will do the work, according to all that the LORD has commanded.

<sup>2</sup> Then Moses summoned Bezalel and Oholiab and every skilled person in whose heart the LORD had put wisdom, everyone whose heart stirred him up to participate in doing the work.

<sup>3</sup> They received from Moses all the offerings that the Israelites brought for the work of building the sanctuary, and yet they still brought to him freewill offerings every morning.

<sup>4</sup> All the skilled craftsmen, who were doing all the work on the sanctuary; they all left the work they had been doing.

<sup>5</sup> They said to Moses, "The people are bringing much more than enough for the work that the LORD commanded to be done."

<sup>6</sup> So Moses gave the order and it was proclaimed throughout the camp, "Let no man or woman make anything more as an offering for the sanctuary." So the people were restrained from bringing.

<sup>7</sup> Now the supplies that they had were more than enough for all the work needed to make it.

<sup>9</sup> The length of each curtain was 42 feet long and 6 feet wide. All the curtains were the same size.

<sup>10</sup> He joined five curtains to one another and then a second set of five curtains he joined together as well.

<sup>11</sup> He made loops of blue along the edge of the one set of curtains and did the same on the edge of the second set of curtains.

<sup>12</sup> He made fifty loops on the first curtain set, and fifty loops on the edge of the second curtain set lining up the loops with one another.

<sup>13</sup> Then he made fifty gold clasps and coupled the curtains to one another with the clasps so the tabernacle was one single unit.

<sup>14</sup> Then he made curtains of goats' hair for a tent over the tabernacle, eleven curtains total.

<sup>15</sup> Each curtain was 45 feet long and 6 feet wide. All eleven curtains were the same size.

<sup>16</sup> Then he joined five curtains by themselves and the other six curtains by themselves.

<sup>18</sup> Then he made fifty bronze clasps to couple the tent together into a single unit.

<sup>23</sup> So he made the 20 framing boards for the tabernacle's south side.

<sup>24</sup> He made forty bases of silver to go under the twenty boards; two sockets per board for its two pegs, and likewise two bases under the next framing board for its two pegs.

<sup>25</sup> For the second side of the tabernacle, on the north side, he made twenty framing boards, <sup>26</sup> along with their forty bases of silver; two bases to go under one framing board, and two sockets under the next.

<sup>27</sup> For the back side of the tabernacle, on the west, he made six boards.

Both corners were built the same way.

<sup>30</sup> So there were eight framing boards and their bases of silver, sixteen bases with two bases per framing board.

<sup>31</sup> Then he made crossbars of acacia wood; five for the boards on the one side of the tabernacle, <sup>32</sup> and five crossbars for the boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five crossbars for the boards for the back of the tabernacle on the west.

<sup>33</sup> He made the middle crossbar to pass through in the middle of the framing boards from the one end to the other.

<sup>34</sup> Then he overlaid the framing boards with gold, and made rings of gold to hold the bars. He also overlaid the crossbars with gold.

<sup>35</sup> He made the veil of blue, purple, scarlet yarn and fine twined linen with cherubim embroidered into it, the work of a skilled craftsman.

<sup>38</sup> the five posts with their hooks. He overlaid their tops and their bands with gold; and their five bases were made of bronze.

DASV: Exodus 37

- <sup>1</sup> Bezalel made the ark of acacia wood, 45 inches long, 27 inches wide, and 27 inches high.
- <sup>2</sup> He overlaid it with pure gold inside and out and made a molding of gold around it.
- <sup>3</sup> He cast four rings of gold for it, installed them on its four feet; two rings on the one side and two rings on the other.
- <sup>4</sup> Then he made poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.
- <sup>5</sup> He put the poles through the rings on the sides of the ark to carry it.
- <sup>6</sup> Then he made a mercy seat of pure gold that was 45 inches long and 27 inches wide.
- <sup>7</sup> He made two cherubim of hammered gold and put them at the two ends of the mercy seat,
- <sup>8</sup> one cherub at the one end and one cherub at the other end. He made the cherubim one piece with the mercy seat at its two ends.
- <sup>9</sup> The cherubim spread out their wings on high, with their wings arching over the mercy seat. The cherubim faced each other looking toward the mercy seat.
- <sup>10</sup> He made the table of acacia wood, three feet long, 18 inches wide and 27 inches high.
- <sup>11</sup> He overlaid it with pure gold and made a molding of gold around it.
- <sup>12</sup> He made a 3 inch rim around it, and made a golden molding on around its border.
- <sup>13</sup> He cast four rings of gold for it and attached the rings to the four corners that were on its four feet.
- <sup>14</sup> The rings were close to the rim providing places for the poles with which to carry the table.
- <sup>15</sup> He made the poles for carrying the table of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.
- <sup>16</sup> Then he made the vessels of pure gold that were to be put on the table--its plates, spoons, bowls and pitchers, with which to pour out the drink offerings.
- <sup>17</sup> He made the lampstand of pure hammered gold along with its base and shaft, cups, buds and its flowers were made of one piece.
- <sup>18</sup> There were six branches extending out from its sides. Three branches of the candlestick went out of the one side of it and three branches out of the other.
- <sup>19</sup> Three cups shaped like almond blossoms with buds and blossoms on one branch, and three cups shaped like almond blossoms with buds and blossoms on the other branch, and so on for the six branches extending out of the lampstand.
- <sup>20</sup> On the lampstand itself there were four cups shaped like almond blossoms each with their buds and blossoms.

<sup>22</sup> Their buds and branches were made of one piece; the whole thing was one piece hammered out of pure gold.

<sup>23</sup> He made its seven lamps, lamp snuffers and trays of pure gold.

<sup>25</sup> Next he made the altar of incense of acacia wood; a square, 18 inches long, 18 inches wide and 36 inches high. Its horns were made of one piece with it.

<sup>26</sup> He overlaid the top, sides and horns with pure gold and made a molding of gold around it.

<sup>27</sup> He made two golden rings under its molding on its two opposite sides, as places for the poles by which to carry it.

<sup>28</sup> He made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.

<sup>29</sup> Then he made the holy anointing oil and the pure fragrant incense, the work of a perfumer.

DASV: Exodus 38

<sup>1</sup> Then Bezalel made the altar of burnt offering of acacia wood: a square, seven feet six inches long, seven feet six inches wide and four feet six inches high.

<sup>4</sup> He made a grating for the altar, a network of bronze, under the ledge around it halfway down.

<sup>5</sup> He cast four rings for the four corners of the grating of bronze, to be places for the carrying poles.

<sup>7</sup> Then he put the poles through the rings on the sides of the altar with which to carry it. He made the altar hollow out of boards.

<sup>8</sup> Then he made the basin of bronze, and its stand of bronze from the mirrors donated by the women who served at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>9</sup> He made the courtyard. The south side curtains of the courtyard were of fine twined linen, 150 feet long.

<sup>10</sup> It had twenty posts and twenty bronze bases, with the hooks and bands made of silver.

<sup>14</sup> The curtains for the one side of the entrance were 22 ½ feet long with three posts and three bases.

<sup>15</sup> The curtains for the other side of the entrance of the courtyard were just like the other. They were 22 ½ feet long with three posts and three bases.

<sup>16</sup> All the curtains around the courtyard were made of fine twined linen.

<sup>17</sup> The bases for the pillars were of bronze with the hooks on the posts and their bands made of silver. The courtyard post tops were overlaid with silver and each had bands made of silver.

<sup>20</sup> All the pegs of the tabernacle and of the courtyard were made of bronze.

<sup>21</sup> This is the inventory of things used for the tabernacle, the tabernacle of the testimony, as they were counted, according to the commandment of Moses, the work of the Levites under the direction of Ithamar, the son of Aaron the priest.

<sup>22</sup> Now Bezalel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, from the tribe of Judah, made all that the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>26</sup> One beka per person, it is half a shekel as measured by the sanctuary shekel, for everyone who was counted over twenty years old, 603,550 men total.

<sup>27</sup> The 7,500 pounds of silver were used for casting the bases of the sanctuary, and the bases of the sanctuary curtain; a hundred bases for the 7,500 pounds, or 75 pounds per base.

<sup>31</sup> the bases all around the courtyard, and the bases for the entrance of the courtyard and all the pegs of the tabernacle and around the courtyard.

DASV: Exodus 39

<sup>3</sup> They hammered the gold into thin leaf, then cut it into threads to work it in the blue, purple and scarlet yarn and into the fine linen, the work of the skilful craftsman.

<sup>4</sup> They made shoulder pieces for the ephod, attaching their two ends so they could be fastened on.

<sup>6</sup> They mounted the onyx stones, in settings of gold filigree and engraved it like a seal with the names of the tribes of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> He then attached them to the shoulder-pieces of the ephod, as memorial stones for the Israelites just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>8</sup> Then he made the breastpiece, the work of the skilful craftsman. It was made like the ephod of gold, blue, purple and scarlet yarn and fine twined linen.

<sup>9</sup> It was nine inches square. The breastpiece was made into a pouch by folding the material back double.

<sup>10</sup> They set on it four rows of stones. The first row was of red carnelian, topaz and beryl;

<sup>14</sup> There were twelve stones according to the names of the sons of Israel. Each name engraved like a seal corresponding to the names of the twelve tribes.

<sup>16</sup> Then they made two gold filigree settings and two gold rings and attached the two rings on the top corners of the breastpiece.

<sup>17</sup> They attached the two woven gold chains to the two rings at the edges of the breastpiece.

<sup>18</sup> The other two ends of the two woven chains they attached to the two settings, and fastened them on the front shoulder pieces of the ephod.

<sup>19</sup> They made two rings of gold and attached them to the two lower corners of the breastpiece on the inside edges next to the ephod.

<sup>21</sup> They tied the breastpiece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a blue cord, so that it was above the skilfully woven waistband of the ephod, and so that the breastpiece might not come loose from the ephod; just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>25</sup> They made bells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates around the hem of the robe between the pomegranates.

<sup>28</sup> and the turban of fine linen and the head bands of fine linen, with undergarments of fine twined linen.

<sup>29</sup> The sash was made of fine twisted linen, and blue, purple and scarlet yarn, the work of the embroiderer; just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>30</sup> Then they made the plate for the holy diadem of pure gold, and wrote on it an inscription, like the engravings on a seal: "Holy to the LORD."

<sup>32</sup> So all the work on the tabernacle of the Tent of Meeting was finished. The Israelites did everything just as the LORD had commanded Moses, that's exactly what they did.

<sup>33</sup> Then they brought the tabernacle to Moses, the tent, and all its furnishings, clasps, framing-boards, crossbars, posts and bases;

<sup>34</sup> and the coverings of rams' skins dyed red, and the covering of fine leather, and the shielding inner curtain;

<sup>35</sup> the ark of the testimony, and its poles and the mercy seat;

<sup>37</sup> the pure gold lampstand, with its symmetrically arranged lamps, and all its accessories, and olive oil for the light;

<sup>38</sup> and the golden altar, the anointing oil and the fragrant incense, and the curtain for the entrance of the tent;

<sup>40</sup> the curtains for the courtyard with its posts and bases, and the curtain for the entrance of the court, and its ropes and pegs, and all the furnishing for the service of the tabernacle, for the Tent of Meeting;

<sup>41</sup> the finely woven garments for ministering in the holy place, and the holy garments for Aaron the priest, and the garments for his sons to wear when ministering as priests.

<sup>42</sup> So the Israelites did all the work according to everything the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>43</sup> When Moses saw they had done all the work just as the LORD had commanded--they actually did it--Moses blessed them.

DASV: Exodus 40

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses,

<sup>2</sup> "On the first day of the first month you shall set up the tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>9</sup> You shall take the anointing oil, and anoint the tabernacle, and everything that is in it, and consecrate it and all its furniture and it will be holy.

<sup>10</sup> Then you shall anoint the altar of burnt offering and all its utensils, and sanctify the altar. The altar shall be most holy.

<sup>11</sup> Then you shall anoint the basin and its stand, and consecrate it.

<sup>13</sup> You shall clothe Aaron with the holy garments; and you shall anoint him, and consecrate him, that he may serve me as priest.

<sup>14</sup> You shall bring forward his sons and clothe them with tunics,

<sup>15</sup> and anoint them, as you anointed their father, that they also may serve me as priests. Their anointing shall make them a perpetual priesthood throughout their generations."

<sup>16</sup> Moses did according to all that the LORD had commanded him, that is exactly what he did.

<sup>17</sup> So on the first day of the first month in the second year, the tabernacle was set up.

<sup>18</sup> Moses set up the tabernacle, laid its bases, set up its framing boards, attached its crossbars and reared its posts.

<sup>19</sup> Then he spread the tent coverings over the tabernacle frames, and put the covering layers of the tent on it, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>20</sup> Then he took the testimony tablets and put them into the ark, and attached the poles to the ark, and set the mercy seat on top of the ark.

<sup>22</sup> Then he put the table in the Tent of Meeting, on the north side of the tabernacle, outside the inner curtain.

<sup>23</sup> He set the bread in order on it before the LORD, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>24</sup> Then he put the lampstand in the Tent of Meeting, opposite the table, on the south side of the tabernacle.

<sup>29</sup> Then he set the altar for the burnt offering at the entrance of the tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting, and offered a burnt offering and a grain offering on it, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>34</sup> Then the cloud covered the Tent of Meeting, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.

<sup>35</sup> Even Moses was not able to enter the Tent of Meeting because the cloud had settled on it, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.

<sup>36</sup> Whenever the cloud lifted from over the tabernacle, the Israelites would set out on their journeys, <sup>37</sup> but if the cloud did not lift, they did not set out on their journey until it was lifted.

<sup>38</sup> For the cloud of the LORD was on the tabernacle by day, and there was fire in the cloud at night, in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their journeys.

DASV: Leviticus
Leviticus 1

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD called to Moses and spoke to him from the Tent of Meeting, saying:

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites and say to them, 'When anyone brings an offering to the LORD, you must bring your offering of livestock from the herd or the flock.

<sup>3</sup> If his offering is a burnt offering from the herd, it must be a male without defect. He must bring it to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, so that it may be acceptable before the LORD.

<sup>4</sup> The presenter should lay his hand on the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be accepted for him to make atonement on his behalf.

<sup>7</sup> The sons of Aaron the priest are to build a fire on the altar and arrange the wood on it.

<sup>8</sup> Aaron's sons, the priests, must arrange the pieces, the head and the fat on the burning wood that is on the altar.

<sup>9</sup> But its internal organs and its legs the presenter must wash with water. The priest must burn the entire sacrifice on the altar, as a burnt offering, an offering made by fire as a sweet aroma to the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> If his offering is from the flock, either from the sheep or goats, for a burnt offering, he must offer a male without defect.

<sup>11</sup> He must kill it on the north side of the altar before the LORD and Aaron's sons, the priests, must splash its blood around the sides of the altar.

<sup>12</sup> The presenter must cut it into its pieces, with its head and its fat. The priest must arrange them on the burning wood that is on the altar.

<sup>13</sup> But the internal organs and the legs he must wash with water. The priest must offer the whole sacrifice, and burn it on the altar. It is a burnt offering, an offering made by fire as a sweet aroma to the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> If his offering to the LORD is a burnt offering of birds, then he must bring his offering of either turtledoves or young pigeons.

<sup>15</sup> The priest must bring it to the altar, wring off its head and burn it on the altar. Its blood must be drained out against the side of the altar.

<sup>16</sup> Then he must remove its crop with its feathers, and throw them on the east side of the altar where the ashes are.

<sup>17</sup> Then he should tear it open by its wings, without totally severing it. The priest must burn it on the altar on the burning wood. It is a burnt offering, an offering made by fire as a sweet aroma to the LORD.

Leviticus 2

<sup>1</sup> When anyone offers a grain offering to the LORD, his offering should be made of fine flour. He shall pour olive oil on it, and put frankincense on it.

<sup>2</sup> He shall bring it to Aaron's sons the priests; and the priest must take out of it a handful of the fine flour and its oil with all of its frankincense. Then the priest must burn this memorial portion on the altar, an offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>4</sup> When you offer a grain offering baked in the oven, it should be unleavened loaves made of fine flour mingled with olive oil or unleavened wafers spread with olive oil.

<sup>6</sup> You shall break it up into pieces, and pour olive oil on it. It is a grain offering.

<sup>7</sup> If your offering is a grain offering prepared in a pan, it should be made of fine flour mixed with olive oil.

<sup>8</sup> Then you must bring the grain offering that must be made of these things to the LORD. It should be presented to the priest and he will bring it to the altar.

<sup>9</sup> The priest shall take out of the grain offering its memorial portion and burn it on the altar, an offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>11</sup> No grain offering that you offer to the LORD should be made with yeast; for you shall not burn any yeast or honey as an offering made by fire to the LORD.

<sup>12</sup> As an offering of first fruits you may offer them to the LORD but they shall not be offered up on the altar as a pleasing aroma.

<sup>13</sup> All of your grain offerings should be seasoned with salt. Do not omit the salt of the covenant of your God from your grain offering. Always add salt to your grain offerings.

<sup>15</sup> You shall put olive oil on it and sprinkle frankincense on it; it is a grain offering.

<sup>16</sup> Then the priest must burn the memorial portion of it, some of its crushed grain, with its olive oil and all its frankincense. It is an offering made by fire to the LORD.

Leviticus 3

<sup>1</sup> Now if his offering is a peace offering sacrifice, if he offers an animal from the herd, whether male or female, he shall offer it without defect before the LORD.

<sup>2</sup> He shall lay his hand on the head of his offering, and slaughter it at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. Then Aaron's sons, the priests, shall splash the blood against all sides of the altar.

<sup>3</sup> He shall offer part of the sacrifice of peace offering as an offering made by fire to the LORD; the fat that covers the internal organs, as well as all the fat that is around the internal organs,

<sup>4</sup> the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them near the loins and the long lobe of the liver, he shall remove that along with the kidneys.

<sup>5</sup> Then Aaron's sons shall burn it on the altar on top of the burnt offering that is on the burning wood. It is an offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> If his offering for a peace offering sacrifice to the LORD is from the flock; whether male or female, he should offer it without defect.

<sup>7</sup> If he offers a lamb for his offering, then he shall offer it before the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> He shall lay his hand on the head of his offering, and slaughter it before the Tent of Meeting. Then Aaron's sons must splash its blood against all sides of the altar.

<sup>9</sup> He shall offer of the peace offering sacrifice as an offering made by fire to the LORD. He must remove the entire fat tail close to the backbone and the fat that covers the internal organs, and all the fat that is around the internal organs,

<sup>10</sup> the two kidneys and the fat that is on them near the loins and the long lobe of the liver, he shall remove that along with the kidneys.

<sup>11</sup> Then the priest shall burn it on the altar as a food offering made by fire to the LORD.

<sup>12</sup> If his offering is a goat, then he shall offer it before the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> He shall lay his hand on its head, and slaughter it before the Tent of Meeting. Aaron's sons must splash its blood against all sides of the altar.

<sup>14</sup> He shall offer his offering, an offering made by fire to the LORD. He must remove the fat that covers the internal organs, and all the fat that is around the internal organs,

<sup>15</sup> the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them near the loins, and the long lobe of the liver, he shall remove that along with the kidneys.

<sup>16</sup> Then the priest shall burn it on the altar as a food offering made by fire as a pleasing aroma. All the fat is the LORD's.

<sup>17</sup> It shall be a perpetual statute throughout your generations wherever you live. You must never eat any fat or blood."

Leviticus 4

<sup>2</sup> "Tell the Israelites, 'If anyone sins unintentionally in any of the things that the LORD commanded not to be done, and does any one of them,

<sup>3</sup> if the anointed priest sins bringing guilt on the people, then he must offer a sin offering for his sin, a young bull without defect to the LORD for the sin he has committed.

<sup>5</sup> Then the anointed priest must take of the blood of the bull and bring it to the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>7</sup> The priest must put of the blood on the horns of the altar of fragrant incense before the LORD, that is inside the Tent of Meeting. All the rest of the blood of the bull, he will pour out at the base of the altar of burnt offering, that is at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>8</sup> All the fat of the bull of the sin offering he must remove--the fat that covers the internal organs, and all the fat that is around the internal organs,

<sup>9</sup> the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them near the loins, and the long lobe of the liver, he must remove along with the kidneys,

<sup>11</sup> The hide of the bull and all its meat along with its head, legs, and internal organs and dung, <sup>12</sup> all the rest of the bull he must bring outside the camp to a clean place where the ashes are poured out, and burn it on wood with fire. It must be burned up at the ash heap.

<sup>13</sup> If the whole congregation of Israel sins unintentionally, and the matter is hid from the eyes of the assembly, and they have done any of the things that the LORD has commanded not to be done, they are still guilty.

<sup>14</sup> When the sin that they have committed is discovered, then the assembly must offer a young bull for a sin offering, and bring it before the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>15</sup> Then the elders of the congregation will lay their hands on the head of the bull before the LORD; and the bull will be slaughtered before the LORD.

<sup>16</sup> The anointed priest will bring of the blood of the bull to the Tent of Meeting, <sup>17</sup> and the priest will dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle it seven times before the LORD, before the curtain inside the sanctuary.

<sup>18</sup> He will put some of the blood on the horns of the incense altar that is before the LORD, in the Tent of Meeting. All the rest of the blood he will pour out at the base of the altar of burnt offering that is at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>19</sup> All its fat he must remove and burn on the altar.

<sup>20</sup> So he will do with the bull just like he did with the bull of the sin offering. He shall do the same with this one. This is how the priest will make atonement for them, and they will be forgiven.

<sup>21</sup> Then he will bring the bull outside the camp, and burn it just like he burned the first bull. It is the sin offering for the assembly.

<sup>22</sup> When a ruler sins unintentionally doing any one of all the things that the LORD his God has commanded not to be done, he is still guilty.

<sup>23</sup> If his sin that he has committed is made known to him, he must bring for his offering a male goat without defect.

<sup>25</sup> Then the priest must take some of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it on the horns of the altar of burnt offering and pour out the rest of its blood at the base of the altar of burnt offering.

<sup>26</sup> All its fat he must burn on the altar, just like the fat of the sacrifice of peace offerings. This is how the priest will make atonement for him concerning his sin, and he will be forgiven.

<sup>27</sup> If any one of the common people sin unintentionally doing any of the things that the LORD has commanded not to be done, they are still guilty.

<sup>28</sup> If his sin that he has committed is made known to him, then he must bring for his offering a female goat without defect, for his sin that he has committed.

<sup>29</sup> He will lay his hand on the head of the sin offering, and slaughter the sin offering at the same place as the burnt offering.

<sup>30</sup> Then the priest must take its blood with his finger, and put it on the horns of the altar of burnt offering and pour out the rest of its blood at the base of the altar.

<sup>31</sup> All its fat he must remove, just like the fat is removed from the sacrifice of peace offerings. The priest must burn it on the altar as a fragrant aroma to the LORD. This is how the priest will make atonement for him, and he will be forgiven.

<sup>32</sup> But if he brings a lamb as his sin offering, he must bring a female without defect.

<sup>33</sup> He shall lay his hand on the head of the sin offering, and slaughter it for a sin offering in the same place where they slaughter the burnt offering.

<sup>34</sup> Then the priest must take the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering and pour out the rest of its blood at the base of the altar.

<sup>35</sup> All its fat he must remove, just like the fat of the lamb is removed from the sacrifice of peace offerings. The priest must burn it on the altar, on top of the offerings to the LORD made by fire. This is how the priest will make atonement for him regarding his sin that he has committed, and he will be forgiven.

Leviticus 5

<sup>1</sup> If anyone sins, in that he hears a public curse against someone who fails to testify, though he saw or knew what happened and did not speak up, then he will be subject to punishment for his iniquity.

<sup>2</sup> If anyone touches anything ceremonially unclean, whether the carcass of an unclean wild animal, or the carcass of an unclean livestock, or the carcass of an unclean creeping thing, and he is unaware of it but he is unclean and is guilty;

<sup>3</sup> or if he touches human uncleanness, whatever uncleanness by which one may become unclean, even though he is unaware of it, when he realizes it and is guilty;

<sup>4</sup> or if anyone swears an oath rashly with his lips, whether to do evil or to do good, whatever it is that he has uttered rashly with an oath, even though he is unaware of it, when he realizes it and is guilty;

<sup>5</sup> when he realizes his guilt in anyone of these cases, he must confess how he has sinned.

<sup>6</sup> Then he must bring to the LORD as a penalty for his sin that he has committed, a female from the flock, either a lamb or a goat, for a sin offering. In this way the priest will make atonement for him concerning his sin.

<sup>7</sup> If he cannot afford a lamb, then he shall bring to the LORD as his penalty for his sin that he has committed, two turtledoves or two young pigeons, one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering.

<sup>8</sup> He must bring them to the priest, who shall offer first the sin offering. The priest shall wring its neck, but not sever its head from its body.

<sup>9</sup> Then he must sprinkle some of the blood of the sin offering on the side of the altar; and the rest of the blood must be drained out at the base of the altar. It is a sin offering.

<sup>10</sup> Then the priest must offer the second bird as a burnt offering, according to the prescribed procedure; and the priest must make atonement for him concerning his sin that he has committed, and he will be forgiven.

<sup>11</sup> But if he cannot afford two turtle doves, or two young pigeons, then he must bring his offering for the sin he has committed, two quarts of fine flour for a sin offering. He should not put olive oil or any frankincense on it, for it is a sin offering.

<sup>12</sup> Then he must bring it to the priest, and the priest shall take a handful of it as the memorial portion, and offer it on the altar, on top of the offerings to the LORD made by fire. It is a sin offering.

<sup>13</sup> In this way the priest will make atonement for him for the sin that he has committed in any of these things, and he will be forgiven. The rest of the offering will be the priest's, just like the grain offering."

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>15</sup> "If anyone commits a trespass and sins unintentionally in regard to any of the holy things of the LORD, then he must bring his guilt offering to the LORD, a ram without defect from of the flock, convertible into silver shekels according to the shekel of the sanctuary; for a guilt offering.

<sup>16</sup> He must make restitution for whatever he has done amiss against the holy thing, and must add one fifth to it, and give it to the priest. Then the priest will make atonement for him with the ram of the guilt offering, and he will be forgiven.

<sup>17</sup> If any one sins, and does any of the things which the LORD has commanded not to be done; though he did not realize it, yet is guilty, then he will bear his iniquity.

<sup>18</sup> Then he must bring a ram without defect from of the flock, or its equivalent, for a guilt offering to the priest. Then the priest will make atonement for him concerning the unintentional sin, and he will be forgiven.

Leviticus 6

<sup>2</sup> "If anyone sins and acts unfaithfully against the LORD by deceiving his neighbor in a matter involving a security deposit, or a pledge, or by robbery, or cheating his neighbor,

<sup>3</sup> or has found something lost, and lies about it, or swears a lie is true, sinning in any of all these things that someone may do;

<sup>4</sup> if he has sinned, and realizes his guilt, then he must restore whatever he stole, or had gotten by extortion, or the security deposit that was entrusted to him, or the thing lost that he had found,

<sup>5</sup> or anything about which he had sworn falsely; he must restore it in full, and must add twenty percent more to it repaying its owner on the day he presents his guilt offering.

<sup>6</sup> He must bring his guilt offering to the LORD to the priest, a ram without defect from the flock, or its equivalent for a guilt offering.

<sup>7</sup> In this way the priest will make atonement for him before the LORD and he will be forgiven concerning whatever he did that made him guilty."

<sup>8</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>9</sup> "Command Aaron and his sons, 'This is the law of the burnt offering. The burnt offering must be left on the hearth of the altar all night until morning, and the fire of the altar must be kept burning.

<sup>10</sup> The priest must put on his linen garment, and his linen undergarments that are next to his body; and he must take up the ashes from the burnt offering that the fire has consumed on the altar, and he will put them beside the altar.

<sup>11</sup> Then he must take off his garments, and put on other clothes, and carry the ashes outside the camp to a ceremonially clean place, <sup>12</sup> but the fire on the altar must be kept burning. It must not go out. Every morning the priest must add fresh wood to the fire and he must arrange the burnt offering on it, and burn the fat of the peace offerings on it.

<sup>13</sup> The fire must be kept burning on the altar continually. It must not go out.

<sup>14</sup> This is the law of the grain offering. The sons of Aaron shall offer it before the LORD, in front of the altar.

<sup>15</sup> The priest will take a handful of fine flour from the grain offering, along with its olive oil, and all the frankincense that is on the grain offering. He must burn this memorial portion on the altar as a fragrant aroma to the LORD.

<sup>17</sup> It must not be baked with yeast. I have given it as their portion of my offerings made by fire; it is most holy, like the sin offering and the guilt offering.

<sup>19</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>20</sup> "This is the offering for Aaron and his sons, that they must offer to the LORD in the day when he is anointed: two quarts of fine flour for a regular grain offering, half of it in the morning, and half of it in the evening.

<sup>21</sup> It must be made with olive oil on the griddle, you must bring it well mixed, in baked pieces, as a grain offering as a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>23</sup> Every grain offering of the priest must be burned up completely. It must not be eaten."

<sup>24</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>25</sup> "Speak to Aaron and his sons, saying, 'This is the law of the sin offering: in the place where the burnt offering is slaughtered, the sin offering must be slaughtered before the LORD. It is most holy.

<sup>26</sup> The priest who offers it for sin may eat it. It must be eaten in a holy place; in the court of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>27</sup> Whatever touches its meat will become holy; whenever some blood gets splattered on a garment, you must wash whatever was splattered on it in a holy place.

<sup>28</sup> Any clay pot within which it was boiled must be broken; but if it was boiled in a bronze pot, then it shall be scrubbed out and thoroughly rinsed with water.

<sup>29</sup> Every male among the priests may eat it; it is most holy.

<sup>30</sup> But any sin offering from which any of the blood was brought into the Tent of Meeting to make atonement in the holy place, must not be eaten. It must be burned up with fire.

<sup>1</sup> This is the law of the guilt offering. It is most holy.

<sup>2</sup> In the place where they slaughter the burnt offering, they must slaughter the guilt offering; and its blood must be sprinkled against all sides of the altar.

<sup>3</sup> Then the priest must offer all its fat: the fat tail and the fat that covers the internal organs, <sup>4</sup> the two kidneys with the fat that is on them near the loins, and the lobe of the liver, he must remove with the kidneys.

<sup>5</sup> The priest must burn them on the altar for an offering made by fire to the LORD. It is a guilt offering.

<sup>6</sup> Any male among the priests may eat it. It must be eaten in a holy place. It is most holy.

<sup>7</sup> The guilt offering is like the sin offering; there is one ritual for both of them. It belongs to the priest who makes atonement with it.

<sup>8</sup> The priest who offers anyone's burnt offering gets to keep the skin of the burnt offering that he has offered.

<sup>9</sup> Any grain offering that is baked in the oven, and all that is prepared in the pan or on a griddle, will belong to the priest who offers it.

<sup>10</sup> Every grain offering, mixed with olive oil, or dry, belongs equally to all the sons of Aaron.

<sup>12</sup> If he offers it for a thanksgiving, then he must offer, along with the sacrifice of thanksgiving, unleavened loaves mixed with olive oil, unleavened wafers spread with olive oil, and cakes of fine flour mixed with olive oil.

<sup>13</sup> Along with his peace offering for thanksgiving he must bring his offering loaves of leavened bread.

<sup>15</sup> The meat from the sacrifice of his thanksgiving peace offerings must be eaten on the same day it is offered. None of it may be left over until the next morning.

<sup>16</sup> But if the sacrifice of his offering is to fulfill a vow or a freewill offering, it may be eaten on the day that he offers his sacrifice and any leftovers may be eaten on the next day.

<sup>18</sup> If any of the meat of the peace offering sacrifice is eaten on the third day, it will not be accepted, neither will it be credited to the one who offered it. It is spoiled and the person who eats it shall bear his iniquity.

<sup>19</sup> The meat that touches anything unclean must not be eaten; it must be burned up with fire. As for rest of the meat, all who are clean may eat it.

<sup>20</sup> But if anyone eats the meat of the peace offering sacrifice that belongs to the LORD, while being unclean, that person must be cut off from his people.

<sup>22</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>23</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, saying, 'You must not eat fat from an ox, sheep or goat.

<sup>24</sup> The fat of an animal found dead or torn by wild animals, may be used for any other purpose but you must not eat it.

<sup>26</sup> You must never eat blood, whether it be from a bird or an animal, anywhere you live.

<sup>28</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>29</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, saying, 'The one who offers his peace offering sacrifice to the LORD must bring his offering to the LORD from his peace offering sacrifice.

<sup>30</sup> His own hands must bring the offerings of the LORD made by fire. He must bring the fat with the breast so that the breast may be waved high for a wave offering before the LORD.

<sup>31</sup> Then the priest must burn the fat on the altar; but the breast will belong to Aaron and his sons.

<sup>32</sup> Give the right thigh of your peace offering to the priest as a contribution.

<sup>33</sup> Whoever of the sons of Aaron offers the blood and fat of the peace offerings will have the right thigh for his portion.

<sup>37</sup> This is the law of the burnt offering, the grain offering, the sin offering, the guilt offering, the ordination offering, and the peace offering sacrifice

Leviticus 8

<sup>2</sup> "Take Aaron and his sons with him, along with the garments, the anointing oil, the bull for the sin offering, the two rams and the basket of unleavened bread,

<sup>7</sup> Then he put on him the tunic, and wrapped the sash around him, and clothed him with the robe, and put the ephod on him, and attached the ephod with the skilfully woven waistband, and fastened it on him with the waistband.

<sup>8</sup> He placed the breastpiece on him, and in the breastpiece he put the Urim and the Thummim.

<sup>10</sup> Then Moses took the anointing oil, and anointed the tabernacle and everything in it, and so consecrated them.

<sup>11</sup> He sprinkled some of it on the altar seven times, and anointed the altar and all its utensils, and the wash basin and its stand, to consecrate them.

<sup>12</sup> Then he poured some of the anointing oil on Aaron's head, and anointed him to consecrate him.

<sup>14</sup> Then he presented the bull for the sin offering. Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the bull of the sin offering.

<sup>16</sup> Then he took all the fat that was on the internal organs, the long lobe of the liver and the two kidneys with their fat, and Moses burned it on the altar.

<sup>19</sup> Then Moses slaughtered it. Moses splashed the rest of the blood against all sides of the altar.

<sup>20</sup> Then he cut the ram into pieces, and Moses burned the head, the pieces and the fat.

<sup>21</sup> But he washed the internal organs and the legs with water, and Moses burned the whole ram on the altar as a burnt offering for a pleasing aroma. It was an offering made by fire to the LORD, just as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>28</sup> Next Moses took them from their hands and burned them on the altar on top of the burnt offering. This was an ordination offering for a pleasing aroma; it was an offering made by fire to the LORD.

<sup>29</sup> Then Moses took the breast, and waved it high for a wave offering before the LORD. It was Moses' portion of the ram of ordination just as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>31</sup> Then Moses said to Aaron and his sons, "Boil the meat at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, and eat it there along with the bread that is in the basket of ordination offering, just as I commanded, saying, 'Aaron and his sons shall eat it.'

<sup>34</sup> Everything done this day, the LORD has commanded in order to make atonement for you.

<sup>35</sup> You shall remain at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting day and night for seven days, and perform everything the LORD has charged so that you do not die, for this is what I was commanded."

Leviticus 9

<sup>2</sup> He said to Aaron, "Take a young bull for a sin offering and a ram for a burnt offering, both without defect, and offer them before the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> Then speak to the Israelites, saying, "Take a male goat for a sin offering and a calf and a lamb, both a year old and without defect, for a burnt offering,

<sup>4</sup> and an ox and a ram for peace offerings, to sacrifice before the LORD, along with a grain offering mingled with olive oil, for today the LORD will appear to you."

<sup>5</sup> So they brought what Moses commanded to the front of the Tent of Meeting and the whole congregation drew near and stood before the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> Moses said, "This is what the LORD commanded you to do so that the glory of the LORD may appear to you."

<sup>7</sup> Then Moses said to Aaron, "Approach the altar, and offer your sin offering and burnt offering, and make atonement for yourself and the people; then offer the people's offering and make atonement for them, just as the LORD commanded."

<sup>8</sup> So Aaron approached the altar and slaughtered the calf as a sin offering for himself.

<sup>10</sup> But the fat, the kidneys, and the long lobe of the liver from the sin offering, he burned on the altar just as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>12</sup> Then he slaughtered the burnt offering. Aaron's sons brought to him the blood, and he splashed it on all sides of the altar.

<sup>13</sup> They handed the burnt offering to him, piece by piece, including the head, and he burned them on the altar.

<sup>14</sup> He washed the internal organs and the legs, and burned them on top of the burnt offering on the altar.

<sup>15</sup> Next he presented the people's offering, and took the goat for the people's sin offering, slaughtered it and offered it for a sin offering like the first one.

<sup>16</sup> Then he presented the burnt offering and offered it according to the standard practice.

<sup>17</sup> He presented the grain offering, filled his hand with some of it and burned it on the altar, in addition to the morning burnt offering.

<sup>18</sup> He also slaughtered the ox and the ram for the people's peace offering sacrifice. Aaron's sons brought him the blood, and he splashed it on all sides of the altar.

<sup>19</sup> But the fat of the ox and the ram--the fat tail and the fat that covers the internal organs, along with the kidneys and the long lobe of the liver--

<sup>20</sup> they put on top of the breasts, and he burned the fat portions on the altar.

<sup>22</sup> Then Aaron lifted up his hands toward the people, and blessed them. Then he came down after offering the sin offering, the burnt offering and the peace offerings.

<sup>23</sup> Moses and Aaron went into the Tent of Meeting, came out, and blessed the people and the glory of the LORD appeared to all the people.

<sup>24</sup> Fire flared out from the LORD, and consumed the burnt offering and the fat on the altar. When all the people saw it, they shouted and fell on their faces.

Leviticus 10

<sup>3</sup> Then Moses said to Aaron, "This is what the LORD said, 'I will show myself holy among those who come near me, and before all the people I will be glorified.'" So Aaron kept silent.

<sup>4</sup> Then Moses summoned Mishael and Elzaphan, the sons of Uzziel, Aaron's uncle, and said to them, "Come here, carry your relatives from the front of the sanctuary to a place outside the camp."

<sup>6</sup> Then Moses said to Aaron, and his sons, Eleazar and Ithamar, "Do not dishevel your hair or tear your clothes so that you do not die and that wrath comes on all the congregation. But your kinsmen, the whole house of Israel, may mourn for the ones the LORD has burned up.

<sup>7</sup> Do not leave the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, or you will die; for the anointing oil of the LORD is on you; and they did according to the word of Moses.

<sup>8</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Aaron, saying,

<sup>9</sup> "Do not drink wine or strong drink, you, or your sons with you, when you enter the Tent of Meeting, so that you do not die. This is a statute forever throughout your generations.

<sup>10</sup> You must make a distinction between the holy and the common and between the unclean and the clean,

<sup>11</sup> and you must teach the Israelites all the statutes that the LORD has spoken to them through Moses."

<sup>12</sup> Then Moses spoke to Aaron and his remaining sons, Eleazar and Ithamar, "Take the grain offering left over from the offerings of the LORD made by fire, and eat it without leaven beside the altar, for it is most holy.

<sup>13</sup> You must eat it in a holy place, because it is the allotted portion for you and your sons, from the offerings of the LORD made by fire, for so I am commanded.

<sup>14</sup> And the breast and the thigh waved high you must eat in a clean place, you, your sons and your daughters with you. For they have been given as the allotted portion for you and your sons from the peace offering sacrifices of the Israelites.

<sup>15</sup> The thigh and the breast waved high they must bring with the offerings of fat made by fire, to wave high for a wave offering before the LORD. They are yours and your sons with you, as a perpetual portion just as the LORD has commanded."

<sup>16</sup> When Moses searched for the goat of the sin offering and found it had been burned up already, he was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, Aaron's remaining sons saying,

<sup>17</sup> "Why did you not eat the sin offering in the sanctuary area, seeing it is most holy, and God has given it to you to remove the iniquity of the congregation, to make atonement for them before the LORD?"

<sup>18</sup> Look, its blood was not brought into the inside of the sanctuary. You should certainly have eaten it in the sanctuary, as I commanded."

<sup>19</sup> Then Aaron spoke to Moses, "Today they have offered their sin offering and their burnt offering before the LORD and yet such things as these have happened. If I had eaten the sin offering today, would it have been pleasing in the sight of the LORD?"

- <sup>1</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying to them, <sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, saying, 'These are the living creatures that you may eat among all the land animals.
<sup>3</sup> Any animal that has completely split hooves and chews the cud, you may eat.
<sup>4</sup> Nevertheless these you shall not eat from those that chew the cud or that have split hooves: the camel, even though it chews the cud, it does not split the hoof, so it is unclean for you.
<sup>5</sup> The hyrax chews the cud but does not have split the hooves, it is unclean for you.
<sup>6</sup> The rabbit, even though it chews the cud does not have split hooves, it is unclean for you.
<sup>7</sup> The pig, even though it has completely split hooves does not chew the cud, it is unclean for you.
<sup>8</sup> You must not eat their meat or touch their carcasses; they are unclean for you.
- <sup>9</sup> These you may eat from all the creatures that are in the waters: whatever has fins and scales whether in the seas or streams, you may eat.
<sup>10</sup> But anything that does not have both fins and scales in the seas and streams, from the swarming creatures in the waters or the living creatures that are in the waters, they are detestable to you.
<sup>11</sup> Since they are detestable to you; you shall not eat their meat, and their carcasses you must detest.
<sup>12</sup> Whatever has no fins or scales in the waters, that is detestable to you.
- <sup>13</sup> These you shall detest among the birds; they must not be eaten, they are detestable: the eagle, the vulture, the osprey,
<sup>14</sup> the kite, any kind of falcon,
<sup>15</sup> any kind of raven,
<sup>18</sup> the white owl, the desert owl, the osprey, <sup>19</sup> the stork, any kind of heron, the hoopoe and the bat.
- <sup>20</sup> Every winged creeping thing that walks on all fours is detestable to you.
<sup>22</sup> These you may eat from them: all kinds of locusts, bald locusts, crickets or grasshoppers.
<sup>23</sup> But all winged insects that have four feet, are detestable to you.
- <sup>24</sup> By these you shall become unclean, whoever touches their carcasses will be unclean until the evening.

<sup>25</sup> Whoever carries their carcass must wash his clothes and will be unclean until the evening.

<sup>26</sup> Every animal that has split hooves but not completely divided, or does not chew the cud is unclean to you. Anyone who touches their carcass will be unclean.

<sup>27</sup> All animals that walk on paws, that walk on all fours, they are unclean to you. Whoever touches their carcass will be unclean until the evening.

<sup>29</sup> These are unclean for you among the creatures that swarm on the ground: the rat, the mouse, any kind of large lizard, <sup>30</sup> the gecko, the monitor lizard, the lizard, the sand lizard and the chameleon.

<sup>31</sup> These are the ones that are unclean for you among all that swarm. Whoever touches them when they are dead will be unclean until the evening.

<sup>32</sup> Also anything they fall on when they die will be unclean; whether it be any object of wood, cloth, skin or sackcloth. Whatever its use, it must be dipped in water, and it will be unclean until the evening. Then will it be clean.

<sup>33</sup> Any clay pot they fall into, whatever is in it will be unclean, and you must smash the pot.

<sup>34</sup> All food that may have been eaten will be unclean if water from the pot comes on it; and any drink that may have been drunk from that vessel will be unclean.

<sup>35</sup> Anything their carcass falls on will be unclean; whether an oven or stove, it must be broken in pieces for they are unclean, and will be unclean to you.

<sup>36</sup> However, if the carcass touches a fountain or a cistern that collects water it will be clean. But anyone who touches their carcass will be unclean.

<sup>37</sup> If such a carcass fall on any sowing seed which is to be sown, it is clean.

<sup>38</sup> But if water is put on the seed, and such a carcass falls on it, it is unclean for you.

<sup>39</sup> If any animal that you may eat, dies; anyone who touches its carcass will be unclean until the evening.

<sup>40</sup> One who eats some of the carcass must wash his clothes, and be unclean until the evening. He also that carries its carcass must wash his clothes, and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>41</sup> Every swarming thing that swarms on the ground is detestable; it must not be eaten.

<sup>42</sup> Whatever crawls on its belly, and whatever walks on all fours, or whatever has many feet, all such creeping creatures that swarm on the ground, you must not eat, for they are detestable.

<sup>43</sup> You must not make yourselves detestable with any creature that swarms, you must not make yourselves unclean with them, so that you become unclean by them.

<sup>44</sup> For I am the LORD your God. Consecrate yourselves therefore, and be holy because I am holy. You must not defile yourselves with any manner of swarming thing that creeps on the ground.

<sup>45</sup> For I am the LORD who brought you up out of the land of Egypt, to be your God. Therefore you are to be holy, because I am holy.

<sup>46</sup> This is the law of the land animal, the bird, and every living creature that moves through the waters, and of every creature that swarms on the ground,

<sup>47</sup> to make a distinction between the unclean and the clean, and between the living creature that may be eaten and the living creature that must not be eaten."

Leviticus 12

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, saying, 'If a woman becomes pregnant and has a male child, then she will be unclean seven days; as when she is unclean during her menstrual period.

<sup>4</sup> Then she will continue for 33 days in her blood purification. She must not touch anything holy or enter the sanctuary until the days of her purification are completed.

<sup>5</sup> But if she has a female child, then she will be unclean two weeks, as during her menstrual period. Then she will continue 66 days in the blood purification.

<sup>6</sup> When the days of her purification are completed, for a son or a daughter, she must bring a year old lamb for a burnt offering, a young pigeon or a turtledove for a sin offering, to the priest at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>7</sup> Then the priest will offer it before the LORD and make atonement for her. Then she will be cleansed from her flow of blood. This is the law for the woman who bears a child, whether a male or female.

<sup>8</sup> But if she cannot afford a lamb, then she must bring two turtledoves or two young pigeons; the one for a burnt offering and the other for a sin offering. The priest will make atonement for her and she will be clean."

<sup>2</sup> "When someone has on his skin a swelling, a rash or a bright spot, that may become in the skin a defiling skin disease, then he must be brought to Aaron the priest or to one of his sons who are priests.

<sup>3</sup> The priest will examine the diseased area of the body and if the hair in the diseased area has turned white and the disease appears deeper than the skin, it is a defiling skin disease. The priest after examining him must pronounce the person unclean.

<sup>4</sup> But if the spot is white in the skin of his body and appears no deeper than the skin, and if the hair on the spot has not turned white, then the priest must quarantine the diseased person for seven days.

<sup>5</sup> The priest will examine him on the seventh day and if, in his eyes, the disease is unchanged and it has not spread in the skin, then the priest will quarantine him for seven more days.

<sup>6</sup> Then the priest will examine him again after seven more days and if the disease has faded, and it has not spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean. It is only a rash. Then he must wash his clothes after which he will be clean.

<sup>7</sup> But if the rash has spread in the skin, after he has shown himself to the priest for his cleansing, he must show himself again to the priest.

<sup>8</sup> The priest must examine it and if the rash has spread in the skin, then the priest must pronounce him unclean. It is a skin disease.

<sup>9</sup> When anyone contracts a defiling skin disease, then he must be brought to the priest.

<sup>10</sup> Then priest will examine him and if there is a white swelling in the skin, and it has turned the hair white, and there is raw flesh in the swelling,

<sup>11</sup> it is a chronic skin disease in the skin of his body. Then the priest must pronounce him unclean. He need not quarantine him, yet he is unclean.

<sup>12</sup> If the disease breaks out in the skin, and the disease covers all the person's skin from his head to his feet, as far as the priest can see,

<sup>13</sup> then the priest must examine it, and if the skin disease has covered his whole body, he will pronounce the person who has the disease clean. Since it is all turned white, he is clean.

<sup>14</sup> But whenever raw flesh appears on him, he will be unclean.

<sup>15</sup> Then the priest will examine the raw flesh and pronounce him unclean. Raw flesh is unclean, it is a skin disease.

<sup>16</sup> But if the raw flesh changes and turns white, then he must come to the priest.

<sup>17</sup> The priest must examine him and if the diseased area has turned white, then the priest must pronounce the one with the disease clean. He is clean.

<sup>18</sup> When someone has a boil on his body and it heals, <sup>19</sup> and in place of the boil a white swelling develops, or a reddish white spot, then it must be shown to the priest.

<sup>20</sup> The priest will examine it, and if it appears to be deeper than the skin, and its hair has turned white, then the priest must pronounce him unclean. It is a defiling skin disease, broken out in the boil.

<sup>21</sup> But if the priest examines it and there is no white hair on it, and it is not deeper than the skin but has faded, then the priest must quarantine the person for seven days.

<sup>22</sup> If it spreads in the skin, then the priest must pronounce him unclean, it is a disease.

<sup>23</sup> But if the bright spot stays in one place and does not spread, it is the scar from the boil and the priest will pronounce him clean.

<sup>24</sup> Or when the skin has been burnt, and the raw area of the burn turns reddish white or white, <sup>25</sup> then the priest must examine it; and if the hair in the bright spot has turned white and it appears deeper than the skin, it is a defiling skin disease that has broken out in the burn. The priest must pronounce him unclean. It is a defiling skin disease.

<sup>26</sup> But if the priest examines it, and there is no white hair in the bright spot, and it is not deeper than the skin, and it has faded, then the priest must quarantine the person seven days.

<sup>27</sup> The priest shall examine him on the seventh day; if it has spread in the skin, then the priest must pronounce him unclean. It is a defiling skin disease.

<sup>28</sup> But if the bright spot stays in one place, and has not spread in the skin, but has faded, it is the swelling of the burn, and the priest will pronounce him clean, for it is just the scar from the burn.

<sup>29</sup> When a man or woman has a disease on the head or beard, <sup>30</sup> then the priest must examine the disease and if it appears deeper than the skin, and there is thin yellow hair in it, then the priest must pronounce him unclean. It is a scabby sore of the head or beard.

<sup>31</sup> If the priest examines the scabby sore, and it appears not to be deeper than the skin, and there is no black hair in it, then the priest must quarantine the person with the scabby sore disease for seven days.

<sup>32</sup> On the seventh day the priest will examine the disease and if the scabby sore has not spread, and there is no yellow hair in it, and it appears not to be deeper than the skin,

<sup>33</sup> then he must shave himself, but the scabby sore he must not shave. Then the priest must quarantine the person with the scabby sore for seven more days.

<sup>34</sup> On the seventh day the priest will examine the scabby sore and if the sore has not spread in the skin, and it appears not to be deeper than the skin, then the priest will pronounce him clean. Then he must wash his clothes and he will be clean.

<sup>36</sup> then the priest will examine him and if the scabby sore has spread in the skin, the priest need not look for the yellow hair; the person is unclean.

<sup>37</sup> But if in his eyes the scabby sore has not changed, and black hair has grown in it; the scabby sore is healed, he is clean, and the priest will pronounce him clean.

<sup>38</sup> When a man or woman has on their body bright spots, white bright spots, <sup>39</sup> then the priest will examine it and if the bright spots on the skin of their body are pale white, it is a rash that has broken out in the skin; he is clean.

<sup>42</sup> But if there is a reddish white sore on his bald head or forehead, it is a skin disease breaking out on his bald head or forehead.

<sup>43</sup> Then the priest will examine him and if the swelling of the sore is reddish white on his bald head or forehead, like the appearance of a skin disease on the body, <sup>44</sup> he is diseased and unclean. The priest must surely pronounce him unclean; his disease is on his head.

<sup>45</sup> Anyone who has such a defiling skin disease, his clothes must be torn and the hair of his head disheveled, and he must cover his upper lip, and cry out, 'Unclean, unclean!'

<sup>46</sup> All the days he has the disease he will be ceremonially unclean. He is unclean. He must live alone quarantined outside the camp.

<sup>47</sup> Any garment that is contaminated with mold whether it be a woolen or linen garment;

<sup>48</sup> whether it be in warp, or woof of the linen or wool or in leather or in anything made from leather,

<sup>50</sup> Then the priest must examine it and quarantine the contaminated article for seven days.

<sup>51</sup> He must examine it on the seventh day. If the mold has spread in the garment, either in the warp, woof, or leather--whatever the use of the leather article--it is a contamination of defiling mold. It is unclean.

<sup>52</sup> The priest must burn the garment, whether the mold was in the warp, woof, wool, linen, or anything of leather where the mold is. It is a contamination of defiling mold, it must be burned with fire.

<sup>54</sup> then the priest will command that they wash whatever was contaminated, and he must quarantine it for seven more days.

<sup>55</sup> Then the priest must examine it after it has been washed. If the mold has not changed its appearance even though the mold has not spread, it is still unclean. You must burn it with fire whether the contamination is on the inside or out.

<sup>56</sup> If the priest examines it and the mold has faded after washing it, then he must tear the contaminated part out of the garment, leather, warp or the woof.

<sup>57</sup> If it still reappears in the garment, either in the warp, woof, or in any article of leather, it is spreading. You must burn whatever is contaminated with fire.

<sup>58</sup> But the garment, or the warp, woof, or whatever article of leather that has been washed, if the mold is gone then it must be washed the second time, then it will be clean.

<sup>59</sup> This is the law for the contamination of mold in a garment of wool or linen, either in the warp, woof, or anything of leather, to pronounce it clean or unclean."

Leviticus 14

<sup>2</sup> "This shall be the law for the person with a defiling skin disease in the day of his purification, when he is brought to the priest:

<sup>3</sup> the priest must go outside the camp and examine the disease and if the defiling skin disease is healed in the person, <sup>4</sup> then the priest will command two living clean birds, a piece of cedar wood, scarlet yarn and hyssop twig be brought for the one being cleansed.

<sup>6</sup> Then he will take the living bird, with the cedar wood, the scarlet yarn and the hyssop twig and shall dip them and the living bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the fresh water.

<sup>7</sup> Then he will sprinkle it seven times on the one being cleansed from the defiling skin disease, pronounce him clean, and then let the living bird go in the open field.

<sup>8</sup> The one cleansed must wash his clothes, shave off all his hair and bathe in water, then he shall be clean. After that he may come back into the camp, but must stay outside his tent for seven days.

<sup>9</sup> On the seventh day, he must shave all the hair off his head, his beard and his eyebrows, he must shave off all his hair. Then he must wash his clothes and bathe himself in water, then he will be ritually clean.

<sup>10</sup> Then on the eighth day he must take two male lambs without defect, and one year-old female lamb without defect, and six quarts of fine flour for a grain offering, mixed with olive oil, and a cup of olive oil.

<sup>12</sup> The priest will take one of the male lambs, and offer it for a guilt offering, along with a cup of olive oil, and wave them high for a wave offering before the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> Then he will slaughter the male lamb in the place where they slaughter the sin offering and the burnt offering, in the place of the sanctuary. The guilt offering belongs to the priest just like the sin offering. It is most holy.

<sup>18</sup> The rest of the oil that is in the priest's palm he will put on the head of the one who is to be cleansed. In this way the priest will make atonement for him before the LORD.

<sup>19</sup> Then the priest will offer the sin offering, and make atonement for the one who is to be cleansed because of his ritual uncleanness. Afterward he will slaughter the burnt offering, <sup>20</sup> and the priest will offer the burnt offering and the grain offering on the altar. In this way the priest will make atonement for him, and he will be clean.

<sup>21</sup> But if he is poor, and cannot afford these offerings, then he will take one male lamb for a guilt offering to be waved high, to make atonement for him, and two quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil for a grain offering, and a cup of olive oil,

<sup>22</sup> and two turtledoves or two young pigeons, whichever he can afford; the one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering.

<sup>23</sup> On the eighth day he must bring them for his cleansing to the priest, to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, before the LORD.

<sup>24</sup> Then the priest will take the lamb of the guilt offering, and the cup of olive oil, and the priest will wave them high for a wave offering before the LORD.

<sup>28</sup> Then priest will put of the oil that is in his hand on the tip of the right ear of the one who is to be cleansed, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the big toe of his right foot, on the place where the blood of the guilt offering was put.

<sup>29</sup> The rest of the oil that is in the priest's hand he will put on the head of the one who is to be cleansed, to make atonement for him before the LORD.

<sup>30</sup> Then the priest will offer one of the turtledoves or young pigeons, whichever he can afford, <sup>31</sup> the one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering, along with the grain offering. In this way the priest will make atonement for the person being cleansed before the LORD.

<sup>32</sup> This is the law for him in whom there is a defiling skin disease, who cannot afford the offerings for his cleansing."

<sup>33</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

<sup>34</sup> "When you enter the land of Canaan, which I am giving to you for a possession, and I find a spreading mold in a house in the land of your possession,

<sup>35</sup> then the owner of the house must come and tell the priest, saying, 'There seems to me to be some sort of disease in my house.'

<sup>36</sup> Then the priest must command that they empty the house, before the priest goes in to examine the mold, or all that is in the house may become unclean. Afterward the priest will go in to examine the house.

<sup>37</sup> He shall examine the mold and if the mold is in the walls of the house with greenish or reddish streaks and it appears deeper than the surface of the wall, <sup>38</sup> then the priest must go outside the door of the house, and close up the house for seven days.

<sup>39</sup> The priest must come back on the seventh day, and reexamine it, and if the mold has spread in the walls of the house,

<sup>40</sup> then the priest must order that they remove the stones in which mold appeared, and throw them outside the town in an unclean place.

<sup>41</sup> After that he is to have the inside of the house scraped thoroughly, and they shall dump the mortar they scrape off outside the town in an unclean place.

<sup>42</sup> They shall take other stones and put them in the place of those stones and replaster the house.

<sup>43</sup> If the mold reappears and breaks out in the house, after he has pulled out the stones, scraped the house and replastered it,

<sup>44</sup> then the priest must go and examine it and if the mold has spread in the house, it is a defiling mold in the house. It is unclean.

<sup>45</sup> Then he shall have the house torn down, its stones, wood and all the plaster of the house. He must haul all of it outside the town to an unclean place.

<sup>46</sup> Anyone who goes into the house while it is quarantined will be unclean until evening.

<sup>47</sup> Anyone who sleeps in the house must wash his clothes, and anyone who eats in the house must wash his clothes.

<sup>48</sup> If, however, the priest comes in, and examines it and the mold has not spread in the house, after the house has been replastered, then the priest will pronounce the house clean, because the mold is gone.

<sup>49</sup> Then to cleanse the house he shall bring two birds, with cedar wood, scarlet yarn and hyssop twig.

<sup>51</sup> He will take the cedar wood, the hyssop, the scarlet yarn and the living bird, and dip them in the blood of the slaughtered bird and the fresh water, and sprinkle the house seven times.

<sup>52</sup> Then the priest will cleanse the house with the blood of the bird, the fresh water, the living bird, the cedar wood, the hyssop and the scarlet yarn.

<sup>53</sup> Then he will release the living bird outside the town in the open field. In this way the priest makes atonement for the house, and it will be clean.

<sup>54</sup> This is the law for all manner of defiling skin disease, and for a sore,
<sup>55</sup> and for defiling mold in a garment or a house,
<sup>56</sup> and for a swelling, a rash or a spot,
<sup>57</sup> to teach when something is unclean and when it is clean. This is the law for defiling skin disease."

<sup>4</sup> Any bed one who has a discharge lies on will be unclean and anything he sits on will be unclean.

<sup>5</sup> Anyone who touches his bed must wash his clothes, bathe in water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>6</sup> Whoever sits on anything on which one who has a discharge has sat must wash his clothes, bathe in water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>7</sup> Whoever touches the body of the one who has a discharge must wash his clothes, bathe in water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>8</sup> If someone who has a discharge spits on anyone who is clean, then they must wash their clothes, bathe in water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>9</sup> Any saddle on which the person with a discharge rides will be unclean.

<sup>10</sup> Whoever touches anything that was under him will be unclean until the evening, and whoever carries any of those things must wash his clothes, bathe in water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>13</sup> When the one who has a discharge is cleansed from his discharge, then he must count seven days for his cleansing, then wash his clothes, bathe his body in fresh water and be clean.

<sup>14</sup> On the eighth day he must take two turtledoves or two young pigeons, and come before the LORD at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, and give them to the priest.

<sup>15</sup> Then the priest will offer them, one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. The priest will make atonement for him before the LORD for his discharge.

<sup>16</sup> When any man has an emission of semen, he must bathe his whole body in water, and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>17</sup> Every garment or every leather skin that has semen on it must be washed with water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>18</sup> When a man has sexual relations with a woman and there is an emission of semen, they must both bathe in water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>19</sup> When a woman has a discharge, and it is her menstrual period of blood, she will be in her impurity seven days and whoever touches her will be unclean until the evening.

<sup>20</sup> Anything she lies on during her menstrual impurity will be unclean. Anything she sits on will be unclean.

<sup>21</sup> Anyone who touches her bed must wash his clothes, bathe in water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>22</sup> Whoever touches anything that she sits on must wash his clothes, bathe in water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>23</sup> If it is the bed or anything she sits on, when he touches it, he will be unclean until the evening.

<sup>24</sup> If any man has sexual relations with her, and her menstrual impurity touches him, he will be unclean seven days; and any bed he lies on will be unclean.

<sup>25</sup> If a woman has a flow of blood for many days not at the time of her menstrual period, or if she has a flow that extends beyond the time of her normal menstrual impurity, as in the days of her menstrual impurity, then she will be unclean all the days of her discharge.

<sup>26</sup> Any bed she lies on all the days of her discharge will be to her like the bed of her menstrual impurity. Anything she sits on will be unclean, as during the uncleanness of her menstrual impurity.

<sup>27</sup> Whoever touches these things will be unclean, and must wash their clothes, bathe in water and be unclean until the evening.

<sup>28</sup> But when she is cleansed of her discharge, she must count seven days, and after that she will be clean.

<sup>29</sup> On the eighth day she must take two turtledoves or two young pigeons, and bring them to the priest at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>30</sup> Then the priest will offer the one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. In this way the priest will make atonement for her before the LORD for her unclean discharge.

<sup>31</sup> In this way you will separate the Israelites from their uncleanness, so that they do not die in their uncleanness by defiling my tabernacle that is in their midst.

<sup>32</sup> This is the law of him who has a discharge, or who has an emission of semen, and becomes unclean by it,

<sup>33</sup> or her who is having her menstrual period, or the man or woman who has a discharge, or a man who has sexual relations with a woman who is unclean."

Leviticus 16

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, after the death of the two sons of Aaron, when they drew near before the LORD, and died.

<sup>2</sup> The LORD said to Moses, "Tell Aaron your brother, that he may not at just any time enter into the holy place inside the curtain before the mercy seat that is on top of the ark, or he will die, for I will appear in the cloud above the mercy seat.

<sup>3</sup> In this way Aaron is to enter into the holy place: with a young bull for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering.

<sup>4</sup> He must put on the holy linen tunic with the linen undergarments next to his body; and he shall be warped with the linen sash and put on the linen head turban. They are holy garments so he must bathe his body in water before he puts them on.

<sup>5</sup> Aaron must take from the congregation of the Israelites two male goats for a sin offering, and one ram for a burnt offering.

<sup>6</sup> Then Aaron will present the bull for his own sin offering, and make atonement for himself and his household.

<sup>7</sup> Then he must take the two goats and present them before the LORD at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>8</sup> Aaron must cast lots over the two goats; one lot for the LORD, and the other lot for Azazel.

<sup>9</sup> Then Aaron must present the goat which the lot designated for the LORD, and offer it for a sin offering.

<sup>10</sup> But the goat, which the lot designated for Azazel, shall be presented alive before the LORD, to make atonement over it, by sending it away for Azazel into the wilderness.

<sup>11</sup> Then Aaron must present his own bull for a sin offering, to make atonement for himself and his household. He is to slaughter the bull as a sin offering for himself.

<sup>12</sup> Then he must take a censer full of burning coals from off the altar before the LORD, and two handfuls of crushed sweet incense, and bring it inside the inner curtain.

<sup>13</sup> Then he must put the incense on the fire before the LORD, so that the smoke of the incense may cover the mercy seat that is on the ark of the testimony, so that he does not die.

<sup>14</sup> Then he must take some of the bull's blood and sprinkle it with his finger on the east front side of the mercy seat; and in front of the mercy seat he must sprinkle some of the blood with his finger seven times.

<sup>15</sup> Then he must slaughter the goat of the sin offering that is for the people, and bring its blood inside the inner curtain, and do with its blood the same as he did with the bull's blood, sprinkling it on the mercy seat and in the front the mercy seat.

<sup>16</sup> In this manner he will make atonement for the holy place, because of the uncleannesses of the Israelites and because of their rebellion in regard to all their sins. He must do the same for the Tent of Meeting that dwells with them in the midst of their uncleanness.

<sup>17</sup> No one must be in the Tent of Meeting when he enters to make atonement in the holy place until he comes out, and has made atonement for himself, his household and all the assembly of Israel.

<sup>18</sup> Then he must come out to the altar that is before the LORD and make atonement for it. He shall take some of the bull's blood and goat's blood, and put it on each of the horns of the altar.

<sup>19</sup> Then he must sprinkle some of the blood on the altar with his finger seven times, and cleanse and consecrate it from the uncleannesses of the Israelites.

<sup>20</sup> When he has made an end of atoning for the holy place, the Tent of Meeting and the altar, he must present the live goat.

<sup>21</sup> Then Aaron shall lay both his hands on the head of the live goat, and confess over it all the iniquities of the Israelites, and all their rebellions in regard to all their sins; so he is to put them on the head of the goat then send it away into the wilderness by the hand of a man standing ready to do it.

<sup>22</sup> Then the goat shall bear on it all their iniquities to a solitary place and he shall release the goat into the wilderness.

<sup>23</sup> Then Aaron shall enter the Tent of Meeting and shall take off the linen garments, that he put on when he went into the holy place, and leave them there.

<sup>24</sup> He must bathe his body in water in a holy place, put his normal clothes back on, and come out and offer his burnt offering and the burnt offering for the people, and make atonement for himself and the people.

<sup>25</sup> The fat of the sin offering he must burn on the altar.

<sup>26</sup> The one who released the goat to Azazel must wash his clothes, bathe his body in water and afterward he may reenter the camp.

<sup>27</sup> The bull of the sin offering and the goat of the sin offering, whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the holy place, must be carried outside the camp and they will burn its skin, internal organs and dung.

<sup>28</sup> The one who burned them must wash his clothes, bathe his flesh in water and afterward he may reenter the camp.

<sup>29</sup> This will be a statute to you forever that in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, you must deny yourselves and do no work whatsoever, neither the citizen or the foreigner who resides among you.

<sup>30</sup> On this day atonement will be made for you, to cleanse you. You shall be clean before the LORD from all your sins.

<sup>31</sup> It is a Sabbath of solemn rest to you, and you shall deny yourselves. It is a statute forever.

<sup>32</sup> Then the priest who is anointed and consecrated as priest in his father's stead, will make the atonement, wearing the linen garments, even the holy garments.

<sup>33</sup> Then he must make atonement for the holy sanctuary; and he must make atonement for the Tent of Meeting and the altar; and he must make atonement for the priests and all the people of the congregation.

<sup>34</sup> This will be an everlasting statute to you, to make atonement for the Israelites because of all their sins once in the year."

So Moses did just as the LORD commanded him.

Leviticus 17

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to Aaron, his sons and all the Israelites, and say to them: 'This is what the LORD has commanded:

<sup>3</sup> If anyone of the house of Israel sacrifices an ox, lamb, or goat, inside or outside the camp, <sup>4</sup> and has not brought it to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, to offer it as an offering to the LORD before the tabernacle of the LORD, that person will be guilty of bloodshed. He has shed blood, so that person will be cut off from among his people.

<sup>5</sup> This is done so that Israelites will bring their sacrifices that they sacrifice in the open field, to the LORD at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting to the priest and sacrifice them for sacrifices of peace offerings to the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> Then the priest will sprinkle the blood on the altar of the LORD at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, and burn the fat as a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> So they must no longer offer their sacrifices to the goat idols, after whom they prostitute themselves. This is to be a statute forever for them throughout their generations.'

<sup>8</sup> You shall say to them, 'Anyone from the house of Israel, or foreigners that reside among them, who offers a burnt offering or sacrifice, <sup>9</sup> and does not bring it to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, to sacrifice it to the LORD; that person will be cut off from his people.

<sup>10</sup> If anyone of the house of Israel, or foreigner that resides among them, eats any blood, I will set my face against that person who eats blood, and will cut him off from among his people.

<sup>11</sup> For the life of the body is in the blood. So I have given it to you on the altar to make atonement for your lives, for it is the blood that makes atonement for a life.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, I said to the Israelites, "None of you is allowed to eat blood, nor shall any foreigner who resides among you eat blood."

<sup>13</sup> Anyone of the Israelites or of the foreigners who reside among them, who hunts an animal or bird that may be eaten must pour out its blood and cover it with dirt, <sup>14</sup> for the life of every creature is in its blood. Therefore I told the Israelites, "You must not eat the blood of any creature, for the life of every creature is its blood. Whoever consumes it will be cut off.

<sup>15</sup> Every one who eats an animal that has died of itself, or that was torn by wild animals, whether he is a native citizen or a foreigner, he must wash his clothes, bathe in water and be unclean until the evening; then he will be clean.

<sup>16</sup> But if he does not wash his clothes or bathe his body, then he must be punished for his iniquity.'"

Leviticus 18

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, and say to them, 'I am the LORD your God.

<sup>3</sup> You must not do as they do in the land of Egypt where you have been living, and you must not do as they do in the land of Canaan into which I am bringing you. You shall not walk according to their statutes.

<sup>4</sup> You must obey my rules and keep my statutes by walking in them. I am the LORD your God.

<sup>5</sup> You must keep my statutes and my regulations, if anyone does so, he will live by keeping them; I am the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> None of you shall approach any close relative to have sexual relations. I am the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> You must not have sexual relations with your father's wife, it would expose your father's nakedness.

<sup>9</sup> You must not have sexual relations with your sister, whether your father's daughter or your mother's daughter, whether born in the same household or a different one.

<sup>13</sup> You must not have sexual relations with your mother's sister, for she is your mother's close relative.

<sup>14</sup> You must not expose the nakedness of your father's brother by having sexual relations with his wife; she is your aunt.

<sup>16</sup> You must not have sexual relations with your brother's wife; it would expose your brother's nakedness.

<sup>17</sup> You must not have sexual relations with a woman and her daughter; you must not have sexual relations with either her son's daughter or her daughter's daughter. They are close relatives. It is wickedness.

<sup>18</sup> You must not marry a woman and then marry her sister as a rival wife having sexual relations with her while your wife is still living.

<sup>21</sup> You must not give any of your children as a sacrifice to Molech; so that you not profane the name of your God. I am the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> You must not have sexual relations with another man as one does with a woman. It is detestable.

<sup>23</sup> You must not have sexual relations with an animal to defile yourself with it; nor must any woman offer herself to an animal, to have sexual relations with it. It is a perversion.

<sup>24</sup> Do not defile yourselves with any of these things; for with all these types of things the nations that I am driving out before you have defiled themselves.

<sup>25</sup> Because the land has been defiled, I am bringing punishment for its iniquity. So the land will vomit out its inhabitants.

<sup>26</sup> But you must keep my statutes and regulations, and must not do any of these detestable acts; neither the native citizen, nor the foreigner who resides among you

<sup>27</sup> (for all these detestable acts were done by the people who inhabited the land before you, and the land became defiled);

<sup>28</sup> so that the land does not also vomit you out, when you defile it just as it vomited out the people who lived there before you.

<sup>29</sup> For whoever does any of these detestable acts, even the people that do them will be cut off from among their people.

<sup>30</sup> So you must obey my charge and not practice any of these detestable customs that were practiced before you, so that you do not defile yourselves by them. I am the LORD your God."

Leviticus 19

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the whole congregation of Israelites, and say to them, 'You shall be holy; for I the LORD your God am holy.

<sup>3</sup> Every one of you should respect his mother and father; and you must keep my Sabbaths. I am the LORD your God.

<sup>4</sup> Do not turn to idols or make metal gods for yourselves. I am the LORD your God.

<sup>5</sup> When you sacrifice a peace offering to the LORD, you must offer it in a way that it may be accepted on your behalf.

<sup>6</sup> It must be eaten the same day you offer it or on the next day. If anything is left over until the third day, it must be burned up.

<sup>7</sup> If it is eaten at all on the third day, it is spoiled, it will not be accepted.

<sup>8</sup> But anyone who eats it will bear his punishment, because he has profaned what was a holy thing to the LORD. That person will be cut off from his people.

<sup>9</sup> When you reap the harvest of your land, you should not reap right up to the edges of your field, neither should you gather the gleanings dropped during your harvest.

<sup>10</sup> You must not glean stripping your vineyard bare, and you must not gather the fallen fruit of your vineyard. Leave it for the poor and the foreigner. I am the LORD your God.

<sup>12</sup> Do not swear falsely by my name, profaning the name of your God. I am the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> Do not oppress your neighbor or rob him. Do not withhold the wages of a hired servant over night until the next morning.

<sup>14</sup> Do not curse the deaf, or put a stumbling block in front the blind. You must fear your God. I am the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> You shall not render an unjust judgment. You must not be partial to the poor or honor the rich. You must judge your neighbor fairly.

<sup>16</sup> Do not go around as a slanderer among your people. Do not stand by when your neighbor's life is at stake. I am the LORD.

<sup>17</sup> Do not hate your brother in your heart. You must rebuke your neighbor so you will not incur guilt because of him.

<sup>18</sup> Do not take vengeance or bear a grudge against any of your own people but you shall love your neighbor as yourself. I am the LORD.

<sup>19</sup> You must keep my statutes. Do not let different kinds of your animals breed together. Do not sow your field with two kinds of seed. Do not wear a garment made of two different kinds of material.

<sup>20</sup> If a man has sexual relations with a woman, who is a slave betrothed to another man and not ransomed or granted her freedom, he must pay compensation to her master. They must not be put to death because she was not free.

<sup>21</sup> He must bring his guilt offering to the LORD, to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, a ram for a guilt offering.

<sup>22</sup> Then the priest will make atonement for him with the ram of the guilt offering before the LORD for his sin that he committed; and the sin that he has committed will be forgiven.

<sup>23</sup> When you enter the land and plant different types of fruit trees, for the first three years you are to consider its fruit as forbidden. It must not be eaten.

<sup>24</sup> But in the fourth year all of its fruit will be holy, an offering of praise to the LORD.

<sup>25</sup> Then in the fifth year you may eat its fruit, in this way the yield of your harvest will increase. I am the LORD your God.

<sup>28</sup> Do not make any cuts in your body for the dead, or tattoo any marks on yourselves. I am the LORD.

<sup>29</sup> Do not profane your daughter by making her a prostitute; so that the land does not fall into prostitution and become full of wickedness.

<sup>30</sup> You must keep my Sabbaths and reverence my sanctuary. I am the LORD.

<sup>31</sup> Do not turn to mediums or those consulting the dead. Do not seek them out, to be defiled by them. I am the LORD your God.

<sup>32</sup> Stand up in the presence of the grey headed elder and show respect for the aged. Fear your God. I am the LORD.

<sup>33</sup> If a foreigner resides with you in your land, do not oppress him.

<sup>34</sup> The foreigner who lives with you shall be to you as a native citizen among you, and you shall love him as yourself. For you were foreigners in the land of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.

<sup>36</sup> You must have honest scales and weights, an honest dry measure ephah and an honest liquid measure hin. I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt.

<sup>37</sup> You shall keep all my statutes and regulations and do them. I am the LORD."

<sup>2</sup> "Tell the Israelites, 'Any Israelite or foreigner who lives in Israel, who gives any of his children to Molech must be put to death; the people of the land must stone him.

<sup>3</sup> I also will set my face against that man and will cut him off from among his people; because he has given his children to Molech, defiling my sanctuary and profaning my holy name.

<sup>4</sup> If the people of the land should ever hide their eyes ignoring that man, when he gives his children to Molech and not put him to death;

<sup>5</sup> then I myself will set my face against that man and his family and I will cut off from among their people both him and all who prostitute themselves after him playing the prostitute by worshiping Molech.

<sup>6</sup> Any person who turns to mediums or those consulting spirits of the dead prostituting themselves after them, I will set my face against that person and will cut him off from among his people.

<sup>7</sup> Consecrate yourselves therefore, and be holy; for I am the LORD your God.

<sup>8</sup> Keep my statutes and do them. I am the LORD who makes you holy.

<sup>9</sup> Anyone who curses his father or mother must be put to death. The one who has cursed his father or his mother; his blood guilt shall be on himself.

<sup>10</sup> If a man commits adultery with another man's wife, even with his neighbor's wife, the adulterer and adulteress must be put to death.

<sup>11</sup> If a man has sexual relations with his father's wife he has exposed his father's nakedness. Both of them must be put to death; their blood guilt shall be on themselves.

<sup>12</sup> If a man has sexual relations with his daughter-in-law, both of them must be put to death. They have committed a perversion; their blood guilt shall be on themselves.

<sup>13</sup> If a man has sexual relations with another man as with a woman, both of them have committed a detestable act. They must be put to death; their blood guilt shall be on themselves.

<sup>14</sup> If a man marries a woman and her mother, it is wicked. Both the man and women must be burned with fire so there is no wickedness among you.

<sup>15</sup> If a man has sexual relations with an animal, he must be put to death and you must kill the animal.

<sup>16</sup> If a woman approaches any animal for sexual relations, you must kill the woman and the animal. They shall surely be put to death; their blood guilt shall be on themselves.

<sup>17</sup> If a man marries his sister, his father's daughter, or his mother's daughter, and they have sexual relations, it is a shameful disgrace. They must be cut off in the sight of the children of their people. He has exposed his sister's nakedness; he shall bear his punishment.

<sup>18</sup> If a man has sexual relations with a menstruating woman, and shall uncover her nakedness; he has laid bare her flow of blood, and she has exposed her flow of blood; both of them shall be cut off from among their people.

<sup>20</sup> If a man has sexual relations with his uncle's wife, he has exposed his uncle's nakedness. They shall be responsible for their sin; they will die childless.

<sup>21</sup> If a man marries his brother's wife, it is an impurity. He has exposed his brother's nakedness; they will be childless.

<sup>22</sup> You must keep all my statutes and all my regulations and do them; that the land where I am bringing you to live not vomit you out.

<sup>23</sup> You must not walk in the customs of the nation that I am driving out before you. Because they did all these things, I abhorred them.

<sup>24</sup> But I said to you, "You will inherit their land, and I will give it to you to possess, a land flowing with milk and honey. I am the LORD your God, who has separated you from the other peoples.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore you must make a distinction between the clean animal and the unclean, and between the unclean bird and the clean. You must not make yourselves detestable by means of an animal, bird, or by anything that creeps on the ground. I have separated them from you as unclean.

<sup>26</sup> You shall be holy to me, for I, the LORD, am holy, and have set you apart from the other peoples, that you should be mine.

<sup>27</sup> A man or a woman who is a medium or consults with spirits of the dead must be put to death. They must stone them; their blood guilt will be on themselves."

Leviticus 21

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Speak to the priests, the sons of Aaron, and say to them, 'No one shall defile himself for the dead among his people,

<sup>2</sup> except for his close relative who is near to him: his mother or father, his son or daughter, his brother, <sup>3</sup> or his virgin sister, who is close to him because she has no husband; he may defile himself for her.

<sup>4</sup> He must not defile himself with one who is only related by marriage and so profane himself.

<sup>5</sup> They must not shave bald spots on their heads, they must not shave off the edges of their beard or make any cuts on their body.

<sup>6</sup> They must be holy to their God, and not profane the name of their God; because they are the ones who make offerings to the LORD made by fire, the food of their God. So they must be holy.

<sup>7</sup> They must not marry a woman defiled by prostitution; nor are they to marry a woman divorced from her husband. For priests are holy to their God.

<sup>8</sup> You must treat him as holy; because he offers up food to your God. He must be regarded as holy by you; for I the LORD who is holy is the one who makes you holy.

<sup>9</sup> If a priest's daughter profanes herself by becoming a prostitute, she profanes her father. She must be burned with fire.

<sup>10</sup> The high priest who is above his brothers, on whose head the anointing oil has been poured, and who has been consecrated to wear the priestly garments, must not dishevel his hair or tear his clothes.

<sup>11</sup> He must not go to where there is a dead body, he must not defile himself even for his father or mother.

<sup>12</sup> He must not leave the sanctuary and so profane the sanctuary of his God, because the consecration of the anointing oil of his God is on him. I am the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> He must not marry a widow, a divorced woman, or a woman defiled by prostitution; these he may not marry. He may only marry a virgin from his own people.

<sup>15</sup> He must not profane his children among his people. For I am the LORD who sanctifies him."

<sup>16</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>18</sup> For no one who has a physical defect shall approach: no one who is blind, lame, disfigured, deformed,

<sup>19</sup> or has a broken foot or arm,

<sup>20</sup> or is hunched backed, or a dwarf, or that has an eye defect, or festering or running sores, or crushed testicles.

<sup>21</sup> No descendant of Aaron the priest who has a defect shall come near to offer the offerings to the LORD by fire. Because he has a defect he shall not come near to offer the food of his God.

<sup>22</sup> He may eat the food of his God, including both the most holy and the holy offerings.

<sup>23</sup> But he must not go in to the inner curtain, nor come near to the altar, because he has a physical defect. So he must not profane my sanctuaries, for I am LORD who sanctifies them."

<sup>2</sup> "Tell Aaron and his sons, to separate themselves from the holy things of the Israelites, which they consecrate to me, so that they do not profane my holy name. I am the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> Say to them, 'If anyone of all your descendants in future generations, approaches the holy offerings that the Israelites consecrate to the LORD, while he is unclean, that person must be cut off from before me. I am the LORD.

<sup>4</sup> No one from the descendants of Aaron who has a skin disease or a discharge may eat from the holy offerings until he is clean. Whoever touches anything that is made unclean by a corpse or a man who has a emission of semen,

<sup>5</sup> or whoever touches any swarming animal by which he is rendered unclean, or touches a person who is unclean, whatever his uncleanness is;

<sup>6</sup> the person who touches any of these will be unclean until evening and must not eat any of the holy offerings unless he has bathed his body in water.

<sup>7</sup> When the sun goes down he will be clean, and afterward he may eat from the holy offerings, because they are his food.

<sup>8</sup> He should not eat an animal that dies by itself or is torn by other animals, and so to defile himself by it. I am the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> They must keep my charge, so that they do not incur sin and die for having profaned it. I am the LORD who makes them holy.

<sup>10</sup> No one outside the priest's family may eat from the holy offerings. Not even a priest's guest or hired servant, may eat of the holy offering.

<sup>11</sup> But if a priest buys any slave with his own money, he may eat it and those who are born in his house may eat his food.

<sup>12</sup> If a priest's daughter marries someone who is not a priest, she may not eat of the holy contribution set apart from the holy offerings.

<sup>13</sup> But if a priest's daughter becomes a widow or divorced and has no children and has returned to her father's house, as in her youth, she may eat of her father's food, No one outside the priest's family may eat any of it.

<sup>14</sup> If a person eats from the holy offering by mistake, then he must add a fifth to it, and repay the holy offering back to the priest.

<sup>15</sup> The priests must not profane the holy offerings of the Israelites, which they offer to the LORD,

<sup>16</sup> by allowing those unauthorized to eat the holy offerings, thereby causing them to incur a penalty for guilt, for I am the LORD who makes them holy."

<sup>17</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>18</sup> "Speak to Aaron, his sons and to all the Israelites, and say to them, 'When anyone from the house of Israel or foreigners residing in Israel presents his offering, whether to complete a vow or as a freewill offering, which they offer to the LORD as a burnt offering;

<sup>19</sup> you will be accepted if it is a male without defect. It may be from the cattle, sheep or goats.

<sup>20</sup> But do not offer anything that has a defect, for it will not be acceptable for you.

<sup>21</sup> When anyone offers a peace offering to the LORD to fulfill a vow or for a freewill offering from the herd or flock, it must be perfect to be accepted; there must be no defect in it.

<sup>22</sup> Do not offer to the LORD any animal that is blind, injured, maimed, or has a running sore, rash or scabs. You must not offer any of them on the altar to the LORD.

<sup>23</sup> A bull or lamb that has a limb deformed either too long or too short you may offer for a freewill offering; but to fulfill a vow it is not acceptable.

<sup>24</sup> Any animal that has its testicles bruised, crushed, broken or cut off, you must not offer to the LORD; you must not do this in your land.

<sup>25</sup> You shall not present any such animal as food to God even from the hand of a foreigner since they are deformed and there is a defect in them. They will not be accepted for you."

<sup>26</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>27</sup> "When a calf, a lamb or a goat, is born, it must stay seven days with its mother; but from the eighth day on it will be acceptable for an offering made by fire to the LORD.

<sup>28</sup> You must not slaughter a cow or sheep and its young on the same day.

<sup>29</sup> When you sacrifice a thanksgiving offering to the LORD, you must sacrifice it so that you may be accepted.

<sup>30</sup> It must be eaten on the same day; you should leave none of it until the next morning. I am the LORD.

<sup>31</sup> So you must keep my commandments and do them. I am the LORD.

<sup>32</sup> You must not profane my holy name; for I will be holy among the Israelites. I am the LORD who has made you holy.

<sup>33</sup> I am the one who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God. I am the LORD."

Leviticus 23

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, and say to them, 'These are the appointed feasts of the LORD that you must proclaim as holy assemblies; these are my appointed feasts.

<sup>3</sup> For six days work may be done, but the seventh day is a Sabbath of solemn rest, a holy assembly; you must not do any work on it. It is a Sabbath to the LORD everywhere you live.

<sup>4</sup> These are the appointed festivals of the LORD, holy assemblies, which you shall proclaim at their appointed time.

<sup>6</sup> On the fifteenth day of the same month is the Feast of Unleavened Bread to the LORD; for seven days you must eat unleavened bread.

<sup>7</sup> On the first day you shall have a holy assembly; you must do no regular work.

<sup>8</sup> But you shall present a food offering to the LORD for seven days. The seventh day is a holy assembly; you must do no regular work."

<sup>9</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>10</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, and say to them, 'When you enter the land that I am giving you, and you reap its harvest, then you must bring the sheaf of the first fruits of your harvest to the priest.

<sup>11</sup> He shall wave high the sheaf before the LORD so that it may be accepted for you. On the day after the Sabbath the priest shall wave it.

<sup>12</sup> On the day you wave the sheaf, you must offer a year old male lamb without defect for a burnt offering to the LORD, <sup>13</sup> along with its grain offering, four quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil, a food offering to the LORD for a pleasing aroma. Its drink offering will be one quart of wine.

<sup>14</sup> You must not eat bread, roasted grain or fresh grain until this particular day, until you have brought the offering of your God. It is a statute forever throughout your generations wherever you live.

<sup>15</sup> You must count from the day after the Sabbath that you brought the sheaf of the wave offering, seven full Sabbaths.

<sup>16</sup> You must count fifty days until the day after the seventh Sabbath; then you must offer a new grain offering to the LORD.

<sup>17</sup> You shall bring from wherever you live two loaves of bread for a wave offering made of four quarts of fine flour, they must be baked with leaven, as first fruits to the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> Along with the bread, you must bring seven year-old lambs without defect, a young bull, and two rams. They will be used for a burnt offering to the LORD, along with their grain offering, and their drink offerings, a food offering, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>19</sup> Then you must offer one male goat for a sin offering, and two year-old male lambs for a peace offering sacrifice.

<sup>20</sup> The priest shall wave high the two lambs with the bread of the first fruits for a wave offering before the LORD. They shall be holy to the LORD for the priest.

<sup>21</sup> On the same day you shall make a proclamation; there shall be a holy assembly. You must not do any regular work. It is a statute forever throughout your generations wherever you live.

<sup>22</sup> When you reap the harvest of your land, you must not completely reap to the edges of your field, neither gather the gleanings that fall from your harvest. Leave them there for the poor and the foreigner. I am the LORD your God."

<sup>23</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>24</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, saying, 'In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, there shall be a complete rest for you, a memorial shall be proclaimed by the blowing of trumpets, a holy assembly.

<sup>25</sup> You must not do any regular work; but you must present a food offering to the LORD."

<sup>26</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>27</sup> "Now on the tenth day of this seventh month is the Day of Atonement. It will be a holy assembly for you, and you must deny yourselves and present a food offering to the LORD.

<sup>28</sup> You must not do any work during that entire day, because it is the Day of Atonement, to make atonement for you before the LORD your God.

<sup>29</sup> For whoever does not deny themselves on that special day, he must be cut off from his people.

<sup>30</sup> Whoever does any type of work on that special day, that person I will destroy from among his people.

<sup>31</sup> You must not do any work. It is a statute forever throughout your generations everywhere you live.

<sup>32</sup> It shall be a Sabbath of complete rest for you, and you shall deny yourselves; on the evening of the ninth day of the month, from that evening to the next evening, you must keep your Sabbath."

<sup>33</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>34</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, saying, 'On the fifteenth day of this seventh month is the Feast of Tabernacles for seven days to the LORD.

<sup>35</sup> On the first day shall be a holy assembly; you must not do any regular work.

<sup>36</sup> For seven days you shall present a food offering to the LORD. On the eighth day there shall be a holy assembly for you and you must present a food offering to the LORD. It is a solemn assembly; you must not do any regular work.

<sup>37</sup> These are the appointed feasts of the LORD, that you must proclaim to be holy assemblies, offer a food offering to the LORD, a burnt offering, grain offering, sacrifice and drink offerings, every day as required, <sup>38</sup> in addition to the Sabbaths of the LORD and your gifts, all your vow offerings, and freewill offerings, which you are to give to the LORD.

<sup>39</sup> On the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when you have gathered in the produce of the land, you must keep the feast of the LORD seven days. On the first day there shall be a complete rest, and on the eighth day there shall be a complete rest.

<sup>40</sup> On the first day you shall take the fruit from goodly trees, branches of palm trees, boughs of leafy trees and willows by the brook. Then you shall rejoice before the LORD your God seven days.

<sup>41</sup> You must celebrate it as a feast to the LORD seven days in the year. It is a statute forever throughout your generations; you shall celebrate it in the seventh month.

<sup>42</sup> You must dwell in temporary shelters for seven days. All native Israelites must live in temporary shelters,

<sup>43</sup> so that your future generations may know that I made the Israelites live in temporary shelters, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt. I am the LORD your God."

<sup>2</sup> "Command the Israelites that they bring you pure oil from pressed olives for the light, so that the lamp may burn continually.

<sup>3</sup> Outside the inner curtain of the testimony, in the Tent of Meeting, Aaron shall set it up to burn from evening to morning before the LORD continually. It shall be a statute forever throughout your generations.

<sup>4</sup> He shall arrange the lamps on the pure gold lampstand before the LORD regularly.

<sup>5</sup> You must take fine flour and bake twelve loaves using four quarts of flour for each loaf.

<sup>6</sup> You are to set them in two rows, six in a row, on the pure gold table before the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> Every Sabbath day Aaron must arrange it before the LORD continually; it is from the Israelites, as an everlasting covenant.

<sup>9</sup> It will belong to Aaron and his sons. They must eat it in a holy place because it is most holy for him, a perpetual portion from the food offerings of the LORD."

<sup>10</sup> A son of an Israelite woman, whose father was an Egyptian, went out among the Israelites; and the Israelite woman's son and an Israelite man got into a fight in the camp.

<sup>11</sup> The son of the Israelite woman blasphemed the Name and cursed; so they brought him to Moses. His mother's name was Shelomith, the daughter of Dibri, of the tribe of Dan.

<sup>12</sup> They put him in custody until the legal decision from the LORD could be made clear to them.

<sup>13</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>14</sup> "Take the one who cursed outside the camp; and let all who heard him lay their hands on his head; then the whole congregation is to stone him.

<sup>15</sup> You shall tell the Israelites, 'Whoever curses his God will be punished for his sin.

<sup>16</sup> One who blasphemes the name of the LORD must be put to death; the whole congregation will stone him. The foreigner as well as a native citizen when he blasphemes the Name must be put to death.

<sup>20</sup> fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth; just as the injury he inflicted so he shall be repaid with the same injury.

<sup>21</sup> Whoever kills a beast must make restitution, but one who kills a human being must be put to death.

<sup>22</sup> You shall have the same law for both the foreigner and the native citizen. I am the LORD your God."

<sup>23</sup> Then Moses spoke to the Israelites; and they took the one who cursed outside the camp and stoned him with stones. The Israelites did exactly as the LORD commanded Moses.

Leviticus 25

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai, saying,

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, and say to them, 'When you enter the land that I am giving you, then the land itself must observe a Sabbath to the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> Six years you may sow your field and for six years you may prune your vineyard and harvest its produce, <sup>4</sup> but in the seventh year the land must have a Sabbath of complete rest, a Sabbath to the LORD. You must not sow your field or prune your vineyard.

<sup>5</sup> Do not reap that which grows by itself or the grapes of your unpruned vines, it shall be a year of complete rest for the land.

<sup>6</sup> You may eat whatever the land produces during its Sabbath; you, your male and female slaves, and your hired servant and your resident foreigners who live with you, <sup>7</sup> your cattle and the wild animals that are in your land, all may eat whatever the land produces for food.

<sup>8</sup> You shall number seven weeks of years, seven times seven years; so that the time of seven weeks of years, totals forty-nine years.

<sup>9</sup> Then sound a loud horn blast on the tenth day of the seventh month; on the Day of Atonement--you shall sound the ram's horn throughout your entire land.

<sup>10</sup> You must consecrate the fiftieth year, and proclaim freedom throughout the land to all its inhabitants. It will be a Year of Jubilee for you. Each of you shall return to his family property, and each to his own clan.

<sup>11</sup> That fiftieth year will be a Jubilee for you. You shall not sow or reap that which grows by itself or harvest its unpruned vines.

<sup>12</sup> For it is a Jubilee. It shall be holy to you; you may eat only what the field itself produces.

<sup>14</sup> When you sell any land to your neighbor or buy it from your neighbor's hand, you shall not wrong each other.

<sup>15</sup> When you buy it from your neighbor you shall pay according to the number of years since the last Jubilee, the one selling it must sell it in accordance with the number of years of produce left until the next Jubilee.

<sup>16</sup> The more years until the next Jubilee the more you may increase its price, and the fewer the years there are the less you may charge for it; because the number of the harvests is what is really being sold.

<sup>17</sup> You shall not take advantage of one another; but you shall fear your God, for I am the LORD your God.

<sup>18</sup> You shall obey my statutes and keep my regulations and do them; so that you may dwell securely in the land.

<sup>19</sup> Then the land will yield its fruit and you will eat your fill and dwell securely in it.

<sup>20</sup> If you ask, 'What will we eat the seventh year since we cannot sow or harvest our crops?'

<sup>21</sup> Then I will direct my blessing to you in the sixth year, and it will yield enough produce for the three years.

<sup>22</sup> When you sow the eighth year, you will eat some of the old crops; until the ninth year, when its crops come in, you shall eat old produce.

<sup>23</sup> The land must not be sold permanently; for the land is mine for you are foreigners and tenants with me.

<sup>24</sup> In all the land that you possess you shall provide for the redemption of the land.

<sup>25</sup> If your brother becomes impoverished and sells some of his property, then his kinsman redeemer shall come and redeem that which his brother has sold.

<sup>26</sup> If a person has no one to redeem it, but he prospers and finds sufficient funds to redeem it;

<sup>27</sup> then let him calculate the value for years since it was sold, and refund the difference to the person to whom he sold it; and then return to his property.

<sup>28</sup> But if he has not gained the means to get it back, then what he has sold will remain with the buyer until the Year of Jubilee; and in the Jubilee it must be released and the property must be returned.

<sup>29</sup> If a person sells a house in a walled city, then he may redeem it within a year after it is sold. For a full year the seller has the right of redemption.

<sup>30</sup> If it is not redeemed within a full year, then the house that is in the walled city shall become the property of the buyer in perpetuity, throughout his generations. It shall not be released in the Jubilee.

<sup>31</sup> But the houses in villages that have no walls around them shall be classified with the fields of the land; they may be redeemed, and they shall be released in the Jubilee.

<sup>32</sup> Nevertheless the cities of the Levites, the houses in the cities that they possess, the Levites may redeem at any time.

<sup>33</sup> Any property that the Levites may redeem--the house that was sold in the city belongs to him, it shall be released in the Jubilee; for the houses of the cities of the Levites are their possession among the Israelites.

<sup>35</sup> If your brother is impoverished and becomes indebted to you; then you shall support him, he shall live with you like a foreigner and stranger would.

<sup>36</sup> Do not charge him interest or try to profit from him, but fear your God; let him live with you.

<sup>37</sup> You must not lend him money with interest, or sell him your food for a profit.

<sup>38</sup> I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to give you the land of Canaan, and to be your God.

<sup>39</sup> If your brother is impoverished near you, and sells himself to you; you shall not force him to serve as a slave.

<sup>40</sup> You should treat him as a hired worker and as a foreigner, he shall serve with you unto the Year of Jubilee.

<sup>41</sup> Then he and his children will be free of their obligation to you, and shall return to his family and to the property of his forefathers.

<sup>42</sup> For they are my servants whom I brought out of the land of Egypt, they must not be sold as slaves.

<sup>43</sup> You must not rule over him harshly, but shall fear your God.

<sup>44</sup> As for your male and female slaves whom you may have that are from the nations around you, from them you may buy male and female slaves.

<sup>45</sup> You may also buy slaves from the children of the foreigners residing with you, and from their families who are with you who have been born in your land, and they will become your property.

<sup>46</sup> You may give them as an inheritance to your children after you, to inherit as property. You may treat them as permanent slaves, but over your Israelite brothers you must not rule harshly over one another.

<sup>47</sup> If a foreigner or temporary resident residing with you becomes rich, and your brother is impoverished beside him and sells himself to the foreigner or temporary resident with you, or to a member of the foreigner's family;

<sup>48</sup> after he has been sold he may be redeemed. One of his brothers may redeem him, <sup>49</sup> or his uncle, or his cousin may redeem him, or anyone who is a close relative of his family may redeem him; or if he prospers he may redeem himself.

<sup>50</sup> He must calculate with the one who bought him from the year that he sold himself to him to the Year of Jubilee. The price of his sale will be figured according to the number of years left according to the wages a hired servant would have earned working for him.

<sup>52</sup> But if only a few years remain until the Year of Jubilee, then he shall calculate his redemption price according to his years left.

<sup>53</sup> The foreigner must treat him like a servant hired on a yearly basis; he must not rule over him harshly in your sight.

<sup>54</sup> If he is not redeemed in any of these ways, then he and his children will be released in the Year of Jubilee.

<sup>55</sup> For the Israelites are my servants. They are my servants whom I brought out of the land of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.

Leviticus 26

<sup>1</sup> Do not make idols for yourselves, or erect a carved image, a sacred pillar or place any sculpted stone in your land to bow down to it; for I am the LORD your God.

<sup>2</sup> You must keep my Sabbaths and reverence my sanctuary. I am the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> If you walk in my statutes, and carefully obey my commandments and do them,
<sup>4</sup> then I will give your rains in their season, the land will yield its crops, and the trees of the field will produce their fruit.

<sup>5</sup> Your grain threshing will last until the grape harvest, and the grape harvest will last until the grain sowing time. You will eat your fill of bread and live securely in your land.

<sup>6</sup> I will grant peace in the land. You will lie down and no one will make you afraid. I will remove dangerous animals from the land and no sword of war will go through your land.

<sup>7</sup> You will chase your enemies and they shall fall before you by the sword.

<sup>8</sup> Five of you will chase a hundred, and a hundred of you will chase ten thousand, and your enemies will fall before you by the sword.

<sup>9</sup> I will look favorably on you, and make you fruitful and multiply you, and will fulfill my covenant with you.

<sup>10</sup> You will be eating last year's crop, when you will have to clear away the old to make room for the new.

<sup>11</sup> I will set my tabernacle among you and I will not abhor you.

<sup>12</sup> I will walk among you and will be your God, and you will be my people.

<sup>13</sup> I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, so that you would be their slaves no more, and I have broken the bars of your yoke of slavery, and made you walk tall and free.

<sup>14</sup> But if you will not obey me and will not do all these commandments;

<sup>15</sup> and if you reject my statutes, and if your soul abhors my regulations so that you do not keep all my commandments, and you break my covenant;

<sup>16</sup> then I will do this to you: I will bring terror on you, with wasting diseases and fever, that will weaken your eyesight and sap the strength of your life. You will sow your seed in vain because your enemies will eat it.

<sup>17</sup> I will set my face against you, and you will be struck down before your enemies. Those who hate you will rule over you, and you will flee when no one is chasing you.

<sup>18</sup> If, in spite of all these things, you still will not listen to me, then I will discipline you seven times more because of your sins.

<sup>19</sup> I will break your stubborn pride and I will make your sky like iron and your land like bronze.

<sup>20</sup> Your strength will be wasted in vain; for your land will not yield its produce and the trees of the land will not yield their fruit.

<sup>21</sup> If you walk hostile to me and refuse to listen to me, I will bring seven times more plagues on you according to your sins.

<sup>22</sup> I will send the wild animals against you, which shall bereave you of your children, and destroy your cattle and make you few in number and your roads will become deserted.

<sup>23</sup> If, in spite of these things, you will not turn back to me but continue to walk in hostility towards me, <sup>24</sup> then I will also walk in hostility to you and I myself will strike you seven times for your sins.

<sup>25</sup> I will bring a sword against you, that will execute the vengeance for violating the covenant; and you will be gathered together into your cities and I will send a plague among you; and you will be delivered into the hand of the enemy.

<sup>26</sup> When I break your supply of bread, ten women will bake your bread in one oven, and they will ration out your bread by weight and you will eat but not be satisfied.

<sup>27</sup> If you will not listen to me after all this but walk in hostility against me, <sup>28</sup> then I will walk in hostility to you in wrath, and I myself will punish you seven times for your sins.

<sup>29</sup> You will eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters you will eat.

<sup>30</sup> I will destroy your high places, cut down your incense altars and cast your corpses upon the lifeless corpses of your idols; and I will abhor you.

<sup>31</sup> I will lay your cities waste and will make your sanctuaries desolate; and I will not smell the pleasing aromas of your sacrifices.

<sup>32</sup> I will make the land desolate and even your enemies that live in it will be appalled at it.

<sup>33</sup> I will scatter you among the nations and I will unsheathe the sword after you. Your land will become desolate and your cities a wasteland.

<sup>34</sup> Then the land will enjoy its Sabbaths, all the days it lies desolate, while you are exiled in your enemies' land; even then the land will rest and enjoy its Sabbaths.

<sup>35</sup> As long as it lies desolate it will have rest, making up for the rest it did not have in your Sabbaths when you lived in it.

<sup>36</sup> As for those of you who are left, I will send despair into their hearts in the lands of their enemies. The sound of a windblown leaf will chase them, and they will flee as one flees from the sword; and they will fall when no one pursues.

<sup>37</sup> They will stumble over each other, as if to escape a sword even though no one is pursuing. You will have no power to stand against your enemies.

<sup>38</sup> You will perish among the nations and the land of your enemies will devour you.

<sup>39</sup> Those of you who are left will wither away in your enemies' lands because of their iniquity; and will also wither away because of the iniquities of their ancestors.

<sup>40</sup> But if they confess their sin, and the sin of their fathers, that they have committed treachery against me and because they walked in hostility against me,
<sup>41</sup> so that I also walked in hostility to them and brought them into the land of their enemies, if then their uncircumcised heart is humbled, and they make amends for their iniquity,

<sup>42</sup> then will I remember my covenant with Jacob and also my covenant with Isaac, and also my covenant with Abraham, and I will remember the land.

<sup>43</sup> For the land will be abandoned by them and will enjoy its Sabbaths, while it lies desolate without them. Then they will make up for their iniquity because they rejected my regulations and abhorred my statutes.

<sup>44</sup> Yet after all that, when they are in the land of their enemies, I will not reject them. I will not abhor them so as to absolutely destroy them and break my covenant with them; for I am the LORD their God.

<sup>45</sup> For their sakes I will remember the covenant of their ancestors, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the nations, that I might be their God. I am the LORD."

Leviticus 27

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, and say to them, 'When a person makes a special vow to dedicate someone to the LORD by paying the value of that person, <sup>3</sup> the valuation of a male from twenty to sixty years old will be fifty shekels of silver, according to the sanctuary shekel.

<sup>4</sup> If it is a female, then your valuation will be thirty shekels.

<sup>5</sup> If it is a boy from five to twenty years old, then your valuation will be twenty shekels and for a girl ten shekels.

<sup>6</sup> If it is a boy from a month old to five years old then your valuation will be five shekels of silver and for a girl three shekels of silver.

<sup>7</sup> If it is a man over sixty years old, then your valuation will be fifteen shekels and for a woman ten shekels.

<sup>8</sup> But if the person making the vow is too poor to pay the valuation, then he will be brought before the priest, and the priest will make an assessment for him according to what the one taking the vow can afford.

If it is an animal that may be offered as an offering to the LORD, such an animal that anyone gives to the LORD will be holy.

<sup>10</sup> He must not substitute it or change it, good for bad, or bad for good, but if he does substitute one animal for another, then both that one and the substitute will be holy.

<sup>11</sup> If what is vowed is an unclean animal that may not be offered as an offering to the LORD, then he must set the animal before the priest;

<sup>12</sup> and the priest will assess its value whether good or bad. As the priest values it, so it will be.

<sup>13</sup> But if the person wishes to redeem it, then he must add a fifth to its valuation.

<sup>14</sup> When a man consecrates his house to the LORD, then the priest will assess it, whether good or bad, as the priest assesses it, so it will stand.

<sup>15</sup> If the one who consecrated his house wants to redeem it, then he must add a fifth to its assessed value, and it will be his.

<sup>16</sup> If a person consecrates to the LORD part of the land of his possession, then the valuation will be according to the amount of seed needed to sow it; the sowing of five bushels of barley seed will be valued at fifty shekels of silver.

<sup>17</sup> If the person consecrates his field in the Year of Jubilee, then the assessment value will stand.

<sup>18</sup> But if he consecrates his field after the Jubilee, then the priest will assess the price for it according to the years that remain until the Year of Jubilee and the assessment will be reduced accordingly.

<sup>19</sup> If the person who consecrates the field will redeem it, then he must add a fifth to its assessed value, and it will revert to him.

<sup>20</sup> If he does not want to redeem the field, or if he has sold the field to another person, he may never redeem it.

<sup>21</sup> When the field is released in the Jubilee, it will be holy to the LORD as a field set apart; it will become the priest's property.

<sup>22</sup> If he consecrates a field to the LORD that he has bought, which is not part of his inherited property, <sup>23</sup> then the priest will assess for him the value until the Year of Jubilee and he must pay it on that day, as something holy to the LORD.

<sup>25</sup> Every evaluation must be calculated according to the shekel of the sanctuary--twenty gerahs per shekel.

<sup>26</sup> No one should consecrate the firstborn animal because the firstborn already belongs to the LORD, whether it is an ox or sheep, it is the LORD's.

<sup>27</sup> If it is an unclean animal, then he must ransom it according to the priest's evaluation, and must add a fifth to the valuation or if it is not redeemed, then it must be sold according to its assessment.

<sup>28</sup> Nothing that a person owns that has been devoted to the LORD, whether a person, an animal, or his inherited field, may be sold or redeemed. Everything so devoted is most holy to the LORD.

<sup>29</sup> No one who has been devoted to destruction may be ransomed; he must be put to death.

<sup>30</sup> Every tithe of the land, whether from the seed of the land or the fruit of the tree, is the LORD's. It is holy to the LORD.

<sup>31</sup> If a man wants to redeem part of his tithe, he must add a fifth to it.

<sup>32</sup> Every tithe of the herd or flock, every tenth animal that passes under the shepherd's rod, will be holy to the LORD.

<sup>33</sup> The owner must not examine whether it is good or bad, or make a substitution for it. If however he does exchange it at all, then both the original animal and the substitute will be holy. It may not be redeemed."

DASV Numbers Numbers 1

<sup>1</sup> The LORD spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in the Tent of Meeting, on the first day of the second month, in the second year after they came out of the land of Egypt, saying,

<sup>2</sup> "Take a census of all the congregation of the Israelites, by their clans and families, according to the number of names of each individual male;

<sup>3</sup> twenty years old and older, all in Israel who are able to go to war. You and Aaron are to number them by their divisions.

<sup>4</sup> One man from each tribe will assist you; each one the head of his family.

from Reuben, Elizur the son of Shedeur;

from Ephraim, Elishama the son of Ammihud;

from Manasseh, Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur;

<sup>17</sup> So Moses and Aaron took these men that were mentioned explicitly by name,

<sup>18</sup> and they assembled the whole congregation together on the first day of the second month. Then they recorded their ancestry by their families and clans, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older individually,

<sup>20</sup> The descendants of Reuben, Israel's first-born, their generations, by their clans and families, those who were listed according to the number of the names, individually, every male from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>21</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Reuben were 46,500.

<sup>22</sup> The descendants of Simeon, their generations, by their clans and families, those who were listed according to the number of the names, individually, every male from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>23</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Simeon were 59,300.

<sup>24</sup> The descendants of Gad, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>25</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Gad were 45,650.

<sup>26</sup> The descendants of Judah, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>27</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Judah were 74,600.

<sup>28</sup> The descendants of Issachar, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>29</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Issachar were 54,400.

<sup>30</sup> The descendants of Zebulun, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>31</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Zebulun were 57,400.

<sup>32</sup> The descendants of Joseph, from the children of Ephraim, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>33</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Ephraim were 40,500.

<sup>34</sup> The descendants of Manasseh, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>35</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Manasseh were 32,200.

<sup>36</sup> The descendants of Benjamin, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>37</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Benjamin were: 35,400.

<sup>38</sup> The descendants of Dan, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>39</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Dan were 62,700.

<sup>40</sup> The descendants of Asher, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>41</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Asher were 41,500.

<sup>42</sup> The descendants of Naphtali, their generations, by their clans and families, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war:

<sup>43</sup> those who were numbered from the tribe of Naphtali were 53,400.

<sup>44</sup> These were the men numbered by Moses and Aaron and the twelve leaders of Israel, each one representing his fathers' house.

<sup>45</sup> So all the Israelites were numbered according to their families, from twenty years old and older, all who were able to go to war in Israel.

<sup>49</sup> "Only the tribe of Levi you must not number or take a census of them among the Israelites.

<sup>50</sup> Rather appoint the Levites over the tabernacle of the Testimony, and over all its furnishings and over all that belongs to it. They must carry the tabernacle and all its furnishings. They must take care of it and encamp around the tabernacle.

<sup>51</sup> Whenever the tabernacle is to set out, the Levites must take it down, and whenever the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Levites must set it up. Any outsider who comes near must be put to death.

<sup>52</sup> The Israelites will pitch their tents according to their divisions, every man in his own camp and by his own standard.

<sup>53</sup> But the Levites must camp around the tabernacle of the Testimony, so that there be no wrath on the congregation of the Israelites. The Levites must guard the tabernacle of the Testimony."

<sup>54</sup> Thus the Israelites did according to all that the LORD commanded Moses, that is exactly what they did.

Numbers 2

<sup>2</sup> "The Israelites shall camp each one under his own banner, with the banners of their fathers' houses, they shall camp facing the Tent of Meeting on every side.

<sup>5</sup> Those camping next to them will be the tribe of Issachar. The leader of the people of Issachar is Nethanel the son of Zuar.

<sup>7</sup> Next will be the tribe of Zebulun. The leader of the people of Zebulun is Eliab the son of Helon.

<sup>8</sup> Those numbered in his division were 57,400.

<sup>9</sup> All that were numbered of the camp of Judah according to their divisions were 186,400. They will set out traveling first.

<sup>10</sup> On the south side will be the banner of the camp of Reuben according to their divisions. The leader of the people of Reuben is Elizur the son of Shedeur.

<sup>12</sup> Those camping next to them will be the tribe of Simeon. The leader of the people of Simeon is Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai.

<sup>13</sup> Those numbered in his division were 59,300.

<sup>14</sup> Next will be the tribe of Gad. The leader of the people of Gad is Eliasaph the son of Reuel.

<sup>15</sup> Those numbered in his division were 45,650.

<sup>16</sup> All that were numbered of the camp of Reuben according to their divisions were 151,450. They will set out traveling second.

<sup>17</sup> Then the Tent of Meeting will set out traveling with the camp of the Levites in the middle of the camps. They will travel in the same order that they camped, each in his place under their banners.

<sup>19</sup> Those numbered in his division were 40,500.

<sup>20</sup> Next to him will be the tribe of Manasseh. The leader of the people of Manasseh is Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur.

<sup>22</sup> Next will be the tribe of Benjamin. The leader of the people of Benjamin is Abidan the son of Gideoni.

<sup>24</sup> All that were numbered of the camp of Ephraim according to their divisions were 108,100. They will set out traveling third.

<sup>27</sup> Those that camp next to him will be the tribe of Asher. The leader of the people of Asher is Pagiel the son of Ocran.

<sup>28</sup> Those numbered in his division were 41,500.

<sup>29</sup> Next will be the tribe of Naphtali. The leader of the people of Naphtali is Ahira the son of Enan.

<sup>31</sup> All that were numbered of the camp of Dan were 157,600. They will set out traveling last under their banners."

<sup>33</sup> But the Levites were not numbered among the other Israelites, just as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>34</sup> So the Israelites did according to all that the LORD commanded Moses; so they camped under their banners, and so they set out, each one with their clan and family.

Number 3

<sup>4</sup> But Nadab and Abihu died before the LORD when they offered an unauthorized fire before the LORD, in the wilderness of Sinai, and they had no children. Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests in the presence of Aaron their father.

<sup>5</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>6</sup> "Bring the tribe of Levi near, and set them before Aaron the priest, that they may assist him.

<sup>8</sup> They will be responsible for all the furniture of the Tent of Meeting and fulfilling the responsibilities of Israelites, by serving at the tabernacle.

<sup>9</sup> You are to give the Levites to Aaron and to his sons; they will be wholly given to him on behalf of the Israelites.

<sup>10</sup> You are to appoint Aaron and his sons, and they will be responsible for their priesthood. The outsider who comes near must be put to death."

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>12</sup> "Look, I myself have taken the Levites from among the Israelites instead of every firstborn who opens the womb among the Israelites. The Levites are mine, <sup>13</sup> because all the firstborn are mine. When I struck down all the firstborn in the land of Egypt I consecrated for myself all the firstborn in Israel, both man and animal. They are mine. I am the LORD."

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, saying,

<sup>15</sup> "Number the Levites by their clans and their families. Count every male who is a month old or older."

<sup>16</sup> So Moses numbered them according to the word of the LORD, as he was commanded.

<sup>21</sup> To Gershon belonged the family of the Libnites and the family of the Shimeites. These are the families of the Gershonites.

<sup>22</sup> Those who were numbered of them, counting of all the males from a month old and older were 7,500.

<sup>25</sup> The responsibilities of the sons of Gershon in the Tent of Meeting will be the care of the tabernacle, and the tent and its covering, and the curtain at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, <sup>26</sup> the curtains of the courtyard, and the curtain at the entrance of the courtyard, surrounding the tabernacle and the altar and its ropes and all the equipment connected with their use.

<sup>27</sup> To Kohath belonged the family of the Amramites, the family of the Izharites, the family of the Hebronites and the family of the Uzzielites; these are the families of the Kohathites.

<sup>28</sup> Counting all the males from a month old and older, there were 8,600. They were responsible for taking care of the sanctuary.

<sup>29</sup> The families of the sons of Kohath were to camp on the south side of the tabernacle.

<sup>30</sup> The leader of the clans of the families of the Kohathites was Elizaphan the son of Uzziel.

<sup>31</sup> They were responsible for the ark, the table, the lampstand, the altars and the utensils of the sanctuary with which they served, and the inner curtain, and everything connected with their use.

<sup>32</sup> Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest was head of the leaders of the Levites. He had oversight over those who were responsible for the sanctuary.

<sup>34</sup> Counting all the males from a month old and older there were 6,200.

<sup>35</sup> The leader of the clans of the families of Merari was Zuriel the son of Abihail. They were to camp on the north side of the tabernacle.

<sup>36</sup> The sons of Merari were responsible for the framing boards of the tabernacle, its crossbars, its posts, its sockets, and all its accessories, and everything connected with their use, <sup>37</sup> and the posts around the courtyard, and their sockets, pegs and ropes.

<sup>38</sup> Those who camp on the east side of the tabernacle, in front of the Tent of Meeting toward the sunrise, were Moses, Aaron and his sons, who were responsible for the sanctuary itself for the Israelites. Any outsider who comes near must be put to death.

<sup>39</sup> All the Levites who were numbered, whom Moses and Aaron counted as directed by the commandment of the LORD, by their families, all the males from a month old and older, were 22,000.

<sup>40</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Number all the firstborn males of the children of Israel from a month old and older, and count their names.

<sup>41</sup> Take the Levites for me, I am the LORD, instead of all the firstborn among the Israelites; and the livestock of the Levites instead of all the firstborn from the livestock of the Israelites."

<sup>42</sup> So Moses counted all the firstborn among the Israelites just as the LORD commanded him.

<sup>43</sup> All the firstborn males by the number of names, from a month old and older were 22,273.

<sup>44</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>45</sup> "Take the Levites instead of all the firstborn among the Israelites, and the livestock of the Levites instead of their livestock. The Levites are mine. I am the LORD.

<sup>46</sup> For the redemption price of the 273 firstborn of the Israelites that exceed the number of Levites, <sup>47</sup> collect five shekels apiece; according to the shekel of the sanctuary which is twenty gerahs.

<sup>50</sup> From the firstborn of the Israelites he collected the money, 1,365 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary.

<sup>51</sup> Then Moses gave the redemption money to Aaron and his sons, according to the word of the LORD, just as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>2</sup> "Take a census of the sons of Kohath from among the sons of Levi, by their families and clans, <sup>3</sup> from thirty to fifty years old, all who qualify to do the work in the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>4</sup> This is the service of the sons of Kohath in the Tent of Meeting, relating to the most holy things.

<sup>6</sup> Then they must put over it a covering of fine goatskin leather and over that spread a cloth of solid blue and put its carrying poles into place.

<sup>7</sup> Over the table of bread of the Presence they are to spread a blue cloth, and put on it the plates, incense dishes, bowls and drink offering pitchers; and the permanent bread of the Presence is to remain on it.

<sup>8</sup> Then they are to spread over them a scarlet cloth, and cover the same with a covering of fine goatskin leather, and put its carrying poles into place.

<sup>9</sup> Then they are to take a blue cloth and cover the lampstand that is for light, with its lamps, its snuffers and its snuffdishes, and all its olive oil vessels with which it is supplied.

<sup>10</sup> Then they are to put it and all of its utensils in a covering of fine goatskin leather, and put it on a carrying frame.

<sup>11</sup> Over the golden altar they are to spread a blue cloth, and cover it with fine goatskin leather, and put its carrying poles into place.

<sup>12</sup> Then they are to take all the utensils of the service, with which they serve in the sanctuary, and put them in a blue cloth and cover them with fine goatskin leather and put them on the carrying frame.

<sup>13</sup> They are to take away the ashes from the altar and spread a purple cloth on it.

<sup>14</sup> Then they are to put on it all the altar utensils, with which they serve there, the firepans, meat hooks, shovels and basins, all the utensils of the altar. Then they are to spread on it a covering of fine goatskin leather and put its carrying poles into place.

<sup>15</sup> When Aaron and his sons have finished covering the sanctuary and all the furniture of the sanctuary, for the camp to set out traveling, after that, the Kohathites are to come to carry them; but they must not touch the holy things or they will die. These are the things from the Tent of Meeting the Kohathites are to carry.

<sup>16</sup> Eleazar, the son of Aaron, the priest will be responsible for the olive oil for the light, and the fragrant incense, the daily grain offering and the anointing oil. He is in charge of the whole tabernacle and all that is in it, over the sanctuary and its furnishings."

<sup>17</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

<sup>18</sup> "Do not let the tribe of the clans of the Kohathites be cut off from among the Levites;

<sup>19</sup> but do this for them, that they may live, and not die, when they approach the most holy things: Aaron and his sons must go in and assign to each one his duty and what he is to carry.

<sup>20</sup> But they must not go in to see the holy things even for a moment or they will die."

<sup>21</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>22</sup> "Take a census of the sons of Gershon also, by their families and clans.

<sup>23</sup> Number those from thirty to fifty years old, everyone who qualifies to do the work in the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>24</sup> This is the service of the clans of the Gershonites, in serving and in carrying burdens.

<sup>25</sup> They are to carry the curtains of the tabernacle, and the Tent of Meeting with its covering, the covering of fine goatskin leather that is over it, the curtain at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, <sup>26</sup> the curtains of the courtyard and the curtain at the entrance of the gate of the courtyard that is around the tabernacle and the altar and their ropes, along with all the equipment for their service and whatever is done with them. They are responsible for these things.

<sup>27</sup> All the service of the Gershonites in all they have to carry and do are under the direction of Aaron and his sons. You are to appoint them the responsibility for all they are to carry.

<sup>29</sup> As for the sons of Merari, you are to number them by their families and clans.

<sup>30</sup> Number those from thirty to fifty years old, everyone who qualifies to do the work of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>31</sup> This is what they are responsible to carry according to all their service in the Tent of Meeting: the framing boards of the tabernacle, its crossbars, its posts and its base sockets, <sup>32</sup> and the posts around the courtyard, and its base sockets, pegs and ropes, with all its equipment and everything related to its use. You are to assign the objects each person is to carry by name.

<sup>33</sup> This is the service of the clans of the Merarites, according to all their service relating to the Tent of Meeting, under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron, the priest."

<sup>34</sup> Then Moses, Aaron and the leaders of the congregation numbered the sons of the Kohathites by their families and clans, <sup>35</sup> from thirty to fifty years old, everyone who was qualified for service for work in the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>36</sup> Those who were numbered by their families were 2,750.

<sup>37</sup> These were those who were numbered from the clans of the Kohathites, everyone who served in the Tent of Meeting, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to the commandment of the LORD through Moses.

<sup>38</sup> Those who were numbered from the Gershonites, by their families and clans,

<sup>39</sup> from thirty to fifty years old, everyone who came to serve at the Tent of Meeting, <sup>40</sup> those who were numbered by their families and clans were 2,630.

<sup>41</sup> These are those who were numbered from the families of the Gershonites, everyone who served in the Tent of Meeting, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to the commandment of the LORD.

<sup>42</sup> Those who were numbered from the clans of the Merarites by their families and clans,

<sup>43</sup> from thirty to fifty years old, everyone who came to serve at the Tent of Meeting,

<sup>44</sup> those who were numbered by their families were 3,200.

<sup>45</sup> These are those who were numbered of the clans of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to the commandment of the LORD through Moses.

<sup>46</sup> All those that were numbered of the Levites, whom Moses and Aaron and the leaders of Israel numbered, by their families and clans, <sup>47</sup> from thirty to fifty years old, everyone who came to serve and to do the work of carrying things related to the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>48</sup> Those who were numbered were 8,580.

<sup>49</sup> According to the commandment of the LORD through Moses they were numbered, each one was assigned his service and what to carry. So they were numbered by him, just as the LORD commanded Moses.

Numbers 5

<sup>2</sup> "Command the Israelites, that they put out of the camp everyone who is leprous or has a bodily discharge or whoever has become unclean by touching a dead body.

<sup>3</sup> You must put out both male and female, sending them outside the camp, so that they may not defile their camp, where I dwell among them."

<sup>4</sup> So the Israelites did this, sending them out of the camp; just as the LORD had spoken to Moses, that's what the Israelites did.

<sup>5</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>6</sup> "Tell the Israelites, 'When a man or woman commits any sin that people commit, by acting unfaithfully against the LORD, and that person is guilty, <sup>7</sup> then he must confess his sin that he has committed. He must make full restitution for his wrong, and add a fifth to it and give it to the one whom he has wronged.

<sup>8</sup> But if the person has no close relative to whom restitution may be made for the wrong, the restitution for the wrong belongs to the LORD and shall be the priest's; in addition to the ram of the atonement, with which atonement is made for him.

<sup>9</sup> Every offering of all the holy things the Israelites bring to the priest, will be his.

<sup>10</sup> Everyone's sacred donations are his own, whatever anyone gives the priest will be his."

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>12</sup> "Speak to the Israelites and tell them, 'If any man's wife goes astray and is unfaithful to her husband,

<sup>13</sup> and a man has sex with her and it is hid from the eyes of her husband, so that she is undetected though she has defiled herself, but there is no witness against her since she was not caught in the act;

<sup>14</sup> and if jealous feelings come on him, and he is jealous of his wife when she is defiled, or if jealous feelings come on him, and he is jealous of his wife when she is not defiled;

<sup>15</sup> then the man must bring his wife to the priest, and he must bring the offering for her, two quarts of barley flour; he must pour no olive oil on it or put frankincense on it; for it is a grain offering of jealousy, a grain offering of remembrance for bringing the wrong to remembrance.

<sup>16</sup> Then the priest will bring her near and have her stand before the LORD.

<sup>17</sup> The priest will put holy water in a clay pot and take some dust that is on the floor of the tabernacle and put it into the water.

<sup>18</sup> The priest will have the woman stand before the LORD, and let the woman's hair go loose and put the grain offering for remembering in her hands, the grain offering of jealousy. The priest will have in his hand the water of bitterness that brings the curse.

<sup>19</sup> The priest will have her take an oath and will say to the woman, "If no one has had sexual relations with you, and if you have not turned aside to uncleanness, being under your husband's authority, you will be free from harm from this water of bitterness that brings the curse.

<sup>20</sup> But if you have turned aside, being under your husband's authority, and if you are defiled, and someone has had sexual relations with you besides your husband...."

<sup>21</sup> Then the priest will cause the woman to take an oath of cursing, and the priest will say to her, "May the LORD make you a curse and an oath among your people, when the LORD makes your womb to shrivel and your abdomen to swell.

<sup>22</sup> May this water that causes the curse enter your bowels and make your abdomen to swell and your womb to shrivel." Then the woman shall say, "Amen, Amen."

<sup>23</sup> Then the priest will write these curses on a scroll, and he shall wash them off into the bitter water.

<sup>24</sup> Then he will make the woman drink the bitter water that brings the curse, and the water that brings the curse will enter into her producing bitterness.

<sup>25</sup> The priest will take the grain offering of jealousy out of the woman's hand, and shall wave high the grain offering before the LORD and bring it to the altar.

<sup>26</sup> The priest will take a handful of the grain offering as its memorial portion, and burn it on the altar, and afterward make the woman drink the water.

<sup>27</sup> When he has made her drink the water, then if she has defiled herself and has been unfaithful to her husband, the water that brings the curse will enter into her and cause bitterness, and her abdomen will swell and womb will shrivel and the woman shall become a curse among her people.

<sup>28</sup> But if the woman is not defiled and is clean, then she will be free of harmful effects, and will conceive children.

<sup>29</sup> This is the law of jealousy, when a wife, being under her husband's authority, goes astray and defiles herself, <sup>30</sup> or when feelings of jealousy come on a husband because he is suspicious of his wife; then he must have the woman stand before the LORD, and the priest will apply this entire law to her.

<sup>31</sup> The husband will be free from iniquity, but the woman will bear her iniquity."

Numbers 6

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, and tell them, 'When either a man or woman takes a special vow, the vow of a Nazirite, to separate themselves to the LORD, <sup>3</sup> he must separate himself from wine and strong drink; he must not drink vinegar made from wine or strong drink, and may not drink grape juice or eat grapes or raisins.

<sup>4</sup> All the days of his separation he must eat nothing that is produced from the grapevine, not even grape seeds or skins.

<sup>5</sup> All the days of his vow of separation no razor may come on his head until the days of the vow are fulfilled in which he separates himself to the LORD. He shall be holy, he must let the locks of the hair on his head grow long.

<sup>6</sup> All the days that he separates himself to the LORD he must not go near a dead body.

<sup>7</sup> He must not defile himself even for his father, mother, brother or sister, when they die; because his separation to God is upon his head.

<sup>8</sup> All the days of his separation he is holy to the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> If any one dies suddenly beside him and he defiles the head of his separation; then he must shave his head in the day of his cleansing, on the seventh day he must shave it.

<sup>10</sup> On the eighth day he must bring two turtledoves or two young pigeons to the priest at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>11</sup> Then the priest will offer one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, and make atonement for him, because he transgressed by having contact with the dead body. So he will consecrate his head that same day.

<sup>12</sup> He must separate himself again to the LORD for the duration of his separation, and must bring a year-old male lamb for a guilt offering. The former days, however, will not be counted because his separation was defiled.

<sup>13</sup> Now this is the law of the Nazirite, when the days of his separation are fulfilled, he must be brought to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>14</sup> He must offer his offering to the LORD, one year old male lamb without defect for a burnt offering, and one year-old female lamb without defect for a sin offering, and one ram without defect for a peace offering, <sup>15</sup> and a basket of unleavened bread, cakes of fine flour mixed with olive oil and unleavened wafers spread with olive oil, with their grain offering and their drink offerings.

<sup>16</sup> Then the priest will present them before the LORD and offer his sin offering and his burnt offering.

<sup>17</sup> He must offer the ram for a sacrifice of peace offerings to the LORD with the basket of unleavened bread. The priest will offer also his grain offering and drink offering.

<sup>18</sup> Then the Nazirite must shave his consecrated head at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, and take the hair of his consecrated head and put it on the fire where the sacrifice of peace offerings are burning.

<sup>19</sup> Then the priest will take the boiled shoulder of the ram and one unleavened cake out of the basket and one unleavened wafer, and shall put them on the hands of the Nazirite, after he has shaved his consecrated head.

<sup>20</sup> The priest will wave them high for a wave offering before the LORD. It is a holy portion for the priest, together with the breast that was waved high and the lifted high thigh. After that, the Nazirite may drink wine.

<sup>21</sup> This is the law of the Nazirite who vows. His offering is to the LORD for his separation, besides whatever else he is able to afford. He must fulfill the vow he made according to the law of his separation."

<sup>22</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>23</sup> "Tell Aaron and his sons, 'This is how you shall bless the Israelites: You shall say to them, <sup>24</sup> "The LORD bless you and keep you;

<sup>25</sup> the LORD make his face to shine upon you, and be gracious to you.

<sup>26</sup> The LORD lift up his countenance upon you, and give you peace."

<sup>27</sup> So they will put my name on the Israelites; and I will bless them."

Numbers 7

<sup>1</sup> On the day when Moses had finished setting up the tabernacle and had anointed and consecrated it and all its furnishings, and had anointed and consecrated the altar and all its utensils,

<sup>2</sup> the leaders of Israel, the heads of their clans, made an offering. These were the leaders of the tribes who were over those who were numbered.

<sup>3</sup> They brought their offering before the LORD, six covered wagons and twelve oxen, a wagon for every two of the leaders and an ox for each one; and they presented them before the tabernacle.

<sup>4</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>5</sup> "Receive these gifts from them, that they may be used in doing the work of the Tent of Meeting, and give them to the Levites, to each one according to his service."

<sup>6</sup> So Moses took the wagons and the oxen, and gave them to the Levites.

<sup>7</sup> He gave two wagons and four oxen to the sons of Gershon, according to their required service;

<sup>8</sup> and he gave four wagons and eight oxen to the sons of Merari, according to their required service, under the direction of Ithamar the son of Aaron, the priest.

<sup>9</sup> But he gave none to the sons of Kohath, because they were assigned the service of the sanctuary that they were to carry on their shoulders.

<sup>10</sup> The leaders also offered gifts for the dedication of the altar on the day that it was anointed. The leaders presented their offering before the altar.

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "They shall present their offering, one leader each day, for the dedication of the altar."

<sup>12</sup> He who offered his offering on the first day was Nahshon the son of Amminadab, from the tribe of Judah.

<sup>13</sup> His offering was one silver plate, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl of 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mixed with olive oil for a grain offering;

<sup>15</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;

<sup>18</sup> On the second day Nethanel the son of Zuar, leader of the tribe of Issachar, presented an offering.

<sup>19</sup> His offering was one silver plate, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;

<sup>21</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>23</sup> and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male year-old lambs. This was the offering of Nethanel the son of Zuar.

<sup>24</sup> On the third day Eliab the son of Helon, leader of the tribe of Zebulun brought <sup>25</sup> his offering. It was one silver platter, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;
<sup>26</sup> one golden dish weighing 4 ounces, full of incense;
<sup>27</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>29</sup> and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male year-old lambs. This was the offering of Eliab the son of Helon.

<sup>30</sup> On the fourth day Elizur the son of Shedeur, leader of the tribe of Reuben brought his offering.
<sup>31</sup> It was was one silver platter, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;
<sup>33</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>35</sup> and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male year-old lambs. This was the offering of Elizur the son of Shedeur.

<sup>36</sup> On the fifth day Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai, leader of the tribe of Simeon brought
<sup>37</sup> his offering. It was one silver platter, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;
<sup>38</sup> one golden dish weighing 4 ounces, full of incense;
<sup>39</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>40</sup> one male goat for a sin offering;

<sup>42</sup> On the sixth day Eliasaph the son of Deuel, leader of the tribe of Gad brought <sup>43</sup> his offering. It was one silver platter, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;

<sup>45</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>46</sup> one male goat for a sin offering;
<sup>47</sup> and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male year-old lambs. This was the offering of Eliasaph the son of Deuel.

<sup>48</sup> On the seventh day Elishama the son of Ammihud, leader of the tribe of Ephraim brought
<sup>49</sup> his offering. It was one silver platter, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;
<sup>50</sup> one golden dish weighing 4 ounces, full of incense;
<sup>51</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>53</sup> and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male year-old lambs. This was the offering of Elishama the son of Ammihud.

<sup>54</sup> On the eighth day Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur, leader of the tribe of Manasseh brought <sup>55</sup> his offering. It was one silver platter, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;
<sup>56</sup> one golden dish weighing 4 ounces, full of incense;
<sup>57</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>59</sup> and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male year-old lambs. This was the offering of Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur.

<sup>60</sup> On the ninth day Abidan the son of Gideoni, leader of the tribe of Benjamin brought <sup>61</sup> his offering. It was one silver platter, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;
<sup>62</sup> one golden dish weighing 4 ounces, full of incense;
<sup>63</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>64</sup> one male goat for a sin offering;

<sup>66</sup> On the tenth day Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai, leader of the tribe of Dan brought

<sup>68</sup> one golden dish weighing 4 ounces, full of incense;
<sup>69</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>70</sup> one male goat for a sin offering;

<sup>72</sup> On the eleventh day Pagiel the son of Ocran, leader of the tribe of Asher brought <sup>73</sup> his offering. It was one silver platter, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;
<sup>74</sup> one golden dish weighing 4 ounces, full of incense;
<sup>75</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>76</sup> one male goat for a sin offering;

<sup>78</sup> On the twelfth day Ahira the son of Enan, leader of the tribe of Naphtali brought <sup>79</sup> his offering. It was one silver platter, its weight was 3 1/4 pounds, one silver bowl weighing 1 3/4 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mix with olive oil for a grain offering;
<sup>80</sup> one golden dish weighing 4 ounces, full of incense;
<sup>81</sup> one young bull, one ram, one year-old male lamb for a burnt offering;
<sup>83</sup> and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male year-old lambs. This was the offering of Ahira the son of Enan.

<sup>84</sup> This was the dedication offering for the altar, on the day when it was anointed, by the leaders of Israel: twelve silver plates, twelve silver bowls, twelve golden dishes;
<sup>85</sup> each silver plate was 3 1/4 pounds, and each bowl 1 3/4 pounds; all the silver totaled 60 pounds, according to the shekel of the sanctuary;
<sup>86</sup> the twelve golden dishes full of incense weighed 4 ounces apiece, according to the shekel of the sanctuary; all the gold of the dishes totaled 3 pounds;
<sup>87</sup> all the oxen for the burnt offering totaled twelve bulls, twelve rams, twelve male year-old lambs, with their grain offering; and twelve male goats for a sin offering;
<sup>88</sup> and all the oxen for the sacrifice of peace offerings totaled twenty four bulls, the rams totaled sixty, the male goats sixty, the year-old male lambs totaled sixty. This was the dedication offering for the altar, after that it was anointed.

<sup>89</sup> When Moses went into the Tent of Meeting to speak with the LORD, he heard the voice speaking to him from above the mercy seat that was on the ark of the testimony, from between the two cherubim. Thus he spoke to him.

Numbers 8

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to Aaron and tell him, 'When you set up the lamps make sure the seven lamps will shine light in front of the lampstand.'"

<sup>3</sup> So Aaron did it. He set up the lamps to shine light in front of the lampstand, as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>4</sup> This was how the lampstand was made. It was made of hammered gold from its base to its blossoms. So he made the lampstand according to the pattern that the LORD had shown Moses.

<sup>5</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>7</sup> Do this to them to cleanse them: sprinkle the water of purification on them, have them shave their entire body, and have them wash their clothes and so cleanse themselves.

<sup>8</sup> Then let them take a young bull and its grain offering, fine flour mixed with olive oil; and take another young bull for a sin offering.

<sup>10</sup> When you present the Levites before the LORD, the Israelites are to lay their hands on the Levites.

<sup>11</sup> Aaron is to present the Levites before the LORD as a wave offering on the behalf of Israelites, that they may do the work of the LORD.

<sup>12</sup> When the Levites lay their hands on the heads of the bulls, offer one as a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering to the LORD, to make atonement for the Levites.

<sup>13</sup> Then stand the Levites before Aaron and his sons and offer them as a wave offering to the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> This is how you are to separate the Levites from among rest of the Israelites. The Levites will be mine.

<sup>15</sup> After that the Levites will begin to do the service of the Tent of Meeting after you have cleansed them and offered them as a wave offering.

<sup>16</sup> For they are totally given to me from among the Israelites. I have taken them for myself instead of the firstborn of the Israelites that open the womb.

<sup>17</sup> For all the firstborn among the Israelites are mine, both human and animal; when I struck down all the firstborn in the land of Egypt I consecrated them for myself.

<sup>18</sup> I have taken the Levites instead of all the firstborn among the Israelites.

<sup>19</sup> I have given the Levites as a gift to Aaron and his sons from the Israelites, to do the service for the Israelites in the Tent of Meeting, and to make atonement for the Israelites so that there will be no plague among the Israelites, when the Israelites come near to the sanctuary."

<sup>20</sup> So Moses, Aaron and all the congregation of the Israelites did with the Levites according to everything the LORD commanded Moses regarding the Levites, so the Israelites did to them.

<sup>21</sup> The Levites purified themselves from sin and washed their clothes. Then Aaron presented them as a wave offering before the LORD, and Aaron made atonement for them to cleanse them.

<sup>22</sup> After that the Levites went in to do their service in the Tent of Meeting before Aaron, and his sons just as the LORD had commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so they did to them.

<sup>23</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>24</sup> "This is what applies to the Levites: from twenty-five years old and upward they shall enter the service in the work of the Tent of Meeting, <sup>25</sup> and from the age of fifty years they must retire from the work and serve no more.

<sup>26</sup> They may assist their brothers in the Tent of Meeting in carrying out their duties but they must not do any work. This is how you are to assign the duties to the Levites."

Numbers 9

<sup>3</sup> On the fourteenth day of this month, at twilight, you are to keep it, at its appointed time according to all its statutes and regulations you are to keep it."

<sup>4</sup> So Moses told the Israelites to keep the Passover.

<sup>5</sup> They kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month, at twilight, in the wilderness of Sinai. The Israelites did everything just as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>6</sup> But there were certain people who were unclean having had contact with a dead body of a man, so they could not keep the Passover on that day. So they came before Moses and Aaron that day,

<sup>7</sup> and said to him, "We are unclean having had contact with a dead body of a man; why are we prevented from offering the LORD's offering at its appointed time among the Israelites?"

<sup>8</sup> Moses responded to them, "Wait here until I hear what the LORD commands concerning you."

<sup>9</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>10</sup> "Tell the Israelites, 'If any of you or your descendants are unclean having had contact with a dead body, or have gone on a distant journey, they may still keep the Passover to the LORD.

<sup>11</sup> In the fourteenth day of the second month at twilight they must keep it; they will eat the Passover lamb with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.

<sup>12</sup> They must not leave any of it until morning or break any of its bones. They must keep it following every statute of the Passover.

<sup>13</sup> But the person who is clean and has not been on a journey and fails to keep the Passover, that person must be cut off from his people because he has not offered the LORD's offering at its appointed time. That person will bear the consequences of his sin.

<sup>14</sup> If a foreigner living among you wants to keep the Passover to the LORD, he must do so in accordance with the statute and regulations of the Passover. You are to have the same statute for both the foreigner and for the one who was born in the land."

<sup>15</sup> On the day that the tabernacle was set up, the cloud covered the Tent of the Testimony, and from evening until morning it was over the tabernacle looking like fire.

<sup>16</sup> This is how it always was: the cloud covered it, and at night it had the appearance of fire.

<sup>17</sup> Whenever the cloud lifted off the Tent, then the Israelites would set out and in the place where the cloud settled, there the Israelites set up camp.

<sup>18</sup> At the commandment of the LORD the Israelites began their journey, and at the commandment of the LORD they set up camp. As long as the cloud stayed over the tabernacle they would remain camped.

<sup>19</sup> Even when the cloud stayed over the tabernacle many days, the Israelites followed the LORD's order and did not set out on a journey.

<sup>20</sup> Sometimes the cloud was only a few days over the tabernacle. So according to the LORD's command they remained camped and according to the LORD's command they set out.

<sup>21</sup> Sometimes the cloud remained only from evening until morning; and when the cloud was taken up the next morning, they continued on. Whether by day or by night, when the cloud was lifted, they set out.

<sup>22</sup> Whether it were two days, or a month, or a year, that the cloud remained over the tabernacle, resting on it, the Israelites remained camped and did not set out; but when it lifted then they set out.

Numbers 10

<sup>2</sup> "Make two trumpets of hammered silver. You will use them for assembling the congregation and for breaking camps.

<sup>3</sup> When they blow both of them, all the congregation shall assemble before you at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>4</sup> If they blow only one, then just the leaders, the heads of the thousands of Israel, shall gather themselves before you.

<sup>5</sup> When you blow the signal, the camps that are on the east side shall set out on their journey.

<sup>6</sup> When you blow the signal the second time, the camps that are on the south side shall set out. A signal is to be blown whenever they are to set out on their journeys.

<sup>7</sup> But when the assembly is to be gathered together, you shall blow them but do not sound the special signal.

<sup>8</sup> The sons of Aaron, the priests, shall blow the trumpets. They will be for you a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations.

<sup>9</sup> When you go to war in your land against the adversary that oppresses you, then you shall sound an alarm with the trumpets; and you will be remembered by the LORD your God, and you will be saved from your enemies.

<sup>10</sup> Also on the day of your gladness, and at your set feasts, and at the beginnings of your months, you are to blow the trumpets over your burnt offerings, and over the sacrifices of your peace offerings. They will be a reminder for you before your God. I am the LORD your God."

<sup>11</sup> On the twentieth day of the second month of the second year, the cloud lifted from over the tabernacle of the Testimony.

<sup>12</sup> So the Israelites set out from the wilderness of Sinai traveling from place to place; and the cloud settled down in the wilderness of Paran.

<sup>13</sup> They set out for the first time according to the commandment of the LORD through Moses.

<sup>14</sup> The banner of the camp of Judah moved forward first according to their companies and the leader over its company was Nahshon the son of Amminadab.

<sup>15</sup> Over the company of the tribe of Issachar was Nethanel the son of Zuar.

<sup>16</sup> Over the company of the tribe of Zebulun was Eliab the son of Helon.

<sup>17</sup> Then the tabernacle was taken down, and the Gershonites and Merarites, who carried the tabernacle, set out.

<sup>18</sup> Next the banner of the camp of Reuben moved forward according to their companies and the leader over its company was Elizur the son of Shedeur.

<sup>19</sup> Over the company of the tribe of Simeon was Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai.

<sup>20</sup> Over the company of the tribe of Gad was Eliasaph the son of Deuel.

<sup>21</sup> Then the Kohathites set out carrying the holy things and the tabernacle was set up before they arrived.

<sup>22</sup> Next the banner of the camp of Ephraim set out according to their companies and the leader over its company was Elishama the son of Ammihud.

<sup>23</sup> Over the company of the tribe of Manasseh was Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur.

<sup>24</sup> Over the company of the tribe of Benjamin was Abidan the son of Gideon.

<sup>25</sup> Then the banner of the camp of Dan, which was the rear guard for all the camps, set out according to their companies and the leader over its company was Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai.

<sup>26</sup> Over the company of the tribe of Asher was Pagiël the son of Ocran.

<sup>28</sup> This was the order in which the Israelites traveled according to their companies when they set out on their journey.

<sup>29</sup> Moses said to Hobab, the son of Reuel the Midianite, Moses' father-in-law, "We are traveling to the place about which the LORD said, 'I will give it to you' come with us, and we will treat you well for the LORD has promised good things to Israel."

<sup>30</sup> But he replied, "I will not go; but I will return to my own land and to my kindred."

<sup>31</sup> Moses said, "Please do not leave us, as you know where we should camp in the wilderness, and your eyes can serve as a lookout for us.

<sup>32</sup> If you come with us, we will share with you whatever good the LORD does for us."

<sup>33</sup> So they travelled three days' journey from the mountain of the LORD; and the ark of the covenant of the LORD went before them three days' journey, to seek out a resting place for them.

<sup>34</sup> The cloud of the LORD was over them by day, when they set out from the camp.

<sup>35</sup> Whenever the ark set out, Moses would say, "Rise up, O LORD, and let your enemies be scattered and may those who hate you flee before you."

<sup>36</sup> Whenever it came to rest, he would say, "Return, O LORD, to the countless thousands of Israel."

Numbers 11

<sup>1</sup> Now the people complained in the hearing of the LORD. When the LORD heard it, his anger burned and the fire of the LORD burned among them and consumed the outer edges of the camp.

<sup>2</sup> Then the people cried out to Moses, and Moses prayed to the LORD, and the fire died out.

<sup>3</sup> So the name of that place was called Taberah (burning), because the fire of the LORD burned among them.

<sup>4</sup> Now the foreign rabble who were among them craved other food and the Israelites also whined again, and demanded, "Who will give us meat to eat!

<sup>5</sup> We remember the free fish we ate in Egypt, the cucumbers, melons, leeks, onions and the garlic.

<sup>6</sup> But now our appetite is gone. There is nothing to look at but this manna."

<sup>8</sup> The people went around and gathered it and ground it in handmills or beat it in mortar bowls. Then they boiled it in pots or made cakes of it. It tasted like something made with fresh olive oil.

<sup>9</sup> When the dew fell on the camp at night, the manna would come down with it.

<sup>10</sup> When Moses heard the people whining in all their families, everyone at the entrance of his tent, the anger of the LORD burned greatly, and Moses was displeased.

<sup>11</sup> So Moses said to the LORD, "Why have you treated me, your servant, so poorly? Why have I not found favor in your sight, that you have put the burden of all this people on me?"

<sup>12</sup> Did I conceive all these people? Did I give them birth, that you should tell me, 'Carry them in your arms as a nurse carries a nursing baby' to the land that you promised to their forefathers?"

<sup>13</sup> Where can I get meat to give all these people? For they keep whining to me, 'Give us meat to eat!'

<sup>14</sup> I am not able to bear all these people by myself alone, the burden is too heavy for me.

<sup>15</sup> If this is how you are going to treat me, please kill me right now. If I have found favor in your sight, do not let me witness my misery."

<sup>16</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Gather before me seventy men of the elders of Israel, whom you know to be the elders of the people and officers over them; and bring them to the Tent of Meeting, that they may stand there with you.

<sup>17</sup> Then I will come down and talk with you there. I will take of the spirit that is on you, and will put it on them. Then they will help bear the burden of the people with you, so that you will not have bear it all by yourself.

<sup>18</sup> Tell the people, 'Consecrate yourselves for tomorrow, and you will eat meat; for you have wailed in the ears of the LORD, saying, "Who will give us meat to eat? It was better for us in Egypt.'" Therefore the LORD will give you meat, and you will eat.

<sup>19</sup> You will eat, not for just one or two days, or even five, ten or twenty days,
<sup>20</sup> but for a whole month, until it comes out at your nostrils and until you are sick of it; because you have rejected the LORD who is among you, and have whined before him, saying, 'Why did we ever leave Egypt?'"

<sup>21</sup> Then Moses said, "The people around me are six hundred thousand foot soldiers but you have said, 'I will give them meat, that they may eat for a whole month.'

<sup>22</sup> Would it be enough for them even if the flocks and herds were slaughtered for them? Even if we caught all the fish in the sea, would it be enough for them?"

<sup>23</sup> Then the LORD replied, "Is the LORD's arm not strong enough? Now you will see whether my word to you will come true or not."

<sup>24</sup> Then Moses went out and told the people the words of the LORD. He gathered seventy men from the elders of the people and placed them around the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>25</sup> Then the LORD came down in the cloud and spoke to him, and took some of the spirit that was on him and put it on the seventy elders. When the Spirit rested on them, they prophesied--but they did not do it again.

<sup>26</sup> But two men remained in the camp, one named Eldad and the other named Medad and the Spirit rested on them. They were listed among those elders but had not gone out to the Tent of Meeting, and they prophesied in the camp.

<sup>27</sup> A young man ran and informed Moses, "Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp!"

<sup>28</sup> Then Joshua the son of Nun, Moses' assistant, one of his chosen men, answered and said, "My lord Moses, stop them!"

<sup>29</sup> But Moses replied, "Are you jealous for my sake? I wish that all of the LORD's people were prophets, that the LORD would put his spirit on them!"

<sup>30</sup> Then Moses returned to the camp along with the elders of Israel.

<sup>31</sup> There went forth a wind from the LORD, and it brought quails from the sea, and let them fall by the camp, about a day's journey on this side, and a day's journey on the other side around the camp, and about three feet deep on the surface of the ground.

<sup>32</sup> So the people stayed up all that day and night, and all the next day, and gathered the quails. The least any one gathered was sixty bushels and they spread them out for themselves around the camp.

<sup>33</sup> While the meat was still between their teeth, even before it was chewed, the anger of the LORD burned against the people, and the LORD struck the people with a very great plague.

<sup>34</sup> So the name of that place was called Kibroth-hattaavah (graves of gluttony), because there they buried the people that craved other food.

Numbers 12

<sup>1</sup> Miriam and Aaron spoke against Moses because of the Cushite woman whom he had married; for he had married a Cushite.

<sup>2</sup> They said, "Has the LORD spoken only through Moses? Has he not also spoken through us?" And the LORD heard it.

<sup>3</sup> Now the man Moses was very humble, more so than anyone on the face of the earth.

<sup>4</sup> So the LORD spoke immediately to Moses, Aaron and Miriam, "You three come out to the Tent of Meeting." So the three of them came out.

<sup>5</sup> Then the LORD came down in a pillar of cloud, and stood at the entrance of the Tent, and called Aaron and Miriam; and they both came forward.

<sup>6</sup> He said, "Listen now to my words: if there is a prophet among you, I the LORD will make myself known to him in a vision, I will speak with him in a dream.

<sup>7</sup> But it is not like this with my servant Moses; he is the one I trust of anyone in my house.

<sup>8</sup> With him I speak face to face, openly, and not in riddles; and he sees the form of the LORD. Why then were you not afraid to speak against my servant Moses?"

<sup>9</sup> Then the anger of the LORD burned against them, and he departed.

<sup>10</sup> When the cloud lifted from over the Tent; Miriam was leprous, white as snow. Then Aaron turned towards Miriam and saw that she was leprous.

<sup>11</sup> Then Aaron said to Moses, "O my lord, please do not punish us for this sin that we have committed so foolishly.

<sup>12</sup> Do not let her become like a stillborn baby, whose flesh is half eaten away when it comes from its mother's womb."

<sup>13</sup> So Moses cried to the LORD, "Heal her, O God, I beg you."

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "If her father had spit in her face, would she not be disgraced seven days? Let her be shut up outside the camp for seven days, and after that she may be brought in again."

<sup>15</sup> So Miriam was shut up outside the camp for seven days, and the people did not move on until Miriam was brought back in.

Numbers 13

<sup>2</sup> "Send men to explore the land of Canaan, which I am giving to the Israelites. Send one man who is a leader from every ancestral tribe."

<sup>3</sup> So Moses sent them from the wilderness of Paran according to the command of the LORD. All of them were leaders of the Israelites.

<sup>4</sup> These were their names:

from the tribe of Reuben, Shammua the son of Zaccur;

<sup>16</sup> These are the names of the men that Moses sent to explore the land. Moses called Hoshea the son of Nun, Joshua.

<sup>17</sup> Then Moses sent them to explore the land of Canaan, and said to them, "Go north through the Negev, and go up into the hill country.

<sup>18</sup> See what the land is like, and whether the people who live there are strong or weak, few or many.

<sup>19</sup> See what the land they live in is like. Is it good or bad? See whether the towns they live in are unwalled or fortified, <sup>20</sup> and whether the soil is fertile or poor, whether there are trees in it or not. Be courageous and bring back some of the fruit of the land." Now it was the time for the first ripe grapes.

<sup>21</sup> So they went up and explored the land from the wilderness of Zin to Rehob, near Lebo-Hamath.

<sup>22</sup> They went north through the Negev and came to Hebron. Ahiman, Sheshai, and Talmai, the children of Anak, lived there. (Now Hebron was built seven years before Zoan in Egypt.)

<sup>23</sup> When they came to the valley of Eshcol, they cut down from there a branch with one cluster of grapes, and they carried it on a pole between two of them. They also brought some pomegranates and figs.

<sup>24</sup> That place was called the Valley of Eshcol ("Grape cluster"), because of the cluster of grapes that the Israelites cut down from there.

<sup>26</sup> They came back to Moses and Aaron, all the congregation of the Israelites, in the wilderness of Paran, at Kadesh. They brought back a report to them and the whole congregation, and showed them the fruit of the land.

<sup>27</sup> They reported to Moses, "We went to the land you sent us to; and truly it flows with milk and honey; and this is its fruit.

<sup>28</sup> However the people that live in the land are strong, and the towns are fortified and very large. Beyond that we saw the descendants of Anak there.

<sup>29</sup> The Amalekites live in the Negev; and the Hittites, Jebusites and Amorites live in the hill country; and the Canaanites live by the sea and along Jordan River."

<sup>30</sup> Then Caleb quieted the people before Moses, and said, "Let us go up at once and take possession of it; for we are certainly able to conquer it."

<sup>31</sup> But the men who went up with him said, "We are not able to go up against this people; for they are stronger than we are."

<sup>32</sup> They brought back to the Israelites a bad report of the land that they had explored, saying, "The land we went through to explore is a land that devours its inhabitants. All the people that we saw in it were huge.

<sup>33</sup> We even saw the Nephilim giants there, the sons of Anak, who come from the Nephilim. We seemed like grasshoppers in our own eyes and looked the same to them."

Numbers 14

<sup>1</sup> Then all the congregation raised a loud cry, and the people wept that night.

<sup>2</sup> All the Israelites murmured against Moses and Aaron; and the whole congregation complained to them, "If only we had died in the land of Egypt! Or, if only we had died in this wilderness!

<sup>3</sup> Why has the LORD brought us to this land just to let us die by the sword? Our wives and our children will become plunder. Would it not be better for us to return to Egypt?"

<sup>4</sup> So they conspired with each other, "Let us choose a leader and return to Egypt."

<sup>6</sup> Joshua the son of Nun and Caleb the son of Jephunneh, who were among those who had explored the land, tore their clothes

<sup>7</sup> and they spoke to all the congregation of the Israelites, saying, "The land that we passed through to explore it, is an exceedingly good land.

<sup>8</sup> If the LORD delights in us, then he will bring us into this land and give it to us, a land flowing with milk and honey.

<sup>9</sup> Only do not rebel against the LORD, and do not fear the people of the land; for they are bread for us to devour. Their protection is gone from over them, and the LORD is with us. Do not fear them."

<sup>10</sup> But the whole congregation threatened to stone them with stones. But the glory of the LORD appeared at the Tent of Meeting to all the Israelites.

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "How long will this people despise me? And how long will they not believe in me, even with all the signs that I have done among them?"

<sup>12</sup> I will strike them with the pestilence and disinherit them, then I will make you into a nation greater and mightier than they are."

<sup>13</sup> But Moses said to the LORD, "Then the Egyptians will hear it; for you brought up this people by your might from among them,

<sup>14</sup> then they will tell it to the inhabitants of this land. They have heard that you O LORD are in the midst of this people; for you O LORD are seen face to face, and your cloud stands over them, and you go before them, in a pillar of cloud by day, and in a pillar of fire by night.

<sup>15</sup> Now if you kill this people all at once, then the nations that have heard of your fame will say,

<sup>16</sup> 'It was because the LORD was not able to bring this people into the land that he swore to them, so he killed them in the wilderness.'

<sup>17</sup> So now, please let the power of the Lord be great, just as you have promised, saying,

<sup>18</sup> 'The LORD is slow to anger, abundant in steadfast love, forgiving iniquity and transgression; and by no means clearing the guilty, visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children to the third and fourth generation.'

<sup>19</sup> Please pardon the iniquity of this people according to the greatness of your steadfast love, just as you have forgiven this people from Egypt even until now."

<sup>20</sup> Then the LORD responded, "I have pardoned them as you asked, <sup>21</sup> but as truly as I live, all the earth will be filled with the glory of the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> None of those men who have seen my glory and my signs, that I did in Egypt and in the wilderness, and yet have tempted me these ten times, and have not listened to my voice;

<sup>23</sup> they will not see the land that I swore to their forefathers, nor will any of those who despised me see it.

<sup>24</sup> But my servant Caleb, because he had different spirit and has followed me fully, I will bring him into the land he explored and his descendants will possess it.

<sup>26</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

<sup>27</sup> "How long do I have to put up with this evil congregation that murmurs against me? I have heard the complaints of the Israelites, that they murmur against me.

<sup>28</sup> Tell them, 'As I live, says the LORD, I will do to you exactly as you have spoken in my hearing.

<sup>29</sup> Your dead bodies will fall in this wilderness, and all of you who were numbered, according to your census, from twenty years old and upward, who have complained against me.

<sup>30</sup> Surely you will not enter the land concerning which I swore to settle you in, except Caleb the son of Jephunneh and Joshua the son of Nun.

<sup>31</sup> But your children, who you said would be plunder, I will bring them in, and they will know the land you have rejected.

<sup>32</sup> But as for you, your bodies will drop dead in this desert.

<sup>33</sup> Your children will wander in the wilderness for forty years, and will suffer for your unfaithfulness, until the last of your dead bodies lie in the wilderness.

<sup>34</sup> According to the number of the days you explored out the land, forty days, for every day a year, you will bear your iniquities, forty years, and you will know my displeasure.

<sup>35</sup> I, the LORD, have spoken. Surely I will do this to all this evil congregation who has conspired together against me. In this wilderness they will be destroyed and there they will die."

<sup>36</sup> Then the men whom Moses sent to explore the land, who returned and made all the congregation complain against him by bringing back a bad report against the land, <sup>37</sup> even these men who brought an evil report of the land, died by a plague before the LORD.

<sup>38</sup> But Joshua the son of Nun and Caleb the son of Jephunneh, were the only ones who remained alive from those who went to explore the land.

<sup>39</sup> Then Moses reported these words to all the Israelites and the people mourned greatly.

<sup>40</sup> Then they got up early the next morning and went up to the top of the mountain, saying, "Here we are, and we will go up to the place the LORD has promised, for we have sinned."

<sup>41</sup> But Moses said, "Why are you continuing to transgress the command of the LORD? It will not succeed!

<sup>42</sup> Do not go up, for the LORD is not among you; and you will be struck down before your enemies.

<sup>43</sup> For there the Amalekites and the Canaanites are opposing you, and you will fall by the sword. Because you turned away from following the LORD, therefore the LORD will not be with you."

<sup>45</sup> Then the Amalekites and Canaanites who lived in that hill country came down and defeated them and chased them even as far as Hormah.

Numbers 15

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites and tell them, 'When you come into the land where you are going to live, which I am giving to you,

<sup>3</sup> and you make an offering to the LORD by fire, a burnt offering, a sacrifice for fulfilling a vow, a freewill offering or at your appointed feasts, to make a pleasing aroma to the LORD, from the herd or the flock,

<sup>4</sup> then the one who presents his offering to the LORD must present a grain offering also of two quarts of fine flour mixed with the quart of olive oil.

<sup>5</sup> You must also prepare one quart of wine for the drink offering with the burnt offering, or for the sacrifice for each lamb.

<sup>7</sup> and for the drink offering you must offer a third of a gallon of wine, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> When you prepare a young bull for a burnt offering or for a sacrifice to fulfill a vow or for peace offerings to the LORD, <sup>9</sup> then you must offer with the bull a grain offering of six quarts of fine flour mixed with two quarts of olive oil.

<sup>10</sup> You must offer for the drink offering two quarts of wine with the offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>11</sup> This is what is to be done for each bull, ram, male lamb or goat.

<sup>12</sup> According to the number that you offer, so you must do for each one for as many as there are.

<sup>13</sup> All native-born Israelites must do these things in this way to present an offering made by fire as a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> If a foreigner who resides with you or who may take up permanent residence among you, will present an offering made by fire, as a pleasing aroma to the LORD, he must do it the same way you do.

<sup>15</sup> For the congregation there is to be one statute both for you and the foreigner who lives with you. This is a permanent statute throughout your generations. You and the foreigner are the same before the LORD.

<sup>16</sup> A single law and regulation shall be both for you and the foreigner who lives among you."

<sup>17</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>18</sup> "Speak to the Israelites and say to them, 'When you come into the land to which I am bringing you,

<sup>19</sup> when you eat of the food of the land, you must present an offering to the LORD.

<sup>20</sup> You must offer up a cake from the first batch of your dough for an offering, as the offering of the threshing floor, so you are to offer it up.

<sup>21</sup> From the first batch of your dough you are to give to the LORD an offering throughout your generations.

<sup>22</sup> But when you unintentionally sin and fail to observe all these commandments, that the LORD has spoken to Moses,

<sup>23</sup> all that the LORD has commanded you by Moses, from the day that the LORD commanded it and continuing throughout your generations, <sup>24</sup> then if anything is done unintentionally without the knowledge of the congregation, then the whole congregation must offer one young bull for a burnt offering, as a pleasing aroma to the LORD, with its grain offering and its drink offering, according to the ordinance, and one male goat for a sin offering.

<sup>25</sup> So the priest will make atonement for all the congregation of the Israelites, and they will be forgiven, for it was an unintentional sin and they have brought their offering, an offering made by fire to the LORD, and their sin offering before the LORD for their error.

<sup>26</sup> Then all the congregation of Israelites will be forgiven and the foreigner who lives among them; for all the people were involved in the error.

<sup>27</sup> If any individual sins unintentionally, then he must offer a year-old female goat for a sin offering.

<sup>28</sup> The priest will make atonement for the person who errs, when he sins unintentionally before the LORD, to make atonement for him; and he will be forgiven.

<sup>29</sup> You shall have a single law for the one who sins unintentionally, for both he who is a native-born Israelite and for the foreigner who lives among them.

<sup>30</sup> But the person who acts defiantly, whether he is native-born or a foreigner, insults the LORD; and that person must be cut off from among his people.

<sup>31</sup> Because he has despised the word of the LORD and has broken his commandment, that person must be completely cut off; his guilt remains on him.

<sup>32</sup> While the Israelites were in the wilderness, they found a man gathering sticks on the Sabbath day.

<sup>33</sup> So those who found him gathering sticks brought him to Moses, Aaron and all the congregation.

<sup>34</sup> They took him into custody because it was not clear what should be done to him.

<sup>35</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "The man must be put to death. All the congregation must stone him with stones outside the camp."

<sup>36</sup> So all the congregation brought him outside the camp, and stoned him to death with stones; just as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>37</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>38</sup> "Speak to the Israelites and tell them to make tassels for themselves on the corners of their garments throughout their generations, and to put a blue thread on the hem of their clothing.

<sup>39</sup> This tassel will be something for you to look at and remember all the commandments of the LORD, and to do them so that you do not follow after your own heart and your own eyes which may lead you to unfaithfully prostituting yourselves.

<sup>40</sup> Then you will remember and do all my commandments, and be holy to your God.

<sup>41</sup> I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God. I am the LORD your God."

Numbers 16

<sup>3</sup> They assembled themselves against Moses and Aaron, and said to them, "You have gone too far! For all in the congregation are holy, every one of them, and the LORD is among them. Why then do you exalt yourselves above the assembly of the LORD?"

<sup>5</sup> Then he spoke to Korah and all his followers, "In the morning the LORD will show who are his, and who is holy and will allow that person to come near him. The one he will choose, he will allow to approach him.

<sup>6</sup> Do this: Korah, you and all your company, take incense censers;

<sup>7</sup> put fire in them, and put incense on them before the LORD tomorrow. The man whom the LORD chooses will be holy. You Levites are the ones who have gone too far!"

<sup>8</sup> Then Moses said to Korah, "Listen, you sons of Levi!

<sup>9</sup> Does it seem an insignificant thing to you, that the God of Israel has separated you from the congregation of Israel, to bring you near to himself, to perform the service of the tabernacle of the LORD, and to stand before the community to minister to them?

<sup>10</sup> He has brought you near, and all your brothers, the sons of Levi with you. Are you now seeking the priesthood as well?

<sup>11</sup> Therefore you and all your company have gathered together against the LORD. Who is Aaron that you should murmur against him?"

<sup>12</sup> Then Moses sent for Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab. But they replied, "We will not come up.

<sup>13</sup> Is it not enough that you brought us up out of a land flowing with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness? Now you also want to make yourself a prince over us?

<sup>14</sup> Beyond that you have not brought us into a land flowing with milk and honey, or given us inheritance of fields and vineyards. Will you put out the eyes of these men? We will not come up."

<sup>15</sup> Then Moses became very angry, and said to the LORD, "Do not respect their offering. I have not taken one donkey from them, and I have not hurt a single one of them."

<sup>16</sup> Moses said to Korah, "Be present before the LORD, you and all your company tomorrow, you and they, and Aaron.

<sup>20</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

<sup>22</sup> But they fell on their faces and said, "O God, the God of the spirits of all flesh, shall one person sin, and will you be angry with the whole community?"

<sup>23</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>26</sup> He told the congregation, "Get away from the tents of these wicked men! Do not touch anything of theirs, or you will be destroyed because of all their sins."

<sup>28</sup> Then Moses said, "This is how you will know that the LORD has sent me to do all these works; for I have not done them on my own.

<sup>29</sup> If these men die a natural death, or if they share the fate common to all men; then the LORD has not sent me.

<sup>30</sup> But if the LORD does something entirely new, and the ground open its mouth, and swallows them up, with everything that belongs to them, and they go down alive into grave; then you will know that these men have despised the LORD."

<sup>31</sup> As soon as he finished speaking all these words, the ground under them split apart.

<sup>32</sup> The earth opened its mouth and swallowed them up, along with their households, and all the men associated with Korah and all their goods.

<sup>33</sup> So they and all that belonged to them, went down alive into the grave; and the earth closed over them. So they perished from among the assembly.

<sup>34</sup> All Israel who were around them fled when they heard their cry, for they said, "The earth may swallow us too."

<sup>35</sup> Fire came out from the LORD, and devoured the 250 men who offered the incense.

<sup>37</sup> "Tell Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest to pick up the censers out of the flames, and scatter the ambers a good way off; for they are holy.

<sup>38</sup> As for the censers of these sinners at the cost of their own lives; let them be hammered into plates for a covering of the altar, because they were presented before the LORD. Therefore they are holy and they will be a sign warning the Israelites."

<sup>39</sup> So Eleazar the priest took the bronze censers, that had been presented by those who were burned and hammered them into a covering for the altar.

<sup>40</sup> It was to be a reminder to the Israelites that no outsider who is not a descendant of Aaron was to come near to burn incense before the LORD so he not become like Korah and as his followers; just as the LORD spoke to him through Moses.

<sup>41</sup> But the next day the whole congregation of Israelites murmured against Moses and Aaron, saying, "You have killed the people of the LORD."

<sup>45</sup> "Get away from this congregation, that I may consume them in an instant." So they fell on their faces.

<sup>46</sup> Then Moses said to Aaron, "Take your censer, and put burning coals from the altar in it and place incense on it, and carry it quickly among the congregation, and make atonement for them for wrath has gone out from the LORD; the plague has begun."

<sup>47</sup> So Aaron took it as Moses directed, and ran into the midst of the assembly; and the plague had already begun among the people. He put on the incense and made atonement for the people.

<sup>48</sup> He stood between the dead and the living; and the plague was stopped.

<sup>49</sup> But 14,700 died from the plague besides those who had died in the affair involving Korah.

<sup>50</sup> Then Aaron returned to Moses at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting and the plague was averted.

Numbers 17

<sup>2</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, and get wooden staffs from them, one from each tribe, from every tribal leader, twelve staffs. Write each man's name on his staff.

<sup>3</sup> Write Aaron's name on the staff of Levi; for there shall be one staff for the head of each tribe.

<sup>4</sup> Place them in the Tent of Meeting before the ark of the covenant, where I meet with you.

<sup>5</sup> The staff of the man whom I choose will bud. In this way I will put an end to the complaining of the Israelites."

<sup>7</sup> Then Moses put the staffs before the LORD in the Tent of the Testimony.

<sup>8</sup> The next day Moses went into the Tent of the Testimony; and Aaron's staff for the house of Levi had sprouted. It put forth buds, brought forth blossoms and produced ripe almonds.

<sup>9</sup> When Moses brought out all the staffs from before the LORD to all the Israelites, they looked and each man took his own staff.

<sup>10</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Put Aaron's staff back before the Testimony, to be kept for a warning sign to the rebels; that you may put an end to their complaining against me, so that they will not die."

<sup>12</sup> Then the Israelites spoke to Moses, saying, "Look, we are doomed! We perish! We will all perish!

<sup>13</sup> Anyone who comes near to the tabernacle of the LORD will die. Are we all going to die?"

Numbers 18

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Aaron, "You, your sons and your tribe will bear the responsibility for offences against the sanctuary; but you and your sons will bear the responsibility for offences against your priesthood.

<sup>2</sup> Bring your brothers from the tribe of Levi, the tribe of your father, with you, that they may assist you and minister to you while you and your sons are in front of the Tent of the Testimony.

<sup>3</sup> They are responsible to perform duties for you and for the whole Tent. But they are not to go near the utensils of the sanctuary or the altar, or both you and they will die.

<sup>4</sup> They must assist you, and be responsible for the Tent of Meeting, for all the service of the Tent. No unauthorized person is to come near where you are.

<sup>5</sup> You are responsible for the care of the sanctuary and the altar; so that wrath will never again come on the Israelites.

<sup>6</sup> I myself have chosen your brothers, the Levites, from among the Israelites. They are given to you as gift from the LORD, to do the service of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>7</sup> But you and your sons with you are responsible for your priestly duties for everything involving the altar and behind the inner curtain and you will serve. I give you the service of the priesthood as a gift. Any unauthorized person who comes near must be put to death."

<sup>8</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Aaron, "Look, I have put you in charge of my offerings. I have given all the holy things of the Israelites to you and your sons as the priestly portion forever.

<sup>9</sup> This shall be yours from the most holy things, reserved from the fire. All their offerings, whether every grain offering, sin offering or guilt offering that they shall render to me will be most holy for you and your sons.

<sup>10</sup> You are to eat it as a most holy offering; every male may eat it. It will be holy to you.

<sup>11</sup> This also is yours: the wave offering of their gift, all the wave offerings of the Israelites; I have given them to you, your sons and daughters with you, as a portion forever; everyone who is clean in your house may eat it.

<sup>12</sup> All the best of the olive oil, and all the best of the wine and grain, the first fruits of these that they give to the LORD, I have given them to you.

<sup>13</sup> The first ripe fruits of all that is in their land, which they bring to the LORD, will be yours. Everyone who is clean in your household may eat it.

<sup>14</sup> Everything devoted in Israel will be yours.

<sup>15</sup> Everything that opens the womb of all flesh which they offer to the LORD, whether human or animal will be yours. But the firstborn sons you must redeem, and the firstborn of unclean animals you must redeem.

<sup>16</sup> Those that are to be redeemed that are a month old you must redeem, according to your estimation, for five shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, that is twenty gerahs.

<sup>17</sup> But the firstborn cow, sheep or goat, you must not redeem; they are holy. You must sprinkle their blood on the altar and burn their fat for an offering made by fire for a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> Their meat will be yours, just as the breast and the right thigh that are waved high, it will be yours.

<sup>19</sup> All the holy offerings that the Israelites offer to the LORD, I have given to you, your sons and daughters, as your portion forever. It is a covenant of salt forever before the LORD for you and your descendants."

<sup>20</sup> Then the LORD said to Aaron, "You will not have an inheritance in their land, nor will you have any portion of property among them. I am your portion and your inheritance among the Israelites.

<sup>21</sup> To the Levites I have given all the tithes in Israel for an inheritance, in return for the service they perform, the service of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>22</sup> From now on the Israelites may not come near the Tent of Meeting or they bear their guilt and die.

<sup>23</sup> But the Levites will perform the service of the Tent of Meeting, and they will be held responsible for any violation against it. It will be a statute forever throughout your generations that among the Israelites they will have no land inheritance.

<sup>24</sup> For I have given to the Levites as their inheritance the tithes of the Israelites, that they present as an offering to the LORD, therefore I said to them, 'Among the Israelites they will have no land inheritance.'"

<sup>25</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>26</sup> "You are to speak to the Levites, and tell them, 'When you receive from the Israelites the tithe that I have given you from them for your inheritance, then you must present a contribution to the LORD, a tenth of the tithe.

<sup>27</sup> Your offering will be reckoned to you, as though it were grain from the threshing floor, or as juice from the winepress.

<sup>28</sup> You must also present an offering to the LORD from all the tithes you receive from the Israelites. You must give the LORD's offering from it to Aaron the priest.

<sup>29</sup> Out of all your gifts you must present every offering due to the LORD, from all the best of it is the part to be consecrated from it.

<sup>30</sup> Therefore you will say to them, 'When you offer the best of it, then the rest of it will be counted for the Levites as the produce of the threshing floor or the winepress.

<sup>31</sup> You and your household may eat it anywhere, for it is your wages in return for your service in the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>32</sup> You will bear no sin concerning it, when you have offered up the best of it. But you must not profane the holy things of the Israelites or you will die."

Numbers 19

<sup>2</sup> "This is a regulation of the law that the LORD has commanded, 'Tell the Israelites to bring you a red heifer without defect or blemish, and which has never carried a yoke.

<sup>3</sup> Give it to Eleazar the priest, and it will be taken outside the camp and slaughtered in his presence.

<sup>5</sup> Then the heifer must be burned in his sight; its hide, meat, blood, along with its dung.

<sup>6</sup> Then the priest will take cedar wood, hyssop and scarlet wool, and throw them into the midst of the fire burning the heifer.

<sup>7</sup> Then the priest must wash his clothes and he must bathe himself in water, and afterward he may come back into the camp, but the priest will be unclean until evening.

<sup>8</sup> The one who burns the heifer must wash his clothes in water and bathe himself in water, and will be unclean until evening.

<sup>9</sup> A person who is clean will gather up the ashes of the heifer, and put them in a clean place outside the camp. It must be kept for the congregation of the Israelites for a water for purification, it is for purification for sin.

<sup>10</sup> The one who gathers the ashes of the heifer must wash his clothes and be unclean until evening. This will be for the Israelites and the foreigner who resides among them, a permanent regulation.

<sup>11</sup> Whoever touches a dead body of any person will be unclean seven days.

<sup>12</sup> He must purify himself with water on the third day and on the seventh day, then he will be clean. But if he does not purify himself on the third day and on the seventh day, he will not be clean.

<sup>13</sup> Whoever touches a corpse, the body of a dead person, and does not purify himself, defiles the tabernacle of the LORD; and that person is to be cut off from Israel, because the water of purification was not sprinkled on him. He will be unclean; his uncleanness remains on him.

<sup>14</sup> This is the law when a person dies in a tent: everyone who comes into the tent and everyone who is in the tent will be unclean for seven days.

<sup>16</sup> Whoever in the open field touches someone who has been slain with a sword, or died of natural causes, or a human bone, or a grave, will be unclean seven days.

<sup>17</sup> For the unclean person they must take some of the ashes from the heifer burned in the purification offering in a jar and pour fresh running water over them.

<sup>18</sup> Then a ceremonially clean person is to take a hyssop, and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it on the tent, on all its furnishings and on the people who were there, or on the one who touched the human bone, or someone who was killed or died from natural causes or the grave.

<sup>19</sup> The clean person must sprinkle the unclean on the third and seventh days and then on the seventh day he will purify him. Then the one being cleansed must wash his clothes and bathe himself in water, and at evening he will be clean.

<sup>20</sup> But if someone is unclean and does not purify himself, that person must be cut off from the midst of the community, because he has defiled the sanctuary of the LORD. Because the water for purification was not sprinkled on him, so he is unclean.

<sup>21</sup> This is a permanent statute for them. The one who sprinkles the water for purification must wash his clothes, and anyone who touches the water for purification will be unclean until evening.

<sup>22</sup> Whatever the unclean person touches will also be unclean, and the person who touches it will be unclean until evening.

Numbers 20

<sup>3</sup> The people quarreled with Moses, saying, "We wish we would have died when our brothers died before the LORD!"

<sup>4</sup> Why have you brought the community of the LORD into this wilderness for us and our livestock to die here?

<sup>5</sup> Why did you make us leave Egypt to bring us into this terrible place? It is a place that has no grain, figs, vines or pomegranates; and there is no water to drink."

<sup>6</sup> Then Moses and Aaron went from the presence of the assembly to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, and fell on their faces. The glory of the LORD appeared to them.

<sup>8</sup> "Take the wooden staff, and assemble the congregation, you and your brother Aaron, and speak to the rock before their eyes. Then it will pour out its water, and you will bring water out of the rock for them and so the congregation and their livestock may drink."

<sup>9</sup> So Moses took the staff from before the LORD, as he commanded him.

<sup>10</sup> Moses and Aaron gathered the assembly together before the rock, and he said to them, "Listen, you rebels; must we bring water out of this rock for you?"

<sup>11</sup> Then Moses lifted up his hand, and struck the rock twice with his staff and water poured out. So the community drank and their livestock too.

<sup>12</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "Because you did not believe in me, to show me as holy in the eyes of the Israelites, therefore you will not bring this assembly into the land that I am giving them."

<sup>13</sup> These are the waters of Meribah (quarreling); because there the Israelites quarreled with the LORD, and he demonstrated his holiness among them.

<sup>14</sup> Now Moses sent out messengers from Kadesh to the king of Edom, "This is what your brother Israel says: You know all the hardships that we have been through, <sup>15</sup> how our fathers went down to Egypt, and we lived in Egypt a long time; and the Egyptians harshly mistreated both us and our fathers.

<sup>16</sup> When we cried to the LORD, he heard our voice, and sent an angel who brought us out of Egypt. Now we are in Kadesh, a town on the border of your territory.

<sup>17</sup> Please let us pass through your land. We will not pass through any field or vineyard, nor will we drink any water from the wells. We will travel staying on the King's Highway and will not turn off it to the right or left, until we have passed through your territory."

<sup>18</sup> But Edom rebuffed him, "You may not pass through my territory, or I will come out against you with the sword."

<sup>19</sup> But the Israelites responded to him, "We will stay on the highway; and if we or our cattle drink any of your water, then we will pay you for it. We only want to pass through on foot, without doing anything else."

<sup>20</sup> But he said, "You may not pass through." Then Edom came out against him with a large and heavily armed force.

<sup>23</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron at Mount Hor, by the border of the land of Edom, saying, <sup>24</sup> "Aaron is to be gathered to his people; for he may not enter into the land that I have given to the Israelites, because you both rebelled against my word at the waters of Meribah.

<sup>27</sup> So Moses did as the LORD commanded. They climbed up Mount Hor in the sight of the whole community.

<sup>29</sup> When all the community saw that Aaron was dead, the whole house of Israel wept thirty days for Aaron.

Numbers 21

<sup>1</sup> When the Canaanite king of Arad, who lived in the Negev heard that Israel was approaching by the road to Atharim, he fought against Israel and took some of them captive.

<sup>2</sup> So Israel made a vow to the LORD and said, "If you will indeed deliver this people into our hand, then we will totally destroy their cities."

<sup>3</sup> The LORD listened to the voice of Israel, and handed over the Canaanites; and they totally destroyed them and their towns. So the name of the place was called Hormah (destruction).

<sup>4</sup> Then they journeyed from Mount Hor by the road to the Red Sea, to go around the land of Edom. But the people became impatient because of the way.

<sup>5</sup> The people complained against God and Moses, "Why have you brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? For there is no bread, there is no water and we detest this disgusting food."

<sup>6</sup> So the LORD sent poisonous snakes among the people, and they bit the people and many people of Israel died.

<sup>7</sup> Then the people came to Moses, and confessed, "We have sinned, because we have spoken against the LORD, and against you. Pray to the LORD that he would take away the snakes from us." So Moses prayed for the people.

<sup>8</sup> The LORD said to Moses, "Make a poisonous snake, and hang it on a pole and everyone who is bitten will look at it and live."

<sup>9</sup> So Moses made a snake of bronze, and hung it on a pole and if anyone was bitten by a snake, when he looked at the bronze snake, he lived.

<sup>13</sup> From there they journeyed and camped on the other side of the Arnon gorge, which is in the wilderness that extends to the borders of the Amorites. The Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites.

<sup>14</sup> This is why it is said in the book of the Wars of the LORD, "Waheb in Suphah and the ravines. The Arnon river, <sup>15</sup> and the slope of the valleys that extends to the settlement of Ar and lies along the border of Moab."

<sup>16</sup> From there they continued to Beer that is the well where the LORD said to Moses, "Gather the people together, and I will give them water."

<sup>17</sup> Then Israel sang this song:

"Spring up, O well; sing to it!

<sup>18</sup> The well, which the princes dug, which the leaders of the people opened,

with their scepters,
and with their staves."

From the wilderness they journeyed on to Mattanah;

<sup>22</sup> "Let me pass through your land. We will not turn aside into field or vineyard. We will not drink water from any wells. We will travel on the King's Highway, until we have passed through your territory."

<sup>23</sup> But Sihon would not allow Israel to pass through his territory. Instead Sihon gathered all his people together and went out against Israel in the wilderness and came to Jahaz, where he fought against Israel.

<sup>25</sup> So Israel took all these cities and Israel settled in all the cities of the Amorites, in Heshbon, and in all its towns.

<sup>26</sup> For Heshbon was the city of Sihon, the king of the Amorites. He had fought against the former king of Moab and had taken all his land out of his hand, as far as the Arnon gorge.

<sup>27</sup> That is why those who pronounce oracles say,

"Come to Heshbon;
Let it be built.

Let the city of Sihon be established.

<sup>28</sup> For a fire went out from Heshbon, a flame from the city of Sihon.

It has consumed the town of Ar in Moab, and the lords of the high places of the Arnon.

<sup>29</sup> Woe to you, Moab!

You are destroyed, O people of Chemosh!

He has made his sons as fugitives, and his daughters as captives to Sihon king of the Amorites.

<sup>30</sup> But we have overthrown them,

Heshbon's rule has perished as far as Dibon.

We have laid them waste all the way to Nophah, which reaches to Medeba."

<sup>32</sup> Moses sent spies out to Jazer; and the Israelites captured its towns and drove out the Amorites who were there.

<sup>33</sup> Then they turned and went up by the road to Bashan. Now Og the king of Bashan came out against them, he and all his people, to do battle at Edrei.

<sup>34</sup> The LORD said to Moses, "Do not fear him for I have delivered him into your hand, along with all his people and his land, and you will do to him as you did to Sihon king of the Amorites, who reigned at Heshbon."

<sup>35</sup> So they killed him, his sons and all his people, until there were no survivors left and they possessed his land.

<sup>2</sup> Now Balak the son of Zippor saw all that Israel had done to the Amorites.

<sup>3</sup> Moab was terrified of the people, because they were so numerous. Moab was full of dread because of the Israelites.

<sup>4</sup> Moab said to the elders of Midian, "Now this horde will lick up everything that is around us, as an ox licks up the grass of the field." Balak, the son of Zippor, was king of Moab at that time.

<sup>5</sup> So he sent messengers to Balaam the son of Beor, to Pethor, which is by the Euphrates River, in the land of the people of Amaw, to summon him, saying, "Look, a people has come out of Egypt. They cover the face of the earth and they have settled next to me.

<sup>6</sup> Come now, curse this people for me; for they are too powerful for me. Then perhaps I will be able to conquer them and drive them out of the land. For I know that whoever you bless is blessed, and whoever you curse is cursed."

<sup>7</sup> So the elders of Moab and the elders of Midian departed with the fee for divination in their hand. They came to Balaam and told him the words of Balak.

<sup>8</sup> Then he said to them, "Stay here tonight, and I will bring you back whatever word the LORD tells me." So the princes of Moab stayed with Balaam.

<sup>9</sup> Then God came to Balaam, and said, "Who are these men with you?"

<sup>10</sup> Balaam replied to God, "Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, has sent a request to me, saying,

<sup>11</sup> 'Look, a people has come out of Egypt, it covers the face of the earth. Now come curse them for me; perhaps then I will be able to fight against them and drive them out.'"

<sup>12</sup> But God said to Balaam, "Do not go with them; you are not to curse the people, for they are blessed."

<sup>13</sup> So Balaam got up in the morning and told the princes of Balak, "Go back to your land, for the LORD has refused to let me go with you."

<sup>14</sup> So the princes of Moab got up and returned to Balak, and reported, "Balaam refused to come with us."

<sup>15</sup> Once again Balak sent princes, more numerous and more distinguished than the first.

<sup>16</sup> They came to Balaam and said to him, "This is what Balak the son of Zippor says, 'Let nothing stop you from coming to me, <sup>17</sup> for I will reward you substantially, and whatever you tell me I will do. So come curse this people for me.'"

<sup>18</sup> Balaam answered and said to the servants of Balak, "Even if Balak would give me his palace full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the word of the LORD my God, to do less or more.

<sup>19</sup> Now therefore, please spend the night here, that I may learn what more the LORD will say to me."

<sup>20</sup> Then God came to Balaam at night and said to him, "Since these men have come to invite you, get up and go with them. But do only what I tell you to do."

<sup>21</sup> So Balaam got up in the morning, saddled his donkey and went with the princes of Moab.

<sup>22</sup> But God's anger was sparked because he went; and the angel of the LORD stood in the way to oppose him. Now he was riding upon his donkey and his two servants were with him.

<sup>24</sup> Then the angel of the LORD stood where the road narrowed between the vineyards, a rock wall being on both sides.

<sup>26</sup> Then the angel of the LORD went ahead and stood in a narrow place where was no way to turn either to the right or to the left.

<sup>27</sup> When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, it lay down under Balaam. Then Balaam's anger was sparked, and he beat the donkey with his stick.

<sup>28</sup> So the LORD opened the mouth of the donkey, and it said to Balaam, "What have I done to you that you beat me these three times?"

<sup>29</sup> Balaam retorted to the donkey, "Because you have made a fool of me! I wish there were a sword in my hand, then I would kill you right now."

<sup>30</sup> But the donkey responded to Balaam, "Am I not your donkey that you have ridden on all your life until this day? Have I ever done anything like this to you before?" and he said, "No."

<sup>31</sup> Then the LORD opened Balaam's eyes, and he saw the angel of the LORD standing in the road, with his sword drawn in his hand. So he bowed his head and fell on his face.

<sup>32</sup> Then the angel of the LORD asked him, "Why have you beaten your donkey these three times? Look, I came out to oppose you, because what you are doing is stubbornly opposing me.

<sup>33</sup> The donkey saw me and turned away from me these three times. If it had not turned away from me, surely I would have killed you by now, and yet saved it alive."

<sup>34</sup> Then Balaam said to the angel of the LORD, "I have sinned. For I did not know that you stood in the road against me. Now therefore, if it displeases you, I will go back home."

<sup>35</sup> But the angel of the LORD said to Balaam, "Go with the men; but speak only the word that I tell you to say." So Balaam went with the princes of Balak.

<sup>36</sup> Now when Balak heard that Balaam had come, he went out to meet him at a town of Moab, which is on the border of the Arnon gorge, which is the farthest border of his territory.

<sup>37</sup> Then Balak said to Balaam, "Did I not send you an urgent invitation? Why did you not come to me? Am I not able reward you handsomely?"

<sup>38</sup> But Balaam said to Balak, "Look, I have come to you. Do I have the power to speak just anything at all? The word that God puts in my mouth, that alone is what I must speak."

<sup>39</sup> Then Balaam went with Balak and they came to Kiriath-huzoth.

<sup>40</sup> Balak sacrificed oxen and sheep, and sent some of it to Balaam and the princes who were with him.

<sup>41</sup> The next morning, Balak took Balaam, and brought him up to Bamot Baal and from there he was able to see the outer part of the people of Israel.

<sup>2</sup> So Balak did as Balaam instructed and Balak and Balaam offered on each altar a bull and a ram.

<sup>3</sup> Then Balaam said to Balak, "Stand by your burnt offering, and I will go, perhaps the LORD will come to meet me. Whatever he reveals to me I will tell you." Then he went to a barren hill top.

<sup>4</sup> God met Balaam and Balaam said to him, "I have prepared the seven altars, and offered up a bull and a ram on each altar."

<sup>6</sup> So he returned to him, and found him standing by his burnt offering, he and all the princes of Moab.

<sup>7</sup> Then Balaam uttered his oracle, saying,
"Balak brought me from Aram,
the king of Moab from the mountains of the east,
'Come, curse Jacob.
Come denounce Israel.'

<sup>8</sup> How can I curse one whom God has not cursed?
How can I denounce one whom the LORD has not denounced?

<sup>9</sup> For from the rocky cliffs I see him, and from the hills I observe him,
it is a people that live alone,
and do not considered themselves one of the nations.

<sup>10</sup> Who can count the dust of Jacob?
Who can number even a fourth of Israel?
Let me die the death of the upright, and let my last end be like his!"

<sup>11</sup> Then Balak objected to Balaam, "What have you done to me? I brought you here to curse my enemies, but instead you have done nothing but bless them."

<sup>12</sup> He answered, "Must I not be careful to speak only what the LORD puts in my mouth?"

<sup>13</sup> Then Balak said to him, "Come with me to another place, from there you may see them. You will see only a part of them, and will not see them all. Curse them for me from there."

<sup>14</sup> So he brought him to the field of Zophim, on the top of Pisgah. There he built seven altars and offered a bull and a ram on each altar.

<sup>15</sup> Then Balaam said to Balak, "Stay here by your burnt offering, while I meet the LORD over there."

<sup>16</sup> Then the LORD met Balaam, and put a word in his mouth, and said, "Return to Balak, and this is what you will say."

<sup>17</sup> So he came back to him, and he was still standing by his burnt offering, along with the princes of Moab. Then Balak asked him, "What did the LORD say?"

<sup>18</sup> Balaam uttered his oracle, saying,

"Rise up, Balak, and listen;

hear me, O son of Zippor,

<sup>19</sup> God is not a man, that he should lie, or a son of man that he should change his mind.

Has he ever spoken and failed to do it?

Has he promised and not fulfilled it?

<sup>20</sup> Look, I have received a command to bless, and he has blessed, and I cannot reverse it.

<sup>21</sup> He has not seen any misfortune in Jacob;
nor has he seen trouble for Israel.

The LORD his God is with him, and he has been proclaimed king among them.

<sup>22</sup> God brought them out of Egypt;
he is for them like the horns of a wild ox.

<sup>23</sup> Surely there is no curse against Jacob;
neither is there any sorcery effective against Israel.

Now it will be said of Jacob and of Israel,
'O what God has done!'

<sup>24</sup> Look, the people rise up like a lioness, like a lion that rouses itself.

It will not lie down until it devours its prey, and drinks the blood of the slain."

<sup>25</sup> Then Balak said to Balaam, "Then do not curse or bless them at all."

<sup>26</sup> But Balaam answered and said to Balak, "Did I not tell you, 'All that the LORD speaks, I must do?'"

<sup>27</sup> So Balak said to Balaam, "Come on, I will take you to another place; perhaps it will please God that you may curse them from there."

<sup>28</sup> Then Balak took Balaam to the top of Peor, that looked down on the wasteland.

<sup>29</sup> Balaam said to Balak, "Build here seven altars for me, and prepare for sacrifice seven bulls and seven rams for me."

<sup>30</sup> So Balak did as Balaam had directed, and offered up a bull and a ram on each altar.

Numbers 24

<sup>1</sup> When Balaam saw that it pleased the LORD to bless Israel, he did not go as at the other times, to seek omens, but he set his face toward the wilderness.

<sup>2</sup> When Balaam lifted up his eyes and he saw Israel camped tribe by tribe, the Spirit of God came on him.

<sup>3</sup> Then he uttered this oracle and said,

"The oracle of Balaam, the son of Beor, an oracle of a man whose eye sees clearly;

<sup>4</sup> the oracle of one who hears the words of God,

who sees the vision of the Almighty, falling down with his eyes open.

<sup>5</sup> How beautiful are your tents, O Jacob, your dwelling places, O Israel!

<sup>6</sup> They are like valleys spread out, like gardens by a river side,

like aloes that the LORD has planted, like cedar trees beside the waters.

<sup>7</sup> Water will flow from his buckets, and his descendants will have plenty of water.

His king will be greater than Agag, and his kingdom shall be exalted.

<sup>8</sup> God brought him out of Egypt, he is as strong as a wild-ox for them.

They will devour hostile nations that oppose him, and will break their bones in pieces, and strike them through with his arrows.

<sup>9</sup> Like a lion he crouches and lies down, and like a lioness, who dares rouse him?

Blessed is everyone who blesses you, and cursed is everyone who curses you."

<sup>10</sup> Then Balak's anger was sparked against Balaam. He struck his hands together. Then Balak said to Balaam, "I called you to curse my enemies, but instead you have blessed them these three times.

<sup>11</sup> So get out of here! Go home! I said that I would reward you substantially; but now the LORD has kept you from getting the reward."

<sup>12</sup> Then Balaam said to Balak, "Did I not tell your messengers you sent to me,

<sup>13</sup> 'If Balak would give me his palace full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the word of the LORD, to do either good or bad of my own will; whatever the LORD says, that is what I must say?'

<sup>14</sup> So now, I am going back to my people: Come now and I will tell you what this people will do to your people in the latter days."

- <sup>15</sup> Then he uttered this oracle, saying,
"Balaam the son of Beor, a man whose eye sees clearly,
<sup>16</sup> the oracle of one who hears the words of God, and knows the knowledge of the Most High,
who sees the vision of the Almighty,
falling down and having his eyes open.
<sup>17</sup> I see him, but not now;
I observe him, but not near.
A star will come out of Jacob,
and a scepter will rise out of Israel.
He will crush the skulls of Moab, and the heads of all the sons of Seth.
<sup>18</sup> Then Edom will be a possession,
Seir, his enemy, will also be a possession,
but Israel will triumph.
<sup>19</sup> A ruler will come out of Jacob, and will destroy the survivors from the city."
- <sup>20</sup> Then Balaam looked on Amalek, and uttered his oracle, and said,
"Amalek was the first of the nations;
but his end is that he will perish."
<sup>21</sup> Then he looked on the Kenites, and uttered his oracle, and said,
"Your dwelling place seems secure, and your nest is set in the rock.
<sup>22</sup> Nevertheless you Kenites will be wasted, when Asshur carries you away captive."
<sup>23</sup> Then he uttered his oracle, and said,
"Alas, who will survive when God does this?
<sup>24</sup> But ships will come from the shores of Kittim, and they will afflict Asshur and Eber;
then he also will come to utter destruction."
<sup>25</sup> Then Balaam got up, left and went home, and Balak also went his way.

<sup>2</sup> These women invited the people to the sacrifices of their gods; and the people ate and bowed down to their gods.

<sup>4</sup> The LORD said to Moses, "Take all the leaders of these people and hang them up before the LORD in full daylight, so that the fierce anger of the LORD may turn away from Israel."

<sup>5</sup> Moses told the judges of Israel, "Each of you must execute any of your men who have joined themselves in the worship of Baal of Peor."

<sup>7</sup> When Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, saw it, he got up from the midst of the assembly, and took a spear in his hand.

<sup>8</sup> He went after the man of Israel into the tent, and thrust both of them through, the Israelite man and into the woman's stomach. So the plague on the Israelites was stopped.

<sup>9</sup> Nevertheless there were about 24,000 who died from the plague.

<sup>10</sup> The LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>11</sup> "Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, has turned my wrath away from the Israelites, by showing such jealousy as I have for them, so that I did not consume Israel in my jealousy.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore declare, 'I am giving to him my covenant of peace.'

<sup>13</sup> So it will be to him and to his descendants after him, a covenant of a permanent priesthood; because he was jealous for his God, and made atonement for the Israelites."

<sup>14</sup> Now the name of the man of Israel that was killed with the Midianite woman, was Zimri, the son of Salu, a leader of a clan among the Simeonites.

<sup>15</sup> The name of the Midianite woman who was killed was Cozbi, the daughter of Zur. He was head of the people of a clan in Midian.

<sup>16</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>18</sup> For they have brought trouble on you with their treachery with which they deceived you in the affair at Peor, and in the affair of Cozbi, the daughter of the leader of Midian, their sister, who was killed on the day of the plague as a result of the situation at Peor."

Numbers 26

<sup>1</sup> After the plague, the LORD spoke to Moses and Eleazar, the son of Aaron, the priest, saying,

<sup>2</sup> "Take a census of the whole congregation of the Israelites, from twenty years old and upward, by their clans, everyone in Israel who is able to go to war."

<sup>4</sup> "Number the people, from twenty years old and upward; as the LORD commanded Moses."

The Israelites who came out of the land of Egypt were:

<sup>5</sup> Reuben, the firstborn of Israel; the sons of Reuben:

from Hanoch, the clan of the Hanochites;

from Pallu, the clan of the Palluites;

<sup>6</sup> from Hezron, the clan of the Hezronites; from Carmi, the clan of the Carmites.

<sup>9</sup> The descendants of Eliab were Nemuel, Dathan and Abiram. These were the same Dathan and Abiram, who were chosen from the congregation, who rebelled against Moses and Aaron with the followers of Korah, when they rebelled against the LORD.

from Nemuel, the clan of the Nemuelites;

from Jamin, the clan of the Jaminites;

from Jakin, the clan of the Jakinites;

<sup>13</sup> from Zerah, the clan of the Zerahites;

from Shaul, the clan of the Shaulites.

from Zephon, the clan of the Zephonites;

from Haggi, the clan of the Haggites;

from Shuni, the clan of the Shunites;

<sup>16</sup> from Ozni, the clan of the Oznites;

from Eri, the clan of the Erites;

<sup>17</sup> from Arod, the clan of the Arodites; from Areli, the clan of the Arelites.

<sup>18</sup> These are the clans of the descendants of Gad according to those who were numbered, 40,500.

<sup>19</sup> The sons of Judah were Er and Onan. Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan.

<sup>20</sup> The descendants of Judah after their clans were:

from Shelah, the clan of the Shelanites;

from Perez, the clan the Perezites; from Zerah, the clan of the Zerahites.

<sup>21</sup> The descendants of Perez were:

from Hezron, the clan of the Hezronites; from Hamul, the clan of the Hamulites.

<sup>22</sup> These are the clans of Judah according to those who were numbered, 76,500.

from Tola, the clan of the Tolaites;

from Puah, the clan of the Puites;

<sup>24</sup> from Jashub, the clan of the Jashubites; from Shimron, the clan of the Shimronites.

<sup>25</sup> These are the clans of Issachar according to those who were numbered, 64,300.

from Sered, the clan of the Seredites;

from Elon, the clan of the Elonites; from Jahleel, the clan of the Jahleelites.

<sup>27</sup> These are the clans of the Zebulunites according to those who were numbered, 60,500.

from Makir, the clan of the Makirites, now Makir was the father of Gilead; from Gilead, the clan of the Gileadites.

<sup>30</sup> These are the sons of Gilead:

from Iezer, the clan of the Iezerites;

from Helek, the clan of the Helekites;

<sup>31</sup> from Asriel, the clan of the Asrielites;

from Shechem, the clan of the Shechemites;

<sup>32</sup> from Shemida, the clan of the Shemidaites; from Hephher, the clan of the Hephherites.

<sup>33</sup> Now Zelophehad, the son of Hephher, had no sons, but only daughters; and the names of the daughters of Zelophehad were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah and Tirzah.

<sup>34</sup> These are the clans of Manasseh and those who were numbered were 52,700.

- <sup>35</sup> These are the descendants of Ephraim after their clans:
from Shuthelah, the clan of the Shuthelahites;
from Beker, the clan of the Bekerites;
from Tahan, the clan of the Tahanites.
- <sup>36</sup> These are the sons of Shuthelah:
from Eran, the clan of the Eranites.
- <sup>37</sup> These are the clans of the descendants of Ephraim according to those who were numbered, 32,500. These are the sons of Joseph after their clans.
- <sup>38</sup> The sons of Benjamin after their clans:
from Bela, the clan of the Belaites;
from Ashbel, the clan of the Ashbelites;
from Ahiram, the clan of the Ahiramites;
- <sup>39</sup> from Shupham, the clan of the Shuphamites;
from Hupham, the clan of the Huphamites.
- <sup>40</sup> Now the sons of Bela were Ard and Naaman:
from Ard, the clan of the Ardites;
from Naaman, the clan of the Naamites.
- <sup>41</sup> These are the sons of Benjamin after their clans; and those who were numbered were 45,600.
- <sup>42</sup> These are the descendants of Dan after their clans:
of Shuham, the clan of the Shuhamites.
These are the families of Dan after their clans.
- <sup>43</sup> All the families of the Shuhamites, according to those who were numbered, 64,400.
- <sup>44</sup> The descendants of Asher after their clans:
from Imnah, the clan of the Imnites;
from Ishvi, the clan of the Ishvites;
from Beriah, the clan of the Berites.
- <sup>45</sup> Of the descendants of Beriah:
from Heber, the clan of the Heberites;
from Malkiel, the clan of the Malkielites.
- <sup>46</sup> The name of the daughter of Asher was Serah.
- <sup>47</sup> These are the clans of the Asherites according to those who were numbered, 53,400.
- <sup>48</sup> The descendants of Naphtali after their clans:
from Jahzeel, the clan of the Jahzeelites;
from Guni, the clan of the Gunites;

<sup>49</sup> from Jezer, the clan of the Jezerites;
from Shillem, the clan of the Shillemites.

<sup>50</sup> These are the Naphtalites according to their clans; and those who were numbered were 45,400.

<sup>51</sup> The total number of Israelite men was, 601,730.

<sup>52</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>53</sup> "To these the land will be divided for an inheritance according to the number of names.

<sup>54</sup> To the larger tribes you are to give the larger inheritance, and to the smaller tribes you are to give the smaller inheritance; every tribe will be given its inheritance according to the size of its population.

<sup>55</sup> The land is to be divided by lot. They will inherit according to the names of the tribes of their fathers.

<sup>56</sup> Their inheritance will be divided by lot between the larger and the smaller tribes."

from Gershon, the clan of the Gershonites;

from Kohath, the clan of the Kohathites;

from Merari, the clan of the Merarites.

<sup>58</sup> These are the clans of Levi:

the clan of the Libnites,

the clan of the Hebronites,

the clan of the Mahlites,

the clan of the Mushites,

the clan of the Korahites.

Kohath was the father of Amram.

<sup>59</sup> The name of Amram's wife was Jochebed, the daughter of Levi, who was born to Levi in Egypt. She bore to Amram, Aaron, Moses and their sister Miriam.

<sup>62</sup> They who were numbered were 23,000, every male from a month old and upward: for they were not numbered among the Israelites, because they received no land inheritance among the Israelites.

<sup>64</sup> But among these there was not one person who had been counted by Moses and Aaron the priest, when they numbered the Israelites in the wilderness of Sinai.

<sup>65</sup> For the LORD had said concerning them, "They will surely die in the wilderness." And there was not a single one of them left except Caleb the son of Jephunneh and Joshua the son of Nun.

Numbers 27

<sup>1</sup> Then the daughters of Zelophehad, the son of Hopher, the son of Gilead, the son of Makir, the son of Manasseh, of the families of Manasseh the son of Joseph came forward with a request. These are the names of his daughters: Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah and Tirzah.

<sup>2</sup> They stood before Moses, Eleazar the priest, the tribal leaders and the whole congregation, at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, saying, <sup>3</sup> "Our father died in the wilderness, although he was not among the company of those who gathered themselves together against the LORD with the followers of Korah, but he died for his own sin; and he had no sons.

<sup>4</sup> Why should the name of our father vanish from among his clan just because he had no son? Give us a possession among our father's brothers."

<sup>5</sup> So Moses brought their request before the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> "The claim the daughters of Zelophehad are making is right. You must certainly give them possession of an inheritance among their father's brothers. You must pass their father's inheritance on to them.

<sup>8</sup> You must tell the Israelites, 'If a man dies and has no son, then you must pass his inheritance on to his daughter.

<sup>9</sup> If he has no daughter, then you are to give his inheritance to his brothers.

<sup>10</sup> If he has no brothers, then you are to give his inheritance to his father's brothers.

<sup>11</sup> If his father has no brothers, then you are to give his inheritance to his nearest relatives, and he will possess it. This is a legal requirement for the Israelites just as the LORD commanded Moses."

<sup>12</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "Get up into this mountain in the Abarim range, and look over the land that I have given to the Israelites.

<sup>13</sup> When you have seen it, you also will be gathered to your people, as your brother Aaron was,

<sup>15</sup> Then Moses spoke to the LORD, saying,

<sup>16</sup> "May the LORD, the God of the spirits of all flesh, appoint a man over the congregation, <sup>17</sup> who may go out and come in before them, and who may lead them out and bring them in so that the congregation of the LORD will not be as sheep that have no shepherd."

<sup>18</sup> Then the LORD replied to Moses, "Take Joshua the son of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit, and lay your hand on him.

<sup>19</sup> Have him stand before Eleazar the priest and before the whole congregation and commission him in their sight.

<sup>20</sup> Then give him some of your authority so that the whole congregation of the Israelites may obey him.

<sup>21</sup> Then he is to stand before Eleazar the priest, who will seek counsel for him by the decision rendered by the sacred Urim lot cast before the LORD. At his word they will go out and at his word they will come in, both Joshua and all the Israelites with him, even the whole congregation."

<sup>22</sup> Then Moses did as the LORD commanded him and he took Joshua, and stood him before Eleazar the priest and the whole congregation.

<sup>23</sup> He laid his hands on him and commissioned him, just as the LORD spoke through Moses.

Numbers 28

<sup>2</sup> "Command the Israelites and tell them, 'Concerning my offering, it is my food for my offerings to be made by fire, a sweet aroma to me. You must be careful to offer it to me at its appointed time.'

<sup>3</sup> Tell them, 'This is the offering made by fire that you are to offer to the LORD two year- old male lambs without defect, every day, for a continual burnt offering.

<sup>4</sup> The one lamb you are to offer in the morning, and the other lamb you are to offer in the evening, <sup>5</sup> with two quarts of choice flour for a grain offering mixed with a quart of pressed olive oil.

<sup>7</sup> Its drink offering will be one quart per lamb. You are to pour out the strong drink as a drink offering to the LORD at the sanctuary.

<sup>8</sup> The other lamb you are to offer in the evening with the same the grain offering and drink offering as in the morning. You are to offer it, as an offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> This is the burnt offering for every Sabbath, in addition to the daily continual burnt offering and its drink offering.

<sup>11</sup> On the first day of each month you are to offer a burnt offering to the LORD of two young bulls, one ram, seven year-old male lambs without defect;

<sup>12</sup> along with six quarts of choice flour for a grain offering, mixed with olive oil for each bull, four quarts of choice flour for a grain offering, mixed with olive oil, for each ram,

<sup>13</sup> and two quarts of choice flour mixed with olive oil for a grain offering for each lamb. This is a burnt offering of pleasing aroma, an offering made by fire to the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> Their respective drink offerings will be two quarts of wine with each bull, and a third of a gallon with each ram and one quart with each lamb. This is the burnt offering of every month throughout the months of the year.

<sup>15</sup> The one male goat is to be offered as a sin offering to the LORD. It is to be offered in addition to the daily continual burnt offering and its drink offering.

<sup>17</sup> On the fifteenth day of this month is a feast. For seven days unleavened bread must be eaten.

<sup>18</sup> On the first day there is to be a holy assembly, on it you must not do any regular work.

<sup>19</sup> But offer an offering made by fire, a burnt offering to the LORD of two young bulls, one ram and seven year-old male lambs, all with no defects.

<sup>20</sup> Their accompanying grain offering will be choice flour mixed with olive oil, six quarts with each bull, and four quarts with each ram,

<sup>23</sup> You must offer these besides the burnt offering of the morning, which is for a daily continual burnt offering.

<sup>24</sup> In the same way you are to offer every day, for seven days, the food of the offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD. It is to be offered besides the daily continual burnt offering and its drink offering.

<sup>25</sup> On the seventh day you are to have a holy assembly, on it you must not do any regular work.

<sup>26</sup> On the day of the first fruits, when you offer a grain offering of new grain to the LORD in your Feast of Weeks, you are to have a holy assembly, on it you must not do any regular work.

<sup>28</sup> with their grain offering of choice flour mixed with olive oil, six quarts with each bull, four quarts with the ram,

<sup>29</sup> and two quarts with each of the seven lambs,

<sup>30</sup> as well as one male goat, to make atonement for yourself.

<sup>31</sup> Besides the daily continual burnt offering and its grain offering, you are to offer them and their drink offerings. The animals must be without defect.

Numbers 29

<sup>1</sup> On first day of the seventh month, you are to have a holy assembly. You must not do any regular work on it. It is a day for you to blow the trumpets.

<sup>2</sup> You are to offer a burnt offering for a pleasing aroma to the LORD of one young bull, one ram, seven year-old male lambs without defect.

<sup>5</sup> Also offer one male goat for a sin offering, to make atonement for yourself.

<sup>6</sup> In addition to the burnt offering of the new moon and its grain offering, and the daily continual burnt offering and its grain offering and drink offerings, as prescribed, for a pleasing aroma an offering made by fire to the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> On the tenth day of this seventh month you are to have a holy assembly and you must afflict yourselves and not do any type of work.

<sup>10</sup> two quarts with each of the seven lambs.

<sup>11</sup> Also offer one male goat for a sin offering besides the sin offering of atonement, and the daily continual burnt offering, and its grain offering and drink offerings.

<sup>12</sup> On the fifteenth day of the seventh month you are to have a holy assembly. You must not do any regular work on it. You are to celebrate a festival to the LORD for seven days.

<sup>13</sup> You are to offer a burnt offering, an offering made by fire as a pleasing aroma to the LORD, of thirteen young bulls, two rams, fourteen year-old male lambs. They must be without defect.

<sup>14</sup> Their accompanying grain offering is to be made of choice flour mixed with olive oil, six quarts with each of the thirteen bulls, four quarts with each of the two rams,

<sup>17</sup> On the second day you are to offer twelve young bulls, two rams, fourteen year-old male lambs without defect;

<sup>18</sup> along with their grain offering and drink offerings that accompany the bulls, rams and lambs, as prescribed according to their number.

<sup>20</sup> On the third day offer eleven bulls, two rams, fourteen year-old male lambs without defect;

<sup>21</sup> along with their grain offering and drink offerings that accompany the bulls, rams, and lambs, as prescribed according to their number.

<sup>24</sup> along with their grain offering and drink offerings that accompany the bulls, rams and lambs, as prescribed according to their number.

<sup>25</sup> Also offer one male goat for a sin offering besides the daily continual burnt offering, its grain offering and drink offering.

<sup>27</sup> along with its grain offering and drink offerings that accompany the bulls, rams and lambs, as prescribed according to their number.

<sup>29</sup> On the sixth day offer eight bulls, two rams, fourteen year-old male lambs without defect;

<sup>30</sup> along with their grain offering and drink offerings that accompany the bulls, rams and lambs, as prescribed according to their number.

<sup>32</sup> On the seventh day offer seven bulls, two rams, fourteen year-old male lambs without defect;

<sup>33</sup> along with their grain offering and drink offerings that accompany the bulls, rams and lambs, as prescribed according to their number.

<sup>35</sup> On the eighth day you are to have a solemn assembly. You must not do any regular work on it.

<sup>36</sup> You are to offer a burnt offering, an offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD, of one bull, one ram, seven year-old male lambs without defect;

<sup>37</sup> along with their grain offering and drink offerings that accompany the bull, ram and lambs, as prescribed according to their number.

Numbers 30

<sup>3</sup> If a young woman living in her father's house makes a vow to the LORD, and binds herself with a pledge, <sup>4</sup> and her father hears her vow, and her pledge by which she has bound herself, and her father says nothing to her; then all her vows will stand, and any pledge by which she had bound herself shall stand.

<sup>5</sup> But if her father forbids it on the day he heard it, then none of her vows, or pledge by which she had bound herself will stand and the LORD will forgive her, because her father forbid her.

<sup>6</sup> If she marries a husband, while her vows are on her, or her lips uttered any impulsive pledge, by which she has bound herself, <sup>7</sup> and her husband hears about it, but says nothing to her in the day he hears it; then her vows will stand, and her pledges by which she had bound herself will stand.

<sup>8</sup> But if her husband forbids her in the day he hears it, then he will nullify her vow she has taken or the impulsive pledge of her lips by which she has bound herself and the LORD will forgive her.

<sup>9</sup> But the vow of a woman who is a widow or divorced which has bound herself, will remain binding on her.

<sup>10</sup> If she made a vow in her husband's house or bound herself with a pledge under an oath, <sup>11</sup> and her husband heard it, but said nothing to her, and did not forbid her, then all her vows will stand, and every pledge by which she has bound herself will stand.

<sup>12</sup> But if her husband nullifies them when he hears them, then whatever proceeded out of her lips concerning her vows or concerning the pledge of herself, will not stand. Her husband has nullified them and the LORD will forgive her.

<sup>13</sup> Any vow and binding oath to afflict herself, her husband may confirm or nullify it.

<sup>14</sup> But if her husband says nothing to her from day to day, then he so confirms all her vows or all her pledges she is bound with. He has confirmed them because he said nothing to her when he initially heard them.

<sup>15</sup> But if he nullifies them only some time after he has heard them, then he will bear her guilt."

<sup>16</sup> These are the regulations that the LORD commanded Moses, between a man and his wife, between a father and his daughter, while she is young still living in her father's house.

Numbers 31

<sup>2</sup> "Avenge the Israelites on the Midianites, after that you will be gathered to your people."

<sup>3</sup> So Moses spoke to the people, saying, "Arm some of your men for the war, that they may go against Midian, to execute the LORD's vengeance on Midian.

<sup>5</sup> So out of the thousands of Israel, a thousand from each tribe was chosen, 12,000 men armed for war.

<sup>6</sup> Then Moses sent them to war, a thousand from each tribe with Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, along with the articles from the sanctuary and the trumpets for the sounding the alarm in his hand.

<sup>7</sup> So they fought against Midian, as the LORD commanded Moses, and they killed every male.

<sup>8</sup> They killed the kings of Midian with the rest of their slain: Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur, and Reba, the five kings of Midian. They also killed Balaam the son of Beor with the sword.

<sup>13</sup> Then Moses, Eleazar the priest and all the leaders of the assembly, went out to meet them outside the camp.

<sup>14</sup> But Moses was angry with the officers of the army, the commanders of thousands and the commanders of hundreds, who returned from the battle.

<sup>15</sup> Moses said to them, "Have you let all the women live?"

<sup>16</sup> Look, these women, as a result of Balaam's counsel, caused the Israelites to rebel against the LORD in the matter of Peor, so that the plague came among the LORD's community.

<sup>17</sup> Now therefore kill every boy and kill every woman who has slept with a man.

<sup>18</sup> But all the young women who have not slept with a man, you may keep for yourselves.

<sup>19</sup> Anyone who has killed someone, and whoever has touched a corpse should stay outside the camp seven days. Purify yourselves and your captives on the third and seventh day.

<sup>21</sup> Then Eleazar the priest said to soldiers who went to the battle, "This is the statute of the law that the LORD commanded Moses:

<sup>22</sup> 'the gold, silver, bronze, iron, tin and lead,

<sup>23</sup> everything that can withstand fire, you are to put through the fire, then it will be clean. But it must also be purified with the water of purification. Everything that is flammable you need only put through the water.

<sup>24</sup> You must wash your clothes on the seventh day and then you will be clean and afterward you may enter the camp."

<sup>25</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>26</sup> "You, Eleazar the priest and family leaders of the community are to take an inventory of all the plunder, both people and animals.

<sup>27</sup> Then divide the plunder into two parts between the soldiers who went out to battle and all the congregation.

<sup>28</sup> Exact tribute for the LORD from the warriors who went out to battle, one life out of five hundred, whether people, oxen, donkeys, or flocks.

<sup>29</sup> Take it from their half, and give it to Eleazar the priest, as an offering to the LORD.

<sup>30</sup> But from the Israelite's half, you are to take one out of every fifty, whether people, oxen, donkeys or flocks--all the animals--and give them to the Levites who are in charge of the tabernacle of the LORD."

<sup>35</sup> and 32,000 young women who had never slept with a man.

<sup>36</sup> Half of the portion for those who went out to war was 337,500 sheep,

<sup>40</sup> The people were 16,000 with the LORD's tribute being 32.

<sup>41</sup> Moses gave the tribute which was the LORD's offering, to Eleazar the priest, as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>47</sup> From the Israelites' half, Moses took one out of every fifty people and animals, and gave them to the Levites, who were in charge of the tabernacle of the LORD as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>48</sup> Then the officers who were over the thousands of the army, the commanders of thousands and the commanders of hundreds approached Moses, <sup>49</sup> and said to Moses, "Your servants have taken count of the soldiers that are under our command and not one is missing.

<sup>50</sup> So we have brought the LORD's offering from what each man has gotten, articles of gold, armlets, bracelets, signet rings, earrings and necklaces, to make atonement for ourselves before the LORD."

<sup>51</sup> Then Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from them, even all the crafted articles.

<sup>54</sup> Then Moses and Eleazar the priest accepted the gold from the commanders of thousands and hundreds, and brought it to the Tent of Meeting as a memorial for the Israelites before the LORD.

Numbers 32

<sup>1</sup> Now the Reubenite and Gadite tribes had a large number of livestock. So when they saw the land of Jazer and Gilead were a good place for cattle,

<sup>2</sup> the Gadites and Reubenites came and spoke to Moses, Eleazar the priest and the leaders of the congregation, saying,

<sup>4</sup> the land the LORD conquered before the congregation of Israel, is a land ideal for cattle; and we, your servants, have cattle."

<sup>5</sup> So they asked, "If we have found favor in your sight, let this land be given to your servants for a possession. Do not make us cross the Jordan River."

<sup>6</sup> But Moses answered the Gadites and Reubenites, "Must your brothers go to the war while you sit here?"

<sup>8</sup> Your fathers did the same thing when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to see the land.

<sup>9</sup> For when they went up to the valley of Eshcol, and saw the land, they discouraged the heart of the Israelites from entering the land the LORD had given them.

<sup>10</sup> So the LORD's anger was sparked on that day, and he swore, saying,

<sup>11</sup> 'Surely none of the people who came up out of Egypt, from twenty years old and upward, will see the land I swore to give Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, because they have not followed me wholeheartedly,

<sup>12</sup> none except Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite, and Joshua the son of Nun, for they wholeheartedly followed the LORD.'

<sup>13</sup> The LORD's anger was sparked against Israel, and he made them wander in the wilderness for forty years, until all the generation that had done evil in the sight of the LORD, was gone.

<sup>14</sup> But, look, here you are a brood of sinners standing up in your fathers' place, to further increase the LORD's fierce anger toward Israel.

<sup>15</sup> For if you turn away from following him, he will once again leave them in the wilderness; and you will be responsible for the destruction all this people."

<sup>16</sup> Then they approached him and said, "We want to build folds here for our cattle, and towns for our children, <sup>17</sup> but we ourselves will take up arms to go before the Israelites, until we have brought them to their place. Meanwhile our children will dwell in the fortified cities as protection against the inhabitants of the land.

<sup>18</sup> We will not return to our houses until every Israelite has received his land inheritance.

<sup>19</sup> For we will not inherit with them on the other side of the Jordan and beyond because our land inheritance has come to us on this eastern side of the Jordan River."

<sup>20</sup> Then Moses said to them, "If you will do this--if you will arm yourselves to go before the LORD for battle,

<sup>21</sup> and if all your armed men cross over the Jordan before the LORD, until he has driven out his enemies from before him, <sup>22</sup> and the land is subdued before the LORD, then afterward you may return and be free of your obligation to the LORD and to Israel. This land will be your possession before the LORD.

<sup>23</sup> But if you will not do this, then you have sinned against the LORD; and be sure your sin will find you out.

<sup>24</sup> So build your towns for your children, and folds for your sheep; but then do what your mouth has promised you would do."

<sup>25</sup> Then the Gadites and the Reubenites spoke to Moses, saying, "Your servants will do as my lord commands.

<sup>26</sup> Our children, our wives, our flocks and all our cattle, will remain there in the towns of Gilead;

<sup>27</sup> but your servants will cross over, every man armed for war, to do battle before the LORD, just as my lord has said."

<sup>28</sup> So Moses gave orders concerning them to Eleazar the priest, Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the clans of the tribes of the Israelites.

<sup>29</sup> Then Moses said to them, "If the Gadites and the Reubenites will cross over the Jordan with you, every man armed for battle before the LORD, and the land is subdued before you; then give them the land of Gilead for a possession.

<sup>30</sup> But if they do not cross over with you armed, they must accept their possessions among you in the land of Canaan."

<sup>31</sup> The Gadites and Reubenites answered, saying, "As the LORD has said to your servants, we will do.

<sup>32</sup> We will cross over armed before the LORD into the land of Canaan, but the possession of our inheritance will remain with us on this eastern side of the Jordan River."

<sup>33</sup> So Moses gave to them, to the Gadites and Reubenites and the half-tribe of Manasseh the son of Joseph, the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites and the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, the land with its towns and the land around them.

<sup>40</sup> Moses gave Gilead to Makir, the son of Manasseh; and he settled there.

<sup>41</sup> Jair, the son of Manasseh, went and captured its towns, and called them Havvoth-jair (towns of Jair).

<sup>42</sup> Nobah went and captured Kenath, and its villages, and called it Nobah after his own name.

Numbers 33

- <sup>1</sup> These are the travels of the Israelites, who left the land of Egypt by their divisions under the leadership of Moses and Aaron.
- <sup>2</sup> Moses wrote down their starting place according to their journeys, by the command of the LORD. These are their travels according to their starting places.
- <sup>3</sup> They traveled from Rameses on the fifteenth day of the first month, on the day after Passover. The Israelites went out defiantly in plain sight of all the Egyptians,
- <sup>4</sup> while the Egyptians were burying all their firstborn, whom the LORD had struck down among them. The LORD also executed judgments on their gods.
- <sup>5</sup> So the Israelites journeyed from Rameses and camped at Succoth.
- <sup>6</sup> They traveled from Succoth and camped in Etham, on the edge of the wilderness.
- <sup>7</sup> They traveled from Etham, and turned back to Pi-hahiroth, which is before Baalzephon, and they camped before Migdol.
- <sup>8</sup> They traveled from before Hahiroth, and passed through the middle of the sea into the wilderness. Then they went three days' journey in the wilderness of Etham and camped at Marah.
- <sup>9</sup> They traveled from Marah, and came to Elim; in Elim there were twelve springs of water and seventy palm-trees, and they camped there.
- <sup>10</sup> They traveled from Elim and camped by the Red Sea.
- <sup>11</sup> They traveled from the Red Sea and camped in the wilderness of Sin.
- <sup>12</sup> They traveled from the wilderness of Sin and camped at Dophkah.
- <sup>13</sup> They traveled from Dophkah and camped at Alush.
- <sup>14</sup> They traveled from Alush and camped at Rephidim, where there was no water for the people to drink.
- <sup>15</sup> They traveled from Rephidim and camped in the wilderness of Sinai.
- <sup>16</sup> They traveled from the wilderness of Sinai and camped at Kibroth-hattaavah.
- <sup>17</sup> They traveled from Kibroth-hattaavah and camped at Hazeroth.
- <sup>18</sup> They traveled from Hazeroth and camped at Rithmah.
- <sup>19</sup> They traveled from Rithmah and camped at Rimmon-perez.
- <sup>20</sup> They traveled from Rimmon-perez and camped at Libnah.
- <sup>21</sup> They traveled from Libnah and camped at Rissah.
- <sup>22</sup> They traveled from Rissah and camped at Kehelathah.
- <sup>23</sup> They traveled from Kehelathah and camped at Mount Shepher.
- <sup>24</sup> They traveled from Mount Shepher and camped at Haradah.
- <sup>25</sup> They traveled from Haradah and camped at Makheloth.
- <sup>26</sup> They traveled from Makheloth and camped at Tahath.
- <sup>27</sup> They traveled from Tahath and camped at Terah.
- <sup>28</sup> They traveled from Terah and camped at Mithkah.
- <sup>29</sup> They traveled from Mithcah and camped at Hashmonah.
- <sup>30</sup> They traveled from Hashmonah and camped at Moseroth.
- <sup>31</sup> They traveled from Moseroth and camped at Bene-jaakan.

<sup>50</sup> The LORD spoke to Moses, in the plains of Moab by the Jordan River across from Jericho, saying,

<sup>51</sup> "Speak to the Israelites, and tell them, 'When you cross over the Jordan River into the land of Canaan, <sup>52</sup> drive out all the inhabitants of the land before you. Destroy all their carved images and all their molten images, and demolish all their high places.

<sup>53</sup> Take possession of the land and settle in it, for I have given you the land to possess it.

<sup>54</sup> Divide the inheritance of the land by lot among your clans. Give to the larger clans more inheritance, and to the smaller clans give a smaller inheritance. Wherever the lot falls to any one, that will be his. You shall inherit according to the tribes of your fathers.

<sup>55</sup> But if you do not drive out the inhabitants of the land before you, then those who you let remain will be splinters in your eyes and thorns in your sides. They will make trouble for you in the land where you will live.

<sup>2</sup> "Command the Israelites, and tell them, 'When you come into the land of Canaan, this is the land that has been assigned to you for an inheritance, the land of Canaan defined by its boundaries.

<sup>3</sup> Your south side will be from the wilderness of Zin along the border of Edom, and your southern border will begin from the east at the Salt (Dead) Sea.

<sup>4</sup> Your border will turn south to the Ascent of Akrabbim (Scorpions), and continue on to Zin; then on southward to Kadesh-barnea. From there it will go to Hazar-addar and pass along to Azmon.

<sup>6</sup> Your western border will be the Great Sea. This will be your western border.

<sup>9</sup> The border will continue on to Ziphron and end at Hazar-enan. This will be your northern border.

<sup>11</sup> The border will go down from Shepham to Riblah, on the east side of Ain, and the border will go down and reach to the eastern edge of the Sea of Chinnereth (Galilee).

<sup>12</sup> The border will go down to the Jordan River and the end at the Salt (Dead) Sea. This will be your land according to the borders around it."

<sup>13</sup> Then Moses commanded the Israelites, saying, "This is the land that you will inherit by lot, which the LORD has commanded to give to the nine and a half-tribes.

<sup>14</sup> The families of tribe of Reubenites, the families of the tribe of Gadites and half the tribe of Manasseh have already received their inheritance.

<sup>15</sup> The two and a half tribes have received their inheritance on the east side of the Jordan River across from Jericho, toward the sunrise."

<sup>16</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>17</sup> "These are the names of the men who are to divide the land allotment for you as a land inheritance: Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun.

from the tribe of Judah, Caleb the son of Jephunneh.

<sup>20</sup> from the tribe of the Simeonites, Shemuel the son of Ammihud.

- <sup>23</sup> from the children of Joseph:
from the tribe of the Manassehites, a leader, Hanniel the son of Ephod.
<sup>29</sup> These are those the LORD commanded to divide the land inheritance to the Israelites in the land of Canaan.

Numbers 35

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses in the plains of Moab by the Jordan River across from Jericho, saying, <sup>2</sup> "Command the Israelites that they give the Levites towns to live in from their land inheritance that they possess. Also give the Levites the pasture lands surrounding the towns.

<sup>3</sup> So they will have towns to live in and pasture lands for their cattle, livestock and all their other animals.

<sup>4</sup> The pasture lands of the towns you are giving to the Levites should extend 500 yards from the town wall all the way around it.

<sup>5</sup> Measure outside the town 1000 yards on the east side, 1000 yards on the south side, 1000 yards on the west side and 1000 yards on the north side, with the town being in the middle. This will be their extended pasture lands for their towns.

<sup>6</sup> Among the towns you give to the Levites will be six cities of refuge, to which a person who has accidentally killed someone may flee. Besides those, give them forty-two other towns.

<sup>7</sup> The total number of towns you are to give the Levites is forty-eight along with their pasture lands.

<sup>8</sup> The towns that you give them will come from the property of the Israelites. From the larger tribes you shall take many; and from the smaller tribes you shall take fewer, each are to give of towns to the Levites according to their inheritance."

<sup>9</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

<sup>10</sup> "Speak to the children of Israel, and tell them, 'When you cross the Jordan River into the land of Canaan, <sup>11</sup> select towns to be cities of refuge for you, so that a person who accidentally kills someone may flee.

<sup>12</sup> These towns will be a refuge for you from the avenger, so that the one who has killed someone may not die until he stands trial before the congregation.

<sup>14</sup> Give three towns on the other side of the Jordan, and give three towns in the land of Canaan as cities of refuge.

<sup>15</sup> For the Israelites and the resident or transient foreigner these six cities will be a place of refuge; so that anyone who kills someone accidentally may flee there.

<sup>16</sup> But if he strikes him with an iron instrument, so that he dies, he is a murderer. The murderer must surely be put to death.

<sup>17</sup> If he strikes him with a stone in the hand that could kill, and the victim does die, he is a murderer. The murderer must surely be put to death.

<sup>18</sup> If he strikes him with a wooden weapon in the hand that could kill, and the victim does die, he is a murderer. The murderer must surely be put to death.

<sup>19</sup> The avenger of blood himself will put the murderer to death, when he meets him, he must put the murderer to death.

<sup>20</sup> If someone pushes him out of hatred, or throws something at him, intentionally lying in wait, so that he dies, <sup>21</sup> or in hatred strikes him with his hand so that he dies; then the one who hit him must surely be put to death; he is a murderer. The avenger of blood must put the murderer to death when he meets him.

<sup>22</sup> But if he pushes him suddenly without enmity, or throws something at him unintentionally without lying in wait,

<sup>23</sup> or with a stone large enough to kill someone, without seeing him and throws it on him, so that he dies, but he was not his enemy, and was not seeking to harm him;

<sup>24</sup> then the congregation will judge between the slayer and the avenger of blood according to these regulations.

<sup>25</sup> The congregation must protect the slayer from the hand of the avenger of blood, and the congregation will restore him to his city of refuge, where he fled. He must live there until the death of the high priest, who was anointed with the holy oil.

<sup>26</sup> But if the slayer at any time goes beyond the border of his city of refuge to which he fled,

<sup>27</sup> and the avenger of blood finds him outside the border of his city of refuge, and the avenger of blood kills the slayer, he will not be guilty of blood, <sup>28</sup> because he should have remained in his city of refuge until the death of the high priest but after the death of the high priest the slayer may return home to the land of his possession.

<sup>29</sup> These things will be a statute for you throughout your generations wherever you live.

<sup>30</sup> Whoever kills a person, the murderer will be slain only on the testimony of multiple witnesses. No one may be put to death based on the testimony of one person.

<sup>31</sup> Moreover you must not accept a ransom for the life of a murderer who is guilty of death. He must surely be put to death.

<sup>32</sup> You must not accept a ransom for someone who has fled to a city of refuge, so that he may return home to dwell in the land before the death of the priest.

<sup>33</sup> You must not pollute the land where you live, for blood pollutes the land and there is no cleansing that can be made for the land concerning the blood that was shed there except by the blood of the one who shed it.

<sup>34</sup> Do not defile the land where you live and where I also live, for I, the LORD, dwell among the Israelites."

Numbers 36

<sup>1</sup> The family heads of the clans of Gileadites, the son of Makir, the son of Manasseh, of the families of the sons of Joseph, came near, and spoke before Moses and the leaders, who were heads of the Israelite families.

<sup>2</sup> They said, "The LORD commanded my lord to give the land for inheritance by lot to the Israelites and my lord was commanded by the LORD to give the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother to his daughters.

<sup>3</sup> But if they marry men from other tribes of the Israelites, then their inheritance will be taken away from the inheritance of our fathers, and will be added to the inheritance of the tribe that they belong to. So it will be taken away from the lot of our assigned inheritance.

<sup>4</sup> When the Jubilee of the Israelites comes, then their inheritance will be added to the inheritance of the tribe that they now belong to. So their inheritance will be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers."

<sup>6</sup> This is what the LORD commands concerning the daughters of Zelophehad: 'Let them marry whoever they think best; only they must marry inside the family of the tribe of their father.

<sup>7</sup> So no inheritance of the Israelites will be transferred from tribe to tribe. But every Israelite must retain the inheritance of the tribe of his forefathers.

<sup>10</sup> So the daughters of Zelophehad did just as the LORD commanded Moses.

<sup>12</sup> They married into the families of the sons of Manasseh the son of Joseph. So their inheritance remained in the tribe of their father's family.

<sup>13</sup> These are the commandments and the regulations that the LORD commanded through Moses to the Israelites in the plains of Moab by the Jordan River across from Jericho.

DASV Deuteronomy Deuteronomy 1

<sup>5</sup> Across the Jordan River in the land of Moab, Moses began to expound this law, saying, <sup>6</sup> "The LORD our God spoke to us at Horeb, saying, 'You have stayed at this mountain long enough.

<sup>7</sup> Leave here, resume your journey, and go to the hill country of the Amorites and to all neighboring regions, including the Jordan valley Arabah, the hill country, the Shephelah western foothills, the southern Negev, and the coastal plain, the land of the Canaanites, and Lebanon, as far as the Great River, that is the Euphrates.

<sup>8</sup> Look, I have set the land before you, go in and take possession of the land that the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, to give them and their descendants after them.'

<sup>9</sup> At that time I said to you, 'I am not able to carry you by myself alone.

<sup>10</sup> The LORD your God has multiplied you, and today you are as many as the stars of heaven.

<sup>11</sup> The LORD, the God of your fathers, make you a thousand times more numerous than you are, and bless you, as he has promised you!

<sup>12</sup> How can I bear your loads, problems and disputes all by myself?

<sup>13</sup> Choose wise, understanding and well-known men from each of your tribes, and I will appoint them as leaders over you.'

<sup>14</sup> You answered me, 'What you have proposed is good for us to do.'

<sup>15</sup> So I took the leaders of your tribes, wise and well-known men, and made them leaders over you, commanders of thousands, and commanders of hundreds, and commanders of fifties, and commanders of tens, and officials of your tribes.

<sup>16</sup> I ordered your judges at that time, 'Hear the cases between your people, and judge fairly between a man and his brother or a resident foreigner who is with him.

<sup>17</sup> You must not show partiality in judgment; but hear the small and the great alike. Do not be intimidated by anyone; for the judgment is God's. The case that is too hard for you, bring to me, and I will hear it.'

<sup>18</sup> I instructed you at that time about everything you should do.

<sup>19</sup> Then we journeyed from Horeb, and went through all that great and terrible wilderness that you saw, by the way to the hill country of the Amorites, just as the LORD our God commanded us, until finally we arrived at Kadesh-barnea.

<sup>20</sup> Then I said to you, 'You have arrived at the hill country of the Amorites, that the LORD our God is giving to us.

<sup>21</sup> See, the LORD your God has set the land before you. Go up, take possession of it, just as the LORD, the God of your fathers, has spoken to you. Do not fear or be discouraged.'

<sup>22</sup> Then all of you approached me, and said, 'Let us send men ahead of us, so that they may explore the land for us and bring us advice on how to go up and the types of cities that we will come to.'

<sup>23</sup> I thought the plan was a good idea, so I took twelve men from among you, one man from each tribe.

<sup>25</sup> They took some of the fruit of the land in their hands, and brought it down to us. They brought back a report, and said, 'It is a good land that the LORD our God is giving to us.'

<sup>26</sup> Yet you refused to go up, and rebelled against the command of the LORD your God.

<sup>27</sup> You complained in your tents, and said, 'It is because the LORD hates us that he brought us out of the land of Egypt, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, to destroy us.

<sup>28</sup> Where can we go? Our brothers have made our heart melt, saying, "The people are stronger and taller than we are. The cities are large and fortified up to heaven. Moreover we have seen the Anakites there."

<sup>29</sup> Then I said to you, 'Do not be terrified of them.

<sup>30</sup> The LORD your God is going before you, he will fight for you, just as he did for you in Egypt before your very own eyes,

<sup>31</sup> and in the wilderness, where you saw how the LORD your God carried you, like a father carries his son, everywhere you went, until you came to this place.'

<sup>32</sup> But even in spite of all this you did not believe the LORD your God,

<sup>34</sup> When the LORD heard your words, he became angry, and made a solemn vow,

<sup>35</sup> 'Surely there is not one person of this evil generation who will see the good land I promised to give to your fathers,

<sup>36</sup> except Caleb the son of Jephunneh. He will see it. I will give him and his descendants the land that he set his foot on, because he has wholly followed the LORD.'

<sup>37</sup> The LORD was also angry with me because of you, saying, 'You will not go in there either.

<sup>38</sup> Joshua the son of Nun, your assistant, will go in there. Encourage him, for he will cause Israel to inherit it.

<sup>39</sup> As for your little ones, who you claimed would be taken captive, and your children, who do not know good or evil, they will go in there, and I will give the land to them and they will possess it.

<sup>40</sup> But as for you, turn back, and go back into the wilderness by the way to the Red Sea.'

<sup>41</sup> Then you answered and confessed to me, 'We have sinned against the LORD. We will go up now and fight, according to all that the LORD our God commanded us.' So each one of you strapped on his weapons of war thinking how easy it would be to go up into the hill country.

<sup>42</sup> But the LORD said to me, 'Tell them, do not go up, or fight, because I will not be with you and you will be defeated by your enemies.'

<sup>43</sup> So I told you, but you did not listen; but rebelled against the command of the LORD, and presumptuously went up into the hill country.

<sup>44</sup> But the Amorites, who live in that hill country, came out against you, and chased you like a swarm of bees. They beat you down from Seir, all the way to Hormah.

<sup>45</sup> Then you returned and wept before the LORD. But the LORD would not listen to you, or pay any attention to you.

<sup>46</sup> So you stayed at Kadesh a long time, indeed for the full time.

Deuteronomy 2

<sup>1</sup> Then we turned around and went back to the wilderness by the way to the Red Sea, as the LORD told me. For many days we skirted around Mount Seir.

<sup>2</sup> Then the LORD spoke to me, saying,

<sup>4</sup> Tell the people, "You are about to pass through the territory of your relatives the descendants of Esau who live in Seir. They will be afraid of you so be very careful.

<sup>5</sup> Do not provoke them for I am not giving you any of their land, not even enough to leave a footprint on; because I have given Mount Seir to Esau for a possession.

<sup>6</sup> You may purchase food from them for money so that you may eat, and you may also buy water from them for money so that you may drink.

<sup>7</sup> For the LORD your God has blessed you in all the work of your hand. He knows your travels through this great wilderness. For these forty years the LORD your God has been with you, you have lacked nothing."

<sup>8</sup> So we passed by our relatives the descendants of Esau, who live in Seir. We turned away from the way of the Arabah that comes up from Elath and Ezion-geber and passed by the road of the wilderness of Moab.

<sup>9</sup> Then the LORD said to me, 'Do not harass Moab, or provoke them to war; for I am not giving you any of their land for a possession because I have given Ar to the descendants of Lot for a possession.

<sup>10</sup> (The Emities used to live there. They were a people great, numerous and tall as the Anakites.

<sup>11</sup> Like the Anakites, these are also known as Rephaites, but the Moabites call them Emities.

<sup>12</sup> The Horites used to live in Seir before, but the descendants of Esau dispossessed and destroyed them, and settled in their place just as Israel did to the land that the LORD gave them to possess.)

<sup>13</sup> Now get up and cross over the Zered Valley.' So we crossed the Zered Valley.

<sup>14</sup> Now the length of time we traveled from Kadesh-barnea until we crossed over the Zered Valley was thirty-eight years; until all the generation of soldiers had perished from the camp, as the LORD had sworn to them.

<sup>15</sup> Indeed, the hand of the LORD was against them to destroy them from the camp until they were all gone.

<sup>16</sup> So it was when all the soldiers had perished from among the people,

<sup>17</sup> that the LORD spoke to me, saying,

<sup>19</sup> When you approach the descendants of Ammon, do not harass or provoke them because I am not giving you the land of the descendants of Ammon for a possession because I have given it to the descendants of Lot for a possession.'

<sup>21</sup> They were a people great, numerous and tall as the Anakites. But the LORD destroyed them before the Ammonites so they dispossessed them and settled in their place.

<sup>22</sup> He did exactly the same thing for the descendants of Esau, who lived in Seir, when he destroyed the Horites before them so they dispossessed them, and settled in their place even to this day.

<sup>23</sup> The Avvites who lived in villages in the region of Gaza, the Caphtorites who came from Caphtor [Crete], destroyed them and settled in their place.)

<sup>24</sup> Get up, set out on your journey, and cross over the Arnon gorge. Look, I have given into your hand Sihon the Amorite, king of Heshbon, and his land. Begin to take possession of it and engage him in battle.

<sup>25</sup> This day will I begin to put the dread and the fear of you into all the peoples that are under the whole heaven. When they will hear the report about you they will tremble and be in anguish because of you.'

<sup>26</sup> Then I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kedemoth to Sihon king of Heshbon with an offer of peace, saying, <sup>27</sup> 'Let me pass through your land. I will travel only on the road, I will not turn aside either to the right or to the left.

<sup>28</sup> You may sell us food for money, so we may eat; and give us water for money, so we may drink. Just allow us to pass through on foot,

<sup>29</sup> just as the descendants of Esau who live in Seir, and the Moabites who live in Ar did for us, until we cross over the Jordan River into the land the LORD our God is giving us.'

<sup>30</sup> But Sihon king of Heshbon would not let us pass by him, for the LORD your God hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, so that he might deliver him to your hand, as he has done now.

<sup>31</sup> Then the LORD said to me, 'See, I have begun to deliver Sihon and his land over to you. Begin to take possession of his land.'

<sup>32</sup> When Sihon came out against us, he and all his people, to battle at Jahaz, <sup>33</sup> the LORD our God delivered him over to us and we struck him down, along with his sons and all his people.

<sup>34</sup> At that time we took all his towns, and absolutely destroyed every town, including even the women and children. We left no survivors.

<sup>35</sup> We did take the livestock as plunder for ourselves, along with the spoil of the towns we had captured.

<sup>36</sup> From Aroer, which is on the edge of the Arnon gorge, and from the town that is in the gorge, even to Gilead, there was not a citadel too high for us. The LORD our God gave them all to us.

<sup>37</sup> But you did not approach the land of the descendants of Ammon; to the banks of Jabbok Valley, or the towns of the hill country, or anywhere the LORD our God had forbidden us.

Deuteronomy 3

<sup>1</sup> When we turned and went up the road to Bashan, Og the king of Bashan came out against us, he and all his people, for battle at Edrei.

<sup>2</sup> But the LORD said to me, 'Do not fear him; for I have given him, all his people and his land, into your hand. You will do to him as you did to Sihon king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon.'

<sup>3</sup> So the LORD our God also delivered into our hand Og, the king of Bashan, and all his people. We struck him down leaving no survivors.

<sup>4</sup> At that time we captured all his towns; there was not a town that we did not take from them--sixty towns, the whole region of Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan.

<sup>5</sup> All these towns were fortified with high walls, gates and bars; besides a great many unwallled villages.

<sup>7</sup> We kept all the livestock and plunder from the towns as spoil for ourselves.

<sup>8</sup> So at that time we took the land out of the hand of the two kings of the Amorites that were east of the Jordan River, from the Arnon gorge to Mount Hermon

<sup>11</sup> (Og king of Bashan was the only one left of the Rephaites. His bed was made of iron. Can it not still be found in Rabbah of the Ammonites? It was thirteen feet long and six feet wide, according to standard measurements.)

<sup>12</sup> When we took possession of this land at that time, I gave to the Reubenites and Gadites the territory north of Aroer by the Arnon gorge and half the hill-country of Gilead, with its towns.

<sup>13</sup> The rest of Gilead and all Bashan, the kingdom of Og, I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh. (The entire region of Argob, all Bashan which used to be called the land of Rephaites.

<sup>15</sup> And I gave Gilead to Machir.

<sup>16</sup> To the Reubenites and Gadites I gave from Gilead to the middle of the Arnon gorge, as its border, even to the Jabbok River, which is the boundary of the Ammonites.

<sup>17</sup> The Arabah and the Jordan River were also its border, from sea of Chinnereth [Galilee] even to the sea of the Arabah, the Salt [Dead] Sea, with the slopes of Pisgah to the east.

<sup>18</sup> I commanded you at that time: 'The LORD your God has given you this land to possess. All your warriors must cross over armed ahead of your brothers, the Israelites.

<sup>19</sup> But your wives, children and livestock (I realize that you have much livestock) may stay in your towns I have given you.

<sup>20</sup> When the LORD gives rest to your brothers, as to you, and they too possess the land that the LORD your God gives them on the other side of Jordan, then each of you may return to his possession I have given you.'

<sup>21</sup> At that time I commanded Joshua, saying, 'Your eyes have seen all that the LORD your God has done to these two kings. The LORD will do the same to all the kingdoms where you are headed.

<sup>22</sup> Do not fear them, for the LORD your God will fight for you.'

<sup>24</sup> 'O sovereign LORD, you have begun to show your servant your greatness and your mighty hand. For what god is there in heaven or earth that can match your deeds and your mighty acts?

<sup>25</sup> Please let me go over and see the good land that is beyond the Jordan, the beautiful hill country and Lebanon.'

<sup>26</sup> But the LORD was angry with me because of you, and would not listen to me. 'That's enough,' the LORD said to me, 'Never speak to me about this again.

<sup>27</sup> Get up to the top of Pisgah and lift up your eyes to the west, north, south and east, and take it in with your eyes, for you may not cross the Jordan River.

<sup>28</sup> But commission Joshua, and encourage and strengthen him, for he will cross over before this people, and he will enable them to inherit the land that you will see.'

<sup>29</sup> So we stayed in the valley near Beth-peor.

Deuteronomy 4

<sup>1</sup> Now, Israel, listen to the statutes and regulations that I am teaching you. Do them so that you may live and go in and possess the land that the LORD, the God of your fathers, is giving you.

<sup>2</sup> Do not add to the word that I command you, and do not subtract from it, so that you may keep the commandments of the LORD your God that I am telling you.

<sup>3</sup> Your eyes have seen what the LORD did because of Baal-peor; how the LORD your God destroyed from your midst everyone who followed Baal of Peor.

<sup>4</sup> But you who remained faithful to the LORD your God are still alive today, everyone of you.

<sup>5</sup> See, I have taught you statutes and regulations, even as the LORD my God commanded me, so that you would obey them in the land you are entering to possess.

<sup>6</sup> Carefully observe them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the peoples, who will hear all these statutes, and say, "Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people."

<sup>7</sup> For what other great nation is there that has a god so near them, as the LORD our God is whenever we call on him?

<sup>8</sup> What other great nation is there that has statutes and regulations as righteous as this whole law, that I am presenting to you this day?

<sup>9</sup> Only pay careful attention and watch yourselves closely, lest you forget the things your eyes have seen and they slip from your heart all the days of your life. Teach them to your children and your grandchildren.

<sup>10</sup> Remember the day that you stood before the LORD your God at Horeb, when the LORD said to me, "Assemble the people for me to have them hear my words, so that they may learn to fear me all the days they live on the earth, and they may teach their children."

<sup>11</sup> You approached and stood at the foot of the mountain while the mountain burned with fire to the high heaven, shrouded in thick dark clouds.

<sup>12</sup> Then the LORD spoke to you out of the fire. You heard the sound of words, but saw no form; only a voice was heard.

<sup>13</sup> He declared to you his covenant, which he ordered you to keep, the ten commandments; and he wrote them on two tables of stone.

<sup>14</sup> At that time the LORD commanded me teach you statutes and regulations, so that you might do them in the land you are about to enter and possess.

<sup>15</sup> Be very careful, for you did not see any form on the day that the LORD spoke to you at Horeb out of the fire.

<sup>16</sup> So do not corrupt yourselves by making a craved idol in the form of any figure, that looks like a male or female form,

<sup>17</sup> or like any beast that is on the earth, any winged bird that flies in the sky,

<sup>18</sup> or anything that creeps on the ground, or any fish that is in the water below ground level.

<sup>19</sup> When you lift up your eyes to heaven and see the sun, moon and stars, all the host of heaven, do not be enticed to worship and serve them. The LORD your God has given them to all the peoples under the whole heaven.

<sup>20</sup> But the LORD has taken you and brought you out of the iron-smelting furnace of Egypt, to be his special people, his own inheritance, as you are today.

<sup>21</sup> Furthermore the LORD was angry with me because of you, and vowed that I should not go across the Jordan River and that I should not enter that good land the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance.

<sup>22</sup> Instead, I must die here in this land, I must not cross over the Jordan River but you will cross over and possess that good land.

<sup>23</sup> So be careful not to forget the covenant of the LORD your God, that he made with you, and make a craved idol in the form of anything that the LORD your God has forbidden you.

<sup>25</sup> When you have had children and grandchildren, and you have been in the land a long time, if you corrupt yourselves and make a carved idol in the form of anything, and do what is evil in the sight of the LORD your God, to provoke him to anger;

<sup>26</sup> I call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that you will quickly be removed from the land you are crossing the Jordan River to possess. You will not live there long but will be utterly destroyed.

<sup>27</sup> The LORD will scatter you among the peoples, and you will be left few in number among the nations, where the LORD will exile you.

<sup>28</sup> There you will serve gods of wood and stone made by human hands that neither see, hear, eat or smell.

<sup>29</sup> But if from there you will seek the LORD your God, you will find him, when you search for him with all your heart and all your soul.

<sup>30</sup> When you are in distress and all these things happen to you in the latter days, you will return to the LORD your God, and listen to his voice.

<sup>31</sup> For the LORD your God is a merciful God; he will not abandon or destroy you, or forget the covenant which he promised your fathers.

<sup>32</sup> Ask now of the days gone by, long before you, from the time God created human beings on the earth; ask from the one end of heaven to the other whether there has ever been anything as great as this, or has anything like it ever been heard of?

<sup>33</sup> Has any people ever heard the voice of God speaking out of a fire, as you have, and lived?

<sup>34</sup> Or has any god ever attempted to go and take a nation from the midst of another nation, by trials, signs, wonders, war, a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, and terrifying acts, the way the LORD your God did for you in Egypt right before your eyes?

<sup>35</sup> To you it was shown, so that you might know that the LORD is God; there is no other besides him.

<sup>36</sup> From heaven he let you hear his voice, so that he might instruct you. On earth he let you see his great fire; and you heard his words coming out of the fire.

<sup>37</sup> Because he loved your forefathers, he chose their descendants after them, and brought you out of Egypt with his presence by his great power

<sup>38</sup> to drive out nations before you greater and stronger than you are, to bring you in, to give you their land for an inheritance, as it is today.

<sup>39</sup> So today acknowledge and take it to heart, that the LORD is God in heaven above and on the earth beneath. There is no other.

<sup>40</sup> Keep his statutes and his commandments, which I command you today so that it may go well with you, and your children after you, and so that you may prolong your days in the land the LORD your God is giving you forever.'

<sup>41</sup> Then Moses set apart three cities on the east side of the Jordan River

<sup>42</sup> so that anyone who accidentally kills someone without malice and aforethought could flee to one of these cities and live.

<sup>48</sup> They took from Aroer, which is on the edge of the Arnon gorge, even to Mount Sirion also called Hermon, <sup>49</sup> along with all the Arabah east of the Jordan River, even to the sea of the Arabah, below the slopes of Pisgah.

Deuteronomy 5

<sup>1</sup> Then Moses called all Israel together and said, 'Listen, Israel, to the statutes and regulations that I declaring to you today, so that you may learn and do them.

<sup>3</sup> The LORD did not make this covenant with our forefathers, but with all of us who are alive here today.

<sup>5</sup> At that time I stood between you and the LORD, to declare to you the word of the LORD because you were afraid of the fire, and did not go up the mountain.

He said,

<sup>6</sup> "I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.

<sup>7</sup> You must not have any other gods before me.

<sup>8</sup> You must not make any carved idol in the form of anything in the heavens above or in the earth below, or that is in the water beneath.

<sup>9</sup> You must not bow down to them, or serve them; for I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God, punishing the sin of the fathers on the children, to the third and fourth generation of those who hate me;

<sup>10</sup> and showing steadfast love to thousands of those who love me and keep my commandments.

<sup>11</sup> You must not misuse the name of the LORD your God for the LORD will not acquit anyone who misuses his name.

<sup>12</sup> Observe the Sabbath day by keeping it holy, just as the LORD your God commanded you.

<sup>13</sup> Six days you shall labor and do all your work;

<sup>14</sup> but the seventh day is the Sabbath to the LORD your God. On that day you shall not do any work, you, or your son, or your daughter, or your male or female servant, or your ox, or your donkey, or any of your livestock, or any foreigner who lives within your gates; that your male and female servants may rest as well as you do.

<sup>15</sup> Remember that you were slaves in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God brought you out of there by a mighty hand and an outstretched arm. Therefore the LORD your God commanded you to keep the Sabbath day.

<sup>16</sup> Honor your father and mother, as the LORD your God commanded you, so that your days may be long and that it may go well with you in the land the LORD your God is giving you.

<sup>17</sup> You must not murder.

<sup>21</sup> You must not covet your neighbor's wife, or crave your neighbor's house, his field, or his male or female servant, his ox, his donkey or anything that is your neighbor's."

<sup>22</sup> These words the LORD proclaimed with a loud voice to your whole assembly at the mountain out of the fire, the cloud and the thick darkness and he added no more. He wrote them on two stone tables, and gave them to me.

<sup>23</sup> When you heard the voice from the midst of the darkness, while the mountain was burning with fire, all the leaders of your tribes and your elders came to me.

<sup>24</sup> You said, 'Look, the LORD our God has shown us his glory and his greatness, and we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire. We have seen this day God speak with a human being, and yet the person lives.

<sup>25</sup> So now why should we die? For this great fire will consume us! If we hear the voice of the LORD our God any more, then we will die.

<sup>26</sup> For who is there from all living beings who has heard the voice of the living God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as we have, and lived?

<sup>27</sup> You go near and hear all that the LORD our God will say. Then you tell us all that the LORD our God says to you and we will listen and do it.'

<sup>28</sup> The LORD heard your request, when you spoke to me and the LORD said to me, 'I have heard the words this people have spoken to you and they are right in what they have said.

<sup>29</sup> Oh that they would always have such a heart as this, to fear me and keep all my commands so that it might go well with them and their children forever!

<sup>31</sup> But as for you, stand here by me, and I will tell you all the commands, statutes and regulations, you are to teach them, so that they may do them in the land I am giving them to possess.'

<sup>32</sup> Be careful, therefore, to do what the LORD your God has commanded you. Do not turn aside to the right or to left.

<sup>33</sup> Walk in all the way the LORD your God has commanded you, so that you may live, and that it may go well with you, and that you may live long in the land you are about to possess.

Deuteronomy 6

<sup>1</sup> Now this is the commandment, the statutes and the regulations that the LORD your God commanded me to teach you, so that you may do them in the land you are crossing over to possess,

<sup>2</sup> so that you, your children and your grandchildren may fear the LORD your God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I am commanding you all the days of your life, and that your life may be long.

<sup>3</sup> Hear, therefore, O Israel, and be careful to do it; that it may be well with you, and that you may greatly multiply in a land flowing with milk and honey, just as the LORD, the God of your forefathers, promised to you.

<sup>5</sup> Love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul and with all your strength.

<sup>6</sup> These words that I am commanding you this day, are to be on your heart.

<sup>7</sup> Teach them repeatedly to your children, and talk about them when you sit in your house, when you walk along the way, when you lie down and when you get up.

<sup>8</sup> Tie them as a sign on your hand and bind them on your forehead.

<sup>9</sup> Write them on the door-posts of your house and on your gates.

<sup>10</sup> When the LORD your God brings you into the land he promised to your forefathers, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, to give you, great and goodly cities, you did not build,

<sup>11</sup> and houses full of all sorts of good things, you did not produce, and cisterns, you did not dig, vineyards and olive-trees, you did not plant. When you eat and are full

<sup>12</sup> then be careful not to forget the LORD, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.

<sup>13</sup> Fear the LORD your God and serve him, and take oaths only in his name.

<sup>14</sup> Do not go after other gods, the gods of the peoples around you, <sup>15</sup> for the LORD your God in your midst is a jealous God and the anger of the LORD your God may be sparked against you, and he destroy you from off the face of the earth.

<sup>16</sup> Do not put the LORD your God to the test, as you tested him at Massah.

<sup>17</sup> Make sure you keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and his stipulations and his statutes that he has commanded you.

<sup>18</sup> Do what is right and good in the sight of the LORD so that it may go well with you, and that you may go in and possess the good land that the LORD promised to your forefathers, <sup>19</sup> to drive out all your enemies before you, just as the LORD has said.

<sup>20</sup> In the future when your child asks, 'What do the testimonies, statutes and the regulations the LORD our God has commanded you mean?'

<sup>21</sup> Then you shall tell your child, 'We were Pharaoh's slaves in Egypt and the LORD brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand.'

<sup>22</sup> The LORD demonstrated before our eyes great and devastating signs and wonders against Egypt, Pharaoh and all his household.

<sup>23</sup> He brought us out of there so that he might bring us in, to give us the land he promised to our forefathers.

<sup>24</sup> The LORD commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the LORD our God, for our good always, that he might preserve us alive, as he has to this day.

<sup>25</sup> It will be our righteousness, if we carefully do this entire commandment before the LORD our God, just as he has commanded us.'

Deuteronomy 7

<sup>1</sup> When the LORD your God brings you into the land you are entering to possess, he will drive out many nations before you: the Hittites, Girgashites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites, seven nations more numerous and mightier than you.

<sup>2</sup> When the LORD your God delivers them over to you, and you defeat them, then totally destroy them. Do not make a covenant with them or show them mercy.

<sup>3</sup> Do not intermarry with them. Do not give your daughters to their sons or take their daughters for your sons.

<sup>4</sup> For they will turn away your sons from following me to serve other gods. So the anger of the LORD will be sparked against you and he will quickly destroy you.

<sup>5</sup> But this is how you are to deal with them: break down their altars, smash their sacred pillars, and cut down their Asherah poles and burn their idols with fire.

<sup>6</sup> For you are a holy people to the LORD your God. The LORD your God has chosen you to be his own special people, above all peoples on the face of the earth.

<sup>7</sup> The LORD did not set his love on you or choose you because you were more numerous than any other people, for you were the fewest of all peoples.

<sup>8</sup> Rather it was because the LORD loved you and was keeping the oath he promised to your forefathers when the LORD brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you out of the house of slavery from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup> Know therefore that the LORD your God is God, the faithful God, who keeps his covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments to a thousand generations.

<sup>10</sup> But he repays those who hate him to their face destroying them. He will not delay to repay those who hate him to their face.

<sup>11</sup> Keep, therefore, the commands, statutes and regulations, that I command you to do today.

<sup>12</sup> If you listen to these ordinances, and do them, then the LORD your God will keep his covenant and steadfast love with you that he promised your forefathers.

<sup>13</sup> He will love you, bless you and multiply you. He will also bless the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground, your grain, your new wine and olive oil, the offspring of your herds and the lambs of your flocks, in the land that he promised to your forefathers to give you.

<sup>14</sup> You will be blessed above all peoples; there will be no barrenness among your men or women or even among your livestock.

<sup>15</sup> The LORD will remove all sickness from you; and he will not let you suffer any of the terrible diseases you knew of in Egypt, but will inflict them on all who hate you.

<sup>16</sup> You must destroy all the peoples that the LORD your God is delivering to you. Your eye must not pity them and you must not serve their gods for that will be a snare to you.

<sup>17</sup> If you say in your heart, 'These nations are more than we are, how can I ever dispossess them?'

<sup>18</sup> Do not be afraid of them. Remember what the LORD your God did to Pharaoh and to all Egypt, <sup>19</sup> the great judgments that you saw, the signs and wonders, the mighty hand and the outstretched arm by which the LORD your God brought you out. The LORD your God will do the same thing to all the peoples you are afraid of.

<sup>21</sup> Do not be afraid of them, for the LORD your God is in your midst, a great and awesome God.

<sup>22</sup> The LORD your God will drive out those nations before you little by little. You will not be able to destroy them all at once otherwise the wild animals would overrun you.

<sup>23</sup> But the LORD your God will deliver them over to you, and will throw them into a great panic until they are destroyed.

<sup>24</sup> He will deliver their kings into your hand, and you will erase their name from under heaven. No one will be able to stand against you, until you have destroyed them.

<sup>25</sup> Burn the carved images of their gods with fire. Do not covet the silver or gold that is on them, or take it for yourself, lest you become snared by it, for it is detestable to the LORD your God.

<sup>26</sup> Do not bring any detestable thing into your house or you will be set apart for destruction just like it is. Absolutely detest and utterly abhor it, for it is an object set apart for destruction.

Deuteronomy 8

<sup>1</sup> This whole commandment that I command you today you must carefully do, that you may live and multiply, and go in and possess the land that the LORD promised to your forefathers.

<sup>2</sup> Remember all the way the LORD your God has led you these forty years in the wilderness, so that he might humble you, testing you to know what was in your heart, whether or not you would keep his commandments.

<sup>3</sup> He humbled you by letting you endure hunger, and then fed you with manna, which was unknown to both you and your forefathers. He did this to teach you that man does not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of the LORD.

<sup>4</sup> The clothes you were wearing did not wear out, and your feet did not swell these forty years.

<sup>5</sup> Know in your heart, that just as a man disciplines his son, so the LORD your God disciplines you.

<sup>6</sup> So keep the commandments of the LORD your God, by walking in his ways and fearing him.

<sup>7</sup> For the LORD your God is bringing you into a good land, a land with flowing streams, springs and underground waters seeping out into its valleys and hills;

<sup>8</sup> a land of wheat, barley, vines, fig trees and pomegranates; a land of olive trees and honey, <sup>9</sup> a land where you will eat bread without scarcity, where you will not lack anything; a land whose stones are iron and from whose hills you can dig copper.

<sup>10</sup> When you have eaten and are full, praise the LORD your God for the good land that he has given you.

<sup>11</sup> Beware that you do not forget the LORD your God, by not keeping his commands, regulations and statutes that I am commanding you today.

<sup>12</sup> When you have eaten your fill and have built good houses and have lived in them,

<sup>13</sup> and when your herds and flocks have increased, and your silver and gold has multiplied, along with everything else you have;

<sup>14</sup> then your heart will become proud and you will forget the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.

<sup>15</sup> He led you through the great and terrible wilderness, with its poisonous snakes and scorpions and thirsty ground where there was no water. He brought water out of a flint rock for you.

<sup>16</sup> He fed you manna in the wilderness, which your forefathers had never known; so that he might humble and test you, and in the end to do you good.

<sup>17</sup> He did this so you would not say in your heart, 'My power and the strength of my hand have produced this wealth.'

<sup>18</sup> Remember the LORD your God, for it is he who gives you power to get wealth, so that he may confirm his covenant that he made by an oath to your forefathers, as it is to this day.

<sup>19</sup> If you ever forget the LORD your God, and follow other gods, serving and worshiping them, I solemnly testify against you today that you will surely perish.

<sup>20</sup> Just like the nations the LORD is destroying before you, so you too will perish; because you would not obey the voice of the LORD your God.

Deuteronomy 9

<sup>1</sup> Hear, O Israel, you are to pass over the Jordan River today, to go in and dispossess nations greater and stronger than you, with large cities fortified to the sky.

<sup>2</sup> The people are strong and tall, the sons of the Anakites, whom you know, and of whom you have heard it said, 'Who can stand before the sons of Anak?'

<sup>3</sup> Know therefore today, that the LORD your God is the one who goes over before you as a devouring fire, he will defeat and subdue them before you. So you will defeat and quickly drive them out, just as the LORD has promised to you.

<sup>4</sup> Do not think in your heart, after the LORD your God has driven them out before you, 'It was because of my righteousness the LORD has brought me in to possess this land.' On the contrary, it is because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD is driving them out before you.

<sup>5</sup> It is not because of your righteousness or because of the integrity of your heart, you are going in to possess their land; but because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD your God is driving them out before you, so that he may keep the promise that the LORD made to your forefathers, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

<sup>6</sup> Know therefore, that the LORD your God is not giving you this good land to possess it because of your righteousness; for you are a stubborn people.

<sup>7</sup> Remember, and do not forget, how you provoked the LORD your God to wrath in the wilderness; from the day you left the land of Egypt, until you came to this place, you have been rebellious against the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> Even at Horeb you provoked the LORD to wrath, and the LORD was so angry with you, he was about to destroy you.

<sup>9</sup> When I went up the mountain to receive the tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant that the LORD made with you, I stayed on the mountain forty days and forty nights, I did not eat bread or drink water.

<sup>10</sup> The LORD gave me the two tablets of stone written with the finger of God, and on them were all the words that the LORD spoke to you at the mountain from the midst of the fire, on the day of the assembly.

<sup>11</sup> At the end of the forty days and forty nights, the LORD gave me the two tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant.

<sup>12</sup> The LORD said to me, 'Get up, go down quickly from here; for your people you have brought out of Egypt have corrupted themselves. They are quickly turning aside from the way I commanded them and have made a metal idol for themselves.'

<sup>13</sup> Furthermore, the LORD spoke to me, saying, 'I have seen this people, and they are certainly a stubborn people.

<sup>14</sup> Leave me alone, so that I may destroy them, and blot out their name from under heaven; and I will make from you a nation stronger and more numerous than they are.'

<sup>15</sup> So I turned and came down from the mountain, while the mountain was burning with fire and the two tablets of the covenant were in my hands.

<sup>16</sup> When I looked, I saw that you had sinned against the LORD your God by making for yourselves a metal idol in the shape of a calf and that you had turned aside from the way that the LORD had commanded you.

<sup>17</sup> So I took hold of the two tablets, and threw them out of my hands, and smashed them into pieces before your eyes.

<sup>18</sup> Then I fell down before the LORD, as before, for forty days and forty nights. I did not eat bread or drink water because of all your sin you had committed, in doing what was evil in the sight of the LORD provoking him to anger.

<sup>19</sup> For I was afraid that in his anger and hot displeasure the LORD was going to destroy you. But the LORD listened to me at that time also.

<sup>20</sup> The LORD was so angry with Aaron, he wanted to destroy him but I prayed for Aaron at that same time.

<sup>21</sup> I took your sinful thing, the calf you had made, and melted it down, grinding it as fine as dust. Then I threw its dust into the brook that flowed down the mountain.

<sup>23</sup> When the LORD sent you from Kadesh-barnea, saying, 'Go up and possess the land I have given you,' you rebelled against the command of the LORD your God, and did not trust him or obey his voice.

<sup>24</sup> You have been rebellious against the LORD for as long as I have known you.

<sup>25</sup> So I fell on my face before the LORD for forty days and forty nights because the LORD said he would destroy you.

<sup>26</sup> I prayed to the LORD, and said, 'O sovereign LORD, do not destroy your people and your inheritance that you have redeemed by your greatness, and that you brought out of Egypt with a mighty hand.

<sup>27</sup> Remember your servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; do not focus on the stubbornness of this people, their wickedness or their sin.

<sup>28</sup> Otherwise the land you brought us out of may say, "It was because the LORD was not able to bring them into the land he promised to them, and because he hated them, he brought them out to slay them in the wilderness."

<sup>29</sup> Yet they are your people and your inheritance that you brought out by your great power and by your outstretched arm.'

Deuteronomy 10

<sup>1</sup> At that time the LORD said to me, 'Carve out two tablets of stone like the first ones and come up to me on the mountain, and make an ark of wood.

<sup>2</sup> I will write on the tablets the same words that were on the first tablets that you broke, and you are to put them in the ark.'

<sup>3</sup> So I made an ark of acacia wood, and carved out two stone tablets like the first ones, and went up into the mountain with the two tablets in hand.

<sup>4</sup> He wrote on the tablets the same words, the ten commandments, that the LORD spoke to you in the mountain out of the midst of the fire on the day of the assembly; and the LORD gave them to me.

<sup>5</sup> Then I turned and came down from the mountain, and put the tablets in the ark that I had made and they are still there just as the LORD commanded me.

<sup>7</sup> From there they journeyed to Gudgodah; and from Gudgodah to Jotbathah, a land with flowing streams.

<sup>8</sup> At that time the LORD set apart the tribe of Levi, to carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD, to stand before the LORD to serve him and to bless in his name, to this day.

<sup>9</sup> This is the reason Levi has no portion or inheritance with his brothers; the LORD is his inheritance, just as the LORD your God spoke to him.)

<sup>10</sup> I stayed on the mountain, as I did the first time, forty days and forty nights. The LORD listened to me that time also and the LORD decided not destroy you.

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD said to me, 'Get up, go on your journey leading the people so that they may go in and possess the land that I promised their forefathers to give to them.

<sup>12</sup> Now, then, Israel, what does the LORD your God require of you, but to fear the LORD your God, to walk in all his ways, to love him, to serve the LORD your God with all your heart and soul, <sup>13</sup> to keep the command of the LORD, and his statutes, that I am commanding you this day for your good?

<sup>14</sup> Look, the heavens, even the highest heavens, belong to the LORD your God, along with the earth and all that is in it.

<sup>15</sup> Yet the LORD set his heart in love on your forefathers, and he chose you, their descendants, after them, over all other peoples as it is today.

<sup>16</sup> Circumcise, therefore, the foreskin of your heart, and stop being stubborn.

<sup>17</sup> For the LORD your God, he is God of gods, and Lord of lords, the great God, the mighty and awesome One, who is not biased and will not take a bribe.

<sup>18</sup> He guarantees justice for the orphan and widow, and loves the resident foreigners, providing them food and clothes.

<sup>19</sup> So love the resident foreigner; for you were resident foreigners in the land of Egypt.

<sup>20</sup> Fear the LORD your God, serve him and hold on to him, and take oaths only in his name.

<sup>21</sup> He is the only one worthy of your praise, and he is your God, who has done for you these great and awesome things, that your eyes have seen.

<sup>22</sup> Your forefathers went down to Egypt with only seventy people, and now the LORD your God has made you as numerous as the stars of heaven.

Deuteronomy 11

<sup>2</sup> Consider today that I am not talking to your children who have not experienced or seen the discipline of the LORD your God, his greatness, his mighty hand and outstretched arm,

<sup>3</sup> his signs, and his deeds, that he did in the midst of Egypt to Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and to all his land, <sup>4</sup> and what he did to the Egyptian army, to their horses and chariots, how he made the water of the Red Sea flow over them as they pursued after you, and how the LORD has destroyed them to this day.

<sup>5</sup> Your children did not see what he did for you in the wilderness, until you came to this place;

<sup>6</sup> and what he did to Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, the son of Reuben; how in the midst of all Israel the earth opened its mouth, and swallowed them up, along with their households, tents and every living thing that followed them.

<sup>7</sup> But your own eyes have seen all the great deeds the LORD did.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore obey all the commands I am giving you today, so that you may be strong and go in and possess the land, you are crossing over to possess,

<sup>9</sup> and so that you may live long in the land that the LORD promised to give to your forefathers and to their descendants, a land flowing with milk and honey.

<sup>10</sup> For the land you are entering to possess is not like the land of Egypt, from which you came, where you sowed your seed and irrigated it with your foot like a vegetable garden.

<sup>11</sup> But the land, you are crossing over to possess, is a land of hills and valleys, that drinks rain from heaven, <sup>12</sup> a land the LORD your God cares for. The eyes of the LORD your God are always on it, from the beginning to the end of the year.

<sup>13</sup> If you will carefully obey my commandments that I command you today, to love the LORD your God and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul, <sup>14</sup> then he promises, 'I will give rain on your land in its season, the autumn former rains and the spring latter rains, that you may gather in your grain, new wine and olive oil.

<sup>15</sup> I will give grass in your fields for your livestock, and you will eat and be full.'

<sup>16</sup> Be careful or your heart may be deceived turning aside and serving other gods, and worshiping them.

<sup>17</sup> Then the anger of the LORD will burn against you, and he will shut up the heavens, so that there will be no rain, and the land will not produce its fruit; and you will quickly perish from the good land that the LORD is giving you.

<sup>18</sup> Therefore retain these words of mine in your heart and soul. Tie them for a sign on your hand, and bind them as a reminder on your forehead.

<sup>19</sup> Teach them to your children, talking about them when you sit in your house and when you walk by the way, when you lie down and when you get up.

<sup>20</sup> Write them on the door-posts of your house and on your gates, <sup>21</sup> that the days of you and your children may be multiplied, in the land that the LORD promised to give to your forefathers, as long as the heavens are above the earth.

<sup>22</sup> For if you carefully obey all these commands that I am commanding you, to love the LORD your God, by walking in all his ways, and loyally holding onto him;

<sup>23</sup> then the LORD will drive out all these nations before you, and you will dispossess nations greater and stronger than you are.

<sup>24</sup> Everywhere you set the sole of your foot will be yours; your border will be from the wilderness to Lebanon, from the River, the Euphrates River, all the way to the west, the Mediterranean Sea.

<sup>25</sup> No one will be able to stand against you. The LORD your God will put the fear and the dread of you on all the land that you tread on, just as he has promised you.

<sup>27</sup> the blessing, if you obey the commands of the LORD your God, that I am commanding you today;

<sup>28</sup> and the curse, if you do not obey the commands of the LORD your God, but turn from the way that I am commanding you today, by pursuing other gods, that you have not known.

<sup>29</sup> When the LORD your God brings you into the land that you are entering to take possession of it, you must set the blessing on Mount Gerizim, and the curse on Mount Ebal.

<sup>30</sup> Are not these two mountains beyond the Jordan River, in the west by the way of the setting sun, in the land of the Canaanites who dwell in the Arabah, near Gilgal, beside the oak of Moreh?

<sup>31</sup> For you are about to pass over the Jordan River to go in to possess the land that the LORD your God is giving you. When you take possession of it and live there <sup>32</sup> be sure to carefully obey all the statutes and regulations that I am setting before you today.

Deuteronomy 12

<sup>1</sup> These are the statutes and the regulations that you must carefully obey in the land that the LORD, the God of your forefathers, has given you to possess it, all the days that you live on the earth.

<sup>2</sup> You must completely destroy all the places where the nations that you are dispossessing have served their gods, on the high mountains, on the hills and under every green tree.

<sup>4</sup> You must not worship the LORD your God the way they do.

<sup>5</sup> But seek the place that the LORD your God will choose from all your tribes for his dwelling place, to put his name there, that is the place you are to go to.

<sup>6</sup> Bring there your burnt offerings, your sacrifices, your tithes, the special offerings, your vow offerings, your freewill offerings and the firstborn of your herds and your flocks.

<sup>7</sup> You and your household must eat there before the LORD your God, and rejoice there in all your undertakings by which the LORD your God has blessed you.

<sup>8</sup> You are not to do all the things that we are doing here today, with everyone doing what is right in his own eyes.

<sup>9</sup> For you have not yet entered the rest and the inheritance that the LORD your God is giving you.

<sup>10</sup> But when you cross over the Jordan River, and settle in the land that the LORD your God causes you to inherit, and he gives you rest from all your enemies who surround you so that you live in safety, <sup>11</sup> then bring everything I have commanded you to the place the LORD your God will choose for his name to dwell, your burnt offerings, your sacrifices, your tithes, your special offerings, and all your choice vow offerings that you have vowed to the LORD.

<sup>12</sup> Rejoice before the LORD your God, you, your sons, your daughters, your male and female servants, and the Levite who lives within your gates, because he has no portion or inheritance with you.

<sup>13</sup> Be careful that you do not offer your burnt offerings in any place that you see,

<sup>14</sup> but in the place that the LORD will choose in one of your tribes, it is there you are to offer your burnt offerings and do everything I command you.

<sup>15</sup> However, you may slaughter and eat meat within any of your gates whenever you want, according to the blessing that the LORD your God has given you; those who are unclean and clean may eat it, just like you would a gazelle or deer.

<sup>16</sup> But do not eat the blood. You must pour it out on the ground like water.

<sup>17</sup> You may not eat within your gates the tithe of your grain, or new wine, olive oil, the firstborn of your herds or flocks, or any of your vow offerings that you vowed, freewill offerings or special offerings.

<sup>18</sup> But you must eat them before the LORD your God in the place that the LORD your God will choose, you, your son, your daughter, male and female servants, and the Levite who lives within your gates. Rejoice there before the LORD your God in everything you undertake to do.

<sup>19</sup> Be careful that you do not neglect the Levite as long as you live in your land.

<sup>20</sup> When the LORD your God enlarges your border, as he has promised you, and you say, 'I want to eat some meat,' because of your appetite for meat; you may eat meat whenever you want.

<sup>21</sup> If the place that the LORD your God chooses to put his name, is too far for you, then you may slaughter from your herds or your flocks what the LORD has given you, and you may eat it within your gates whenever you wish just as I have commanded you.

<sup>22</sup> You may eat it like you would a gazelle or a deer, both those who are unclean and clean may eat it.

<sup>23</sup> But be sure not to eat the blood, for the blood is the life; and you must not eat the life with the meat.

<sup>25</sup> Do not eat it; that it may go well with you and your children after you, because you will be doing what is right in the eyes of the LORD.

<sup>26</sup> But your holy things and your vow offerings, you must take, and go to the place that the LORD will choose.

<sup>27</sup> You are to offer your burnt offerings, the meat and the blood, on the altar of the LORD your God. The blood of your sacrifices is to be poured out on the altar of the LORD your God, but you may eat the meat.

<sup>28</sup> Be careful to obey all these words that I am commanding you, that it may go well with you, and your children after you forever, when you do what is good and right in the eyes of the LORD your God.

<sup>29</sup> When the LORD your God cuts off the nations before you, where you are going to dispossess them, and when you have dispossessed them and live in their land,

<sup>30</sup> be careful that you are not trapped into following them, after they are destroyed before you. Do not inquire concerning their gods, saying, 'How do these nations serve their gods? I will do the same thing.'

<sup>31</sup> You must not worship the LORD your God in that way. For they have done for their gods every detestable thing that the LORD hates. They even burn their sons and daughters with fire to their gods.

<sup>32</sup> You must be careful to do everything I command you, do not add to or subtract anything from it.

Deuteronomy 13

- <sup>1</sup> If a prophet or a dreamer arises among you, and he proclaims to you a miraculous sign or wonder,
- <sup>2</sup> and the sign or wonder takes place, and he says to you, 'Let us follow other gods,--gods you have not known,--and let us serve them.'
- <sup>3</sup> Do not listen to the words of that prophet or dreamer, for the LORD your God is testing you, to see whether you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul.
- <sup>4</sup> Follow the LORD your God and fear him. Keep his commandments and obey his voice, serve him and loyally hold onto him.
- <sup>5</sup> But that prophet or dreamer must be put to death, because he has encouraged rebellion against the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you out of the house of bondage. He has tried to lead you astray from the way that the LORD your God commanded you to walk in. This is how you are to put away the evil from your midst.
- <sup>6</sup> If your brother, the son of your mother, or your own son or daughter, or you beloved wife, or your closest friend, entice you secretly, saying, 'Let us go and serve other gods,' that you or your fathers have not known,
- <sup>7</sup> any of the gods of the peoples that are around you, whether they are near to you or far away, from the one end of the earth to the other,
- <sup>8</sup> do not give in to him or listen to him. Have no sympathy for him and do not spare or cover for him.
- <sup>9</sup> But you must surely put him to death. Your own hand must strike the first blow to put him to death, and afterwards the hands of all the people.
- <sup>10</sup> Stone him to death, because he tried to turn you away from the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.
- <sup>11</sup> Then all Israel will hear, and fear, and never again do this type of wickedness among you.
- <sup>12</sup> If you hear in one of your cities that the LORD your God is giving you to live in
- <sup>13</sup> that some scoundrels from among you have gone out and led astray the inhabitants of their city, saying, 'Let us go and serve other gods,' whom you have not known,
- <sup>14</sup> then inquire, search and make a thorough investigation. If the charge is true that such a detestable act has been done among you,
- <sup>15</sup> then you must surely put the inhabitants of that city to the sword, absolutely destroying it. All who are in it and its cattle must be put to sword.
- <sup>16</sup> Then gather all of its spoil into the middle of its public square and burn all the spoil and the city with fire to the LORD your God. It will remain a ruin forever. It must never be rebuilt.

<sup>17</sup> Do not take any of the things devoted to destruction; so that the LORD may turn from his fierce anger and be merciful to you and show you compassion, and multiply you as he promised to your forefathers, <sup>18</sup> if you obey the voice of the LORD your God by keeping all his commandments that I am commanding you today, to do what is right in the eyes of the LORD your God.

Deuteronomy 14

<sup>1</sup> You are the children of the LORD your God. Do not cut yourselves or shave your forehead bald for the dead.

<sup>2</sup> For you are a holy people to the LORD your God, and the LORD has chosen you to be a people for his own special possession, above all peoples on the face of the earth.

<sup>3</sup> Do not eat any detestable thing.

<sup>4</sup> These are the animals you may eat: the ox, the sheep, the goat, <sup>5</sup> the deer, the gazelle, the roebuck, the wild goat, the ibex, the antelope and the mountain sheep.

<sup>6</sup> You may eat any animal that both splits the hoof, divided in two, and also chews the cud.

<sup>7</sup> However you may not eat those that either chew the cud or that have split hooves: the camel, the hare and the rock badger; because they chew the cud but do not split the hoof, so they are unclean to you.

<sup>8</sup> The pig is unclean to you because it splits the hoof but does not chew the cud. You may not eat their meat and do not touch their carcasses.

<sup>9</sup> These marine animals you may eat: whatever has fins and scales.

<sup>10</sup> Whatever does not have both fins and scales you may not eat; it is unclean to you.

<sup>12</sup> But these are the ones you may not eat: the eagle, the vulture, the black vulture,

<sup>13</sup> the red and black kite, and any kind of falcon,

<sup>14</sup> ravens of any kind,

<sup>15</sup> the ostrich, the owl, the sea gull, and hawks of any kind,

<sup>17</sup> the desert owl, the carrion vulture, the cormorant,

<sup>18</sup> the stork, the heron of any kind, the hoopoe, and the bat.

<sup>19</sup> All flying insects that crawl on the ground are unclean to you; they may not be eaten.

<sup>21</sup> Do not eat of anything that dies naturally. You may give it to the resident foreigner who is within your gates and he may eat it. You may sell it to a foreigner. For you are a holy people to the LORD your God. Do not boil a young goat in its mother's milk.

<sup>22</sup> You are to tithe all the crops from your seed that comes from the field annually.

<sup>23</sup> You are to eat it before the LORD your God, in the place that he will choose to make his name to dwell, the tithe of your grain, your new wine, your olive oil, and the firstborn of your herds and flocks; so that you may learn to fear the LORD your God always.

<sup>24</sup> If, when the LORD your God blesses you, the place that the LORD your God will choose to put his name there is too far from you so that you are not able to bring it there, <sup>25</sup> then you may convert it into money, with the money secure in hand, and go to the place that the LORD your God will choose.

<sup>26</sup> Then you may spend the money on whatever you wish, for oxen, sheep, wine, strong drink or for whatever your appetite wants. You and your household must eat it there before the LORD your God and rejoice.

<sup>27</sup> Do not neglect the Levite who is within your gates, for he has no portion or inheritance with you.

<sup>28</sup> At the end of every three years bring out all the tithe of your produce for that year, and store it up within your towns.

<sup>29</sup> Then the Levite, because he has no portion or inheritance with you, along with the foreigner, the orphan and the widow, who are within your gates, may come, eat and be satisfied so that the LORD your God may bless you in all the work your hands undertake to do.

<sup>2</sup> This is the manner of the cancellation: every creditor must cancel the loans he has lent to his neighbor. He must not force repayment of it from his neighbor and his brother, because the LORD's release has been proclaimed.

<sup>3</sup> You may exact payment from a foreigner, but whatever your brother owes you must release.

<sup>4</sup> There should be no poor among you, for the LORD will certainly bless you in the land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance to possess, <sup>5</sup> if only you carefully obey the voice of the LORD your God, keeping all these commandments that I am giving you today.

<sup>6</sup> For the LORD your God will bless you, as he promised, then you will lend to many nations, but you will not have to borrow, and you will rule over many nations, but they will not rule over you.

<sup>7</sup> If there is a poor person among you, one of your brothers, within any of your gates in your land that the LORD your God is giving you, you should not harden your heart or be tightfisted against your poor brother.

<sup>8</sup> Instead you should generously open your hand to him, lending him enough to meet his need, whatever it may be.

<sup>9</sup> Beware that you do not entertain a wicked thought in your heart, 'The seventh year, the year of canceling debts, is near;' and so view your poor brother grudgingly, and give him nothing; and he cry to the LORD against you, and you be found guilty of sin.

<sup>10</sup> Give generously to him, and your heart should not be grieved when you give to him, since the LORD your God will bless you in all your work and in everything that your hand endeavors to do.

<sup>11</sup> For there will never cease to be poor in the land, therefore, I command you, 'Generously open your hand to your brother, to your needy and to your poor in your land.'

<sup>12</sup> If your fellow Hebrew whether a man or a woman, is sold to you, and serves you six years; then in the seventh year you must set him free.

<sup>13</sup> When you set him free, do not let him go out empty-handed.

<sup>14</sup> Provide for him generously out of your flock and out of your threshing floor and your winepress; as the LORD your God has blessed you, so you should give to him.

<sup>15</sup> Remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God redeemed you, that is why I am commanding you to do this today.

<sup>16</sup> But if he says to you, 'I do not want to leave you,' because he loves you and your family, since he is well off with you,

<sup>17</sup> then you shall take an awl, and push it through his earlobe into the door, and he will be your servant forever. Do the same thing to your female servant.

<sup>18</sup> Do not consider it a hardship, when you release him for he has been worth double a hired hand for he has served you six years; and the LORD your God will bless you in all that you do.

<sup>19</sup> Every firstborn male that is born to your herds and flocks you must consecrate to the LORD your God. You shall do no work with the firstborn of your herds, or shear the firstborn of your flocks.

<sup>20</sup> You and your household must eat it annually before the LORD your God in the place that the LORD will choose.

<sup>21</sup> But if it has any defect, being lame or blind, or any defect whatever, you must not sacrifice it to the LORD your God.

<sup>22</sup> But you may eat it within your gates, both those who are unclean and clean may eat it just as you would a gazelle or a deer.

<sup>23</sup> Only you must not eat its blood, instead pour it out on the ground like water.

Deuteronomy 16

<sup>1</sup> Observe the month of Abib and keep the Passover to LORD your God, for in the month of Abib the LORD your God brought you out of Egypt at night.

<sup>2</sup> Sacrifice the Passover to the LORD your God, from the flock or the herd, in the place that the LORD will choose to make his name dwell there.

<sup>3</sup> Do not eat it with leavened bread. For seven days eat unleavened bread, the bread of affliction, for you came out of the land of Egypt in haste; so that you may remember the day when you came out of the land of Egypt all the days of your life.

<sup>4</sup> No yeast should be seen anywhere in your land for seven days. None of the meat that you sacrifice on the evening of the first day should remain overnight until the next morning.

<sup>5</sup> You may not sacrifice the Passover within any of your towns that the LORD your God is giving you.

<sup>6</sup> But you must sacrifice the Passover only at the place that the LORD your God will choose to make his name to dwell, in the evening at sunset, on the anniversary of when you came out of Egypt.

<sup>7</sup> You must roast and eat it in the place the LORD your God will choose. The next morning you may return to your tents.

<sup>8</sup> Eat unleavened bread for six days and then on the seventh day will be a solemn assembly to the LORD your God, on it you must not do any work.

<sup>9</sup> Count off seven weeks from the time you began to use the sickle to harvest the standing grain.

<sup>10</sup> Then celebrate the Feast of Weeks to the LORD your God by contributing a freewill offering from your hand. You shall give in proportion to how the LORD your God has blessed you.

<sup>11</sup> Rejoice before the LORD your God, you, your son, your daughter, your male and female servants, the Levite who lives in your towns, the foreigner, orphans and the widows who live among you, in the place that the LORD your God will choose to make his name dwell.

<sup>12</sup> Remember that you were a slave in Egypt, and so be careful to observe these statutes.

<sup>13</sup> Keep the Feast of Tabernacles for seven days, after you have harvested the produce from your threshing floor and your wine press.

<sup>14</sup> Rejoice in your feast, you, your son, your daughter, your male and female servants, the Levites, the foreigners, the orphans and the widows who live in your towns.

<sup>15</sup> Celebrate the feast for seven days to the LORD your God in the place the LORD will choose; because the LORD your God will bless you in all your productivity, and in all the work of your hands, and you should be absolutely joyful.

<sup>16</sup> Three times in a year all your males must appear before the LORD your God in the place he will choose: the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the Feast of Weeks, and the Feast of Tabernacles. No one is to appear before the LORD empty-handed.

<sup>17</sup> Each of you must give as he is able, according to the blessing the LORD your God has given you.

<sup>18</sup> Appoint judges and officers in all your towns, the LORD your God is giving you, according to your tribes; and they must judge the people fairly.

<sup>19</sup> You must not pervert justice. You must not show favoritism or take a bribe, for a bribe blinds the eyes of the wise, and corrupts the words of the righteous.

<sup>20</sup> Pursue only what is just, so that you may live, and inherit the land the LORD your God is giving you.

<sup>21</sup> Do not plant any kind of tree as an Asherah pole beside the altar of the LORD your God, that you build for yourself.

<sup>22</sup> Do not set up a sacred pillar, for the LORD your God hates them.

Deuteronomy 17

<sup>1</sup> You must not sacrifice to the LORD your God an ox or sheep, that has a defect or anything wrong with it, for that would be detestable to the LORD your God.

<sup>2</sup> If there is found in your midst, within any of your towns the LORD your God is giving you, a man or woman, who does what is evil in the sight of the LORD your God in violation of his covenant,

<sup>3</sup> by serving other gods, and worshipping them or the sun, moon or any of the host of heaven, which I have forbidden,

<sup>4</sup> and it is reported to you and you hear about it, then investigate it thoroughly. If, in fact, it is true, and it is proved that such a detestable thing has been done in Israel,

<sup>5</sup> then bring the man or woman who has done this evil thing, to your town gates and stone that man or woman to death.

<sup>6</sup> It must be by the testimony of two or three witnesses, that the death sentence is to be executed. By the testimony of only one witness a person must not be put to death.

<sup>7</sup> The hands of the witnesses must be the first against him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people. So you must put away the evil from your midst.

<sup>8</sup> If a case arises that is too hard for you to judge, between murder and manslaughter, between two legal claims, or between different types of assault, any case of controversy too difficult to resolve within your towns, then get up and go to the place that the LORD your God will choose,

<sup>9</sup> and come to the Levitical priests, and to the judge who is in office in those days, consult with them and they will render a verdict.

<sup>10</sup> You must do according to the rendering of their decision which they announce to you from the place that the LORD will choose, and you must carefully do everything they instruct you to do.

<sup>11</sup> You must carry out the sentence according to the verdict of the law that they have instructed you, and according to the sentence they have rendered. You are not allowed to deviate from the sentence they have given you to the right or to the left.

<sup>12</sup> Anyone who presumptuously ignores the verdict of the priest who stands ministering before the LORD your God, or to the judge, that person must die. This is how you are to purge the evil from Israel.

<sup>13</sup> Then all the people will hear and fear and not be so presumptuous again.

<sup>14</sup> When you have entered the land the LORD your God is giving you, and have taken possession of it, and live there, then you will say, 'I will set a king over me, like all the nations around me.'

<sup>15</sup> You may certainly set him king over you whom the LORD your God will choose. The king over you must be from among your brothers; you may not appoint a foreigner over you who is not one of your fellow Israelites.

<sup>16</sup> Moreover he must not accumulate horses for himself, or send the people back to Egypt in order to acquire more horses; for the LORD has said to you, 'You must never go back that way again.'

<sup>17</sup> He must not multiply wives for himself, or his heart will be turned away. He must not acquire great amounts of silver and gold for himself.

<sup>18</sup> When he sits on the throne of his kingdom, he must write a copy of this law on a scroll, approved by the Levitical priests.

<sup>19</sup> It must stay by him, and he is to read it all the days of his life, so that he may learn to fear the LORD his God, by carefully obeying all the words of this law and these statutes, and by doing them, <sup>20</sup> that his heart not exalt itself above his brothers or turn aside from the commandment, to the right or to the left, so that he and his descendants may have a long reign over Israel.

Deuteronomy 18

<sup>1</sup> The Levitical priests, indeed, the whole tribe of Levi, will have no allotment or inheritance with the rest of Israel. They will eat the offerings of the LORD made by fire, that is their inheritance.

<sup>2</sup> They will have no inheritance among their brothers. The LORD is their inheritance, just as he told them.

<sup>3</sup> This will be the priests' part from the people who offer a sacrifice, whether it is an ox or sheep, they are to give the priest the shoulder, the two jowls and the stomach.

<sup>4</sup> Give him the firstfruits of your grain, your new wine and your olive oil, and the first of the wool from your sheep.

<sup>5</sup> For the LORD your God has chosen him out of all your tribes, to stand and minister in the name of the LORD, him and his sons, forever.

<sup>6</sup> If a Levite moves from one of your towns from anywhere in Israel where he has been living, and sincerely wants to come to the place the LORD will choose, <sup>7</sup> then he may minister in the name of the LORD his God, like all his fellow Levites do, who stand there before the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> He should have equal portions to eat, besides that which he receives from the sale of his family's possessions.

<sup>9</sup> When you enter the land the LORD your God is giving you, you must not learn to do the detestable practices of those nations.

<sup>10</sup> There must not be found among you anyone who sacrifices his son or daughter in the fire, one who is a fortune-teller, practices witchcraft, interprets omens, or is a sorcerer, <sup>11</sup> one who casts spells, who conjurers up spirits, who practices the occult or who consults the dead.

<sup>12</sup> For whoever does these things is detestable to the LORD. It is because of these abominations that the LORD your God is driving them out before you.

<sup>14</sup> For these nations that you will dispossess listen to those who practice sorcery and fortune-telling. But as for you, the LORD your God has not allowed you to do such things.

<sup>15</sup> The LORD your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from your midst, from your brothers; you need to listen to him.

<sup>16</sup> This is what you requested from the LORD your God at Horeb in the day of the assembly, saying, 'Do not make us hear the voice of the LORD our God again or have us see this great fire anymore, lest we die.'

<sup>17</sup> The LORD said to me, 'They are right in what they have said.'

<sup>18</sup> I will raise up for them a prophet like you from among their countrymen, and I will put my words in his mouth, and he will tell them everything I command him.

<sup>19</sup> Whoever refuses to listen to my words that he will speak in my name, I myself will hold him responsible.

<sup>20</sup> But the prophet who presumes to speak a word in my name, that I have not commanded him to speak, or who will speak in the name of other gods, that same prophet must die.'

<sup>21</sup> If you wonder in your heart, 'How can we tell when a word has not been spoken by the LORD?'

<sup>22</sup> When a prophet speaks in the name of the LORD, and the prophecy does not take place or come true, that is a word that the LORD has not spoken. The prophet has spoken it presumptuously. You need not fear him.

Deuteronomy 19

<sup>1</sup> When the LORD your God has cut off the nations, whose land the LORD your God is giving you, and you have dispossessed them, and settled in their towns and in their houses, <sup>2</sup> set apart three cities for yourselves in the middle of your land the LORD your God is giving you to possess.

<sup>3</sup> Prepare roads to them and divide into three regions the land the LORD your God is causing you to inherit, so that anyone who kills another person may flee there.

<sup>4</sup> This is the law for the one who kills someone, who flees there in order to live, whoever kills his neighbor unintentionally, without hating him beforehand.

<sup>5</sup> For example, suppose a man goes into the forest with his neighbor to cut wood, and his hand swings the ax to chop down a tree, and the ax head slips off the handle, and strikes his neighbor so that he dies; he may flee to one of these cities and live.

<sup>6</sup> Otherwise the avenger of blood may pursue the killer, while he is hot with anger and overtake him because the way was too far, and kill him even though he was not worthy of death, because he had not hated him beforehand.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore I am commanding you, 'You must set apart three cities for yourself.'

<sup>8</sup> If the LORD your God enlarges your territory, as he has sworn to your forefathers, and gives you all the land he promised to give them;

<sup>9</sup> you must keep this entire commandment that I am commanding you today, to love the LORD your God, and walk constantly in his ways, then you should add three cities more besides these three.

<sup>10</sup> This should be done so that innocent blood is not shed in the midst of the land the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance, and then you would be guilty of bloodshed.

<sup>11</sup> But if anyone hates his neighbor and lies in wait for him and attacks him, and murders him, and then flees to one of these cities,

<sup>12</sup> then the elders of victim's town must send and bring the culprit back, and hand him over to the avenger of blood, so that he may die.

<sup>13</sup> Your eye must not pity him, but you must purge innocent blood from Israel, so that it may go well with you.

<sup>14</sup> Do not remove your neighbor's property marker, set up by former generations when you receive your inheritance in the land the LORD your God is giving you to possess.

<sup>15</sup> A single witness is not enough to convict a person of a crime or wrong in any offense he has committed. It will take testimony from two or three witnesses to legally establish a case.

<sup>16</sup> If a malicious witness comes forward against someone to accuse them of wrongdoing,

<sup>17</sup> then both parties of the dispute must stand before the LORD, before the priests and the judges who are in office in those days,

<sup>18</sup> and the judges will make a thorough investigation. If it turns out that the witness is a false witness and has accused his brother falsely, <sup>19</sup> then you must do to the accuser just as he was attempting to do to his brother.

In this way you must purge the evil from your midst.

<sup>20</sup> Then the rest of the people will hear and fear, and will not commit any such evil in your midst.

Deuteronomy 20

<sup>1</sup> When you go to war against your enemies, and see horses and chariots, and an army larger than yours, do not be afraid of them; for the LORD your God, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt, is with you.

<sup>2</sup> When you draw near for battle, the priest will approach and speak to the troops.

<sup>3</sup> He will say to them, 'Listen, Israel, you are drawing near today to do battle against your enemies. Do not lose heart. Do not fear, tremble or be terrified because of them.'

<sup>4</sup> For the LORD your God is going with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to give you the victory.'

<sup>5</sup> Then the officers will speak to the troops, saying, 'Is there anyone who has built a new house and has not dedicated it? He may go home, lest he die in the battle and someone else dedicates it.'

<sup>6</sup> Is there anyone who has planted a vineyard, and has not enjoyed its fruit? He may go home, lest he die in the battle and someone else enjoys its fruit.'

<sup>7</sup> Is there anyone who is engaged to a woman, and has not married her? Let him go home lest he die in the battle and someone else marry her.'

<sup>8</sup> The officers will speak further to the troops, and say, 'Is there anyone who is fearful or fainthearted? Let him go home, lest his comrades heart also melt in fear like his own.'

<sup>9</sup> When the officers have made an end of speaking to the troops, they are to appoint commanders to lead the troops.

<sup>10</sup> When you approach a city to fight against it, offer it terms of peace.

<sup>11</sup> If it accepts your terms for peace and opens its gates to you, then all the people who are found in it will serve you in forced labor.

<sup>12</sup> But if it refuses to make peace with you, but makes war against you, then lay siege to it.

<sup>13</sup> When the LORD your God delivers it into your hand, kill all its males with the sword.

<sup>14</sup> But the women and children, livestock and everything else in the city, all its plunder you may take as spoil for yourself. You may enjoy the spoil of your enemies which the LORD your God has given you.

<sup>15</sup> This is what you will do to all the towns that are far away from you, which do not belong to the towns of these nearby nations.

<sup>16</sup> But in the towns of these peoples that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance, you are not to leave anything alive that breathes.

<sup>17</sup> You shall totally destroy them--the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and the Jebusites just as the LORD your God commanded you, <sup>18</sup> so that they will not teach you to do all their detestable practices they have done in worship of their gods, resulting in your sinning against the LORD your God.

<sup>19</sup> When you besiege a city for a long time, making war in an attempt to capture it, do not destroy its trees by swinging an ax against them; for you may eat from them and you must not cut them down. Are the trees in the field human beings that you should besiege them?

<sup>20</sup> You may destroy and chop down only trees that you know do not produce food. You may use them to build siege works against the town that makes war with you, until it falls.

Deuteronomy 21

<sup>1</sup> If someone is found murdered lying in a field in the land the LORD your God is giving you to possess, and no one knows who killed him, <sup>2</sup> then your elders and judges shall come out and measure the distance to the towns nearest the body.

<sup>3</sup> The elders of the town nearest the body, must take a heifer from the herd, that has never been worked and has never worn a yoke,

<sup>4</sup> and the elders of that town must bring down the heifer to a valley with running water, that is neither plowed or planted. There in the valley they must break the heifer's neck.

<sup>5</sup> Then the priests, the sons of Levi, must step forward, for the LORD your God has chosen them to minister to him, and to pronounce blessings in the name of the LORD; and by to their decision every legal dispute and assault will be settled.

<sup>6</sup> Then all the elders of that town nearest the body, must wash their hands over the heifer whose neck was broken in the valley, <sup>7</sup> and they must declare, 'Our hands have not shed this person's blood, nor did our eyes see it happen.

<sup>8</sup> Forgive, O LORD, your people Israel, whom you have redeemed. Do not let the guilt of innocent blood remain in the midst of your people Israel.' Then they will be absolved of the guilt of this person's blood.

<sup>9</sup> In this way you will purge innocent blood from your midst, when you do what is right in the eyes of the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> When you go out to battle against your enemies, and the LORD your God hands them over to you and you take them captive,

<sup>11</sup> if you see among the captives a beautiful woman, and you are attracted to her and want to take her to be your wife,

<sup>12</sup> then you shall bring her home to your house, and she must shave her head, trim her nails,

<sup>13</sup> and discard the clothes she was wearing when captured. After she has remained in your house, and grieved for her father and her mother a full month, you may go in to her, and be her husband, and she will be your wife.

<sup>14</sup> If you are not pleased with her, then you must let her go free. You may not sell her for money, you may not treat her as a slave, since you have humiliated her.

<sup>15</sup> If a man has two wives, the one loved and the other disliked, and both the one loved and the one disliked have borne him sons, and if the firstborn son is from the one who is disliked, <sup>16</sup> then in the day he divides his inheritance, he may not make the son of the loved wife the firstborn before the son of the disliked wife, who is the actual firstborn.

<sup>17</sup> But he must acknowledge the firstborn, the son of the disliked wife, by giving him a double portion of all that he has; for that son is the beginning of his strength. The right of the firstborn is his.

<sup>18</sup> If someone has a stubborn and rebellious son, who will not obey the voice of his father or his mother, and though they discipline him, still will not listen to them,

<sup>19</sup> then his father and his mother must grab hold of him and bring him to the elders at the gate of his town.

<sup>20</sup> They must declare to the elders of his town, 'This son of ours is stubborn and rebellious, he will not obey our voice. He is a glutton and a drunkard.'

<sup>21</sup> Then all the men of his town are to stone him to death. In this way you shall purge evil from your midst, and all Israel will hear and fear.

<sup>22</sup> If someone has committed a crime punishable by death and he is put to death, and you hang him on a tree, <sup>23</sup> his body must not remain all night on the tree, but be certain to bury him that same day, for anyone hanged on a tree is cursed by God. You must not defile your land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance.

Deuteronomy 22

<sup>1</sup> If you see your neighbor's ox or sheep going astray, do not ignore it, but bring it back to its owner.

<sup>2</sup> If the owner does not live near you, or if you do not know who the owner is, then you should bring it to your home, and it will stay with you until the owner comes searching for it, then you must return it to him.

<sup>3</sup> Do the same for his donkey, his clothes or anything else your neighbor has lost and you have found. Do not refuse to help.

<sup>4</sup> If you see your neighbor's donkey or ox fallen along the way, do not ignore it but help it get it back on its feet.

<sup>5</sup> A woman must not wear men's clothing, nor a man wear woman's clothing, for whoever does these things is detestable to the LORD your God.

<sup>6</sup> If you come across a bird's nest along the road, whether in a tree or on the ground, with young ones or eggs, and the mother sitting on the young or on the eggs, do not take the mother with the young.

<sup>7</sup> Let the mother go, but you may take the young for yourself, so that it may go well with you, and you may live long.

<sup>8</sup> When you build a new house, make a protective wall around your roof, so that your house will not be responsible for bloodshed if someone falls off the roof.

<sup>9</sup> Do not plant your vineyard with two kinds of seed, lest the whole yield will have to be forfeited, both the seed that you have planted as well as the produce of the vineyard.

<sup>15</sup> Then the father and mother of the young woman must supply the proof of her virginity to the elders of the town at the gate.

<sup>16</sup> Then the young woman's father will say to the elders, 'I gave my daughter in marriage to this man but he dislikes her.

<sup>17</sup> Now, he has accused her of misconduct, saying, "I discovered your daughter was not a virgin," but here is the evidence of my daughter's virginity.' Then they must spread out the cloth before the town elders.

<sup>18</sup> Then the town elders must take and punish him.

<sup>19</sup> They shall fine him a hundred shekels of silver and give them to the young woman's father, because he has given a virgin in Israel a bad name. She will remain his wife and he must never divorce her as long as he lives.

<sup>20</sup> But if the accusation is true, and there is no proof of her virginity, <sup>21</sup> then they shall bring out the young woman to the door of her father's house, and the men of her town will stone her to death because she has done a disgraceful thing in Israel by prostituting herself in her father's house. In this manner you will purge evil from your midst.

<sup>24</sup> then you shall bring them both out to the gate of that town and you must stone them to death; the young woman, because she did not cry out, being in the town, and the man, because he has violated his neighbor's wife. In this manner you will purge evil from your midst.

<sup>25</sup> But if the man meets a young woman who is engaged in an open field, and the man forces her and rapes her; then only the man who violated her shall die.

<sup>26</sup> Do nothing to the young woman. She has not committed any sin worthy of death. This case is like when a man attacks his neighbor and murders him.

<sup>27</sup> Since he found her in an open field, the engaged woman cried out, but there was no one to rescue her.

<sup>28</sup> If a man finds a virgin, that is not engaged, and seizes her and rapes her and they are discovered, <sup>29</sup> then the man who violated her must give the young woman's father fifty shekels of silver and she will be his wife, because he has violated her he may never divorce her as long as he lives.

<sup>30</sup> A man must not marry his father's wife and so dishonor his father.

Deuteronomy 23

<sup>3</sup> No Ammonite or Moabite may enter the assembly of the LORD; even to the tenth generation none of his descendants may enter into the assembly of LORD, <sup>4</sup> because they did not meet you with food and water on the way when you came out of Egypt, and because they hired Balaam the son of Beor, from Pethor of Mesopotamia, to curse you.

<sup>5</sup> But the LORD your God refused to listen to Balaam, and the LORD your God turned the curse into a blessing for you, because the LORD your God loved you.

<sup>8</sup> The children of the third generation that are born to them may enter into the assembly of the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> If anyone among you is unclean because of a nocturnal emission, then he must go outside the camp, he must not just come back into the camp.

<sup>11</sup> When evening comes, he must bathe himself in water and then, at sunset he may come back into the camp.

<sup>12</sup> You shall designate a place outside the camp where you can go to relieve yourself.

<sup>13</sup> You should have a spade among your utensils and when you relieve yourself outside the camp you must dig a hole with it and cover up your excrement.

<sup>14</sup> For the LORD your God walks in the midst of your camp, to deliver you, and to defeat you enemies before you. Therefore your camp is holy, so he should not see anything indecent among you, and turn away from you.

<sup>15</sup> Do not hand over an escaped slave to his master who has found refuge with you.

<sup>16</sup> Let him live with you, in the your midst in any place he chooses, in any of your towns he likes. Do not oppress him.

<sup>17</sup> None of the daughters of Israel is allowed to be a temple prostitute, neither should any men of the sons of Israel be a temple prostitute.

<sup>18</sup> You may not bring the fee of a prostitute, or the wage of a male prostitute into the house of the LORD your God for the completion of a vow, for both of these are detestable to the LORD your God.

<sup>19</sup> You must not charge interest on a loan to a fellow Israelite, whether a loan of money, food, or anything that may be lent with interest.

<sup>20</sup> You may lend with interest to a foreigner, but may not charge interest to your fellow Israelite, so that the LORD your God may bless you in all your endeavors in the land you are about to enter to possess.

<sup>21</sup> When you vow a vow to the LORD your God, you must not delay in fulfilling it, for the LORD your God will certainly demand it from you and you will be guilty of sin.

<sup>22</sup> But if you refrain from taking a vow, you will not be guilty.

<sup>23</sup> Whatever your lips have promised you must carefully do, just as you have freely vowed to the LORD your God with your own mouth.

<sup>24</sup> When you enter your neighbor's vineyard, you may eat your fill of grapes as much as you want; but you must not put any in your basket.

<sup>25</sup> When you enter your neighbor's standing grain, you may pluck the ears of grain with your hand, but you must not swing a sickle on your neighbor's standing grain.

Deuteronomy 24

<sup>1</sup> If a man marries a woman, and she does not please him because he has found something offensive in her, then he may write her a certificate of divorce, and put it in her hand and evict her from his house.

<sup>3</sup> If her second husband dislikes her, and writes her a certificate of divorce, and puts it in her hand and evicts her from his house, or if the second husband who married her dies,

<sup>4</sup> her first husband, who divorced her, may not take her again to marry her, since she is defiled, for that is detestable to the LORD. You should not bring guilt on the land the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance.

<sup>5</sup> A man recently married should not be drafted into the army, or charged with any official duty. He shall be free to stay at home for one year, and be happy with his wife whom he has married.

<sup>6</sup> No one should take the lower or the upper millstone as security for a loan; for that is taking a person's livelihood as security.

<sup>7</sup> If anyone is caught kidnapping his fellow Israelite, and he treats him as a slave, or sells him, then the kidnapper must die. So you are to purge the evil from your midst.

<sup>8</sup> Be careful of defiling skin disease, and follow closely all the Levitical priests instruct you, just as I commanded them, so you should do.

<sup>9</sup> Remember what the LORD your God did to Miriam, on the way as you came out of Egypt.

<sup>10</sup> When you lend your neighbor any kind of loan, do not go into his house to get what he is putting up as security.

<sup>11</sup> Stand outside, and the man to whom the loan was made will bring the pledge out to you.

<sup>12</sup> If he is a poor person, do not sleep in his coat which he pledged as security.

<sup>13</sup> Return the coat he pledged to him before the sun sets, so that he may sleep in his cloak and bless you. It shall be your righteous deed before the LORD your God.

<sup>14</sup> Do not oppress a hired servant that is poor and needy, whether he is a fellow Israelite or a foreigner living in your land within your gates.

<sup>15</sup> Pay him his wages each day before sunset; for he is poor, and his life depends on it. Otherwise he may cry out to the LORD against you, and you will be guilty of sin.

<sup>17</sup> Do not pervert justice due to the foreigner, the orphan, or take a widow's garment as security for a loan.

<sup>18</sup> Remember that you were a slave in Egypt, and the LORD your God redeemed you from there. That is why I am commanding you to do this.

<sup>19</sup> When you harvest your field and forget some grain in the field, do not go back to get it. It shall be left for the foreigner, the orphan, and the widow. Then the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hands.

<sup>22</sup> Remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt. That is why I am commanding you to do this.

Deuteronomy 25

<sup>1</sup> If there is a dispute between two people and they bring it to court, the judges should decide the case. They are to justify the righteous and condemn the wicked.

<sup>2</sup> If the guilty person deserves to be beaten, the judge shall have him lie down and be beaten in his presence with the number of lashes his wickedness deserves.

<sup>3</sup> The judge may sentence him to forty lashes, but no more. If more lashes than these are given, then your brother would be degraded in your sight.

<sup>5</sup> If brothers live together, and one of them dies, and has no son, the dead man's wife must not marry someone outside the family. Her husband's brother shall go in to her and marry her, and perform the duty of a brother-in-law to her.

<sup>6</sup> The first son she bears will carry on the name of his deceased brother, so that his name is not blotted out from Israel.

<sup>7</sup> If the man does not want to take his deceased brother's wife, then his brother's wife shall go to the town gate to the elders, and say, 'My husband's brother refuses to preserve his brother's name in Israel. He will not perform the duty of a brother-in-law to me.'

<sup>8</sup> Then the elders of his town will summon him and speak to him. If he still persists and says, 'I do not want to marry her,'

<sup>9</sup> then his brother's widow shall go up to him in the presence of the elders, and remove his shoe from off his foot and spit in his face. Then she will answer and say, 'So shall it be done to the man who does not build up his brother's family line.'

<sup>10</sup> So his family name will be called in Israel, 'The family of him who has his shoe pulled off.'

<sup>11</sup> If two men get into a fight, and the wife of the one gets involved to rescue her husband from the hand of his attacker, and she reaches out and grabs him by the testicles,

<sup>13</sup> Do not have in your merchant bag different weights, one heavy and another light.

<sup>15</sup> You must have an accurate and honest weight and an accurate and honest measure, so that your days may be long in the land the LORD your God is giving you.

<sup>16</sup> For anyone who does such things, all who act dishonestly, are detestable to the LORD your God.

<sup>17</sup> Remember what Amalek did to you on the way as you came out of Egypt, <sup>18</sup> how they attacked you on the way when you were exhausted and weary, and struck down your stragglers who lagged behind. He did not fear God.

<sup>19</sup> Therefore it shall be, when the LORD your God has given you rest from all your enemies around you in the land the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance to possess, that you must blot out the memory of Amalek from under heaven. Do not forget it!

Deuteronomy 26

<sup>1</sup> When you enter the land the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance and have taken possession of it and live there,

<sup>2</sup> you shall take some of the first of all the produce of the ground, which you harvest from your land the LORD your God is giving you, put it in a basket and go to the place the LORD your God will choose as a dwelling for his name.

<sup>3</sup> You shall come to the priest in office at that time, and say to him, 'I declare this day to the LORD your God, that I have come into the land the LORD promised our forefathers to give us.'

<sup>4</sup> Then the priest will take the basket out of your hand and set it down before the altar of the LORD your God.

<sup>5</sup> Then you must affirm before the LORD your God, 'My father was a wandering Aramean, and he went down into Egypt and lived there, his family was few in number, but became a great, mighty and numerous nation.

<sup>6</sup> But the Egyptians mistreated and oppressed us and imposed hard labor on us.

<sup>7</sup> So we cried to the LORD, the God of our forefathers, and the LORD heard our voice, and saw our affliction, toil and oppression.

<sup>8</sup> Then the LORD brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, with terrifying deeds and with signs and wonders.

<sup>9</sup> He brought us to this place and gave us this land, a land flowing with milk and honey.

<sup>10</sup> So now, I have brought the first produce of the ground, which you, O LORD, have given me.' Then you shall set it down before the LORD your God and worship before him.

<sup>11</sup> You will rejoice in all the good the LORD your God has given you and your house. Rejoice also with the Levite and the foreigner who lives in your midst.

<sup>12</sup> When you have finished paying all the tithe of your crops in the third year, which is the special year of tithing, then you shall give it to the Levite, the foreigner, the orphan and the widow, so that they may eat within your town and be satisfied.

<sup>13</sup> Then you shall declare in the presence of the LORD your God, 'I have taken the sacred offering out of my house, and have given it to the Levite, the foreigner, the orphan and the widow, according to every commandment you have commanded me. I have not violated or forgotten any of your commandments.

<sup>14</sup> I have not eaten any of it while I was mourning, or removed any of it while I was unclean, or offered any of it to the dead. I have obeyed the voice of the LORD my God. I have done everything you have commanded me.

<sup>15</sup> Look down from your holy dwelling place in heaven, and bless your people Israel and the ground you have given us, as you promised to our forefathers, a land flowing with milk and honey.'

<sup>16</sup> This day the LORD your God commands you to do these statutes and regulations, you must observe and do them with all your heart and with all your soul.

<sup>17</sup> You have declared this day that the LORD is your God, and that you will walk in his ways, keep his statutes, commandments and his ordinances and obey his voice.

<sup>18</sup> The LORD has declared today that you are his own treasured people, just as he has promised you, so that you should keep all his commandments.

<sup>19</sup> Then he will lift you high above all the other nations he has made. Then you will receive praise, fame and honor. You will be a holy people to the LORD your God, just as he has promised."

Deuteronomy 27

<sup>1</sup> Then Moses and the elders of Israel charged the people, saying, "Keep all the commandments I am giving you today.

<sup>2</sup> When you cross over the Jordan River to the land the LORD your God is giving you, set up large stones and coat them with plaster.

<sup>3</sup> Write on them all the words of this law, once you have crossed over; so that you may enter the land the LORD your God is giving you, a land flowing with milk and honey, just as the LORD, the God of your forefathers has promised you.

<sup>4</sup> When you have crossed over the Jordan River, set up these stones about which I am commanding you today on Mount Ebal, and coat them with plaster.

<sup>5</sup> Build an altar there to the LORD your God, an altar of rough stones. Do not use an iron tool to shape them.

<sup>6</sup> Build the altar of the LORD your God of uncut stones, and offer burnt offerings on it to the LORD your God.

<sup>7</sup> Sacrifice peace offerings on it and eat them there, rejoicing before the LORD your God.

<sup>8</sup> Write very clearly on the stones all the words of this law."

<sup>9</sup> Then Moses and the Levitical priests spoke to all Israel, saying, "Be quiet and listen, O Israel, today you have become the people of the LORD your God.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore obey the voice of the LORD your God, and do his commandments and his statutes I am commanding you today."

<sup>11</sup> Then Moses charged the people the same day, saying,

<sup>14</sup> And the Levites shall declare to all the people of Israel with a loud voice,

<sup>15</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who makes a carved or a metal image, a detestable thing to the LORD, the work of a craftsman's hands, and sets it up in secret.' Then all the people shall respond and say, 'Amen.'

<sup>16</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who dishonors his father or his mother.' Then all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

<sup>17</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who removes his neighbor's boundary marker.' Then all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

<sup>18</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who misleads the blind on the road.' Then all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

<sup>19</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who perverts justice due to the foreigner, orphan or widow.' Then all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

<sup>21</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who has sexual relations with any type of beast.' Then all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

<sup>23</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who has sexual relations with his mother-in-law.' Then all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

<sup>24</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who kills his neighbor in secret.' Then all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

<sup>25</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who takes a bribe to kill an innocent person.' Then all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

<sup>26</sup> 'Cursed is anyone who refuses to do the words of this law.' Then all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

Deuteronomy 28

<sup>1</sup> If you completely obey the voice of the LORD your God and are careful to observe all his commandments I am giving you today, then the LORD your God will set you high above all the nations of the earth.

<sup>2</sup> All these blessings will come upon you and overtake you, if you obey the voice of the LORD your God.

<sup>3</sup> You will be blessed in the city and blessed in the field.

<sup>4</sup> Your children will be blessed, along with the produce of your ground, the offspring of your beasts, the calves of your cattle and the lambs of your flock.

<sup>5</sup> Blessed will be your basket and your kneading bowl.

<sup>6</sup> You will be blessed when you come in and blessed when you go out.

<sup>7</sup> The LORD will cause your enemies who rise up against you to be defeated before you. They will come out against you from one direction, and will flee from you in seven directions.

<sup>8</sup> The LORD will order a blessing on your barns and all your hand endeavors to do. He will bless you in the land the LORD your God is giving you.

<sup>9</sup> The LORD will establish you as his holy people, just as he has promised you, if you keep the commandments of the LORD your God and walk in his ways.

<sup>10</sup> All the peoples of the earth will see that you are called by the name of the LORD; and they will fear you.

<sup>11</sup> The LORD will give you abundant prosperity, in the fruit of your womb, in the fruit of your livestock and in the fruit of your ground, in the land the LORD promised your forefathers to give you.

<sup>12</sup> The LORD will open to you his good treasure house, the heavens, to give the rain for your land in its season, and to bless all the work of your hands. You will lend to many nations, but you will not have to borrow.

<sup>13</sup> The LORD will make you the head and not the tail, and you will always be on top and never on the bottom, if you obey the commandments of the LORD your God, that I am giving you today, to observe and to do them.

<sup>14</sup> Do not turn away from any of the words that I am commanding you today, to the right or to the left, following other gods to serve them.

<sup>15</sup> If you refuse to obey the voice of the LORD your God by carefully keeping all his commandments and his statutes that I am commanding you today, then all these curses will come on you and overtake you.

<sup>16</sup> Cursed you will be in the town and cursed you will be in the field.

<sup>18</sup> Cursed will be the fruit of your womb, the fruit of your ground, the calves of your cattle and the lambs of your flock.

<sup>19</sup> Cursed you will be when you come in, and cursed you will be when you go out.

<sup>20</sup> The LORD will send on you a curse, confusion and rebuke, in all that your hand endeavors to do until you are destroyed and perish quickly because of the evil of your deeds by which you have forsaken me.

<sup>21</sup> The LORD will make deadly diseases cling to you, until he has consumed you from off the land you are entering to possess.

<sup>22</sup> The LORD will afflict you with a wasting disease, fever and inflammation, with scorching heat and with the sword, blight and mildew. These will pursue you until you perish.

<sup>23</sup> The sky over your head will be bronze and the earth under you will be iron.

<sup>24</sup> The LORD will make the rain of your land powder, and dust will pour down on you from the sky until you are destroyed.

<sup>25</sup> The LORD will cause you to be defeated before your enemies. You will go out from one direction against them, and will flee from them in seven. You will be an object of horror to all the kingdoms of the earth.

<sup>26</sup> Your dead body will be food for all birds of the air and the beasts of the earth and there will be no one to scare them away.

<sup>27</sup> The LORD will afflict you with the boils of Egypt, and with tumors, scabs and itch, from which you cannot be cured.

<sup>28</sup> The LORD will afflict you with madness, blindness and with confusion of heart, <sup>29</sup> and you will grope around at noonday as the blind grope in darkness. You will not prosper in your endeavors and you will be oppressed and robbed continually, but there will be no one to rescue you.

<sup>30</sup> You will be engaged to a woman, but another man will sleep with her, you will build a house, but you will not live in it. You will plant a vineyard, but you will not even begin to enjoy its fruit.

<sup>31</sup> Your ox will be butchered before your eyes, but you will not eat any of it. Your donkey will be seized right in front of you, but will never be returned to you. Your sheep will be given to your enemies, and you will have none to rescue you.

<sup>32</sup> Your sons and daughters will be given to another people while you watch, and your eyes will fail searching for them all day long and you will be powerless to do anything about it.

<sup>33</sup> The produce of your land and all your labors, will be eaten by a nation you do not even know; and you will be oppressed and crushed continually.

<sup>34</sup> You will be driven insane by what your eyes will see.

<sup>35</sup> The LORD will afflict your knees and legs with painful boils that are incurable, from the sole of your foot to the top of your head.

<sup>36</sup> The LORD will deport you and your king whom you set over you to a nation that neither you nor your fathers have known. There you will worship other gods made of wood and stone.

<sup>37</sup> You will become an object of horror, a proverb and a byword among all the peoples where the LORD will exile you.

<sup>38</sup> You will carry much seed into the field, but will harvest little; for the locust will consume it.

<sup>39</sup> You will plant vineyards and care for them, but you will not drink the wine or gather the grapes; for the worm will eat them.

<sup>40</sup> You will have olive trees throughout all your territory, but you will not anoint yourself with the oil; for your olives will drop before being ripe.

<sup>41</sup> You will have sons and daughters, but they will not stay yours; for they will go off into captivity.

<sup>42</sup> All your trees and the fruit of your ground, the locust will take over.

<sup>43</sup> The foreigner who is in your midst will rise above you higher and higher; but you will descend lower and lower.

<sup>44</sup> They will lend to you, but you will not lend to them. They will be the head, and you will be the tail.

<sup>45</sup> Then all these curses will come on, pursue and overtake you, till you are destroyed, because you did not obey the voice of the LORD your God, to keep his commandments and his statutes that he has given you.

<sup>46</sup> These curses will be a sign and a wonder against you and your descendants forever, <sup>47</sup> because you did not serve the LORD your God joyfully and with glad of hearts with the abundance of all things you received.

<sup>48</sup> Therefore you will serve your enemies that the LORD will send against you, in hunger, thirst, nakedness and need of everything. He will put a yoke of iron on your neck until he has destroyed you.

<sup>50</sup> a fierce-faced nation that shows no respect to the old or favor to the young.

<sup>51</sup> They will consume the offspring of your cattle and the produce of your ground until you are destroyed. They will not leave you any grain, new wine, or olive oil, calves of your cattle or lambs of your flock, until they have caused you to perish.

<sup>52</sup> They will besiege you in all your towns, until the high and fortified walls you trusted in are knocked down throughout all your land. They will besiege you in all your town gates throughout all your land the LORD your God is giving you.

<sup>53</sup> You will eat the fruit of your own womb, the flesh of your sons and daughters, whom the LORD your God has given you during the siege and the terrible distress of your enemies' attack.

<sup>54</sup> The man among you who is gentle and sensitive will turn against his own brother and the wife he loves and children who survive.

<sup>55</sup> He will not give to any of them the flesh of his children whom he is eating, because there is nothing left for him to eat, because of the distress of the siege by which your enemy will confine you in all your towns.

<sup>56</sup> The most tender and delicate woman among you, who would never think of setting the sole of her foot on the ground because of her delicateness and tenderness, her eye will begrudge food to her beloved husband, and to her son and daughter,

<sup>57</sup> and she will secretly eat the afterbirth that comes out from between her thighs, and she shall eat her own children whom she bore because there is nothing else to eat, because of the siege by which your enemy will confine you in your towns.

<sup>58</sup> If you do not obey all the words of this law that are written in this scroll, and you do not fear this glorious and fearful name, the LORD your God, <sup>59</sup> then the LORD will bring on you and your offspring severe and long lasting afflictions, and grievous long lasting sicknesses.

<sup>60</sup> He will bring back on you all the diseases of Egypt that you were so afraid of, and they will cling to you.

<sup>61</sup> The LORD will also bring on you every sickness and plague not written in the scroll of this law, until you are destroyed.

<sup>62</sup> Although you were as numerous as the stars of heaven, you will be left few in number, because you did not obey the voice of the LORD your God.

<sup>63</sup> Just as the LORD rejoiced over you to do good for you, and to multiply you, so the LORD will rejoice in bringing ruin on you and destroying you. You will be uprooted from the land you are entering to possess.

<sup>64</sup> Then the LORD will scatter you among all peoples, from the one end of the earth to the other. There you will serve other gods of wood and stone that neither you or your fathers have known.

<sup>65</sup> Among those nations you will find no ease or resting place for the sole of your foot. There the LORD will give you a trembling heart, failing eyes and a despairing soul.

<sup>66</sup> Your life will hang in doubt before you; and you will be afraid night and day with no assurance that your life will survive.

<sup>67</sup> In the morning you will say, 'If only it were evening!' and in the evening you will say, 'If only it were morning!' because of the fear of your heart and for the sights your eyes will see.

<sup>68</sup> Then the LORD will bring you back to Egypt in ships, by a way I told you, that you would never see again. There you will try to sell yourselves to your enemies as male and female slaves, but no one will buy you.

Deuteronomy 29

<sup>1</sup> These are the words of the covenant the LORD commanded Moses to make with the Israelites in the land of Moab, in addition to the covenant he made with them at Horeb.

<sup>2</sup> Moses summoned all Israel and said to them, "You have seen all the LORD did before your eyes in the land of Egypt to Pharaoh and to all his servants and to all his land.

<sup>4</sup> But to this day the LORD has not given you a heart to understand, eyes to see or ears to hear.

<sup>5</sup> I have led you through the wilderness for forty years. Your clothes did not wear out nor did the sandals on your feet.

<sup>6</sup> You have not eaten bread, neither have you drunk wine or strong drink so that you might know that I am the LORD your God.

<sup>7</sup> When you came to this place, Sihon the king of Heshbon and Og the king of Bashan, came out to fight against us, but we defeated them.

<sup>8</sup> We took their land and gave it for an inheritance to the Reubenites, Gadites and half-tribe of the Manasseh.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore keep the words of this covenant and do them, so that you may prosper in all you do.

<sup>10</sup> You are standing this day, all of you, before the LORD your God--the leaders of your tribes, your elders and your officers along with all the men of Israel,

<sup>11</sup> your children, your wives, and the foreigner who is in the midst of your camps, from the one who chops your wood to one who draws your water;

<sup>12</sup> so that thou may enter into the covenant the LORD your God promised by an oath, which the LORD your God is making with you today;

<sup>13</sup> in order that he may establish you today as his people, and that he may be your God, as he promised you and swore to your forefathers, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

<sup>14</sup> It is not with you alone I am making this covenant by oath, <sup>15</sup> whoever is standing here with us today before the LORD our God, but also with those who are not here with us today.

<sup>16</sup> You know how we lived in the land of Egypt and how we came through the midst of the nations through which you traveled.

<sup>17</sup> You have seen their detestable things and their idols of wood, stone, silver and gold, that were among them.

<sup>18</sup> Beware that there is not among you man, woman, clan or tribe, whose heart is turning away today from the LORD your God, to serve the gods of those nations. Beware that there is not among you a root producing poison and bitter fruit.

<sup>19</sup> When he hears the warning of this oath, that he will bless himself, thinking in his heart, 'I will be safe even though I walk in the stubbornness of my heart.' This will destroy both the watered and parched land alike.

<sup>20</sup> The LORD will not pardon him, but the anger of the LORD and his jealousy will burn against that person. All the curses written in this scroll will fall upon him, and the LORD will blot out his name from under heaven.

<sup>21</sup> Then the LORD will single him out for disaster out of all the tribes of Israel, according to all the curses of the covenant written in this scroll of the law.

<sup>22</sup> The next generation, your children who will rise up after you, and the foreigner who will come from a distant land, will ask when they see the plagues of that land and the sicknesses by which the LORD has afflicted it,

<sup>23</sup> and the whole land burned with sulfur and salt, that cannot be planted, sprout or even produce any grass, like the destruction of Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah and Zeboiim, that the LORD overthrew in his anger and wrath.

<sup>24</sup> All the nations will ask, "Why has the LORD done this to this land? What caused the outburst of this great anger?"

<sup>25</sup> Then people will answer, "Because they abandoned the covenant of the LORD, the God of their forefathers, which he made with them when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

<sup>26</sup> They went and served other gods, and worshipped them, gods that they did not know that he had not allowed them to worship.

<sup>27</sup> Therefore the anger of the LORD was sparked against this land, to bring on it all the curses that are written in this scroll.

<sup>28</sup> The LORD uprooted them from their land in anger, wrath and great indignation. He exiled them into another land, as it is this day."

<sup>29</sup> The secret things belong to the LORD our God; but the things that are revealed belong to us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

Deuteronomy 30

<sup>1</sup> When you have experienced all these things, the blessings and the curses I have set before you, and you recall them when you are living among all the nations where the LORD your God has exiled you,

<sup>2</sup> if you and your children return to the LORD your God, and obey his voice according to all that I am commanding you today, with all your heart and soul,

<sup>3</sup> then the LORD your God will reverse your captivity and have compassion on you, and will return and gather you from all the peoples where the LORD your God has scattered you.

<sup>4</sup> Even if you are exiled to the most distant lands under heaven, from there the LORD your God will gather you, and from there he will bring you back.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD your God will bring you back into the land your forefathers possessed and you will possess it, and he will make you more prosperous and numerous than your forefathers.

<sup>6</sup> The LORD your God will circumcise your heart, and the heart of your descendants, to love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, so that you may live.

<sup>7</sup> The LORD your God will put all these curses on your enemies and on those who hate you and persecute you.

<sup>8</sup> Then you will return again and obey the voice of the LORD, and do all his commandments I am giving you today.

<sup>9</sup> The LORD your God will make all the undertakings of your hand prosperous, in the fruit of your womb, in the fruit of your cattle and in the fruit of your soil. For the LORD will once again delight in prospering you, as he delighted in your forefathers, <sup>10</sup> if only you obey the voice of the LORD your God and keep his commandments and statutes that are written in this scroll of the law, if you turn to the LORD your God with all your heart and all your soul.

<sup>11</sup> For this commandment I am giving you today, it is not too difficult for you nor is it out of reach.

<sup>12</sup> It is not up in heaven, so that you need to ask, 'Who will go up to heaven for us and bring it back to us so we can hear and do it?'

<sup>13</sup> Nor is it beyond the sea, so that you need to ask, 'Who will cross the sea for us and bring it back to us so we can hear and do it?'

<sup>14</sup> No, the word is very near you. It is in your mouth and in your heart so that you can do it.

<sup>15</sup> See, I have set before you today life and prosperity, and death and disaster.

<sup>16</sup> What I am commanding you today is to love the LORD your God, to walk in his ways, and to obey his commandments, statutes and regulations, so that you may live and multiply, and so that the LORD your God may bless you in the land you are entering to possess.

<sup>17</sup> But if your heart turns away and you refuse to listen, but are drawn away to worship other gods and serve them, <sup>18</sup> I declare to you today, that you will surely perish. You will not prolong your life in the land you are crossing the Jordan River to enter and possess.

<sup>19</sup> I call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that I have set before you life and death, the blessing and the curse. Therefore choose life, so that you and your descendants may live

<sup>20</sup> loving the LORD your God, obeying his voice and holding tightly to him; for he is your life and length of days, so that you may dwell in the land the LORD promised to give your forefathers, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

<sup>2</sup> He said to them, "I am a hundred and twenty years old today and I can no longer go out and come in. The LORD has told me, 'You shall not cross over this Jordan River.'

<sup>3</sup> The LORD your God, he will cross over before you. He will destroy these nations before you, and you will dispossess them. Joshua will cross over before you, just as the LORD has spoken.

<sup>4</sup> The LORD will do to them as he did to Sihon and Og, the kings of the Amorites, and to their land when he destroyed them.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD will deliver them over to you, and you will do to them according to the whole commandment I am giving to you.

<sup>6</sup> Be strong and courageous. Do not fear or be afraid of them, for it is the LORD your God who is going with you. He will not fail or abandon you."

<sup>7</sup> Then Moses summoned Joshua, and said to him in the sight of all Israel, "Be strong and courageous, for you will go with this people into the land the LORD promised to their forefathers to give them. You will enable them to inherit it.

<sup>8</sup> The LORD himself is going before you; he will be with you, he will not fail or abandon you. Do not fear or be discouraged."

<sup>9</sup> Then Moses wrote this law and delivered it to the Levitical priests who carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and to all the elders of Israel.

<sup>10</sup> Moses commanded them, saying, "At the end of every seven years, at the appointed time of the year of release, at the Feast of Tabernacles, <sup>11</sup> when all Israel comes to appear before the LORD your God in the place he will choose, you shall read this law before all Israel in their hearing.

<sup>12</sup> Assemble the people--men, women and children, along with the foreigners who live in your towns--so that they may hear and learn to fear the LORD your God, and carefully do all the words of this law.

<sup>13</sup> Then their children, who have not known, may hear, and learn to fear the LORD your God, as long as you live in the land you are crossing over the Jordan River to possess."

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "The days are approaching when you must die. Call Joshua and present yourselves at the Tent of Meeting, so that I may commission him." So Moses and Joshua went and presented themselves at the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>15</sup> The LORD appeared at the Tent in a pillar of cloud; and the pillar of cloud stood over the entrance of the Tent.

<sup>16</sup> Then the LORD said to Moses, "You are about to sleep with your forefathers; then this people will begin to prostitute themselves with foreign gods of the land where they are going. They will forsake me and break my covenant that I have made with them.

<sup>17</sup> Then my anger will be sparked against them in that day, and I will forsake them, and I will hide my face from them, and they will be devoured. Many disasters and troubles will overcome them, so that they will say in that day, 'Are not these troubles happening to us because our God is not among us?'

<sup>18</sup> I will surely hide my face in that day for all the wickedness they have done by turning to other gods.

<sup>19</sup> Now therefore write this song and teach it to the Israelites. Put it in their mouths that this song may be a witness for me against the Israelites.

<sup>20</sup> For after I have brought them into the land flowing with milk and honey I promised to their forefathers, and they have eaten their fill and grown fat, then they will turn to other gods and serve them. They will despise me and break my covenant.

<sup>21</sup> When many disasters and troubles overcome them, this song will testify against them as a witness; because it must never be forgotten from the mouths of their descendants. I know their inclinations they have in mind already today, before I have even brought them into the land I promised them."

<sup>22</sup> So Moses wrote this song the same day, and taught it to the Israelites.

<sup>23</sup> Then the LORD commissioned Joshua the son of Nun and said, "Be strong and courageous, for you will bring the Israelites into the land I promised them, and I will be with you."

<sup>24</sup> When Moses finished writing the words of this law in a scroll to the end,

<sup>26</sup> "Take this scroll of the law and put it beside the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, that it may be there as a witness against you.

<sup>27</sup> For I know how rebellious and stubborn you are. While I am still alive and right here with you, you have been rebellious against the LORD; so how much more after my death?

<sup>28</sup> Assemble to me all the elders and officers of your tribes, that I may speak these words in their ears, and call heaven and earth to witness against them.

<sup>29</sup> For I realize that after my death you will utterly corrupt yourselves and turn aside from the way I have commanded you. Disaster will happen to you in the latter days; because you will do what is evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger by what your hands have made."

<sup>30</sup> So Moses recited in the ears of all the assembly of Israel the words of this song, until it was finished.

Deuteronomy 32

- <sup>1</sup> Listen, O heavens, and I will speak, hear, O earth, the words of my mouth.
- <sup>2</sup> Let my teaching fall like the rain, let my speech descend like the dew, like a gentle rain on tender grass, and like the showers on young plants.
- <sup>3</sup> For I will proclaim the name of the LORD, ascribe greatness to our God.
- <sup>4</sup> He is the Rock, his work is perfect;
all his ways are just.
A faithful God who does nothing wrong,
Just and upright is he.
- <sup>5</sup> They have dealt corruptly with him,
they are no longer his children,
it is their sin;
they are a perverse and twisted generation.
- <sup>6</sup> Is this how you repay the LORD,
O foolish and unwise people?
Is not he your father who created you?
Has he not made you, and established you?
- <sup>7</sup> Remember the days of old, consider the years of former generations,
ask your father, and he will inform you,
your elders, and they will tell you.
- <sup>8</sup> When the Most High gave to the nations their inheritance,
When he divided humankind,
he set the boundaries for the peoples,
according to the number of the sons of God.
- <sup>9</sup> For the LORD's portion is his people,
Jacob is his special inheritance.
- <sup>10</sup> He found him in a desert land, and in the howling wasteland,
he protectively surrounded him and cared for him, he guarded him as the apple of his eye.
- <sup>11</sup> Like an eagle that stirs up her nest, that hovers over her young,
it spreads out its wings and swoops them up,
it carries them aloft on its pinions.
- <sup>12</sup> The LORD alone led him,

- no foreign god was with him.
- <sup>13</sup> He made him ride over the heights of the earth, and he ate the produce of the field,
he nourished him with honey out of the rocky cliffs, olive oil out of the flinty rock,
- <sup>14</sup> Curds from the herd,
and milk from the flock,
the fat of lambs and goats,
rams of Bashan,
the finest of the wheat and from the juice of the grape you drank wine.
- <sup>15</sup> But Jeshurun grew fat and kicked, you became fat, plump and stuffed.
Then he forsook God who made him,
and abandoned the Rock of his salvation.
- <sup>16</sup> They moved him to jealousy with foreign gods, with abominations provoked they him to anger.
- <sup>17</sup> They sacrificed to demons, which are no God, to gods that they had never known,
to new gods recently developed,
which your fathers never feared.
- <sup>18</sup> You ignored the Rock that bore you, and forgot God who gave you birth.
- <sup>19</sup> The LORD saw this and despised them, because he was provoked by his sons and daughters.
- <sup>20</sup> And he said, 'I will hide my face from them, then I will see what their end will be.
For they are a perverse generation, children who are unfaithful.
- <sup>21</sup> They made me jealous with what was no god;
they have provoked me to anger with their worthless idols.
So I will make them jealous with those who are not a people,
I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation.
- <sup>22</sup> For a fire has been sparked by my anger, and burns to the depths of the grave,
and devours the earth with its produce, and sets on fire the foundations of the mountains.
- <sup>23</sup> I will heap disasters on them.
I will shoot my arrows at them.
- <sup>24</sup> I will waste them with hunger, and devour by plague and bitter pestilence.

- I will send against them the teeth of beasts, with the poison of things that crawl in the dust.
- <sup>25</sup> Outside the sword will leave them childless, inside their homes terror will reign over both the young man and young woman, the nursing child and elderly with gray hair.
- <sup>26</sup> I said, 'I want to scatter them afar,' blotting out the remembrance of them from human memory.
- <sup>27</sup> But I feared the provocation of their enemy, lest their adversaries should misunderstand,
Lest they should say, 'Our hand is exalted,
the LORD has not done all this.'
- <sup>28</sup> For they are a nation without sense, and there is no understanding in them.
- <sup>29</sup> If only they were wise, then they would understand this, then they would consider their final fate.
- <sup>30</sup> How can one man chase a thousand,
and two put ten thousand to flight, unless their Rock had sold them,
the LORD had given them up?
- <sup>31</sup> For their rock is not like our Rock, as even our enemies acknowledge.
- <sup>32</sup> For their vine is from the vine stock of Sodom, and from the fields of Gomorrah, their grapes are grapes of poison, their clusters are bitter.
- <sup>33</sup> Their wine is the poison of serpents, and the deadly venom of cobras.
- <sup>34</sup> "Is this not stored up with me, sealed up among my treasures?
- <sup>35</sup> Vengeance is mine and I will repay them, at the time when their foot slips.
For the day of their disaster is near,
and their impending doom will come on them suddenly."
- <sup>36</sup> For the LORD will judge his people, and change his mind concerning his servants,
when he sees that their power is gone,
and there is no one left, slave or free.
- <sup>37</sup> Then he will ask, "Where are their gods, the rock in which they took refuge?"

- <sup>38</sup> Who ate the fat of their sacrifices, and drank the wine of their drink offerings?
Let them rise up and help you, let them be your protection.
- <sup>39</sup> See now that I, even I, am he,
there is no god besides me.
I kill and I make alive;
I wound and I heal;
and there is no one who can deliver out of my hand.
- <sup>40</sup> For I lift up my hand to heaven, and say, 'As I live forever,
- <sup>41</sup> I will sharpen my flashing sword, and my hand will take hold of it for judgment;
I will render vengeance on my adversaries, and will repay those who hate me.
- <sup>42</sup> I will make my arrows drunk with blood, and my sword will devour flesh,
with the blood of the slain and captives,
the chief leaders of the enemy.'
- <sup>43</sup> Rejoice with him, O heavens, for he will avenge the blood of his servants,
and will render vengeance on his adversaries, and will make atonement for his land and his people."
- <sup>44</sup> Then Moses came and recited all the words of this song in the ears of the people, he and Joshua, the son of Nun.
- <sup>45</sup> When Moses made an end of speaking all these words to all Israel,
- <sup>46</sup> he said to them, "Take to heart to all the words that I am proclaiming to you today. Command your children to carefully do all the words of this law.
- <sup>47</sup> For these are not just empty words for you, they are your life. By this word you will prolong your days in the land you are crossing over the Jordan River to possess."
- <sup>48</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Moses that very same day, saying,
- <sup>49</sup> "Get up into this mountain of Abarim, to Mount Nebo in the land of Moab, that is across from Jericho; and view the land of Canaan that I am giving to the Israelites for a possession.
- <sup>50</sup> You will die on the mountain you are climbing, and will be gathered to your people, as Aaron your brother died on Mount Hor and was gathered to his people.
- <sup>51</sup> It is because you both rebelled against me in the midst of the Israelites at the waters of Meribah at Kadesh in the wilderness of Zin. You did not treat me as holy in the midst of the Israelites.

<sup>52</sup> For you will see the land before you, but you will not enter the land I am giving the Israelites."

<sup>1</sup> This is the blessing Moses, the man of God, pronounced on the Israelites before his death.

<sup>2</sup> He said, "The LORD came from Sinai, and dawned upon us from Seir.
He shined forth from Mount Paran, and he came with ten thousand holy ones.
with flaming fire at his right hand.

<sup>3</sup> Yes, he loved the people, all his holy ones were in his hands.
They sat down at your feet,
each one receiving your words.

<sup>4</sup> Moses gave us a law,
an inheritance for the assembly of Jacob.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD was king in Jeshurun [Israel], when the leaders of the people gathered,
all the tribes of Israel together.

<sup>6</sup> Let Reuben live, and not die, let his people not be few.

<sup>7</sup> This is the blessing concerning Judah. He said,
'Listen, O LORD, to the voice of Judah, and bring him in to his people.
With your hands contend for them,
and help him against his adversaries.'

<sup>8</sup> Concerning Levi he said,
'Your Thummim and Urim belong to your godly one,
with whom you contended at Massah, with whom you quarreled at the waters of Meribah.

<sup>9</sup> Who said of his father and mother,
"I have no regard for them,"
he ignored his own brothers, and did not acknowledge his own children.
For they have observed your word, and kept your covenant.

<sup>10</sup> They will teach Jacob your regulations, and Israel your law.
They will put incense before you,
and whole burnt offerings on your altar.

<sup>11</sup> Bless, O LORD, his substance, and accept the work of his hands, strike the loins of those who attack him,

and those who hate him,
so that they never rise again.'

<sup>12</sup> Concerning Benjamin he said,
'The beloved of the LORD will dwell in safety beside him.
He shields him all day long,
and he rests between his shoulders.'

<sup>13</sup> Concerning Joseph he said,
'May the LORD bless his land, with the precious gift of dew from heaven,
and with the watery deep that crouches beneath, <sup>14</sup> and with the precious fruits produced by the sun, and with the precious produce of the moon, <sup>15</sup> with the chief crops of the ancient mountains, and with abundance of the everlasting hills, <sup>16</sup> and with the precious gifts of the earth and its fullness, and the favor of him who dwelt in the burning bush.
May these blessings grace the head of Joseph, on the crown of the head of him who was prince among his brothers.

<sup>17</sup> Like a firstborn bull is his majesty, and his horns are the horns of the wild ox,
with them he will gore all peoples, driving them to the ends of the earth.
Such are the ten thousands of Ephraim, and the thousands of Manasseh.'

<sup>18</sup> Concerning Zebulun he said,
'Rejoice, Zebulun, in your going out, and Issachar, in your tents.

<sup>19</sup> They will summon the peoples to the mountain, there they will offer right sacrifices,
for they will draw abundance from the seas,
and hidden treasures from the sand.'

<sup>20</sup> Concerning Gad he said,
'Blessed be the one who enlarges Gad.
He lives like a lion,
tearing at the arm or head.

<sup>21</sup> He chose the best part for himself, for there the leader's portion was reserved,

he came with the leaders of the people,
he executed the justice of the LORD,
and his regulations with Israel.'

<sup>22</sup> Concerning Dan he said,
'Dan is a lion's cub,
that leaps out from Bashan.'

<sup>23</sup> Concerning Naphtali he said,
'O Naphtali, overflowing with favor, and full of the blessing of the LORD, may you possess the west and the south.'

<sup>24</sup> Concerning Asher he said,
'Most blessed be Asher above other sons, may he be favored by his brothers, and let him dip his foot in olive oil.

<sup>25</sup> Your gate bars will be iron and bronze, and as your days are long, so may your strength be.

<sup>26</sup> There is no one like God, O Jeshurun [Israel],
Who rides upon the heavens to help you,
and through the skies in his majesty.

<sup>27</sup> The eternal God is your refuge, and underneath are his everlasting arms.
He drives out the enemy before you,
and says, 'Destroy.'

<sup>28</sup> So Israel will live in safety,
the fountain of Jacob safely alone.
In a land of grain and new wine,
Yes, its heavens drop down dew.

<sup>29</sup> Happy are you, O Israel,
Who is like you?
You are a people saved by the LORD,
your protective shield,
and your awesome sword!
Your enemies will cower before you, and you will trample on their backs."

Deuteronomy 34

<sup>1</sup> Then Moses went up from the plains of Moab to Mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, that is opposite Jericho. The LORD showed him the whole land, from Gilead to Dan,

<sup>2</sup> all Naphtali, the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, and all the land of Judah to the western Mediterranean Sea, <sup>3</sup> and the Negev, and the plain of the valley of Jericho, the city of palm trees, as far as Zoar.

<sup>4</sup> Then the LORD said to him, "This is the land I promised to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, saying, 'I will give it to your descendants.' I have allowed you to see it with your eyes, but you may not go over there."

<sup>5</sup> So Moses, the servant of the LORD, died there in the land of Moab, just as the LORD had said.

<sup>7</sup> Moses was 120 years old when he died, yet his eyes were unimpaired and his strength had not waned.

<sup>8</sup> The Israelites wept for Moses in the plains of Moab thirty days; then the days of weeping and mourning for Moses were ended.

<sup>9</sup> Joshua the son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom because Moses had laid his hands on him. The Israelites listened to him and did as the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>10</sup> There has never since arisen a prophet in Israel like Moses, whom the LORD knew face to face,

<sup>11</sup> who did all the signs and the wonders the LORD sent him to do in the land of Egypt, against Pharaoh, all his servants and all his land, <sup>12</sup> with mighty power and awesome deeds that Moses performed in the sight of all Israel.

DASV: Joshua
Joshua 1

<sup>1</sup> After the death of Moses the servant of the LORD, the LORD spoke to Joshua the son of Nun, Moses' assistant, saying, <sup>2</sup> "Moses my servant is dead. Now therefore get up and cross the Jordan River, you and all this people, into the land I am giving to them, to the Israelites.

<sup>3</sup> Every place you set the sole of your foot, I have given to you just as I promised to Moses.

<sup>4</sup> Your boundary will be from the southern wilderness to Lebanon in the north, east to the great river, the Euphrates River, all the land of the Hittites, and to the Great (Mediterranean) Sea where the sun sets in the west.

<sup>5</sup> No one will be able to stand against you all the days of your life. As I was with Moses, so I will be with you. I will not fail you or abandon you.

<sup>6</sup> Be strong and courageous for you will lead this people to inherit the land I promised to give their forefathers.

<sup>7</sup> Only be strong and courageous. Be careful to do according to all the law, my servant

Moses commanded you. Do not turn from it to the right or left, so that you may be successful wherever you go.

<sup>8</sup> This scroll of the law shall not depart out of your mouth, but meditate on it day and night, so that you may carefully obey all that is written in it. Then you will make your way prosperous and successful.

<sup>9</sup> Have not I commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or terrified for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go."

<sup>10</sup> Then Joshua commanded the officers of the people, saying,

<sup>11</sup> "Go through the midst of the camp and command the people, saying, 'Prepare provisions for within three days you will cross over the Jordan River to go in to possess the land, the LORD your God is giving you.'"

<sup>12</sup> But to the Reubenites, Gadites and half-tribe of Manasseh, Joshua said, <sup>13</sup> "Remember the word Moses, the servant of the LORD, commanded you, saying, 'The LORD your God is giving you rest and will give you this land.

<sup>14</sup> Your wives, children and cattle will stay in the land Moses gave you on the east of the Jordan River, but your valiant warriors must cross over armed ahead of your brothers. You must help them

<sup>15</sup> until the LORD has given your brothers rest, just as he has given to you, and they too possess the land the LORD your God is giving them. Then you may return to your own land and possess the land Moses, the servant of the LORD, gave you east of the Jordan toward the sunrise.'"

<sup>16</sup> Then they answered Joshua, "Everything you have commanded we will do, and wherever you send us we will go.

<sup>17</sup> Just as we obeyed Moses in all things, so we will obey you. Only may the LORD your God be with you, as he was with Moses.

<sup>18</sup> Whoever rebels against your orders and refuses to obey whatever you command, must be put to death. Only be strong and courageous."

Joshua 2

<sup>1</sup> Then Joshua the son of Nun secretly sent from Shittim two spies, saying, "Go, scout out the land, especially Jericho." So they went and came to the house of a prostitute named Rahab, and spent the night there.

<sup>2</sup> The king of Jericho was told, "Look, there came in here at night some Israelites to spy out the land."

<sup>3</sup> So the king of Jericho sent orders to Rahab, "Bring out the men who have come to you and entered your house, for they have come to spy out the whole land."

<sup>4</sup> But the woman had taken the two men and hid them, and she replied, "Yes, the men came to me, but I did not know where they came from."

<sup>5</sup> The men left at dark when the gate was shut. Where they have gone I do not know. Chase after them quickly, maybe you can catch up with them."

<sup>6</sup> But actually she had taken them up to the roof and hid them under stalks of flax that she had spread out on the roof.

<sup>8</sup> Before the spies laid down, she came up to them on the roof.

<sup>9</sup> She said to them, "I know that the LORD has given you the land, and that we are terrified of you, and all the inhabitants of the land are melting in fear because of you."

<sup>10</sup> For we have heard how the LORD dried up the water of the Red Sea before you, when you came out of Egypt; and what you did to the two kings of the Amorites, that were on the other side of the Jordan River, to Sihon and Og, whom you absolutely destroyed.

<sup>11</sup> When we had heard it, our hearts melted, and no one had the courage even to breathe because of you; for the LORD your God, he is God in heaven above, and on earth beneath.

<sup>12</sup> Now therefore, please swear to me by the LORD, since I have shown you kindness, that you also will show kindness to my father's house. Give me a sign as a guarantee

<sup>13</sup> that you will spare the lives of my father and mother, and my brothers and sisters, and all that they have, and will deliver our lives from death."

<sup>14</sup> Then the men said to her, "Our life for yours, if you do not report what we are doing. When the LORD gives us the land, we will deal kindly and faithfully with you."

<sup>15</sup> Then she let them down by a rope from the window, since her house was part of the city wall.

<sup>16</sup> Then she said to them, "Head to the hills, so those pursuing you will not catch you. Hide there for three days, until the pursuers have returned. After that you will be able to go on your way."

<sup>17</sup> The men said to her, "We will not be bound by the promise that you have made us swear to

<sup>18</sup> unless when we invade the land, you tie this red rope in the window by which you let us down. You must gather into your house your father and mother, and your brothers and all your father's household.

<sup>19</sup> But whoever will venture out the doors of your house into the street, his blood will be on his own head, and we will not be held responsible. Whoever stays with you inside the house if a hand is laid on them, his blood will be on our head.

<sup>20</sup> But if you should report what we are doing, then we will not be responsible for keeping this promise you have made us swear to."

<sup>21</sup> She replied, "According to your words, so be it." So she sent them on their way and they left. Then she tied the red rope in the window.

<sup>22</sup> The spies escaped to the hills and stayed there three days, until the ones chasing them had returned. The ones pursuing them searched for them all along the way but did not find them.

<sup>23</sup> Then the two men returned. They came down from the hills and crossed over, and came to Joshua the son of Nun and reported to him everything that had happened to them.

<sup>24</sup> They told Joshua, "Truly the LORD has delivered into our hands all the land, for all the inhabitants of the land are melting in fear because of us."

Joshua 3

<sup>1</sup> Early in the morning Joshua got up, then he and all the Israelites set out from Shittim, and came to the Jordan River. They camped there before they crossed over.

<sup>3</sup> and commanded the people, saying, "When you see the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God and the Levitical priests carrying it, then you shall set out from your place and follow it.

<sup>4</sup> Stay about a thousand yards behind it, do not come near it, so that you may know the way you should go, for you have not passed this way before."

<sup>5</sup> Then Joshua told the people, "Consecrate yourselves, for tomorrow the LORD will do wonders among you."

<sup>6</sup> Joshua told the priests, "Lift up the ark of the covenant, and cross over ahead of the people." So they lifted the ark of the covenant and went ahead of the people.

<sup>7</sup> Then the LORD said to Joshua, "This day will I begin to honor you in the sight of all Israel, so that they will know that just as I was with Moses, so I will be with you.

<sup>8</sup> You are to command the priests that carry the ark of the covenant, saying, 'When you come to the bank of the Jordan River, you are to stand still in the Jordan River.'"

<sup>9</sup> Joshua told the Israelites, "Come here, and listen to the words of the LORD your God."

<sup>10</sup> Joshua said, "This is how you will know that the living God is among you, and that he will surely drive out before you the Canaanites, Hittites, Hivites, Perizzites, Girgashites, Amorites and Jebusites.

<sup>11</sup> Look, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth is crossing over ahead of you into the Jordan River.

<sup>12</sup> Now therefore take twelve men out of the tribes of Israel, one from each tribe.

<sup>13</sup> When the soles of the feet of the priests that carry the ark of the LORD, the Lord of all the earth, touch the waters of the Jordan River, the waters of the Jordan will be cut off, the waters flowing downstream will stand up in one heap."

<sup>15</sup> When those carrying the ark came to the Jordan, and the feet of the priests carrying the ark touched the river's edge (for the Jordan overflows all its banks through the spring harvest time)

<sup>16</sup> the waters which were coming downstream stopped and piled up in one heap, a great distance away, at Adam, the town that is near Zarethan. The water that flowed down toward the sea of the Arabah, the Salt (Dead) Sea, was totally cut off. Then the people crossed over opposite Jericho.

<sup>17</sup> The priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the LORD stood firm on dry ground in the midst of the Jordan River. Then all Israel crossed over until the whole nation had completely crossed over the Jordan River on dry ground.

<sup>3</sup> and tell them, 'Take twelve stones out of the middle of the Jordan River, from the place where the priests' feet stood firmly, and carry them over with you and put them in the place where you will camp tonight.'

<sup>4</sup> Then Joshua called the twelve men, whom he appointed from the Israelites, one from each tribe.

<sup>5</sup> Joshua said to them, "Cross over in front of the ark of the LORD your God into the middle of the Jordan River, and each man pick up a stone on his shoulder, one for each of the Israelite tribes

<sup>6</sup> so that this may be a memorial sign to you. In the future, when your children ask, 'What do these stones mean to you?'

<sup>7</sup> Tell them how the waters of the Jordan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the LORD. When it crossed over the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan were cut off, and these stones are a memorial to the Israelites forever."

<sup>8</sup> So the Israelites did as Joshua had commanded, and lifted twelve stones out of the middle of the Jordan River, one per Israelite tribe, as the LORD commanded Joshua. They carried them over with them to the place where they camped, and set them down there.

<sup>9</sup> Then Joshua also set up twelve stones in the middle of the Jordan River, in the place where the feet of the priests who carried the ark of the covenant had stood and they are there to this day.

<sup>10</sup> The priests who carried the ark stood in the middle of the Jordan River, until everything the LORD commanded Joshua to tell the people had been accomplished, in accordance with everything Moses commanded Joshua. The people crossed over quickly.

<sup>12</sup> Then the Reubenites, Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh, crossed over armed before the Israelites, just as Moses had told them to.

<sup>13</sup> About forty thousand armed for war crossed over before the LORD ready for battle on the plains of Jericho.

<sup>14</sup> On that day the LORD honored Joshua in the sight of all Israel, and they respected him, just as they had respected Moses, all the days of his life.

<sup>15</sup> Then the LORD spoke to Joshua, saying,

<sup>16</sup> "Command the priests that carry the ark of the testimony to come up out of the Jordan riverbed."

<sup>18</sup> After the priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the LORD had come up out of the middle of the Jordan River, and the soles of the priests' feet touched dry ground, the water of the Jordan returned to its place, and overflowed its banks as before.

<sup>21</sup> Then he spoke to the Israelites, saying, "In the future, when your children ask their fathers, 'What do these stones mean?'

<sup>22</sup> Then you shall explain to your children, 'Israel came across this Jordan River on dry ground.'

<sup>23</sup> For the LORD your God dried up the waters of the Jordan River before you until you had crossed over, just as the LORD your God did at the Red Sea, when he dried it up before us until we had crossed over.

<sup>24</sup> He did this so that all the peoples of the earth may know the hand of the LORD is mighty, so that you may fear the LORD your God forever."

Joshua 5

<sup>1</sup> When all the Amorite kings who were on the west side of the Jordan River, and all the kings of the Canaanites who were by the Mediterranean sea, heard how the LORD had dried up the waters of the Jordan River before the Israelites while they crossed over, their hearts melted and they lost their courage because of the Israelites.

<sup>2</sup> At that time the LORD said to Joshua, "Make flint knives and circumcise the Israelites a second time."

<sup>3</sup> So Joshua made flint knives and circumcised the Israelites at Gibeath-haaraloth (the Hill of the Foreskins).

<sup>4</sup> This is why Joshua had to circumcise them: all the men who came out of Egypt, all the men old enough for war, died in the wilderness on the journey, after they came out of Egypt.

<sup>5</sup> For all the men who left were circumcised, but all the people born in the wilderness on the journey after they came out of Egypt had not been circumcised.

<sup>6</sup> For the Israelites traveled for forty years in the wilderness, until all the nation, those old enough for war who had come out of Egypt had died, because they refused to obey the voice of the LORD. For the LORD had sworn that he would not let them see the land he promised to their forefathers that he would give us, a land flowing with milk and honey.

<sup>7</sup> So it was their children, whom he raised up to replace them that Joshua circumcised for they were uncircumcised because they had not been circumcised along the way.

<sup>8</sup> When they had completed the circumcising of the whole nation, they stayed in their places in the camp until they were healed.

<sup>9</sup> Then the LORD said to Joshua, "This day I have rolled away the reproach of Egypt from off you." That is why the name of that place was called Gilgal (to roll) to this day.

<sup>10</sup> While the Israelites camped at Gilgal on the plains of Jericho, they kept the Passover on the evening of the fourteenth day of the month.

<sup>11</sup> They ate the produce of the land on the very next day after the Passover, unleavened bread and roasted grain.

<sup>12</sup> The manna stopped on the day they ate the produce of the land, there was no longer any manna for the Israelites but they ate from the crops of Canaan that year.

<sup>13</sup> When Joshua was near Jericho, he looked up and saw a man standing in front of him with his drawn sword in his hand. Joshua approached him and asked, "Are you for us or for our enemies?"

<sup>14</sup> He replied, "Neither, but I have now come as the commander of the army of the LORD." Then Joshua fell with his face to the ground, worshiped and said to him, "What does my lord want to say to his servant?"

<sup>15</sup> The commander of LORD's army replied, "Take your sandals off your feet; for the place you are standing is holy." So Joshua did it.

<sup>2</sup> The LORD said to Joshua, 'See, I have given Jericho, its king and its warriors into your hand.'

<sup>3</sup> You and your warriors are to march around the city once a day. Do this for six days.

<sup>4</sup> Have seven priests carry seven rams' horn trumpets in front of the ark. The seventh day march around the city seven times, and have the priests blow the trumpets.

<sup>5</sup> When they make a long blast with the ram's horn, as soon as you hear the sound of the trumpet, have all the people shout loudly and the wall of the city will fall down flat and the people will be able to charge in straight ahead."

<sup>6</sup> Then Joshua the son of Nun called the priests, and said to them, "Pick up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests carry seven rams' horn trumpets ahead of the ark of the LORD."

<sup>7</sup> He ordered the people, "Move out and march around the city, and let the armed men go ahead of the ark of the LORD."

<sup>8</sup> When Joshua had spoken to the people, the seven priests bearing the seven rams' horn trumpets before the LORD moved out, blew the trumpets and the ark of the covenant of the LORD followed them.

<sup>9</sup> The armed men went before the priests who blew the trumpets and the rear guard followed the ark, blowing the trumpets.

<sup>10</sup> Then Joshua commanded the people, saying, "Do not shout or let your voice be heard, do not let your mouth say even one word until the day I tell you to shout. Then you will shout."

<sup>11</sup> So he had the ark of the LORD circle the city one time. Then they returned to camp and spent the night there.

<sup>12</sup> Joshua got up early in the morning, and the priests picked up the ark of the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> The second day they marched around the city once, then returned into the camp. They did this for six days.

<sup>15</sup> On the seventh day, they got up early at daybreak, and marched around the city the same way they had done before, only on that day they marched around the city seven times.

<sup>16</sup> The seventh time around, as the priests blew the trumpets, Joshua told the people, "Shout! For the LORD has given you the city.

<sup>17</sup> The city and all that is in it are to be devoted to the LORD for destruction. Only Rahab the prostitute and all who are with her in the house will live because she hid the spies we sent.

<sup>18</sup> Stay away from the things devoted to destruction, so that you do not take any of them thereby making the camp of Israel itself an object for destruction, and bring trouble on it.

<sup>19</sup> For all the silver and gold, and items of bronze and iron, are holy to the LORD. They must go into the treasury of the LORD."

<sup>20</sup> When the trumpet sounded and the troops heard the sound of the trumpets, the troops shouted loudly, and the wall fell down flat, so the troops went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they captured it.

<sup>21</sup> They completely destroyed all that was in the city with the sword, both men and women, young and old, oxen, sheep and donkeys.

<sup>22</sup> Then Joshua said to the two men who had spied out the land, "Go into the prostitute's house, and bring the woman and all that she has out here as you promised her."

<sup>23</sup> So the young spies went in, and brought out Rahab, her father, her mother, her brothers and all that she had. They brought out her whole family and they took them to a place outside the camp of Israel.

<sup>24</sup> Then they burned the city and everything in it with fire. The only exception being they put the objects of silver and gold, and items of bronze and iron into the treasury of the house of the LORD.

<sup>25</sup> But Rahab the prostitute, her father's family and all that she had, Joshua spared. She still lives in the midst of Israel to this day, because she hid the agents Joshua sent to spy out Jericho.

<sup>26</sup> So Joshua pronounced a solemn oath at that time, saying,

"Cursed before the LORD is the man who attempts to rebuild this city of Jericho.

With the loss of his firstborn he will lay its foundation, with the loss of his youngest son he will set up its gates."

<sup>27</sup> So the LORD was with Joshua and his fame spread through the whole land.

Joshua 7

<sup>1</sup> But the Israelites violated the command concerning the devoted things, for Achan, the son of Carmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerah, from the tribe of Judah, took some of the devoted things. So the anger of the LORD was sparked against the Israelites.

<sup>2</sup> Now Joshua sent men from Jericho to Ai, which is near Beth Aven, on the east side of Bethel, and told them, "Go up and spy out the land." So the men went up and spied out Ai.

<sup>3</sup> When they returned to Joshua, they suggested to him, "Do not make all the people go up, but send about two or three thousand men up and attack Ai. Do not wear out all the people by making them go up there, since there are so few of them."

<sup>4</sup> So 3,000 men went up, but they fled before the men of Ai.

<sup>5</sup> The men of Ai killed about thirty-six men, and chased them from the town gate all the way to the stone quarries killing them down the slope. Then the hearts of the people melted and became like water.

<sup>6</sup> Then Joshua tore his clothes. He and the elders of Israel fell to the ground on their faces before the ark of the LORD until evening, and threw dust on their heads.

<sup>7</sup> Then Joshua said, "Ah, Sovereign LORD, why did you ever bring this people over the Jordan River, just to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, so they could destroy us? If only we had been content to stay on the other side of the Jordan!

<sup>8</sup> Oh, Lord, what can I say, now that Israel has turned their backs fleeing before their enemies!

<sup>9</sup> When the Canaanites and all the inhabitants of the land will hear of it, they will surround us and wipe our name off the earth, then what will you do for your own great name?"

<sup>10</sup> Then the LORD replied to Joshua, "Get up! Why are you down on your face?"

<sup>11</sup> Israel has sinned. They have broken my covenant that I commanded them. They have stolen some of the devoted things, and deceitfully put them with their personal belongings.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore the Israelites cannot stand before their enemies. They turn their backs fleeing before their enemies, because they themselves have become devoted to destruction. I will no longer be with you, unless you destroy the devoted things from among you.

<sup>13</sup> Get up! Consecrate the people. Tell them, 'Consecrate yourselves tomorrow. For this is what the LORD, the God of Israel says, "There is a devoted thing in your midst, O Israel; you cannot stand before your enemies, until you remove the devoted things from among you."

<sup>14</sup> In the morning you must present yourselves by your tribes. The tribe that the LORD selects must approach by clans, and the clan that the LORD selects must approach by families; and the family that the LORD selects must approach man by man.

<sup>15</sup> The one who is caught with the devoted things must be burned with fire, he and all that he has because he has violated the covenant of the LORD, and because he has done such a disgraceful thing in Israel."

<sup>16</sup> So Joshua got up early in the morning and brought forward Israel by their tribes, and the tribe of Judah was selected.

<sup>17</sup> He brought forward the clans of Judah, and he selected the clan of the Zerahites. Then he brought forward the families of the Zerahites family by family, and Zabdi was selected.

<sup>18</sup> Then he brought forward his family man by man, and Achan, the son of Carmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerah, from the tribe of Judah, was selected.

<sup>19</sup> Then Joshua said to Achan, "My son, give glory to the LORD, the God of Israel, and confess to him and tell me now what you have done. Do not hide it from me."

<sup>20</sup> So Achan answered Joshua, "It is true. I have sinned against the LORD, the God of Israel. This is what I did:

<sup>21</sup> when I saw among the plunder a beautiful Babylonian robe, and two hundred shekels of silver, and a bar of gold weighing fifty shekels, then I coveted them and took them. They are hidden in the ground inside my tent with the silver underneath."

<sup>22</sup> So Joshua sent messengers who ran to the tent and there it was hidden in his tent with the silver underneath.

<sup>23</sup> They took the things from the tent and brought them to Joshua and to all the Israelites. They laid them on the ground before the LORD.

<sup>24</sup> Then Joshua and all Israel took Achan the son of Zerah, along with the silver, the robe, and the bar of gold, his sons, his daughters, his oxen, his donkeys, his sheep, his tent and all that he had and they brought them up to the Valley of Achor.

<sup>25</sup> Then Joshua said, "Why have you brought trouble on us? The LORD will bring trouble on you today." Then all Israel stoned him and his family, and burned them with fire.

<sup>26</sup> Then they piled up a great heap of stones over him that remains there to this day. That is why the name of that place was called, the Valley of Achor (Disaster), to this day. So the LORD turned away from his fierce anger.

Joshua 8

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Do not be afraid or get discouraged. Take all the fighting men with you and go up against Ai. See, I have delivered into your hands the king of Ai, his people, his town and his land.

<sup>2</sup> You will do to Ai and its king as you did to Jericho and its king except you may take its plunder and its cattle for yourselves. Set an ambush behind the city."

<sup>3</sup> So Joshua and all the fighting men went up against Ai. Joshua chose thirty thousand valiant warriors, and sent them out at night.

<sup>4</sup> He told them, "Look, you will set an ambush against the town, behind it. Do not go very far from the town, but all of you be ready.

<sup>5</sup> I, and all the troops that are with me, will approach the town. When they come out against us, as before, we will flee before them.

<sup>6</sup> Then they will come out after us until we have lured them away from the town, for they will say, 'They flee before us, as before.' So we will indeed flee from them.

<sup>7</sup> Then you will rise up from the ambush and capture the town. For the LORD your God will give it into your control.

<sup>8</sup> After you have seized the town, set the town on fire, doing what the LORD has commanded. See, I have given you orders."

<sup>9</sup> So Joshua sent them out and they went and hid in ambush between Bethel and Ai, on the west side of Ai. But Joshua spent that night with the troops.

<sup>10</sup> Joshua got up early the next morning, mustered the troops, and went up, he and the leaders of Israel, at the front of the troops to Ai.

<sup>11</sup> Then all the troops that were with him, went up and drew near before the town, and camped on the north side of Ai with a valley between them and Ai.

<sup>12</sup> He took about five thousand men, and set them in ambush between Bethel and Ai, to the west of the town.

<sup>13</sup> So they set the troops in position, the main force was north of the town, and the ambush west of the town. Joshua spent that night in the valley.

<sup>14</sup> When the king of Ai saw it, he and his army quickly got up early the next day and went out against Israel in battle at a place overlooking the Arabah valley. But he was unaware that there was an ambush against him behind the town.

<sup>15</sup> Joshua and all Israel pretended to be defeated before them and fled in the direction of the wilderness.

<sup>16</sup> So all the people that were in the town were ordered to chase after them. So they pursued after Joshua and were lured out of the town.

<sup>18</sup> Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Point the spear that is in your hand toward Ai, for I will give it into your hand." So Joshua pointed the spear that was in his hand toward the town.

<sup>19</sup> As soon as he stretched out his hand, the troops hiding in ambush quickly rose out of their hiding place and attacked. They entered the town, captured it and quickly set the town on fire.

<sup>20</sup> When the men of Ai looked behind them, they saw the smoke from the town rising into the sky. They were unable to flee one way or the other for the troops who had fled to the wilderness now turned back on those chasing them.

<sup>21</sup> When Joshua and all Israel saw that the ambush had taken the town, and that smoke was rising from it, they turned around and struck down the men of Ai.

<sup>22</sup> The others who captured the town came out of it against them, so they were surrounded by Israelites, on both sides. They struck them down so that none survived or escaped.

<sup>23</sup> But they captured the king of Ai alive and brought him to Joshua.

<sup>24</sup> When Israel had made an end of killing all the inhabitants of Ai in the field, in the wilderness where they had chased them, and they had all fallen by the edge of the sword, all Israel returned to Ai, and struck it with the edge of the sword.

<sup>25</sup> Twelve thousand fell that day, both men and women, the total population of Ai.

<sup>26</sup> For Joshua kept holding out his hand with the spear until he had completely destroyed all the inhabitants of Ai.

<sup>27</sup> But Israel took the cattle and the plunder of that town for themselves, according to the word of the LORD that he had commanded Joshua.

<sup>28</sup> So Joshua burned Ai, and made it a permanent ruin, as it is to this day.

<sup>29</sup> The king of Ai was hung on a tree until the evening and at sunset Joshua gave the order and they took his body down from the tree, and threw it at the entrance of the town gate, and raised a great pile of stones over it, which remains there to this day.

<sup>30</sup> Then Joshua built an altar to the LORD, the God of Israel, on mount Ebal, <sup>31</sup> just as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded the Israelites. It is written in the scroll of the law of Moses, "an altar of uncut stones, upon which no one had ever used an iron tool." They offered burnt offerings, and sacrificed peace offerings on it to the LORD.

<sup>32</sup> Then in the presence of the Israelites he wrote on the stones a copy of the law of Moses which he had written.

<sup>33</sup> All Israel, their elders, officers and judges, along with the foreigner and native born stood on both sides of the ark in front of the Levitical priests, who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD. Half of them stood in front of Mount Gerizim and half of them in front of Mount Ebal, just as Moses the servant of the LORD had previously commanded, that they should bless the people of Israel.

<sup>34</sup> Afterward he read all the words of the law, the blessings and the curses, according to all that is written in the scroll of the law.

<sup>35</sup> There was not a word of all that Moses commanded, which Joshua did not read before all the assembly of Israel, including the women, children and the foreigners who lived among them.

Joshua 9

<sup>1</sup> Now when all the kings in the hill country west of the Jordan River, and in the western foothills, and on all the coast of the Mediterranean Sea as far as Lebanon, the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites, heard of what happened,

<sup>4</sup> they developed a cunning plot. They went and put worn-out sacks on their donkeys, took old cracked and patched wineskins, <sup>5</sup> put dilapidated sandals on their feet and put on old tattered clothes. All their bread provisions were dried out and moldy.

<sup>6</sup> They came to Joshua to the camp at Gilgal, and said to him and the men of Israel, "We have come from a distant country. So make a treaty with us."

<sup>7</sup> But the men of Israel said to the Hivites, "What if you live among us. How can we make a treaty with you?"

<sup>8</sup> They replied to Joshua, "We are your servants." Joshua asked, "Who are you? And where do you come from?"

<sup>9</sup> They told him, "Your servants have come from a distant country because we have heard of the reputation of the name of the LORD your God, and all that he did in Egypt, <sup>10</sup> and all he did to the two kings of the Amorites who were east of the Jordan River, to Sihon king of Heshbon, and Og king of Bashan, who was at Ashtaroth.

<sup>11</sup> Our elders and all the inhabitants of our country told us, "Take provisions in your hand for the journey, and go, meet them, and say to them, 'We are your servants. Come now make a treaty with us.'"

<sup>12</sup> This bread we took was still warm when we loaded our provisions from our houses the day we left to meet you. Look, now it is dry and moldy.

<sup>13</sup> These wineskins were new when we filled them. Look, now they are cracked. Our clothes and sandals are worn out because the journey was so long."

<sup>14</sup> The Israelite men accepted some of their provisions, but did not ask for the LORD's advise.

<sup>15</sup> So Joshua made a peace treaty with them, guaranteeing to let them live. The leaders of the community sealed it with an oath.

<sup>16</sup> Three days after having made the treaty with them, they heard that they were, in fact, their neighbors, and lived near them.

<sup>17</sup> The Israelites set out and came to their cities on the third day. Now their towns were Gibeon, Kephirah, Beeroth and Kiriath-jearim.

<sup>18</sup> But the Israelites did not attack them because the leaders of the congregation had made a promise to them by the LORD, the God of Israel. So all the community grumbled against the leaders.

<sup>19</sup> But all the leaders replied to all the community, "We have sworn to them by the LORD, the God of Israel, so we cannot touch them.

<sup>20</sup> Here is what we will do to them. Let them live, so God's wrath will not come upon us because of the oath we swore to them."

<sup>21</sup> The leaders said to them, "Let them live." So they became woodcutters and water carriers for the whole community, just as the leaders had said concerning them.

<sup>22</sup> Then Joshua summoned the Gibeonites saying, "Why did you trick us, saying, 'We live far from you,' when in fact you live right here among us?"

<sup>23</sup> Now therefore you are cursed you will always be slaves, both woodcutters and water carriers for the house of my God."

<sup>24</sup> Then they answered Joshua, "Because your servants were clearly told how the LORD your God commanded his servant Moses to give you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land before you. Therefore we were terrified for our lives because of you, which is why we did this.

<sup>25</sup> Now, we are in your hand. Do to us what seems good and right for you to do to us."

<sup>26</sup> So Joshua delivered them out of the hand of the Israelites, so that they did not kill them.

<sup>27</sup> But Joshua made them that day woodcutters and water carriers for the community, and for the altar of the LORD, in the place he would choose. That is what they do to this day.

Joshua 10

<sup>1</sup> Now when Adoni-zedek king of Jerusalem heard how Joshua had taken Ai, doing to Ai and its king as he had done to Jericho and its king, and how the inhabitants of Gibeon had made peace with Israel and were now living among them;

<sup>2</sup> he was terrified, because Gibeon was a large city, like one of the royal cities, and because it was larger than Ai, and all its men were warriors.

<sup>3</sup> So Adoni-zedek king of Jerusalem sent to Hoham king of Hebron, Piram king of Jarmuth, Japhia king of Lachish and to Debir king of Eglon, saying,

<sup>4</sup> "Come up and help me and let us attack Gibeon for it has made peace with Joshua and the Israelites."

<sup>6</sup> But the men of Gibeon sent word to Joshua at the camp in Gilgal, "Do not abandon your servants; come up quickly. Rescue us! Help us! For all the kings of the Amorites living in the hill country have joined forces against us."

<sup>7</sup> So Joshua and all the troops including the valiant warriors went up from Gilgal.

<sup>8</sup> Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Do not be afraid of them for I have given them into your hands. Not one of them will be able to stand up against you."

<sup>10</sup> Then the LORD threw them into a panic before Israel, and he defeated them in a great slaughter at Gibeon. They chased them by the way of the ascent of Beth-horon, and struck them down as far as Azekah and Makkedah.

<sup>11</sup> As they fled from Israel while they were going down the descent from Beth-horon. The LORD threw down huge hailstones from heaven on them as far as Azekah, and they died. There were more who died from the hailstones than were killed by the Israelites' swords.

<sup>12</sup> Then Joshua spoke to the LORD on that day when the LORD gave the Amorites over to the Israelites, and he said in the sight of Israel, "Sun, stand still over Gibeon, and moon over the valley of Aijalon."

<sup>13</sup> So the sun stood still and the moon stopped until the nation took vengeance on its enemies. Is this not written in the Scroll of Jashar? The sun stopped in the middle of the sky, and did not set for about a whole day.

<sup>14</sup> There has never been a day like it before or since, when the LORD obeyed the voice of a man, for the LORD fought for Israel.

<sup>18</sup> Joshua said, "Roll large stones over the mouth of the cave, and set men by it to guard them.

<sup>19</sup> but do not stay there yourselves; chase after your enemies, and attack their rear guard. Do not let them enter into their town for the LORD your God has delivered them into your hand."

<sup>20</sup> Joshua and the Israelites finished striking them down with a great slaughter, until they were wiped out, although a few survivors got away into the fortified towns.

<sup>21</sup> Then all the troops returned to Joshua in the camp at Makkedah in peace. No one dared wag his tongue against any of the Israelites.

<sup>22</sup> Then Joshua said, "Open the mouth of the cave and bring out those five kings to me from the cave."

<sup>23</sup> So they brought out the five kings to him from the cave, the kings of Jerusalem, Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish and Eglon.

<sup>24</sup> When they brought out the kings to Joshua, he summoned all the men of Israel, and said to the commanders of the troops who had been with him, "Come here put your feet on the necks of these kings." So they came near and put their feet on their necks.

<sup>25</sup> Then Joshua said to them, "Do not be afraid or discouraged. Be strong and courageous for this is what the LORD will do to all your enemies you will fight."

<sup>26</sup> Afterward Joshua struck and put them to death. Then he hung them on five trees and they remained hanging on the trees until evening.

<sup>27</sup> At sunset Joshua commanded, and they took them down from the trees. They threw them into the cave where they had hidden themselves. Then they put large stones over the mouth of the cave, which are there to this day.

<sup>28</sup> On that day Joshua captured Makkedah, and struck it and its king with the edge of the sword. He totally destroyed them and everyone who was in it leaving no survivors. He did to the king of Makkedah as he had done to the king of Jericho.

<sup>30</sup> The LORD also gave it and its king into the hand of Israel. He struck it with the edge of the sword and everyone in it leaving no survivors. He did to its king as he had done to the king of Jericho.

<sup>32</sup> The LORD gave Lachish into the hand of Israel. He captured it on the second day and struck it with the edge of the sword, and everyone in it, just as he had done to Libnah.

<sup>33</sup> Then Horam king of Gezer came up to help Lachish. Joshua struck him and his people leaving no survivors.

<sup>34</sup> Then Joshua and all Israel set out from Lachish and went to Eglon. They laid siege to it and attacked it.

<sup>35</sup> They captured it that day, and struck it with the edge of the sword, and everyone in it he totally destroyed that day, just as he had done to Lachish.

<sup>36</sup> Then Joshua and all Israel set out from Eglon and went to Hebron and attacked it.

<sup>37</sup> They captured and struck it and its king with the edge of the sword and all its towns, and left no survivors, just as he had done to Eglon, he totally destroyed it and everyone in it.

<sup>38</sup> Then Joshua and all Israel turned back to Debir and attacked it.

<sup>39</sup> He captured it, then struck its king and all its towns with the edge of the sword, and totally destroyed everyone in it leaving no survivors, just as he had done to Hebron. So he did to Debir and its king just as he had done to Libnah and its king.

<sup>40</sup> So Joshua conquered the whole land and all their kings, the hill country, the Negev, and the western foothills, and the mountain slopes. He left no survivors. He totally destroyed everything that breathed, just as the LORD, the God of Israel, commanded.

<sup>41</sup> Joshua struck them from Kadesh-barnea even as far as Gaza, and all the country of Goshen, all the way to Gibeon.

<sup>42</sup> All these kings and their land Joshua captured in one campaign, because the LORD, the God of Israel, fought for Israel.

<sup>43</sup> So Joshua and all Israel returned to the camp at Gilgal.

Joshua 11

<sup>1</sup> When Jabin king of Hazor heard what had happened, he sent to Jobab king of Madon, and to the kings of Shimron and Acshaph,

<sup>2</sup> and to the northern kings in the hill country, and in the Arabah south of Kinnereth (Galilee), the lowlands, and Naphoth-dor on the west,

<sup>4</sup> They and their armies came out as numerous as the sand on the sea shore, along with many horses and chariots.

<sup>5</sup> All these kings joined forces and they came and camped together at the waters of Merom, to fight against Israel.

<sup>6</sup> Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Do not be afraid of them, for tomorrow at this time I will hand all of them over to Israel, dead. You must hamstring their horses and burn their chariots."

<sup>7</sup> So Joshua and his whole army came against them at the waters of Merom and attacked them suddenly.

<sup>8</sup> The LORD gave them into the hand of Israel, and they struck them down, and chased them to Greater Sidon, to Misrephoth-maim, and eastward to the valley of Mizpeh and they struck them down leaving no survivors.

<sup>9</sup> Joshua did to them as the LORD told him to. He hamstrung their horses and burned their chariots.

<sup>10</sup> Then Joshua turned back and captured Hazor, and struck down its king with the sword, for before that time Hazor had been the head of all those kingdoms.

<sup>12</sup> Joshua captured all the towns of those kings as well as the kings themselves, and he struck them down with the edge of the sword, and totally destroyed them just as Moses, the servant of the LORD, had commanded.

<sup>13</sup> But Israel did not burn the towns built on their mounds, except Hazor, which Joshua did burn.

<sup>14</sup> The Israelites plundered all the spoil and livestock of these towns for themselves, and they struck down everyone with the edge of the sword, until they had destroyed them, not leaving anyone who breathed.

<sup>15</sup> Just as the LORD had commanded Moses his servant, so Moses commanded Joshua. He left nothing undone of all that the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>16</sup> So Joshua took the entire land, the hill country, all the Negev, all the land around Goshen, and the western foothills, the Arabah, and the hill country of Israel and its foothills,

<sup>19</sup> There was not a single town that made peace with the Israelites, except the Hivites living in Gibeon. They took them all in battle.

<sup>20</sup> For it was the LORD who hardened their hearts, to wage war against Israel, so that he might totally destroy them, and that they might find no mercy, but that he might destroy them, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

<sup>23</sup> So Joshua took the whole land, according to all the LORD had instructed Moses. Joshua gave it for an inheritance to Israel according to their tribal allotments. Then the land had rest from war.

Joshua 12

<sup>1</sup> Now these are the kings of the land, the Israelites defeated and took possession of their land on the east side of the Jordan River from the Arnon Gorge to Mount Hermon and all the eastern side of the Arabah.

<sup>3</sup> He ruled over the eastern part of the Arabah from the Sea of Kinnereth (Galilee), to the Sea of the Arabah, the Salt Sea, including the way to Beth-jeshimoth; and on the south, to the foot of the slopes of Pisgah.

<sup>6</sup> Moses the servant of the LORD and the Israelites defeated them and Moses, the servant of the LORD, gave their land for a possession to the Reubenites, Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh.

<sup>7</sup> These are the kings of the land that Joshua and the Israelites defeated on the west side of the Jordan River, from Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon to Mount Halak, that rises toward Seir; and Joshua assigned it to the tribes of Israel for a possession according to their allotments.

<sup>9</sup> The kings were:

the king of Jericho,

the king of Ai, which is near Bethel,

<sup>10</sup> the king of Jerusalem,

the king of Hebron,

<sup>11</sup> the king of Jarmuth,

the king of Lachish,

<sup>12</sup> the king of Eglon,

the king of Gezer,

<sup>13</sup> the king of Debir,

the king of Geder,

<sup>14</sup> the king of Hormah,

the king of Arad,

15 the king of Libnah,
the king of Adullam,
16 the king of Makkedah,
the king of Bethel,
17 the king of Tappuah,
the king of Hopher,
18 the king of Aphek,
the king of Lasharon,
19 the king of Madon,
the king of Hazor,
20 the king of Shimron-meron,
the king of Acshaph,
21 the king of Taanach,
the king of Megiddo,
22 the king of Kedesh,
the king of Jokneam in Carmel,
23 the king of Dor in the Naphath Dor,
the king of Goyim in Gilgal, 24 the king of Tirzah;
thirty-one kings in all.

Joshua 13

<sup>1</sup> Now Joshua was old and well on in years, and the LORD said to him, "You are old and well on in years, and there remains a great amount of land to be possessed.

<sup>2</sup> This is the land that remains: all the regions of the Philistines, and Geshurites;

<sup>6</sup> I will drive out before the Israelites all the inhabitants of the hill country from Lebanon to Misrephoth-maim, even all the Sidonians; only allot it to Israel for an inheritance, as I have commanded you.

<sup>7</sup> Now divide up this land for an inheritance among the nine tribes and the half tribe of Manasseh."

<sup>9</sup> From Aroer, that is on the edge of the Arnon Gorge, including the town that is in the middle of the canyon, and all the plain of Medeba as far as Dibon;

<sup>10</sup> including all the towns of Sihon king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon, to the border with the Ammonites.

<sup>11</sup> This included Gilead, the region of the Geshurites and Maacathites, and all Mount Hermon, and all Bashan as far as Salecah,

<sup>13</sup> Nevertheless the Israelites did not drive out the Geshurites or Maacathites, but Geshur and Maacath live within Israel to this day.

<sup>14</sup> He gave no land inheritance to the tribe of Levi; his inheritance is the offerings of the LORD, the God of Israel, made by fire, as he promised them.

<sup>21</sup> including all the towns of the plain, and the entire kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon. Moses defeated him along with the chiefs of Midian--Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur and Reba--the princes of Sihon, who lived in his land.

<sup>22</sup> The Israelites also slew Balaam the son of Beor, the soothsayer, with the sword along with the rest of those slain in battle.

<sup>24</sup> Moses gave a land inheritance to the tribe of Gad, according to their clans.

<sup>26</sup> and from Heshbon to Ramath-mizpeh and Betonim, and from Mahanaim to the border of Debir;

<sup>29</sup> Moses gave a land inheritance to the half-tribe of Manasseh according to their clans.

<sup>30</sup> Their territory was from Mahanaim, all Bashan, all the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, and all the sixty towns of Jair in Bashan, <sup>31</sup> half Gilead, Ashtaroth, Edrei, the towns of the kingdom of Og in Bashan, were assigned to descendants of Makir the son of Manasseh, even for the half of the descendants of Makir according to their clans.

<sup>32</sup> These are the land inheritances Moses assigned in the plains of Moab, east of the Jordan River across from Jericho.

<sup>33</sup> But to the tribe of Levi Moses gave no land inheritance. The LORD, the God of Israel, is their inheritance, as he promised them.

Joshua 14

<sup>1</sup> These are the land inheritances that the Israelites received in the land of Canaan, which Eleazar the priest, Joshua the son of Nun and the tribal leaders of the Israelites, assigned to them.

<sup>2</sup> Their inheritance was assigned by lot, as the LORD had commanded by Moses, for the nine and one-half tribes.

<sup>3</sup> For Moses had assigned the inheritance to the two-and-a-half tribes east of the Jordan River, but he gave no inheritance to the Levites among them.

<sup>4</sup> For the descendants of Joseph were reckoned as two tribes, Manasseh and Ephraim. They gave no portion to the Levites in the land, except towns with their suburbs to live in, for their cattle and possessions.

<sup>5</sup> Just as the LORD had commanded Moses, so the Israelites did and they divided the land.

<sup>6</sup> Then the descendants of Judah approached Joshua at Gilgal, and Caleb the son of Jephunneh, the Kenizzite, said to him, "You know what the LORD told Moses the man of God concerning you and me at Kadesh-barnea.

<sup>7</sup> I was forty years old when Moses the servant of the LORD sent me out from Kadesh-barnea to spy out the land. I brought him an honest report just as it was in my heart.

<sup>8</sup> Nevertheless my brothers who went up with me made the heart of the people melt with fear, but I wholeheartedly followed the LORD my God.

<sup>9</sup> Moses promised on that day, saying, 'Surely the land whereon your foot has stepped will be an inheritance for you and your descendants forever, because you have wholeheartedly followed the LORD my God.'

<sup>10</sup> Now, look, the LORD has kept me alive, as he promised these forty five years, from the time that the LORD spoke this to Moses, while Israel walked in the wilderness. Now, I am this day eighty-five years old.

<sup>11</sup> I am still as strong today as I was in the day Moses sent me out, my strength now for fighting and going in and out is as good as my strength was then.

<sup>12</sup> Now therefore give me this hill country, that the LORD promised me on that day. For you heard that day how the Anakites lived there in large and fortified cities. It may be that the LORD will be with me, and I will drive them out, just as the LORD said."

<sup>13</sup> So Joshua blessed him. He gave Hebron to Caleb son of Jephunneh for his inheritance.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore Hebron became the inheritance of Caleb the son of Jephunneh, the Kenizzite, to this day, because he wholeheartedly followed the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>15</sup> Formerly the name of Hebron was called Kiriath-arba. This Arba was the greatest man among the Anakites. Then the land had rest from war.

Joshua 15

<sup>3</sup> and goes south of the Ascent of Scorpions, over to Zin, where it went up to the south of Kadesh-barnea, and crossed over to Hezron, and went up to Addar, and turned around to Karka.

<sup>4</sup> From there it crossed over to Azmon, and extended to the Brook of Egypt; and ended at the Mediterranean Sea. This was their southern border.

<sup>5</sup> The eastern border was the Salt (Dead) Sea, to the mouth of the Jordan River. The northern border was from the bay where the Jordan River enters the Salt Sea, <sup>6</sup> and went up to Beth-hoglah, and passes north of Beth-arabah; and the border went up to the Stone of Bohan, who was the son of Reuben.

<sup>7</sup> From there the border went up to Debir from the Valley of Achor, then northward, toward Gilgal, that is across from the Ascent of Adummim, on the south side of the river; then the border passed along to the waters of En-shemesh, and ended at En-rogel.

<sup>8</sup> From there the border went up by the Valley of Ben-Hinnom to the south side of the Jebusites (that is, Jerusalem); and the border went up to the top of the mountain that lies to the west above the Valley of Hinnom, that is at the north end of the Rephaim Valley.

<sup>9</sup> The border continued from the top of the mountain to the spring of the Waters of Nephtoah, and from there to the towns of Mount Ephron, and went on to Baalah (that is, Kiriath-jearim).

<sup>10</sup> The border then turned west of Baalah to Mount Seir, and crossed over to the slope of Mount Jearim on the north (that is, Kesalon), then went down to Beth-shemesh and passed along by Timnah.

<sup>12</sup> The western border was the Great Sea (that is, the Mediterranean Sea). This is the border around the tribe Judah according to its clans.

<sup>13</sup> He gave Caleb the son of Jephunneh a portion among the tribe of Judah, according to the Lord's command to Joshua, even Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron). This Arba was the father of Anak.

<sup>15</sup> He then went up against the inhabitants of Debir. Now Debir was formerly called Kiriath-sepher.

<sup>16</sup> Caleb said, "To the man who attacks and captures Kiriath-sepher I will give Acsah my daughter as a wife."

<sup>17</sup> So Othniel the son of Kenaz, the brother of Caleb, captured it and Caleb gave him Acsah his daughter as a wife.

<sup>18</sup> When she came to him, she urged him to ask her father for a field. When she got off her donkey Caleb asked, "What do you want?"

<sup>19</sup> She replied, "Do me a favor since you have given me land in the Negev, give me some springs of water as well." So he gave her the upper and lower springs.

<sup>21</sup> The towns of the tribe of Judah farthest to the south by the border of Edom were

- <sup>49</sup> Dannah, Kiriath-sannah (that is, Debir),
<sup>54</sup> Humtah, Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron), and Zior; nine towns with their villages.
<sup>56</sup> Jezreel, Jokdeam, Zanoah,
- <sup>61</sup> In the wilderness: Beth-arabah, Middin, Secacah, <sup>62</sup> Nibshan, and the City of Salt, and Engedi; six towns with their villages.
<sup>63</sup> But the people of Judah were not able to drive out the Jebusites, the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so the Jebusites live with the people of Judah in Jerusalem to this day.

Joshua 16

<sup>1</sup> The land allotment for the descendants of Joseph extended from the Jordan River by Jericho, east of the waters of Jericho, through the wilderness, going up from Jericho through the hill country to Bethel.

<sup>2</sup> It went out from Bethel (that is, Luz), and passed along to the border of the Arkites at Ataroth,

<sup>7</sup> It went down from Janoah to Ataroth and Naarah, and touched Jericho, then ended at the Jordan River.

<sup>8</sup> From Tappuah the border went westward to Wadi Kanah; and ended at the sea. This is the inheritance of the tribe of Ephraimites according to their clans.

<sup>9</sup> It also included the towns that were set apart for the Ephraimites within the inheritance of the Manassehites, all those towns with their villages.

<sup>10</sup> They did not drive out the Canaanites who lived in Gezer, so the Canaanites live within Ephraim to this day, and do forced labor as their servants.

Joshua 17

<sup>1</sup> This was the land allotment for the tribe of Manasseh; for he was Joseph's firstborn. As for Makir the firstborn of Manasseh, the father of Gilead, because he was a warrior, he received Gilead and Bashan.

<sup>2</sup> So this was the allotment for the rest of the descendants of Manasseh according to their clans: Abiezer, Helek, Asriel, Shechem, Hephher, Shemida. These were the male descendants of Manasseh the son of Joseph according to their clans.

<sup>3</sup> Now Zelophehad, the son of Hephher, the son of Gilead, the son of Makir, the son of Manasseh, had no sons, but only daughters. These are the names of his daughters: Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah and Tirzah.

<sup>4</sup> They came before Eleazar the priest, Joshua the son of Nun and the leaders, saying, "The LORD commanded Moses to give us an inheritance among our male relatives." So, according to the commandment of the LORD, he gave them an inheritance among their uncles.

<sup>8</sup> The land of Tappuah belonged to Manasseh; but the town of Tappuah on the border of Manasseh belonged to the Ephraimites.

<sup>9</sup> From there the border descended southward to the Kanah Ravine. The towns south of the brook belonged to Ephraim although they were among the towns of Manasseh. The border of Manasseh was on the north side of the brook and ended at the Mediterranean Sea.

<sup>10</sup> Ephraim's territory was to the south, and Manasseh's was on the north. The sea was Manasseh's western border; and it extended to Asher on the north, and over to Issachar on the east.

<sup>11</sup> In Issachar and in Asher, however, Manasseh was allotted Bethshean, Ibleam, the inhabitants of Dor, Endor, Taanach and Megiddo each with their villages, the third was Naphath.

<sup>12</sup> Yet the descendants of Manasseh could not conquer those towns; so the Canaanites continued to live in that land.

<sup>13</sup> Whenever the Israelites grew strong, they put the Canaanites to forced labor, but they did not totally drive them out.

<sup>14</sup> Then the descendants of Joseph questioned Joshua, "Why have you given us only one tribal portion for an inheritance, especially seeing the LORD has blessed us with so many people?"

<sup>15</sup> Joshua replied to them, "If you have so many people, get up to the forest and clear land for yourself there in the land of the Perizzites and Rephaites; since the hill country of Ephraim is too small for you."

<sup>16</sup> But the descendants of Joseph responded, "The hill country is not enough for us, and all the Canaanites who live in the plain have iron chariots, both those who live in Bethshean and its villages, and those in the valley of Jezreel."

<sup>17</sup> So Joshua acquiesced to the house of Joseph, both to Ephraim and to Manasseh, saying, "You have many people and great military might. You will not have just one tribal portion <sup>18</sup> but the hill country will be yours; for though it is a forest, you will clear it and the total extent of it will be yours; for you will drive out the Canaanites, even though they have iron chariots and are strong."

Joshua 18

<sup>1</sup> The whole congregation of the Israelites assembled at Shiloh and set up the Tent of Meeting there. The land was subdued under their control.

<sup>2</sup> There remained among the Israelites seven tribes that had not yet been allotted their land inheritance.

<sup>3</sup> Then Joshua said to the Israelites, "How long are you waiting before going in to possess the land, the LORD, the God of your forefathers, has given you?"

<sup>4</sup> Select three men from each tribe, and I will send them out and they will get up and walk through the land, and write up a description according to each of their land inheritances. Then they will return back to me.

<sup>5</sup> They will split it up into seven portions. Judah will stay in his territory in the south and the house of Joseph will stay in their territory in the north.

<sup>6</sup> Write up descriptions of the land into seven regions, and bring the description back here to me; and I will cast lots for you here before the LORD our God.

<sup>7</sup> For the Levites have no portion among you; for the priesthood of the LORD is their inheritance. Gad, Reuben and the half-tribe of Manasseh have received their land inheritance east of the Jordan River, which Moses, the servant of the LORD, gave them."

<sup>8</sup> So the men got up and went. Joshua charged those who went to map out the land, saying, "Go and walk through the land, and write up a description of it, then come back to me; and I will cast lots for you here before the LORD in Shiloh."

<sup>9</sup> The men went and explored the land, and wrote a description of it by town into seven regions on a scroll. Then they came back to Joshua at the camp in Shiloh.

<sup>11</sup> The lot of the tribe of Benjamin came up according to their clans. Their territorial allotment was between the tribes of Judah and Joseph.

<sup>12</sup> Their border on the north side was from the Jordan River and went up north of Jericho, and went west through the hill country and ended at the wilderness of Beth-aven.

<sup>13</sup> From there the border crossed over to Luz, then it went to the south of Luz (that is, Bethel), then the border went down to Ataroth-addar, by the hill on the south of Lower Beth-horon.

<sup>15</sup> The south side was from the outskirts of Kiriath-jearim and went west, to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah.

<sup>16</sup> The border descended to the base of the hill that overlooks the Hinnom Valley, that is north of the Rephaim Valley. From there it went down to the Hinnom, to the south side of the Jebusites, down to En-rogel.

<sup>17</sup> It extended northward to En-shemesh, and then went out to Geliloth, which is opposite the Ascent of Adummim. Then it went down to the Stone of Bohan, the son of Reuben.

<sup>18</sup> It passed along to the north side overlooking the Arabah, and descended into the Arabah.

<sup>20</sup> The Jordan River was the border on the east side. This was the land inheritance of the tribe of Benjamin, by its borders according to their clans.

Joshua 19

<sup>1</sup> The second lot came out for the tribe of Simeon according to their clans. Their land inheritance was in the midst of the inheritance of the tribe of Judah.

<sup>8</sup> and all the villages around these towns as far as Baalath-beer, Ramah of the Negev. This was the land inheritance of the tribe of Simeon according to their clans.

<sup>9</sup> The land inheritance of the tribe of Simeon was taken out of part of the tribe of Judah because the portion of the tribe of Judah was too much for them. Therefore the tribe of Simeon was assigned land in the midst of the territory of Judah.

<sup>12</sup> From Sarid it turned to the east to the border of Kisloth-tabor and on to Daberath, and then up to Japhia.

<sup>16</sup> This was the land inheritance of the tribe of Zebulun according to their clans, including these towns with their villages.

<sup>23</sup> This was the land inheritance of the tribe of Issachar according to their clans, including these towns with their villages.

<sup>27</sup> Then it turned east to Beth-dagon, and extended to Zebulun, and the Valley of Iphtah-el, it went north to Beth-emek and Neiel; and then proceeded north to Cabul,

<sup>31</sup> This is the land inheritance of the tribe of Asher according to their clans, including these towns with their villages.

<sup>32</sup> The sixth lot came out for the tribe of Naphtali, according to their clans.

<sup>39</sup> This is the land inheritance of the tribe of Naphtali according to their clans, including the towns with their villages.

<sup>47</sup> They were unable to conquer the territory assigned to the tribe of Dan. So the tribe of Dan went up and fought against Leshem, took it, and put it to the edge of the sword, and possessed it. They lived there, and called Leshem, Dan, after the name of Dan their forefather.

<sup>48</sup> This is the land inheritance of the tribe of Dan according to their clans, including these towns with their villages.

<sup>49</sup> So they made an end of distributing the land for inheritance by its borders; and the Israelites gave a land inheritance to Joshua the son of Nun among them.

<sup>50</sup> As the LORD had commanded, they gave him the town he had asked for, Timnath-serah, in the hill country of Ephraim. He rebuilt the town and lived there.

<sup>51</sup> These are the land inheritances Eleazar the priest, Joshua the son of Nun and the tribal leaders of the Israelites assigned by lot at Shiloh in the presence of the LORD, at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. So they finished dividing up the land.

<sup>2</sup> "Tell the Israelites, 'Assign the cities of refuge, that I told you about through Moses, <sup>3</sup> so that anyone who kills someone accidentally or unintentionally may flee there and find refuge from the avenger of blood.

<sup>4</sup> He may flee to one of those cities, and stand at the entrance of the city gate, and present his case in the ears of the city elders. They should take him into the city and give him a place to stay, and he will live among them.

<sup>5</sup> If the avenger of blood pursues him, then they should not hand the one accused of the death over to him because he killed his neighbor accidentally without premeditated malice.

<sup>6</sup> He shall live in that city until he is tried before the assembly and until the death of the high priest during those days. Then the accused will be allowed to return to his own town, and to his own house in the town from which he fled."

<sup>7</sup> So they designated Kedesh in Galilee in the hill country of Naphtali, Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim, and Kiriath-arba (that is Hebron) in the hill country of Judah.

<sup>8</sup> Beyond the Jordan River east of Jericho, they assigned Bezer in the wilderness on the plain from the tribe of Reuben, Ramoth in Gilead from the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Bashan from the tribe of Manasseh.

<sup>9</sup> These were the appointed cities for all the Israelites, and for the foreigner who resides among them, so that whoever kills someone accidentally might flee there, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he has a trial before the assembly.

Joshua 21

<sup>1</sup> Then the family heads of the Levites came to Eleazar the priest, Joshua the son of Nun and to the family heads of the tribes of the Israelites.

<sup>3</sup> So the Israelites gave the Levites out of their land inheritance, according to the commandment of the LORD, these towns with their surrounding pasturelands.

<sup>5</sup> The rest of the descendants of Kohath were assigned by lot ten towns from the clans of the tribes of Ephraim, Dan and the half-tribe of Manasseh.

<sup>7</sup> The descendants of Merari according to their clans were assigned twelve towns from the tribes of Reuben, Gad and Zebulun.

<sup>9</sup> They allotted from the tribe of the descendants of Judah and Simeon, these cities mentioned by name here.

<sup>12</sup> But the fields of the town and its villages, they gave to Caleb the son of Jephunneh as his possession.

<sup>13</sup> So to the descendants of Aaron the priest they gave Hebron with its pasturelands, the city of refuge for those who accidentally killed someone, and Libnah with its pasturelands,

<sup>21</sup> They gave them Shechem with its pasturelands in the hill country of Ephraim, the city of refuge for those who accidentally kill someone, Gezer,

<sup>27</sup> The Gershonite clans of the Levites were assigned from the half-tribe of Manasseh: Golan in Bashan with its pasturelands, the city of refuge for those who accidentally kill someone, and Beeshterah with its pasturelands; two towns.

<sup>33</sup> There were thirteen towns and their pasturelands for the Gershonites according to their clans.

<sup>40</sup> There were twelve towns assigned to the rest of the Levites, the clans of Merari.

<sup>41</sup> There were forty-eight towns and their pasturelands assigned to the Levites within the territory of the Israelites.

<sup>42</sup> Each of these towns had their surrounding pasturelands. It was the same for all these towns.

<sup>43</sup> So the LORD gave to Israel all the land he had sworn to give to their forefathers; and they possessed it, and settled there.

<sup>44</sup> The LORD gave them rest on every side just as he had sworn to their forefathers, not one of all their enemies was able to resist them, for the LORD had given all their enemies into their hand.

<sup>45</sup> Not one of the good promises the LORD had made to the house of Israel remained unfulfilled, everything came true.

Joshua 22

<sup>2</sup> and said to them, "You have kept all that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, and have also obeyed everything I have commanded you.

<sup>3</sup> You have not abandoned your brothers all during this time even to this day, but have been careful to keep the charge the LORD your God gave you.

<sup>4</sup> Now the LORD your God has given rest to your brothers, just as he promised them, now, therefore, turn and go to your tents in the land of your possession, that Moses, the servant of the LORD, gave you on the other side of the Jordan River.

<sup>5</sup> But be very careful to do the commandment and the law that Moses, the servant of the LORD, commanded you, to love the LORD your God, to walk in all his ways, to obey his commandments, to hold tightly to him and to serve him with all your heart and all your soul."

<sup>6</sup> So Joshua blessed them, and sent them away; and they went to their homes.

<sup>7</sup> Now Moses had given Bashan to the half-tribe of Manasseh; but to the other half Joshua had given land with their brothers on the west side of the Jordan River. When Joshua sent them away to their homes, he blessed them,

<sup>8</sup> and spoke to them, saying, "Return home to your tents with much wealth and with much cattle, silver, gold, bronze, iron and a lot of clothing. Split up the spoil of your enemies with your brothers."

<sup>9</sup> So the Reubenites, Gadites and half-tribe of Manasseh returned, and left the Israelites at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, to go to the land of Gilead, their own land, which they had acquired by the LORD's commandment through Moses.

<sup>10</sup> When they came to Geliloth near the Jordan River in the land of Canaan, the Reubenites and Gadites and half-tribe of Manasseh built a very large altar there by the Jordan River.

<sup>12</sup> When the Israelites heard about it, the whole Israelite community gathered together at Shiloh, to go up to war against them.

<sup>13</sup> The children of Israel sent Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the priest, to the Reubenites, Gadites and half-tribe of Manasseh in the land of Gilead.

<sup>14</sup> He was accompanied by ten leaders, one from each of the tribal families of Israel, every one of them was a family leader of their clan among Israel.

<sup>15</sup> They came to the Reubenites, Gadites, and half-tribe of Manasseh, in the land of Gilead, and they spoke with them, saying,

<sup>16</sup> "This is what the whole community of the LORD says, 'What is this treachery that you have committed against the God of Israel, by turning away from following the LORD, by building an altar for yourselves in rebellion against the LORD this day?

<sup>17</sup> Was the sin at Peor not bad enough for us? To this day we have not been cleansed from that sin, even though a plague came on the community of the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> Yet now are you still turning away from following the LORD? If you rebel today against the LORD, tomorrow he will be angry with the whole community of Israel.

<sup>19</sup> But now, if the land of your possession is unclean, then cross over to the LORD's land, where the LORD's tabernacle is located, and settle down among us. But do not rebel against the LORD, or us by building another altar besides the sanctioned altar of the LORD our God.

<sup>20</sup> Did not Achan the son of Zerah commit sin concerning the devoted things, and wrath fell on the whole community of Israel? He was not the only one who died for his sin."

<sup>21</sup> Then the Reubenites, Gadites and half-tribe of Manasseh answered, the leaders of the clans of Israel, <sup>22</sup> "The Mighty One, God, the LORD, the Mighty One, God, the LORD, he knows the truth and may Israel know it also. If it is rebellion or treachery against the LORD, do not spare us today.

<sup>23</sup> If we have built an altar to turn away from following the LORD or if to offer on it burnt offerings, grain offerings or peace offerings, then may the LORD himself punish us.

<sup>24</sup> No, we did this because we feared that in the future your children would say to our children, 'What do you have to do with the LORD, the God of Israel?

<sup>25</sup> The LORD has made the Jordan River a boundary between us and you, Reubenites and Gadites. You have no portion in the LORD.' So your children might force our children to stop fearing the LORD."

<sup>26</sup> Therefore we thought, 'Let us build an altar, not for a burnt offering, or for sacrifice;

<sup>27</sup> but as a memorial between us and you, and between our generations after us, that we may worship the LORD at his sanctuary with our burnt offerings, sacrifices and peace offerings. So that your children may not say to our children in time to come, 'You have no part in the worship of the LORD.'

<sup>28</sup> Therefore we said, 'It will be, when they say to us or to our descendants in the future, that we will respond, "Look the pattern of the altar of the LORD our fathers made, not for burnt offering or sacrifice, but as a reminder between us and you."

<sup>29</sup> There is no way we want to rebel against the LORD, and turn away today from following the LORD, or to build an altar for burnt offering, grain offering or sacrifice in place of the altar of the LORD our God that is located at his tabernacle."

<sup>30</sup> When Phinehas the priest, and the leaders of the community, the leaders of the clans of Israel that were with him, heard the defense of Reubenites, Gadites and Manassites, they were satisfied.

<sup>31</sup> Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest said to the Reubenites, Gadites and Manassites, "This day we know that the LORD is in the midst of us, because you have not committed this treachery against the LORD. Now you have rescued the Israelites from the LORD's hand of judgment."

<sup>32</sup> Then Phinehas the son of Eleazar, the priest, and the leaders left the Reubenites and Gadites, from the land of Gilead, and returned to the land of Canaan, and brought back a report to the Israelites.

<sup>33</sup> The matter pleased the Israelites and they praised God. They said no more about going up against them in war, to destroy the land where the Reubenites and Gadites lived.

<sup>34</sup> So the Reubenites and Gadites called the altar "Witness" for they said, "It is a witness between us that the LORD is God."

Joshua 23

<sup>1</sup> A long time after the LORD had given rest to Israel from all their enemies, Joshua was old and well on in years.

<sup>2</sup> Joshua summoned all Israel, including their elders, leaders, judges and officers, and said to them, "I am old and well on in years.

<sup>3</sup> You have seen all that the LORD your God did to all these nations because of you, for it was the LORD your God who fought for you.

<sup>4</sup> Look, I have assigned you your tribal inheritances from these nations that are remaining along with the nations that I have conquered, from the Jordan River all the way over to the Great Sea in the west.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD your God will push them out before you and drive them out of your sight. You will possess their land as the LORD your God promised you.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore be careful to obey and do everything that is written in the scroll of the law of Moses, so that you do not turn aside from it to the right or to the left, <sup>7</sup> so that you are not mixed in with these nations that remain among you. Make no mention of the names of their gods, or swear by them, serve or bow down to them.

<sup>8</sup> But hold tight to the LORD your God, as you have done to this day.

<sup>9</sup> For the LORD has driven out before you great and mighty nations; but as for you, no one has been able to resist you to this day.

<sup>10</sup> One of you will chase a thousand; for the LORD your God, he is fighting for you, just as he told you he would.

<sup>11</sup> Make sure that you love the LORD your God.

<sup>12</sup> But if you turn back and ally with the survivors of these nations who remain among you, and intermarry with them,

<sup>13</sup> know for sure that the LORD your God will no longer drive out these nations before you but they will be a snare and a trap to you, a whip tearing into your sides, and thorns in your eyes, until you perish from this good land the LORD your God has given you.

<sup>14</sup> Look, today I am about to go the way of all the earth; you know with all your hearts and souls, that not one thing of all the good promises the LORD your God spoke concerning you has been left unfulfilled. Everything has been accomplished, not one thing has been left unfulfilled.

<sup>15</sup> But just as all the good things the LORD your God has promised you have been accomplished, so the LORD will bring on you all the disastrous things, until he has destroyed you from this good land the LORD your God has given you.

<sup>16</sup> If you break the covenant of the LORD your God, which he commanded you, and go and serve other gods, and bow down to them, then the anger of the LORD will be sparked against you, and you will quickly perish from the good land he has given to you."

Joshua 24

<sup>1</sup> Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel to Shechem, and summoned the elders, leaders, judges and officers of Israel; and they presented themselves before God.

<sup>2</sup> Joshua said to all the people, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Long ago your forefathers, Terah, the father of Abraham and Nahor, lived beyond the Euphrates River. They served other gods.

<sup>3</sup> But I took your father Abraham from beyond the Euphrates River, and led him through all the land of Canaan, and made his descendants many. I gave him Isaac.

<sup>4</sup> To Isaac, I gave Jacob and Esau. I gave to Esau Mount Seir to possess, but Jacob and his children went down into Egypt.

<sup>5</sup> Then I sent Moses and Aaron, and I plagued Egypt by what I did in the midst of it and afterward I brought you out.

<sup>6</sup> I brought your fathers out of Egypt and you came to the sea; and the Egyptians pursued after your fathers with chariots and horsemen to the Red Sea.

<sup>7</sup> When they cried out to the LORD, he put darkness between you and the Egyptians, and brought the sea over top of them and covered them. Your eyes saw what I did in Egypt and you lived in the wilderness a long time.

<sup>8</sup> I brought you into the land of the Amorites, that lived east of the Jordan River and they fought against you. I handed them over to you and you took possession of their land, and I destroyed them before you.

<sup>9</sup> Then Balak, the son of Zippor, king of Moab, prepared and fought against Israel. He sent and summoned Balaam the son of Beor to curse you, <sup>10</sup> but I would not listen to Balaam. Instead he blessed you and in this way I rescued you from his hand.

<sup>11</sup> You crossed over the Jordan River, and came to Jericho. The people of Jericho fought against you, as did the Amorites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hittites, Gergashites, Hivites and Jebusites and I handed them over to you.

<sup>12</sup> I sent terror ahead of you to drive out the two kings of the Amorites. It was not done by your sword or bow.

<sup>13</sup> I gave you a land that you have not worked on, and towns you did not build, yet you are living there; I gave you fruit to eat from vineyards and olive groves, yet you did not plant them.'

<sup>14</sup> Now, therefore, fear the LORD, and serve him in sincerity and truth. Put away the gods your fathers served beyond the Euphrates River and in Egypt, and serve the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> If it seems offensive for you to serve the LORD, choose you this day whom you will serve; whether the gods your fathers served that were beyond the Euphrates River, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land you are living. But as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD."

<sup>16</sup> The people responded, "There is no way that we will forsake the LORD, to serve other gods;

<sup>17</sup> for the LORD our God, he is the one who brought us and our fathers up out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and performed those great miracles in our sight. He protected us whichever way we went, and among whatever peoples we passed through.

<sup>18</sup> The LORD drove out before us all the peoples, including the Amorites who lived in the land. Therefore we too will serve the LORD, for he is our God."

<sup>19</sup> Then Joshua warned the people, "You cannot serve the LORD; for he is a holy God. He is a jealous God and he will not forgive your rebellion or your sins.

<sup>20</sup> If you forsake the LORD, and serve foreign gods, then he will turn and do you harm, and will consume you, even after having done you good."

<sup>21</sup> The people answered Joshua, "No; we will serve the LORD."

<sup>22</sup> Then Joshua said to the people, "You are witnesses against yourselves that you have chosen to serve the LORD." They affirmed, "We are witnesses."

<sup>23</sup> "Now then," Joshua said, "Put away the foreign gods that are among you and focus your heart on the LORD, the God of Israel."

<sup>24</sup> The people swore to Joshua, "We will serve the LORD our God and we will obey his voice."

<sup>25</sup> So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day at Shechem, and established rules and regulations for them.

<sup>26</sup> Then Joshua wrote these words in the Law Scroll of God; and he took a great stone, and set it up under the oak that was by the sanctuary of the LORD.

<sup>27</sup> Joshua said to all the people, "Look, this stone will be a witness against us; for it has heard all the words of the LORD which he spoke to us. Therefore it will be a witness against you, if you deny your God."

<sup>28</sup> So Joshua sent the people away, every man to his own land inheritance.

<sup>29</sup> After these things, Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, died, being a 110 years old.

<sup>30</sup> They buried him in the territory of his inheritance in Timnath-serah, in the hill country of Ephraim, on the north of Mount Gaash.

<sup>31</sup> Israel served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that outlived Joshua, who had personally known everything the LORD had done for Israel.

<sup>32</sup> The bones of Joseph, which the Israelites brought up out of Egypt, were buried at Shechem, in the parcel of ground Jacob bought from the sons of Hamor the father of Shechem for a 100 pieces of silver. It became the land inheritance of the descendants of Joseph.

JUDGES DASV*DASV: Judges 1

<sup>1</sup> After the death of Joshua, the Israelites asked the LORD, "Who will go up first for us to attack the Canaanites?"

<sup>2</sup> Then the LORD answered, "Judah will go up. I am handing over the land to him."

<sup>3</sup> Judah urged Simeon his brother, "Come up with me into my territorial allotment, that we may fight against the Canaanites; then I will go with you into your assigned territory." So Simeon went with him.

<sup>6</sup> But Adoni-bezek escaped and they chased him down and caught him. They cut off his thumbs and his big toes.

<sup>7</sup> Adoni-bezek said, "Seventy kings, who had their thumbs and big toes cut off, picked up scraps under my table; so God has paid me back for what I have done." They brought him to Jerusalem, and he died there.

<sup>8</sup> Then the children of Judah fought against Jerusalem, and took it. They put it to the sword and set the city on fire.

<sup>10</sup> Judah attacked the Canaanites who lived in Hebron. Hebron was formerly called, Kiriath-arba. They defeated Sheshai, Ahiman and Talmi.

<sup>12</sup> Caleb said, "To the one who attacks and captures Kiriath-sepher, I will give Achsah my daughter as a wife."

<sup>13</sup> Othniel, the son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother, took it. So he gave him Achsah his daughter as a wife.

<sup>14</sup> After she married him she urged him to ask her father for a field. She dismounted her donkey; and Caleb said to her, "What would you like?"

<sup>15</sup> She answered him, "Give me a special gift, since you have already given me land in the Negev, give me springs of water too." So Caleb gave her the upper and lower springs.

<sup>16</sup> The descendants of the Kenite, Moses' father-in-law, went up from the city of palm trees, that is Jericho, with the people of Judah into the wilderness of Judah, south near Arad. They went and settled there with the people.

<sup>17</sup> Now Judah went with Simeon his brother, and they defeated the Canaanites who lived in Zephath, and totally destroyed it. So the name of the city was called Hormah [Destruction].

<sup>20</sup> They gave Hebron to Caleb, as Moses had promised, and he drove out of it the three sons of Anak.

<sup>21</sup> The Benjaminites did not drive out the Jebusites who lived in Jerusalem; but the Jebusites live with the Benjaminites in Jerusalem to this day.

<sup>22</sup> The house of Joseph attacked Bethel; and the LORD was with them.

<sup>24</sup> The spies saw a man come out of the town, and they said to him, "Show us how to get into the town, and we will treat you well."

<sup>26</sup> The man went to the land of the Hittites, and built a town, and called its name Luz, which is its name to this day.

<sup>27</sup> But Manasseh failed to drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shan, Taanach, Dor, Ibleam, Megiddo and their surrounding towns for the Canaanites remained in that region.

<sup>30</sup> Zebulun did not drive out the inhabitants of Kitron or Nahalol, but the Canaanites lived among them, but were compelled into forced labor.

<sup>32</sup> but the Asherites lived among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land; for they failed to drive them out.

<sup>33</sup> Naphtali did not drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh, or Beth-anath; but they lived among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land. Nevertheless the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh and Beth-anath became subject to forced labor.

<sup>34</sup> The Amorites forced the children of Dan into the hill country. They would not allow them to come down to the coastal plain.

<sup>35</sup> But the Amorites were persistent in staying in Mount Heres, Aijalon and in Shaalbim. Yet when the house of Joseph prevailed, they became subject to forced labor.

Judges 2

<sup>1</sup> Now the angel of the LORD went up from Gilgal to Bochim. He said, "I brought you out of Egypt into the land I swore to give to your forefathers, and I said, 'I will never break my covenant with you.

<sup>2</sup> You are not to make any covenant with the inhabitants of this land; you are to break down their altars.' But you have not obeyed my voice. Why did you do this?

<sup>3</sup> So now I declare, I will not drive them out before you. They will be thorns in your sides, and their gods will be a snare to you."

<sup>5</sup> So they named that place Bochim [weeping], and they sacrificed there to the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> After Joshua had sent the people away, the Israelites went each person to his inheritance to possess the land.

<sup>7</sup> The people served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that outlived Joshua, who had seen all the great work the LORD had done for Israel.

<sup>8</sup> Then Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, died being 110 years old.

<sup>10</sup> All that generation was gathered to their fathers. Then another generation arose after them, that did not know the LORD, or the mighty deeds he had done for Israel.

<sup>12</sup> They abandoned the LORD, the God of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed other gods, the gods of the peoples around them. They bowed down to them and provoked the LORD to anger.

<sup>14</sup> So the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he handed them over to the looters who plundered them. He sold them into the hands of their enemies all around, so that they could no longer resist their enemies.

<sup>15</sup> Whenever they went out to battle, the hand of the LORD was against them for ill, as the LORD had warned and sworn to them. They were severely distressed.

<sup>16</sup> The LORD raised up judges, who delivered them out of the hand of those who plundered them.

<sup>17</sup> Yet they did not listen to their judges, but prostituted themselves after other gods, and bowed down to them. They quickly turned aside from the way in which their forefathers had walked, in obeying the commandments of the LORD, but they did not do so.

<sup>18</sup> Whenever the LORD raised up judges for them, the LORD was with the judge and rescued them out of the hands of their enemies all the days of that judge. For the LORD had pity on them when they groaned because of those who oppressed and abused them.

<sup>19</sup> But when the judge died, they turned back and were more corrupt than their fathers, following other gods, serving them and bowing down to them. Yet they refused to abandon their evil practices and their stubborn ways.

<sup>20</sup> The anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel; and he said, "Because this nation has violated my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and have not obeyed my voice;

<sup>21</sup> I also will no longer drive out the nations before them that Joshua left when he died, <sup>22</sup> so that I may test Israel and see whether they will follow the way of the LORD as their fathers did or not.

Judges 3

<sup>7</sup> So the Israelites did evil in the sight of the LORD, and forgot the LORD their God, and served the Baals and Asherahs.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he sold them into the hand of Cushan-rishathaim king of Aram-naharaim, and the Israelites served Cushan-rishathaim eight years.

<sup>9</sup> But when the Israelites cried out to the LORD, the LORD raised up a deliverer for the Israelites, who rescued them, one such was Othniel the son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother.

<sup>10</sup> The Spirit of the LORD came on him, and he judged Israel and went to war. Then the LORD handed Cushan-rishathaim king of Aram over to him and he prevailed over Cushan-rishathaim.

<sup>11</sup> The land had rest forty years. Then Othniel the son of Kenaz died.

<sup>12</sup> The Israelites again did evil in the sight of the LORD. So the LORD strengthened Eglon the king of Moab against Israel, because they had done evil in the sight of the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> When Ehud finished presenting the tribute, he sent away the people who actually carried the tribute.

<sup>19</sup> But he turned back once he had reached the stone idols by Gilgal, and told Eglon, "I have a secret message for you, O king." Eglon demanded, "Silence!" So all his attendants left him.

<sup>20</sup> Ehud approached him while he was sitting alone in the cool upper room. Ehud declared, "I have a message from God for you." When King Eglon rose from his seat,

<sup>22</sup> The handle also went in after the blade; and the fat closed in around the blade. Ehud did not draw the sword out of his body and excrement came out.

<sup>23</sup> Then Ehud went out into the porch, and shut and locked the doors of the upper room after him.

<sup>24</sup> After Ehud had gone out, the king's servants came and saw the locked doors of the upper room and they concluded, "He must be relieving himself in the well-ventilated chamber."

<sup>25</sup> So they waited until they were embarrassed. When he still did not open the doors of the upper room, they took the key, and opened them. There they found their lord lying dead on the floor.

<sup>26</sup> But Ehud escaped while they were waiting, and passed by the stone idols and escaped to Seirah.

<sup>27</sup> When he arrived in the hill country of Ephraim he blew a trumpet and the Israelites went down with him from the hill country, with Ehud leading them.

<sup>28</sup> Now he ordered them, "Follow me, for the LORD has delivered your enemies the Moabites into your hand." So they went down after him, and captured the fords of the Jordan River across from Moab, and did not allow anyone to cross over.

<sup>29</sup> That day they killed about ten thousand men of Moab, all strong, valiant warriors; no one escaped.

<sup>30</sup> So that day Moab was subdued under the hand of Israel. Then the land had rest eighty years.

<sup>5</sup> She would sit under the Palm of Deborah between Ramah and Bethel in the hill country of Ephraim and the Israelites would come to her for judgment.

<sup>6</sup> She sent and summoned Barak the son of Abinoam from Kedesh in Naphtali, and told him, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, commands you: 'Go and proceed to Mount Tabor, taking 10,000 men from the tribes of Naphtali and Zebulun with you.

<sup>7</sup> I will draw Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, to the Kishon River, with his chariots and his troops. There I will hand him over to you.'"

<sup>8</sup> But Barak said to her, "If you go with me, then I will go, but if you will not go with me, I will not go."

<sup>9</sup> Then she said, "I will certainly go with you. Nevertheless, the path you have taken will not result in your being honored; for the LORD will hand Sisera over to a woman." Then Deborah got up and went with Barak to Kedesh.

<sup>10</sup> Barak summoned Zebulun and Naphtali together to Kedesh, and 10,000 men followed him. Deborah went with him as well.

<sup>11</sup> Now Heber the Kenite had separated himself from the other Kenites, the descendants of Hobab the brother-in-law of Moses, and had pitched his tent as far away as the oak in Zaananim near Kedesh.

<sup>12</sup> When Sisera was told that Barak the son of Abinoam had gone up to Mount Tabor, <sup>13</sup> Sisera gathered together all his nine hundred iron chariots, and all the troops who were with him, from Harosheth-haggoyim, to the Kishon River.

<sup>14</sup> Then Deborah said to Barak, "Get up, for this is the day the LORD will hand Sisera over to you. Is not the LORD leading before you?" So Barak went down from Mount Tabor with 10,000 men following him.

<sup>16</sup> But Barak chased after the chariots, and after the army to Harosheth-haggoyim. All of Sisera's army fell by the edge of the sword. No one survived.

<sup>17</sup> Now Sisera fled on foot to the tent of Jael, the wife of Heber the Kenite, for there was peace between Jabin the king of Hazor and the family of Heber the Kenite.

<sup>18</sup> Jael went out to meet Sisera, and said to him, "Turn aside, my lord, come in; don't be afraid." So he turned aside and entered her tent, and she covered him with a blanket.

<sup>19</sup> Then he said to her, "Please, give me a little water to drink, for I am thirsty." She opened a skin of milk, gave him a drink, and covered him up.

<sup>20</sup> He said to her, "Stand at the entrance of the tent. If anyone comes and asks you, 'Is there anyone here?' say, 'No.'"

<sup>21</sup> Then Jael, Heber's wife, took a tent peg and hammer in her hand, and crept quietly up to him for he was in a deep sleep exhausted. She drove the peg through his temples straight through to the ground. So he died.

<sup>22</sup> Now when Barak was chasing Sisera, Jael came out to meet him, and said to him, "Come, and I will show you the man you are looking for." So he went with her; and there lay Sisera dead, with the tent peg through his temples.

<sup>23</sup> So on that day God subdued Jabin the king of Canaan before the Israelites.

<sup>24</sup> The hand of the Israelites pressed harder and harder against Jabin the king of Canaan, until they finally destroyed him.

Judges 5

- <sup>1</sup> Then Deborah and Barak the son of Abinoam sang on that day, saying, <sup>2</sup> "When the leaders took the lead in Israel, when the people willingly volunteered,
    Praise the LORD!
<sup>3</sup> Listen, O kings; give ear, O rulers!
    I will sing to the LORD,
    I will sing praise to the LORD, the God of Israel.
- <sup>4</sup> O LORD, when you went out from Seir, when you marched from the field of Edom,
    the earth trembled, the heavens rained hard,
    Yes, the clouds poured down water.
<sup>5</sup> The mountains quaked at the presence of the LORD, the One of Sinai, before the LORD, the God of Israel.
<sup>6</sup> In the days of Shamgar the son of Anath, in the days of Jael,
    the main highways were abandoned,
    and the travelers snuck around on side paths.
<sup>7</sup> The villagers were scarce in Israel, they waned, until I, Deborah, arose,
    a mother in Israel.
<sup>8</sup> When they chose new gods;
    then war erupted in the town gates,
    Yet was there not a shield or spear found among forty thousand in Israel?
<sup>9</sup> My heart went out to the commanders of Israel, who offered themselves willingly for war.
    Praise the LORD.
<sup>10</sup> Tell of it, you who ride on royal white donkeys, you who sit on flashy saddle blankets, and you who walk down the road.
<sup>11</sup> Listen to the sound of the musicians at places for drawing water, there they rehearse the righteous triumphs of the LORD,
    the righteous victories of his warriors in Israel.
    Then the people of the LORD went down to the town gates.
<sup>12</sup> Wake up, wake up, Deborah.
    Wake up, wake up and sing a song.
    Arise, Barak, and lead away your captives, O son of Abinoam.
<sup>13</sup> Then the survivors came down to the nobles and the people of the LORD came down to me as warriors.

- <sup>14</sup> From Ephraim they came down whose root was in Amalek, they followed you, Benjamin, with your soldiers;
from Makir leaders came down, from Zebulun, they who carry the commander's staff.
- <sup>15</sup> The leaders of Issachar were with Deborah, Issachar was with Barak.
Into the valley they rushed out on his heels.
Among the clans of Reuben there was deep heart searching.
- <sup>16</sup> Why do you stay among the sheepfolds, to listen to the shepherds piping for the flocks?
Among the clans of Reuben there was deep heart searching.
- <sup>17</sup> Gilead stayed beyond the Jordan, and Dan, why did he remain with the ships?
Asher sat still at the coast of the sea, staying by his harbors.
- <sup>18</sup> Zebulun is a people that risked their lives to death, as did Naphtali, on the heights of the battle field.
- <sup>19</sup> Kings came and fought.
Then the kings of Canaan fought,
at Taanach by the waters of Megiddo, yet they carried off no silver plunder.
- <sup>20</sup> From heaven the stars fought,
from their heavenly paths they fought against Sisera.
- <sup>21</sup> The river Kishon swept them away, that ancient river, the river Kishon.
March on my soul, with strength.
- <sup>22</sup> Then the horses' hooves stomped, galloping, galloping on Sisera's mighty war horses.
- <sup>23</sup> 'Curse Meroz,' cried the angel of the LORD.
'Curse bitterly its inhabitants,
because they did not come to help the LORD,
to help the LORD against the mighty.'
- <sup>24</sup> Blessed above women be Jael, the wife of Heber the Kenite;
blessed may she be above women in the tent.
- <sup>25</sup> He asked her for water, and she gave him milk, she brought him curds in a bowl fit for a prince.
- <sup>26</sup> She put her hand to the tent peg, her right hand to the workmen's hammer;
and with the hammer she struck Sisera,
she smashed his head;
Yes, she pierced and drove it through his temples.
- <sup>27</sup> At her feet he sank, he fell, he lay limp; between her feet he sank, he fell;

where he bowed, there he fell down dead.

<sup>28</sup> Through the window she looked out, and cried, the mother of Sisera cried out through the lattice,
'Why is his chariot so long in coming home?
Why are the hoofbeats of his chariots delayed?'

<sup>29</sup> Her wise women answer,

Yes, she answers herself,

<sup>30</sup> 'They must be splitting up the spoil,
A woman or two for every man.

Sisera is seizing spoil of colorful garments, spoil of colorful embroidered garments,
of dyed garments embroidered on both sides, spoil for the neck of those plundering.'

<sup>31</sup> So may all your enemies perish, O LORD,
But let them who love him be like the sun when it rises with all its might. "

The land had rest forty years.

Judges 6

<sup>1</sup> Then the Israelites did evil in the sight of the LORD, so the LORD handed them over to Midian seven years.

<sup>5</sup> For they came up with their livestock and tents; they swarmed in as thick as locusts. They and their camels were innumerable. They came absolutely destroying the land.

<sup>6</sup> Israel was totally impoverished because of Midian; so the Israelites cried to the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> When the Israelites cried to the LORD because of Midian, <sup>8</sup> the LORD sent a prophet to the Israelites. He said to them, "This is what the LORD says, the God of Israel, 'I brought you up out of Egypt, and brought you out of the house of bondage.

<sup>9</sup> I rescued you from the hand of the Egyptians, and from all who oppressed you, and drove them out before you, and gave you their land.

<sup>10</sup> I said to you, "I am the LORD your God. Do not fear the gods of the Amorites, in whose land you dwell." But you did not obey my voice."

<sup>11</sup> The angel of the LORD came and sat under the oak at Ophrah, which belonged to Joash the Abiezrite. His son Gideon was threshing wheat in the winepress, to hide it from the Midianites.

<sup>12</sup> The angel of the LORD appeared to him, and said to him, "The LORD is with you, valiant warrior."

<sup>13</sup> But Gideon replied, "Oh, my lord, if the LORD is with us, why has all this happened to us? Where are all his wondrous works that our fathers told us about, saying, 'Did not the LORD bring us up out Egypt?' But now the LORD has abandoned us and handed us over to Midian."

<sup>14</sup> The LORD turned to him and said, "Go in the might you have, and save Israel from the hand of Midian. Have I not sent you?"

<sup>15</sup> But he replied, "O Lord, how can I rescue Israel? Look, my clan is the poorest in Manasseh, and I am the least in my family."

<sup>16</sup> The LORD said to him, "But I will be with you, and you will strike down the Midianites just as you would one man."

<sup>17</sup> He said to him, "If now I have found favor in your sight, then show me a sign proving that it is really you who is talking with me.

<sup>18</sup> Don't leave here, until I come back bringing my gift to set before you." He responded, "I'll wait here until you get back."

<sup>19</sup> Then Gideon went into his house, prepared a young goat and unleavened cakes from about half a bushel of meal. The meat he put in a basket and the broth in a pot, and brought it out to him under the oak, and presented it.

<sup>20</sup> The angel of God said to him, "Put the meat and the unleavened cakes on this rock, and pour the broth over it." Gideon did what he was told.

<sup>21</sup> Then the angel of the LORD reached out the tip of the staff that was in his hand, and touched the meat and the unleavened cakes. Fire came up out of the rock and consumed the meat and unleavened cakes. Then the angel of the LORD vanished out of his sight.

<sup>22</sup> When Gideon realized that it was the angel of the LORD, he cried out, "Help, O sovereign LORD! For I have seen the angel of the LORD face to face."

<sup>23</sup> Then the LORD said to him, "Peace be to you; don't be afraid, you are not going to die."

<sup>24</sup> There Gideon built an altar to the LORD, and called it "The LORD is peace." To this day it still stands in Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

<sup>25</sup> The same night the LORD ordered him, "Take your father's bull, the bull that is second and seven years old. Throw down the altar of Baal that your father has, and cut down the Asherah pole that is by it.

<sup>26</sup> Then build an altar to the LORD your God on the top of this stronghold, in the sanctioned way, then take the second bull and offer a burnt offering with the wood from the Asherah pole you are going to cut down."

<sup>27</sup> So Gideon took ten of his servants, and did as the LORD told him. Because he feared his family and the men of the town, he did not want to do it in daylight, so he did it at night.

<sup>28</sup> When the men of the town got up early in the morning, there was the altar of Baal torn to pieces, and the Asherah pole by it was cut down, and the second bull was sacrificed on the altar that was built.

<sup>29</sup> So they asked each other, "Who did this?" After they thoroughly investigated, they discovered it was Gideon the son of Joash who had done it.

<sup>30</sup> Then the men of the town said to Joash, "Bring out your son. He must die because he tore down the altar of Baal, and cut down the Asherah pole that was next to it."

<sup>31</sup> But Joash said to all confronting him, "Will you defend Baal? Are you trying to rescue him? Whoever fights for Baal, let him be put to death by morning. If he is really a god, let him defend himself, because someone has broken down his altar."

<sup>32</sup> So on that day Gideon was called "Jerubbaal," because his father had said, "Let Baal fight against him, because he has torn down his altar."

<sup>34</sup> But the Spirit of the LORD came on Gideon, and he blew a trumpet; and called Abiezerites to follow him.

<sup>35</sup> Then he sent messengers throughout all Manasseh; and they too were called out to follow him. He sent messengers to Asher, Zebulun and to Naphtali and they came up to meet them.

<sup>36</sup> Then Gideon said to God, "If you will save Israel by my hand, as you have promised,
<sup>37</sup> look, I will put a fleece of wool on the threshing floor, if there is dew only on the fleece and the ground is dry, then will I know that you will save Israel by my hand, as you have promised."

<sup>38</sup> So that is exactly what happened. He got up early on the next morning, and squeezed the fleece and wrung a bowlful of dew out of it.

<sup>39</sup> Then Gideon said to God, "Please don't get angry with me, but I will make one more test with the fleece. Now let only the fleece be dry and let the dew cover the ground."

<sup>40</sup> That night God did it, only the fleece was dry, while the dew covered all the ground.

Judges 7

<sup>1</sup> Then Jerubbaal, (that is, Gideon), and all the people who were with him, rose up early, and camped beside the spring of Harod. The camp of Midian was on the north side of them, by the hill of Moreh, in the valley.

<sup>2</sup> Then the LORD told Gideon, "There are too many men for me to hand the Midianites over to you. Israel would just brag to me, 'It was my own hand that saved me.'

<sup>3</sup> Now then announce in the ears of the troops, 'Whoever is fearful and shaking, let him go home and leave Mount Gilead.' So 22,000 turned and went home, and 10,000 remained.

<sup>4</sup> Then the LORD said to Gideon, "There are still too many. Bring them down to the water, and I will sift them out for you there. When I tell you, 'This one can go with you,' that one shall go, and when I tell you, 'This one cannot go with you,' that one shall not go."

<sup>5</sup> So he brought down the troops to the water. The LORD said to Gideon, "Every one who laps water from his hand with his tongue, like a dog laps, you shall put to one side, and everyone who knelt down drinking directly from the stream on the other.

<sup>7</sup> Then the LORD said to Gideon, "By the 300 who lapped I will save you, and hand the Midianites over to you. Let all the rest of the men return home."

<sup>8</sup> So the chosen troops took provisions and their trumpets. He sent all the rest of the men of Israel back to their own tents but retained the 300. The camp of Midian was below him in the valley.

<sup>9</sup> That same night, the LORD said to him, "Get up, go down into the Midianite camp for I am handing it over to you.

<sup>10</sup> But if you are afraid to go down, then go down into the camp with just Purah your servant.

<sup>11</sup> You will hear what the Midianites are saying and afterward your hands will be strengthened enough to attack the camp." So he and Purah his servant went down to the outposts of the armed men guarding the camp.

<sup>12</sup> The Midianites and Amalekites and all the people of the east were positioned in the valley as thick as locusts. Their camels were as countless as the sand on the seashore.

<sup>13</sup> As Gideon snuck up, there was a man telling of his dream to his friend and he said, "I had a dream, in it a loaf of barley bread tumbled into the camp of Midian. It rolled into the tent smashing it so hard that it was knocked down, flipped upside down and then flattened."

<sup>14</sup> His friend answered, "This is nothing other than the sword of Gideon the son of Joash, the Israelite. God has handed over Midian and the whole army to him."

<sup>15</sup> When Gideon heard the dream and its interpretation, he worshipped. Then he returned to the camp of Israel, and ordered, "Get up, for the LORD has handed over the army of Midian to you.

<sup>16</sup> He divided the 300 men into three companies. He put trumpets and empty jars into the hands of all of them, with torches inside the jars.

<sup>17</sup> Then he told them, "Look at me, and do what I do. When I come to the edge of the camp, do exactly what I do.

<sup>18</sup> When I, and those with me, blow the trumpet, then blow your trumpets also on every side of the entire the camp, and shout, 'For the LORD and for Gideon.'"

<sup>19</sup> So Gideon, and the hundred men with him, approached the outer edge of the camp at the beginning of the middle of the guard shift, just after they had posted a new guard. They blew the trumpets and smashed the clay jars that were in their hands.

<sup>21</sup> They stood their ground, every man in his position surrounding the camp. The whole army ran off, shouting as they fled.

<sup>22</sup> They blew the 300 trumpets, and the LORD caused them to attack each other with their swords throughout the enemy army. The army fled all the way to Beth-shittah near Zererah, even as far as the border of Abel-meholah, by Tabbath.

<sup>23</sup> Then the men of Israel rallied from Naphtali, Asher and all Manasseh, and chased after the Midianites.

<sup>24</sup> Gideon sent messengers throughout all the hill country of Ephraim, saying, "Come down against Midian, and cut them off from crossing the Jordan River, as far as Beth-barah." So all the men of Ephraim were assembled, and captured the Jordan River crossings as far as Beth-barah.

<sup>25</sup> They captured the two princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb. They killed Oreb at the rock of Oreb, and Zeeb they killed at the winepress of Zeeb as they pursued the Midianites. Then they brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon, who was now on the east side of the Jordan River.

Judges 8

<sup>1</sup> Now the Ephraimites asked Gideon, "Why did you treat us like that? You didn't call us when you went to fight against Midian." They castigated him sharply.

<sup>2</sup> He replied, "What have I accomplished in comparison to you? Aren't the leftover grapes of Ephraim better than the full harvest of Abiezer?"

<sup>3</sup> God has handed over the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb, into your hand. What was I able to do to match that?" When he said that, their anger subsided.

<sup>4</sup> Gideon came to the Jordan River, and crossed over, he, and the 300 men who were with him, exhausted, yet still pursuing the Midianites.

<sup>5</sup> So he said to the men of Succoth, "Please give some loaves of bread to the troops that are following me, for they are faint, and I am pursuing after Zebah and Zalmunna, the kings of Midian."

<sup>6</sup> But the princes of Succoth retorted, "You don't already have the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna do you? So why should we give bread to your army?"

<sup>7</sup> Then Gideon threatened, "Alright, when the LORD has handed Zebah and Zalmunna over to my hand, then I will tear your flesh with the desert thorns and briars."

<sup>8</sup> Then he went up from there to Penuel, and spoke to them the same way, and the men of Penuel answered him the same way as the men of Succoth had.

<sup>9</sup> So he also threatened the men of Penuel, "When I come back after the victory, I will break down this tower."

<sup>11</sup> Then Gideon went up by the way of the caravan route east of Nobah and Jogbehah, and attacked the unsuspecting enemy army.

<sup>12</sup> When Zebah and Zalmunna fled, he chased them down and captured the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and sent the entire army into a panic.

<sup>13</sup> Then Gideon the son of Joash returned from the battle by the Ascent of Heres.

<sup>14</sup> He caught a young man from Succoth, and interrogated him. He wrote down for Gideon the names of the seventy-seven princes and elders of Succoth.

<sup>15</sup> Then he came to the people of Succoth, and said, "Look, here are Zebah and Zalmunna, concerning whom you ridiculed me, saying, 'Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in your hand, that we should give bread to your exhausted troops?'"

<sup>17</sup> Then he tore down the tower of Penuel, and killed the men of the town.

<sup>18</sup> Then he said to Zebah and Zalmunna, "What were the men you killed at Tabor like?" They answered, "They were like you, each one resembled the son of a king."

<sup>19</sup> Gideon replied, "They were my brothers, the sons of my mother. As the LORD lives, if you had kept them alive, I would not kill you now."

<sup>20</sup> Then he said to Jether his firstborn, "Get up, and kill them." But the youth did not draw his sword, for he was afraid because he was just a boy.

<sup>21</sup> Then Zebah and Zalmunna said, "Get up, and kill us yourself. 'The proof of the man is his strength.'" So Gideon got up, and killed Zebah and Zalmunna, and took the crescent ornaments that were on their camels' necks.

<sup>22</sup> Then the Israelites said to Gideon, "Rule over us, both you, and your son, and your son's son also; for you have saved us out of the hand of Midian."

<sup>23</sup> But Gideon said to them, "I will not rule over you, neither will my son rule over you, the LORD will rule over you."

<sup>24</sup> Then Gideon said to them, "I do have one request for you. Each of you give me the earrings you took as plunder. (For they had gold earrings, because they were Ishmaelites.)

<sup>25</sup> They answered, "We are glad to give them." So they spread out a garment, and each man threw in the earrings taken in the booty.

<sup>26</sup> The weight of the golden earrings he requested was a forty-three pounds of gold, besides the crescent ornaments, the pendants and the purple garments worn by the kings of Midian, and the chains that hung around their camels' necks.

<sup>27</sup> From it Gideon made a gold ephod, and put it in his town, in Ophrah. But all Israel prostituted themselves before it there. It became a snare to Gideon and his house.

<sup>29</sup> Then Jerubbaal the son of Joash went and lived in his own house.

<sup>31</sup> His concubine who was in Shechem, also bore him a son, and he called his name Abimelech.

<sup>32</sup> Gideon the son of Joash died at a good old age, and was buried in the tomb of Joash his father, in Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

<sup>33</sup> As soon as Gideon was dead, the Israelites turned again, and prostituted themselves worshipping the Baals. They made Baal-berith their god.

<sup>34</sup> The Israelites did not remember the LORD their God, who had rescued them from the hand of all their enemies on every side.

<sup>35</sup> They did not show kindness to the house of Jerubbaal, (that is, Gideon), in return for all the good things he had done for Israel.

Judges 9

<sup>1</sup> Now Abimelech the son of Jerubbaal went to Shechem to his mother's brothers, and spoke with them, and his mother's clan, saying,

<sup>2</sup> "Please, ask, all the leaders of Shechem, 'Which is better for you, to have all seventy sons of Jerubbaal rule over you, or just one? Remember also that I am your flesh and bone.'"

<sup>3</sup> So his mother's relatives spoke all these words on his behalf to all the leaders of Shechem. Their hearts were inclined to follow Abimelech, for they said, "He is our brother."

<sup>4</sup> They gave him seventy silver coins from the temple of Baal-berith, with which Abimelech hired worthless and reckless hoodlums who followed him.

<sup>5</sup> Then he went to his father's house at Ophrah, and killed all seventy of his brothers, the sons of Jerubbaal on one stone. But Jotham, the youngest son of Jerubbaal, survived, because he hid himself.

<sup>6</sup> All the leaders of Shechem and Beth-millo assembled, went and made Abimelech king, by the oak of the pillar in Shechem.

<sup>7</sup> When they told Jotham, he went and stood on the top of Mount Gerizim. He raised his voice and shouted to them, "Listen to me, leaders of Shechem, so that God may listen to you.

<sup>8</sup> Once upon a time the trees went out to anoint a king over them, and they said to the olive tree, 'Be our king.'

<sup>9</sup> But the olive tree replied, 'Should I give up producing my olive oil, by which both God and man are honored, just to wave back and forth over the trees?'

<sup>10</sup> Then the trees said to the fig tree, 'Come, you be king over us.'

<sup>11</sup> But the fig tree said to them, 'Should I leave my sweet and delicious fruit, just to sway back and forth over the trees?'

<sup>12</sup> Then the trees said to the vine, 'Come, you be our king.'

<sup>13</sup> But the vine said to them, 'Should I stop producing my new wine that cheers both God and man, just to sway back and forth over the trees?'

<sup>14</sup> So all the trees said to the thornbush, 'Come, you be our king.'

<sup>15</sup> The thornbush said to the trees, 'If you really are anointing me king over you, then come and take refuge in my shade. If not, then let fire come out of the thornbush and devour the cedars of Lebanon.'

<sup>16</sup> Now therefore, if you have dealt in good faith and integrity when you made Abimelech king, and if you have treated Jerubbaal and his house fairly, and have repaid him according to what his actions deserve--

<sup>17</sup> for my father fought for you, and risked his life, and rescued you from of the hand of Midian.

<sup>18</sup> But you have revolted against my father's house this day, by killing his seventy sons on one stone, and have made Abimelech, the son of his female slave, king over Shechem, because he is your relative.

<sup>19</sup> If you then have dealt in good faith and integrity with Jerubbaal and his house this day, then rejoice in Abimelech and let him be happy with you too.

<sup>20</sup> But if not, let fire come out from Abimelech, and devour the leaders of Shechem and Beth-millo, and let fire come out from the leaders of Shechem and Beth-millo and devour Abimelech."

<sup>23</sup> Then God sent an evil spirit between Abimelech and the leaders of Shechem. The leaders of Shechem dealt treacherously with Abimelech.

<sup>24</sup> This occurred so that the violence done to the seventy sons of Jerubbaal might be avenged, and that the blood of their murders might be repaid on Abimelech, their brother, and the leaders of Shechem, who assisted in killing his brothers.

<sup>25</sup> Then the leaders of Shechem set an ambush for him on the tops of the mountains, and they robbed all who came along that way and it was reported to Abimelech.

<sup>26</sup> Gaal, the son of Ebed, moved into Shechem with his brothers. The leaders of Shechem backed him.

<sup>27</sup> They went out into the field, gathered grapes from their vineyards, and squeezed the grapes and held a festival. They went into the house of their god, ate and drank and cursed Abimelech.

<sup>28</sup> Gaal the son of Ebed challenged, "Who is Abimelech, and who is Shechem, that we should serve him? Is he not the son of Jerubbaal and is not Zebul his officer? Serve the men of Hamor, the father of Shechem! But why should we serve Abimelech?"

<sup>29</sup> If only these people were under control! Then I would remove Abimelech. I would say to Abimelech, 'Muster the army, and come out.'"

<sup>30</sup> When Zebul, the ruler of the city, heard the words of Gaal the son of Ebed, he was infuriated.

<sup>31</sup> So he sent messengers to Abimelech secretly, saying, "Look, Gaal, the son of Ebed, and his brothers have come to Shechem. They are stirring up the town to revolt against you.

<sup>32</sup> Now therefore, go by night, you and your troops, and set an ambush in the field.

<sup>33</sup> In the morning, at sunrise, rise early and attack the city and when he and the people that are with him come out against you, then you may do with them as you wish."

<sup>34</sup> So Abimelech and all his troops got up at night and they set an ambush against Shechem in four companies.

<sup>35</sup> Gaal, the son of Ebed, went out and stood in the entrance of the town gate. Abimelech and his men came out from their ambush.

<sup>36</sup> When Gaal saw them, he observed to Zebul, "Look, there are people coming down from the tops of the mountains." Zebul said to him, "You are just seeing shadows of the mountains that look like men."

<sup>37</sup> Gaal spoke again, "See, there are people coming down from the center of the land, and another group is coming by the way of the Diviner's Oak."

<sup>38</sup> Then said Zebul to him, "Where is your big mouth now, you who bragged, 'Who is Abimelech, that we should serve him?' Are not these the troops you mocked? Go ahead now and fight them."

<sup>40</sup> Abimelech chased him and he fled before him. Many fell wounded all the way to the entrance of the gate.

<sup>41</sup> Abimelech lived at Arumah. Zebul drove out Gaal and his brothers so they could not live in Shechem.

<sup>42</sup> The next day the people went out into the field. When Abimelech was told,

<sup>43</sup> he divided up his men into three groups, and set an ambush in the field. When he looked, he saw the people coming out of the town. He attacked them and killed them.

<sup>44</sup> Abimelech and the group that were with him rushed forward, and stood in the entrance of the town gate. Then the other two groups attacked all who were in the field and killed them.

<sup>45</sup> Abimelech fought against the town all that day. He took the town and slew the people that were in it. He leveled the town, and scattered salt on it.

<sup>47</sup> It was reported to Abimelech that all the men of the tower of Shechem were gathered together.

<sup>48</sup> So Abimelech and all his troops went up Mount Zalmon, and Abimelech took an ax in his hand, cut down a tree branch, picked it up and laid it on his shoulder. Then he ordered the people that were with him, "Quickly, do what you have seen me do."

<sup>49</sup> Each of his men likewise cut down his branch and followed Abimelech. They piled the branches up around the stronghold and set it on fire. So all the men of the tower of Shechem died too--about a thousand men and women.

<sup>50</sup> Then Abimelech went to Thebez, laid siege to Thebez, and captured it.

<sup>51</sup> But there was a fortified tower within the town, so all the men and women of the town fled there and locked themselves in and got up to the roof of the tower.

<sup>52</sup> Then Abimelech came to the tower and attacked it. When he approached the door of the tower to burn it with fire,

<sup>54</sup> Then he quickly called his young armor bearer, and ordered him, "Draw your sword, and kill me, so that they will not say about me, 'A woman killed him.'" So his young attendant ran him threw and he died.

<sup>55</sup> When the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead, they all went home.

<sup>56</sup> So God repaid the wickedness of Abimelech, for what he did to his father by slaying his seventy brothers.

<sup>57</sup> All the wickedness of the leaders of Shechem, God repaid on their heads. On them came the curse of Jotham the son of Jerubbaal.

Judges 10

<sup>1</sup> After Abimelech died, Tola the son of Puah the son of Dodo, arose to save Israel. He was from Issachar and he lived in Shamir in the hill country of Ephraim.

<sup>2</sup> He judged Israel twenty-three years, died and was buried in Shamir.

<sup>4</sup> He had thirty sons who rode on thirty donkeys. They ruled thirty towns in the land of Gilead, that are called Havvoth-jair [towns of Jair] to this day.

<sup>6</sup> The Israelites again did evil in the sight of the LORD, and served the Baals, and the Ashtareths, and the gods of Aram [Syria], Sidon, Moab, Ammonites and the Philistines. They abandoned the LORD, and no longer served him.

<sup>7</sup> The anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he sold them into the hand of the Philistines and the Ammonites.

<sup>8</sup> They crushed and oppressed the Israelites that year. For eighteen years they oppressed the Israelites who lived beyond the Jordan River in the land of the Amorites in Gilead.

<sup>9</sup> The Ammonites crossed over the Jordan River to attack Judah, Benjamin and the house of Ephraim. So Israel was greatly distressed.

<sup>10</sup> The Israelites cried out to the LORD, "We have sinned against you. We have abandoned our God and served the Baals."

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD said to the Israelites, "Did I not rescue you from the Egyptians, the Amorites, the Ammonites and the Philistines?"

<sup>12</sup> The Sidonians, Amalekites and the Maonites also oppressed you and you cried out to me, and I delivered you from their hand.

<sup>13</sup> Yet you have abandoned me and served other gods. So I will no longer save you.

<sup>14</sup> Go and cry to the gods you have chosen. Let them save you in your time of trouble."

<sup>16</sup> Then they put away the foreign gods among them and served the LORD. He was grieved and no longer able to stand the misery of Israel.

<sup>17</sup> The Ammonites mustered their troops and camped in Gilead. So the Israelites assembled themselves and camped at Mizpah.

<sup>18</sup> The commanders of Gilead said to each other, "Who is willing to lead the fight against the Ammonites? He will be head over all the inhabitants of Gilead."

Judges 11

<sup>1</sup> Now Jephthah the Gileadite was a valiant warrior. Gilead was the father of Jephthah, but his mother was a prostitute.

<sup>2</sup> Gilead's wife also bore him sons. When his wife's sons grew up, they drove out Jephthah, and said to him, "You should not inherit anything in our father's house, for you are the son of another woman."

<sup>5</sup> When the Ammonites made war against Israel, the elders of Gilead went to get Jephthah from the land of Tob.

<sup>6</sup> They invited Jephthah, "Come and be our chief, so that we may fight against the Ammonites."

<sup>7</sup> Jephthah replied to the elders of Gilead, "Did you not hate me and drive me out of my father's house? Why are you coming to me now that you are in trouble?"

<sup>8</sup> Then the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, "Nevertheless we have turned back to you now, so that you may go with us, and fight the Ammonites. Then you will be our leader over all the inhabitants of Gilead."

<sup>9</sup> Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, "Suppose you bring me home again to fight with the Ammonites, and the LORD delivers them before me, will I really be your leader?"

<sup>10</sup> The elders of Gilead replied, "The LORD is witness between us, we will do whatever you say."

<sup>11</sup> Then Jephthah went with the elders of Gilead, and the people made him head and commander over them. Then Jephthah spoke all his words before the LORD in Mizpah.

<sup>12</sup> Jephthah sent messengers to the king of the Ammonites, saying, "What is the problem between you and me, that you have come against me to attack my land?"

<sup>13</sup> The king of the Ammonites answered the messengers of Jephthah, "Because Israel took away my land, when they came up out of Egypt, from the Arnon even to the Jabbok, and to the Jordan River. Now therefore give it back peaceably."

<sup>15</sup> and replied, "This is what Jephthah says, 'Israel did not steal the land of Moab, or the land of the Ammonites, <sup>16</sup> but when they came up from Egypt, Israel went through the wilderness to the Red Sea, and came to Kadesh.

<sup>17</sup> Then Israel sent messengers to the king of Edom, saying, 'Please let us, pass through your land,' but the king of Edom wouldn't listen. They sent the same request to the king of Moab but he refused as well. So Israel stayed at Kadesh.

<sup>18</sup> Then they went through the wilderness, and went around the land of Edom, and the land of Moab, and traveling to the east of the land of Moab. They camped on the other side of the Arnon gorge. They did not enter the territory of Moab, for the Arnon gorge was the border of Moab.

<sup>19</sup> Israel sent messengers to Sihon king of the Amorites, the king in Heshbon. Israel said to him, 'Please let us pass through your land to get to our country.'

<sup>20</sup> But Sihon did not trust Israel to pass through his territory. Instead Sihon gathered all his people together and camped in Jahaz, and fought against Israel.

<sup>21</sup> The LORD, the God of Israel, handed Sihon and all his people over to Israel, and they defeated them. So Israel possessed all the land of the Amorites, who inhabited that country.

<sup>23</sup> So now since the LORD, the God of Israel, has driven out the Amorites before his people Israel, what right do you have to take it?

<sup>24</sup> Do you not have the right to possess what Chemosh your god gives you to possess? So we too will take whatever the LORD our God has conquered for us.

<sup>25</sup> Are you any better than Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab? Did he ever quarrel with Israel, or did he ever dare fight against them?

<sup>26</sup> Israel has lived in Heshbon and its towns, and in Aroer and its towns, and in all the towns that are along the side of the Arnon, for three hundred years. Why did you not reclaim them within that time?

<sup>27</sup> Therefore I have not wronged you, but you have wronged me by going to war against me. The LORD, the Judge, be judge this day between the Israelites and the Ammonites."

<sup>29</sup> Then the Spirit of the LORD came on Jephthah, and he passed through Gilead and Manasseh, and then through Mizpah of Gilead, and from there to the Ammonites.

<sup>30</sup> Then Jephthah vowed a vow to the LORD, and swore, "If you will hand the Ammonites over to me, <sup>31</sup> then whatever comes out the door of my house to meet me, when I return in triumph from the Ammonites, will be the LORD's and I will offer it up for a burnt offering."

<sup>32</sup> So Jephthah approached the Ammonites to fight against them and the LORD handed them over to him.

<sup>33</sup> He decimated them from Aroer to region of Minnith, twenty towns, as far as Abel-keramim. So the Ammonites were subdued before the Israelites.

<sup>34</sup> When Jephthah returned home to Mizpah, his daughter came out to meet him with timbrels and with dances. She was his only child, he had no other son or daughter besides her.

<sup>35</sup> When he saw her, he tore his clothes, and bemoaned, "No, my daughter! You have devastated me! You have brought disaster on me! For I have made a vow to the LORD, and I cannot take it back."

<sup>36</sup> She replied, "My father, you have vowed to the LORD, so do to me according to what you have promised, now that the LORD has taken vengeance on your enemies, the Ammonites."

<sup>37</sup> Then she requested from her father, "Please grant me one request: give me two months that I may go and travel through the mountains with my friends and grieve over my virginity."

<sup>39</sup> At the end of two months, she returned to her father, and he did with her according to the vow he had made. She never slept with a man. So it became a custom in Israel, <sup>40</sup> that the daughters of Israel went yearly to commemorate the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite four days each year.

Judges 12

<sup>1</sup> The men of Ephraim assembled, and crossed over to Zaphon. They said to Jephthah, "Why didn't you call us when you went to fight against the Ammonites?"

<sup>2</sup> Then Jephthah answered, "I and my people were engaged in a great struggle with the Ammonites and when I called you, you didn't rescue me out of their hand.

<sup>3</sup> So when I realized that you weren't coming to rescue me, I took my life in my own hands, and crossed over to attack the Ammonites, and the LORD handed them over to me. So why have you come up to fight with me today?"

<sup>4</sup> Then Jephthah assembled all the men of Gilead, and fought with Ephraim. The men of Gilead defeated Ephraim, because they ridiculed them saying, "You are refugees of Ephraim, you Gileadites living in the midst of Ephraim and Manasseh."

<sup>5</sup> The Gileadites captured the fords of the Jordan River leading to Ephraim. When any of the fugitives of Ephraim said, "Let me go across," the men of Gilead would say to him, "Are you an Ephraimite?" If he said, "No,"

<sup>6</sup> then they would say to him, "Say 'Shibboleth.'" If he said "Sibboleth," for Ephraimites could not pronounce it right, then they would grab him and kill him at the fords of the Jordan River. 42,000 Ephraimites were killed on that day.

<sup>7</sup> Now Jephthah judged Israel six years. Then Jephthah the Gileadite died and was buried in his town in Gilead.

<sup>10</sup> Then Ibzan died, and was buried at Bethlehem.

<sup>14</sup> He had forty sons and thirty grandsons who rode on seventy donkeys. He judged Israel eight years.

<sup>15</sup> Then Abdon the son of Hillel the Pirathonite died, and was buried in Pirathon in the land of Ephraim, in the hill country of the Amalekites.

Judges 13

<sup>1</sup> The Israelites again did evil in the sight of the LORD and the LORD handed them over to Philistines for forty years.

<sup>2</sup> Now there was a certain man of Zorah, from the tribe of the Dan, whose name was Manoah. His wife was barren, and had no children.

<sup>3</sup> The angel of the LORD appeared to the woman, and said to her, "Although you are barren, and have had no children, you will become pregnant and have a son.

<sup>4</sup> Now please be careful, do not to drink wine or strong drink or eat anything unclean,

<sup>5</sup> for you will become pregnant and have a son. No razor is to come on his head for the child will be dedicated as a Nazirite to God from birth. He is the one who will begin to rescue Israel from the hand of the Philistines."

<sup>6</sup> Then the woman came and told her husband, "A man of God came to me. He looked like an angel of God, very awesome. I didn't ask him where he was from, and he didn't even tell me his name.

<sup>7</sup> But he told me, 'You will become pregnant, and have a son. Drink no wine or strong drink, and do not eat anything unclean, for the child will be dedicated as a Nazirite to God from birth to the day of his death.'"

<sup>8</sup> Then Manoah prayed to the LORD, "O, Lord, please let the man of God whom you sent come back to us, and teach us how we should raise the child who is to be born."

<sup>9</sup> God listened to the voice of Manoah, and the angel of God came back to the woman as she sat in the field, but her husband Manoah was not with her.

<sup>10</sup> The woman quickly ran and told her husband, "Look, the man who appeared to me the other day has come back."

<sup>11</sup> So Manoah got up and followed his wife, and came to the man, and asked him, "Are you the man who spoke to my wife?" He replied, "I am."

<sup>12</sup> Then Manoah asked, "Now when your words come true, what is to be the child's rule of life, and what is his destiny?"

<sup>13</sup> The angel of the LORD answered Manoah, "Let your wife be careful to do everything I told her.

<sup>14</sup> She must not eat of anything that comes from the vine. She must not drink wine or strong drink, or eat anything unclean. She must do everything that I have commanded her."

<sup>15</sup> Then Manoah said to the angel of the LORD, "Please, stay with us awhile and we will prepare a young goat for you to eat."

<sup>16</sup> But the angel of the LORD said to Manoah, "Even if I stay, I will not eat any of your food. But prepare and offer a burnt offering to the LORD." For Manoah did not realize that he was the angel of the LORD.

<sup>17</sup> Then Manoah asked the angel of the LORD, "What is your name, so that when your words come true we may honor you?"

<sup>18</sup> But the angel of the LORD answered him, "Why do you ask about my name, since it is too wonderful?"

<sup>19</sup> So Manoah took the young goat with the grain offering, and offered it on the rock to the LORD. The angel performed wonders as Manoah and his wife watched.

<sup>20</sup> When the flame went up toward heaven from the altar, the angel of the LORD ascended in the flame of the altar. Manoah and his wife watched and fell with their faces to the ground.

<sup>21</sup> But the angel of the LORD did not appear again to Manoah or his wife. Then Manoah realized that he was the angel of the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> Manoah said to his wife, "We will certainly die, because we have seen God."

<sup>23</sup> But his wife said to him, "If the LORD wanted to kill us, he would not have accepted the burnt offering and grain offering from our hands, or showed us all these things, or announced such wonderful things as these."

<sup>24</sup> Then the woman gave birth to a son, and called his name Samson. The child grew and the LORD blessed him.

Judges 14

<sup>2</sup> When he returned home he told his father and his mother, "A woman in Timnah, one of the daughters of the Philistines, has caught my attention. Now get her for me as my wife."

<sup>3</sup> Then his father and his mother said to him, "Is there not a woman among the daughters of your relatives, or among all our people, that you have to go and take a wife from the uncircumcised Philistines?" But Samson said to his father, "Get her for me, for she pleases me."

<sup>4</sup> But his father and his mother did not know that it was from the LORD, for he was looking for an opportunity to act against the Philistines. Now at that time the Philistines ruled over Israel.

<sup>5</sup> Then Samson went down to Timnah, along with his father and mother. As they came to the vineyards of Timnah a roaring young lion attacked him.

<sup>6</sup> The Spirit of the LORD came mightily on him, and he tore it apart with his bare hands as easily as one would tear a young goat apart. But he did not tell his father or his mother what he had done.

<sup>7</sup> Then he went down to Timnah and talked with the woman and liked her.

<sup>8</sup> After a while he returned to marry her. He turned aside to see the carcass of the lion, and there was a swarm of bees in the body of the lion, and some honey.

<sup>9</sup> He scooped it out with his hands, and went on, eating as he went. He came to his father and mother, and gave some to them and they ate too. But he did not tell them that he had taken the honey out of the body of the lion.

<sup>10</sup> Then his father went down to visit the woman. Samson threw a party there as was customary for young men to do.

<sup>11</sup> When the Philistines saw him, they gave him thirty groomsmen to be with him.

<sup>12</sup> Samson said to them, "Let me tell you a riddle, if you can solve it within the seven days of the feast, then I will give you thirty linen garments and thirty changes of clothes;

<sup>13</sup> but if you cannot figure it out, then you must give me thirty linen garments and thirty changes of clothes." They said to him, "Alright, tell us your riddle."

<sup>14</sup> So he told them, "Out of the eater came something to eat, and out of the strong came something sweet." After three days they could not solve the riddle.

<sup>15</sup> On the seventh day, they threatened Samson's wife, "Entice your husband to explain the riddle for us, or we will burn you and your father's house. Have you invited us here to impoverish us?"

<sup>16</sup> So Samson's wife wept in front of him, "You hate me and don't really love me. You have told a riddle to my people, but you haven't told me the answer." He rebuffed her, "Look, I haven't even told my father or my mother, so why should I tell you?"

<sup>17</sup> So she wept in front of him the whole seven days of the feast. On the seventh day, he finally told her, because she nagged him so much. Then she explained the riddle to her people.

<sup>18</sup> The men of the town said to him on the seventh day before the sun set, "What is sweeter than honey? What is stronger than a lion?" Then he retorted, "If you had not plowed with my heifer, you would not have solved my riddle."

<sup>19</sup> The Spirit of the LORD came mightily on him, and he went down to Ashkelon, and killed thirty men, took their belongings, and gave the changes of clothes to those who had solved the riddle. But his anger was kindled, so he went back up to his father's house.

<sup>20</sup> Samson's wife was given to his attendant who was his best man at the wedding.

Judges 15

<sup>1</sup> After a while, during the wheat harvest, Samson visited his wife with a young goat. He said, "I want to go to sleep with my wife in her bedroom." But her father would not allow him to enter.

<sup>2</sup> Her father explained, "I really thought that you hated her, so I gave her to your best man. Isn't her younger sister more beautiful than she is? Please, take her instead."

<sup>3</sup> But Samson said to them, "This time I will be blameless when I work havoc on the Philistines."

<sup>4</sup> So Samson went and caught 300 foxes, tied their tails together in pairs and secured a torch between each pair of tails.

<sup>5</sup> Then he set the torches on fire, and let them loose in the Philistine's grain fields. He burned up both the stacked grain and the standing grain, and even the olive groves.

<sup>6</sup> Then the Philistines inquired, "Who did this?" They answered, "Samson, the son-in-law of the Timnite, because he took his wife, and gave her to his best man." So the Philistines came and burned up both her and her father.

<sup>7</sup> Then Samson said to them, "Because you did this, surely I will get revenge on you, only after that will I stop."

<sup>8</sup> He struck them down viciously with a great slaughter. Then he went down and stayed in a cave in the rock of Etam.

<sup>9</sup> Then the Philistines went up and camped in Judah, and spread out for battle near Lehi.

<sup>10</sup> The men of Judah asked, "Why have you come up to attack us?" They answered, "We have come up to bind Samson and do to him what he did to us."

<sup>11</sup> Then 3,000 men of Judah went down to the cave in the rock of Etam, and said to Samson, "Don't you realize that the Philistines are rulers over us? What have you done to us?" He said to them, "I just did to them what they did to me."

<sup>12</sup> Then they said to him, "We have come down to bind you, that we may hand you over to the Philistines." Samson said to them, "Promise me, that you will not kill me yourselves."

<sup>13</sup> So they swore to him, "We promise, but we will tie you up and hand you over to them, but we will not kill you." So they tied him up with two new ropes, and brought him up from the rock.

<sup>14</sup> When he came to Lehi, the Philistines shouted as they approached him. The Spirit of the LORD came mightily on him, and the ropes on his arms snapped as easily as charred flax and fell off his hands.

<sup>15</sup> He found a fresh donkey jawbone, and reached out and grabbed it, and killed 1,000 men with it.

<sup>17</sup> When he finished talking, he threw the jawbone away and the place was named Ramath-lehi [Jawbone Hill].

<sup>18</sup> He was very dehydrated, and cried out to the LORD, and said, "You have given this great victory by the hand of your servant. Now am I going to die from thirst, and fall into the hands of the uncircumcised?"

<sup>19</sup> So God split open the hollow place that is at Lehi and water came out. After he drank some, his spirit returned, and he revived. That's why its name was called En-hakkore [Spring of the One who Cried Out], which is in Lehi, to this day.

Judges 16

<sup>2</sup> The Gazites were told, "Samson has come here." So they surrounded him laying in wait for him all night at the city gate. They stayed quiet all the night, thinking, "At dawn we will kill him."

<sup>3</sup> Samson laid there until midnight. Then he got up in the middle of the night, took hold of the doors of the city gate and the two posts, pulled them up, bar and all, putting them on his shoulders, and carried them up to the top of the hill across from Hebron.

<sup>4</sup> After this he fell in love with a woman in the valley of Sorek, whose name was Delilah.

<sup>5</sup> The rulers of the Philistines came to her and said, "Seduce him and find out what makes him so strong and how we can overpower him so that we may tie him up and subdue him. Each of us will give you 1,100 pieces of silver."

<sup>6</sup> So Delilah said to Samson, "Please tell me what makes you so strong and how you might be tied up and subdued."

<sup>7</sup> Then Samson answered her, "If they tie me up with seven fresh bowstrings that have never been dried, then I will become weak as any other man."

<sup>8</sup> So the rulers of the Philistines brought to her seven fresh bowstrings that had never been dried, and she tied him up with them.

<sup>9</sup> Now she had hidden some men in the inner room. Then she cried out to him, "Samson, the Philistines are upon you." He snapped the bowstrings, as easily as if it were threads when it touches a fire. So the secret of his strength was not discovered.

<sup>10</sup> Then Delilah complained to Samson, "You have mocked and lied to me. Now tell me, how you can be tied up?"

<sup>11</sup> He said to her, "If they tie me up with new ropes that have never been used, then I will become weak as any other man."

<sup>12</sup> So Delilah took new ropes, and tied him up with them, then cried out, "Samson, the Philistines are upon you." The men were hidden in the inner room. He snapped them off his arms like threads.

<sup>13</sup> Then Delilah complained to Samson, "Until now you have mocked and told me lies. Tell me how you can be tied up." He told her, "If you weave the seven locks of my hair into fabric of a cloth on the loom and tighten it down with a shuttle pin, then I will become weak as any other man."

<sup>14</sup> While he slept, Delilah wove seven locks of his hair into the fabric on the loom and tightened it down with the loom shuttle pin, and cried out to him, "Samson, the Philistines are upon you." He awoke out of his sleep, and tore away the shuttle pin and the fabric.

<sup>15</sup> Then she complained, "How can you say, 'I love you,' when your heart is not with me? You have mocked me these three times, and have not told me the secret of your great strength."

<sup>16</sup> She nagged him day in and day out with her words, and pestered him, so that he was tired to death of it.

<sup>17</sup> So he told her everything, "No razor has come on my head, for I have been a Nazirite to God from birth. If my head is shaved, then my strength will leave me, and I will become weak as any other man."

<sup>18</sup> When Delilah realized that he had told her everything, she sent and called for the rulers of the Philistines, saying, "Come up one last time, for he has told me everything." Then the rulers of the Philistines came up to her, and brought the money in their hand.

<sup>19</sup> So she made him sleep on her lap and she called in a man to shave off seven locks of his head. This is how she brought him down and his strength left him.

<sup>20</sup> Then she cried out, "Samson, the Philistines are upon you." He woke up, and thought, "I will go out as before and shake myself free." But he did not realize that the LORD had left him.

<sup>21</sup> But the Philistines grabbed hold of him, and gouged out his eyes. They brought him down to Gaza, and bound him with bronze chains. He ground grain in the prison house.

<sup>22</sup> But the hair of his head began to grow again after it had been shaved off.

<sup>23</sup> The rulers of the Philistines gathered together to offer a great sacrifice to Dagon their god, and to celebrate, for they said, "Our god has handed Samson, our enemy, over to us."

<sup>24</sup> When the people saw him, they praised their god, for they said, "Our god has handed our enemy over to us, he was the one who ruined our land, and killed so many of us."

<sup>25</sup> When their hearts were merry, they said, "Call for Samson, that he may amuse us." So they called Samson out of the prison house and he performed for them. They had him stand between the pillars.

<sup>26</sup> Samson said to the lad that led him by the hand, "Let me feel the pillars that support the temple, so that I may lean against them."

<sup>27</sup> Now the temple was full of men and women. All the rulers of the Philistines were there; and there were on the roof about 3,000 men and women that watched while Samson amused them.

<sup>28</sup> Samson prayed to the LORD, and said, "O Lord GOD, remember me, I beg you, and strengthen me, this one last time. O God, with one last blow may I get revenge on the Philistines for my two eyes."

<sup>29</sup> So Samson took hold of the two middle pillars on which the temple rested, and leaned on them, the one with his right hand, and the other with his left.

<sup>30</sup> Then Samson prayed, "Let me die with the Philistines." Then he pushed with all his might and the temple fell on the rulers, and on all the people that were in there. So he killed more at his death than he killed in his life.

<sup>31</sup> Then his brothers and all his father's family came down and brought him home, burying him between Zorah and Eshtaol in the tomb of his father Manoah. He judged Israel twenty years.

Judges 17

<sup>1</sup> Now there was a man from the hill country of Ephraim, whose name was Micah.

<sup>2</sup> He said to his mother, "I heard you pronounce a curse on the one who stole from you eleven hundred pieces of silver. I'm the one who took it and I've got the silver." Then his mother said, "May the LORD bless you, my son."

<sup>3</sup> When he returned the eleven hundred pieces of silver to his mother, his mother said, "I am dedicating this silver to the LORD from my hand in honor of my son, to make a carved and a cast metal idol. Now I will give it back to you."

<sup>5</sup> Now this man Micah owned a shrine, and he made a sacred ephod and household idols, and consecrated one of his sons, who became his priest.

<sup>6</sup> In those days there was no king in Israel. Everyone did what was right in his own eyes.

<sup>7</sup> Now there was a young man from of Bethlehem in Judah, from the tribe of Judah, a Levite who was staying there.

<sup>8</sup> The man left the town of Bethlehem in Judah looking for another place where he could settle. Along the way, he came to the hill country of Ephraim to the house of Micah.

<sup>9</sup> Micah asked him, "Where are you from?" He replied, "I am a Levite from Bethlehem in Judah, and I am trying to find a place to live."

<sup>10</sup> So Micah invited him, "Stay with me, and be a father and a priest for me, and I will give you ten pieces of silver per year, along with a set of clothes and your food." So the Levite stayed.

<sup>12</sup> Micah consecrated the Levite, and the young man became his priest, and lived in Micah's house.

<sup>13</sup> Then Micah said, "Now I know that the LORD will be good to me seeing I have a Levite as my priest."

Judges 18

<sup>1</sup> In those days there was no king in Israel. It was a time when the Danite tribe was seeking for a land inheritance to settle in; for until that day they had not been allotted a land inheritance among the tribes of Israel.

<sup>2</sup> The Danites sent from all their clans five valiant men, from Zorah and Eshtaol, to scout out and explore the land. They told them, "Go, explore the land." They came to the hill country of Ephraim, to the house of Micah, and stayed there.

<sup>3</sup> When they approached Micah's house, they recognized the voice of the young Levite. So they went over there, and asked him, "Who brought you here? What are you doing here? What business do you have here?"

<sup>4</sup> He answered, "This is the way Micah dealt with me: he hired me, and I am his priest."

<sup>5</sup> They said to him, "Please inquire of God whether the journey we are making will succeed."

<sup>6</sup> The priest said to them, "Go in peace. The LORD will be with you on your journey."

<sup>7</sup> Then the five men departed, and came to Laish. There they saw the people were living in security, like the Sidonians, peaceful and secure. The people were wealthy because the land was fertile. They lived far from the Sidonians and had no alliances with anyone.

<sup>8</sup> When they returned to their relatives in Zorah and Eshtaol, they asked them, "How did it go?"

<sup>9</sup> They said, "Come on, let's attack them; for we have seen the land and it is very good. Why are you just sitting there? Don't be lazy but go, invade and conquer the land."

<sup>10</sup> When you get there, you will come on an unsuspecting people. The land is spacious and does not lack anything on earth. God is handing it over to you!"

<sup>13</sup> From there they passed on to the hill country of Ephraim, and arrived at the house of Micah.

<sup>14</sup> Then the five men who had spied out the land of Laish, said to their comrades, "Do you know that there is in these houses an ephod, household gods, and carved and cast metal idols? Now think about what you should do."

<sup>15</sup> So they stopped in there, and came to the house of the young Levite, to the house of Micah, and asked how he was doing.

<sup>17</sup> The five men who originally spied out the land went up, broke in and stole the carved idol, the ephod, the household gods and the cast metal idol while the priest and the 600 men armed with weapons of war stood by the entrance of the gate.

<sup>18</sup> When these went into Micah's house, and stole the carved image, the ephod, the household gods and the cast metal idol, the priest protested to them, "What are you doing?"

<sup>19</sup> They said to him, "Shut up! Put your hand over your mouth, and come with us and be a father and a priest for us. Is it not better for you to be priest for a whole tribe and a clan in Israel rather than for the house of just one man?"

<sup>23</sup> They cried to the Danites, who turned back and asked Micah, "What's your problem that you come after us with such a company?"

<sup>24</sup> He said, "You have taken my gods that I made, along with the priest, and have taken off, what do I have left? How can you say to me, 'What's your problem?'"

<sup>25</sup> The Danites rebuffed him, "You had better keep you mouth shut around us, or someone might get angry and attack you, and you and your family might just lose your lives."

<sup>26</sup> Then the Danites went on their way. When Micah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back home.

<sup>27</sup> They took what Micah had made and his priest and came to Laish, to a people peaceful and secure, and struck them with the edge of the sword and burned the city.

<sup>28</sup> There was no one to rescue them because it was far from Sidon, and they had no alliances with anyone. It was in the valley that is near Beth-rehob. They rebuilt the town and settled there.

<sup>29</sup> They called the name of the town Dan, after the name of Dan their forefather, who was born to Israel although the name of the town was originally Laish.

<sup>30</sup> The Danites set up the carved idol for themselves. Jonathan, the son of Gershom, the son of Moses and his sons were installed as priests for the Danite tribe until the day the land went into captivity.

<sup>31</sup> So they set up Micah's carved idols that he made, all the time the house of God was at Shiloh.

Judges 19

<sup>1</sup> In those days there was no king in Israel. There was a certain Levite residing in the remote area of the hill country of Ephraim, who took a concubine from Bethlehem in Judah.

<sup>2</sup> His concubine got angry at him, and ran away from him to her father's house in Bethlehem in Judah. After she had been there four months, <sup>3</sup> her husband came after her, to persuade her to return. He had his servant and a couple of donkeys with him. She brought him to her father's house, and when the girl's father saw him, he was happy to meet him.

<sup>4</sup> His father-in-law, the girl's father, urged him to stay so he stayed with him three days. They ate, drink and slept there.

<sup>5</sup> Now on the fourth day, they got up early in the morning to leave but the girl's father said to his son-in-law, "Here's some food to strengthen your heart, and afterward you can be on your way."

<sup>6</sup> So they both sat down, ate and drank, and the girl's father said to the man, "Please stay another night and enjoy yourself."

<sup>7</sup> The man got up to leave but his father-in-law urged him, so he again spent the night there.

<sup>8</sup> Then he got up to leave early in the morning of the fifth day, and the girl's father said, "Strengthen your heart, and wait until later when the day cools down." So they ate together.

<sup>9</sup> When the man got up to leave, he, his concubine and his servant, his father-in-law, the girl's father, said to him, "Look, now the day is almost over, spend the night here again, and enjoy yourself. Tomorrow you can get up early and be on your way home."

<sup>10</sup> But the man would not spend the night there, he got up and left. He had a couple of saddled donkeys and his concubine and was passing by Jebus (that is, Jerusalem).

<sup>11</sup> When they were near Jebus, late in the day, the servant said to his master, "Come now, let's stop at this town of the Jebusites, and spent the night there."

<sup>12</sup> But his master said to him, "We will not turn aside into the town of foreigners where there are no Israelites. Let's go on to Gibeah."

<sup>13</sup> He said to his servant, "Come on, let's try to reach one of these other places, and we will spend the night at Gibeah or Ramah."

<sup>14</sup> So they went on. The sun went down as they approached Gibeah, which belongs to Benjamin.

<sup>15</sup> They stopped in there to spend the night in Gibeah. He entered the town and sat down in the town square, because no one offered them a place to stay.

<sup>16</sup> That evening an old man was coming in from his work out in the field. Now the man happened to be from the hill country of Ephraim, who was residing in Gibeah, but the actual people of the place were Benjaminites.

<sup>17</sup> He lifted up his eyes, and saw the traveler in the town square, so the old man asked, "Where are you going? Where do you come from?"

<sup>18</sup> He replied, "We are traveling from Bethlehem in Judah to the remote area of the hill country of Ephraim. I'm from there, and I went to Bethlehem in Judah and I am now returning to the house of the LORD, and no one has invited me home to spend the night.

<sup>19</sup> Even though we have both straw and provisions for our donkeys; and we also have food and wine for me, your female servant, and the young man who is with your servants. We don't need anything."

<sup>21</sup> So he brought him to his house, fed the donkeys, washed their feet, ate and drank.

<sup>22</sup> As they were enjoying themselves, some hoodlums of the town surrounded the house, beating on the door. They shouted at the old man who was the owner of the house, "Bring out the man who came into your house, so that we can sex with him."

<sup>23</sup> The owner of the house, went out to them, and protested, "No, my brothers, please, do not do such a wicked thing, seeing this man has come into my house. Do not do anything that shameful.

<sup>26</sup> Then the woman came as the day was dawning, and fell down at the door of the man's house where her master was, until it became light.

<sup>28</sup> He said to her, "Get up, and let's get going." But there was no response. So he put her on the donkey, got up and went home.

<sup>29</sup> When he got to his house, he took a knife, and grabbing a hold of his concubine, he cut her up, limb by limb, into twelve pieces. Then he sent her throughout all the territory of Israel.

<sup>30</sup> When everyone saw it, they exclaimed, "There has never been anything done like this from the time the Israelites came up out of the land of Egypt to this day. Let's think about this, get advice and talk about what to do."

Judges 20

<sup>2</sup> The leaders of all the people from all the tribes of Israel, presented themselves in the assembly of the God's people, 400,000 foot-soldiers who drew swords.

<sup>3</sup> Now the Benjaminites heard that the Israelites had gone up to Mizpah. The Israelites asked, "Tell us, how did this atrocity ever happen?"

<sup>4</sup> The Levite, the husband of the woman who was murdered, answered, "My concubine and I came to Gibeah that belongs to Benjamin to find lodging.

<sup>5</sup> Then the men of Gibeah came after me, and surrounded the house at night planning to kill me. They raped my concubine and she is dead.

<sup>6</sup> So I took my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent her throughout the whole territory of Israel; because they committed such an unconscionable and barbarous act in Israel.

<sup>8</sup> All the people rose as one, saying, "None of us will go to his tent, nor will any of us return home.

<sup>9</sup> But now this is what we will do to Gibeah: we will attack the town by lot.

<sup>10</sup> We will take ten men out of a hundred from all the tribes of Israel, and a hundred from a thousand, and a thousand from ten thousand, to bring provision to the troops. Then when they come to Gibeah of Benjamin they will repay them for this atrocity that they have done in Israel."

<sup>11</sup> So all the men of Israel were gathered against the town, united as one person.

<sup>12</sup> The tribes of Israel sent men through all the tribe of Benjamin, asking, "What terrible crime is this that has happened among you?"

<sup>13</sup> Now hand over those hoodlums from Gibeah, so that we may put them to death, and so purge evil from Israel." But the people of Benjamin would not listen to the voice of their fellow Israelites.

<sup>15</sup> The Benjaminites numbered on that day from the towns 26,000 soldiers who drew the sword, besides the inhabitants of Gibeah, who joined adding 700 special forces there.

<sup>16</sup> Among all these troops there were 700 select left handed men who could sling stones and hit a hair and not miss.

<sup>17</sup> 400,000 soldiers of Israel who drew the sword mustered, besides the Benjaminites. All these were warriors.

<sup>18</sup> The Israelites went up to Bethel, and inquired of God. They asked, "Who should go up first for us to fight against the Benjaminites?" The LORD answered, "Judah shall go up first."

<sup>21</sup> The Benjaminites came out of Gibeah, and struck down 22,000 Israelites that day.

<sup>22</sup> The Israelite troops took courage, and again took up battle positions in the place where they set themselves up as on the first day.

<sup>23</sup> The Israelites went up and wept before the LORD until evening. They asked the LORD, "Shall we again draw near to attack the Benjaminites our relatives?" Then the LORD answered, "Go up against them."

<sup>25</sup> Benjamin came out of Gibeah against them the second day, and struck down from the Israelites another 18,000 men, all of whom drew the sword.

<sup>26</sup> Then all the Israelites, and all the people, went up, and came to Bethel, and wept and sat there before the LORD. They fasted that day until evening and they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

<sup>27</sup> The Israelites asked the LORD, for the ark of the covenant of God was there in those days,

<sup>28</sup> and Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, stood before it in those days, saying, "Should we go out to battle again against the Benjaminites our relatives, or should we stop?" The LORD answered, "Go up for tomorrow; I will hand them over to you."

<sup>30</sup> The Israelites went up to attack the Benjaminites on the third day. They took their battle positions against Gibeah, as before.

<sup>31</sup> The Benjaminites went out against the people, and were drawn away from the town; and they began to strike down the people as before. Thirty men of Israel died in the field and on the roads, one of which goes up to Bethel and the other to Gibeah.

<sup>32</sup> The Benjaminites assumed, "They are defeated before us just as before." But the Israelites said, "Let's flee, and draw them away from the town into the roadways."

<sup>34</sup> Then 10,000 chosen men from all Israel attacked Gibeah, and the battle was fierce; but the Benjaminites did not realize how close they were to disaster.

<sup>35</sup> The LORD defeated Benjamin before Israel. The Israelites destroyed 25,100 Benjaminites that day all of whom drew the sword.

<sup>36</sup> The Benjaminites saw that they were defeated; for the men of Israel retreated before Benjamin, because they were trusting in those who were hiding in ambush whom they had set up against Gibeah.

<sup>37</sup> Those in the ambush quickly rushed into Gibeah. They moved in and struck all who were in the town with the edge of the sword.

<sup>38</sup> Now the appointed sign between the men of Israel and those in the ambush was that they would make a great cloud of smoke rise from the town.

<sup>39</sup> The men of Israel turned in the battle, and the men of Benjamin began to smite and kill thirty of the men of Israel; for they thought, "Surely they are defeated before us, just as in the first battle."

<sup>40</sup> But when the cloud began to rise out of the town in a pillar of smoke, the Benjaminites looked behind them. The whole town was going up in smoke to the sky.

<sup>41</sup> The men of Israel turned around and the men of Benjamin were terrified for they saw that disaster had overtaken them.

<sup>42</sup> Therefore they turned and fled before the men of Israel in the direction of the wilderness. But the battle pressed hard after them as the Israelite troops came out of the towns cutting them down as they were caught in between.

<sup>43</sup> They surrounded the Benjaminites, chased them down relentlessly and overtook them east of Gibeah.

<sup>45</sup> The rest turned and fled toward the desert to the rock of Rimmon. The Israelites struck down 5,000 more on the roads, and pressing hard on their heels to Gidom, where they killed another 2000 Benjaminites.

<sup>46</sup> So on that day a total of 25,000 valiant warriors from the tribe of Benjamin each of whom drew the sword, died.

<sup>47</sup> But six hundred men turned and fled toward the desert to the rock of Rimmon, and stayed at the rock of Rimmon for four months.

<sup>48</sup> The men of Israel went back again to the Benjaminite towns and struck them down with the edge of the sword--the town, the animals, and everything they found there. They also burned down all the towns they came to.

Judges 21

<sup>1</sup> Now the men of Israel had sworn in Mizpah, saying, "None of us will allow his daughter to marry a Benjaminite."

<sup>2</sup> The people came to Bethel, and sat there until evening before God and wept, grieving bitterly.

<sup>3</sup> They said, "O LORD, the God of Israel, why has this happened in Israel, that there should be today one tribe lacking in Israel?"

<sup>4</sup> On the next day the people got up early, built an altar there, and offered burnt and peace offerings.

<sup>5</sup> The Israelites said, "Who is there among all the tribes of Israel who did not assemble before the LORD?" For they had taken a solemn oath concerning anyone who did not come up to the LORD at Mizpah, vowing, "He must surely be put to death."

<sup>7</sup> How can we find wives for those who are left, since we have sworn by the LORD that we will not allow them to marry our daughters?"

<sup>8</sup> They asked, "Who among the tribes of Israel did not come up to the LORD at Mizpah?" They found that no one from Jabesh-gilead had come to the camp that had assembled.

<sup>9</sup> When the people were counted, no one from Jabesh-gilead was present.

<sup>10</sup> The congregation sent there 12,000 valiant warriors, and told them, "Go and strike down with the sword the residents of Jabesh-gilead, including the women and children.

<sup>11</sup> This is what you are to do: totally destroy every male, and every woman who has is not a virgin."

<sup>13</sup> The whole congregation sent and spoke to the Benjaminites that were at the rock of Rimmon, and offered them peace.

<sup>14</sup> Benjamin returned at that time. They gave them the women they had saved alive from the women of Jabesh-gilead but there were not enough women for them.

<sup>15</sup> So the people had compassion for Benjamin, because the LORD had made a hole in the tribes of Israel.

<sup>16</sup> Then the elders of the congregation asked, "How should we find wives for those who remain, since the women were destroyed from Benjamin?"

<sup>17</sup> Then they said, "There must be heirs for those from Benjamin who escaped, that a tribe not be blotted out from Israel.

<sup>18</sup> But we cannot give them wives from our daughters." For the Israelites had sworn, "Cursed be anyone who gives a wife to Benjamin."

<sup>19</sup> They said, "Look, there is a feast of the LORD from year to year in Shiloh, which is the north of Bethel, on the east side of the highway that goes up from Bethel to Shechem, and south of Lebonah.

<sup>20</sup> So they commanded the Benjaminites, saying, "Go and hide in the vineyards, <sup>21</sup> and watch. When the daughters of Shiloh come out for their dances, then come out of the vineyards, and let every man catch his wife from the daughters of Shiloh, and then return home to the land of Benjamin.

<sup>22</sup> When their fathers or their brothers come to complain to us, we will tell them, 'Do us a favor and let us have them, because each man did not capture a wife in battle. You did not incur guilt by giving up your daughters to them.'"

<sup>23</sup> So the Benjaminites did as they were told, and caught wives according to their number from those who danced. They carried them off and returned to their own territory, and rebuilt the cities, and settled in them.

<sup>24</sup> Then the Israelites left there, every one returning to his tribe and family, they went home each to his own land inheritance.

<sup>25</sup> In those days there was no king in Israel. Each man did what was right in his own eyes.

DASV: Ruth
Ruth 1

<sup>1</sup> In the days when the judges ruled, there was a famine in the land. So a man from Bethlehem in Judah went to live temporarily in the country of Moab, he, his wife and his two sons.

<sup>2</sup> The name of the man was Elimelek, and the name of his wife, Naomi, and his two sons named Mahlon and Kilion. They were Ephrathites of Bethlehem in Judah. They entered the country of Moab and stayed there.

<sup>4</sup> They married Moabite women. The name of the one was Orpah and the name of the other Ruth. They lived there about ten years.

<sup>5</sup> Then Mahlon and Kilion both died. So the woman was left without her two children and her husband.

<sup>6</sup> She heard in Moab how the LORD had come to the aid of his people providing them with food, so she and her daughters-in-law prepared to return home.

<sup>7</sup> So she set out from the place she had been living, along with her two daughters-in-law, and they went on their way to return to the land of Judah.

<sup>8</sup> Then Naomi said to her two daughters-in-law, "Go back, return each of you to your mother's home. May the LORD treat you with the same faithful kindness you have shown to your dead husbands and to me.

<sup>9</sup> May the LORD enable you to find rest each of you in the house of a new husband." Then she kissed them, and they lifted their voice and wept.

<sup>10</sup> They said to her, "No, we will return with you to your people."

<sup>11</sup> Naomi replied, "Turn back, my daughters: Why will ye go with me? Do I yet have sons in my womb, that they may become your husbands?"

<sup>12</sup> Go home, my daughters. Why would you go with me? Even if I thought there was still hope for me, and I had a husband tonight and gave birth to sons,

<sup>13</sup> would you wait until they were grown up? Would you stay unmarried? No, my daughters, it has been more bitter for me than for you, because the hand of the LORD has turned against me."

<sup>15</sup> She said, "Look, your sister-in-law has gone back to her people and to her god. Go, follow your sister-in-law back home."

<sup>16</sup> Then Ruth said, "Do not urge me to leave you, to return from following you, for where you go, I will go, and where you live, I will live, your people will be my people, and your God my God.

<sup>17</sup> Where you die, I will die, and there I will be buried. The LORD punish me severely, if anything but death separates you and me."

<sup>18</sup> When she saw that she was persistent to go with her, she stopped trying to discourage her.

<sup>19</sup> So they both went on until they came to Bethlehem. When they came to Bethlehem, all the town was excited by their arrival, and the women asked, "Is this Naomi?"

<sup>20</sup> She rebuffed them, "Do not call me 'Naomi' (pleasantness), call me 'Mara' (bitter); for the Almighty has dealt bitterly with me.

<sup>21</sup> I went out full, and the LORD has brought me back home empty. Why do you call me 'Naomi,' seeing the LORD has afflicted me, and the Almighty has brought disaster on me?"

<sup>22</sup> So Naomi returned, along with Ruth the Moabitess, her daughter-in-law, who returned from the country of Moab. Now they had arrived at Bethlehem during the beginning of barley harvest.

Ruth 2

<sup>2</sup> Ruth the Moabitess said to Naomi, "Let me go to the field and pick up some leftover grain after anyone who is kind enough to permit me to do it." She replied, "Go, my daughter."

<sup>3</sup> So she went and gleaned grain in the field after the reapers. She happened to come on part of the field that belonged to Boaz, who was of the clan of Elimelek.

<sup>4</sup> Now Boaz had just come from Bethlehem and said to the reapers, "The LORD be with you." They replied, "The LORD bless you."

<sup>5</sup> Then Boaz asked his servant who was overseeing the reapers, "To whom does that young woman belong?"

<sup>6</sup> The servant overseeing the reapers replied, "She is the Moabite woman who came back with Naomi from the land of Moab."

<sup>7</sup> She asked, 'May I glean grain, and gather after the reapers among the bundles of grain.' So she came and has worked continuously from the morning until now, except for a brief rest in the shelter."

<sup>8</sup> Then said Boaz to Ruth, "Listen, my daughter, do not go to glean grain in another field, or leave this one, but stay close to my servant girls."

<sup>9</sup> Keep your eyes on the field they are reaping, and follow them. I have told the young men not to touch you? When you are thirsty, go to the water jugs, and drink from what the young men have drawn."

<sup>10</sup> Then she fell on her face, bowing to the ground, and thanked him, "Why have I found favor in your sight, that you should take notice of me, seeing I am a foreigner?"

<sup>11</sup> Boaz answered her, "I have been told about everything that you have done for your mother-in-law since the death of your husband, and how you left your father and mother, and the land of your birth, and have come to a people that you did not know about before now."

<sup>12</sup> The LORD reward your efforts. May you be repaid in full from the LORD, the God of Israel, under whose wings you have taken refuge."

<sup>13</sup> Then she said, "Let me continue to find favor in your sight, my lord, for you have encouraged me by speaking kindly to your servant, even though I am not one of your servants."

<sup>14</sup> At lunch time Boaz said to her, "Come here and have some bread. Dip your piece in the vinegar." So she sat beside the reapers, and Boaz passed her roasted grain, and she ate until she was satisfied and even had some left over.

<sup>16</sup> Also pull out some stalks from the bundles for her, and leave it for her glean, and do not reprimand her.

<sup>17</sup> So she gleaned grain in the field until evening. When she beat out the grain she had gleaned, it was about third pounds of barley.

<sup>18</sup> So she picked it up and returned to the town and her mother-in-law saw how much she had gleaned. Then Ruth gave her some of her lunch that was left over after she was satisfied.

<sup>19</sup> Her mother-in-law asked her, "Where did you glean grain today? Where did you find work? Blessed be the one who took notice of you." Then she told her mother-in-law about the one with whom she had worked, "The man's name I worked with today was Boaz."

<sup>20</sup> Then Naomi said to her daughter-in-law, "May he be blessed by the LORD, who has not stopped showing his faithful kindness to the living or to the dead." Then Naomi announced, "The man is our relative, one of our family redeemers."

<sup>21</sup> Ruth the Moabitess said, "Yes, he even told me, 'Stay close to my servants until they have ended all my harvest.'"

<sup>22</sup> Then Naomi said to Ruth her daughter-in-law, "It is good, my daughter, that you go out with his female servants, because you might be harmed in someone else's field."

<sup>23</sup> So she kept close by the female servants of Boaz, gleaning grain to the end of barley harvest and then the wheat harvest; and she lived with her mother-in-law.

Ruth 3

<sup>1</sup> Then Naomi her mother-in-law said to her, "My daughter, should I not seek a permanent home for you, so that you may be well taken care of?"

<sup>3</sup> Wash up, put on some perfume and your best clothes, then head down to the threshing-floor, but don't let him see you until he has finished eating and drinking.

<sup>4</sup> When he lies down, carefully note the place where he lies down. Then go, and uncover his feet, and lay down there and he will tell you what to do."

<sup>5</sup> Ruth responded to her, "I will do everything you have told me to do."

<sup>6</sup> So she went down to the threshing-floor, and did everything that her mother-in-law had directed her to do.

<sup>7</sup> When Boaz had finished eating and drinking, and his heart was in good spirits, he went to lie down at the end of the pile of grain. Then she snuck up quietly, and uncovered his feet and lay down.

<sup>8</sup> In the middle of the night, the man was shocked as he turned over. There laying at his feet was a woman.

<sup>9</sup> He asked, "Who are you?" She answered, "I am Ruth your servant, spread the corner of your garment over me, for you are our family's redeemer."

<sup>10</sup> He said, "May you be blessed of the LORD, my daughter. For this latter instance of your loyalty is greater than what you did before, because you have not pursued one of the younger men, whether rich or poor.

<sup>11</sup> Now, my daughter, do not be afraid, for I will do all that you ask, for everyone in town knows that you are a virtuous woman.

<sup>12</sup> It is true that I am a family redeemer, however there is a family redeemer who is more closely related to you than I am.

<sup>13</sup> Wait here tonight, and in the morning, if he will marry you as the family redeemer, good for you; then let him fulfill his role as the family redeemer. If, however, he is not willing to fulfill his role as the family redeemer, then will I do it marrying you, I promise as the LORD lives. Now lie down until morning."

<sup>14</sup> So she lay at his feet until morning. Then she got up before anyone could be recognized. For he said, "Do not let anyone know that a woman came to the threshing-floor."

<sup>15</sup> Then he said, "Bring the cloak you are wearing here and hold it out." So she held it out and he measured six measures of barley, and put it on her. Then he went into the town.

<sup>16</sup> She came to her mother-in-law, who asked, "How did it go, my daughter?" Then she told her all that the man had done for her.

<sup>17</sup> Ruth said, "He gave me these six measures of barley; for he said, 'Do not go back to your mother-in-law empty-handed.'"

<sup>18</sup> Then Naomi said, "Sit down here, my daughter, until you learn how the matter ends up, for the man will not rest, until he has settled the matter today."

Ruth 4

<sup>1</sup> Now Boaz went up to the town gate, and sat down there. The family redeemer of whom Boaz spoke came by. He said to him, "Come over, friend; sit down here." So he came over and sat down.

<sup>2</sup> Then he took ten of the town elders, and said, "Sit down here." So they sat down.

<sup>3</sup> Then he said to the family redeemer, "Naomi, who has come back from the land of Moab, is selling a parcel of land, that was our brother Elimelek's.

<sup>4</sup> I thought to report this to you, saying, "Buy it in the presence of those sitting here, and before the elders of my people. If you want redeem it, then redeem it. But if you don't want to redeem it, then tell me, so that I may know; for no one has a right to redeem before you do and I am next in line after you." He affirmed, "I will redeem it."

<sup>5</sup> Then Boaz added, "When you buy the field from the hand of Naomi, you also will acquire Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of our dead relative, in order to raise up a descendant for the name of the dead who will inherit his property."

<sup>6</sup> But the family redeemer said, "I cannot redeem it for myself, without damaging my own inheritance. Take my right of redemption for yourself because I cannot redeem it."

<sup>7</sup> Now this was the custom in former time in Israel concerning redeeming and finalizing a property exchange, a man took off his sandal and gave it to the other party. This was the way a legally binding transaction was confirmed in Israel.

<sup>8</sup> So the family redeemer said to Boaz, "Buy it for yourself." Then he took off his sandal.

<sup>9</sup> Then Boaz said to the elders and all the people, "You are witnesses today, that I have acquired all that was Elimelek's, and all that was Kilion's and Mahlon's, from the hand of Naomi.

<sup>10</sup> I have also acquired Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of Mahlon, to be my wife, in order to perpetuate the name of the dead with his inheritance, that the name of the dead will not be cut off from among his relatives, and from the gate of his hometown. You are witnesses this day."

<sup>11</sup> All the people who were in the gate, and the elders, said, "We are witnesses. The LORD make this woman who is coming into your house like Rachel and Leah, who together built the house of Israel. May you prosper in Ephrathah and become famous in Bethlehem.

<sup>12</sup> Let your house be like the house of Perez, whom Tamar bore to Judah, from the descendants which the LORD will give you from this young woman."

<sup>13</sup> So Boaz took Ruth, and she became his wife. He went in to her, and the LORD allowed her to conceive and give birth to a son.

<sup>14</sup> The women said to Naomi, "Praise the LORD, who has not left you this day without a family redeemer. May his name be famous in Israel.

<sup>15</sup> May he restore your life and provide for you in your old age, for your daughter-in-law, who loves you, is better to you than seven sons, has borne him."

<sup>16</sup> Then Naomi took the baby and laid him on her lap, and cared for him.

<sup>17</sup> The neighbor women named him, saying, "A son has been born to Naomi." So they named him Obed. He became the father of Jesse, the father of David.

<sup>21</sup> Salmon was the father of Boaz. Boaz was the father of Obed.

DASV: 1 Samuel*DASV: 1 Samuel 1

<sup>1</sup> Now there was a man named Elkanah from Ramathaim, a Zuphite from the hill country of Ephraim. He was the son of Jeroham, the son of Elihu, the son of Tohu, the son of Zuph, an Ephraimite.

<sup>2</sup> He had two wives, the name of the one was Hannah and the name of other Peninnah. Now Peninnah had children, but Hannah was childless.

<sup>3</sup> This man went up from his town year after year to worship and sacrifice to the LORD of hosts in Shiloh where the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were priests to the LORD.

<sup>4</sup> When the day came for Elkanah to sacrifice, he would give portions to his wife Peninnah, and to all her sons and her daughters, <sup>5</sup> but to Hannah he gave a double portion; for he loved Hannah, but the LORD had closed her womb.

<sup>7</sup> This went on year after year, when Hannah went up to the house of the LORD. Peninnah would provoke her until she started crying and refused to eat.

<sup>8</sup> Then her husband Elkanah would ask her, "Hannah, why are you crying? Why won't you eat? Why is your heart so sad? Am not I better to you than ten sons?"

<sup>10</sup> She was deeply distraught, prayed to the LORD and wept bitterly.

<sup>11</sup> She made a vow, promising, "O LORD of hosts, if you would only look on the suffering of your servant, and remember me, and not forget your servant, but give your servant a son, then I will dedicate him to the LORD all the days of his life, and no razor will ever come on his head."

<sup>15</sup> But Hannah objected, "No, it's not like that, my lord, I am a woman who is terribly upset, I haven't been drinking wine or strong drink, but I have poured out my soul before the LORD.

<sup>16</sup> Don't think of me, your servant, as a wicked woman. It is out of the greatness of my sorrow and anguish that I have been praying."

<sup>17</sup> Then Eli answered, "Go in peace. May the God of Israel grant the request that you have asked him for."

<sup>18</sup> She responded, "May your servant find favor in your sight." So the woman went her way, ate and her face was no longer despondent.

<sup>19</sup> They got up early the next morning, worshipped the LORD, and went to their home at Ramah. Elkanah slept with Hannah his wife, and the LORD remembered her.

<sup>20</sup> In the course of time, Hannah conceived, and bore a son. She named him "Samuel," saying, "Because I have asked the LORD for him."

<sup>21</sup> The man Elkanah, and all his house, went up to offer the yearly sacrifice and to keep his vow to the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> But Hannah did not go up; for she told her husband, "I will not go up until the child is weaned. Then I will bring him, that he may appear before the LORD, and stay there permanently."

<sup>23</sup> Her husband Elkanah said to her, "Do whatever seems best to you. Wait until you have weaned him; may the LORD keep his promise." So the woman waited and nursed her son, until she weaned him.

<sup>26</sup> Then she said, "Oh, my lord, as surely as you are alive, I am the woman that stood here by you, praying to the LORD.

<sup>27</sup> I prayed for this child and the LORD has granted me what I asked him for.

<sup>28</sup> Therefore I have given him to the LORD; as long as he lives he is dedicated to the LORD." So they worshipped the LORD there.

DASV: 1 Samuel 2

- <sup>1</sup> Hannah prayed,
"My heart rejoices in the LORD,
my strength is increased in the LORD.
My mouth boasts over my enemies, for I rejoice in your deliverance.
- <sup>2</sup> No one is as holy as the LORD, for there is no one besides you,
there is no Rock like our God.
- <sup>3</sup> Stop talking so proudly,
let no arrogance come out of your mouth,
for the LORD is a God who knows,
and by him actions are weighed.
- <sup>4</sup> The bows of the mighty are broken, but those who frailly stumble are clothed with strength.
- <sup>5</sup> They who were full have sold themselves for food, and those who were starved are no longer hungry.
The woman who was barren gives birth to seven,
while she who has many children wastes away.
- <sup>6</sup> The LORD kills and gives life, he brings down to the grave and raises up.
- <sup>7</sup> The LORD makes some poor, and makes others rich, he humbles some, and others he exalts.
- <sup>8</sup> He raises the poor out of the dust,
he lifts up the needy from the ash heap,
to make them sit with princes,
and inherit the throne of honor.
For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's,
and he has set the world on them.
- <sup>9</sup> He will protect the feet of his holy ones, but the wicked will be silenced in darkness, for no one will succeed by mere strength.
- <sup>10</sup> They who oppose the LORD will be shattered, he will thunder from heaven against them.
The LORD will judge the ends of the earth,
he will give strength to his king, and increase the strength of his anointed one."
- <sup>11</sup> Then Elkanah went home to Ramah. The boy ministered to the LORD before Eli the priest.
- <sup>12</sup> The sons of Eli were wicked scoundrels; they had no respect for the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> Now it was the custom of the priests with the people that whenever anyone offered a sacrifice, the priest's servant came with a three-pronged fork in his hand, while the meat was still boiling.

<sup>14</sup> He would stick it into the pan, kettle, caldron or pot and whatever the fork brought up the priest would take for himself. This is what they did to all the Israelites who came to Shiloh.

<sup>15</sup> Even before they burned the fat, the priest's servant would come, and say to the one who sacrificed, "Give meat for the priest to roast; for he will not accept your boiled meat, but only raw."

<sup>16</sup> If the person said to him, "Let them burn the fat first, and then take as much as you want." Then he would say, "No, but give it to me right now, and if not, I will take it by force."

<sup>19</sup> Each year his mother made him a little robe, and brought it to him when she came up with her husband to offer the annual sacrifice.

<sup>20</sup> Then Eli blessed Elkanah and his wife, and said, "May the LORD give you children by this woman for the gift she has given to the LORD." Then they would return home.

<sup>21</sup> The LORD visited Hannah, and she conceived and bore three sons and two daughters. So the boy Samuel grew up in the presence of the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> Now Eli was very old. He heard everything that his sons did to all Israel, and how they slept with the women who served at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

<sup>23</sup> He questioned them, "Why are you doing such things? For I hear about your evil dealings from all these people.

<sup>24</sup> No, my sons, it is not a good report that I hear circulating among the LORD's people.

<sup>25</sup> If someone sins against another person, God may mediate for him, but if someone sins against the LORD, who can intercede for him?" But they refused to listen to their father, because the LORD had already decided to put them to death.

<sup>26</sup> But the boy Samuel grew up, and increased in favor with both the LORD and with people.

<sup>27</sup> A man of God came to Eli, and told him, "This is what the LORD says, 'Didn't I clearly reveal myself to your forefather's house when they were slaves in Pharaoh's house in Egypt?'"

<sup>28</sup> I chose him out of all the tribes of Israel to be my priest, to approach my altar, to burn incense and to wear an ephod before me. I gave to your father's house all the offerings the Israelites made by fire.

<sup>29</sup> Why then are you scorning my sacrifice and offering that I commanded for my dwelling place, by honoring your sons more than me by making yourselves fat with the best parts of all the offerings of my people Israel?

<sup>30</sup> Therefore the LORD, the God of Israel, says, 'I promised that your house, and the house of your father should walk before me forever,' but now the LORD says, 'May it never be, for those who honor me I will honor, and those who despise me will themselves be despised.

<sup>31</sup> Look, the time is coming when I will cut off your strength and the strength of your father's house, so that there will not be an old man left in your house.

<sup>32</sup> You will look on with distress in my dwelling place, as prosperity is poured out on Israel yet no one in your house will live to old age forever.

<sup>33</sup> The only descendant of yours that I will not cut off from my altar, will be spared so you may cry your eyes out and grieve your heart. All the descendants of your house will die by the hands of men.

<sup>34</sup> This will be the sign to you, that will come on your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, both of them will die on the same day.

<sup>35</sup> But I will raise up for myself a faithful priest, that will do according to what is in my heart and soul. I will build a sure house for him and he will walk before my anointed one forever.

<sup>36</sup> Then everyone who is left from your house will come and bow down before him for a piece of silver or a loaf of bread, and will beg, "Please let me serve as a priest, so that I may eat a piece of bread."""

DASV: 1 Samuel 3

<sup>1</sup> The boy Samuel ministered to the LORD assisting Eli. The word of the LORD was rare in those days; visions were infrequent.

<sup>2</sup> One night Eli was lying down in his place, (now his eyes had begun to fail, so that he could not see), <sup>3</sup> and the lamp of God had not gone out yet, and Samuel was lying down in the temple of the LORD, where the ark of God was.

<sup>4</sup> Then the LORD called, "Samuel," and he answered, "Here I am."

<sup>5</sup> He ran to Eli, and said, "Here I am. You called me?" But Eli replied, "I didn't call. Go lie down again." So he went back and lay down.

<sup>6</sup> Then the LORD called again, "Samuel." Samuel got up and went to Eli, and said, "Here I am. You called me?" He answered, "I didn't call, my son. Go, lie down again."

<sup>7</sup> Now Samuel did not yet know the LORD, the word of the LORD had not yet been revealed to him.

<sup>8</sup> Then the LORD called Samuel again, the third time. He got up and went to Eli, and said, "Here am I. Did you call me?" Eli realized that the LORD was calling the child.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore Eli said to Samuel, "Go, lie down. If he calls you again, say, 'Speak, LORD, for your servant is listening.'" So Samuel went back to bed.

<sup>10</sup> Then the LORD came, and stood there and called as at other times, "Samuel, Samuel." Then Samuel replied, "Speak, for your servant is listening."

<sup>11</sup> The LORD said to Samuel, "Look, I am about to do something so shocking in Israel that it will make the ears of everyone that hears it tingle.

<sup>12</sup> In that day I will carry out against Eli all that I have spoken concerning his house, from beginning to the end.

<sup>13</sup> I told him that I would judge his house forever, for the iniquity he knew about, because his sons were blaspheming God, yet he did not stop them.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore I swore to the house of Eli, that the iniquity of Eli's house will never be forgiven by sacrifice or offering."

<sup>15</sup> Samuel lay there until the morning, then he opened the doors of the house of the LORD. Samuel was afraid to tell Eli about the vision.

<sup>16</sup> Then Eli called Samuel, and said, "Samuel, my son." He replied, "Here I am."

<sup>17</sup> He asked, "What did he tell you? Don't hide it from me. God punish you and more, if you hide anything from me from all the words that he spoke to you."

<sup>18</sup> So Samuel told him everything, and hid nothing from him. Then Eli responded, "It is the LORD's will, he will do what seems good to him."

<sup>19</sup> Samuel grew, and the LORD was with him, and let none of his words fall to the ground unfulfilled.

<sup>20</sup> All Israel from Dan to Beersheba realized that Samuel was established as a prophet of the LORD.

<sup>21</sup> The LORD appeared again at Shiloh, for the LORD revealed himself to Samuel at Shiloh by the word of the LORD.

DASV: 1 Samuel 4

<sup>1</sup> The word of Samuel came to all Israel. Now Israel went out against the Philistines in battle, and camped beside Ebenezer, while the Philistines camped at Aphek.

<sup>2</sup> The Philistines positioned themselves for battle against Israel. As the battle spread, Israel was defeated by the Philistines, and they slew 4,000 in the battlefield.

<sup>3</sup> When the troops returned to camp, the elders of Israel said, "Why has the LORD allowed us to be defeated by the Philistines? Let's bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD from Shiloh, so that it may go with us, and save us from the hand of our enemies."

<sup>4</sup> So the troops sent to Shiloh and brought back the ark of the covenant of the LORD of hosts, who sits between the cherubim. The two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were there with the ark of the covenant of God.

<sup>5</sup> When the ark of the covenant of the LORD came into the camp, all Israel shouted with a great shout, so that the earth shook.

<sup>6</sup> When the Philistines heard the sound of the shout, they said, "What's all this shouting in the camp of the Hebrews?" They found out that the ark of the LORD had come into the camp.

<sup>7</sup> The Philistines were terrified, for they thought, "The gods have come into the camp." They lamented, "We're in trouble now! For nothing like this has happened before.

<sup>8</sup> Bad news for us! Who can save us from the hand of these mighty gods? These are the very gods who destroyed the Egyptians with all sorts of plagues in the wilderness.

<sup>9</sup> Be strong and act like men, Philistines, that you not become slaves to the Hebrews, as they have been to you. Be men and fight."

<sup>10</sup> The Philistines fought, and Israel was defeated. Everyone fled to his tent. There was a great slaughter with Israel losing 30,000 soldiers.

<sup>11</sup> The ark of God was captured and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were killed.

<sup>12</sup> A Benjaminite man ran from the battle front, and came to Shiloh the same day, with his clothes torn and dirt strewn on his head.

<sup>13</sup> When he arrived, Eli was sitting on his chair watching by the roadside; for his heart trembled for the ark of God. When the man came into the town, and told what had happened, all the town cried out.

<sup>14</sup> When Eli heard the uproar of the crying, he asked, "What does all this ruckus mean?" The man quickly came and told Eli.

<sup>15</sup> Now Eli was ninety-eight years old, and his eyes had glazed over, so that he could not see.

<sup>16</sup> The man said to Eli, "I have just come from the battle, I just fled from it today." Eli asked, "How did it go, my son?"

<sup>17</sup> The one who brought the tidings answered, "Israel has fled before the Philistines, and there was a great slaughter among the troops. Your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, are dead, and the ark of God has been captured."

<sup>18</sup> When he made mention of the ark of God, Eli toppled backward off his seat by the side of the gate. He broke his neck and died, for he was old and heavy. He judged Israel forty years.

<sup>19</sup> His daughter-in-law, Phinehas' wife, was pregnant, near her due date. When she heard the tidings that the ark of God had been captured, and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead, she went into labor and gave birth; for labor pains had overcome her.

<sup>20</sup> Just before she died the women who were standing by her said, "Don't be afraid you have given birth to a son." But she did not respond or pay attention.

<sup>21</sup> She named the child Ichabod, saying, "The glory has departed from Israel," because the ark of God had been captured and because of the death of her father-in-law and husband.

<sup>22</sup> She said, "The glory has departed from Israel, for the ark of God has been captured."

DASV: 1 Samuel 5

<sup>1</sup> Now the Philistines had captured the ark of God, and they brought it from Ebenezer to Ashdod.

<sup>2</sup> The Philistines took the ark of God, brought it into the temple of Dagon, and put it beside Dagon.

<sup>3</sup> When the people of Ashdod got up early the next morning, Dagon had fallen over with his face to the ground before the ark of the LORD. They took Dagon, and put him in his place again.

<sup>5</sup> This is why to this day neither the priests of Dagon, nor anyone who enters Dagon's temple will step on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod.

<sup>6</sup> The hand of the LORD was heavy on the inhabitants of Ashdod. He brought devastation on them, and struck them with tumors, both in Ashdod and its surrounding areas.

<sup>7</sup> When the men of Ashdod saw what was happening, they said, "The ark of the God of Israel must not stay with us; for his hand is heavy on us, and on Dagon our god."

<sup>8</sup> They sent therefore and gathered all the lords of the Philistines, and said, "What should we do with the ark of the God of Israel?" They answered, "Let the ark of the God of Israel be carried to Gath." So they carried the ark of the God of Israel there.

<sup>9</sup> But after it arrived there, the hand of the LORD was against the city causing great panic and he struck the men of the city, both young and old, so that tumors broke out on them.

<sup>10</sup> So they sent the ark of God to Ekron. As the ark of God arrived at Ekron, the Ekronites cried out, "They have brought the ark of the God of Israel to us, to kill us and our people."

<sup>11</sup> So they sent and gathered all the lords of the Philistines, and said, "Send away the ark of the God of Israel, and let it go back to its own place so it won't kill us and our people." For there was a deathly panic throughout the entire city. The hand of God was very heavy there.

<sup>12</sup> Those who did not die were smitten with the tumors; and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

<sup>1</sup> Now the ark of the LORD was in Philistine territory seven months.

<sup>2</sup> The Philistines summoned the priests and the diviners, asking, "What should we do with the ark of the LORD? Tell us how we should send it back to its place."

<sup>3</sup> They advised, "If you send back the ark of the God of Israel, do not send it back empty; but by all means return it with a guilt offering. Then you will be healed, and you will understand why his hand has not been lifted off of you."

<sup>4</sup> The Philistines asked, "What kind of guilt offering should we send to him?" They answered, "Five gold tumors, and five golden mice, according to the number of the lords of the Philistines; for the same plague came on all of you and on your lords.

<sup>5</sup> So you should make images of your tumors, and images of your mice that are ravaging the land; and give glory to the God of Israel. Then perhaps he will lighten his hand off of you, your gods and your land.

<sup>6</sup> Why would you ever harden your hearts, like the Egyptians and Pharaoh did? When God treated them harshly, didn't even the Egyptians let the people go, and they left?

<sup>7</sup> Now therefore get and build a new cart. Take two cows that have calves that have never been yoked, and hitch the cows to the cart, and bring their calves home away from them.

<sup>8</sup> Take the ark of the LORD, and put it on the cart; and put the gold objects you are returning to him as a guilt offering in a chest beside it. Then send it on its way.

<sup>9</sup> Watch it and see if it goes up by the way to its own land to Beth Shemesh, if so, then it was he who brought this disaster on us, but if not, then we will know that it was not his hand that struck us; it just happened to us by chance."

<sup>10</sup> So the men did this, and took two cows that had calves, and harnessed them to the cart, and locked up their calves at home.

<sup>12</sup> The cows went straight on the road to Beth Shemesh; they stayed on the road, lowing as they went, without turning aside to the right or to the left. The lords of the Philistines followed along behind it to the border of Beth Shemesh.

<sup>13</sup> Now the people of Beth Shemesh were reaping their wheat harvest in the valley. When they lifted up their eyes, they saw the ark and were happy to see it.

<sup>14</sup> The cart came into the field of Joshua who was from Beth Shemesh. It stopped there, beside a large rock. So they cut up the wood of the cart, and offered up the cows for a burnt offering to the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> Then the Levites took down the ark of the LORD, and the chest that was with it, where the gold models were, and put them on the large rock. Then the men of Beth Shemesh offered burnt offerings and made sacrifices to the LORD on that day.

<sup>16</sup> After the five lords of the Philistines saw what had happened, they returned to Ekron that same day.

<sup>17</sup> These are the golden tumors that the Philistines returned for a guilt offering to the LORD: one for Ashdod, one for Gaza, one for Ashkelon, one for Gath, and one for Ekron;

<sup>18</sup> along with the golden mice, matching the number of the Philistine cities belonging to the five lords, both fortified cities and unwalled villages. The large rock, on which they set the ark of the LORD is a witness to this day in the field of Joshua who was from Beth-shemesh.

<sup>19</sup> But the LORD struck the men of Beth Shemesh, because they looked into the ark of the LORD; he killed seventy of their chief men. The people mourned, because the LORD struck the people with a great blow.

<sup>20</sup> The men of Beth Shemesh asked, "Who is able to stand before the LORD, this holy God? To whom will the ark go to get it away from us?"

<sup>21</sup> They sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kiriath-jearim, saying, "The Philistines have brought back the ark of the LORD. Come down here and take it up to your place."

DASV: 1 Samuel 7

<sup>1</sup> The men of Kiriath-jearim came and took the ark of the LORD, and brought it into the house of Abinadab on the hill. They consecrated Eleazar his son to be in charge of the ark of the LORD.

<sup>2</sup> From that day the ark stayed at Kiriath-jearim, a long time--for some twenty years--and all the house of Israel lamented longing after the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> Samuel spoke to all the house of Israel, saying, "If you will return to the LORD with all your heart, then put away the foreign gods and the Ashtareths from among you, and direct your hearts to the LORD, and serve him only, then he will deliver you out of the hand of the Philistines.

<sup>4</sup> So the Israelites put away the Baals and the Ashtareths, and served the LORD only.

<sup>5</sup> Samuel said, "Gather all Israel to Mizpah, and I will pray to the LORD for you."

<sup>6</sup> After they gathered together to Mizpah, they drew water and poured it out before the LORD, and fasted on that day, and confessed, "We have sinned against the LORD." It was at Mizpah that Samuel took leadership over the Israelites.

<sup>7</sup> When the Philistines heard that the Israelites were assembled at Mizpah, the lords of the Philistines went up against Israel. When the Israelites heard it, they were afraid of the Philistines.

<sup>8</sup> The Israelites requested Samuel, "Do not stop pleading with the LORD our God for us, that he will save us from the hand of the Philistines."

<sup>9</sup> So Samuel took a nursing lamb, and offered it as a whole burnt offering to the LORD. Samuel cried to the LORD for Israel, and the LORD answered him.

<sup>10</sup> As Samuel was offering up the burnt offering, the Philistines drew near to attack Israel; but the LORD thundered with a great thunder on that day against the Philistines, causing them to panic, and they were defeated by Israel.

<sup>11</sup> The men of Israel went out from Mizpah, and chased the Philistines, and struck them down, as far as the region below Beth-car.

<sup>12</sup> Then Samuel took a stone, and set it up between Mizpah and Shen. He called the name of it Ebenezer ["stone of help"], saying, "So far the LORD has helped us."

<sup>13</sup> So the Philistines were subdued, and they did not again invade the territory of Israel. The hand of the LORD was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel.

<sup>14</sup> The cities which the Philistines had taken from Israel were restored to Israel, from Ekron even to Gath. Israel delivered its neighboring territory from the hand of the Philistines. There was also peace between Israel and the Amorites.

<sup>16</sup> Annually he went in a circuit to Bethel, Gilgal and Mizpah, and he judged Israel in all these places.

<sup>17</sup> Then he would return to Ramah, for that was his home. From there he also judged Israel and built an altar to the LORD.

DASV: 1 Samuel 8

<sup>5</sup> They said to him, "Look, you are old, and your sons do not walk in your ways. So appoint us a king to judge us like all the other nations."

<sup>6</sup> But this demand displeased Samuel, when they said, "Give us a king to judge us." So Samuel prayed to the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> The LORD said to Samuel, "Listen to all that the people are saying to you; for they have not rejected you, but they have rejected me from being their king, <sup>8</sup> just as they have done to me since the day that I brought them up out of Egypt even to this day, forsaking me and serving other gods. Now they're doing it to you too.

<sup>10</sup> So Samuel told all the words of the LORD to the people who had demanded a king from him.

<sup>11</sup> He said, "This will be how the king will reign over you: he will take your sons, and assign them to his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and they will run before his chariots.

<sup>12</sup> He will make some of them commanders of thousands, and commanders of fifties; and he will make some of them plow his ground, reap his harvest, make his weapons of war and the equipment for his chariots.

<sup>13</sup> He will take your daughters to be perfumers, cooks and bakers.

<sup>14</sup> He will take the best of your fields, your vineyards and your olive groves, and give them to his servants.

<sup>15</sup> He will take a tenth of your seed and your vineyards, and give it to his officers and to his servants.

<sup>16</sup> He will take your male and female servants, and the best of your young men, and your donkeys, and have them do his work.

<sup>17</sup> He will take the tenth of your flocks and you will become his slaves.

<sup>18</sup> In that day, you will cry out because of your king whom you have chosen for yourselves, and the LORD will not answer you."

<sup>19</sup> But the people refused to listen to the voice of Samuel. Instead they demanded, "No, we want to have a king over us, <sup>20</sup> so that we also may be like all the other nations and so our king may judge us, lead us, and fight our battles."

<sup>21</sup> So Samuel listened to all the words of the people and repeated them in the ears of the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> Then the LORD said to Samuel, "Listen to them and install a king over them." So Samuel said to the men of Israel, "Go back, each one of you to his own town."

DASV: 1 Samuel 9

<sup>1</sup> Now there was a man of Benjamin, whose name was Kish, the son of Abiel, the son of Zeror, the son of Becorath, the son of Aphiah, a Benjaminite, and a man of prominence.

<sup>2</sup> He had a son whose name was Saul, a handsome young man. There was no one among the Israelites more handsome than he. He was a head taller than anyone else.

<sup>3</sup> The donkeys of Kish, Saul's father, had strayed off. So Kish said to his son Saul, "Take one of the servants with you, and go look for the donkeys."

<sup>4</sup> So he passed through the hill country of Ephraim, then through the land of Shalishah, but they could not find them. Then they crossed through the land of Shaalim, but the donkeys were not there either. Then he passed through the land of the Benjaminites, but they still could not find them.

<sup>5</sup> When they came to the land of Zuph, Saul said to his servant who was with him, "Come, and let us turn back or my father will stop worrying about the donkeys, and start worrying about us."

<sup>6</sup> He said to Saul, "Look, there is in this town a man of God, and he is highly respected. Everything he says comes true, so let's go there and perhaps he can tell us where we should go."

<sup>7</sup> Then Saul said to his servant, "If we go, what can we bring the man since the food in our bags is gone? We don't have a gift to give to the man of God. What do we have?"

<sup>8</sup> The servant answered Saul again, "Look, I have in my hand a quarter of a shekel of silver, I will give it to the man of God to tell us which way to go."

<sup>9</sup> (Previously in Israel, when a person went to inquire of God, he said, "Come, and let us go to the seer," for the one who is now called a prophet, used to be called a seer.)

<sup>10</sup> Then Saul said to his servant, "Good idea! Let's go." So they went to the town where the man of God was.

<sup>11</sup> As they went up the slope to the town, they found some girls coming out to draw water, and asked them, "Is the seer here?"

<sup>12</sup> They answered, "He is. Look, he is right ahead of you. Hurry, for he just came into town today, for the people have a sacrifice today at the high place.

<sup>13</sup> As soon as you enter the town, you can catch him before he goes up to the high place to eat. The people will not eat until he comes, because he must bless the sacrifice; afterwards those invited may eat. Now get up there for this is the time when you should be able to find him."

<sup>14</sup> So they went up to the town. As they entered the town, Samuel came out toward them on his way up to the high place.

<sup>15</sup> Now the day before Saul came, the LORD had revealed to Samuel,

<sup>16</sup> "Tomorrow about this time I will send you a man from the land of Benjamin, anoint him to be the leader over my people Israel. He will save my people out of the hand of the Philistines; for I have taken note of my people, because their cry has come to me."

<sup>17</sup> When Samuel saw Saul, the LORD said to him, "See, this is the man I told you about! He will rule over my people."

<sup>18</sup> Then Saul approached Samuel in the gate, and asked, "Please tell me, where is the seer's house?"

<sup>19</sup> Samuel answered Saul, "I am the seer. Go up before me to the high place, for you will eat with me today, then in the morning I will let you go and tell you all that is on your mind."

<sup>20</sup> As for your donkeys that were lost three days ago, don't worry about them, for they have been found. Who is all Israel longing for? Is it not for you, and for all your father's house?"

<sup>21</sup> Saul answered, "Am I not a Benjaminite, the smallest tribe of Israel, and is not my family the least of all the families of the tribe of Benjamin? Why then do you talk to me this way?"

<sup>22</sup> Samuel took Saul and his servant, and brought them into the hall, and made them sit at the head place among those who were invited. There were about thirty guests.

<sup>23</sup> Then Samuel said to the cook, "Bring the portion I gave you, the one I asked you to set aside."

<sup>24</sup> Then the cook picked up the leg with all that was on it, and set it before Saul. Samuel said, "Look, this is what was reserved for you! Eat it because it was kept special for you for this appointed time, for I said, 'I have invited the guests.'" So Saul ate with Samuel that day.

<sup>25</sup> When they had come down from the high place into the town, he spoke with Saul on the roof.

<sup>26</sup> They got up at daybreak the next morning, and Samuel called to Saul on the roof, "Get up, so that I may send you away." So Saul got up, and both he and Samuel, went outside.

<sup>27</sup> As they were going down to the edge of town, Samuel said to Saul, "Tell the servant to go ahead of us." So he went ahead. "Stop here for a minute, so that I may tell you a message from God."

DASV: 1 Samuel 10

<sup>1</sup> Then Samuel took a flask of oil, and poured it on Saul's head, and kissed him, and said, "Hasn't the LORD anointed you to be ruler over his inheritance?"

<sup>2</sup> When you leave me today, you will find two men by Rachel's tomb, at Zelzah near the border of Benjamin, they will tell you, "The donkeys that you went to search for have been found. Your father has stopped worrying about the donkeys and is now anxious about you, asking, "What should I do about my son?"

<sup>3</sup> Then you will proceed from there, and you will come to the oak of Tabor. There three men going up to God at Bethel will meet you, one carrying three young goats, and another carrying three loaves of bread, and the other carrying a skin of wine.

<sup>4</sup> They will greet you, and give you two loaves of bread, which you will accept from their hand.

<sup>5</sup> After that you will come to Gibeah of God, where there is a garrison of the Philistines. When you enter the town, you will meet a group of prophets coming down from the high place with a harp, tambourine, flute and lyre playing before them, and they will be prophesying.

<sup>6</sup> The Spirit of the LORD will come mightily on you, and you will prophesy with them, and will be turned into a different person.

<sup>7</sup> When these signs happen to you, do whatever your hand finds to do, for God is with you.

<sup>8</sup> Go down ahead of me to Gilgal, and I will come down to you, to offer burnt offerings and peace offerings. Wait there seven days until I come to you and show you what to do."

<sup>9</sup> As Saul had turned to leave Samuel, God gave him another heart. All those signs were fulfilled that day.

<sup>10</sup> When they arrived at Gibeah, a group of prophets met him, and the Spirit of God came mightily on him, and he prophesied along with them.

<sup>11</sup> When everyone who had known him before saw how he prophesied with the prophets, the people asked each other, "What in the world has happened to the son of Kish? Is even Saul among the prophets?"

<sup>12</sup> A person from there answered, "And who is their father?" Therefore it became a proverb, "Is even Saul among the prophets?"

<sup>13</sup> When Saul had finished prophesying, he came to the high place.

<sup>14</sup> Saul's uncle asked him and his servant, "Where have you been?" Saul replied, "We were looking for the donkeys; but when we saw that they were nowhere to be found, we went to Samuel."

<sup>15</sup> Saul's uncle said, "Please tell me what Samuel told you."

<sup>16</sup> Saul said to his uncle, "He told us plainly that the donkeys were found." But he did not mention what Samuel told him about the matter of the kingship.

<sup>18</sup> He said to the Israelites, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says, 'I brought up Israel out of Egypt, and I delivered you from the hand of the Egyptians, and from the hand of all the kingdoms that oppressed you.'

<sup>19</sup> But today you have rejected your God, who saves you from all your calamities and your distresses; yet you have said to him, 'No, appoint a king over us.' Now therefore present yourselves before the LORD by your tribes and clans."

<sup>20</sup> So Samuel brought all the tribes of Israel near, and the tribe of Benjamin was chosen by lot.

<sup>21</sup> He brought the tribe of Benjamin near by their families; and the family of the Matrites was chosen by lot; and Saul the son of Kish was chosen. But when they looked for him, he could not be found.

<sup>22</sup> Therefore they asked of the LORD again, "Has the man arrived here yet?" The LORD answered, "Look, he has hidden himself among the baggage."

<sup>23</sup> So they ran and brought him out of there. When he stood among the people, he was head and shoulders taller than any of the people.

<sup>24</sup> Then Samuel declared to all the people, "Do you see the one whom the LORD has chosen? There is no one like him among all the people." Then all the people shouted, "Long live the king."

<sup>25</sup> Then Samuel told the people about the rights and duties of the king, and wrote it in a book, and laid it up before the LORD. Then Samuel dismissed all the people, each one to his own home.

<sup>26</sup> Saul also returned to his house at Gibeah, and with him went the warriors whose hearts God had touched.

<sup>27</sup> But certain wicked fellows said, "How can this man save us?" They despised him and did not bring him a gift. But Saul kept quiet about it.

DASV: 1 Samuel 11

<sup>1</sup> Then Nahash the Ammonite came up, and camped against Jabesh-gilead. All the men of Jabesh said to Nahash, "Make a treaty with us, and we will serve you."

<sup>2</sup> But Nahash the Ammonite replied, "I will make a treaty with you but only on this condition, that all your right eyes be gouged out; and by doing this I will disgrace all Israel."

<sup>3</sup> The elders of Jabesh said to him, "Give us seven days so that we may send messengers to all the territory of Israel. Then, if there is no one to save us, we will give ourselves up to you."

<sup>4</sup> When the messengers came to Gibeah of Saul, and reported the matter in the ears of the people, all the people wept aloud.

<sup>5</sup> Now Saul was coming in from the field following the oxen. Saul asked, "What's the matter with the people that they are weeping?" Then they told him the news from the men of Jabesh.

<sup>6</sup> The Spirit of God came mightily on Saul when he heard those words, and he became very angry.

<sup>7</sup> He took a pair of oxen, and cut them in pieces, and sent them throughout all the territory of Israel by the hand of messengers, saying, "Whoever does not follow Saul and Samuel, this is what will be done to his oxen." The dread of the LORD fell on the people, and they came together as one.

<sup>8</sup> Then he numbered them in Bezek; and there were 300,000 Israelites, and 30,000 men of Judah.

<sup>9</sup> They said to the messengers who had come, "Tell the men of Jabesh-gilead, 'Tomorrow, by the time the sun is hot, you will be delivered.'" So the messengers went and told the men of Jabesh, and they were glad.

<sup>10</sup> The men of Jabesh said, "Tomorrow we will come out to you, and you may do to us whatever you want to."

<sup>11</sup> The next day Saul broke the troops up into three companies. During the morning watch they attacked the camp, and struck down the Ammonites until the heat of the day. Those who survived scattered so that no two of them were left together.

<sup>12</sup> Then the people asked Samuel, "Who said, 'Will Saul reign over us?' Bring out the men, so that we may put them to death."

<sup>13</sup> But Saul objected, "No one will be put to death this day, for today the LORD has brought deliverance to Israel."

<sup>14</sup> Then Samuel said to the people, "Come, let us go to Gilgal and renew the kingdom there."

<sup>15</sup> So all the people went to Gilgal, and there they made Saul king before the LORD. There they offered sacrifices of peace offerings before the LORD; and there Saul and all the men of Israel rejoiced greatly.

DASV: 1 Samuel 12

<sup>1</sup> Samuel said to all Israel, "I have listened to your voice in everything you requested of me, and have set a king over you.

<sup>2</sup> Now look, the king walks before you, and I am old and gray; and my sons are with you. I have walked before you from my youth to this day.

<sup>3</sup> Here I am; testify against me before the LORD and before his anointed one. Whose ox have I taken? Whose donkey have I taken? Whom have I cheated? Whom have I oppressed? From whose hand have I taken a bribe blinding my eyes because of it? Tell me now and I will pay you back."

<sup>4</sup> They confessed, "You have not cheated or oppressed us, nor have you taken any bribe from anyone's hand."

<sup>5</sup> He said to them, "The LORD is witness against you, and his anointed is witness this day, that you have found nothing in my hand." They replied, "He is witness."

<sup>6</sup> Samuel said to the people, "It was the LORD who appointed Moses and Aaron, and brought your fathers up out of the land of Egypt.

<sup>7</sup> Now therefore stand still, so that I may argue my case with you before the LORD concerning all the righteous deeds the LORD did for you and your forefathers.

<sup>8</sup> When Jacob went down to Egypt, your forefathers cried out to the LORD, then the LORD sent Moses and Aaron, who brought your forefathers out of Egypt and settled them in this place.

<sup>9</sup> But they forgot the LORD their God so he sold them into the hand of Sisera, captain of the army of Hazor, and into the hand of the Philistines, and into the hand of the king of Moab, who fought against them.

<sup>10</sup> Then they cried out to the LORD confessing, 'We have sinned, because we have forsaken the LORD and have served the Baals and the Ashtareths. Now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will serve you.'

<sup>11</sup> So the LORD sent Jerub-baal, Barak, Jephthah and Samuel, and he delivered you out of the hand of your enemies on every side, and you lived in safety.

<sup>12</sup> When you saw that Nahash the king of the Ammonites came against you, you said to me, 'No, but a king should reign over us,' even though the LORD your God was your king.

<sup>13</sup> Now see, here is the king you have chosen, and whom you demanded, the LORD has set a king over you.

<sup>14</sup> If you will fear the LORD, serve him, obey his voice, not rebel against the commandment of the LORD, and both you and the king who reigns over you will follow the LORD your God, then it will go well for you.

<sup>15</sup> But if you will not obey the voice of the LORD, but rebel against the commandment of the LORD, then the hand of the LORD will be against you, just as it was against your forefathers.

<sup>16</sup> Now therefore stand still and see this great thing the LORD will do before your eyes.

<sup>17</sup> Is it not the wheat harvest today? I will call on the LORD, so that he may send thunder and rain; then you will realize and see how great your wickedness is that you have done in the sight of the LORD by your asking for a king."

<sup>18</sup> So Samuel called on the LORD; and the LORD sent thunder and rain that day. So all the people greatly feared the LORD and Samuel.

<sup>19</sup> Then all the people pleaded with Samuel, "Pray for your servants to the LORD your God, so that we do not die; for we have added to all our sins by demanding a king for ourselves."

<sup>20</sup> Then Samuel said to the people, "Do not be afraid. You have indeed done all this evil, yet don't turn aside from following the LORD, but serve the LORD with all your heart.

<sup>21</sup> Do not turn aside after worthless idols which cannot profit or deliver, for they are worthless.

<sup>22</sup> For the LORD will not abandon his people, for his great name's sake, because it has pleased the LORD to make you his very own people.

<sup>23</sup> Moreover, as for me, far be it from me that I should sin against the LORD by failing to pray for you; and I will instruct you in the good and right way.

<sup>24</sup> Only fear the LORD, and serve him in truth with all your heart; realizing what great things he has done for you.

<sup>25</sup> But if you continue to do evil, both you and your king will be swept away."

DASV: 1 Samuel 13

<sup>1</sup> Saul was [thirty] years old when he began to reign and he reigned [forty]-two years over Israel.

<sup>2</sup> Saul chose 3,000 men of Israel. 2,000 of these were with Saul at Michmash and in the hill country of Bethel, and the other thousand were with Jonathan in Gibeah of Benjamin. The rest of the people he sent back to their homes.

<sup>3</sup> Jonathan defeated the garrison of the Philistines at Geba, and the Philistines heard about it. Saul blew the trumpet throughout all the land, saying, "Let the Hebrews listen."

<sup>4</sup> All Israel heard the news that Saul had defeated the garrison of the Philistines, and also that Israel had become a stench to the Philistines. The troops mustered to Saul at Gilgal.

<sup>5</sup> The Philistines assembled to fight Israel, 30,000 chariots, and 6,000 horsemen, and an army as numerous as the sand of the seashore. They came up and camped at Michmash, east of Beth-aven.

<sup>6</sup> When the men of Israel saw that they were in a difficult situation (for their troops were hard pressed), they hid in caves, thickets, rocks, holes and pits.

<sup>7</sup> Some of the Hebrews fled across the Jordan River to the land of Gad and Gilead. Saul remained at Gilgal, and all the troops who followed him were trembling with fear.

<sup>8</sup> He waited seven days, the set time that Samuel had indicated, but Samuel had still not come down to Gilgal; and the people were scattering from Saul.

<sup>9</sup> So Saul ordered, "Bring me the burnt offering and peace offerings." Then he offered the burnt offering.

<sup>10</sup> As soon as he had finished offering the burnt offering, Samuel arrived and Saul went out to meet him, so that he might greet him.

<sup>11</sup> Samuel said, "What have you done?" Saul replied, "When I saw that the people were scattering from me, and you hadn't come at the appointed time, and the Philistines had assembled at Michmash, <sup>12</sup> I thought, 'The Philistines will come down to attack me at Gilgal, and I have not sought the favor of the LORD.' So I felt forced to offer the burnt offering."

<sup>13</sup> Samuel said to Saul, "You have acted foolishly. You have not kept the commandment of the LORD your God, that he gave you. If you had, the LORD would have established your kingdom over Israel forever.

<sup>14</sup> But now your kingdom will not last. The LORD has sought out a man after his own heart, and the LORD has appointed him to be the leader over his people, because you have not kept what the LORD commanded you."

<sup>16</sup> Saul, his son Jonathan, and the troops who remained with them, stayed in Geba of Benjamin, while the Philistines camped at Michmash.

<sup>17</sup> The raiding parties went out of the camp of the Philistines in three groups. One group turned to the way that leads toward Ophrah, in the region of Shual, <sup>18</sup> another group turned toward the road going up to Beth-horon, and another group turned toward the road to the border that overlooks the valley of Zeboim near the wilderness.

<sup>19</sup> Now there was no blacksmith found anywhere in all the land of Israel, for the Philistines said, "This will stop the Hebrews from making swords or spears."

<sup>20</sup> So all the Israelites used to go down to the Philistines to have their plowshares, mattocks, axes and sickles sharpened.

<sup>21</sup> They charged two-thirds of a shekel for sharpening plowshares and mattocks, and one-third shekel for axes and for sharpening ox goads.

<sup>22</sup> So on the day of the battle, there was neither sword or spear to be found in the hand of any of the troops that were with Saul and Jonathan, only Saul and Jonathan his son had them.

DASV: 1 Samuel 14

<sup>1</sup> One day Jonathan the son of Saul said to his armor bearer, "Come, let's go over to the Philistines' garrison, on the other side." But he did not tell his father.

<sup>2</sup> Saul was staying on the outskirts of Gibeah under the pomegranate tree in Migron. There were about 600 troops with him.

<sup>3</sup> Ahijah, the son of Ahitub, Ichabod's brother, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eli, the priest of the LORD in Shiloh was wearing an ephod. Now the people did not realize that Jonathan was gone.

<sup>4</sup> There was a rocky cliff on each side of the pass through which Jonathan was seeking to go over to the Philistine garrison. The name of the one cliff was Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh.

<sup>5</sup> The one cliff rose up on the north in front of Michmash, and the other on the south in front of Geba.

<sup>6</sup> Jonathan said to the armor bearer, "Come, let's go over to the garrison of these uncircumcised men. It may be that the LORD will act on our behalf, for nothing can hinder the LORD from saving by many or by few."

<sup>7</sup> His armor bearer said to him, "Do everything that is in your heart, I am absolutely with you whatever you decide."

<sup>8</sup> Then Jonathan said, "Look, we will cross over to these men, and we will show ourselves to them.

<sup>9</sup> If they say to us, 'Wait until we come to you,' then we will stand still in our place, and will not go up to them.

<sup>10</sup> But if they say, 'Come up to us,' then we will go up, for the LORD has delivered them into our hand. This will be our sign."

<sup>11</sup> When they both showed themselves to the Philistine garrison, the Philistines shouted, "Look, the Hebrews are crawling out of the holes where they were hiding."

<sup>12</sup> Then the men of the garrison shouted to Jonathan and his armor bearer, "Come up to us, and we will teach you a lesson." Then Jonathan said to his armor bearer, "Come up behind me, for the LORD has delivered them into the hand of Israel."

<sup>13</sup> Jonathan climbed up on his hands and feet, with his armor bearer behind him. They fell before Jonathan and his armor bearer killed those behind him.

<sup>14</sup> During this first strike Jonathan and his armor bearer killed about twenty men, in an area of about half an acre.

<sup>15</sup> There was panic in the camp, in the field, and among all the people, the garrison and even the raiders were rattled and the earth shook. It was a terror sent from God.

<sup>16</sup> Saul's lookouts in Gibeah of Benjamin looked on as the multitude melted away scattering this way and that.

<sup>17</sup> Then Saul said to the troops that were with him, "Count off and see who has defected from us." When they had counted off, Jonathan and his armor bearer were not there.

<sup>18</sup> Saul said to Ahijah, "Bring the ark of God here." For the ark of God traveled with the Israelites at that time.

<sup>19</sup> While Saul was talking with the priest, the tumult in the camp of the Philistines increased more and more. So Saul said to the priest, "Withdraw your hand."

<sup>20</sup> Saul and all the troops that were with him assembled and went out to battle. They found the Philistines killing each other with swords in total panic.

<sup>21</sup> Now the Hebrews who had previously joined with the Philistines, and had gone with them into the camp, turned and united with the Israelites who were with Saul and Jonathan.

<sup>22</sup> Likewise, all the men of Israel who had hid themselves in the hill country of Ephraim, when they heard that the Philistines were fleeing, they also joined the battle in pursuit after them.

<sup>23</sup> So the LORD delivered Israel that day, and the battle extended even beyond Beth-aven.

<sup>24</sup> The men of Israel were hard pressed that day, for Saul had laid an oath on the troops, saying, "Cursed be the man who eats any food before evening and I have avenged myself on my enemies." So none of the troops had eaten anything.

<sup>25</sup> All the troops entered the forest, and there was honey on the ground.

<sup>26</sup> When the troops entered the forest, they saw the honey dripping, but no one dared put his hand to his mouth, for they were afraid of the oath.

<sup>27</sup> But Jonathan had not heard his father charge the troops with the oath, so he put the end of the staff that was in his hand, and dipped it in the honeycomb, and ate putting his hand to his mouth, and his eyes brightened.

<sup>28</sup> Then one of the soldiers mentioned, "Your father bound the troops with a solemn oath, saying, 'Cursed be the man who eats food today.' That's why the troops are so exhausted."

<sup>29</sup> Then Jonathan said, "My father has troubled the land. See, how my eyes have brightened because I have eaten a little of this honey.

<sup>30</sup> How much better if the troops had eaten freely today from the spoil of their enemies that they found. Would not the slaughter of the Philistines have been even greater?"

<sup>31</sup> On that day they struck down the Philistines from Michmash to Aijalon, but the troops were exhausted.

<sup>32</sup> The troops rushed greedily for the plunder, and took sheep, oxen and calves, and slaughtered them right there on the spot and the troops even ate them with the blood.

<sup>33</sup> Then they told Saul, "Look, the troops are sinning against the LORD because they are eating meat with its blood." So he announced, "You have acted unfaithfully. Roll a large stone here before me immediately."

<sup>34</sup> Saul said, "Spread out among the troops, and tell them, 'Let each man bring me his ox or his sheep, slaughter and eat them here, but do not sin against the LORD by eating it with the blood.'" So that night each of the troops brought his ox with him, and slaughtered it there.

<sup>35</sup> Saul built an altar to the LORD, it was the first altar that he built to the LORD.

<sup>36</sup> Then Saul said, "Let's go down after the Philistines at night, and plunder them until dawn. Let's not leave a single one of them alive." They replied, "Do whatever seems best to you." Then the priest said, "Let's draw near to God here."

<sup>37</sup> So Saul asked God, "Should I go down after the Philistines? Will you help deliver them into the hand of Israel?" But God would not answer him that day.

<sup>38</sup> So Saul said, "Come here, all you leaders of the army; and let's see how this sin has occurred today.

<sup>39</sup> For as surely as the LORD lives who delivers Israel, even if it turns out to be Jonathan my son, he will surely die." But no one among all the troops would volunteer any information to him.

<sup>40</sup> Then he said to all Israel, "You will be on one side, and Jonathan my son and I will be on the other." The people responded to Saul, "Do whatever you think best."

<sup>41</sup> Then Saul prayed "O LORD, the God of Israel, show the right answer. If it is Jonathan or me give Urim, but if the guilt is with the people give the Thummim." Then Jonathan and Saul were designated by the lot, and the troops were found innocent.

<sup>42</sup> Then Saul said, "Cast the lots between me and my son Jonathan." And Jonathan was designated by the lot.

<sup>43</sup> Then Saul said to Jonathan, "Tell me what you have done." So Jonathan confessed to him, "I tasted a little honey with the end of the staff that was in my hand; and because of that I must die?"

<sup>44</sup> Saul said, "God do so to me and more also, if you don't die, Jonathan."

<sup>45</sup> But the people objected to Saul, "Should Jonathan die, who won this great victory for Israel? Far from it! As the LORD lives, not one hair of his head will fall to the ground; for he has helped God this day." So the people rescued Jonathan, so that he was not killed.

<sup>47</sup> Now when Saul had secured his kingship over Israel, he fought against all his enemies on every side--against Moab, Ammon, Edom, the kings of Zobah, and the Philistines--wherever he turned he routed them.

<sup>48</sup> He acted valiantly, and struck down the Amalekites, and delivered Israel out of the hands of those who plundered them.

<sup>49</sup> Now the sons of Saul were: Jonathan, Ishvi and Malki-shua; and the names of his two daughters were: the firstborn, Merab, and younger one, Michal.

<sup>51</sup> Kish was the father of Saul, and Ner, the father of Abner, was the son of Abiel.

<sup>52</sup> There was fierce war against the Philistines all the days of Saul, and when Saul saw any strong or valiant man, he drafted him into his service.

DASV: 1 Samuel 15

<sup>1</sup> Samuel said to Saul, "The LORD sent me to anoint you to be king over his people, over Israel. Now, listen to this message from the LORD.

<sup>2</sup> This is what the LORD of hosts says, 'I have carefully noted all that Amalek did to Israel, how he opposed Israel along the way, when they came up out of Egypt.

<sup>3</sup> Now, go and attack Amalek, and utterly destroy everything that they have, and do not spare them. Kill both men and women, children and babies, oxen, sheep, camels and donkeys."

<sup>4</sup> So Saul summoned the troops, and numbered them in Telaim. There were 200,000 foot soldiers, and 10,000 men of Judah.

<sup>5</sup> Saul came to the city of Amalek, and set an ambush in the valley.

<sup>6</sup> Then Saul said to the Kenites, "Go, leave, get away from the Amalekites, or I might destroy you with them; for you showed kindness to all the Israelites when they came up out of Egypt." So the Kenites withdrew from the Amalekites.

<sup>7</sup> Then Saul struck down the Amalekites, from Havilah as far as Shur, to the east of Egypt.

<sup>8</sup> He captured Agag the king of the Amalekites alive, but totally destroyed all the people with the edge of the sword.

<sup>9</sup> But Saul and the people spared Agag, the best of the sheep, oxen, fat calves, lambs, and everything that was good, and would not utterly destroy them. But everything that was despised and worthless they totally destroyed.

<sup>10</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to Samuel:

<sup>11</sup> "I regret that I ever made Saul king, for he is turned away from following me, and has not carried out what I told him to do." Samuel was angry; and he cried out to the LORD all night.

<sup>12</sup> Samuel got up early the next morning to meet Saul, and Samuel was told, "Saul has gone to Carmel, where he set up a monument for himself, and turned and went down to Gilgal."

<sup>13</sup> When Samuel came to Saul, Saul said to him, "May the LORD bless you. I have carried out the command of the LORD."

<sup>14</sup> Then Samuel replied, "What then is this bleating of the sheep in my ears, and the lowing of cattle that I hear?"

<sup>15</sup> Saul answered, "They brought them from the Amalekites, for the people spared the best of the sheep and cattle in order to sacrifice to the LORD your God. The rest we totally destroyed."

<sup>16</sup> Then Samuel said to Saul, "Stop! I will tell you what the LORD said to me last night." Saul replied, "Tell me."

<sup>17</sup> Samuel said, "Although you were once little in your own sight, were you not made the leader of the tribes of Israel? The LORD anointed you king over Israel.

<sup>18</sup> The LORD sent you on a mission, and said, 'Go, totally destroy the sinners, the Amalekites, and fight against them until they have been consumed.'

<sup>19</sup> Why then did you not obey the voice of the LORD, but you rushed for the plunder, and what was evil in the sight of the LORD?"

<sup>20</sup> But Saul objected to Samuel, "I have obeyed the voice of the LORD. I went on the mission that the LORD sent me. I brought back Agag the king of Amalek, and have totally destroyed the Amalekites.

<sup>21</sup> But the troops took some of the plunder, sheep and oxen, the best things devoted to destruction, to sacrifice to the LORD your God at Gilgal."

<sup>22</sup> But Samuel said, "Does the LORD delight as much in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the LORD? Look, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to listen than the fat of rams.

<sup>23</sup> For rebellion is as bad as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as bad as the evil of idolatry. Because you have rejected the word of the LORD, he has also rejected you from being king."

<sup>24</sup> Then Saul said to Samuel, "I have sinned, for I have disobeyed the command of the LORD and your words, because I feared the people, and obeyed their voice.

<sup>25</sup> Now therefore, please pardon my sin, and go back with me, so that I may worship the LORD."

<sup>26</sup> But Samuel said to Saul, "I will not go back with you since you have rejected the word of the LORD, and the LORD has rejected you from being king over Israel."

<sup>27</sup> As Samuel turned to leave, Saul grabbed hold of the hem of his robe, and it tore.

<sup>28</sup> Samuel said to him, "The LORD has torn the kingdom of Israel from you this day, and has given it to one of your neighbors who is better than you.

<sup>29</sup> The Glory of Israel will not lie or change his mind, for he is not a man, that he should change his mind."

<sup>30</sup> Then Saul pleaded, "I have sinned. But please honor me now before the elders of my people and before Israel, and come back with me, that I may worship the LORD your God."

<sup>32</sup> Then Samuel said, "Bring Agag king of the Amalekites here to me." So Agag came to him full of hope, thinking, "Surely the bitterness of death is past."

<sup>33</sup> Samuel declared, "As your sword has made women childless, so your mother will be childless among women." Samuel hacked Agag into pieces before the LORD at Gilgal.

<sup>34</sup> Then Samuel went to Ramah, and Saul went up to his home at Gibeah of Saul.

<sup>35</sup> Samuel never saw Saul again until the day of his death, although Samuel did mourn for Saul. But the LORD regretted that he had made Saul king over Israel.

DASV: 1 Samuel 16

<sup>1</sup> The LORD said to Samuel, "How long will you mourn for Saul, seeing I have rejected him from being king over Israel? Fill your horn with olive oil, and go. I am sending you to Jesse the Bethlehemite; for I have selected one of his sons as king."

<sup>2</sup> But Samuel objected, "How can I go? If Saul hears about it, he will kill me." The LORD responded, "Take a heifer with you, and say, 'I am come to sacrifice to the LORD.'"

<sup>3</sup> Invite Jesse to the sacrifice, and I will show you what to do. You will anoint for me the one I will designate to you."

<sup>4</sup> So Samuel did what the LORD told him, and arrived at Bethlehem. The elders of the town came trembling to meet him, asking, "Do you come in peace?"

<sup>5</sup> He said, "Yes, in peace. I have come to sacrifice to the LORD. Consecrate yourselves and come with me to the sacrifice." So he consecrated Jesse and his sons, and invited them to the sacrifice.

<sup>6</sup> When they arrived, he looked at Eliab, and thought, "Surely here is the LORD's anointed standing before him."

<sup>7</sup> But the LORD said to Samuel, "Do not look at his appearance, or how tall he is, for I have rejected him. The LORD does not look at things the way a man does; for man looks at the outward appearance, but the LORD looks at the heart."

<sup>8</sup> Then Jesse called Abinadab, and made him pass in front of Samuel. But Samuel said, "The LORD has not chosen this one either."

<sup>9</sup> Then Jesse made Shammah to pass by. But Samuel said, "The LORD has not chosen this one either."

<sup>10</sup> Jesse made seven of his sons to pass in front of Samuel. But Samuel said to Jesse, "The LORD has not chosen any of these."

<sup>11</sup> Samuel asked Jesse, "Are all your children here?" He replied, "There still remains the youngest, but he is tending the sheep." Samuel said to Jesse, "Send and get him, for we will not sit down until he gets here."

<sup>12</sup> So He sent and brought him in. Now he was ruddy, with beautiful eyes, and handsome. Then the LORD said, "Get up, anoint him, for this is the one."

<sup>13</sup> Then Samuel took the horn of olive oil, and anointed him in the presence of his brothers. The Spirit of the LORD came mightily on David from that day forward. So Samuel got up and returned to Ramah.

<sup>14</sup> Now the Spirit of the LORD had departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the LORD tormented him.

<sup>15</sup> Saul's servants said to him, "Look, an evil spirit from God is tormenting you."

<sup>16</sup> Let our lord now command your servants who are before you, to find a person who is a skilful musician on the lyre then when the evil spirit from God comes on you, he will play the lyre and you will feel better."

<sup>17</sup> Then Saul said to his servants, "Find me a man who can play well, and bring him to me."

<sup>19</sup> So Saul sent messengers to Jesse, and said, "Send me your son David, who is with the sheep."

<sup>21</sup> David came to Saul and entered his service. Saul loved him greatly, and he became his armor bearer.

<sup>22</sup> Saul sent to Jesse, saying, "Please let David stay in my service, for he has found favor in my sight."

<sup>23</sup> When the evil spirit from God came on Saul, David would take the lyre and play it. So Saul would be relieved and feel better. Then the evil spirit would leave him.

<sup>4</sup> A champion came out of the Philistine camp named Goliath of Gath. He was over nine feet tall.

<sup>5</sup> He had a bronze helmet on his head, and he was wearing a body armor coat of mail weighing 125 pounds.

<sup>7</sup> The staff of his spear was as thick as a weaver's beam. The iron that tipped the spear weighed 15 pounds itself, and his armor bearer went before him.

<sup>8</sup> He stood and shouted at the Israelite troops, "Why have you come out to prepare for battle? Am I not a Philistine, and you servants of Saul? Choose a man so that he may come down to fight me.

<sup>9</sup> If he is able to fight with me and kill me, then will we be your slaves; but if I overcome and kill him, then you will be our slaves and serve us."

<sup>10</sup> The Philistine said, "I defy the armies of Israel today. Give me a man, so that we may fight together."

<sup>11</sup> When Saul and all Israel heard these words of the Philistine, they were dismayed and terrified.

<sup>12</sup> Now David was the son of Jesse an Ephrathite from Bethlehem in Judah. He had eight sons, and in the days of Saul, he was old and well on in years.

<sup>13</sup> The three eldest sons of Jesse had followed Saul to the battle. The names of his three sons who went to war were Eliab, the firstborn, and after to him Abinadab, and the third oldest was Shammah.

<sup>17</sup> Jesse said to David his son, "Take your brothers this basket of roasted grain and these ten loaves of bread, and carry them quickly to the camp of your brothers.

<sup>19</sup> They were with Saul and all the Israelite army in the valley of Elah, fighting with the Philistines.

<sup>23</sup> As he was talking with them, the champion Goliath the Philistine of Gath came out of the ranks of the Philistines, and shouted out as he usually did, and David heard it.

<sup>25</sup> Then the men of Israel said, "Have you seen this man who comes up? He comes up to defy Israel. Whoever kills him, the king will give a huge reward, and will give him his daughter in marriage, and will free his father's house from taxes in Israel."

<sup>26</sup> David asked the men who stood near him, "What will be done for the man who kills this Philistine, and takes away the reproach from Israel? For who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he should defy the armies of the living God?"

<sup>27</sup> The soldiers told him the same thing, "This is what will be done for the man who kills him."

<sup>28</sup> But when Eliab, his eldest brother, overheard him speaking to the men, he was angry with David, and he said, "Why did you come down here? With whom did you leave those few sheep in the wilderness? I know your arrogance and evil heart. You have come down just so that you can see the battle."

<sup>29</sup> But David replied, "What have I done now? It was just a question?"

<sup>30</sup> He turned away from him, went over to someone else, and he asked the same thing to them, and they gave him the same answer.

<sup>31</sup> When David's questions were overheard, they reported them to Saul; and he sent for him.

<sup>32</sup> David said to Saul, "Don't let anyone be discouraged because of him; your servant will go and fight with this Philistine."

<sup>33</sup> Saul said to David, "You are not able to fight this Philistine. You are just a boy, and he has been a warrior from his youth."

<sup>34</sup> David said to Saul, "Your servant was keeping his father's sheep and when a lion or a bear came to carry off a lamb from the flock, <sup>35</sup> I went out after it, struck it down, and rescued the lamb from its mouth. If it attacked me, I grabbed it by its jaw, and struck and killed it.

<sup>36</sup> Your servant struck down both the lion and the bear, this uncircumcised Philistine will be just like one of them, seeing he has defied the armies of the living God."

<sup>37</sup> Then David said, "The LORD who delivered me from the paw of the lion, and from the paw of the bear, will deliver me out of the hand of this Philistine." Then Saul said to David, "Go, and the LORD be with you."

<sup>39</sup> David strapped Saul's sword over the armor, and tried to move around because he was not used to it. David said to Saul, "I cannot go with these; for I am not used to them." So David took them off.

<sup>42</sup> When the Philistine looked David over, he despised him; for he was only a boy, ruddy and handsome.

<sup>43</sup> The Philistine mocked David, "Am I a dog, that you come after me with sticks?" So the Philistine cursed David by his gods.

<sup>44</sup> Then the Philistine threatened David, "Come here, and I will give your flesh to the birds of the air, and to the beasts of the field."

<sup>45</sup> Then David retorted to the Philistine, "You come against me with a sword, spear and javelin, but I come against you in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom you have defied.

<sup>46</sup> This day the LORD will deliver you into my hand; and I will strike you down, and cut off your head. Today I will give the carcasses of the Philistine army to the birds of the air, and to the beasts of the earth; so that all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel,

<sup>47</sup> and that all this assembly may know that the LORD saves not by the sword or spear, for the battle is the LORD's, and he will give you into our hand."

<sup>48</sup> When the Philistine approached to attack him, David quickly ran toward the battle line to meet the Philistine.

<sup>49</sup> Then David put his hand in his bag, took out a stone and slung it, striking the Philistine right in his forehead. The stone sank into his forehead, and he fell on his face to the ground.

<sup>50</sup> So David triumphed over the Philistine with a sling and a stone. He struck down the Philistine, and killed him without even a sword in David's hand.

<sup>51</sup> Then David ran up, stood over the Philistine, took his sword drawn it out of its sheath, killed him and cut off his head with it. When the Philistines saw that their champion was dead, they fled.

<sup>52</sup> The men of Israel and of Judah advanced, shouting and chasing the Philistines as far as Gath and the gates of Ekron. The Philistine corpses were scattered all along the way to Shaaraim, even to Gath and Ekron.

<sup>53</sup> Then the Israelites came back from chasing the Philistines and plundered their camp.

<sup>54</sup> David took the head of the Philistine and brought it to Jerusalem; but he put his armor in his tent.

<sup>58</sup> Then Saul asked him, "Young man, whose son are you?" David answered, "I am the son of your servant Jesse from Bethlehem."

DASV: 1 Samuel 18

<sup>1</sup> When he had finished talking with Saul, the soul of Jonathan bonded with the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as himself.

<sup>2</sup> Saul conscripted him that day, and would not allow him to any longer return to his father's house.

<sup>3</sup> Jonathan made a covenant with David, because he loved him as himself.

<sup>4</sup> So Jonathan took off the robe he was wearing, and gave it to David, along with his tunic, and even his sword, bow and his belt.

<sup>5</sup> Wherever Saul sent David, he went and was successful resulting in Saul setting him over the men of war. This was good in the sight of all the people, and even in the sight of Saul's servants.

<sup>6</sup> As they were returning home, after David had killed the Philistine, the women came out of all the towns of Israel, singing and dancing, to meet king Saul with tambourines and three stringed lutes and with joy.

<sup>7</sup> Then the women sang to one another as they celebrated, "Saul has slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands."

<sup>8</sup> But Saul was furious because this saying irked him, for he thought, "They have credited ten thousands to David, but to me they have credited only thousands. What more can he gain but the kingdom?"

<sup>10</sup> The next day an evil spirit from God rushed on Saul, and he wildly prophesied in his house. Now David was playing the lyre, as he usually did each day. Saul had his spear in his hand.

<sup>11</sup> Saul hurled the spear, hoping, "I will pin David to the wall." But David escaped from him twice.

<sup>12</sup> So Saul was afraid of David, because the LORD was with him, but had departed from Saul.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore Saul removed David from his presence, and made him commander over a thousand. David led his troops out to battle and back home.

<sup>14</sup> David was successful in everything he did, and the LORD was with him.

<sup>15</sup> When Saul saw how successful he was, he was even more afraid of him.

<sup>16</sup> But all Israel and Judah loved David, because he was the one who led them out to battle and back home.

<sup>17</sup> Then Saul said to David, "Look, here is my oldest daughter Merab, I give her to you in marriage only be a valiant warrior for me, and fight the LORD's battles." For Saul thought, "I won't have to lift a hand against him, I'll just let Philistines take care of killing him."

<sup>18</sup> David said to Saul, "Who am I, and what is my father's clan in Israel, that I should become the king's son-in-law?"

<sup>20</sup> But Michal, Saul's daughter, loved David. They told Saul about it, and it pleased him.

<sup>21</sup> Saul schemed, "I will give her to him so that she may be a snare to him, and so that the hand of the Philistines may be against him." Therefore Saul told David, "Now you have a second opportunity to become my son-in-law."

<sup>22</sup> Saul commanded his servants, "Speak to David secretly, and say, 'Look, the king delights in you, and all his servants love you, so become the king's son-in-law.'"

<sup>23</sup> Saul's servants spoke these words privately to David. But David replied, "Is it trivial to you to become the king's son-in-law, especially since I am a poor man, and am not famous?"

<sup>24</sup> When Saul's servants reported to him what David had said,

<sup>25</sup> Saul replied, "Tell David, 'The king does not want any price for the bride except a hundred foreskins of the Philistines, to get revenge on the king's enemies.'" Now Saul was plotting to have David killed by the hand of the Philistines.

<sup>26</sup> When his servants told David these words, David was pleased to become the king's son-in-law. So before the specified time had expired, <sup>27</sup> David and his men got up and went, and slew 200 Philistine men and brought their foreskins, and they gave all of them to the king, so that he might be the king's son-in-law. So Saul gave David his daughter Michal in marriage.

<sup>28</sup> But Saul saw and realized that the LORD was with David and that Michal, Saul's daughter, loved David.

<sup>29</sup> This made Saul even more afraid of David. So Saul was David's enemy from then on.

<sup>30</sup> Then every time the Philistine commanders went out to battle, David was more successful than all the servants of Saul, so he gained quite a reputation.

DASV: 1 Samuel 19

<sup>1</sup> Saul told Jonathan his son and all his servants, that they should kill David. But Jonathan, Saul's son, liked David a lot.

<sup>2</sup> So Jonathan warned David, "My father Saul is trying to kill you. Therefore, please be careful tomorrow morning and find a hiding place and stay there.

<sup>3</sup> I will go out and stand beside my father in the field where you are, and I will ask my father about you, and see if I get any information, then I will tell you what I find out.

<sup>4</sup> So Jonathan spoke well of David to his father Saul, saying, "The king should not sin against his servant David, because he has not done anything against you. His actions have been very good for you.

<sup>5</sup> He risked his life, when he struck down the Philistine, and the LORD gave all Israel a great victory. You saw it and were happy about it. Why then will you sin against innocent blood by attempting to kill David for no reason?"

<sup>6</sup> Saul listened to the voice of Jonathan and swore, "As the LORD lives, David will not be put to death."

<sup>7</sup> So Jonathan called David, and told him everything. Then Jonathan brought David back to Saul, and he was in his presence as before.

<sup>8</sup> Now there was war again, and David went out and fought with the Philistines. He dealt them a great defeat, and they fled before him.

<sup>9</sup> Then an evil spirit from the LORD came on Saul, as he sat in his house with his spear in his hand. David was playing with lyre in hand.

<sup>10</sup> Saul tried to pin David to the wall with the spear. But he slipped away out of Saul's presence, so Saul was left with his spear stuck in the wall. David fled and escaped that night.

<sup>11</sup> Then Saul sent messengers to David's house, to secure it and to kill him in the morning. Michal, David's wife, warned him, "If you do not escape with your life tonight, tomorrow you will be killed."

<sup>13</sup> Michal took the household idol, and laid it in the bed. She put a covering of goats' hair over its head, and put clothes on it.

<sup>16</sup> When the messengers entered, only the idol was found in the bed, with the covering of goats' hair on its head.

<sup>17</sup> Then Saul said to Michal, "Why have you deceived me like this, and let my enemy go, so that he has escaped?" Michal answered Saul, "He told me, 'Let me go or I will have to kill you.'"

<sup>18</sup> Now David fled and escaped to Samuel at Ramah. David told Samuel all that Saul had done to him. Then he and Samuel went and stayed at Naioth.

<sup>20</sup> So Saul sent messengers to capture David. When they saw the company of the prophets prophesying, and Samuel standing there as their leader, the Spirit of God came on the messengers of Saul, and even they prophesied.

<sup>21</sup> When Saul was told about it, he sent other messengers, and they also prophesied. So Saul sent messengers a third time, and they prophesied too.

<sup>22</sup> Then he also went to Ramah, and came to the great well that is in Secu. He asked, "Where are Samuel and David?" Someone answered, "They are at Naioth in Ramah."

<sup>23</sup> So he went to Naioth in Ramah and the Spirit of God came on him too, and he walked on prophesying until he came to Naioth in Ramah.

<sup>24</sup> He stripped off his clothes, and he prophesied before Samuel, laying there naked all that day and all that night. That is why they say, "Is Saul also among the prophets?"

DASV: 1 Samuel 20

<sup>1</sup> So David fled from Naioth in Ramah, and went and asked Jonathan, "What have I done? What is my crime? What is my offense against your father that he is trying to kill me?"

<sup>2</sup> He replied, "There is no way you are going to die. Look, my father doesn't do anything either great or small, without disclosing it to me. Why should my father hide this matter from me? This isn't going to happen."

<sup>3</sup> David swore again, "Your father knows full well that I have found favor in your eyes; and he may have said, 'Do not let Jonathan know about this, or he will be grieved.' But as surely as the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, there is just one step between me and death."

<sup>4</sup> Then Jonathan said to David, "Whatever you want, I will do for you."

<sup>5</sup> So David said to Jonathan, "Look, tomorrow is the new moon, and I normally sit with the king at the meal, but let me go, so that I may hide myself in the field until the third evening.

<sup>6</sup> If your father misses me at all, then say, 'David urgently asked me permission so that he might run home to Bethlehem; for there is the yearly sacrifice there for the whole family.'

<sup>7</sup> If he says, 'That's fine.' then you'll know your servant is safe. But if he gets angry, then you'll know that he is intent on harming me.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore show loyal kindness to your servant, for you have made a sacred covenant with your servant before the LORD. But if I am guilty of anything then kill me yourself. Why should you even bring me to your father?"

<sup>9</sup> Jonathan said, "I can't believe you suggested this! If I had any clue that my father was planning to hurt you, wouldn't I tell you?"

<sup>10</sup> Then David said to Jonathan, "Who will tell me if your father happens to react harshly?"

<sup>11</sup> Jonathan said to David, "Come, and let's go out into the field." So both of them went out into the field.

<sup>12</sup> Then Jonathan said to David, "I promise by the LORD, the God of Israel, after I have sounded out my father about this time tomorrow, or the next day, if he is favorably disposed toward you, will I not send and let you know?"

<sup>13</sup> If my father is plotting to harm you and I don't warn you, may the LORD do all this to me, and more also, if I do not warn you and send you away, so that you may escape and be safe. The LORD be with you, as he has been with my father.

<sup>14</sup> While I live show me the faithful kindness of the LORD, that I may not die.

<sup>15</sup> Also never cut off your faithful kindness from my family forever even after the LORD has cut off every one of the enemies of David from the face of the earth."

<sup>17</sup> Jonathan made David reaffirm his promise because of the love he had for him, for Jonathan loved David as he loved himself.

<sup>18</sup> Then Jonathan said to him, "Tomorrow is the new moon, and you will be missed, because your seat will be empty.

<sup>19</sup> On the day after tomorrow at evening, go back down to the place where you hid yourself when all this started. Stay near the stone Ezel.

<sup>20</sup> Then I will shoot three arrows to its side, as though I were shooting at a target.

<sup>21</sup> I will send a boy, saying, 'Go, find the arrows.' If I tell the boy, 'Look, the arrows are on this side of you, get them,' then come back, for it is safe for you and there is no danger, as the LORD lives.

<sup>22</sup> But if I tell the boy, 'Look, the arrows are further out beyond you,' then go your way, for the LORD has sent you away.

<sup>23</sup> About the matter you and I promised, the LORD is witness between us forever."

<sup>24</sup> So David hid himself in the field. When the new moon came, the king sat down to eat dinner.

<sup>25</sup> The king sat in his usual seat by the wall with Jonathan sitting across from him, and Abner at Saul's side, but David's place was empty.

<sup>26</sup> Saul did not mention anything that day, for he thought, "Maybe something has happened to him, he is not ceremonially clean--that's it, he must not be clean.

<sup>27</sup> On the next day, the second day after the new moon, David's place was empty. So Saul said to his son Jonathan, "Why hasn't the son of Jesse come to me, either yesterday or today?"

<sup>29</sup> He said, 'Please let me go, for our clan has a sacrifice in the town and my brother has ordered me to be there. So now, if I have found favor in your sight, let me get away to see my brothers.' That's why he hasn't come to the king's table."

<sup>30</sup> Then Saul's anger was kindled against Jonathan, and he said to him, "You son of a perverse and rebellious woman, don't I know that you have chosen the son of Jesse to your own shame, and to the shame of your mother's nakedness?

<sup>31</sup> For as long as the son of Jesse is alive on this earth, you and your kingdom will not be established. So send and bring him to me, for surely he must die."

<sup>32</sup> But Jonathan answered Saul his father, "Why should he be put to death? What has he done?"

<sup>33</sup> Saul threw his spear at him intending to strike him. So Jonathan knew that his father was intending to put David to death.

<sup>34</sup> So Jonathan got up from the table in a fury, and refused to eat food that second day of the month, because he was upset over David, since his father had disgraced David.

<sup>35</sup> The next morning, Jonathan went out to the field as arranged with David, and a small boy was with him.

<sup>36</sup> He told his boy, "Run, find the arrows I am shooting." As the boy ran, he shot an arrow beyond him.

<sup>37</sup> When the lad came to the place where Jonathan had shot the arrow, Jonathan shouted to the boy, "Isn't the arrow beyond you?"

<sup>39</sup> But the boy knew nothing about what was going on, only Jonathan and David knew what was happening.

<sup>40</sup> Then Jonathan gave his weapons to his servant, and told him, "Go, carry them back to town."

<sup>41</sup> As soon as the boy had gone, David got up from the south side of the stone, and fell with his face to the ground, and bowed three times. They kissed each other and wept together, but David wept the most.

<sup>42</sup> Then Jonathan said to David, "Go in peace, for we have sworn by the name of the LORD, saying, 'The LORD be between me and you, and between your descendants and my descendants, forever.'" Then David got up and left, and Jonathan went back into the town.

DASV: 1 Samuel 21

<sup>1</sup> Then David went to Nob, to Ahimelek the priest. Ahimelek came trembling to meet David, and asked him, "Why are you alone? Why is there no one with you?"

<sup>2</sup> David answered Ahimelek the priest, "The king has charged me with a matter, and told me, 'Let no one know anything about the mission I'm sending you on, or what I have told you. I have directed the young soldiers to meet at a certain place.'

<sup>3</sup> Now do you have anything to eat? Give me five loaves of bread in my hand, or whatever else you have here."

<sup>4</sup> But the priest answered David, "There is no ordinary bread on hand, only holy bread--you can have it only if the young soldiers have not recently had sexual relations with women."

<sup>5</sup> David answered the priest, "Certainly for the last three days women have been kept from us as always when I go out on an expedition even on a common mission the young men's bodies are holy, how much more today are their vessels holy!"

<sup>6</sup> So the priest gave him the holy bread; for there was no bread other than the bread of the Presence that was taken from before the LORD, in order to replace it with hot bread on the day when it was taken away.

<sup>7</sup> Now one of the servants of Saul was there that day, detained before the LORD. His name was Doeg the Edomite, who was chief over Saul's shepherds.

<sup>8</sup> David asked Ahimelek, "Don't you have a spear or sword here? For I have not brought my sword or my weapons with me, because the king's business required such haste."

<sup>9</sup> The priest replied, "The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom you killed in the Elah Valley is here, wrapped in a cloth behind the ephod. If you want it, take it, for that's the only one here." So David said, "There's none like that one! Give it to me."

<sup>10</sup> Then David got up and fled that day from Saul. He went to Achish the king of Gath.

<sup>12</sup> David ruminated on these words in his heart, for he was very afraid of Achish king of Gath.

<sup>13</sup> So he changed his behavior before them, and pretended like he was insane since he was under their control. He scratched marks on the doors of the gate, and let his saliva run down his beard.

<sup>14</sup> Then Achish complained to his servants, "Look, the man is crazy. Why then did you bring him to me?"

<sup>15</sup> Do I lack madmen, that you bring this fellow in front of me to act like the madman? Should this man come into my house?"

DASV: 1 Samuel 22

<sup>1</sup> David left Gath and escaped to the cave of Adullam. When his brothers and all his father's house heard it, they went down to him there.

<sup>2</sup> Every one who was in trouble, in debt or discontent gathered around him and he became their commander. There were about 400 men with him.

<sup>3</sup> David went from there to Mizpeh in Moab. He said to the king of Moab, "Please let my father and my mother stay with you, until I know what God will do for me."

<sup>5</sup> The prophet Gad said to David, "Leave the stronghold. Go to the land of Judah." Then David departed, and went to the forest of Hereth.

<sup>6</sup> Saul heard that David and his men had been located. Now Saul was sitting under the tamarisk tree on a hill at Gibeah with his spear in his hand, and all his servants were standing around him.

<sup>7</sup> Saul said to his servants who stood around him, "Listen, you Benjaminites. Will the son of Jesse give every one of you fields and vineyards? Will he make you all commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds?"

<sup>8</sup> Is that why all of you have conspired against me? There is no one who informs me when my own son makes a solemn pact with the son of Jesse. None of you is sorry for me or informs me that even my own son has stirred up my servant against me, to set an ambush, as he is doing to this very day."

<sup>9</sup> Then Doeg the Edomite, who stood with Saul's servants, said, "I saw the son of Jesse coming to Ahimelek the son of Ahitub at Nob.

<sup>10</sup> He inquired of the LORD for him, gave him provisions and the sword of Goliath the Philistine."

<sup>11</sup> Then the king summoned Ahimelek the priest, the son of Ahitub, and all his father's house and the priests who were at Nob. All of them came to the king.

<sup>12</sup> Saul said, "Listen, you son of Ahitub." "Here I am, my lord," he replied.

<sup>13</sup> Saul accused him, "Why have you conspired against me, you and the son of Jesse? You gave him bread and a sword, and have inquired of God for him, so that he has risen up against me, to set an ambush, as he is doing to this very day?"

<sup>14</sup> Then Ahimelek answered the king, "Who among all your servants is so faithful as David? He is even the king's son-in-law, and the captain over your bodyguard, and respected in your house?"

<sup>15</sup> Was today the first time I've inquired of God for him? Certainly not. May the king not impute anything against his servant, or against all the house of my father; for your servant knows nothing of all this, more or less."

<sup>16</sup> Then the king snarled, "You will surely die, Ahimelek, you, and all your father's house."

<sup>17</sup> The king ordered the guards who stood by him, "Turn and kill the priests of the LORD, because they have sided with David, and because they knew that he was fleeing, and did not inform me." But the king's servants would not lift a hand against the priests of the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> Then the king said to Doeg, "You turn and kill the priests." So Doeg the Edomite turned and he killed the priests. He slew that day eighty-five people who wore a linen ephod.

<sup>19</sup> He also struck down Nob, the city of the priests, with the edge of the sword, men and women, children and infants, oxen, donkeys and sheep.

<sup>22</sup> David said to Abiathar, "I knew on that day, when Doeg the Edomite was there, that he would certainly tell Saul. I have caused the death of all the people of your father's house.

<sup>23</sup> Stay with me, do not be afraid, for he who seeks my life also seeks your life. You will be safe with me."

<sup>2</sup> Therefore David inquired of the LORD, "Shall I go and attack these Philistines?" The LORD replied to David, "Go and attack the Philistines, and save Keilah."

<sup>4</sup> Then David inquired of the LORD again. The LORD answered him, "Get up, go down to Keilah; for I will deliver the Philistines into your hand."

<sup>6</sup> Now when Abiathar the son of Ahimelek fled to David at Keilah, he came down with an ephod in his hand.

<sup>7</sup> Saul was told that David had come to Keilah. Saul concluded, "God has delivered him into my hand; for he has trapped himself, by entering into a town that has gates and bars."

<sup>8</sup> Saul summoned all the people to war, to go down to Keilah, to besiege David and his men.

<sup>9</sup> David knew that Saul was plotting against him; so he said to Abiathar the priest, "Bring the ephod here."

<sup>10</sup> Then David asked, "O LORD, the God of Israel, your servant has heard that Saul is planning to come against Keilah, to destroy the city for my sake.

<sup>11</sup> Will the people of Keilah deliver me up into his hand? Will Saul come down, as your servant has heard? O LORD, the God of Israel, I beg you, tell your servant." The LORD replied, "He will come down."

<sup>12</sup> Then said David, "Will the people of Keilah surrender me and my men to the hand of Saul?" The LORD replied, "They will deliver you up."

<sup>14</sup> David stayed in the strongholds in the desert and the hill country in the desert of Ziph. Saul sought him every day, but God did not deliver him into his hand.

<sup>15</sup> David learned that Saul had come out to seek his life, while David was in the desert of Ziph at Horesh.

<sup>16</sup> Jonathan, Saul's son, got up and went to David at Horesh, and encouraged him in God.

<sup>17</sup> He told him, "Do not be afraid for the hand of Saul my father will not find you; and you will be king over Israel, and I will be your second in command. Saul, my father, knows this too."

<sup>18</sup> The two of them made a covenant before the LORD. David stayed at Horesh, and Jonathan went home.

<sup>19</sup> Then some Ziphites went to Saul at Gibeah, saying, "Isn't David hiding with us in the strongholds at Horesh, in the hill of Hakilah, south of Jeshimon?"

<sup>20</sup> Now, O king, come down whenever you want to and our part will be to catch him and deliver him into the king's hand."

<sup>21</sup> Saul replied, "May the LORD bless you; for you have had compassion on me.

<sup>22</sup> Go, make sure once again, that you know exactly where his hideout is, and who has seen him there; for I am told he is very cunning.

<sup>23</sup> Look and take note of all his hiding places and come back to me again once you're sure. Then I will go with you and if he is in the land, I will track him down among all the thousands of Judah."

<sup>24</sup> So they got up and went to Ziph before Saul. But David and his men were in the desert of Maon, in the Arabah south of Jeshimon.

<sup>25</sup> Saul and his men went to find him. When David was told, he went down to the rock and stayed in the desert of Maon. When Saul heard that, he pursued David in the desert of Maon.

<sup>27</sup> But a messenger came to Saul, saying, "Come quickly, for the Philistines have raided the land."

<sup>28</sup> So Saul stopped pursuing David and went to fight the Philistines. That is why they call that place Sela Hammahlekot [Rock of Escape].

<sup>29</sup> David left there and stayed in the strongholds of En-gedi.

<sup>2</sup> Then Saul took three thousand chosen men from all Israel, and went to search for David and his men at the Rocks of the Wild Goats.

<sup>3</sup> He came to the sheepfolds by the road, where there was a cave. Saul went in to relieve himself. Now David and his men were hiding in the back parts of the cave.

<sup>4</sup> David's men said to him, "Look, the day the LORD said to you, 'I will deliver your enemy into your hand, and you will do to him whatever you want to.'" Then David snuck up and secretly cut off the edge of Saul's robe.

<sup>5</sup> Afterward David's conscience bothered him, because he had cut off the edge of Saul's robe.

<sup>6</sup> He told his men, "The LORD forbid that I should do this thing to my lord, the LORD's anointed, to lift my hand against him, seeing he is the LORD's anointed.

<sup>7</sup> So David stopped his men with these words, and did not let them kill Saul. Saul got up out of the cave and went on his way.

<sup>8</sup> David also got up afterward, and slipped out of the cave, and shouted out to Saul, "My lord the king." When Saul looked behind him, David bowed with his face to the ground.

<sup>9</sup> Then David said to Saul, "Why do you listen to people saying, 'See, David is seeking to harm you?'

<sup>10</sup> This day your eyes have seen how that the LORD has delivered you into my hand in the cave. Some advised me to kill you but I spared you and said, 'I will not lift my hand against my lord; because he is the LORD's anointed.'

<sup>11</sup> Look, my father, see the piece of your robe in my hand. I cut off the corner of your robe, but didn't kill you. So understand that I have no evil or rebellion in mind, and I have not sinned against you, though you have hunted me down to take my life.

<sup>12</sup> The LORD judge between you and me, and the LORD avenge me of what you have done; but my hand will not touch you.

<sup>13</sup> Like the old proverb says, 'Out of the wicked comes wickedness.' But I will not lay a hand on you.

<sup>14</sup> Who is the king of Israel chasing down? Who are you pursuing? A dead dog? A single flea?

<sup>15</sup> The LORD therefore be judge, and give sentence between you and me. May he see and plead my case and rescue me out of your hand."

<sup>16</sup> When David had finished speaking these words to Saul, Saul responded, "Is this your voice, my son David?" Then Saul wept aloud.

<sup>17</sup> He said to David, "You are more righteous than I am; for you have repaid me good, whereas I have repaid you evil.

<sup>18</sup> You have declared this day how that you have dealt well with me, when the LORD had delivered me into your hand, you didn't kill me.

<sup>19</sup> For if a man finds his enemy, will he let him get away safely? May the LORD reward you with good for the way you have treated me today.

<sup>20</sup> Now look, I know that you will surely be king, and that the kingdom of Israel will be established in your hand.

<sup>21</sup> Now swear to me by the LORD, that you will not cut off my descendants after me, and that you will not destroy my name out of my father's house."

<sup>22</sup> So David swore to Saul. Then Saul went home, but David and his men went up to the stronghold.

DASV: 1 Samuel 25

<sup>1</sup> Now Samuel died, and all Israel gathered together and mourned for him. They buried him near his house at Ramah. Then David got up and went down to the desert of Paran.

<sup>2</sup> There was a man in Maon, who owned property in Carmel, and the man was very wealthy. He had 3,000 sheep, and 1,000 goats, and he was shearing his sheep in Carmel.

<sup>3</sup> Now the name of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife Abigail. The woman was wise and beautiful, but the man was harsh and mean. He was a descendant of Caleb.

<sup>5</sup> So David sent ten young men, and said to them, "Go up to Carmel, and go to Nabal, and greet him in my name.

<sup>6</sup> This is how you are to greet him, 'Peace to you, and peace be to your house, and peace be to all that you have.

<sup>7</sup> Now I have heard that you have shearers employed. Your shepherds have been with us, and we did not harm them, neither was there anything of theirs missing all the while they were in Carmel.

<sup>8</sup> Ask your young men, and they will confirm it for you. Therefore let the young men find favor in your eyes, for we come on a feast day. Please give whatever you have at hand to your servants, and to your son David."

<sup>9</sup> When David's young men came, they spoke to Nabal according to all these words in the name of David, and waited for a response.

<sup>10</sup> Then Nabal answered David's servants, "Who is David? Who is the son of Jesse? There are many servants now-a-days who are breaking free of their masters.

<sup>11</sup> Should I take my bread and water, and my meat that I have butchered for my shearers, and give it to men who I don't even know where they have come from?"

<sup>12</sup> So David's men went on their way, and returned and told him all these words.

<sup>14</sup> But one of the servants told Abigail, Nabal's wife, "David sent messengers from the desert to salute our master, and he screamed at them.

<sup>15</sup> Yet the men were very good to us, and we were not hurt, and nothing was missing as long as we were with them in the fields.

<sup>16</sup> They were a wall protecting us both night and day, all the while we were with them keeping the sheep.

<sup>17</sup> Now therefore know and think about what you can do, for trouble is going to happen to our master, and all his house, because he has such a bad temper. No one can tell him anything."

<sup>18</sup> Then Abigail quickly took 200 loaves, and two skins of wine, and five sheep already prepared, and nearly a bushel of roasted grain, and a 100 clusters of raisins, and 200 fig cakes, and loaded them on donkeys.

<sup>19</sup> Then she said to her servants, "Go before me. I will follow you." But she did not tell her husband Nabal.

<sup>20</sup> As she rode on her donkey, she came down under the cover of the mountain. David and his men came down toward her, and she met them.

<sup>21</sup> Now David had said, "Surely it was a waste to have protected all this fellow had in the desert, so that nothing of his was lost or stolen of all that he owned. Yet he has repaid me evil for good.

<sup>22</sup> Let God do so and more to David, if I leave one of his men alive by tomorrow morning."

<sup>24</sup> She fell at his feet, and said, "Let all the blame be on me, my lord, and please let your servant speak in your ears, and please listen to the words of your servant.

<sup>25</sup> Please pay no attention, my lord, to this ill-tempered fellow, Nabal, for he is just like his name suggests; Nabal [fool] is his name, and folly follows with him. But I, your servant didn't see the servants of my lord whom you sent.

<sup>26</sup> Now therefore, my lord, as the LORD lives and as your soul lives, it is the LORD who has stopped you from shedding blood, and avenging yourself with your own hand, now therefore let your enemies, and those who seek to harm my lord, be as Nabal.

<sup>27</sup> Now this gift that your servant has brought to my lord, let it be given to the servants who follow my lord.

<sup>28</sup> I beg you to forgive the offense of your servant, for the LORD will certainly establish the house of my lord, because my lord fights the battles of the LORD. May no harm come on you all your days.

<sup>29</sup> When someone pursues you seeking to take your life, yet the life of my lord will be bundled up securely living with the LORD your God. But the lives of your enemies will he sling away as from a sling shot.

<sup>30</sup> When the LORD does to my lord according to all the good that he has promised you and has appointed you leader over Israel,

<sup>31</sup> this will be no source of grief to you, or pangs of conscience to my lord for having shed blood needlessly, or that my lord has taken revenge into his own hands. When the LORD deals well with my lord, then remember your servant."

<sup>32</sup> Then David said to Abigail, "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who sent you today to meet me.

<sup>33</sup> Blessed be your good sense, and blessed be you, because you have kept me today from shedding blood, and from avenging myself with my own hand.

<sup>34</sup> Otherwise, as surely as the LORD, the God of Israel lives, who has stopped me from hurting you, unless you had come quickly to meet me, surely there would not have been one man left alive to Nabal by the morning's light."

<sup>35</sup> So David received from her hand what she brought him. He said to her, "Go up in peace to your house. See, I have listened to your voice and have granted your request."

<sup>36</sup> When Abigail returned to Nabal, he was holding a feast in his house, like the feast of a king. Nabal's heart was merry within him, for he was very drunk which is why she told him nothing until the next morning.

<sup>37</sup> In the morning, when Nabal had sobered up, his wife told him these things, and he had a stroke and became paralyzed like a stone.

<sup>38</sup> About ten days later, the LORD struck Nabal, and he died.

<sup>39</sup> When David heard that Nabal was dead, he said, "Blessed be the LORD who has avenged me for the insults suffered at the hand of Nabal, and has kept back his servant from evil. The LORD has returned the evildoing of Nabal back on his own head." Then David sent and proposed to Abigail asking her to become his wife.

<sup>40</sup> When the servants of David had come to Abigail at Carmel, they told her, "David has sent us to you, to bring you to him to be his wife."

<sup>43</sup> David also took Ahinoam of Jezreel, and they both became his wives.

<sup>44</sup> Now Saul had given Michal his daughter, David's wife, to Palti the son of Laish, who was from Gallim.

DASV: 1 Samuel 26

<sup>1</sup> Then the Ziphites came to Saul at Gibeah, saying, "Is David not hiding on the hill of Hakilah, which is across from Jeshimon?"

<sup>3</sup> Saul camped beside the road by the hill of Hakilah, which is across from Jeshimon and David was staying in the desert. When he saw that Saul had come after him to the desert,

<sup>5</sup> So David sneaked over to the place where Saul had camped. David saw the place where Saul and Abner the son of Ner, the commander of his army had laid down. Saul was lying within the camp, with the troops camped around him.

<sup>6</sup> Then David asked Ahimelech the Hittite and Abishai the son of Zeruah, Joab's brother, "Who will go down with me to Saul into the camp?" Abishai replied, "I will go down with you."

<sup>7</sup> So David and Abishai went into the army at night and found Saul sleeping within the encampment, with his spear stuck in the ground by his head. Abner and the troops lay around him.

<sup>8</sup> Then Abishai said to David, "God has delivered your enemy into your hand today. Now let me pin him to the ground with the spear with one stroke; I won't have to strike him a second time."

<sup>9</sup> David said to Abishai, "Don't kill him; for who can lift his hand against the LORD's anointed and be guiltless?"

<sup>10</sup> David said, "As the LORD lives, the LORD will strike him down; or his day will come to die naturally; or he will go down into battle and perish.

<sup>11</sup> The LORD forbid that I should lay my hand on the LORD's anointed. Now take the spear that is by his head, and the jug of water, and let's get out of here."

<sup>12</sup> So David took the spear and the jug of water by Saul's head. Then they got away and no one saw or knew about it, nor did anyone wake up for they were all asleep, because the LORD had put them into a deep sleep.

<sup>13</sup> Then David went over to the other side, and stood on the top of the hill with a great distance between them.

<sup>14</sup> Then David shouted to the army and to Abner the son of Ner, saying, "Won't you answer, Abner?" Then Abner asked, "Who are you that calls to the king?"

<sup>15</sup> David taunted Abner, "Aren't you the man? Who in Israel is like you? Why then have you not guarded your lord the king, when someone came to kill the king your lord?"

<sup>16</sup> This thing that you have done is not good. As the LORD lives, you are worthy to die, because you have not guarded your lord, the LORD's anointed. Now look where the king's spear is, and the jug of water that was by his head."

<sup>17</sup> Then Saul knew David's voice, and asked, "Is this your voice, my son David?" David replied, "Yes, it is my voice, my lord, O king."

<sup>18</sup> He continued, "Why does my lord chase after his servant? What have I done? Or what crime have my hands committed?"

<sup>19</sup> Now therefore, let my lord the king hear the words of his servant. If it is the LORD who has stirred you up against me, let him accept an offering. But if it is humans, may they be cursed before the LORD. For they have driven me out this day that I should not receive my share in the inheritance of the LORD, saying, 'Go, serve other gods.'

<sup>20</sup> Now therefore, let not my blood fall to the earth away from the presence of the LORD, for the king of Israel is come out to seek a flea, like one who hunts partridge in the mountains."

<sup>21</sup> Then Saul confessed, "I have sinned. Return, my son David; for I will no more do you harm, because my life was precious in your eyes today. I have played the fool, and have made a terrible mistake."

<sup>23</sup> The LORD will repay everyone for his righteousness and his loyalty; for the LORD delivered you into my hand today, but I would not lift my hand against the LORD's anointed.

<sup>24</sup> As I valued your life as precious in my sight today, so may my life be precious in the eyes of the LORD, and let him rescue me from all trouble."

<sup>25</sup> Then Saul said to David, "May you be blessed, my son David. You will both do heroic deeds and be absolutely successful." So David went on his way, and Saul went home.

DASV: 1 Samuel 27

<sup>1</sup> Then David thought to himself, "One day I will perish by the hand of Saul. There is nothing better for me than that I should escape into the land of the Philistines. Then Saul will stop searching for me in all the borders of Israel, and I will escape out of his hand."

<sup>4</sup> It was told Saul that David had fled to Gath. So he stopped searching for him.

<sup>5</sup> David said to Achish, "If now I have found favor in your eyes, let them give me a place in one of the cities in the country, that I may live there. Why should your servant live in the royal city with you?"

<sup>6</sup> So Achish gave him Ziklag that day. That is why Ziklag belongs to the kings of Judah to this day.

<sup>8</sup> Then David and his men went up and raided the Geshurites, the Girzites and the Amalekites; for they were the inhabitants of the land since ancient times, as you go to Shur as far as the land of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup> David attacked the land, and did not leave a man or woman alive, but took the sheep, oxen, donkeys, camels and the clothes. Then he returned to Achish.

<sup>10</sup> Achish would ask, "Who did you raid today?" David would reply, "Against the Negev of Judah," or "Against the Negev of the Jerahmeelites," or "Against the Negev of the Kenites."

<sup>11</sup> David left neither man nor woman alive, to bring them back to Gath, realizing, "Lest they should tell on us, saying, 'This is what David actually did.'" This was his practice all the time he lived in the country of the Philistines.

<sup>12</sup> Achish believed David, thinking, "He has made his people Israel utterly to abhor him; therefore he will be my servant forever."

DASV: 1 Samuel 28

<sup>1</sup> In those days the Philistines gathered their armies together for war, to fight with Israel. Achish said to David, "You know you and your men are expected to go with me in the army."

<sup>2</sup> David said to Achish, "Alright, now you will see what your servant can do." Achish said to David, "Very well, I make you my personal bodyguard from now on."

<sup>3</sup> Now Samuel was dead, and all Israel had lamented him, and buried him in Ramah, his hometown. Saul had banned mediums and psychics from the land.

<sup>6</sup> Saul inquired of the LORD, but the LORD did not answer him by dreams, Urim or by prophets.

<sup>7</sup> So Saul ordered his servants, "Find a woman for me that has a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and inquire of her." His servants pointed out, "Look, there is a woman that has a familiar spirit at Endor."

<sup>8</sup> So Saul disguised himself, and put on other clothes, and took two men with him. They came to the woman at night and he said, "Please divine for me, by the familiar spirit, and bring up from the dead for me whomever I will name to you."

<sup>9</sup> The woman said to him, "You know what Saul has done, how he has cut off those who have familiar spirits and the spiritists out of the land. Why then do you lay a trap for me which may bring about my death?"

<sup>10</sup> So Saul swore to her by the LORD, "As the LORD lives, no punishment will happen to you for doing this."

<sup>11</sup> Then the woman asked, "Whom shall I bring up for you?" He replied, "Bring up Samuel for me."

<sup>12</sup> When the woman saw Samuel, she cried out loudly and the woman accused Saul, saying, "Why have you deceived me? You are Saul."

<sup>13</sup> But the king said to her, "Don't be afraid. What do you see?" The woman said to Saul, "I see a divine being coming up out of the earth."

<sup>14</sup> He asked her, "What does he look like?" She answered, "An old man coming up wrapped in a robe." Then Saul realized that it was Samuel, so he bowed with his face to the ground and did obeisance.

<sup>15</sup> Then Samuel said to Saul, "Why have you disturbed me by bringing me up?" Saul answered, "I am in great distress, for the Philistines make war against me, and God has departed from me, and no longer answers me by prophets or dreams. Therefore I have called you, that you may inform me what I should do."

<sup>16</sup> Samuel said, "Why are you asking me, seeing the LORD has abandoned you, and has become your enemy?"

<sup>17</sup> The LORD has done to you, just as he spoke by me. The LORD has ripped the kingdom out of your hand, and given it to your neighbor, David.

<sup>18</sup> Because you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, and did not execute his fierce wrath on Amalek, therefore the LORD has done this thing to you today.

<sup>19</sup> Furthermore the LORD will also deliver Israel along with you into the hand of the Philistines; and tomorrow you and your sons will be with me. The LORD will also deliver the army of Israel into the hand of the Philistines."

<sup>20</sup> Then Saul immediately fell full length on the ground, and was absolutely terrified, because of Samuel's words. There was no strength left in him for he had not eaten anything all that day and night.

<sup>21</sup> The woman came to Saul, and seeing how distraught he was, she advised him, "Look, your servant has listened to your voice, and I have taken my life in my hand, and have listened to your words that you spoke to me.

<sup>22</sup> Now therefore, please listen to the voice of your servant, and let me set a morsel of bread before you. Eat, so that you may have strength, when you go on your way."

<sup>23</sup> But he refused, saying, "I will not eat." But his servants, together with the woman, urged him and he finally gave in to their wishes. So he got up from the ground and sat on the bed.

<sup>24</sup> Now the woman had a fatted calf in the house; so she quickly butchered it and took flour, kneaded it and baked unleavened bread with it.

<sup>25</sup> Then she brought it to Saul and his servants and they ate. Later that same night they got up and left.

<sup>3</sup> Then the Philistine commanders asked, "What are these Hebrews doing here?" Achish responded to the Philistine commanders, "Isn't this David, the servant of Saul the king of Israel, who has been with me for days and even years? I have found no fault in him since he defected to me to this day."

<sup>4</sup> But the Philistine commanders were angry with him. They ordered him, "Send him back, let him go back to his place where you have appointed him, and let him not go down with us to battle, lest in the battle he become an adversary to us. What better way would there be for him to reconcile himself with his former master than by handing over the heads of these men?"

<sup>5</sup> Isn't this David of whom they sang to one another in dances, 'Saul has killed his thousands, and David his ten thousands'?"

<sup>6</sup> So Achish called David, and told him, "As the LORD lives, you have been upright, and your going out and your coming in with me in the army is good in my sight for I have found nothing wrong in you since the day of your coming to me to this day, nevertheless the rulers won't approve you.

<sup>7</sup> So go back and go in peace, so that you won't displease the rulers of the Philistines."

<sup>8</sup> David said to Achish, "But what have I done? What have you found in you servant so long as I have been with you to this day, that I may not go and fight against the enemies of my lord the king?"

<sup>9</sup> But Achish answered David, "I know that you are as good in my sight as an angel of God, however, the commanders of the Philistines have ordered, 'He may not go up with us to the battle.'

<sup>10</sup> Now get up early in the morning with the servants of your lord that have come with you; and as soon as you have enough light in the morning, leave."

<sup>11</sup> So David and his men got up early in the morning to leave, returning to the land of the Philistines, while the Philistines went up to Jezreel.

DASV: 1 Samuel 30

<sup>1</sup> On the third day, when David and his men came to Ziklag, the Amalekites had made a raid on the Negev and Ziklag. They had attacked Ziklag, and burned it down.

<sup>2</sup> They took captive the women who were in it, both small and great. They had not killed any of them, but had carried them away captive, and went on their way.

<sup>3</sup> When David and his men came to the town, they found it burned down, and their wives, sons and daughters taken captive.

<sup>4</sup> Then David and the men who were with him wept aloud, until they had no more strength to weep.

<sup>5</sup> David's two wives had been taken captive, Ahinoam the Jezreelitess, and Abigail the widow of Nabal the Carmelite.

<sup>6</sup> David was very upset because the men were talking about stoning him, as a result of all the people being grieved over the loss of their sons and daughters. But David found strength in the LORD his God.

<sup>7</sup> David said to Abiathar the priest, the son of Ahimelek, "Bring me the ephod." So Abiathar brought the ephod to David.

<sup>8</sup> Then David inquired of the LORD, saying, "If I pursue after this band of raiders, will I overtake them?" He answered him, "Pursue; for you will certainly overtake them, and will succeed in recovering everything."

<sup>9</sup> So David and his 600 men set out, and came to the brook Besor, where those who were left behind stayed.

<sup>10</sup> But David and 400 men pursued, with 200 staying behind, because they were too exhausted to cross over Wadi Besor.

<sup>11</sup> They found an Egyptian in the field, and brought him to David. They gave him bread to eat and water to drink.

<sup>12</sup> They gave him a piece of a fig cake and two clusters of raisins. When he had eaten, his spirit revived for he had not eaten any bread or drunk any water in three days and nights.

<sup>13</sup> Then David asked him, "To whom do you belong? Where are you from?" He replied, "I am an Egyptian, a servant of an Amalekite. My master left me, because three days ago when I fell sick.

<sup>14</sup> We made a raid on the Negev of the Kerethites, on the territory of Judah, and on the Negev of Caleb. We just burned Ziklag."

<sup>15</sup> Then David asked him, "Can you lead me down to this band of raiders?" He replied, "Swear to me by God, that you will not kill me, or turn me over to the hands of my master, and I will bring you down to them."

<sup>16</sup> When he had led David down, and they found them spread out all over the land, eating and drinking and dancing, because of all the great spoil that they had taken from the land of the Philistines, and from the land of Judah.

<sup>18</sup> So David recovered all that the Amalekites had taken, and David rescued his two wives.

<sup>19</sup> There was nothing missing, small or great, sons or daughters, the plunder or anything else that they had taken. David got it all back.

<sup>20</sup> David recovered all the flocks and the herds, which they drove ahead of the other livestock, and said, "This is David's spoil."

<sup>21</sup> Then David returned to the 200 men, who were so exhausted that they could not follow David, whom they had left behind at Wadi Besor. They came out to meet David, and to meet the people who were with him. When David approached the people, he greeted them.

<sup>22</sup> Then all the wicked and worthless men who had gone with David said, "Because they didn't go with us, we won't give them any of the spoil that we have recovered. Let each man take only his wife and his children, and leave."

<sup>23</sup> Then David objected, "No, my brothers, you shouldn't do this with what the LORD has given to us. He has protected us, and delivered the raiders who attacked us into our hand.

<sup>24</sup> Who will listen to you in this matter? For the share of the one who goes down to the battle, shall be the same as the share of the one that stays by the equipment. They shall share and share alike."

<sup>25</sup> From that day to this, David made it a statute and a regulation for Israel.

<sup>31</sup> Hebron, and to all the places where David and his men were accustomed to visit.

DASV: 1 Samuel 31

<sup>1</sup> Now the Philistines fought against Israel; and the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines, and fell down slain on mount Gilboa.

<sup>3</sup> The battle was fierce around Saul, and the archers caught up with him; and he was badly wounded by the archers.

<sup>4</sup> Then said Saul to his armor bearer, Draw your sword, and thrust me through with it, so that these uncircumcised won't come, thrust me through and torture me. But his armor bearer would not; for he was terrified. Therefore Saul took his sword, and fell on it.

<sup>5</sup> When his armor bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his sword and died with him.

<sup>6</sup> So Saul, his three sons, his armor bearer and all his men died together that same day.

<sup>7</sup> When the men of Israel who were on the other side of the valley, on the other side of the Jordan River, saw that the men of Israel fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their town and fled. The Philistines came and occupied them.

<sup>8</sup> The next day, when the Philistines came to strip the slain, they found Saul and his three sons fallen on mount Gilboa.

<sup>10</sup> Then they put his armor in the house of the Ashtareths; and they fastened his body to the wall of Beth-shan.

<sup>11</sup> When the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead heard what had happened to him and what the Philistines had done to Saul, <sup>12</sup> all the valiant men arose, and went all night, and took down the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons from the wall of Beth-shan. They returned to Jabesh, and burned them there.

<sup>13</sup> They took their bones, and buried them under the tamarisk tree in Jabesh, and fasted seven days.

DASV: 2 Samuel*DASV: 2 Samuel 1

<sup>1</sup> After the death of Saul, when David returned from the slaughter of the Amalekites, he stayed two days in Ziklag.

<sup>3</sup> David asked him, "Where did you come from?" He replied, "I escaped from the camp of Israel."

<sup>4</sup> David asked, "Tell me, how did it go?" He answered, "The people fled from the battle. Many of them have fallen and are dead. Saul and his son Jonathan are also dead."

<sup>5</sup> David said to the young man who brought him the report, "How do you know that Saul and his son Jonathan are dead?"

<sup>6</sup> The young man bringing him word said, "By chance, I happened to be on Mount Gilboa, Saul was leaning on his spear. The chariots and the horsemen closed in on him.

<sup>7</sup> When he looked behind him, he saw me, and called to me. I answered, 'Here am I.'

<sup>8</sup> Then he asked me, 'Who are you?' I responded, 'I am an Amalekite.'

<sup>9</sup> He said to me, 'Come over here and finish me off, for I am convulsing yet I am still alive.'

<sup>10</sup> So I stood over him and finished him off, because I was sure that he could not live after he had fallen. So I took the crown that was on his head and the bracelet that was on his arm, and have brought them here to you, my lord."

<sup>11</sup> Then David took hold of his clothes and tore them, and so did all the men who were with him.

<sup>12</sup> They mourned, wept and fasted until evening for Saul and his son Jonathan, and for the LORD's people and for the house of Israel, because they had fallen by the sword.

<sup>13</sup> Then David said to the young man reporting to him, "Where are you from?" He replied, "I am the son of a resident foreigner, an Amalekite."

<sup>14</sup> David confronted him, "Why were you not afraid to lift your hand to destroy the LORD's anointed?"

<sup>15</sup> David called one of the young soldiers, "Come here and strike him down." So he struck him and he died.

<sup>16</sup> David had said to him, "Your blood be on your own head. Your mouth has testified against you, saying, 'I have killed the LORD's anointed.'"

How are the mighty fallen!

<sup>20</sup> Tell it not in Gath, don't announce it in the streets of Ashkelon, or the daughters of the Philistines will rejoice,
the daughters of the uncircumcised will celebrate.

<sup>21</sup> You mountains of Gilboa, let there be no dew or rain on you,
or fields of offerings:
For there the shield of the mighty was defiled,
the shield of Saul, no more anointed with olive oil.

<sup>22</sup> From the blood of the slain,
from the fat of the mighty,
the bow of Jonathan did not turn back,
the sword of Saul did not return empty.

<sup>23</sup> Saul and Jonathan were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided.
They were swifter than eagles,
they were stronger than lions.

<sup>24</sup> Weep you daughters of Israel over Saul, who clothed you in scarlet luxury, who adorned your clothes with gold jewelry.

<sup>25</sup> How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle!
Jonathan lies slain on your high places.

<sup>26</sup> I grieve for you, my brother Jonathan, how very dear you were to me.
Your love to me was wonderful, surpassing the love of women.

<sup>27</sup> How the mighty have fallen, and the weapons of war perished!"

DASV: 2 Samuel 2

<sup>1</sup> After this, David inquired of the LORD, saying, "Should I go up into any of the towns of Judah?" The LORD said to him, "Go up." David asked, "Where should I go?" He answered, "To Hebron."

<sup>2</sup> So David moved there, with his two wives, Ahinoam the Jezreelitess, and Abigail the widow of Nabal the Carmelite.

<sup>3</sup> David also brought up his men who were with him, each man along with his family and they settled in the towns of Hebron.

<sup>4</sup> The men of Judah came and anointed David king over the house of Judah there. They told David, "The people of Jabesh-gilead were the ones who buried Saul."

<sup>5</sup> David sent messengers to the people of Jabesh-gilead, and told them, "May the LORD bless you, because you have showed this kindness to your lord Saul by burying him.

<sup>6</sup> May the LORD now show kindness and faithfulness to you, and I also will reward you because you have done this.

<sup>7</sup> Now therefore let your hands be strong and valiant; for Saul your lord is dead, and also the house of Judah has anointed me king over them."

<sup>8</sup> Now Abner the son of Ner, captain of Saul's army, had taken Ish-bosheth the son of Saul and brought him over to Mahanaim.

<sup>9</sup> He made him king over Gilead, the Ashurites, Jezreel, Ephraim, Benjamin and over all Israel.

<sup>10</sup> Ish-bosheth, Saul's son, was forty years old when he began to reign over Israel, and he reigned two years. But the house of Judah followed David.

<sup>11</sup> Now David was king in Hebron over the house of Judah for seven years and six months.

<sup>13</sup> Joab the son of Zeruah, and the servants of David, went out and met them by the pool of Gibeon. They sat down, one group on the one side of the pool, and the other group positioned themselves on the other side of the pool.

<sup>14</sup> Then Abner said to Joab, "Let the young men get up and grapple before us."

Joab said, "Let them get up."

<sup>15</sup> So they got up and crossed over counting off, twelve for Benjamin and for Ish-bosheth the son of Saul, and twelve from the servants of David.

<sup>16</sup> Then they grappled, each one with his opponent grabbing them by the head, and stabbing his sword in his opponent's side. So they fell down dead together. That is why that place was called Helkath-hazzurim [field of swords], at Gibeon.

<sup>17</sup> The battle was fierce that day. Abner and the men of Israel were beaten by David's soldiers.

<sup>18</sup> The three sons of Zeruiah were there: Joab, Abishai and Asahel. Asahel was as swift-footed as a gazelle.

<sup>20</sup> Abner looked behind him and asked, "Is that you, Asahel?" He answered, "Yes, it is I."

<sup>21</sup> Then Abner told him, "Turn aside to your right or left, and grab hold of one of the young soldiers, and take his weapons." But Asahel would not turn aside from pursuing him.

<sup>22</sup> Abner told Asahel again, "Stop chasing me. Why should I strike you to the ground? How then would I ever show my face to your brother Joab?"

<sup>23</sup> But Asahel refused to stop his pursuit. So Abner took the butt end of his spear struck him in the stomach, and the spear came out his back. He fell down there and died in that very spot. Everyone who came to the place where Asahel had fallen and died stood still in respect.

<sup>26</sup> Then Abner called to Joab and asked, "Must the sword devour forever? Do you not realize that it will end in bitterness? How long will it be until you order your people to stop chasing their brothers?"

<sup>27</sup> Then Joab said, "As God lives, if you had not spoken, surely the people would have pursued their brothers until morning."

<sup>28</sup> So Joab blew the trumpet and all the people stopped their pursuit of Israel. They did not fight any longer.

<sup>29</sup> Abner and his men went all that night through the Arabah; and they crossed over the Jordan River, marching all morning and arrived at Mahanaim.

<sup>30</sup> Joab returned from chasing Abner. When he had gathered all the people together, nineteen of David's soldiers were missing besides Asahel.

<sup>31</sup> But the soldiers of David had killed 360 from Benjamin and Abner's men.

<sup>32</sup> They took Asahel and buried him in his father's tomb that was in Bethlehem. Then Joab and his men marched all night, and reached Hebron at daybreak.

DASV: 2 Samuel 3

<sup>1</sup> Now there was long war between the house of Saul and the house of David. David grew stronger and stronger, but the house of Saul grew weaker and weaker.

<sup>2</sup> Sons were born to David in Hebron. His firstborn was Amnon who was born to Ahinoam the Jezreelitess.

<sup>3</sup> His second, Chileab was born to Abigail the widow of Nabal the Carmelite. The third was Absalom the son of Maacah the daughter of Talmai, king of Geshur.

<sup>4</sup> The fourth was Adonijah the son of Haggith, and the fifth, Shephatiah the son of Abital.

<sup>5</sup> The sixth was Ithream, the son of David's wife Eglah. These were born to David in Hebron.

<sup>6</sup> While there was war between the house of Saul and the house of David, Abner made himself strong in the house of Saul.

<sup>7</sup> Now Saul had a concubine whose name was Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah. Ish-bosheth complained to Abner, "Why have you slept with my father's concubine?"

<sup>8</sup> Then Abner got very angry over the words of Ish-bosheth, and said, "Am I a dog's head that belongs to Judah? This day I am showing my loyalty to the house of Saul your father, to his brothers and his friends, and have not delivered you to the hand of David; yet you are accusing me today with a crime concerning this woman.

<sup>9</sup> God do so to Abner, and more also, if I do not do exactly what the LORD has sworn to David,

<sup>10</sup> to transfer the kingdom from the house of Saul, and to set up the throne of David over both Israel and Judah, from Dan even to Beersheba."

<sup>11</sup> Ish-bosheth could not answer Abner another word, because he was afraid of him.

<sup>12</sup> Then Abner sent messengers to David on his behalf, saying, "Who does the land belong to? Make an agreement with me and my hand will be with you, to bring all Israel under your control."

<sup>13</sup> So David said, "Good, I will make an agreement with you. But one thing I require from you: you must not see my face, except you first bring Michal, Saul's daughter, when you come to see me."

<sup>16</sup> Her husband went with her, weeping as he went, and followed her to Bahurim. Then Abner ordered him, "Go back home." So he went back.

<sup>17</sup> Abner had communication with the elders of Israel, saying, "For some time you have wanted David to be king over you.

<sup>18</sup> Now then make it happen. For the LORD has spoken concerning David, 'By the hand of my servant David I will rescue my people Israel from the hand of the Philistines and from all their enemies.'"

<sup>19</sup> Abner also spoke to the Benjaminites. Abner went to speak with David in Hebron with all Israel and the whole house of Benjamin supporting him.

<sup>20</sup> So Abner and twenty men came to David at Hebron. David made a feast for Abner and the men who were with him.

<sup>21</sup> Abner said to David, "Let me go and gather all Israel behind my lord the king, so that they may make a covenant with you, and that you may reign over all that your heart desires." So David sent Abner away and he went in peace.

<sup>22</sup> Just then David's soldiers and Joab came back from a raid, bringing great spoil with them. But Abner was not with David in Hebron, for David had sent him away and he had gone in peace.

<sup>23</sup> When Joab and all the troops that were with him arrived, Joab was told, "Abner the son of Ner came to the king, and he has sent him away, and he has gone away in peace."

<sup>24</sup> Then Joab came to the king, complaining, "What have you done? Abner came to you, why did you send him off, so that he escaped?"

<sup>25</sup> You know Abner the son of Ner came to deceive you, and to spy out your going out and your coming in, and to find out everything you are doing."

<sup>27</sup> When Abner returned to Hebron, Joab took him aside into the midst of the gate pretending to speak privately with him. There he stabbed him in the stomach, so that he died, avenging the blood of Asahel his brother.

<sup>28</sup> Afterward, when David found out about it, he said, "I and my kingdom are innocent forever before the LORD of shedding the blood of Abner the son of Ner.

<sup>29</sup> Let the guilt fall upon the head of Joab and on all his father's house. May there never be from the house of Joab one who does not have a running sore, or who is leperous, or who leans on a crutch, or falls by the sword, or who lacks food."

<sup>30</sup> So Joab and Abishai his brother murdered Abner, because he had killed their brother Asahel at Gibeon in the battle.

<sup>31</sup> Then David said to Joab, and to all the people who were with him, "Tear your clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourn over Abner." Even king David followed the funeral bier.

<sup>32</sup> So they buried Abner in Hebron. The king cried aloud and wept at the grave of Abner, and all the people wept.

<sup>33</sup> The king lamented for Abner, and said, "Should Abner have died like a fool?"

<sup>34</sup> Your hands were not bound, or your feet put into fetters. No, but as a man murdered by the wicked, is how you died." Then all the people wept again over Abner.

<sup>35</sup> All the people came to encourage David to eat bread while it was still day. For David swore, "God do the same to me and even more, if I taste bread, or anything else till the sun goes down."

<sup>36</sup> All the people took notice of it, and it pleased them. In fact, everything the king did pleased all the people.

<sup>37</sup> So all the people and all Israel understood that day that the king had nothing to do with the slaying of Abner the son of Ner.

<sup>38</sup> The king said to his servants, "Do you not realize that a prince and a great man has fallen this day in Israel?"

<sup>39</sup> I am powerless this day, even though I am the anointed king. These sons of Zeruah are too violent for me. May the LORD repay the evildoer according to his wickedness."

DASV: 2 Samuel 4

<sup>1</sup> When Ish-bosheth, Saul's son, heard that Abner was dead in Hebron, his courage failed, and all the Israelites were alarmed.

<sup>2</sup> Saul's son, had two men who were captains of the raiding bands. The name of the one was Baanah and the other Rechab. They were the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite the Benjaminite (for Beeroth was reckoned as belonging to Benjamin).

<sup>3</sup> Now the Beerothites had fled to Gittaim and have been resident foreigners there until this day.

<sup>4</sup> Jonathan, Saul's son, had a son who was crippled in both feet. He was five years old when the news came about Saul and Jonathan out of Jezreel. His nurse picked him up and fled. In her haste to flee, he fell and became lame. His name was Mephibosheth.

<sup>6</sup> They entered into the midst of the house, as if to get wheat, and instead they stabbed him in the stomach. Then Rechab and his brother Baanah escaped.

<sup>7</sup> Now when they came into the house, he was laying on his bed in his bedroom, they struck and killed him, and beheaded him. Then they took his head and traveled all night by the way of the Arabah.

<sup>8</sup> They brought the head of Ish-bosheth to David at Hebron, and told the king, "Look, here is the head of Ish-bosheth, the son of Saul, your enemy, who sought your life. The LORD has avenged my lord the king this day on Saul, and on his descendants."

<sup>9</sup> But David answered Rechab and his brother Baanah, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, "As the LORD lives, who has delivered my life out of every adversity, <sup>10</sup> when someone told me, 'Look, Saul is dead, thinking to have brought good news,' I grabbed and slew him in Ziklag. This was the reward I gave him for his news.

<sup>11</sup> How much more when wicked men have slain a righteous person in his own house in his own bed, should I not require his blood at your hand, and remove you from the earth?"

<sup>12</sup> So David commanded his young men, and they killed them. They cut off their hands and their feet and hung their bodies beside the pool at Hebron. But they took the head of Ish-bosheth, and buried it in the tomb of Abner in Hebron.

DASV: 2 Samuel 5

<sup>1</sup> Then all the tribes of Israel came to David at Hebron, and said, "Look, we are your own flesh and bone.

<sup>2</sup> In the past, when Saul was king over us, you were the one who led Israel in and out to battle. The LORD said to you, 'You will shepherd my people Israel, and you will be ruler over Israel.'"

<sup>3</sup> So all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron. King David made a covenant with them before the LORD at Hebron. There they anointed David king over Israel.

<sup>4</sup> David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for forty years.

<sup>5</sup> He reigned over Judah seven years and six months in Hebron; then he reigned thirty-three years over all Israel and Judah in Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup> David said on that day, "Whoever will strike down the Jebusites, will have to go up the water tunnel to attack the "lame" and "blind" enemies of David." That is why they still say, "The blind and the lame cannot enter the palace."

<sup>10</sup> David grew greater and greater; for the LORD, the God of hosts, was with him.

<sup>12</sup> David realized that the LORD had established him king over Israel, and that he had exalted his kingdom for the sake of his people Israel.

<sup>13</sup> David married more concubines and wives from Jerusalem, after he came up from Hebron. There even more sons and daughters were born to David.

<sup>17</sup> When the Philistines heard that they had anointed David king over Israel, all the Philistines went up in search of David. But David heard about it and went down to the fortress.

<sup>18</sup> Now the Philistines had come and spread out in the valley of Rephaim.

<sup>19</sup> David inquired of the LORD, "Should I go up against the Philistines? Will you deliver them into my hand?" The LORD answered David, "Go up. For I will certainly deliver the Philistines into your hand."

<sup>20</sup> Then David came to Baal-perazim, and defeated them there. He said, "The LORD has burst out on my enemies before me, like the burst of a flood before me." Therefore he called the name of that place Baal-perazim [the Lord burst out].

<sup>22</sup> Then the Philistines came up again, and spread out in the valley of Rephaim.

<sup>24</sup> When you hear the sound of marching on the tops of the poplar trees, then act decisively; for then the LORD is going before you to strike the army of the Philistines."

<sup>25</sup> So David did just as the LORD commanded him, and he struck down the Philistines from Gibeon all the way to Gezer.

<sup>2</sup> David and all the people who were with him went to Baalah in Judah, to bring up the ark of God, which is called by the Name, even the name of the LORD of hosts who sits enthroned between the cherubim.

<sup>3</sup> They set the ark of God on a new cart, and brought it out of the house of Abinadab that was on the hill. Uzzah and Ahio, the sons of Abinadab, drove the new cart,

<sup>6</sup> When they came to the threshing floor of Nacon, Uzzah reached out his hand to steady the ark of God, and grabbed hold of it because the oxen stumbled.

<sup>7</sup> But the anger of the LORD was kindled against Uzzah, and God struck him down there for his irreverent act. He died there beside the ark of God.

<sup>8</sup> David was angry because the LORD had burst out on Uzzah. So he called that place Perez-uzzah [burst out against Uzzah] to this day.

<sup>9</sup> Then David became afraid of the LORD that day. He said, "How will the ark of the LORD ever come to me?"

<sup>10</sup> So David was unwilling to bring the ark of the LORD to him into the city of David. Instead David had it carried to the house of Obed-edom the Gittite.

<sup>11</sup> The ark of the LORD remained in the house of Obed-edom the Gittite for three months. Now the LORD blessed Obed-edom, and all his house.

<sup>12</sup> It was reported to king David, "The LORD has blessed the house of Obed-edom, and all that belongs to him, because of the ark of God." So David went there and brought up the ark of God from the house of Obed-edom to the city of David with joy.

<sup>16</sup> As the ark of the LORD entered the city of David, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out the window. When she saw king David leaping and dancing before the LORD, she despised him in her heart.

<sup>17</sup> They brought in the ark of the LORD and set it in its proper place inside the tent David had pitched for it. Then David offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> When David finished offering the burnt offering and peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD of hosts.

<sup>19</sup> He gave to all the people, the whole multitude of Israel, both men and women, a loaf of bread, a date cake and a cake of raisins. So all the people went each one to their own home.

<sup>20</sup> Then David himself returned to bless his household. Michal the daughter of Saul came out to meet David, sneering, "How glorious the king of Israel was today, shamelessly exposing himself in the eyes of the slave girls just like any vulgar fool would do!"

<sup>21</sup> Then David replied to Michal, "It was before the LORD, who chose me instead of your father and anyone from his house, to appoint me leader over the people of the LORD, Israel, so I will celebrate before the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> I will make myself even more shameful than this, and will be humiliated in my own eyes, but by these slave girls you mentioned, I be held in honor."

<sup>23</sup> So Michal the daughter of Saul had no children to the day of her death.

DASV: 2 Samuel 7

<sup>1</sup> Now when the king had settled into his house and the LORD had given him rest from all his surrounding enemies,

<sup>2</sup> the king said to Nathan the prophet, "See now, I am living in a house of cedar, but the ark of God stays in a tent."

<sup>3</sup> Nathan encouraged the king, "Go, do all that is in your heart; for the LORD is with you."

<sup>4</sup> That same night the word of the LORD came to Nathan, saying,

<sup>5</sup> "Go and tell my servant David, This is what the LORD says, 'Will you be the one to build me a house to live in?'"

<sup>6</sup> I have not lived in a house since the day I brought the Israelites out of Egypt, even to this day, but have traveled using a tent for my dwelling place.

<sup>7</sup> Wherever I have moved with the Israelites, did I ever say anything to any of the tribal leaders, whom I commanded to shepherd my people Israel, complaining, 'Why haven't you built me a house of cedar?'"

<sup>8</sup> Now therefore tell David my servant, 'This is what the LORD of hosts says, I took you from the pasture, from following the sheep, to be leader over my people Israel.'

<sup>9</sup> I have been with you wherever you have gone, and have cut off all your enemies before you; and I will make your name great, as famous as the greatest who have ever lived on earth.

<sup>10</sup> I will establish a place for my people Israel, and will plant them there, so that they may live in their own place, and not be disturbed anymore; neither will violent men oppress them anymore, as they did at the beginning, <sup>11</sup> from the day that I appointed judges to be over my people Israel. I will give you rest from all your enemies. Furthermore the LORD declares to you that he will build you a house.

<sup>12</sup> When your days are completed and you sleep with your fathers, I will set up one of your descendants after you, who will come from your own body, and I will establish his kingdom.

<sup>13</sup> He will build a house for my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever.

<sup>14</sup> I will be his father, and he will be my son. If he sins, I will discipline him with the rod of men and with stripes inflicted by human beings.

<sup>15</sup> But my steadfast love will never be taken from him, as I took it away from Saul, whom I ousted before you.

<sup>16</sup> Your house and your kingdom will be made secure forever before me. Your throne will be established forever. "'

<sup>17</sup> Nathan declared all these words according to this whole vision.

<sup>18</sup> Then David the king went in, and sat before the LORD. He said, "Who am I, O Sovereign LORD, and what is my house, that you have brought me this far?"

<sup>19</sup> Yet even this was a small thing in your eyes, O Sovereign LORD; for beyond that you have spoken also about your servant's house for a great while to come. Is this the way you usually treat men, O Sovereign LORD?

<sup>20</sup> What more can I say to you? For you know your servant, O Sovereign LORD.

<sup>21</sup> For the sake of your promise, in accordance with your own heart, you have done all this great thing, revealing it to your servant.

<sup>22</sup> How great you are, O Sovereign LORD for there is no one like you. We have never heard of any God like you.

<sup>23</sup> What other nation on the earth is like your people Israel? Is there another nation whom God redeemed as a people for himself, to make a name for himself, by performing great wonders and awesome deeds and by driving out nations and gods for those whom you redeemed from Egypt?

<sup>24</sup> You established your people Israel to be your people forever, and you, O LORD, became their God.

<sup>25</sup> Now, O Sovereign LORD, confirm forever the word you have promised concerning your servant and his house. Do just as you have promised.

<sup>26</sup> Let your name be magnified forever, saying, 'The LORD of hosts is God over Israel; and the house of your servant David will be established before you.'

<sup>27</sup> For you, O LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, have revealed to your servant, 'I will build you a house,' therefore your servant has had the courage to pray this prayer to you.

<sup>28</sup> Now, O Sovereign LORD, you are God, and your words are truth, and you have promised this good thing to your servant.

<sup>29</sup> Now therefore may it please you to bless the house of your servant, that it may continue forever before you; for you, O Sovereign LORD, have spoken. May the house of your servant be blessed with your blessing forever."

<sup>2</sup> He defeated Moab. He measured them off with a rope, making them to lie down on the ground. Two lengths of rope he put to death, and one length he kept alive. The Moabites became David's subjects and brought tribute.

<sup>5</sup> When the Arameans of Damascus came to the aid of Hadadezer king of Zobah, David struck down 22,000 of them.

<sup>6</sup> Then David put garrisons in Aram of Damascus, and the Arameans became David's subjects and brought him tribute. The LORD gave victory to David wherever he went.

<sup>7</sup> David took the gold shields that belonged to the servants of Hadadezer and brought them to Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup> Toi sent his son Joram to king David, to greet and congratulate him, because he had fought against and defeated Hadadezer. Hadadezer had been at war with Toi. Joram brought with him objects of silver, gold and bronze.

<sup>11</sup> David dedicated these to the LORD, along with the silver and gold that he dedicated from all the nations he had already subdued:

<sup>12</sup> Edom, Moab, the Ammonites, the Philistines and Amalek, and the spoil from Hadadezer, son of Rehob, king of Zobah.

<sup>13</sup> David made a name for himself when he returned from killing 18,000 Edomites in the Valley of Salt.

<sup>14</sup> He put garrisons all over Edom, and all the Edomites became David's subjects. The LORD gave David victory wherever he went.

<sup>16</sup> Joab the son of Zeruah was over the army, and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was the court history recorder;

<sup>17</sup> Zadok the son of Ahitub and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, were priests; and Seraiah was the court scribe;

<sup>18</sup> and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and Pelethites (royal guard); and David's sons were priests.

DASV: 2 Samuel 9

<sup>1</sup> David asked, "Is there anyone left from the house of Saul, that I may show him kindness for Jonathan's sake?"

<sup>2</sup> Now there was from the house of Saul a servant whose name was Ziba. They called him in to David, and the king asked him, "Are you Ziba?" He answered, "Yes, at your service."

<sup>3</sup> The king asked, "Is there not someone from the house of Saul, that I may show the kindness of God to him?" Ziba answered the king, "Jonathan's son is still alive. He is crippled in both feet."

<sup>4</sup> So the king asked him, "Where is he?" Ziba replied to the king, "He is in the house of Makir the son of Ammiel, in Lo-debar."

<sup>5</sup> Then king David sent, and brought him from of the house of Makir the son of Ammiel, in Lo-debar.

<sup>6</sup> Mephibosheth, the son of Jonathan, the son of Saul, came to David, and fell on his face, and paid him homage. David said, "Mephibosheth." He answered, "Yes, at your service."

<sup>7</sup> Then David said to him, "Don't be afraid, for I will surely show you kindness for the sake of your father Jonathan. I will restore to you all the land of your grandfather Saul; and you will always eat at my table."

<sup>8</sup> He bowed in respect, and said, "What is your servant, that you should look on a dead dog like me?"

<sup>9</sup> Then the king called to Ziba, Saul's servant, and ordered him, "All that belonged to Saul and to all his house I have given to your master's grandson.

<sup>10</sup> You will farm the land for him, you, your sons and your servants. You will bring its produce and it will be food for your master's grandson to eat. But Mephibosheth, your master's grandson will always eat food at my table." Now Ziba had fifteen sons and twenty servants.

<sup>12</sup> Mephibosheth had a young son named Mica. All who lived in Ziba's house became Mephibosheth's servants.

<sup>13</sup> So Mephibosheth lived in Jerusalem, for he always ate at the king's table. He was crippled in both his feet.

DASV: 2 Samuel 10

<sup>1</sup> Some time later the king of the Ammonites died, and Hanun his son reigned in his place.

<sup>2</sup> David said, "I will show kindness to Hanun the son of Nahash, just as his father showed kindness to me." So David sent his servants to express sympathy concerning the loss of his father. David's servants came into the land of the Ammonites.

<sup>3</sup> But the princes of the Ammonites said to Hanun their lord, "Do you really think that David is honoring your father by sending men with condolences to you? Hasn't David sent his servants to you to search and spy out the city, and to overthrow it?"

<sup>4</sup> So Hanun took David's servants, shaved off half of their beards and cut off their clothes in the middle exposing their buttocks, and sent them away.

<sup>5</sup> When David heard what had happened, he summoned them, for the men were greatly ashamed. The king said, "Wait at Jericho until your beards have grown back, and then return.

<sup>6</sup> When the Ammonites realized that they had become a stench to David, the Ammonites sent and hired 20,000 Aramean foot soldiers from Beth-rehob and Zobah, along with 1,000 men from king of Maacah, and 12,000 men from Tob.

<sup>7</sup> When David heard about it, he sent Joab, and all the army of the mighty men.

<sup>8</sup> The Ammonites came out, and took up battle positions at the entrance of the gate, while the Arameans of Zobah and Rehob, and the men of Tob and Maacah, were by themselves in the open field.

<sup>9</sup> Now when Joab saw that the battle fronts were set against him both in front of him and behind, he chose some of the best troops of Israel, and deployed them against the Arameans.

<sup>10</sup> The rest of the people he put under the charge of Abishai his brother and deployed them against the Ammonites.

<sup>11</sup> Then he said, "If the Arameans are too strong for me, then you come and help me; but if the Ammonites are too strong for you, then I will come and help you.

<sup>12</sup> Be courageous! Let us fight bravely for our people, and for the cities of our God. May the LORD do whatever seems good to him."

<sup>13</sup> So Joab and the people that were with him moved out for the battle against the Arameans, and they fled before him.

<sup>14</sup> When the Ammonites saw that the Arameans had fled, they likewise fled before Abishai, and pulled back into the city. Then Joab stopped fighting with the Ammonites, and returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup> When the Arameans saw that they had been defeated by Israel, they gathered themselves together.

<sup>16</sup> Then Hadadezer sent for reinforcements from the Arameans who were beyond the Euphrates River. They came to Helam, with Shobach the captain of the army of Hadadezer as their head.

<sup>17</sup> When David was told about this, he gathered all Israel together, and crossed over the Jordan River and came to Helam. The Arameans took up their battle positions against David, and fought with him.

<sup>18</sup> But the Arameans fled before Israel and David slew 700 Aramean charioteers, 40,000 horsemen, and wounded Shobach the captain of their host, so that he died there.

<sup>19</sup> When all the kings who were servants to Hadadezer saw that they were defeated before Israel, they made peace with Israel and served them. So the Arameans were afraid to help the Ammonites anymore.

DASV: 2 Samuel 11

<sup>1</sup> In the spring of the year, at the time when kings go out to war, David sent out Joab with his officers and the entire Israelite army. They defeated the Ammonites, and besieged Rabbah. But David stayed back at Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> One evening David got up off his couch, and walked around on the roof of the king's palace. From the roof he saw a woman bathing. The woman was very good looking.

<sup>3</sup> David sent someone to inquire about the woman. The person reported, "Isn't she Bath-sheba, the daughter of Eliam, the wife of Uriah the Hittite?"

<sup>4</sup> So David sent messengers to get her. She came to him and he slept with her. Now she had been purified from her menstrual uncleanness. Then she returned home.

<sup>6</sup> So David sent to Joab, requesting, "Send me Uriah the Hittite." So Joab sent Uriah to David.

<sup>7</sup> When Uriah came to him, David asked him how Joab and the troops were doing, and how the war was going.

<sup>9</sup> But Uriah slept at the door of the king's palace with all the servants of his lord, and did not go to his home.

<sup>10</sup> When they told David, "Uriah didn't go down to his home," David asked Uriah, "Haven't you just come from a journey? Why didn't you go home?"

<sup>11</sup> Uriah replied to David, "The ark and Israel and Judah are staying in tents, and my lord Joab and the servants of my lord are camped in the open field. Should I go to my house, eat and drink and sleep with my wife? As you live, I swear I will not do such a thing."

<sup>12</sup> Then David said to Uriah, "Stay here today, and tomorrow I will send you back." So Uriah stayed in Jerusalem that day and the next.

<sup>13</sup> David invited him to eat and drink with him, and he got him drunk. But in the evening Uriah went out to lie on his bed with the servants of his lord, but still would not go down to his house.

<sup>14</sup> In the morning David wrote a letter to Joab, and sent it by the hand of Uriah.

<sup>15</sup> He wrote in the letter, "Set Uriah on the front lines where the battle is the fiercest, and pull back from him, so that he may be struck down and killed."

<sup>16</sup> Joab kept watch over the city, he assigned Uriah to a place where he knew that the valiant warriors were.

<sup>17</sup> When the men of the city came out and fought with Joab, some of the servants of David fell there, and Uriah the Hittite also died.

<sup>18</sup> Then Joab sent and reported to David all the news concerning the battle.

<sup>19</sup> He instructed the messenger, "When you have finished telling the king all the news about the battle, <sup>20</sup> if the king gets angry, and says to you, 'Why did you go so close to the city to fight? Didn't you realize they would shoot from the wall?

<sup>21</sup> Wasn't Abimelech the son of Jerubaal killed when a woman cast an upper millstone on him from the wall, so that he died at Thebez? Why did you go so close to the wall?' Then tell him, 'Your servant Uriah the Hittite is dead too.'"

<sup>22</sup> So the messenger went and told David all that Joab had told him to say.

<sup>23</sup> Then the messenger said to David, "The men prevailed against us, and came out against us in the field. But we forced them back to the entrance of the gate.

<sup>24</sup> The archers shot at your servants from the wall. Some of the king's servants are dead, and your servant Uriah the Hittite is dead too."

<sup>25</sup> Then David said to the messenger, "Tell Joab, 'Don't let this matter bother you, for the sword devours one as well as another. Press your attack more strongly against the city, and overthrow it.' Encourage him with this message."

<sup>26</sup> When the wife of Uriah heard that Uriah her husband was dead, she mourned for her husband.

<sup>27</sup> After the period of mourning was over, David sent and brought her home to his palace, and she became his wife and bore him a son. But the thing that David had done displeased the LORD.

DASV: 2 Samuel 12

<sup>1</sup> So the LORD sent Nathan to David. He came to him, and said to him, "There were two men in a certain city, the one rich and the other poor.

<sup>3</sup> But the poor man had nothing, except one little ewe lamb he had bought. He raised it and it grew up with him and with his children. It used to eat his food, and drank from his cup and slept in his arms. It was like a daughter to him.

<sup>4</sup> Now a traveler came to the rich man, and he was unwilling to take one of his own flock or herd to prepare it for the visitor, so he took the poor man's lamb and prepared it for the guest who had come to him."

<sup>6</sup> He must make restitution for the lamb four times over, because he did this thing and had no pity. "

<sup>7</sup> Then Nathan said to David, "You are the man. This is what the LORD, the God of Israel says, 'I anointed you king over Israel, and I delivered you from the hand of Saul.

<sup>8</sup> I gave you your master's house, and your master's wives into your arms, and gave you the house of Israel and Judah. And if that was too little, I would have added to you even more.

<sup>9</sup> Why have you despised the word of the LORD, by doing what was evil in his sight? You have struck down Uriah the Hittite with the sword, and have taken his wife to be your own wife. You have murdered him with the sword of the Ammonites.

<sup>10</sup> Now therefore, the sword will never leave your house, because you have despised me, and have taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be you own wife.'

<sup>11</sup> This is what the LORD says, 'Look, I will bring disaster against you from your house. I will take your wives before your very eyes, and give them to your neighbor. He will lie with your wives in broad daylight.

<sup>12</sup> You did it secretly, but I will do this thing in front of all Israel, and in broad daylight.'"

<sup>13</sup> David confessed to Nathan, "I have sinned against the LORD." Nathan replied to David, "The LORD has forgiven your sin. You will not die.

<sup>14</sup> Nevertheless, because by this deed you have treated the LORD with contempt, the child that is born to you will surely die."

<sup>15</sup> Then Nathan went home. The LORD struck the child that Uriah's wife bore to David, and it was very sick.

<sup>16</sup> David pleaded with God for the child. David fasted and went in and lay all night on the ground.

<sup>17</sup> The elders of his house stood over him to get him up off the ground, but he refused, neither would he eat any food with them.

<sup>18</sup> On the seventh day, the child died. The servants of David were afraid to tell him that the child was dead, for they thought, "Look, while the child was still alive, we spoke to him, and he would not listen to us, what will he do to himself if we tell him that the child is dead?"

<sup>19</sup> But when David saw that his servants were whispering to one another, he realized that the child was dead. So David asked his servants, "Is the child dead?" They replied, "He is dead."

<sup>20</sup> Then David got up from the ground, washed and anointed himself. He changed his clothes and he went into the house of the LORD and worshipped. Then he went home, and at his request they served him food, and he ate.

<sup>21</sup> Then his servants asked him, "What are you doing? You fasted and wept for the child, while it was alive; but now the child is dead, you got up and ate food."

<sup>22</sup> He replied, "While the child was still alive, I fasted and wept, for I hoped, 'Who knows whether the LORD will not be gracious to me, and allow the child to live?'

<sup>23</sup> But now he is dead, why should I fast? Can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he will not return to me."

<sup>24</sup> David comforted his wife Bathsheba. He went in to her, and slept with her, and she gave birth to a son, and he called him Solomon. The LORD loved him,

<sup>27</sup> Joab sent messengers to David, and said, "I have fought against Rabbah; yes, I have captured the city's water supply."

<sup>28</sup> Now gather the rest of the troops and besiege the city, and take it; otherwise I will take the city, and it will be called by my name."

<sup>29</sup> So David gathered all the troops and went to Rabbah, and fought against it, and took it.

<sup>30</sup> Then he took the crown off the head of their king and its gold weighed about seventy-five pounds, and there were gems set in it. It was then put on David's head. He also took a great deal of spoil from the city.

<sup>31</sup> He brought out the people that were in it, and forced them to work with saws, iron picks and axes, and made them work in the brick kiln. This was what he did to all the cities of the Ammonites. Then David and all the troops returned to Jerusalem.

DASV: 2 Samuel 13

<sup>2</sup> Amnon was so obsessed with his sister Tamar that he became sick, because she was a virgin and it seemed impossible for Amnon to do anything to her.

<sup>3</sup> But Amnon had a friend, named Jonadab, the son of David's brother Shimeah. Jonadab was a very shrewd person.

<sup>4</sup> He asked Amnon, "Why, O son of the king, are you so depressed morning after morning? Won't you tell me?" Then Amnon said to him, "I'm in love with Tamar, my brother Absalom's sister."

<sup>5</sup> Jonadab told him, "Lay down on your bed, and pretend to be sick. When your father comes to see you, say to him, 'Please let my sister Tamar come, and give me some food to eat, and prepare food in my sight, that I may see it and eat it from her hand.'"

<sup>6</sup> So Amnon lay down and pretended he was sick and when the king came to see him, Amnon said to the king, "Please let my sister Tamar come and make a couple of cakes in my sight, that I may eat from her hand."

<sup>7</sup> Then David sent word to Tamar at the palace, "Go to your brother Amnon's house, and prepare some food for him."

<sup>8</sup> So Tamar went to her brother Amnon's house where he was lying down. She took dough, and kneaded it, and made cakes in his sight, and baked the cakes.

<sup>9</sup> Then she took the pan and set it before him, but he refused to eat. Then Amnon said, "Send everyone out of here." So everyone left.

<sup>10</sup> Then Amnon said to Tamar, "Bring the food into the bedroom so that I may eat from your hand." So Tamar took the cakes she had made, and brought them into the bedroom to Amnon her brother.

<sup>11</sup> Now when she brought them near for him to eat, he grabbed hold of her, and said to her, "Come to bed with me, my sister."

<sup>12</sup> But she refused, "No, my brother, don't force me. Such a thing should never be done in Israel. Don't be so stupid.

<sup>13</sup> Where could I ever get rid of my disgrace? And you will have a reputation like one of the fools in Israel. Now therefore, please speak to the king, for he will not withhold me from you."

<sup>14</sup> But he refused to listen to her, but being stronger than she was, he used force and raped her.

<sup>15</sup> Then Amnon hated her with an intense hatred. His hatred for her was greater than the love with which he had previously loved her. Then Amnon sneered at her, "Get out of here."

<sup>16</sup> But she objected, "No, for throwing me out is worse than what you just did to me." But he refused to listen to her.

<sup>17</sup> Then he called his personal attendant and demanded, "Throw this woman out of here, and lock the door behind her."

<sup>18</sup> She was wearing a long robe with sleeves for these were the robes the king's daughters who were virgins normally wore. Then his attendant forced her out and locked the door behind her.

<sup>19</sup> Then Tamar put ashes on her head, and tore the long robe she was wearing. She put her hand on her head, and went away, crying aloud as she went.

<sup>20</sup> Then Absalom her brother asked her, "Has Amnon your brother been with you? Be quiet for now, my sister. He is your brother. Don't let this thing get to you." So Tamar remained a desolate woman in her brother Absalom's house.

<sup>21</sup> But when king David heard about all these things, he was furious.

<sup>24</sup> Absalom came to the king, and said, "Your servant's sheepshearers have begun their work; will the king and his servants please join your servant?"

<sup>25</sup> Then the king said to Absalom, "No, my son, we all shouldn't go or it would be too much of a burden for you." He continued to press him but the king would not go, but did give him his blessing.

<sup>26</sup> Then Absalom said, "If you won't go, then please let my brother Amnon go with us." The king said to him, "Why should he go with you?"

<sup>27</sup> But Absalom continued pressing him until he let Amnon and all the king's sons go with him.

<sup>28</sup> Then Absalom commanded his servants, "Watch now, when Amnon is happily drunk then I will tell you, 'Strike Amnon,' then kill him. Do not be afraid because I am the one who has commanded you to do it. Be courageous and valiant."

<sup>30</sup> While they were on their way, news reached David, saying, "Absalom has slain all the king's sons, not one of them has been left alive."

<sup>32</sup> Then Jonadab, the son of Shimeah, David's brother, said, "My lord should not assume that they have killed all the young men who are the king's sons, for only Amnon is dead. Absalom has been planning this ever since the day that Amnon raped his sister Tamar."

<sup>36</sup> As soon as he finished speaking, the king's sons arrived. They were weeping and wailing aloud, with the king and all his servants weeping bitterly with them.

<sup>38</sup> After Absalom fled to Geshur, he remained there three years.

<sup>39</sup> The heart of king David longed to go to Absalom, for he was consoled over the death of Amnon.

DASV: 2 Samuel 14

<sup>1</sup> Now Joab the son of Zeruiah perceived that the king's heart longed to see Absalom.

<sup>2</sup> So Joab sent to Tekoa, and brought a wise woman from there, and said to her, "Pretend that you are in mourning, and put on mourning clothes, do not anoint yourself with olive oil. Act like a woman who has mourned for the dead for many days.

<sup>3</sup> Go in to the king, and speak to him in this manner." So Joab told her what to say.

<sup>5</sup> Then the king asked her, "What's bothering you?" She answered, "I am a widow, and my husband is dead.

<sup>6</sup> Your servant had two sons. They got into a fight in the field and there was no one to break it up. One struck the other and killed him.

<sup>7</sup> Now the whole family has risen up against your servant, and demanded, 'Turn over the one who killed his brother, so that we may put him to death for the life of his brother whom he murdered, and so destroy this unworthy heir.' Thus they will quench the only burning coal I have, and leave no one to carry on my husband's name or no descendant left on the face of the earth."

<sup>8</sup> Then the king said to the woman, "Go to your house, and I will give orders concerning you."

<sup>9</sup> Then the woman of Tekoa replied to the king, "My lord, O king, let the guilt be on me, and on my father's house, may the king and his throne be guiltless."

<sup>10</sup> Then the king said, "Whoever says anything to you, bring him to me, and he will not bother you anymore."

<sup>11</sup> Then said she, "Let the king invoke the LORD your God swearing that the avenger of blood will not destroy anymore, so they will not destroy my son." He replied, "As the LORD lives, not one hair of your son's head will fall to the ground."

<sup>12</sup> Then the woman said, "Let your servant, please speak on the matter to my lord the king." He said, "Speak."

<sup>13</sup> The woman said, "Why then have you devised such a thing against the people of God? For in rendering this judgment the king is the one who is guilty, in that the king does not bring home again his own banished son.

<sup>14</sup> For we must all die, and are like water split on the ground that cannot be gathered up again. But God does take away life, but devises ways that the one who is banished not stay banished from him forever.

<sup>15</sup> Now therefore seeing that I have come to speak about this issue with my lord the king, it is because the people have made me afraid; your servant thought, 'I will speak to the king; perhaps the king will do what his servant requests.

<sup>16</sup> For the king will listen, and deliver his servant from the hand of the man that would destroy both me and my son from the inheritance God has given us.'

<sup>17</sup> Then your servant thought, 'The word of my lord the king bring me peace; for my lord the king is like an angel of God, being able to discern good and evil.' May the LORD your God be with you."

<sup>18</sup> Then the king answered the woman, "Do not hide from me, anything that I will ask you." The woman said, "Let my lord the king speak."

<sup>19</sup> The king said, "Did Joab put you up to this?" The woman answered, "As your soul lives, my lord the king, no one can turn to the right or left from anything that my lord the king has spoken. For Joab, your servant, asked me and put all these words in the mouth of your servant.

<sup>20</sup> Your servant, Joab, did it in order to resolve this situation. My lord is wise, having wisdom like an angel of God, knowing everything that is happening in the land."

<sup>22</sup> Joab fell with his face to the ground, paid homage and blessed the king. Then Joab said, "Today your servant knows that I have found favor in your sight, my lord the king, because the king has granted your servant's request."

<sup>23</sup> So Joab got up and went to Geshur, and brought Absalom back to Jerusalem.

<sup>24</sup> Then the king said, "Let him go to his own house, but let him not see my face." So Absalom went to his own house, and did not see the king's face.

<sup>25</sup> Now in all Israel there was no one praised for being as handsome as Absalom. From the sole of his foot to the top of his head there was no blemish in him.

<sup>26</sup> He would cut his hair once a year because it got so heavy he had cut it. When he weighed his hair it was five pounds.

<sup>27</sup> Absalom had three sons and one daughter, whose name was Tamar. She was a beautiful woman.

<sup>29</sup> Then Absalom sent for Joab, to send him to the king but he would not come to him. So he sent a second time but he still would not come.

<sup>30</sup> Therefore Absalom told his servants, "Look, Joab's field is near mine, and he has barley growing there. Go and set it on fire." So Absalom's servants set the field on fire.

<sup>31</sup> Then Joab got up and came to Absalom at his house, and complained to him, "Why did your servants set my field on fire?"

<sup>32</sup> Absalom replied to Joab, "Look, I sent for you, saying, 'Come here so that I may send you to the king, to say, "Why have I come back from Geshur? It would have been better for me to have stayed there.'" Now, therefore, let me see the king's face, and if I am guilty of anything, let him put me to death."

<sup>33</sup> So Joab went to the king and told him. The king summoned Absalom, so he came to the king, bowed himself with his face to the ground before the king; and the king kissed Absalom.

<sup>3</sup> Then Absalom would say to him, "Yes, your claims are good and right; but there is no representative of the king to hear you."

<sup>4</sup> Absalom would continue, "If only I were made judge in the land, then everyone who had any case or cause could come to me, and I would give him justice!"

<sup>5</sup> Whenever anyone came near to bow before him, he would put out his hand, and embrace and kiss him.

<sup>6</sup> This is the way Absalom treated everyone in Israel who came to the king for judgment. So Absalom stole the hearts of the people of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> After four years, Absalom said to the king, "Please let me go to Hebron and fulfill my vow that I have made to the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> For your servant made a vow while I was living in Geshur in Aram, saying, 'If the LORD will bring me back again to Jerusalem, then I will worship the LORD in Hebron.'"

<sup>9</sup> The king said to him, "Go in peace." So he got up and went to Hebron.

<sup>10</sup> But Absalom sent secret messengers throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, "As soon as you hear the trumpet sound then you should proclaim, 'Absalom is king in Hebron.'"

<sup>11</sup> Two hundred men from Jerusalem went with Absalom. They were invited, but went innocently knowing nothing of his subversion.

<sup>12</sup> While Absalom was offering sacrifices, he sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counsellor, who was from the town of Giloh. The conspiracy grew strong as the number of people backing Absalom kept increasing.

<sup>13</sup> A messenger came to David saying, "The hearts of the Israelites have gone over to Absalom."

<sup>14</sup> David said to all his servants who were with him in Jerusalem, "Get up and let us flee, otherwise none of us will escape from Absalom. Hurry up and leave or he will soon overtake and bring disaster on us, and strike the city with the edge of the sword."

<sup>18</sup> All his officials passed on before him. All the Cherethites and Pelethites royal guard, and 600 Gittites who followed him from Gath, led the way before the king.

<sup>19</sup> Then the king asked Ittai the Gittite, "Why are you going with us? Return and stay with the king Absalom, for you are a foreigner, in exile from your homeland.

<sup>20</sup> You came only yesterday. Should I this day force you to wander around with us, seeing I am not sure where I am going? Go back, and take back your brothers too. May kindness and faithfulness be with you."

<sup>21</sup> Then Ittai answered the king, "As the LORD lives, and as my lord the king lives, wherever my lord the king is, whether it means death or life, there also will your servant be."

<sup>22</sup> David said to Ittai, "All right, go on then, cross over." So Ittai the Gittite went along with all his men and all the little ones who were with him.

<sup>23</sup> The whole country wept aloud, and all the people crossed over. The king also himself crossed over the Kidron Valley. Then all the people crossed over on the road that leads to the desert.

<sup>24</sup> Zadok also came, along with all the Levites who were with him carrying the ark of the covenant of God. They set down the ark of God and Abiathar offered sacrifices until all the people had finished leaving the city.

<sup>25</sup> Then the king said to Zadok, "Carry the ark of God back into the city. If I find favor in the eyes of the LORD, then he will bring me back and allow me to see both the ark and his dwelling place again.

<sup>26</sup> But if he says, 'I have no delight in you,' look, I am here, let him do to me whatever seems best to him."

<sup>27</sup> The king asked Zadok the priest, "Aren't you a seer? Return to the city in peace, you and Abiathar along with your two sons, Ahimaaz your son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar.

<sup>28</sup> I will wait at the fords of the wilderness, until word comes from you to inform me."

<sup>29</sup> So Zadok and Abiathar carried the ark of God back into Jerusalem and stayed there.

<sup>30</sup> David went up by the ascent of the Mount of Olives, weeping as he went. He covered his head and went barefoot. Everyone who was with him covered their heads, and went up, weeping as they climbed.

<sup>32</sup> When David reached the summit, where God was worshipped, Hushai the Archite came to meet him with his coat torn, and dirt on his head.

<sup>33</sup> David said to him, "If you go with me, you will only be a burden to me.

<sup>34</sup> But if you return to the city, and tell Absalom, 'I will be your servant, O king, just as I have been your father's servant in the past, so now I will be your servant,' then you may be able to counter the counsel of Ahithophel for me.

<sup>35</sup> Won't Zadok and Abiathar the priests be there with you too? Whatever you hear from the king's house, tell it to Zadok and Abiathar the priests.

<sup>36</sup> Look, their two sons, Ahimaaz, Zadok's son, and Jonathan, Abiathar's son are with them. You can report to me everything that you hear through them."

<sup>37</sup> So Hushai, David's friend, went back into the city just as Absalom was arriving at Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> Then the king said to Ziba, "Why did you bring these?" Ziba said, "The donkeys are for the king's household to ride on, and the bread and summer fruit are for the young men to eat; and the wine, are for those who get exhausted in the desert to drink."

<sup>3</sup> The king asked, "Where is your master's son?" Ziba said to the king, "He is staying in Jerusalem, telling himself, 'Today the house of Israel will give me back my grandfather Saul's kingdom.'"

<sup>4</sup> Then the king said to Ziba, "All that belonged to Mephibosheth is now yours." Ziba said, "I bow before you only let me find favor in your sight, my lord, O king."

<sup>5</sup> When king David came to Bahurim, a man from the house of Saul came out whose name was Shimei, the son of Gera. He came out continually cursing as he came.

<sup>8</sup> The LORD is repaying you for all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose place you have reigned. The LORD has given the kingdom over to the hand of Absalom your son. Disaster has finally overtaken you, because you are a man of bloodshed."

<sup>9</sup> Then Abishai the son of Zeruiah said to the king, "Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? Let me go over and cut off his head."

<sup>10</sup> But the king said, "What have I to do with you, you sons of Zeruiah? If he curses because the LORD has told him, 'Curse David,' who can say to him, 'Why have you done this?'"

<sup>11</sup> Then David said to Abishai, and to all his servants, "Look, my son, who came from my own flesh is trying to kill me, how much more this Benjaminite? Leave him alone. Let him curse, for the LORD has told him to do it.

<sup>12</sup> It may be that the LORD will look on the wrong done to me, and the LORD may repay me good for his cursing me today."

<sup>13</sup> So David and his men went down the road, and Shimei went along on the nearby hillside across from him, cursing as he went, throwing stones and dirt at David.

<sup>14</sup> The king and all the people who were with him arrived weary at their destination. There he refreshed himself.

<sup>15</sup> Now Absalom and all the men of Israel, arrived at Jerusalem, and Ahithophel was with him.

<sup>17</sup> Absalom asked Hushai, "Is this how you show your loyalty to your friend? Why did you not go with your friend?"

<sup>18</sup> Hushai replied to Absalom, "No, but to the one whom the LORD, these people and all the men of Israel have chosen, I will be loyal and I will stay in his service.

<sup>19</sup> Anyway, whom should I serve? Should I not serve his son? As I have served your father, so will I serve you."

<sup>20</sup> Then said Absalom to Ahithophel, "Give your advice as to what we should do?"

<sup>21</sup> Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Go sleep with your father's concubines, that he left to look after the palace. Then all Israel will hear that you are abhorred by your father. Then the hands of all following you will be strengthened."

<sup>22</sup> So they pitched a tent for Absalom on the top of the palace. Then Absalom went and had sex with his father's concubines in the sight of all Israel.

<sup>23</sup> In those days the counsel Ahithophel gave was as good as if a person consulted an oracle of God. The advice of Ahithophel was respected by both David and Absalom.

DASV: 2 Samuel 17

<sup>1</sup> Ahithophel advised Absalom, "Let me now choose 12,000 men, and I will set out and pursue David tonight.

<sup>2</sup> I will overtake him while he is weary and weakened. I will terrify him and all the people who are with him will flee, and I will kill only the king.

<sup>3</sup> I will bring back all the people to you as a bride comes home to her husband. You are seeking the life of only one man, then all the rest of people will be at peace."

<sup>5</sup> Then said Absalom, "Call for Hushai the Archite also, and let us hear what he suggests."

<sup>6</sup> When Hushai had come to Absalom, Absalom spoke to him, saying, "This is what Ahithophel has suggested, should we do what he is advising? If not, what do you think?"

<sup>7</sup> Hushai said to Absalom, "The advice that Ahithophel has given is not good this time."

<sup>8</sup> Hushai continued, "You know your father and his men, that they are mighty warriors, and they are enraged like a bear robbed of her cubs in the field. Your father is an experienced warrior, he will not spend the night with the troops.

<sup>9</sup> Even now he is probably hiding out in some pit or some similar place. If some of our troops are killed after the first attack, whoever hears it will say, 'The followers of Absalom have been slaughtered.'"

<sup>10</sup> Then even the bravest soldier, whose heart is like the heart of a lion, will utterly melt in fear, for all Israel knows that your father is a mighty warrior and they who are with him are also brave warriors.

<sup>11</sup> So I recommend that all Israel be gathered together to you, from Dan to Beersheba, as numerous as the sand on the seashore, and then you lead them into battle yourself.

<sup>12</sup> So we will corner David in some place where he is found, and we will fall on him as completely as the dew falls on the ground. Neither he nor any of his men will be left alive.

<sup>13</sup> If he withdraws into a city, then all Israel will bring ropes to that city, and we will drag it down into the valley, until not a pebble of it can be found."

<sup>14</sup> Absalom and all the men of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than the advice of Ahithophel." For the LORD was determined to defeat the good advice of Ahithophel, in order that the LORD might bring disaster on Absalom.

<sup>15</sup> Then Hushai reported to Zadok and to Abiathar the priests, "This is what Ahithophel advised Absalom and the elders of Israel, and this is what I have advised.

<sup>16</sup> Now quickly send a message and tell David, 'Do not stay tonight at the Jordan River fords in the desert, but by all means cross over; or the king and all the people may be swallowed up.'

<sup>17</sup> Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz were staying at En-rogel so that they would not be seen entering the city. A servant girl was used to get a message to them, and they went and told king David.

<sup>18</sup> But a boy saw them, and reported it to Absalom. So both of them went away quickly, and came to the house of a man at Bahurim, who had a well in his courtyard so they climbed down into it.

<sup>19</sup> Then the woman took and spread a covering over the well's mouth, and spread grain on it. No one knew anything about it.

<sup>20</sup> When Absalom's servants came to the woman at the house; and they asked, "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?" The woman told them, "They have gone over the stream." When they searched they could not find them, so they returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>21</sup> After they had gone, the two men climbed up out of the well, and went and informed king David. They advised David, "Get up, and quickly cross over the water; for this is what Ahithophel has advised against you."

<sup>22</sup> Then David and all the people who were with him set out, and crossed over the Jordan River. By daybreak, there was not one of them who had not crossed over the Jordan River.

<sup>23</sup> When Ahithophel saw that his advice was not followed, he saddled his donkey and went home to his town. He set his house in order and hanged himself. So he died and was buried in his father's tomb.

<sup>28</sup> brought bedding, basins, and pots, along with wheat, barley, flour, roasted grain, beans, lentils,

<sup>29</sup> honey and curds, sheep and cheese from the herd for David and those who were with him to eat. For they said, "The people must be hungry, tired and thirsty from having traveled through the desert."

DASV: 2 Samuel 18

<sup>1</sup> Then David mustered the men who were with him, and set over them commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds.

<sup>2</sup> David sent out the troops, a third were under Joab's command, a third under Abishai the son of Zeruiah, Joab's brother, and a third under the command of Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, "I myself will go out too."

<sup>3</sup> But the men said, "You should not go out. For if we flee, they will not care about us. Even if half of us die, they won't care much about us. But you are worth ten thousand of us; therefore it is better that you be ready to send us support from the city."

<sup>4</sup> Then the king said to them, "I will do whatever seems best to you." So the king stood by the town gate as all the people marched out by hundreds and by thousands.

<sup>5</sup> Then the king commanded Joab, Abishai and Ittai, saying, "Deal gently with the young man Absalom for my sake." Now all the troops heard when the king gave all the commanders orders concerning Absalom.

<sup>6</sup> So the troops went out into the field to fight against Israel. The battle took place in the forest of Ephraim.

<sup>7</sup> The Israelite army was smitten there before David's men, and there was a great slaughter there that day, twenty thousand men died.

<sup>8</sup> The battle spread over the face of the whole region; and more men died because of the forest that day than from the sword.

<sup>9</sup> Absalom happened to meet David's men. Now Absalom was riding on his mule, and the mule went under the thick branches of a great oak tree. His head got stuck in the oak tree, and he was left hanging between heaven and earth as the mule that was under him ran off.

<sup>10</sup> Someone saw it, and reported it to Joab, "I saw Absalom dangling from an oak tree."

<sup>11</sup> Joab said to the man who told him, "What, you saw him, why didn't you strike him to the ground right then and there? I would have given you ten pieces of silver, and a belt of honor."

<sup>12</sup> But the man replied to Joab, "Even if I should get a thousand pieces of silver, I would not strike the king's son. We all heard the king order you, Abishai and Ittai, 'For my sake, spare the young man Absalom.'"

<sup>13</sup> If I had betrayed the king by taking his life, there is nothing hidden from the king, then even you yourself would have had to abandon me."

<sup>14</sup> Then Joab said, "I will not waste any more time on you." He grabbed three spears in his hand, and thrust them into Absalom's heart, while he was still alive in the oak tree.

<sup>15</sup> Then ten of Joab's young armor-bearers surrounded, struck and killed Absalom.

<sup>17</sup> They took Absalom, and threw him into the great pit in the forest, and piled a large heap of stones over him. Meanwhile all Israel fled each to his home.

<sup>18</sup> Now during Absalom's life he had set up a monument for himself in the King's Valley; for he reasoned, "I have no son to carry on my name." So he named the monument after himself, and it is called Absalom's Monument to this day.

<sup>19</sup> Then Ahimaaz the son of Zadok said, "Let me run, and bring the good news to the king, that the LORD has vindicated him rescuing him from his enemies."

<sup>20</sup> But Joab said to him, "You should not be the bearer of good news today. You will bear good news some other day. Today, you will bear no good news, because the king's son is dead."

<sup>21</sup> Then Joab ordered the Cushite, "Go, tell the king what you have seen." The Cushite bowed himself before Joab, and ran.

<sup>22</sup> Then Ahimaaz the son of Zadok asked Joab again, "Whatever happens, please let me run after the Cushite." Joab said, "Why do you want to run, my son, seeing your tidings will not bring you any reward?"

<sup>23</sup> "Whatever happens I want to run," he insisted. So Joab told him, "Run." Then Ahimaaz ran by the way of the Jordan plain, and outran the Cushite.

<sup>24</sup> Now David was sitting between the two gates. The watchman went up to the roof of the gate by the wall. When he raised his eyes, he saw a man running alone.

<sup>25</sup> The watchman shouted and told the king. The king said, "If he is alone, there must be good news in his mouth." And the runner came nearer.

<sup>26</sup> Then the watchman saw another man running; and the watchman called down to the gatekeeper, and said, "Look, another man running alone." The king said, "He must also be bringing good news."

<sup>27</sup> The watchman said, "I think the one running first runs like Ahimaaz the son of Zadok." The king said, "He is a good man, and comes with good news."

<sup>28</sup> Then Ahimaaz called, and said to the king, "All is well." Then he bowed himself before the king with his face to the ground, and said, "Blessed be the LORD your God, who has delivered up the men who raised their hand against my lord the king."

<sup>30</sup> Then the king said, "Step aside and stand here." So he stepped aside and stood there.

<sup>31</sup> Then the Cushite came and said, "Good news for my lord the king; for the LORD has delivered you this day from all those who rose up against you."

<sup>32</sup> Then the king asked the Cushite, "Is the young man Absalom all right?" The Cushite answered, "The enemies of my lord the king, and all that rise up against you to do you harm, be like that young man."

<sup>33</sup> Then the king was devastated, and went up to the upper room over the gate, and wept. As he went, he wept, "O my son Absalom, my son, my son Absalom! If only I had died instead of you, O Absalom, my son, my son!"

<sup>2</sup> So the victory of that day was turned into mourning for all the people; for the people heard that day, "The king is grieving for his son."

<sup>3</sup> That day the troops snuck back into town, as when soldiers are ashamed when they sneak away fleeing in battle.

<sup>4</sup> So the king covered his face, and the king cried out loud, "O my son Absalom, O Absalom, my son, my son!"

<sup>5</sup> But Joab came into the house to the king and complained, "Today you have shamed the faces of all your servants, who have saved your life, and the lives of your sons and daughters, and the lives of your wives and concubines.

<sup>6</sup> You seem to love those who hate you, and hate those who love you. For you have declared this day that princes and servants are nothing to you. For today I imagine, that if Absalom had lived, and we had all died, then you would have been pleased.

<sup>7</sup> Now therefore get up, go out, and congratulate your soldiers; for I swear by the LORD, if you do not go out, not a single man will be left with you by this night. This will be worse for you than all the calamity that has happened to you from your youth until now."

<sup>8</sup> So the king got up and sat in the gate. The people were told, "Look, the king is sitting in the gate," and all the people came before the king. Now Israel had all fled to their homes.

<sup>9</sup> The people were arguing throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, "The king delivered us out of the hand of our enemies, and he saved us out of the hand of the Philistines, and now he has fled out of the land because of Absalom.

<sup>10</sup> Now Absalom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battle. So now why do you hesitate to say anything about bringing the king back?"

<sup>11</sup> Then king David sent to Zadok and Abiathar the priests, saying, "Speak to the elders of Judah, asking, 'Why are you the last to bring the king back to his palace?' Especially since all Israel's affirmations have come to the king at his house.

<sup>12</sup> You are my brothers, you are my flesh and bone. Why then are you the last to bring back the king?"

<sup>13</sup> Tell Amasa, 'Are you not my flesh and bone? God do so to me, and more also, if you are not made commander of the army from now on in place of Joab.'"

<sup>14</sup> So he won over the hearts of all the men of Judah as one. They sent word to the king, "Return, both you and all your servants."

<sup>15</sup> So the king returned, and came to the Jordan River. Judah came to Gilgal, to go to meet the king and bring him across the Jordan River.

<sup>16</sup> Shimei the son of Gera, the Benjaminite, who was from Bahurim, hurried down with the men of Judah to meet king David.

<sup>17</sup> There were a thousand men of Benjamin with him, and Ziba the servant of the house of Saul, and Ziba's fifteen sons and twenty servants. They quickly crossed through the Jordan River in front of the king.

<sup>18</sup> These crossed at the ford to help bring over the king's household, and to do whatever he wanted. Then Shimei the son of Gera fell down before the king, as he was about to cross the Jordan River.

<sup>19</sup> He said to the king, "May my lord not hold me guilty or remember the wrong your servant did on the day my lord the king left Jerusalem. Please put it out of the king's mind.

<sup>20</sup> For your servant knows that I have sinned. That is why I have come down this day the first one of all the house of Joseph to meet my lord the king."

<sup>21</sup> But Abishai the son of Zeruah responded, "Should Shimei not be put to death for this, because he cursed the LORD's anointed?"

<sup>22</sup> But David answered, "What have I to do with you, you sons of Zeruah, that you should this day be like my enemies? Should any man be put to death today in Israel? For don't I know that I am king today over Israel?"

<sup>23</sup> Then the king said to Shimei, "You will not die." The king promised him.

<sup>25</sup> When he came from Jerusalem to meet the king, the king asked him, "Why didn't you go with me, Mephibosheth?"

<sup>26</sup> He answered, "My lord, O king, my servant deceived me; for your servant said, 'I will saddle your donkey, that you may ride on it, and go with the king.' For your servant is lame.

<sup>27</sup> But Ziba has slandered your servant to my lord the king. But my lord the king is like an angel of God. Therefore do whatever seems good to you.

<sup>28</sup> For all my father's house deserved death before my lord the king. Yet you set your servant among those who eat at your table. What right do I have that I ask the king for anything more?"

<sup>29</sup> Then the king said to him, "Why speak any more about your issues? I've decided that you and Ziba should divide the field."

<sup>30</sup> Then Mephibosheth said to the king, "Let him have it all, it is enough that my lord the king has come home safely."

<sup>31</sup> Then Barzillai the Gileadite came down from Rogelim. He crossed the Jordan River with the king, to escort him across the river.

<sup>32</sup> Now Barzillai was a very old, in fact, he was eighty. He provided the king with provisions during his stay at Mahanaim; for he was a very wealthy man.

<sup>33</sup> The king invited Barzillai, "Come over with me, and I will provide for you while you stay with me in Jerusalem."

<sup>35</sup> I am this day eighty years old. Can I still discern between good and bad? Can your servant taste what I eat or what I drink? Can I any longer hear the voices of singing men and women? Why then should your servant be a burden to my lord the king?"

<sup>36</sup> Your servant will just cross the Jordan River with the king. Why should the king give me such a reward?

<sup>37</sup> Let your servant, return again, so that I may die in my own city, near the grave of my father and mother. But look, here is your servant Kimham. Let him cross over with my lord the king. Do to him whatever seems good to you.

<sup>38</sup> Then the king answered, "Kimham will cross over with me, and I will do to him whatever seems good to you. Whatever you want, I will do for you."

<sup>39</sup> All the people crossed over the Jordan River, and the king crossed too. Then the king kissed Barzillai and blessed him. Then he returned to his own home.

<sup>40</sup> So the king crossed over to Gilgal, and Kimham went with him. All the people of Judah and also half the people of Israel helped bring the king across.

<sup>41</sup> Then all the men of Israel came to the king, complaining to the him, "Why have our brothers, the men of Judah, stolen you away and brought the king and his household across the Jordan River, and all David's men with him?"

<sup>42</sup> All the men of Judah answered the men of Israel, "Because the king is our close relative. Why then are you angry over this? Have we eaten at all at the king's expense? Has he given us any special gift?"

<sup>43</sup> Then the men of Israel answered the men of Judah, "We have ten shares in the king, and we have more of a claim on David than you do. Why then did you treat us with contempt? Weren't we the first to speak about bringing our king back?" The words of the men of Judah were harsher than the words of the men of Israel.

DASV: 2 Samuel 20

<sup>1</sup> Now there was a troublemaker, named Sheba, the son of Bicri, a Benjaminite. He blew the trumpet, and proclaimed, "We have no portion in David, no inheritance in the son of Jesse. Every one to his tents, O Israel."

<sup>2</sup> So all the men of Israel deserted David, and followed Sheba the son of Bicri. But the men of Judah were loyal to their king, from the Jordan River to Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> When David came to his palace at Jerusalem, the king took the ten concubines he had left to look after the palace, and put them in a house under protection, and provided for them, but did not sleep any longer with them. So they remained in protective custody until the day of their death, living like widows.

<sup>4</sup> Then the king said to Amasa, "Summon the men of Judah together to me within three days, and be here yourself."

<sup>5</sup> Amasa went to summon Judah, but he waited longer than the time that had been set for him.

<sup>6</sup> David said to Abishai, "Now Sheba the son of Bicri will do us more harm than Absalom did. Take your lord's servants and pursue him. Otherwise he will get into fortified cities and escape from us."

<sup>8</sup> When they arrived at the great stone in Gibeon, Amasa met them. Joab was wearing his military gear and over it was a belt with a sword in its sheath strapped on his waist; and as he went forward, it fell out.

<sup>9</sup> Then Joab said to Amasa, "How are you, my brother?" Then Joab took Amasa by the beard with his right hand as if to kiss him.

<sup>10</sup> But Amasa was not on guard against the dagger that was in Joab's hand. So Joab stabbed him in the stomach, and his insides spilled out on the ground. He did not need to strike him again, as he died. Then Joab and Abishai his brother pursued after Sheba the son of Bicri.

<sup>13</sup> Once Amasa had been removed from the roadway, all the people went on with Joab, to pursue after Sheba the son of Bicri.

<sup>15</sup> Joab's forces arrived and besieged him in Abel of Beth-maacah. They built a siege ramp against the city, and it stood against the rampart. All Joab's troops battered the wall, to knock it down.

<sup>16</sup> Then a wise woman called out from the city, "Listen! Listen! Tell Joab, 'Come over here so that I may speak to you.'"

<sup>17</sup> So he came near her; and the woman said, "Are you Joab?" He answered, "I am." Then she said to him, "Listen to the words of your servant." He replied, "I am listening."

<sup>18</sup> Then she said, "They used to say in the old days, 'Let them inquire for an answer at Abel,' and so that would settle a matter.

<sup>19</sup> I am one of those who are peaceful and faithful in Israel. You are seeking to destroy a town that is a mother in Israel. Why do you want to devour the inheritance of the LORD?"

<sup>20</sup> Joab answered, "There is no way I want to devour and destroy.

<sup>21</sup> That is not the case at all. There is a man from the hill country of Ephraim, named Sheba the son of Bicri, who has lifted up his hand against the king David. Hand over this one man to me and I will leave the town." The woman said to Joab, "Look, his head will be thrown over the wall to you."

<sup>22</sup> Then the woman went to all the people in her wisdom, and they cut off the head of Sheba the son of Bichri, and threw it out to Joab. Then he blew the trumpet, and they withdrew from the town, every man returning home, while Joab went back to Jerusalem to the king.

<sup>23</sup> Now Joab was over all the army of Israel, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and the Pelethites, the royal guard;

<sup>24</sup> and Adoram was over the forced labor; and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was the court historian;

<sup>25</sup> Sheva was the royal scribe; and Zadok and Abiathar were priests;

<sup>26</sup> and Ira the Jairite was David's personal priest.

DASV: 2 Samuel 21

<sup>1</sup> Now there was a famine in the days of David for three successive years. So David sought the face of the LORD. The LORD said, "It is for Saul, and for his bloodstained house, because he murdered the Gibeonites."

<sup>2</sup> So the king summoned the Gibeonites and spoke to them. (Now the Gibeonites were not descendants of Israel, but were those left over from the Amorites. The Israelites had sworn to spare them, but Saul sought to wipe them out in his zeal for Israel and Judah).

<sup>3</sup> David asked the Gibeonites, "What can I do for you? How can I make amends so that you may bless the inheritance of the LORD?"

<sup>4</sup> The Gibeonites replied, "It is not a matter of silver or gold between us and Saul or his family; neither would we be right to put to death anyone in Israel." He asked, "What do you want me to do for you?"

<sup>5</sup> They said to the king, "The man who devoured us, and plotted genocide against us, so that we should have no place in any of the borders of Israel,

<sup>6</sup> let seven men of his sons be turned over to us, and we will impale them before the LORD at Gibeah of Saul, the chosen of the LORD." The king replied, "All right, I will hand them over to you."

<sup>7</sup> But the king spared Mephibosheth, the son of Jonathan the son of Saul, because of the oath David and Saul's son Jonathan had made before the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> But the king took the two sons of Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, whom she bore to Saul, Armoni and Mephibosheth; and the five sons of Michal the daughter of Saul, whom she bore to Adriel the son of Barzillai the Meholathite, <sup>9</sup> and he handed them over into the hands of the Gibeonites. They impaled them on the mountain before the LORD. So all seven died together on the first days of harvest, at the beginning of barley harvest.

<sup>10</sup> Then Rizpah the daughter of Aiah took sackcloth and spread it out on a rock. From the beginning of harvest until rain poured down on them from heaven, she did not allow the birds of the air to feed on them by day, or the wild animals of the field by night.

<sup>11</sup> When David was told what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, the concubine of Saul, had done, <sup>12</sup> he went and took the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan from the men of Jabesh-gilead, who had stolen them from the public square of Beth-shan, where the Philistines had hung them on the day the Philistines killed Saul on Mount Gilboa.

<sup>13</sup> David brought up from there the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan, along with the bones gathered from those who had just been impaled.

<sup>14</sup> They buried the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan in the country of Benjamin in Zela, in the tomb of Kish Saul's father; they did all that the king had ordered. After that, God answered the prayers for the land.

<sup>15</sup> The Philistines again made war with Israel. So David and his troops went down and fought against the Philistines. David became exhausted.

<sup>16</sup> Ishbibenob, one of the descendants of the giants, whose spear weighed seven pounds of bronze, was armed with a new sword and he intended to kill David.

<sup>17</sup> But Abishai the son of Zeruiah came to David's aid and struck the Philistine and killed him. Then the men of David swore to him, saying, "You should never again go out to war with us, so that you do not snuff out the lamp of Israel."

<sup>18</sup> After this, there was another battle with the Philistines at Gob. At that time Sibbecai the Hushathite killed Saph, who was also a descendant of the giants.

<sup>19</sup> There was another battle with the Philistines at Gob. Elhanan the son of Jaare-oregim the Bethlehemite killed Goliath the Gittite, the staff of whose spear was as massive as a weaver's beam.

<sup>20</sup> There was another battle at Gath, where they encountered a huge man who had six fingers on each hand, and six toes on each foot, twenty-four in total; he too was a descendant of giants.

<sup>21</sup> When he taunted Israel, Jonathan the son of Shimei, David's brother, killed him.

<sup>22</sup> These four were descendants from giants in Gath; they fell by the hand of David and his soldiers.

DASV: 2 Samuel 22

<sup>2</sup> He said,

"The LORD is my rock,
my fortress and my deliverer,
<sup>3</sup> God, is my rock, in him will I take refuge, my shield, and the horn of my salvation,
my high tower, my refuge and my saviour.

You save me from violence.

<sup>4</sup> I will call on the LORD, who is worthy to be praised, and I am saved from my enemies.

<sup>5</sup> The waves of death encompassed me, the torrents of destruction overwhelmed me.

<sup>6</sup> The ropes of Sheol tightened down on me, the snares of death confronted me.

<sup>7</sup> In my distress I called on the LORD,
I called to my God.

From his temple he heard my voice, and my cry came to his ears.

<sup>8</sup> Then the earth quaked and trembled, the foundations of heaven shook they quaked because he was angry.

<sup>9</sup> Smoke went out of his nostrils, and devouring fire from his mouth burning coals flamed out from him.

<sup>10</sup> He split the heavens and came down; thick darkness was under his feet.

<sup>11</sup> He mounted a cherub and flew, gliding on the wings of the wind.

<sup>12</sup> He made darkness around him his canopy, in thick rain clouds of the sky.

<sup>13</sup> Out of the brightness before him, coals of fire flamed forth.

<sup>14</sup> The LORD thundered from heaven, the voice of Most High reverberated.

<sup>15</sup> He shot arrows and scattered them, lightning, and routed them.

<sup>16</sup> Then the depths of the sea appeared, the foundations of the world were laid bare,

by the rebuke of the LORD,
by the blast of the breath from his nostrils.

17 He reached down from on high, he took me;
he drew me out of a deluge of waters.

18 He rescued me from my strong enemy, from those who hated me;
for they were too mighty for me.

19 They attacked me in the day of my calamity;
but the LORD was my support.

20 He brought me out into a large open place;
he delivered me, because he delighted in me.

21 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness;
according to the cleanness of my hands he rewarded me.

22 For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly turned from my God.

23 For all his regulations were before me;
from his decrees, I have not turned aside.

24 I was blameless before him,
I have kept myself from sin.

25 Therefore the LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to my cleanness in his sight.

26 To the loyal you show yourself loyal, to the blameless you show yourself blameless, 27 to the pure you show yourself pure, and to the crooked you show yourself perverse.

28 You rescue the humble, but your eyes are on the arrogant, to bring them down.

29 For you are my lamp, O LORD,
The LORD lights up my darkness.

30 With your strength I can charge an army, with my God I can leap over a wall.

31 As for God, his way is perfect, the word of the LORD proves true,
he is a shield to all them who take refuge in him.

32 For who is God, but the LORD alone?
Who is a rock, except our God?

33 God is my strong fortress,
he makes my way perfect.

34 He makes my feet as surefooted as a deer, he sets me secure on mountain tops.

35 He trains my hands for war,
so that my arms can bend a bow of bronze.
36 You have also given me the shield of your salvation, your support has made me great.
37 You have widened the path for my steps under me, and my feet have not slipped.

38 I have pursued my enemies and destroyed them, and I did not turn back until they were consumed.
39 I have consumed them and struck them down, so that they could not get up,
they fell under my feet.
40 You have clothed me with strength for the battle, those who rose against me you subdued under me.
41 You have also made my enemies turn their backs to me in retreat,
I have destroyed those who hated me.
42 They looked for help, but no one came to save them;
they cried to the LORD, but even he did not answer them.
43 Then I beat them as fine as the dust of the earth,
I crushed and stomped them like mud in the streets.
44 You also have rescued me from the strife with the peoples;
you have preserved me as head of the nations.
A people whom I have not known will serve me.
45 The foreigners will submit themselves to me, as soon as they hear about me, they obey me.
46 Foreigners lose their heart,
they come trembling out of their strongholds.

47 The LORD lives; blessed be my rock;
May God be exalted, the rock of my salvation,
48 He is the God who avenges me,
he brings down peoples under me,
49 He delivers me from my enemies, you lift me up above those who rise up against me,
you save me from the violent man.

50 Therefore I will give thanks to you, O LORD, among the nations,
I will sing praises to your name.
51 He gives great victories to his king,
he displays steadfast love to his anointed, to David and to his descendants forever."

DASV: 2 Samuel 23

<sup>1</sup> Now these are the last words of David. "The oracle of David the son of Jesse, the oracle of the man who was raised on high, anointed by the God of Jacob, the sweet psalmist of Israel.

<sup>3</sup> The God of Israel spoke, The Rock of Israel said to me, 'The one who rules over men righteously, who rules in the fear of God,

<sup>4</sup> he is like the gleam of dawn, when the sun rises on a cloudless morning, when the tender grass sprouts out of the earth shining after a rain.'

<sup>5</sup> Is not my house like this with God? For he has made an everlasting covenant with me, order in all things and secure. Will he not deliver me and bring all that I desire to fruition?

<sup>6</sup> But the ungodly will be like thorns thrown away, because they cannot be picked by hand, <sup>7</sup> but whoever touches them must use an iron tool or the staff of a spear. They will be totally burned up with fire right where they are.

<sup>8</sup> These are the names of David's mighty men: Josheb-Basshebeth, a Tahkemonite, he was the chief of the three. He wielded his spear against eight hundred whom he killed in one battle.

<sup>9</sup> Next to him was Eleazar the son of Dodai the descendant of Ahohi. He was one of the David's three mighty men, when they defied the Philistines who were mustered there for battle, when the Israelite troops retreated.

<sup>10</sup> He stood firm and slew the Philistines until his hand was so tired it stuck to his sword, and the LORD won a great victory that day. When the troops returned to him, the only thing left to do was to take the spoil.

<sup>11</sup> Next to him was Shammah the son of Agee a Hararite. When the Philistines mustered their troops at Lehi, there was a field full of lentils, and the army fled from the Philistines.

<sup>12</sup> But he took his stand in the middle of the field, defended it, and killed the Philistines; and the LORD brought about a great victory.

<sup>14</sup> David was then in the stronghold, and the garrison of the Philistines was in Bethlehem.

<sup>15</sup> David yearned saying, "Oh that someone would give me water to drink from the well of Bethlehem that is by the gate!"

<sup>16</sup> The three mighty men broke through the Philistine force, and drew water from the well of Bethlehem that was by the gate. They brought it back to David, but he refused to drink it, but poured it out to the LORD.

<sup>17</sup> He explained, "The LORD forbid that I should drink this. Can I drink the blood of the men who went risking their own lives?" So he would not drink it. These are examples of the types of exploits the three mighty men did.

<sup>18</sup> Abishai, the brother of Joab, the son of Zeruiah, was chief of the thirty. With his spear he killed 300 of the enemy. Such accomplishments made him as famous as the three.

<sup>19</sup> He was most famous of the thirty and was made their commander even though he was not one of the three.

<sup>20</sup> Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, was a valiant warrior from Kabzeel, who had done mighty feats. He slew the two sons of Ariel of Moab. He also went down into a pit and killed a lion on a snowy day.

<sup>22</sup> These exploits gave Benaiah the son of Jehoiada a reputation as impressive as the three mighty men.

<sup>23</sup> He was more honorable than the thirty, but he had not attained to the level of respect as the first three. David set him in charge of his bodyguard.

<sup>34</sup> Eliphelet the son of Ahasbai the Maacathite, Eliam the son of Ahithophel the Gilonite,

<sup>35</sup> Hezro the Carmelite, Paarai the Arbite,

<sup>38</sup> Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,

<sup>39</sup> Uriah the Hittite—thirty-seven in all.

<sup>2</sup> The king said to Joab and the commanders of the army who were with him, "Go now through all the tribes of Israel, from Dan to Beersheba, and number the people, so that I may know how many people there are."

<sup>3</sup> But Joab replied to the king, "Now the LORD your God add to the people a hundred times as many as they are now, and right before the eyes of my lord the king, but why does my lord the king want to do this?"

<sup>4</sup> The king's word however overruled Joab and the commanders of the army. So Joab and the commanders of the army went out from the presence of the king, to number the people of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> They passed over the Jordan, and camped in Aroer, on the south side of the town that is in the middle of the valley toward Gad, then on to Jazer.

<sup>6</sup> Then they came to Gilead and to the land of Tahtim-hodshi, proceeding to Dan-jaan, and around to Sidon.

<sup>7</sup> Then they came to the fortress of Tyre, and to all the towns of the Hivites and Canaanites. Then they went on to the Negev of Judah, as far as Beersheba.

<sup>8</sup> After nine months and twenty days of having gone through all the land, they returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup> Joab reported the total number of the people to the king. There were 800,000 valiant warriors who drew the sword in Israel, and 500,000 in Judah.

<sup>10</sup> But David's heart felt guilty after he had numbered the people. So David confesed to the LORD, "I have sinned greatly in what I have done. But now, O LORD, please remove the iniquity of your servant, for I have acted very foolishly."

<sup>11</sup> When David got up in the morning, the word of the LORD came to the prophet Gad, David's seer, saying,

<sup>12</sup> "Go and tell David, 'This is what the LORD says, "I am offering you three options. Choose one of them, that I may do it to you.'"

<sup>13</sup> So Gad came to David and told him, "Shall seven years of famine come on you in your land? Or will you flee for three months before your enemies while they pursue you? Or shall there be three days' pestilence in your land? Now think about it and decide what answer I should bring back to him who sent me."

<sup>14</sup> David said to Gad, "I am in quite a quandary. Let us fall now into the hand of the LORD, for his mercies are great. Don't let me not fall into the hand of man."

<sup>15</sup> So the LORD sent a pestilence on Israel from the morning even to the appointed time. There were 70,000 people who died from Dan to Beersheba.

<sup>16</sup> When the angel stretched out his hand toward Jerusalem to destroy it, the LORD repented of the calamity, and told the angel who was destroying the people, "That's enough! Pull back your hand." The angel of LORD was by the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.

<sup>17</sup> David pleaded with the LORD when he saw the angel striking down the people, "I alone am the one who sinned and have done this wickedness. But these sheep, what have they done? Please let your hand of judgment be on me and my father's house."

<sup>19</sup> So David went up just as the LORD had instructed through Gad.

<sup>20</sup> Now Araunah looked out, and saw the king and his servants coming toward him. Araunah went out, and bowed himself before the king with his face to the ground.

<sup>21</sup> Then Araunah asked, "Why has my lord the king come to his servant?" David replied, "To buy your threshing floor from you, to build an altar to the LORD, so that the plague may be averted from the people."

<sup>23</sup> All this, O king, Araunah gives to the king." Araunah continued speaking to the king, "The LORD your God accept you."

<sup>24</sup> The king responded to Araunah, "No, but I insist on buying it from you. For I will not offer burnt offerings to the LORD my God that cost me nothing." So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver.

<sup>25</sup> There David built an altar to the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the LORD answered the prayers for the land, and the plague on Israel was stopped.

DASV: 1 Kings 1

<sup>1</sup> Now king David was old and advanced in years, and they covered him with blankets, but he could not get warm.

<sup>4</sup> The damsel was very beautiful. She took care of the king, and served him. The king did not have sexual relations with her.

<sup>5</sup> Then Adonijah the son of Haggith promoted himself, saying, "I will be king." He prepared chariots and horsemen, and fifty men to run before him.

<sup>6</sup> His father had never rebuked him by saying, "Why did you do this?" He was a very handsome man born after Absalom.

<sup>7</sup> He consulted with Joab the son of Zeruiah and Abiathar the priest. They followed and helped Adonijah.

<sup>8</sup> But Zadok the priest, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, Nathan the prophet, Shimei, Rei and the mighty men who belonged to David, did not support Adonijah.

<sup>9</sup> Adonijah slew sheep, oxen and fattened cattle by the stone of Zoheleth, near the En-rogel spring. He invited all his brothers, the king's sons, and all the royal officials of Judah.

<sup>10</sup> But he did not invite Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, the mighty men and his brother Solomon.

<sup>11</sup> Then Nathan warned Bathsheba the mother of Solomon, "Have you not heard that Adonijah the son of Haggith has become king, and David our lord doesn't know it?"

<sup>12</sup> Now therefore come, let me give you advice so that you may save your own life, and the life of your son Solomon.

<sup>13</sup> Go in at once to king David, and ask him, 'My lord, O king, didn't you swear to your servant, promising, "Solomon your son will surely reign after me, and he will sit on my throne?" Why then has Adonijah become king?'

<sup>14</sup> While you are still talking there with the king, I will come in after you, and confirm your words."

<sup>15</sup> So Bathsheba went in to the king in the bedroom. Now the king was very old, and Abishag the Shunammite was taking care of the king.

<sup>16</sup> Bathsheba bowed, prostrating herself before the king. The king asked, "What can I do for you?"

<sup>17</sup> She replied, "My lord, you swore by the LORD your God to your servant, 'Solomon your son will surely reign after me, and will sit on my throne.'

<sup>18</sup> Now look, Adonijah has become king, and you, my lord the king, don't even know about it.

<sup>19</sup> He has slain many oxen, fattened calves and sheep and has invited all the sons of the king, Abiathar the priest and Joab the captain of the army; but he has not invited your servant Solomon.

<sup>20</sup> Now my lord the king, the eyes of all Israel are on you, that you should tell them who will sit on the throne of my lord the king after him.

<sup>21</sup> Otherwise it will come to pass, when my lord the king sleeps with his fathers, that my son Solomon and I will be treated as criminals."

<sup>22</sup> While she was still talking with the king, Nathan the prophet came in.

<sup>23</sup> The king was told, "Here is Nathan the prophet." When he came in before the king, he bowed himself before the king with his face to the ground.

<sup>24</sup> Then Nathan said, "Did my lord, O king, announce Adonijah will reign after me, and he will sit on my throne?"

<sup>25</sup> For he has gone down today, and has sacrificed numerous oxen, fattened calves and sheep, and has invited all the king's sons, the captains of the army, and Abiathar the priest. They are eating and drinking before him, and proclaiming, 'Long live king Adonijah.'

<sup>26</sup> But he did not invite me, your servant, Zadok the priest, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and your servant Solomon.

<sup>27</sup> Has my lord the king ordered this without letting your servants know who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?"

<sup>29</sup> Then the king swore, "As the LORD lives, who has redeemed my soul out of every danger, <sup>30</sup> as I swore to you by the LORD, the God of Israel, your son Solomon will surely reign after me, and he will sit on my throne this day in my place."

<sup>31</sup> Then Bathsheba bowed her face to the ground, and prostrated herself before the king, and said, "May my lord king David live forever."

<sup>32</sup> Then king David ordered, "Summon Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada here to me." So they came before the king.

<sup>33</sup> Then the king commanded them, "Take with you the servants of your lord, and put my son Solomon on my personal mule, and bring him down to the Gihon spring.

<sup>34</sup> Let Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anoint him king over Israel there. Then blow the trumpet, and proclaim, 'Long live king Solomon.'

<sup>35</sup> Then you shall follow him up, and he will come and sit on my throne. He will be king in my place for I have appointed him to be ruler over Israel and Judah."

<sup>36</sup> Then Benaiah the son of Jehoiada answered the king, "Let it be. May the LORD, the God of my lord the king, order it so.

<sup>37</sup> As the LORD has been with my lord the king, even so may he be with Solomon, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord king David."

<sup>38</sup> So Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, along with the Cherethites and Pelethites went down and put Solomon on king David's mule, and brought him to the Gihon spring.

<sup>39</sup> Then Zadok the priest took the horn of olive oil out of the sacred tent and anointed Solomon. They blew the trumpet, and all the people proclaimed, "Long live king Solomon."

<sup>40</sup> All the people came up after him, playing flutes and celebrating with great joy, so that the ground shook from the sound of them.

<sup>41</sup> Now Adonijah and all the guests who were with him heard it as they finished eating. When Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, he asked, "Why is the city in such an uproar?"

<sup>42</sup> While he was still speaking, Jonathan the son of Abiathar the priest arrived and Adonijah said, "Come in, for you are a worthy man, and must be bringing good news."

<sup>44</sup> The king sent with him Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, along with the Cherethites and Pelethites; and they have put him on the king's mule.

<sup>45</sup> Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king at the Gihon spring. They have gone up from there rejoicing, so that the city is in an uproar. This is the noise that you have heard.

<sup>47</sup> Moreover the king's officials have come to bless our lord king David, saying, "May your God make the name of Solomon more famous than your own name, and make the reign of his throne greater than your throne." Then the king bowed himself on the bed.

<sup>48</sup> So the king prayed, "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who has granted one to sit on my throne this day and even allowed my eyes to see it."

<sup>49</sup> Then all the guests of Adonijah were terrified, got up and went their separate ways.

<sup>50</sup> Adonijah was afraid because of Solomon, so he went and grabbed hold of the horns of the altar.

<sup>51</sup> Solomon was told, "Look, Adonijah is afraid of king Solomon for he has taken hold of the horns of the altar, saying, 'Let king Solomon swear to me first that he will not kill his servant with the sword.'"

<sup>52</sup> So Solomon promised, "If he will show himself to be a worthy man, not a hair of his head will fall to the ground; but if wickedness is found in him, then he will die."

<sup>53</sup> So king Solomon sent men to bring him down from the altar. Adonijah came and prostrated himself before king Solomon. Solomon told him, "Go home."

DASV: 1 Kings 2

<sup>1</sup> When the time of David's death drew near, he charged his son Solomon, saying,

<sup>2</sup> "I am going the way of all the earth. Be strong and act like a man.

<sup>3</sup> Keep the requirements of the LORD your God, walk in his ways, keep his statutes, his commandments, his regulations, and his laws as written in the law of Moses, that you may prosper in everything you do, and wherever you decide to go.

<sup>4</sup> Then the LORD will keep his word that he promised me, 'If your children pay careful attention to their way, to walk before me in truth with all their heart and with all their soul, then you will never fail to have a successor on the throne of Israel.'

<sup>5</sup> Moreover you know also what Joab the son of Zeruiah did to me, when he murdered the two commanders of the armies of Israel, Abner the son of Ner, and Amasa the son of Jether, shedding the blood of war in a time of peace, and putting the blood of war on his belt around his waist and on the sandals on his feet.

<sup>6</sup> Take care of this according to your wisdom, and do not let his gray head go down to the grave in peace.

<sup>7</sup> But show loyal kindness to the sons of Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be among those who eat at your table, for they came to my aid when I fled from Absalom your brother.

<sup>8</sup> Shimei the son of Gera, the Benjaminite, of Bahurim is still with you. He cursed me with a terrible curse in the day when I fled to Mahanaim. When he came down to meet me at the Jordan River, and I swore to him by the LORD, 'I will not put you to death with the sword.'

<sup>9</sup> Now therefore do not hold him guiltless, for you are a wise man and you will know what you ought to do to him. Make sure you bring his gray head down to grave with blood."

<sup>13</sup> Then Adonijah the son of Haggith came to Bathsheba the mother of Solomon. She asked, "Do you come in peace?" He replied, "Yes, in peace."

<sup>14</sup> Then he added, "I do have a favor to ask of you." She said, "Tell me about it."

<sup>15</sup> He said, "You know that the kingdom was mine, and that all Israel expected that I should have been the one to reign. But the kingdom was turned around and became my brother's; for it was his from the LORD.

<sup>16</sup> Now I ask you for just one favor, do not refuse me." She said to him, "Tell me what it is."

<sup>17</sup> He requested, "Please ask king Solomon--for he will not refuse you--that he give me Abishag the Shunammite as my wife."

<sup>18</sup> So Bathsheba said, "All right, I will speak to the king for you."

<sup>19</sup> So Bathsheba went to king Solomon, to speak to him on Adonijah's behalf. The king rose to meet her, and bowed himself to her, then sat down on his throne. He had a throne brought for the king's mother, and she sat at his right hand.

<sup>20</sup> Then she said, "I have just one small request to ask of you. Do not refuse me." The king said to her, "Go ahead and make your request my mother; for I will not refuse you."

<sup>21</sup> Then she requested, "Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah your brother as a wife."

<sup>22</sup> But king Solomon answered his mother, "Why are you asking for Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? Why not ask to give him the kingdom too, since he is my older brother. Why ask just for him, why not for Abiathar the priest, and for Joab the son of Zeruah too?"

<sup>23</sup> Then king Solomon swore by the LORD, "God do so to me, and more also, if Adonijah has not made this request at the cost of his own life.

<sup>24</sup> Now therefore as the LORD lives, who has established me and set me on the throne of David my father, and who has established my dynasty just as he promised, Adonijah will surely be put to death today."

<sup>25</sup> So king Solomon sent Benaiah the son of Jehoiada and he struck down Adonijah and he died.

<sup>26</sup> Then the king said to Abiathar the priest, "Go to Anathoth, to your fields; for you deserve to die, but I will not at this time put you to death, because you carried the ark of the sovereign LORD before David my father, and because you shared in all the hardships my father went through. "

<sup>27</sup> So Solomon banished Abiathar from being a priest to the LORD, thereby fulfilling the word of the LORD, which he spoke concerning the house of Eli at Shiloh.

<sup>28</sup> The news came to Joab, for Joab had sided with Adonijah, though he had not supported Absalom. So Joab fled to the Tent of the LORD, and grabbed hold of the horns of the altar.

<sup>29</sup> King Solomon was told that Joab had fled to the Tent of the LORD, and that he was beside the altar. Then Solomon sent Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, saying, "Go, strike him down."

<sup>30</sup> So Benaiah came to the Tent of the LORD, and told him, "This is what the king says, Come out." But he refused, "No, I will die here." Then Benaiah reported back to the king, "This is what Joab said, and this is how he answered me."

<sup>31</sup> Then the king replied, "Do as he has requested. Strike him down and bury him so that you may remove the guilt of Joab's having shed innocent blood from me and from my father's house.

<sup>32</sup> The LORD will bring back his bloody actions on his own head, because he struck down with the sword two men more righteous and better than he, without my father David knowing it, Abner the son of Ner, commander of the army of Israel, and Amasa the son of Jether, commander of the army of Judah.

<sup>33</sup> So their blood will come back on the head of Joab, and on the head of his descendants forever, but may the LORD grant peace to David and his descendants and to his house and his throne forever."

<sup>34</sup> Then Benaiah the son of Jehoiada went up, and struck Joab down and killed him; he was buried in his own house in the wilderness.

<sup>35</sup> The king put Benaiah the son of Jehoiada in Joab's place over the army, and the king replaced Abiathar with Zadok the priest.

<sup>36</sup> The king sent and summoned Shimei, and said to him, "Build a house in Jerusalem, and live there, do not leave there to go anywhere else.

<sup>37</sup> For on the day you go out, and cross the Kidron Valley, know for sure that you will die. Your blood will be on your own head."

<sup>39</sup> But after three years, two of Shimei's servants ran away to Achish, son of Maacah, king of Gath. Shimei was told, "Look, your servants are in Gath."

<sup>40</sup> So Shimei got up and saddled his donkey, and went to Gath to Achish, to search for his servants. Shimei went and brought back his servants from Gath.

<sup>42</sup> The king summoned Shimei and said to him, "Didn't I make you swear by the LORD, and warn you, 'Know for sure that on the day you leave to go out anywhere, you will surely die?' You promised me, 'The sentence is fair, I accept it.'

<sup>43</sup> Why then have you not kept your oath to the LORD, and the command I have charged you?"

<sup>44</sup> The king also said to Shimei, "You know all the wicked things you did to my father David; so the LORD will return your wickedness on your own head.

<sup>45</sup> But king Solomon will be blessed, and the throne of David will be established before the LORD forever."

<sup>46</sup> So the king ordered Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and he went out and struck him down, and he died. So the kingdom was firmly established in Solomon's hand.

DASV: 1 Kings 3

<sup>1</sup> Solomon made an alliance with Pharaoh king of Egypt and married Pharaoh's daughter. He brought her into the City of David, until he had finished building his own house, the house of the LORD and the wall around Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> Now Solomon loved the LORD, walking in the statutes of David his father, except he sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

<sup>4</sup> The king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there; for there was the great high place there. Solomon offered on that altar a thousand burnt offerings.

<sup>5</sup> In Gibeon the LORD appeared to Solomon in a dream at night. God said, "Ask for anything you want me to give you."

<sup>6</sup> Solomon replied, "You have shown to your servant David my father great loyal love, because he walked before you in truth, righteousness and uprightness of heart. You have continued this great loyal love for him by giving him a son to sit on his throne to this very day.

<sup>7</sup> Now, O LORD my God, you have made your servant king instead of David my father, but I am only a little child not knowing how to go out or come in.

<sup>8</sup> Your servant is in the midst of your chosen people, a great people so numerous they cannot be counted or numbered.

<sup>9</sup> Give your servant therefore a listening heart to judge your people, that I may discern between good and evil; for who is able to judge this your great people?"

<sup>10</sup> It pleased the Lord that Solomon had asked for this.

<sup>11</sup> So God said to him, "Because you have asked this, and have not asked for long life, or riches for yourself, nor have you asked for the death of your enemies, but have asked for understanding to discern justice,

<sup>12</sup> I will do what you have requested. I will give you a wise and an understanding heart so that there never has been anyone like you before nor will there be after you.

<sup>13</sup> Plus I will also give you what you have not asked for, both riches and honor, so that no other king will compare to you all the rest of your life.

<sup>14</sup> If you will walk in my ways, keep my statutes and commandments as your father David did, then I will lengthen your life."

<sup>15</sup> Solomon awoke and realized it was a dream. He returned to Jerusalem, stood before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and offered up burnt offerings and peace offerings. He held a feast for all his servants.

<sup>16</sup> Then two women who were prostitutes came to the king and stood before him.

<sup>17</sup> The one woman said, "Please my lord, this woman and I live in the same house. I gave birth while she was in the house.

<sup>18</sup> Three days after I had given birth, this woman also gave birth. We were together and there was no one else with us in the house except for the two of us.

<sup>19</sup> This woman's child died in the night because she laid on top of him.

<sup>20</sup> She got up in the middle of the night and took my son from my side, while your servant was sleeping. She laid him at her breast, then laid her dead son at my breast.

<sup>21</sup> When I got up in the morning to nurse my child, he was dead. But when I had looked at him in the morning light, I discovered it was not my son whom I had borne."

<sup>22</sup> The other woman objected, "No. The living child is my son, and the dead one is yours." But the first one responded, "No. The dead one is your son, and the living one is my son." This is how they each argued their case before the king.

<sup>23</sup> Then said the king, "The one says, 'This is my son that is alive, and your son is the dead one,' while the other says, 'No, but your son is the dead one, and my son is the living one.'"

<sup>24</sup> The king said, "Bring me a sword." So they brought a sword to the king.

<sup>25</sup> Then the king said, "Cut the living child in two, and give half to the one mother, and half to the other."

<sup>26</sup> Then the mother of the living child spoke up to the king, for her heart had compassion on her son, so she said, "Oh, my lord, give her the living child, only don't kill him." But the other woman blurted, "Neither one of us should have him. Cut him in two."

<sup>27</sup> Then the king ruled, "Give her the living child, and do not kill him, for she is his mother."

<sup>28</sup> When all Israel heard of the decision the king had rendered, they stood in awe of the king, because they saw that he had the wisdom of God to administer justice.

<sup>4</sup> Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was commander over the army. Zadok and Abiathar were priests.

<sup>6</sup> Ahishar was manager of the palace. Adoniram the son of Abda was in charge of the forced labor.

<sup>7</sup> Solomon had twelve district governors over all Israel, who were responsible for providing food for the king and his household. Each one had to supply provisions for a month in the year.

<sup>12</sup> Baana the son of Ahilud, in Taanach and Megiddo, and all Beth-shan near Zarethan, beneath Jezreel, from Beth-shan to Abel Meholah, and beyond Jokmeam;

<sup>13</sup> Ben-geber, in Ramoth-gilead he was over the towns of Jair the son of Manasseh in Gilead; along with the region of Argob in Bashan, sixty large towns with walls and bronze gate bars;

<sup>14</sup> Ahinadab the son of Iddo, in Mahanaim;

<sup>19</sup> Geber son of Uri, in the land of Gilead, including the former territory of Sihon king of the Amorites and Og king of Bashan. He was the only governor over that area.

<sup>20</sup> The people Judah and Israel were as innumerable as the sand of the sea; they ate and drank and were happy.

<sup>22</sup> Solomon's provision for one day was 150 bushels of fine flour, and 300 bushels of meal, <sup>23</sup> ten pen-fattened cattle, and twenty pasture-fed cattle, and a hundred sheep, besides deer, gazelles, roebucks, and fattened poultry.

<sup>28</sup> They also brought to the required place barley and straw for the chariot horses and other horses, each according to his charge.

<sup>29</sup> God gave Solomon great wisdom and understanding, and breadth of understanding as vast as the sand on the seashore.

<sup>30</sup> Solomon's wisdom surpassed all the wise men of the east, and all the sages of Egypt.

<sup>32</sup> He spoke 3,000 proverbs and composed 1005 songs.

<sup>33</sup> He spoke of trees, from the cedar that is in Lebanon even to the hyssop that springs out of the wall. He spoke about animals, birds, creeping things and fish.

<sup>34</sup> People came from all nations to hear the wisdom of Solomon, sent by all the kings of the earth, who had heard of his wisdom.

DASV: 1 Kings 5

<sup>1</sup> Hiram king of Tyre sent his servants to Solomon when he heard that they had anointed him king in the place of his father, because Hiram had always been a friend of David.

<sup>3</sup> "You know that David my father could not build a house for the name of the LORD his God because of the wars his enemies waged all around him, until the LORD subjugated them under the soles of his feet.

<sup>4</sup> But now the LORD my God has given me rest on every side; there is no adversary or misfortune.

<sup>5</sup> So I have decided to build a house for the name of the LORD my God, as the LORD said to my father David, 'Your son, whom I will set on your throne in your place, he will build the house for my name.'

<sup>6</sup> Now then give the order to cut cedar trees from Lebanon for me. My workers will be with yours; and I will give you wages for your workers according to whatever wage you set, for you know that no one among us knows how to cut timber like the Sidonians."

<sup>7</sup> When Hiram heard the words of Solomon, he was overjoyed, and said, "Blessed be the LORD this day, who has given to David such a wise son to rule over this great nation."

<sup>8</sup> Hiram sent word to Solomon, "I have received the message you have sent me. I will provide you all the cedar and cypress timber you need.

<sup>9</sup> My workers will bring them down from Lebanon to the sea. I will turn them into rafts to float them by sea to the place you stipulate and will break the rafts into logs there, so you can haul them away. In return, you will accommodate my wishes by providing food for my household."

<sup>10</sup> So Hiram gave Solomon as much cedar and cypress timber as he wanted.

<sup>13</sup> King Solomon conscripted 30,000 men as forced labor out of all Israel.

<sup>14</sup> He sent them to Lebanon, 10,000 per month in shifts. They would spend a month in Lebanon, and then two months at home. Adoniram was in charge of the forced labor crews.

<sup>15</sup> Solomon also had 70,000 who transported materials, and 80,000 who were stone-cutters in the mountains.

<sup>16</sup> This was besides Solomon's 3,300 supervisors who oversaw the work. They were put in charge of the people actually doing the work.

<sup>17</sup> Then the king gave the order and they cut out large costly stones, to lay the foundation of the temple with chiseled stone.

<sup>18</sup> Solomon's and Hiram's builders and the Gebalites did the stone-cutting preparing the timber and stones to build the temple.

DASV: 1 Kings 6

<sup>1</sup> In the four hundred and eightieth year after the Israelites came out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel, in the month Ziv, which is the second month, he began to build the temple of the LORD.

<sup>2</sup> The temple king Solomon built for the LORD was 90 feet long, 30 feet wide and 45 feet high.

<sup>5</sup> He built attached structures to the wall of the temple all the way around its main room in which he made side-chambers.

<sup>6</sup> The lowest story was 7.5 feet wide, and the middle floor was 9 feet wide and the third story was 10.5 feet wide. The outside rooms he connected with beams set on ledges on the wall of the temple around it, in order that the beams would not have to be inserted into the walls of the temple.

<sup>7</sup> As the temple was being built, the stones were prepared at the quarry. There was no sound of hammer, axe or any tool of iron heard in the temple area while it was being built.

<sup>8</sup> The entrance for the lowest floor was on the south side of the temple with a winding stair way up to the middle floor, and another flight of stairs from the middle to the third story.

<sup>9</sup> So he built the temple and finished it. He covered the ceiling with beams and planks of cedar.

<sup>10</sup> He built the side rooms against the whole temple, each was 7.5 feet high and they were attached to the house by cedar beams.

<sup>12</sup> "Concerning this temple you are building, if you will walk in my statutes, obey my regulations, and keep all my commandments and walk in them, then will I fulfill my promise through you, that I made with your father David.

<sup>13</sup> I will dwell among the Israelites, and will not forsake my people Israel."

<sup>16</sup> He lined the inner sanctuary of the temple with cedar boards from the floor to the ceiling 30 feet long. He built an inner sanctuary as the most holy place.

<sup>19</sup> He prepared the inner sanctuary inside the temple to set the ark of the covenant of the LORD there.

<sup>20</sup> The interior of the inner sanctuary was 30 feet long, 30 feet wide and 30 feet high. He overlaid it with pure gold as well as the cedar altar.

<sup>21</sup> Solomon overlaid the inside of the temple with pure gold. He draped gold chains across in front of the most holy place which he had overlaid with gold.

<sup>22</sup> So he finished overlaying the whole interior of the temple with gold. He also overlaid the altar that belonged to the inner sanctuary with gold.

<sup>23</sup> In the inner sanctuary he made two cherubim of olive wood, each 15 feet high.

<sup>24</sup> The one wing of the cherub was 7.5 feet long and the other wing of the cherub was also 7.5 feet long. The total wingspan from one tip to the other was 15 feet.

<sup>25</sup> The other cherub also had a 15 foot wingspan; both cherubim were the same shape and size.

<sup>26</sup> The height of the one cherub was 15 feet, as was the other cherub.

<sup>27</sup> He set the cherubim inside the inner sanctuary of the temple. The wings of the cherubim were stretched out, so that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall, with their wings touching one another in the middle of the room.

<sup>30</sup> The floor of the temple he overlaid with gold, both in the inner and outer rooms.

<sup>31</sup> For the entrance of the inner sanctuary he made doors of olive wood with the lintel and door posts being five sided.

<sup>32</sup> So on the two doors of olive wood he carved cherubim, palm trees and open flowers, then overlaid them with gold. He plated the cherubim and the palm trees with hammered gold.

<sup>33</sup> He also made for the entrance of the temple door posts of four-sided olive wood.

<sup>34</sup> There were two cypress doors each with the two folding leaves.

<sup>37</sup> The foundation of the temple of the LORD was laid in the month of Ziv of the fourth year.

<sup>38</sup> In the eleventh year, in the month Bul, which is the eighth month, the temple was finished in all its details according to all its specifications. So he took seven years to build it.

<sup>1</sup> Solomon took thirteen years to finish building his own palace.

<sup>2</sup> He built the Palace of the Forest of Lebanon which was 150 feet long, 75 feet wide and 45 feet high. There were four rows of cedar pillars, with cedar beams set on the pillars.

<sup>3</sup> It was roofed with forty-five cedar beams, that were set on the pillars; fifteen per row.

<sup>4</sup> There were three rows of windows set in groups of three.

<sup>5</sup> All the doors and posts were made square with beams and arranged in sets of three.

<sup>6</sup> He made a Hall of Pillars 75 feet long and 45 feet wide. There was a porch in front of it with pillars and a canopy.

<sup>7</sup> He also built a throne room where he pronounced judgment, it was called the Hall of Justice. It was covered with cedar from floor to ceiling.

<sup>8</sup> His house where he was to live, in the other court back of the hall was of similar construction. Solomon also built a house similar to this hall for Pharaoh's daughter whom he had married.

<sup>9</sup> All these were built with costly stones, chiseled to fit, and sawed on all sides, even from the foundation unto the eaves, and from the outside to the great court.

<sup>14</sup> He was the son of a widow from the tribe of Naphtali. His father was an artisan from Tyre, a skillful craftsman in bronze. Hiram was filled with wisdom, understanding and skill, in any work in bronze. He came to king Solomon and did all his assigned work.

<sup>15</sup> He fashioned the two bronze pillars, each 27 feet high and 18 feet in circumference.

<sup>16</sup> He made two capitals of cast bronze to set on the tops of the pillars. The height of each capital was 7.5 feet.

<sup>17</sup> There were nets of lattice work, and wreaths of chain works set for the capitals that were on the top of the pillars, seven for the each capital.

<sup>18</sup> On the pillars he made two rows of pomegranates on the lattice work to decorate the capitals that were upon the top of the pillars. He did the same for the each capital.

<sup>19</sup> The capitals that were on the top of the pillars in the porch were shaped like lilies, 6 feet tall.

<sup>21</sup> He set up the pillars at the front portico of the temple. He set up the pillar on the south and named it Jakin [he establishes], and set up the pillar on the north, and named it Boaz [in him is strength].

<sup>22</sup> The top of the pillars were shaped like lilies. So the construction of the pillars were completed.

<sup>23</sup> Then Hiram made the large metal basin of 15 feet from rim to rim, and 7.5 feet high. Its circumference was about 45 feet.

<sup>24</sup> Under its rim there were two rows of decorative gourds, six gourds per foot all the way around it and were cast with it when the Sea was cast.

<sup>25</sup> The Sea stood on twelve oxen, three facing north, three facing west, three facing south, and three facing east. The Sea was set on top of them, and all their back sides were set inward.

<sup>26</sup> It was 3 inches thick, and the rim was made like the rim of a cup, like a lily blossom. It held 11,500 gallons.

<sup>27</sup> He also made the ten bronze portable stands; each 6 feet long, 6 feet wide and 4.5 feet high.

<sup>30</sup> Every stand had four bronze wheels with bronze axles; with four supports for a basin. The supports were cast with the wreaths on each side.

<sup>31</sup> The top of the stand was an opening projected 1.5 feet above the stand and its opening was 2.25 feet across. Around its opening there were carvings, and their panels were square, not round.

<sup>32</sup> The four wheels were underneath the panels; and the axles for the wheels were one piece with the stand. The stand wheels were 2.25 feet high.

<sup>35</sup> In the top of the stand there was a rim about nine inches high. The top of the stand had supports and panels which were one piece with it.

<sup>36</sup> On the plates of its supports and on its panels, he carved cherubim, lions, and palm trees, wherever there was space, with wreaths all around.

<sup>37</sup> This is the way he made the ten stands: all of them were cast in one mold being the same size and shape.

<sup>38</sup> Hiram made ten basins of bronze, one for each stand. Each basin held 230 gallons and was six feet across.

<sup>39</sup> He set the stands, five on the south side of the temple, and five on the north. He set the Sea on the southeast corner of the temple.

<sup>40</sup> Hiram made the pots, shovels and bowls. So Hiram completed all the work that he had been assigned for king Solomon in the temple of the LORD.

<sup>41</sup> The two pillars, the two bowl-shaped capitals that were on the top of the pillars, the latticework to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the top of the pillars, <sup>42</sup> the 400 pomegranates for the two latticeworks; two rows of pomegranates for each latticework, to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the pillars,

<sup>43</sup> the ten portable stands, and their ten basins,

<sup>48</sup> Solomon made all the vessels that were in the temple of LORD: the golden altar, the gold table for the Bread of the Presence, <sup>49</sup> the pure gold lampstands, five on the south side, and five on the north, in front of the inner sanctuary; with the flowers, lamps, and tongs also of gold.

<sup>50</sup> The cups, the lamp snuffers, sprinkling bowls, and the firepans, were all pure gold. The hinges, both for the doors of the inner sanctuary, the most holy place, and for the doors of the main room of the temple were also made of gold.

<sup>51</sup> So when king Solomon finished building the temple of the LORD, he brought in the things which David his father had dedicated, the silver, gold, and the other articles, and put them in the treasuries of the temple of the LORD.

DASV: 1 Kings 8

<sup>2</sup> All the people of Israel assembled themselves to king Solomon at the festival, in the month Ethanim, which is the seventh month.

<sup>4</sup> They brought up the ark of the LORD, the Tent of Meeting and all the holy furnishings that were in the Tent. The priests and Levites brought them up.

<sup>5</sup> Then king Solomon and all the congregation of Israel, who were assembled before him in front of the ark, were sacrificing so many sheep and oxen that they could not be counted or numbered.

<sup>6</sup> The priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place in the inner sanctuary of the temple, to the most holy place, under the wings of the cherubim.

<sup>7</sup> The cherubim spread their wings over the place where the ark was, and the cherubim made a covering over the ark and its poles.

<sup>8</sup> The poles were so long that the ends of the poles were seen from the holy place in front of the inner sanctuary; but they could not be seen from the outside. They remain there to this day.

<sup>9</sup> There was nothing in the ark except the two tables of stone Moses had put in it at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the Israelites, when they came out of the land of Egypt.

<sup>10</sup> When the priests came out of the holy place, a cloud filled the temple of the LORD.

<sup>11</sup> The priests could not perform their service because of the cloud, for the glory of the LORD filled the temple of the LORD.

<sup>12</sup> Then Solomon spoke, "The LORD has said that he would live in thick darkness.

<sup>13</sup> I have certainly built you a majestic temple for you to live in forever."

<sup>14</sup> Then the king turned his head around, and blessed all the assembly of Israel while the entire assembly of Israel stood there.

<sup>15</sup> He said, "Praise be to the LORD, the God of Israel, who has with his hand fulfilled what he promised with his own mouth to my father David, saying,

<sup>16</sup> 'Since the day that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I never chose a city from all the tribes of Israel as a place to build a temple, that my name might be there; but I chose David to be over my people Israel.'

<sup>17</sup> Now it was in the heart of my father David to build a temple for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>18</sup> But the LORD said to my father David, 'It was good for your heart to want to build a temple for my name.'

<sup>19</sup> Nevertheless you will not build the temple; but your own son, who will be born to you, he will build the temple for my name.'

<sup>20</sup> The LORD has kept the promise that he made, for I have succeeded my father David, and sit on the throne of Israel, just as the LORD promised. I have now built the temple for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>21</sup> I have made a place for the ark, containing the covenant of the LORD, which he made with our forefathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt."

<sup>22</sup> Solomon stood in front of the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the assembly of Israel, and spread out his hands toward heaven

<sup>23</sup> and prayed, "O LORD, the God of Israel, there is no God like you, in heaven above, or on earth beneath. You keep your covenant and loyal love with your servants who walk before you with all their heart.

<sup>24</sup> You have kept your promise with my father your servant David. Yes, you promised with your own mouth, and have fulfilled it with your own hands this day.

<sup>25</sup> Now therefore, O LORD, the God of Israel, keep the promise you made with my father your servant David, when you said, 'You will never fail to have a successor to sit on the throne of Israel, if only your descendants will guard their ways, making sure to walk before me just as you have walked before me.'

<sup>26</sup> Now therefore, O God of Israel, let your promise, I pray, be fulfilled, which you spoke to my father your servant David.

<sup>27</sup> But will God really live on the earth? Even the heaven and highest heavens cannot contain you, how much less this temple that I have built!

<sup>28</sup> Yet have regard to the prayer of your servant, and to his plea, O LORD my God, listen to the cry and the prayer that your servant is praying before you this day.

<sup>29</sup> May your eyes watch over this temple night and day, even this place of which you said, 'My name will be there,' that you may listen to the prayer your servant prays toward this place.

<sup>30</sup> Listen to the plea of your servant, and of your people Israel, when they pray toward this place. Yes, hear in heaven your dwelling place; and when you hear, forgive.

<sup>31</sup> If someone sins against his neighbor and is required to swear to his innocence before your altar in this temple;

<sup>32</sup> then hear from heaven, act, and judge your servants, condemning the wicked by bring his conduct back on his own head, and justifying the righteous, rewarding him according to his righteousness.

<sup>33</sup> When your people Israel are smitten down before the enemy because they have sinned against you; if they turn to you, confess your name, pray and plead with you in this temple,

<sup>34</sup> then hear from heaven, and forgive the sin of your people Israel, and bring them again to the land you have given to their forefathers.

<sup>35</sup> When heaven is shut up, and there is no rain because they have sinned against you, if they pray toward this place, confess your name and turn from their sin because you are punishing them,

<sup>36</sup> then hear from heaven, and forgive the sin of your servants, and your people Israel. Then teach them the good way in which they should walk. Send rain on your land, which you have given to your people for an inheritance.

<sup>37</sup> If there is in the land a famine, plague, crop disease, mildew, locust or caterpillar, if their enemy besieges them in any of the cities in the land, whatever plague or whatever sickness there is,

<sup>38</sup> and if any person from all your people Israel will pray and plead, each one knowing the pain of his own heart, and spread out his hands toward this temple,

<sup>39</sup> then hear in heaven your dwelling place, forgive, act, and render to everyone according to all his ways, since you know their heart, for only you know every human heart.

<sup>40</sup> Then they will fear you all the days they live in the land you have given to our forefathers.

<sup>41</sup> Likewise when a foreigner who does not belong to your people Israel, comes from a far country for your name's sake,

<sup>42</sup> for they will hear about your great name and your mighty hand and outstretched arm, when he prays toward this temple,

<sup>43</sup> hear in heaven your dwelling place, and do according to all that the foreigner has asked you for. Then all the nations of the earth will know your name and fear you, just like your people Israel do. They will realize that this temple I have built is indeed called by your name.

<sup>44</sup> If your people go out to battle against their enemy, by whatever way you will send them, and they pray to the LORD toward the city you have chosen, and toward the temple I have built for your name, <sup>45</sup> then hear in heaven their prayer and their plea, and maintain their cause.

<sup>46</sup> If they sin against you, for there is no one who doesn't sin, and you get angry with them, and deliver them to the enemy, so that they carry them off captive to the land of the enemy, whether it is far away or near,

<sup>47</sup> yet if they come to their senses in the land where they have been taken captive, and repent, and pray to you in the land of their captors, saying, 'We have sinned, and have done wrong, we have acted wickedly,'

<sup>48</sup> if they return to you with all their heart and with all their soul in the land of their enemies who took them captive, and pray to you toward their land you gave to their forefathers, the city you have chosen and the temple I have built for your name, <sup>49</sup> then hear their prayer and their plea in heaven your dwelling place, and maintain their cause.

<sup>50</sup> Forgive your people who have sinned against you, and all their offences they committed against you, and give them compassion in the sight of their captors, so that they may have compassion on them,

<sup>51</sup> for they are your people, and your inheritance, whom you brought out of Egypt, from the midst of an iron-smelting furnace.

<sup>52</sup> May your eyes be open to the plea of your servant, and to the plea of your people Israel. May you listen to them whenever they cry out to you.

<sup>53</sup> For you separated them from among all the nations of the earth to be your inheritance, as you spoke by Moses your servant, when you brought our forefathers out of Egypt, O sovereign LORD."

<sup>55</sup> Then he stood and blessed all the assembly of Israel in a loud voice, saying, <sup>56</sup> "Praise the LORD, who has given rest to his people Israel, just as he promised. Not one word of his good promise has failed, which he promised through his servant Moses.

<sup>57</sup> The LORD our God be with us, as he has been with our forefathers. Let him never leave or abandon us.

<sup>58</sup> May he bend our hearts toward him, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, statutes, and regulations that he commanded our forefathers.

<sup>59</sup> Let these my words, by which I have made requests before the LORD, be near to the LORD our God day and night, that he vindicate the cause of his servant, and the cause of his people Israel, as each day requires.

<sup>60</sup> Then all the nations of the earth will know that the LORD, he is God, there is no other.

<sup>61</sup> Let your heart therefore be absolutely committed to the LORD our God, to walk in his statutes, and to keep his commandments, as you are doing today."

<sup>63</sup> Solomon offered for a sacrifice of peace offerings to the LORD, 22,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep. So the king and all the Israelites dedicated the temple of the LORD.

<sup>64</sup> That same day the king consecrated the middle of the courtyard that was in front of the temple of the LORD. There he offered burnt offerings, grain offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the bronze altar that was before the LORD was too small to receive the burnt offerings, grain offering, and the fat of the peace offerings.

<sup>65</sup> At that time Solomon held the feast and all Israel with him. It was a great gathering before the LORD our God, with people from the Lebo-hamath all the way down to the brook of Egypt for seven days for the consecration and seven days for the festival, fourteen days total.

<sup>66</sup> On the eighth day he sent the people away; and they blessed the king, and went unto their homes joyful and glad of heart because of all the good things the LORD had done for his servant David and for his people Israel.

DASV: 1 Kings 9

<sup>1</sup> When Solomon had finished the building of the temple of the LORD, the king's palace, and everything else Solomon desired to build,

<sup>2</sup> the LORD appeared to Solomon a second time, as he had appeared to him at Gibeon.

<sup>3</sup> The LORD said to him, "I have heard your prayer and your request, that you have made before me. I have consecrated this temple you have built to put my name there forever. My eyes and my heart will be there for all time.

<sup>4</sup> As for you, if you will walk before me with integrity of heart and uprightness, as David your father walked, to do according to all that I have commanded you, and will keep my statutes and my regulations,

<sup>5</sup> then I will establish the throne of your kingdom over Israel forever, just as I promised your father David, saying, 'You will not fail to have a successor on the throne of Israel.'

<sup>6</sup> But if you turn away from following me, you or your children, and do not keep my commandments and statutes I have set before you, but go, serve and worship other gods,

<sup>7</sup> then will I cut off Israel from the land I have given them and this temple I have consecrated for my name, I will cast out of my sight, and Israel will be a proverb and a slogan of ridicule among all nations.

<sup>8</sup> Though this temple is so impressive, yet everyone who passes by it will be astonished, and will scornfully hiss and say, 'Why has the LORD done this to this land, and to this temple?'

<sup>9</sup> Then they will answer, 'Because they abandoned the LORD their God, who brought their forefathers out of the land of Egypt, and embraced other gods, worshipped and served them. Therefore the LORD has brought all this evil on them.'"

<sup>10</sup> It took twenty years for Solomon to build the two houses, the temple for the LORD and the king's palace.

<sup>13</sup> So he grumbled, "What kind of towns are these that you have given me, my brother?" He called them the land of Cabul [worthless] as it is called to this day.

<sup>14</sup> Now Hiram had sent to the king 9,000 pounds of gold.

<sup>20</sup> As for all the survivors of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites, who were not Israelites, <sup>21</sup> their descendants who were left in the land, whom the Israelites were not able to totally destroy, Solomon conscripted them into forced labor to this day.

<sup>22</sup> But Solomon did not make the Israelites do forced labor, but they were the men of war, his officials, leaders, captains and commanders of his chariots and horsemen.

<sup>23</sup> These were the chief officers who were over Solomon's construction efforts, 550 who supervised the people who actually did the work.

<sup>25</sup> Three times a year Solomon offered burnt offerings and peace offerings on the altar he built to the LORD, burning incense along with them before the LORD. So he finished the temple.

<sup>26</sup> King Solomon made navy of ships at Eziongeber, which is near Elath in the land of Edom, on the shore of the Red Sea.

<sup>27</sup> Hiram sent his fleet and his sailors who had knowledge of the sea with the servants of Solomon.

<sup>28</sup> They went to Ophir, and brought back 16 tons of gold from there, and brought it to king Solomon.

DASV: 1 Kings 10

<sup>1</sup> When the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon because of the name of the LORD, she came to test him with hard questions.

<sup>2</sup> She arrived in Jerusalem with a very great number of attendants, with camels that bore spices, a large amount of gold and precious stones. When she came to Solomon, she consulted with him about all that was on her heart.

<sup>3</sup> Solomon answered all her questions; there was nothing hidden from the king which he could not explain to her.

<sup>4</sup> When the queen of Sheba saw all the wisdom of Solomon, and the palace he had built,

<sup>6</sup> She confessed to the king, "The report I heard in my own country of your acts and of your wisdom was true.

<sup>7</sup> Although I did not believe the reports, until I came and saw it with my own eyes. In fact, not even half of it was told me. Your wisdom and prosperity exceed the report I had heard.

<sup>8</sup> Happy are your men, happy are these your servants, who continually stand before you, and hear your wisdom.

<sup>9</sup> Blessed be the LORD your God, who delighted in you, to set you on the throne of Israel. Because the LORD loved Israel forever, he made you king, to administer justice and righteousness."

<sup>10</sup> She gave the king 9,000 pounds of gold, a huge quantity of spices and precious stones. Never again was there such abundance of spices as those the queen of Sheba gave to king Solomon.

<sup>11</sup> The navy of Hiram also brought gold from Ophir, as well as bringing from Ophir great quantities of almug wood and precious stones.

<sup>12</sup> The king made from the almug wood supports for the temple of the LORD, and the king's palace, and also harps and lyres for the musicians. So much almug wood has not been seen to this day.

<sup>13</sup> King Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all that she desired, whatever she asked for, besides the customary gifts Solomon had given her out of his royal bounty. So she and her attendants returned to her own land.

<sup>14</sup> Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year totaled twenty-five tons of gold, <sup>15</sup> besides what came from the merchants and traders, and from all the Arabian kings, and of the governors of the land.

<sup>19</sup> There were six steps to the throne, and the top of the throne had a rounded back. The throne had two armrests with a lion statue standing beside each of the armrests.

<sup>20</sup> Twelve lions stood there with one on each side of the six steps. Nothing like it was ever made in any other kingdom.

<sup>21</sup> All king Solomon's goblets were made of gold, and all the utensils for the Palace of the Forest of Lebanon were also made of pure gold. None were made of silver for silver was worth very little in the days of Solomon.

<sup>22</sup> The king had a fleet of merchant ships at sea along with Hiram's fleet, once every three years the merchant ships returned bringing gold, silver, ivory, apes and peacocks.

<sup>23</sup> So king Solomon surpassed all the kings of the earth in wealth and wisdom.

<sup>24</sup> All the earth sought an audience with Solomon, to hear the wisdom which God had put in his heart.

<sup>25</sup> Each of them brought gifts, items of silver and gold, clothes, weapons, spices, horses and mules, year after year.

<sup>26</sup> Solomon accumulated chariots and horsemen. He had 1,400 chariots, and 12,000 horsemen that he stationed in the chariot cities and also with the king at Jerusalem.

<sup>28</sup> The horses Solomon had were brought from Egypt and from Cilicia; and the king's traders acquired them from Cilicia at a standard price.

<sup>29</sup> A chariot imported from Egypt cost 600 shekels of silver, and a horse was 150. They also exported them to all the kings of the Hittites and for the kings of Aram.

<sup>2</sup> They were from the nations concerning which the LORD had warned the Israelites, "You must not intermarry with them, for they will surely turn your heart away after their gods." Yet Solomon clung to them in love.

<sup>3</sup> He had 700 wives of royal birth, and 300 concubines; and his wives turned his heart away.

<sup>6</sup> Solomon did evil in the sight of the LORD, and did not fully follow the LORD, as his father David had.

<sup>8</sup> This is what he did for all his foreign wives, who burned incense and sacrificed to their gods.

<sup>9</sup> The LORD was angry with Solomon, because his heart had turned away from LORD, the God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice.

<sup>10</sup> He had commanded him concerning this very issue, that he should not worship other gods. But he did not do what the LORD commanded.

<sup>11</sup> So the LORD said to Solomon, "Since you have done this, and you have not kept my covenant and my statutes that I have commanded you, I will surely tear the kingdom from you and will give it to your servant.

<sup>12</sup> Yet for your father David's sake, I will not do it in your lifetime, but I will tear it out of the hand of your son.

<sup>13</sup> I will not, however, tear away all the kingdom. I will give one tribe to your son, for my servant David's sake and for the sake of Jerusalem, which I have chosen."

<sup>15</sup> When David was in Edom, and Joab, the commander of the army, had gone up to bury the dead, he attempted to kill every male in Edom.

<sup>16</sup> For Joab and all Israel stayed there for six months until he had eliminated every male in Edom.

<sup>17</sup> But Hadad, being a young boy, escaped to Egypt along with some other Edomites who were his father's servants.

<sup>18</sup> They set out from Midian and came to Paran and mustered more men out of Paran. They went to Egypt to Pharaoh king of Egypt, who gave him a house, and appointed him provisions and even gave him land.

<sup>19</sup> Hadad found great favor in the sight of Pharaoh, so he gave Hadad his own wife's sister in marriage, the sister of Tahpenes the queen.

<sup>20</sup> The sister of Tahpenes bore him a son, Genubath. Tahpenes raised him in Pharaoh's palace and Genubath grew up in Pharaoh's palace along with the sons of Pharaoh.

<sup>21</sup> When Hadad heard in Egypt that David slept with his fathers, and that Joab the commander of the host was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, "Let me leave, that I may go back to my own country."

<sup>22</sup> Then Pharaoh asked him, "But what have you lacked with me that makes you want to go back to own country?" He answered, "Nothing, but please let me go."

<sup>24</sup> He gathered men, and became commander over an army after David killed many of them. They went to Damascus, and settled there and he became king in Damascus.

<sup>25</sup> He was an adversary to Israel all the days of Solomon, besides the trouble caused by Hadad. He despised Israel, and reigned over Aram.

<sup>28</sup> Now Jeroboam was a very talented young man; and when Solomon saw the young man was industrious, he put him in charge over all the forced labor of the house of Joseph.

<sup>29</sup> One time, when Jeroboam went out of Jerusalem, the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite found him on the road. Ahijah had clothed himself with a new garment and the two of them were alone in the field.

<sup>30</sup> Ahijah grabbed a hold of the new robe he was wearing, and tore it into twelve pieces.

<sup>31</sup> Then he said to Jeroboam, "Take ten pieces. For this is what the LORD, the God of Israel says, 'I will tear the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give ten tribes to you.'

<sup>32</sup> But he will retain one tribe, for my servant David's sake and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel.

<sup>33</sup> I will do this because they have forsaken me, and have worshipped Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians, Chemosh the god of Moab, and Milcom the god of the Ammonites. They have not walked in my ways, nor done what is right in my eyes, by keeping my statutes and regulations, as his father David did.

<sup>34</sup> Nevertheless I will not take the whole kingdom out of Solomon's hand; but I will allow him to rule all the days of his life, for my servant David's sake whom I chose and who did keep my commandments and my statutes.

<sup>35</sup> But I will take the kingdom out of his son's hand, and will give the other ten tribes to you.

<sup>36</sup> To his son will I give one tribe, that my servant David may have a lamp always before me in Jerusalem, the city where I have chosen to put my name.

<sup>37</sup> I have chosen you, and you will reign over all your soul desires, and you will be king over Israel.

<sup>38</sup> If you obey all that I command you and will walk in my ways and do what is right in my eyes to keep my statutes and my commandments, as my servant David did, then I will be with you, and will build you an enduring house, as I built for David, and will give Israel to you.

<sup>43</sup> Then Solomon slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of his father David and Rehoboam his son ruled in his place.

DASV: 1 Kings 12

<sup>1</sup> Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had come to Shechem to make him king.

<sup>2</sup> When Jeroboam the son of Nebat heard this, he was still in Egypt, where he had fled to escape from king Solomon.

<sup>3</sup> They sent for him, so Jeroboam and all the assembly of Israel came and said to Rehoboam,

<sup>4</sup> "Your father put a heavy yoke on us, but now lighten the burdensome labor and harsh service your father put on us, and we will serve you."

<sup>5</sup> He replied to them, "Go away for three days, then come back to me." So the people left.

<sup>6</sup> Then king Rehoboam consulted with the old men, who had stood before his father Solomon while he was still alive, saying, "How would you advise me to answer this people?"

<sup>7</sup> They responded, "If you will be a servant to this people today, and will serve them, and give them a favorable answer, then they will be your servants forever."

<sup>8</sup> But he rejected the advice the old men had given him, and consulted with the young men with whom he had grown up and were now his advisers.

<sup>9</sup> He asked them, "What advice would you give? How should we answer this people, who have told to me, 'Make the yoke that your father put on us lighter'?"

<sup>10</sup> The young men who had grown up with him told him, "This is what you should say to those people who said to you, 'Your father put a heavy yoke on us, but make it lighter.' Tell them, 'My little finger will be thicker than my father's thighs.

<sup>11</sup> My father put a heavy yoke on you, but I will make it even heavier. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions. '"

<sup>12</sup> So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, just as the king had requested, "Come back to me after three days."

<sup>13</sup> The king answered the people harshly, and rejected the advice the old men had given him.

<sup>14</sup> Instead he spoke to them following the advice of the young men, "My father made your yoke heavy, but I will make it even heavier. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions."

<sup>15</sup> So the king did not listen to the people, because the LORD was bringing about this turn of events so that he might fulfill his word spoken by Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

<sup>16</sup> When all Israel saw that the king refused to listen to them, the people answered the king back, "What portion have we in David? We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse. To your tents, O Israel. Take care of your own house, David." So Israel went home.

<sup>17</sup> But as for the Israelites who lived in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam still reigned over them.

<sup>18</sup> Now king Rehoboam sent Adoniram, who was over the forced labor crews; and all Israel stoned him to death. So king Rehoboam quickly jumped into his chariot to flee to Jerusalem.

<sup>19</sup> So Israel has been in rebellion against the house of David to this day.

<sup>20</sup> When all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned, they sent and called him to the assembly, and made him king over all Israel. No one followed the house of David except the tribe of Judah.

<sup>21</sup> When Rehoboam arrived at Jerusalem, he assembled all the house of Judah, and the tribe of Benjamin, 180,000 chosen warriors, to make war against the house of Israel, attempting to restore the kingdom to Rehoboam the son of Solomon.

<sup>22</sup> But the word of God came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

<sup>23</sup> "Tell Rehoboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah, all the house of Judah and Benjamin, and the rest of the people,

<sup>24</sup> "This is what the LORD says, "Do not go up and fight against your brothers, the Israelites. Go home all of you; for this thing is from me."" So they listened to the word of the LORD, and went home again just as the LORD had ordered them to do.

<sup>25</sup> Then Jeroboam built up Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim, and lived there; from there he went on and built up Penuel.

<sup>26</sup> Jeroboam thought in his heart, "Now the kingdom may return to the house of David.

<sup>27</sup> If these people go up to offer sacrifices in the temple of LORD at Jerusalem, then their heart will turn back to their former master, Rehoboam king of Judah. They may kill me, and return to Rehoboam king of Judah."

<sup>28</sup> So the king sought counsel, and made two gold calves. Then he said to the people, "It is too much for you to go up to Jerusalem. Look, here are your gods, O Israel, which brought you up out of the land of Egypt."

<sup>29</sup> He set the one up in Bethel, and the other he set up in Dan.

<sup>30</sup> This thing became a sin, for the people went as far as Dan to worship before one of them.

<sup>31</sup> He built temples on the high places, and made priests from among all kinds of people, even those who were not Levites.

<sup>32</sup> Jeroboam instituted a feast on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, like the feast that was in Judah. He offered up sacrifices on the altar at Bethel, offering sacrifices to the calves he had made. He installed in Bethel the priests for the high places that he had made.

<sup>33</sup> He went up to the altar he had made in Bethel on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, even in the month which he had devised in his own heart and he ordained a feast for the Israelites, and approached the altar to burn incense.

DASV: 1 Kings 13

<sup>1</sup> Now a man of God came out of Judah by the word of the LORD and went to Bethel, and Jeroboam was standing by the altar about to burn incense.

<sup>2</sup> He cried out against the altar by the word of the LORD, "O altar, altar. This is what the LORD says. A son will be born to the house of David, Josiah by name. On you he will sacrifice the priests of the high places that burn incense on you. Human bones will be burned on you."

<sup>3</sup> That same day he also gave a sign, "This is the sign the LORD has spoken: This altar will split apart, and the ashes on it will be poured out."

<sup>4</sup> When the king heard what the man of God cried out against the altar in Bethel, Jeroboam reached out his hand from the altar ordering, "Seize him." But the hand he stretched out against him became paralyzed so that he could not pull it back.

<sup>5</sup> The altar split apart and the ashes poured out of the altar, just as the sign the man of God had announced by the word of the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> The king answered and said to the man of God, "Please ask for the favor of the LORD your God and pray for me, that my hand may be restored." So the man of God asked the LORD, and the king's hand was restored becoming as it was before.

<sup>7</sup> Then the king said to the man of God, "Come home with me, and refresh yourself, and I will give you a gift."

<sup>8</sup> But the man of God said to the king, "If you would give me half of your house, I will not go with you, nor will I eat any food or drink water in this place.

<sup>9</sup> For I was ordered by the word of the LORD, 'You must not eat any food, or drink any water, or return by the way you came.'"

<sup>10</sup> So he took another way and returned a different way than how he had come to Bethel.

<sup>11</sup> Now there was an old prophet who lived in Bethel. His sons came and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Bethel and told their father all the words he had spoken to the king.

<sup>12</sup> Their father said to them, "Which way did he go?" His sons showed him which road the man of God from Judah had taken.

<sup>13</sup> He said to his sons, "Saddle my donkey." So they saddled his donkey and he mounted it.

<sup>14</sup> He set out after the man of God, and found him sitting under an oak tree, and he asked him, "Are you the man of God who came from Judah?" He replied, "Yes, I am."

<sup>15</sup> Then old prophet said to him, "Come home with me, and eat some food."

<sup>16</sup> But he replied, "I can't turn back or go with you, or eat food or drink water with you in this place."

<sup>17</sup> For I was ordered by the word of the LORD, 'You must not eat any bread or drink any water there, or turn again to go back by the way that you came.'

<sup>18</sup> Then the old prophet said to him, "I also am a prophet as you are, and an angel spoke to me by the word of the LORD, saying, 'Bring him back with you to your house, so that he may eat some food and drink some water.'" But the old prophet was lying to him.

<sup>19</sup> So he went back with him, and ate food and drank water in his house.

<sup>20</sup> As they were sitting at the table, the word of the LORD came to the prophet who brought him back.

<sup>21</sup> He cried out to the man of God who came from Judah, "This is what the LORD says, 'Because you disobeyed the word of the LORD, and have not kept the commandment the LORD your God gave you,

<sup>22</sup> but came back, and have eaten food and drank water in the place where he told you, "Do not eat any food or drink water," your body will not be buried in the tomb of your forefathers.'"

<sup>23</sup> After he had eaten food and drunk, the old prophet saddled the donkey for the prophet he had brought back.

<sup>24</sup> As he went on his way a lion met him on the road, and killed him. His body was thrown onto the road, and the donkey stood beside it; the lion also stood by the body.

<sup>25</sup> People passed by, and saw the body lying in the road, and the lion standing by the body. They came and told the city where the old prophet lived about it.

<sup>26</sup> When the prophet who brought him back from the way heard the report, he said, "It is the man of God, who disobeyed the word of the LORD. The LORD has delivered him to the lion, which has torn him up, and killed him, just as the word of the LORD, told him."

<sup>27</sup> He ordered his sons, "Saddle the donkey for me," so they saddled it.

<sup>28</sup> Then he went and found his body lying on the road, and the donkey and the lion standing by the body. The lion had not eaten the corpse or attacked the donkey.

<sup>29</sup> The prophet picked up the body of the man of God, and laid it on the donkey, and brought it back to the city of the old prophet, to mourn and to bury him.

<sup>30</sup> The old prophet laid his body in his own grave; and they mourned over him, "Alas, my brother!"

<sup>31</sup> After he had buried him, he requested of his sons, "When I am dead, bury me in the tomb where the man of God is buried. Put my bones beside his bones."

<sup>32</sup> For the saying which he cried out by the word of the LORD against the altar in Bethel, and against all the shrines of the high places that are in the towns of Samaria, will surely come to pass."

<sup>33</sup> Even after this, Jeroboam did not change his evil ways, but continued to install all kinds of people as priests of the high places. Anyone who wanted, he consecrated as a priest of the high places.

<sup>34</sup> This issue became sin to the house of Jeroboam, so that it came to an end and was destroyed from off the face of the earth.

<sup>2</sup> Jeroboam told his wife, "Go, disguise yourself, so that you will not be recognized as the wife of Jeroboam. Then go to Shiloh, for Ahijah the prophet is there. He is the one who told me that I would be king over this people.

<sup>3</sup> Take ten loaves, some cakes, and a jar of honey, and go to him. He will tell you what will happen to the child."

<sup>4</sup> So Jeroboam's wife did it, and went to Shiloh where she came to the house of Ahijah. Now Ahijah could not see, for his eyesight was gone because of his age.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD said to Ahijah, "The wife of Jeroboam is coming to you to inquire concerning her son, for he is sick. Tell her thus and so, for when she arrives she will disguise herself pretending to be another woman."

<sup>6</sup> When Ahijah heard the sound of her feet as she came through the door, he said, "Come in, wife of Jeroboam. Why do you disguise yourself pretending to be someone else? For I have come with bad news for you.

<sup>7</sup> Go, tell Jeroboam, 'This is what the LORD, the God of Israel says, "I exalted you from among the people, and made you a leader over my people Israel.

<sup>8</sup> I tore the kingdom away from the house of David, and gave it you. Yet you have not been like my servant David, who kept my commandments, and followed me with all his heart doing only what was right in my eyes.

<sup>9</sup> You have done evil above everyone who has been before you, and have gone and made other gods and metal idols, provoking me to anger, and have turned your back on me.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore, I will bring disaster on the house of Jeroboam, and will cut off every one of Jeroboam's male children, slave or free everywhere in Israel. I will totally burn up the house of Jeroboam, as a man burns manure until it is all gone.

<sup>11</sup> Anyone in Jeroboam's family who dies in the city will be eaten by dogs; and the one who dies in the field the birds of the heavens will eat, for the LORD has decreed it.

<sup>12</sup> Get up and go home. When your feet enter the city the boy will die.

<sup>13</sup> All Israel will mourn for him and bury him, for he is the only one of Jeroboam descendants who will have a proper burial, because in him there is found some things pleasing to the LORD, the God of Israel, in the house of Jeroboam.

<sup>14</sup> Furthermore the LORD will raise up a king over Israel, who will cut off Jeroboam's descendants today, it is ready to happen right now.

<sup>15</sup> For the LORD will strike Israel, like a reed swaying in the water. He will root up Israel out of this good land he gave to their forefathers, and will scatter them beyond the Euphrates River, because they have made their Asherah poles, provoking the LORD to anger.

<sup>16</sup> He will abandon Israel because of the sins of Jeroboam, which he has sinned and by which he made Israel to sin."'''

<sup>17</sup> Jeroboam's wife got up, left and came to Tirzah. When she crossed the threshold of the house, the boy died.

<sup>20</sup> Jeroboam reigned twenty-two years and he slept with his fathers. Then Nadab his son reigned in his place.

<sup>21</sup> Rehoboam the son of Solomon reigned in Judah. Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there. His mother's name was Naamah the Ammonitess.

<sup>22</sup> Judah did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and they provoked him to jealousy with the sins they committed, beyond all that their forefathers had done.

<sup>23</sup> For they also built high places, sacred pillars, and Asherah poles, on every high hill and under every green tree.

<sup>27</sup> King Rehoboam replaced them with bronze shields, and assigned them to the hands of the royal guard, who guarded the entrance of the king's palace.

<sup>29</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Rehoboam, and all that he did, are they not written in the Scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah?

<sup>30</sup> There was constant war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam.

DASV: 1 Kings 15

<sup>1</sup> Now Abijam began to reign over Judah in the eighteenth year of king Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

<sup>4</sup> Nevertheless, for David's sake the LORD his God gave him a lamp in Jerusalem by giving him a son to succeed him and by establishing Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> It was because David did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, and did not turn aside from anything he commanded him all the days of his life, except in the incident of Uriah the Hittite.

<sup>6</sup> Now there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all the days of Abijam's life.

<sup>7</sup> The rest of the acts of Abijam, and all that he did, are they not written in the Scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah? There was constant war between Abijam and Jeroboam.

<sup>11</sup> Asa did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, as his forefather David had done.

<sup>12</sup> He expelled the male temple prostitutes out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made.

<sup>13</sup> He also removed Maacah his mother from being queen, because she had made an abominable Asherah pole. Asa cut down her idolatrous pole, and burned it in the Kidron Valley.

<sup>14</sup> But the high places were not removed. Nevertheless the heart of Asa was wholly devoted to the LORD all his days.

<sup>15</sup> He brought into the temple of the LORD the things that he and his father had dedicated, silver, gold and other items.

<sup>16</sup> There was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all their days.

<sup>17</sup> Baasha king of Israel went up against Judah, and built up Ramah, that he might not allow anyone to enter or leave the land of Asa king of Judah.

<sup>18</sup> Then Asa took all the silver and gold that was left in the treasuries of the temple of the LORD, and the treasuries of the king's palace. He gave it to his servants and sent them to Ben-hadad, the son of Tabrimmon, the son of Hezion, king of Aram, who ruled in Damascus, along with this request,

<sup>19</sup> "Let us make a treaty like my father and your father had. I have sent you a present of silver and gold, go, break your treaty with Baasha king of Israel, that he may leave me alone."

<sup>21</sup> When Baasha heard it, he stopped fortifying Ramah, and pulled back to Tirzah.

<sup>22</sup> Then king Asa made a proclamation to all Judah, no one was exempt from carrying away the stones and timber of Ramah that Baasha had used to build up Ramah. King Asa used them to fortify Geba of Benjamin and Mizpah.

<sup>23</sup> Now the rest of all the acts of Asa, all his power, all that he did and the towns he built, are they not written in the Scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah? But in his old age, his feet became diseased.

<sup>25</sup> Nadab the son of Jeroboam began to reign over Israel in the second year of Asa king of Judah. He reigned two years over Israel.

<sup>26</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father, and in his sin by which he caused Israel to sin.

<sup>27</sup> Baasha the son of Ahijah, from the house of Issachar, conspired against him, and assassinated him at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines, while Nadab and all Israel were laying siege to Gibbethon.

<sup>28</sup> So Baasha killed him and reigned in his place in the third year of Asa king of Judah.

<sup>29</sup> As soon as he became king, he eliminated all the house of Jeroboam. He left not one of Jeroboam's descendants breathing, but destroyed them all, fulfilling the word of the LORD spoken by his servant Ahijah the Shilonite.

<sup>30</sup> This happened because of the sins which Jeroboam committed, and by which he caused Israel to sin, and because he provoked the anger of the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>31</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Nadab, and all that he did, are they not written in the Scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

<sup>32</sup> There was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all their days.

<sup>33</sup> Baasha the son of Ahijah began to reign over all Israel from Tirzah, in the third year of Asa king of Judah. He reigned for twenty-four years.

<sup>34</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of Jeroboam, and in his sin by which he caused Israel to sin.

DASV: 1 Kings 16

<sup>1</sup> The word of the LORD came to Jehu the son of Hanani against Baasha, saying,
<sup>2</sup> "I exalted you from the dust, and made you leader over my people Israel, but you have walked in the way of Jeroboam, and have made my people Israel to sin, provoking me to anger with their sins.

<sup>3</sup> I will consume Baasha and his house, and I will make your house like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

<sup>4</sup> Those in Baasha's family who die in the city will be eaten by dogs; and those who die in the field, the birds of the heavens will eat."

<sup>7</sup> The word of the LORD against Baasha and his house came through the prophet Jehu the son of Hanani, because of all the evil he did in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger with the work of his hands, by being like the house of Jeroboam, and because he destroyed it.

<sup>8</sup> Elah the son of Baasha began to reign over Israel in Tirzah for two years in the twenty-sixth year of Asa king of Judah.

<sup>9</sup> His servant Zimri, commander of half of his chariots, conspired against him. Now he was in Tirzah, drinking himself drunk in the house of Arza, who was supervisor of the palace in Tirzah.

<sup>10</sup> Zimri came in, struck him down and killed him, in the twenty-seventh year of Asa king of Judah, and reigned in his place.

<sup>11</sup> When he began to reign, as soon as he was seated on his throne, he executed the entire house of Baasha. He did not leave a single male child alive, including his relatives and friends.

<sup>12</sup> So Zimri destroyed all the house of Baasha, fulfilling the word of the LORD that he spoke against Baasha by Jehu the prophet.

<sup>13</sup> This happened because of all the sins of Baasha, and the sins of his son Elah, which they had committed, and by which they caused Israel to sin, provoking the LORD, the God of Israel to anger with their worthless idols.

<sup>14</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Elah, and all that he did, are they not written in the Scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

<sup>15</sup> In the twenty-seventh year of Asa king of Judah, Zimri reigned seven days in Tirzah. Now the troops were camped against Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines.

<sup>16</sup> The troops who were camped heard the news, "Zimri has conspired, and has assassinated the king." So all Israel made Omri, the commander of the army, king over Israel that day in the camp.

<sup>17</sup> Omri and all Israel went up from Gibbethon and besieged Tirzah.

<sup>18</sup> When Zimri saw that the city was taken, he went into the citadel of the king's palace, and burned down the king's house over himself--so he died.

<sup>19</sup> This happened because the sins he committed were evil in the sight of the LORD, by walking in the way of Jeroboam, and for his sin which he committed, causing Israel to sin.

<sup>20</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Zimri, and his conspiracy that he carried out, are they not written in the Scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

<sup>21</sup> Then the people of Israel were split into two factions. Half of the people followed Tibni the son of Ginath, to make him king, and other half followed Omri.

<sup>22</sup> But the people that followed Omri overcame the people that followed Tibni the son of Ginath. So Tibni died, and Omri became king.

<sup>23</sup> Omri began to reign over Israel in the thirty-first year of Asa king of Judah. He reigned twelve years total with six of them in Tirzah.

<sup>24</sup> He bought the hill of Samaria from Shemer for 150 pounds of silver. He built a town on the hill, and named the town Samaria, after Shemer, the former owner of the hill.

<sup>25</sup> Omri did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, doing more evil than all who had come before him.

<sup>26</sup> For he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and in his sins by which he caused Israel to sin, provoking the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger with their worthless idols.

<sup>28</sup> So Omri slept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria. His son Ahab reigned in his place.

<sup>29</sup> Ahab the son of Omri began to reign over Israel in the thirty-eighth year of Asa king of Judah. Ahab the son of Omri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years.

<sup>30</sup> Ahab the son of Omri did what was evil in the sight of the LORD above all who were before him.

<sup>31</sup> As if it was trivial for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, he married Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Sidonians, and went and served Baal and worshipped him.

<sup>32</sup> He built an altar for Baal in the temple of Baal he had built in Samaria.

<sup>33</sup> Ahab made an Asherah pole. Ahab did more to provoke the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger than all the kings of Israel who preceded him.

<sup>34</sup> In his days, Hiel the Bethelite built Jericho. He laid its foundation at the cost of his firstborn Abiram, and set up its gates at the cost of his youngest son Segub, just as the word of the LORD had spoken by Joshua the son of Nun.

DASV: 1 Kings 17

<sup>1</sup> Elijah the Tishbite, who was from Tishbe in Gilead, said to Ahab, "As the LORD, the God of Israel lives, before whom I stand, there will not be dew or rain these years, except when I give the word."

<sup>5</sup> So he went and did what he was told by the word of the LORD. He went and stayed by the Kerith Valley, that is east of the Jordan River.

<sup>6</sup> The ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning, and bread and meat in the evening, and he drank from the brook.

<sup>7</sup> After a while the brook dried up, because there was no rain in the land.

<sup>8</sup> Then the word of LORD came to him, saying,

<sup>9</sup> "Get up and go to Zarephath, which belongs to Sidon, and stay there. I have commanded a widow there to provide for you."

<sup>10</sup> So he got up and went to Zarephath. When he came to the gate of the city, there was a widow gathering sticks there. He called to her, "Please bring me, a little cup of water, so that I may have a drink."

<sup>11</sup> As she was going to get it, he called to her, "Please bring me, a piece of bread in your hand too."

<sup>12</sup> She said, "As the LORD your God lives, I don't have any food except a handful of flour in a jar, and a little olive oil in a jug. Now I am gathering a couple sticks that I may go home and cook it for my son and me, so that we may eat it and die."

<sup>13</sup> Elijah said to her, "Don't be afraid, go and do just as you have said, but first make me a little cake from it, then bring it to me, and afterward make some for you and your son.

<sup>14</sup> For this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says, "The jar of flour will not be emptied, and the jug of olive oil will not run dry, until the day the LORD sends rain on the earth."

<sup>15</sup> So she went and did exactly as Elijah told her. The result was that she, Elijah and her house ate it for many days.

<sup>16</sup> The jar of flour was not emptied, and the jug of olive oil did not fail, exactly as the word of the LORD had declared through Elijah.

<sup>17</sup> After this, the son of the woman who owned the house, fell sick and his sickness was so severe that he stopped breathing.

<sup>18</sup> She complained to Elijah, "What do you have against me, O man of God? You have come to me only to expose my sin, and to slay my son!"

<sup>19</sup> He said to her, "Give me your son." Then he took him out of her arms, and carried the boy up to his guestroom, and laid him down on his own bed.

<sup>20</sup> Then he cried out to the LORD, "O LORD my God, why have you brought disaster on this widow I am staying with, by killing her son?"

<sup>21</sup> Then he stretched himself out on the child three times, and cried to the LORD, and said, "O LORD my God, please let this child's life come back into him."

<sup>22</sup> The LORD listened to the voice of Elijah, and the child's life returned to him, and he revived.

<sup>23</sup> Then Elijah took the child, and brought him down from the upper room into the house. He presented him to his mother, and Elijah announced, "See, your son is alive."

<sup>24</sup> The woman confessed to Elijah, "Now I know that you are a man of God, and that the word of the LORD from your mouth is truth."

DASV: 1 Kings 18

<sup>2</sup> So Elijah went to present himself to Ahab. The famine was severe in Samaria.

<sup>3</sup> Ahab summoned Obadiah, who was manager of the palace. Now Obadiah was devoted to the LORD.

<sup>4</sup> When Jezebel was killing off the prophets of the LORD, Obadiah took a hundred prophets, and hid them with fifty in each cave and supplied them with food and water.

<sup>5</sup> Ahab said to Obadiah, "Go through the land to all the springs and all the valleys. Perhaps we can find some grass to keep the horses and mules alive, so that we don't lose all the animals."

<sup>6</sup> So they split up the land between them to search through it. Ahab went one way and Obadiah went the other.

<sup>9</sup> Obadiah responded, "How have I sinned, that you would hand your servant over to Ahab, to kill me?"

<sup>10</sup> As the LORD your God lives, there is no nation or kingdom, where my lord has not searched for you. When they said, 'He is not here,' he made that kingdom or nation take an oath that they had not found you there.

<sup>12</sup> But as soon as I leave you, the Spirit of LORD may carry you off to who knows where, and so when I come and tell Ahab and when he still can't find you, he will kill me. But I, your servant have feared the LORD from my youth.

<sup>13</sup> Was it not told my lord what I did when Jezebel killed the prophets of the LORD, how I hid a hundred men of the LORD's prophets with fifty of them in each cave, and fed them with food and water?

<sup>14</sup> Now you are telling me, 'Go, tell your master, Elijah is here.' Then he will certainly kill me."

<sup>15</sup> Elijah said, "As the LORD of hosts lives, before whom I stand, I will surely present myself to him today."

<sup>16</sup> So Obadiah went and told Ahab, and Ahab went to meet Elijah.

<sup>17</sup> When Ahab saw Elijah, Ahab said to him, "Is it really you, you troubler of Israel?"

<sup>18</sup> Elijah answered, "I have not troubled Israel, but you, and your father's house, in that you have forsaken the commandments of the LORD, and you have followed the Baals.

<sup>21</sup> Elijah approached all the people, and declared, "How long will you go swaying between two opinions? If the LORD is God, follow him, but if Baal is, then follow him." But the people would not answer him a word.

<sup>22</sup> Then Elijah said to the people, "I am the only prophet of the LORD who is left; but there are 450 prophets of Baal.

<sup>23</sup> Let two bulls be provided. Let them choose one bull for themselves, cut it in pieces, and lay it on the wood, but do not set it on fire. Then I will prepare the other bull, and lay it on the wood, but not set it on fire.

<sup>24</sup> Then call on the name of your god, and I will call on the name of the LORD and the God that answers by fire, he is the real God." So all the people agreed, "Good idea."

<sup>25</sup> Elijah said to the prophets of Baal, "Choose one bull for yourselves, and prepare it first, since there are so many of you. Call on the name of your god, but do not set it on fire."

<sup>26</sup> So they took the bull that had been given to them, and they prepared it, and called on the name of Baal from morning even until noon, "O Baal, hear us." But there was not a sound and no answer. So they ritually limped around the altar they had made.

<sup>27</sup> At noon, Elijah mocked them, jeering, "Yell louder; for surely he is a god. Perhaps he is deep in thought, or is relieving himself, or is away on business. Maybe he is sleeping and must be awakened."

<sup>28</sup> So they shouted louder, and cut themselves with knives and swords, till the blood gushed out all over them, as was their usual ritual.

<sup>29</sup> As midday passed, they continued raving in a prophetic frenzy until the time of the evening sacrifice. But there still was not a sound, answer, or any response.

<sup>30</sup> Then Elijah told all the people, "Come here to me." All the people approached him. He repaired the altar of the LORD that had been torn down.

<sup>31</sup> Then Elijah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, to whom the word of the LORD came, saying, "Israel will be your name."

<sup>32</sup> With the stones he built an altar in the name of the LORD. He dug a trench around the altar, large enough to hold three gallons of seed.

<sup>33</sup> Then he arranged the wood, and cut the bull in pieces, and laid it on the wood. Then he said, "Fill four jars with water, and pour it on the burnt offering and on the wood."

<sup>34</sup> He said, "Do it again." So they did it the second time. Then he said, "Do it a third time." So they did it a third time.

<sup>35</sup> The water ran all over the altar and even the trench was filled with water.

<sup>36</sup> At the time for the evening sacrifice, Elijah the prophet approached the altar, and prayed, "O LORD, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Israel, let it be known this day proving that you are God in Israel, and that I am your servant, and that I have done all these things at your word.

<sup>37</sup> Answer me, O LORD, answer me, so that this people may know that you, O LORD, are God, and that you are attempting to turn their hearts back again."

<sup>38</sup> Then the fire of the LORD fell, and consumed the burnt offering, the wood, the stones, along with the dust, and even licked up the water that was in the trench.

<sup>39</sup> When all the people saw it, they fell on their faces, and they exclaimed, "The LORD, he is God! The LORD, he is God!"

<sup>40</sup> Then Elijah ordered, "Seize the prophets of Baal, let none of them escape." So they grabbed them; and Elijah brought them down to the Kishon Valley, and killed them there.

<sup>42</sup> So Ahab went up to eat and drink, but Elijah went up to the top of Carmel. He bowed himself down to the ground, and put his face between his knees.

<sup>43</sup> He said to his servant, "Go up now, look toward the sea." So he went up, looked, and reported, "There is nothing." Elijah sent him back seven times.

<sup>45</sup> Shortly after that, the heavens grew black with clouds and wind, and there was a heavy rain storm. Ahab rode off and went back to Jezreel.

<sup>46</sup> The hand of the LORD was on Elijah, so he tucked up his robe, and ran before Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel.

DASV: 1 Kings 19

<sup>1</sup> Now Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and how he had killed all the prophets with the sword.

<sup>2</sup> Then Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah, saying, "So let the gods do to me, and more also, if I do not make your life like the life of one of them by this time tomorrow."

<sup>3</sup> Elijah was afraid, got up, and fled for his life. He came to Beersheba in Judah, and left his servant there,

<sup>4</sup> while he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness. He went and sat down under a broom tree and he prayed that he might die. He said, "I've had enough. O LORD, take my life; for I am no better than my fathers."

<sup>5</sup> Then he laid down and slept under a broom tree. All of a sudden an angel touched him, and told him, "Get up and eat."

<sup>6</sup> He looked, and there was by his head some bread baked on the coals and a jug of water. He ate and drank, then laid down again.

<sup>7</sup> The angel of the LORD came back a second time, touched him, and said, "Get up and eat, because the journey is too much for you."

<sup>8</sup> He got up, ate and drank, and went on the strength gained from that food forty days and forty nights to Horeb, the mountain of God.

<sup>9</sup> There he came to a cave and spent the night. The word of the LORD came to him, and asked him, "What are you doing here, Elijah?"

<sup>10</sup> Elijah replied, "I have been very zealous for the LORD, the God of hosts; but the Israelites have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword. I am the only one left and now they are trying to kill me too."

<sup>11</sup> The LORD said, "Go out and stand on the mountain before the LORD, for the LORD is about to pass by. Then a great gale blasted the mountains, and even the rocks broke in pieces before the LORD, but the LORD was not in the wind. After the wind, there was an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake.

<sup>12</sup> After the earthquake, a fire, but the LORD was not in the fire. After the fire, there was a sound like a gentle whisper.

<sup>13</sup> When Elijah heard it, he wrapped his face in his robe, went out and stood at the entrance of the cave. Then a voice asked him, "What are you doing here, Elijah?"

<sup>14</sup> He replied, "I have been very zealous for the LORD, the God of hosts; but the Israelites have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword. I am the only one left, and now they are trying to kill me too."

<sup>15</sup> The LORD said to him, "Go back the way you came, then proceed to the wilderness of Damascus. When you arrive there anoint Hazael to be king over Aram.

<sup>16</sup> Then anoint Jehu the son of Nimshi to be king over Israel, and anoint Elisha the son of Shaphat of Abel Meholah to be prophet in your place.

<sup>17</sup> It will be that whoever escapes the sword of Hazael will be killed by Jehu; and whoever escapes from the sword of Jehu will be killed by Elisha.

<sup>18</sup> I have 7,000 left in Israel, all of whom have never bowed the knee to Baal or have kissed him with their mouths."

<sup>19</sup> So he left there, and found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen ahead of him. He was plowing with the twelfth pair. Elijah came up to him, and threw his mantle over him.

<sup>20</sup> Elisha left the oxen, and ran after Elijah, and said, "Please let me kiss my father and my mother good-bye, then I will follow you." Elijah said to him, "Go back again, but think about what I have done to you?"

<sup>21</sup> So Elisha left him and took the yoke of oxen and slew them. Lighting a fire made from the yoke, he cooked the meat of the oxen and gave it to the people, and they ate. Then he got up and followed Elijah and became his assistant.

DASV: 1 Kings 20

<sup>2</sup> He sent messengers into the city to Ahab king of Israel, saying, "This is what Ben-hadad says, <sup>3</sup> 'Your silver and gold are mine, the best of your wives and children, are also mine.'"

<sup>4</sup> The king of Israel answered, "It is just as you have said, my lord, O king. I and all that I have are yours."

<sup>5</sup> The messengers came again and said, "This is what Ben-hadad says, 'I sent to you, saying, 'You must hand over to me your silver, gold, your wives and children.'"

<sup>6</sup> But I will send my servants to you about this time tomorrow, and they will search your house, and the houses of your servants. They will seize everything you have of value and take it away.'"

<sup>7</sup> Then the king of Israel summoned all the elders of the land, and said, "Please note how this man is looking for trouble. I did not refuse when he sent to me for my wives and children, and for my silver and gold."

<sup>8</sup> Then all the elders and all the people advised him, "Do not listen or consent."

<sup>9</sup> So he said to the messengers of Ben-hadad, "Tell my lord the king, 'All that you first demanded of your servant I will do; but this latest demand I cannot agree to.'"

The messengers left, and brought back his answer to Ben-hadad.

<sup>10</sup> Ben-hadad sent another message to him: "The gods do so to me, and more also, if there remains enough dirt in Samaria for each of my soldiers who follow me to scoop up a handful."

<sup>12</sup> When Ben-hadad heard this message, he and the other kings were drinking in their tents. He told his servants, "Prepare to attack." So they prepared to attack the city.

<sup>13</sup> Now a prophet came to Ahab king of Israel, and said, "This is what the LORD says, 'Have you seen this great multitude? I will deliver it into your hand today. Then you will know that I am the LORD.'"

<sup>14</sup> Ahab said, "By whom will he do it?" He said, "This is what the LORD says, 'By the young men of the district governors.'" Then Ahab asked, "Who will begin the battle?" He answered, "You will."

<sup>15</sup> Then he mustered the 232 young men from the district governors, and after them he mustered all the people, even all the Israelites. There were 7,000.

<sup>16</sup> They went out at noon. But Ben-hadad was drinking himself drunk in the tents, he and the thirty-two kings who were allied with him.

<sup>18</sup> He ordered, "Whether they have come out for peace or war, take them alive."

<sup>19</sup> So the young men of the district governors went out of the city with the army following them.

<sup>21</sup> The king of Israel went out, and destroyed the horses and chariots, and struck down the Arameans with a great slaughter.

<sup>22</sup> Meanwhile the prophet came to the king of Israel, and said to him, "Go, strengthen yourself, and be careful, figure out what you must do for in the spring the king of Aram will come up against you again."

<sup>23</sup> The servants of the king of Syria advised him, "Their god is a god of the hills. So they were stronger than we were, but let us fight against them in the plain, and surely we will be stronger than they are."

<sup>25</sup> Muster an army like the one you have lost, horse for horse, and chariot for chariot. Then we will fight against them in the plain, and surely we shall be stronger than they are." So he listened to their voice, and that is what he did.

<sup>26</sup> Next spring, Ben-hadad mustered the Arameans, and went to Aphek, to fight against Israel.

<sup>27</sup> The Israelites were mustered and got their provisions, they went out against them. The Israelites camped before them like two little flocks of goats, but the Arameans filled the country.

<sup>28</sup> A man of God came and spoke to the king of Israel, "This is what the LORD says, 'Because the Syrians have said, "The LORD is a god of the hills, but he is not a god of the valleys," I will deliver all this great multitude into your hand, and you will know that I am the LORD.'"

<sup>29</sup> They camped opposite each other for seven days. On the seventh day the battle began. The Israelites killed 100,000 Aramean foot soldiers in one day.

<sup>30</sup> But the rest fled into the town of Aphek, but the wall fell on 27,000 of the survivors. Now Ben-hadad had fled into the town and was hiding in an inner room.

<sup>31</sup> His servants said to him, "Look, we have heard that the kings of the house of Israel are merciful. Let us put sackcloth around our waists and ropes on our heads, and give ourselves up to the king of Israel, perhaps he will spare your life."

<sup>32</sup> So they put sackcloth around their waists, and put ropes on their heads, and came out to the king of Israel, and said, "Your servant Ben-hadad says, 'I beg you, let me live.'" Ahab asked, "Is he still alive? He is my brother."

<sup>33</sup> Now the men took this as a good omen, and quickly picked up on his words. They added, "Yes, it is your brother Ben-hadad." Then Ahab told them, "Go, get him." Then Ben-hadad came out to him; and Ahab had him come up into his chariot.

<sup>34</sup> Then Ben-hadad said, "The cities my father took from your father I will give back; and you may set up markets for yourself in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria." Then Ahab said, "I will let you go on the basis of this treaty." So Ahab made a treaty with him, and let him go.

<sup>35</sup> One of the sons of the prophets ordered his companion by the word of the LORD, "Please hit me." But the man refused to hit him.

<sup>36</sup> Then said he to him, "Because you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, as soon as you leave me, a lion will kill you." No sooner had he left than a lion attacked him, and killed him.

<sup>37</sup> The prophet found another man, and ordered, "Please hit me." The man struck him and wounded him.

<sup>39</sup> As the king passed by, he cried out to the king "Your servant went out into the thick of the battle. A man turned aside and brought me a prisoner, and said, 'Guard this man. If he ends up missing, then it will be your life for his, or else you will have to pay 75 pounds of silver.

<sup>40</sup> As your servant got busy here and there, the prisoner escaped." So the king of Israel said to him, "So that's what your judgment will be. You have decided it yourself."

<sup>41</sup> He quickly pulled the bandage away from his eyes. The king of Israel recognized that he was one of the prophets.

<sup>42</sup> Then he said to him, "This is what the LORD says, 'Because you have released from your hand the man I had devoted to destruction, therefore you will pay with your life in exchange for his life, and your people for his people.'"

<sup>43</sup> So the king of Israel went home to Samaria sullen and resentful.

<sup>2</sup> Ahab asked Naboth, "Give me your vineyard, that I may have it for a vegetable garden, because it is near my palace. I will give you a better vineyard for it, or if you want I will pay you what it's worth."

<sup>3</sup> But Naboth said to Ahab, "The LORD forbid that I should give you the inheritance of my fathers."

<sup>4</sup> Ahab went into his palace sullen and angry because of what Naboth the Jezreelite had told him, for he said, 'I will not give you the inheritance of my fathers.'" Ahab laid down sulking on his bed, turned away his pouting face, and would not eat.

<sup>5</sup> But Jezebel his wife came to him, and asked him, "Why are you so sad, that you won't even eat?"

<sup>6</sup> So he told her, "Because I spoke to Naboth the Jezreelite, and asked him, 'Sell me your vineyard or else, if you want, I will give you another vineyard for it.' He replied, 'I will not give you my vineyard.'"

<sup>7</sup> Jezebel his wife said to him, "Are you the king of Israel or not? Get up and eat some food and let your heart cheer up. I will get you the vineyard from Naboth the Jezreelite."

<sup>8</sup> So she wrote letters in Ahab's name, and sealed them with his seal, and sent the letters to the elders and nobles that live in Naboth's town with him.

<sup>9</sup> She wrote in the letters, "Proclaim a fast, and set Naboth in a place of honor among the people.

<sup>10</sup> Then seat two scoundrels, across from him, and let them accuse him, 'You cursed God and the king.' Then carry him out and stone him to death."

<sup>11</sup> The men of his town, the elders and the town leaders, did as Jezebel had ordered, just as it was written in the letters she sent them.

<sup>13</sup> The two scoundrels came in and sat opposite him. The scoundrels testified against Naboth, in the presence of the people, alleging, "Naboth cursed God and the king." Then they carried him out of the town, and stoned him to death.

<sup>14</sup> Then they reported to Jezebel, "Naboth has been stoned, and he is dead."

<sup>15</sup> When Jezebel heard that Naboth had been stoned, and was dead, Jezebel told Ahab, "Get up, take possession of the vineyard Naboth the Jezreelite refused to sell you, for Naboth is no longer alive."

<sup>17</sup> But the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying, <sup>18</sup> "Get up, go down to meet Ahab king of Israel, who lives in Samaria. He is in the vineyard of Naboth, where he is gone to take possession of it.

<sup>19</sup> Tell him, 'This is what the LORD says, "Haven't you murdered a man and now taken possession of his property?' You shall say to him, 'This is what the LORD says, 'In the place where dogs licked up the blood of Naboth, dogs will lick up your blood, yes yours.'"

<sup>20</sup> Then Ahab said to Elijah, "Have you found me, O my enemy?" Elijah answered, "I have found you, because you have sold yourself to do what is evil in the sight of the LORD.

<sup>21</sup> He says, 'I will bring disaster on you, and will totally consume you and will cut off every male descendant from Ahab, slave or free, anywhere in Israel.

<sup>22</sup> I will make your house like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha the son of Ahijah because you have provoked me to anger, and led Israel into sin.'

<sup>23</sup> Also concerning Jezebel the LORD says, 'Dogs will eat Jezebel by the outer wall of Jezreel.'

<sup>26</sup> He did disgusting things in worshipping idols, just as the Amorites had done, whom the LORD cast out before the Israelites.

<sup>27</sup> When Ahab heard these words, he tore his clothes, put sackcloth on his bare skin, and fasted. He even slept in sackcloth and went around dejectedly.

<sup>28</sup> The word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying,

<sup>29</sup> "Have you seen how Ahab has humbled himself before me? Because he humbled himself before me, I will not bring the disaster in his lifetime, but in I will bring the disaster on his house in the days of his son."

DASV: 1 Kings 22

<sup>1</sup> For three years there was no war between Syria and Israel.

<sup>2</sup> In the third year, Jehoshaphat the king of Judah came down to visit the king of Israel.

<sup>3</sup> The king of Israel said to his servants, "Do you realize that Ramoth in Gilead is ours, yet we are doing nothing to retake it from the hand of the king of Aram?"

<sup>4</sup> He asked Jehoshaphat, "Will you go with me to battle for Ramoth in Gilead?" Jehoshaphat replied to the king of Israel, "Yes, I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses."

<sup>5</sup> Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, "Let's first inquire what the word of the LORD is concerning this."

<sup>6</sup> So the king of Israel summoned the prophets together, about 400 of them, and asked them, "Shall I go to war against Ramoth Gilead, or shall I wait?" They replied, "Go up, for the Lord will deliver it into the hand of the king."

<sup>7</sup> But Jehoshaphat objected, "Is there not a prophet of the LORD here that we may inquire of him?"

<sup>8</sup> The king of Israel replied to Jehoshaphat, "There is still one man through whom we may inquire of the LORD, Micaiah the son of Imlah, but I hate him, for he does not prophesy anything good about me, only disaster." Jehoshaphat said, "The king shouldn't talk like that."

<sup>9</sup> So the king of Israel summoned an officer, and said, "Quickly, go get Micaiah the son of Imlah."

<sup>11</sup> Zedekiah the son of Kenaanah made iron horns, and said, "This is what the LORD says, 'With these will you push the Arameans, until they are destroyed.'"

<sup>12</sup> All the prophets prophesied the same thing, saying, "Go up to Ramoth Gilead, and be victorious, for the LORD will deliver it into the hand of the king."

<sup>13</sup> The messenger who went to summon Micaiah spoke to him, saying, "Now look, the words of the prophets are unanimously favorable to the king. Let your word, be in agreement with theirs, give a favorable prediction."

<sup>14</sup> Micaiah said, "As the LORD lives, whatever the LORD tells me, that is what I will speak."

<sup>15</sup> When he came to the king, the king asked him, "Micaiah, shall we go to war against Ramoth Gilead, or shall we wait?" He answered, "Go up and be victorious, and the LORD will deliver it into the hand of the king."

<sup>16</sup> Then the king said to him, "How many times must I make you swear that you tell me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?"

<sup>17</sup> Micaiah replied, "I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd. The LORD said, 'These have no master; let each of them go home in peace.'"

<sup>18</sup> The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "Didn't I tell you that he would not prophesy anything good concerning me, but only disaster?"

<sup>19</sup> Micaiah said, "Therefore hear the word of the LORD: 'I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing by him on his right hand and on his left.

<sup>20</sup> Then the LORD asked, 'Who will entice Ahab, so that he will go up and die at Ramoth Gilead?' One proposed this and another that.

<sup>21</sup> Then a spirit came forward, and stood before the LORD, and said, "I will entice him."

<sup>22</sup> The LORD asked him, "How?" He said, "I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets." Then he said, "Go entice him, and you will succeed. Go and do it."

<sup>23</sup> So now look, the LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these prophets of yours and the LORD has pronounced disaster on you."

<sup>24</sup> Then Zedekiah the son of Kenaanah approached Micaiah and slapped him on the cheek, and snarled, "Which way did the Spirit of the LORD go from me to speak to you?"

<sup>25</sup> Micaiah replied, "You will see on the day when you hide yourself in an inner room."

<sup>26</sup> The king of Israel said, "Take Micaiah, and return him to Amon the governor of the city, and to the king's son, Joash."

<sup>27</sup> Tell him, "This is what the king says, 'Put this fellow in the prison, and feed him only a meager ration of bread and water, until I return safely.'"

<sup>28</sup> But Micaiah said, "If you return safely, then the LORD has not spoken through me." He continued, "Listen, you peoples, all of you."

<sup>29</sup> So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth Gilead.

<sup>30</sup> The king of Israel told Jehoshaphat, "I am going to disguise myself before going into the battle; but you put on your royal robes." So the king of Israel disguised himself, and went into the battle.

<sup>31</sup> Now the king of Syria had ordered thirty-two of his chariot commanders, "Don't bother fighting just anyone whether small or great, focus your attack only on the king of Israel."

<sup>32</sup> When the chariot commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they thought, "Surely he is the king of Israel." So they turned to fight against him; but Jehoshaphat cried out.

<sup>33</sup> When the chariot commanders realized that it was not the king of Israel, they broke off their pursuit of him.

<sup>35</sup> The battle raged all that day, and the king was propped up in his chariot in front of the Arameans. The blood ran from the wound into the bottom of the chariot and he died that evening.

<sup>37</sup> So the king died, and was brought to Samaria. They buried the king in Samaria.

<sup>38</sup> As they washed the chariot by the pool of Samaria, the dogs licked up his blood in the place where the prostitutes usually washed themselves; just as the word of the LORD had said.

<sup>39</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Ahab, and all that he did, and the ivory house which he built, and all the towns he built, are they not written in the Scroll of the Annals of the kings of Israel?

<sup>41</sup> Jehoshaphat the son of Asa began to reign over Judah in the fourth year of Ahab king of Israel.

<sup>42</sup> Jehoshaphat was thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

<sup>43</sup> He walked in all the ways of Asa his father, he did not turn aside from it. He did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, although the high places were not removed. The people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places.

<sup>46</sup> The male prostitutes who remained from the days of his father Asa, he removed from the land.

<sup>47</sup> There was no king in Edom at that time, an appointed governor was ruler.

<sup>48</sup> Jehoshaphat built merchant ships and had them go to Ophir for gold, although they never made the trip because the ships were wrecked at Ezion-geber.

<sup>49</sup> Then Ahaziah the son of Ahab said to Jehoshaphat, "Let my servants sail with your servants in the ships." But Jehoshaphat refused.

<sup>51</sup> Ahaziah the son of Ahab began to reign over Israel in Samaria in the seventeenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and he reigned two years over Israel.

<sup>52</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father, and in the way of his mother, and in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin.

<sup>53</sup> He served and worshipped Baal and provoked the LORD, the God of Israel to anger, just like his father had done.

<sup>2</sup> Ahaziah fell through the lattice in his upper chamber in Samaria and hurt himself. He sent messengers, and said to them, "Go, inquire of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron, whether I will recover from this injury."

<sup>3</sup> Now the angel of the LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite, "Get up, go to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and ask them, 'Is it because there is no God in Israel, that you are going to inquire of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron?'"

<sup>4</sup> Now therefore this is what the LORD says, 'You will not leave the bed on which you are confined, but you will surely die.'" So Elijah went and did it.

<sup>5</sup> When the messengers returned to the king, he asked them, "Why have you returned?"

<sup>6</sup> They replied, "A man came up to us, and told us, 'Go back to the king who sent you, and tell him, "This is what the LORD says, 'Is it because there is no God in Israel, that you are sending to inquire of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not leave the bed on which you are confined, but you will surely die.'"""

<sup>7</sup> The king asked them, "What did the man look like who came up to you and told you these things?"

<sup>8</sup> They answered, "He was a hairy man, with a leather belt around his waist." He surmised, "It is Elijah the Tishbite."

<sup>9</sup> So the king sent a captain of fifty with his fifty men to him. He went up to Elijah who was sitting on the top of the hill and told him, "O man of God, the king has ordered, 'Come down here.'"

<sup>10</sup> Elijah answered the captain of fifty, "If I am indeed a man of God, let fire come down from heaven, and consume you and your fifty men." Then fire came down from heaven, and consumed him and his fifty.

<sup>11</sup> Again Ahaziah sent to him another captain of fifty with his fifty men. He said to him, "O man of God, this is what the king has ordered, 'Come down quickly.'"

<sup>12</sup> Elijah replied, "If I am indeed a man of God, let fire come down from heaven, and consume you and your fifty men." Then the fire from God came down from heaven, and consumed him and his fifty.

<sup>13</sup> Again he sent a third captain with his fifty men. The third captain of fifty went up and fell on his knees before Elijah, and begged him, "O man of God, I beg you, let my life, and the life of these fifty servants of yours, be precious in your sight.

<sup>14</sup> Look, fire came down from heaven, and consumed the two previous captains of fifty with their fifties; but now may my life be precious in your sight."

<sup>15</sup> The angel of the LORD said to Elijah, "Go down with him. Do not be afraid of him." So he got up, and went down with him to the king.

<sup>16</sup> Elijah said to the king, "This is what the LORD says, 'Why did you send messengers to inquire of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron; is it because there is no God in Israel to inquire of his word? Therefore you will not come down from the bed on which you are confined, but you will surely die.'"

<sup>17</sup> So Ahaziah died according to the word of the LORD that Elijah had spoken. Jehoram began to reign in his place in the second year of Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, because Ahaziah had no son.

<sup>18</sup> Now the rest of the acts that Ahaziah did, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

DASV: 2 Kings 2

<sup>1</sup> When the LORD was about to take Elijah up into heaven in a whirlwind, Elijah and Elisha traveled from Gilgal.

<sup>2</sup> Elijah told Elisha, "Wait here, for the LORD has sent me to Bethel. Elisha responded, "As surely as the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, I will not leave you." So they went down to Bethel.

<sup>3</sup> The sons of the prophets who were in Bethel came out to Elisha, and asked him, "Do you know that the LORD will take your master away from you today?" He replied, "Yes, I know, be quiet about it."

<sup>4</sup> Then Elijah told him, "Elisha, wait here, for the LORD has sent me to Jericho." He responded, "As surely as the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, I will not leave you." So they went to Jericho.

<sup>5</sup> The sons of the prophets who were at Jericho approached Elisha, and asked him, "Do you know that the LORD will take your master away from you today?" He replied, "Yes, I know, be quiet about it."

<sup>6</sup> Then Elijah told him, "Wait here, for the LORD has sent me to the Jordan River." He responded, "As surely as the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, I will not leave you." So they went on together.

<sup>7</sup> Fifty men of the sons of the prophets also went and stood at a distance as the two of them stood by the Jordan River.

<sup>8</sup> Then Elijah took his cloak, rolled it up, and struck the water with it. The water split to the one side and other, so that they crossed over on dry ground.

<sup>9</sup> After they crossed, Elijah said to Elisha, "Tell me what I can do for you before I am taken away from you." Elisha replied, "Let me inherit a double portion of your spirit."

<sup>10</sup> Elijah said, "What you've requested is difficult. If you see me when I am taken away from you, your request will be granted, but if not, it won't happen."

<sup>11</sup> As they continued walking on and talking, suddenly a chariot of fire and horses of fire appeared. They separated the two of them and Elijah went up in a whirlwind into heaven.

<sup>12</sup> When Elisha saw it, he cried out, "My father, my father. The chariots of Israel and its horsemen!" That was the last Elisha saw of him. He grabbed hold of his own clothes and tore them in two pieces.

<sup>13</sup> He picked up the cloak that had fallen from Elijah, and went back and stood on the bank of the Jordan River.

<sup>14</sup> Then he took the cloak of Elijah that had fallen from him, and struck the waters, and asked, "Where is the LORD, the God of Elijah?" When he hit the waters, they divided to the one side and the other, and Elisha crossed over.

<sup>15</sup> When the sons of the prophets who were at Jericho some way off saw him, they said, "The spirit of Elijah rests on Elisha." They came out to meet him, and bowed themselves to the ground before him.

<sup>16</sup> They said to him, "Look, there are fifty capable men with your servants. Please let them go, and look for your master, lest the Spirit of the LORD has taken him up, and thrown him on some mountain, or into some valley." But he said, "No, don't send them."

<sup>17</sup> They continued to pester him until he was ashamed to refuse. He said, "Send them." So they sent the fifty men, and they searched for three days, but did not find him.

<sup>18</sup> When they came back to him, while he was staying at Jericho, he said to them, "Didn't I tell you not to go?"

<sup>19</sup> The men of the town said to Elisha, "The location of the town is good, as my lord can see, but the water is bad, and the land unproductive."

<sup>20</sup> Then he said, "Bring me a new bowl, and put salt in it." So they brought it to him.

<sup>21</sup> Elisha went out to the spring and threw the salt into it, and said, "This is what the LORD says, 'I have purified these waters. No longer will death or infertility come from it.'"

<sup>22</sup> So the waters were purified to this day, just as Elisha had spoken.

<sup>23</sup> He went up from there to Bethel. As he was going up on the road, some boys came out of the town, and mocked him, heckling him, "Go up, baldy. Go up, baldy."

<sup>24</sup> He turned around and saw them, and cursed them in the name of the LORD. Then two female bears came out of the woods, and mauled forty-two of the boys.

<sup>25</sup> From there he went to Mount Carmel, and then he returned to Samaria.

DASV: 2 Kings 3

<sup>1</sup> Now Jehoram the son of Ahab began to reign over Israel in Samaria in the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah. He reigned twelve years.

<sup>2</sup> He did evil in the sight of the LORD, but not like his father and mother; for he put away the sacred pillar of Baal that his father had made.

<sup>3</sup> Nevertheless he embraced the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who led Israel to sin; he did not turn away from it.

<sup>4</sup> Now Mesha king of Moab was a sheep breeder. He paid 100,000 lambs, and the wool of 100,000 rams as tribute to the king of Israel.

<sup>6</sup> So king Jehoram went out of Samaria at that time and mustered all Israel.

<sup>7</sup> He sent this request to Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, "The king of Moab has rebelled against me. Will you go with me against Moab to battle?" Jehoshaphat replied, "I will go up with you. I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses."

<sup>8</sup> Jehoshaphat asked, "Which way shall we go up?" Jehoram replied, "By the way of the wilderness of Edom."

<sup>9</sup> So the king of Israel set out along with the king of Judah and the king of Edom. They made a roundabout march of seven days, and there was no water either for the troops or for the animals that were with them.

<sup>10</sup> So the king of Israel said, "Unfortunately the LORD has called us three kings together to be delivered into the hand of Moab."

<sup>11</sup> But Jehoshaphat said, "Is there not here a prophet of the LORD, through whom we may inquire of the LORD?" One of the king of Israel's servants answered, "Elisha the son of Shaphat is here. He used to pour water on the hands of Elijah."

<sup>12</sup> So Jehoshaphat said, "The word of the LORD is with him." So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat and the king of Edom went down to him.

<sup>13</sup> Elisha said to the king of Israel, "What do I have do with you? Go to your father's and mother's prophets." But the king of Israel said to him, "No, for the LORD has called us three kings together to be delivered into the hand of Moab."

<sup>14</sup> Elisha said, "As the LORD of hosts lives, before whom I stand, surely, if were it not that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, I would not even look at or pay attention to you.

<sup>15</sup> But now bring me a musician." Now when the musician played, the hand of the LORD came on him.

<sup>16</sup> Then he said, "This is what the LORD says, 'Make this valley full of trenches.'

<sup>17</sup> For this is what the LORD says, 'You will not see wind or rain, yet this valley will be filled with water, and you will drink, both you, your cattle and your animals.'

<sup>18</sup> This is but a trivial matter in the sight of the LORD. He will also deliver the Moabites into your hand.

<sup>19</sup> You will conquer every fortified city, and every choice city. You will cut down every good tree, and stop up all the springs, and ruin every good piece of land with stones."

<sup>20</sup> The next day, about the time of the morning offering, all of a sudden water came running from the direction of Edom and the land was filled with water.

<sup>21</sup> Now when all the Moabites heard that the kings had come up to fight against them, they gathered themselves together, everyone old enough to put on armor stationed themselves at the border.

<sup>22</sup> They got up early in the morning, and the sun shone on the water. To the Moabites who were some distance away the water looked as red as blood.

<sup>23</sup> They concluded, "This is blood; the kings must have fought and destroyed each other. Now therefore, Moab, grab the plunder."

<sup>24</sup> When they came to the camp of Israel, the Israelites rose up and struck down the Moabites, so that they fled before them. They proceeded into their land striking down the Moabites.

<sup>25</sup> They pulled down their cities, and each man threw a stone on every good piece of land until it was covered. They stopped up all the springs, and cut down all the good trees. Only Kir-hareseth had its stones left intact, but the men with slings surrounded it and attacked it.

<sup>26</sup> When the king of Moab saw that he was losing the battle, he took with him 700 swordsmen, in an attempt to break through to the king of Edom; but they were unable to do so.

<sup>27</sup> Then he took his eldest son who should have reigned in his place, and offered him for a burnt offering upon the wall. There was great wrath against Israel, so they withdrew, and returned to their own land.

DASV: 2 Kings 4

<sup>1</sup> Now one of the wives of the sons of the prophets cried out to Elisha, "Your servant my husband is dead, and you know that your servant feared the LORD. The creditor has come to take away my two boys as slaves."

<sup>2</sup> Elisha asked her, "What can I do for you? Tell me, what do you have in the house?" She replied, "Your servant has nothing except a small jar of olive oil in the house."

<sup>3</sup> Then he said, "Go, borrow as many empty containers from your neighbors as you can.

<sup>4</sup> Go in shutting the door behind you and your sons. Then pour the oil into all those containers; and when each one is full set it aside."

<sup>5</sup> So she left him, and shut the door behind her and her sons. As they brought the containers to her, she kept pouring.

<sup>6</sup> When the containers were full, she said to her son, "Bring me another container." But he replied, "There are no more." Then the olive oil stopped flowing.

<sup>7</sup> When she came and told the man of God, he said, "Go, sell the olive oil, and pay your debt, and you and your sons can live on the rest."

<sup>8</sup> One day Elisha was passing by Shunem. There was a wealthy woman who lived there who invited him for a meal. So whenever he passed by, he would stop in for something to eat.

<sup>9</sup> She said to her husband, "Look, I'm certain that the man who regularly visits us is a holy man of God.

<sup>10</sup> Let's build a small upper room for him with a bed, table, chair and candlestick. Then whenever he visits us he will have a place to stay."

<sup>11</sup> One day when Elisha went there, he went up to the guestroom and laid down.

<sup>12</sup> He said to Gehazi his servant, "Call this Shunammite." So he called her and she stood before him.

<sup>13</sup> He said to Gehazi, "Tell her, you have gone to all this trouble for us; what can we do for you? Can we put in a good word for you to the king or the captain of the army?" She answered, "I'm well taken care of by my own people."

<sup>14</sup> Elisha asked, "What then can we do for her?" Gehazi replied, "Well, she has no son, and her husband is old."

<sup>15</sup> So Elisha said, "Call her." So he called her, and she stood at the door.

<sup>16</sup> He said, "At this time next year you will hold a son in your arms." She said, "No, my lord! O man of God, do not deceive your servant."

<sup>17</sup> But the woman conceived, and bore a son at that time the following year just as Elisha had told her.

<sup>18</sup> One day when the child had grown, he went out to his father who was with the reapers.

<sup>19</sup> He complained to his father, "My head, my head." His father said to his servant, "Carry him back to his mother."

<sup>20</sup> So the servant carried him, and brought him to his mother. The boy sat on her lap until noon, and then died.

<sup>21</sup> She went up and laid the boy on the bed of the man of God, and shut the door on him and left.

<sup>22</sup> She called her husband, and said, "Please send me one of the servants and one of the donkeys, so that I may go to the man of God quickly, then come back again."

<sup>23</sup> He said, "Why would you go to him today? It is not a new moon or Sabbath." She said, "It will be all right."

<sup>24</sup> Then she saddled a donkey, and said to her servant, "Hurry up, don't slow down unless I tell you to."

<sup>25</sup> So she went out and came to the man of God at Mount Carmel. When the man of God saw her in the distance, he said to Gehazi his servant, "Look, there's the Shunammite woman."

<sup>26</sup> Please run to meet her, and say to her, 'Is everything all right? Is your husband all right? Is the child well?'" Then she answered, "Everything is fine."

<sup>27</sup> When she came to the man of God at the mountain, she caught hold of his feet. Gehazi came near to push her away, but the man of God said, "Leave her alone, for she is deeply troubled; and the LORD has hidden it from me, and has not told me."

<sup>28</sup> Then she said, "Did I ask my lord for a son? Did I not say, 'Do not deceive me?'"

<sup>29</sup> Then Elisha told Gehazi, "Tuck your robes up, and take my staff in your hand, and go. If you meet anyone, do not greet him; and if anyone greets you, do not answer him. Lay my staff on the child's face."

<sup>30</sup> The mother of the child said, "As the LORD lives, and as you live, I will not leave you." So Elisha got up and followed her.

<sup>31</sup> Gehazi ran on ahead of them, and laid the staff on the child's face but there was no sound or sign of life. So Gehazi returned to meet Elisha and told him, "The child has not awakened."

<sup>32</sup> When Elisha arrived at the house, there was the child dead, lying on his bed.

<sup>33</sup> So he went in and shut the door on the two of them, and prayed to the LORD.

<sup>34</sup> He went up, and lay upon the child, putting his mouth on his mouth, his eyes upon his eyes and his hands upon his hands. As he stretched himself out on him, the flesh of the child became warm.

<sup>35</sup> Then Elisha got up and walked back and forth in the room. He again got on the bed and stretched himself out on him and the child sneezed seven times and opened his eyes.

<sup>36</sup> Elisha called Gehazi, and said, "Call this Shunammite." So he called her. When she came in, he said, "Take your son."

<sup>38</sup> Now when Elisha returned to Gilgal there was a famine in the land. The sons of the prophets were sitting before him, and he said to his servant, "Put the large pot on the fire, and boil stew for the sons of the prophets."

<sup>39</sup> One of them went out into the field to gather some herbs and found a wild vine. He picked a lap full of wild gourds from it, and came and cut them up into the pot of stew although no one knew what they were.

<sup>40</sup> So they dished up the stew for the men to eat. As they were eating from the stew, they cried out, "O man of God, there is death in the pot." They could not eat it.

<sup>41</sup> But Elisha said, "Then bring me some flour." He threw it into the pot. Then he said, "Dish it up for the people, so that they may eat." Then there was nothing harmful in the pot.

<sup>42</sup> A man came from Baal-shalishah, and brought the man of God from the firstfruits, twenty barley loaves and some fresh ears of grain in his sack. Elisha said, "Give it to the people, so that they may eat."

<sup>43</sup> His servant said, "How can I set this before a hundred men?" But he said, "Give it to the people, so that they may eat. For this is what the LORD says, 'They will eat, and have some leftover.'"

<sup>44</sup> So he set it before them, they ate, and there were leftovers, according to the word of the LORD.

DASV: 2 Kings 5

<sup>1</sup> Now Naaman, commander of the army of the king of Aram, was a great man and highly respected by his master, because through him the LORD had given victory to Aram. He was also a mighty warrior, but he had a skin disease.

<sup>2</sup> The Arameans had in one of their raids taken captive a young girl out of the land of Israel and she became a servant to Naaman's wife.

<sup>3</sup> She said to her mistress, "If only my lord could visit the prophet that is in Samaria. He would heal him of his skin disease."

<sup>4</sup> So Naaman went and told his master what the girl from the land of Israel had said to him.

<sup>5</sup> The king of Aram said, "Go now, and I will send a letter to the king of Israel." So he left, and brought with him 750 pounds of silver, and 150 pounds of gold, and ten sets of clothes.

<sup>6</sup> He presented the letter to the king of Israel, saying, "With this letter I have sent to you my servant Naaman, so that you may cure him of his skin disease."

<sup>7</sup> When the king of Israel finished reading the letter he tore his clothes and objected, "Am I God, to kill and to make alive? Why does this man ask me to cure a man of his skin disease? See how he is seeking to pick a fight with me."

<sup>8</sup> When Elisha, the man of God, heard that the king of Israel had torn his clothes, he sent to the king, saying, "Why have you torn your clothes? Send him to me, and he will know that there is a prophet in Israel."

<sup>10</sup> Elisha sent a messenger to him saying, "Go and wash in the Jordan River seven times, and your flesh will be restored, and you will be clean."

<sup>11</sup> But Naaman was furious and left, complaining, "I expected that he would surely come out to meet me, stand and call on the name of the LORD his God, and wave his hand over the spot, and cure the disease.

<sup>12</sup> Are not the rivers of Damascus, the Abana and Pharpar, better than any of the waters in Israel? Could I not just wash in them and be cleansed?" So he turned and went away in a rage.

<sup>13</sup> His servants approached him and said, "My father, if the prophet had asked you to do some great thing, wouldn't you have done it? How much more then, when all he tells you is to 'Wash, and be clean'?"

<sup>14</sup> So he went down, and dipped himself seven times in the Jordan River, as the man of God had told him to. His skin became like the skin of a little child, and he was clean.

<sup>15</sup> He returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and came and stood before him. He said, "Now I know that there is no God in all the earth except in Israel. Please accept a present from your servant."

<sup>16</sup> But Elisha replied, "As the LORD lives, before whom I serve, I will not accept anything from you." Naaman urged him to take it, but Elisha still refused.

<sup>17</sup> Naaman said, "If not, please let your servant load up my two mules with dirt; for your servant will no longer offer burnt offerings or sacrifices to any other gods except the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> But may the LORD forgive your servant. When my master goes into the temple of Rimmon to worship there, and he leans on my arm, and I bow myself in the temple of Rimmon, may the LORD forgive your servant for this."

<sup>19</sup> So Elisha said to him, "Go in peace." But when he had traveled a little way,

<sup>20</sup> Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, thought, "My master has let this Aramean Naaman off too easily in not accepting from his hands that which he offered him. As the LORD lives, I will run after him, and get something out of him."

<sup>21</sup> So Gehazi went after Naaman. When Naaman saw him running after him, he got down from his chariot to meet him, and asked, "Is everything all right?"

<sup>22</sup> He replied, "Everything is fine. My master has sent me, saying, 'Two men of the sons of the prophets have come to me just now from the hill-country of Ephraim. Would you be kind enough to give them 75 pounds of silver and two sets of clothes.'"

<sup>23</sup> Naaman said, "Please accept 150 pounds of silver." He insisted and tied up two bags of silver along with two sets of clothes, and gave them to two of his servants who carried them for Gehazi.

<sup>24</sup> When he came to the citadel, he took the items from their hand, and stowed them away in the house. Then he dismissed the men and they left.

<sup>25</sup> But when he went in and stood before his master, Elisha asked him, "Where have you been, Gehazi?" He replied, "Your servant hasn't gone anywhere."

<sup>26</sup> Elisha said to him, "Didn't my heart go with you, when the man turned from his chariot to meet you? Is this the time to receive money and clothes, olive groves and vineyards, sheep and cattle and male and female servants?"

<sup>27</sup> Therefore Naaman's skin disease will cling to you, and to your descendants forever." Then Gehazi left his presence with his skin having become white as snow.

DASV: 2 Kings 6

<sup>1</sup> The sons of the prophets said to Elisha, "Look, the place we are living with you is too small for us.

<sup>2</sup> Please, let us go to the Jordan River, and each of us will get a log and make a place for us to live there." He replied, "Go ahead."

<sup>3</sup> One of them said, "Please, come with your servants." He replied, "I will."

<sup>4</sup> So he went with them. When they came to the Jordan, they began cutting down trees.

<sup>5</sup> But as one of them was cutting down a tree, the ax head fell into the water. He yelled, "Oh, my master, it was borrowed."

<sup>6</sup> The man of God said, "Where did it fall?" He showed him the place. Elisha cut down a stick, and threw it in at that spot, and made the iron ax head float.

<sup>7</sup> Then Elisha said, "Pick it up." So he reached out his hand and grabbed it.

<sup>8</sup> Now the king of Aram was at war with Israel so he consulted with his officers, saying, "We should set up camp in such and such a place."

<sup>9</sup> The man of God sent to the king of Israel, saying, "Beware that you don't pass by this place, because the Arameans are going down there."

<sup>10</sup> The king of Israel sent a message to the place the man of God told and warned him about. So several times he protected himself in such places.

<sup>11</sup> The heart of the king of Aram was very troubled over this. So he summoned his officers, and asked them, "Which of you has betrayed us to the king of Israel?"

<sup>12</sup> One of his officers said, "No, my lord, O king, but Elisha, the prophet who is in Israel, tells the king of Israel the very words you speak in your bedroom."

<sup>13</sup> So the king ordered, "Go and find out where he is, so that I may send troops and capture him." He was told, "Look, he is in Dothan."

<sup>14</sup> Therefore he sent horses, chariots and a large army there. They came at night and surrounded the city.

<sup>15</sup> When the servant of the man of God got up early, and went out, an army with horses and chariots was surrounding the city. His servant asked him, "Oh no, my master! What can we do now?"

<sup>16</sup> He replied, "Do not be afraid; for there are more with us than there are with them."

<sup>17</sup> Elisha prayed, and said, "LORD, I pray, open his eyes, so that he may see." The LORD opened the eyes of the young man, and he saw that the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire all around Elisha.

<sup>18</sup> When they came down to him, Elisha prayed to the LORD, and said, "Please strike this people with blindness." So he struck them with blindness according to the word of Elisha.

<sup>19</sup> Then Elisha said to them, "This is the wrong way and the wrong city. Follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom you are seeking." Then he led them to Samaria.

<sup>20</sup> When they arrived at Samaria, Elisha prayed, "LORD, open the eyes of these men, that they may see." So the LORD opened their eyes, and they saw that they were in the middle of Samaria.

<sup>21</sup> When he saw them, the king of Israel asked Elisha, "My father, should I kill them? Should I kill them?"

<sup>22</sup> He answered, "No, do not kill them. Would you kill those you have taken captive with your sword and bow? Give them food and water, so they may eat and drink, and then return to their master."

<sup>23</sup> So he prepared a great feast for them, and after they had eaten and drunk, he sent them on their way, and they returned to their master. After that no more raiding parties from Aram entered the land of Israel.

<sup>25</sup> There was a great famine in Samaria. They laid siege to it, until a donkey's head was sold for eighty pieces of silver, and a cup of dove's dung for five pieces of silver.

<sup>26</sup> As the king of Israel was passing by on the wall, a woman cried out to him, "Help, my lord, O king."

<sup>27</sup> He replied, "If the LORD does not help you, how can I help you? From the empty threshing floor or winepress?"

<sup>28</sup> The king asked her, "What is the problem?" She replied, "This woman said to me, 'Give up your son, let's eat him today, and tomorrow we will eat my son.'

<sup>29</sup> So we boiled my son, and ate him. The next day I said to her, 'Give up your son, so we may eat him,' and now she has hidden her son."

<sup>30</sup> When the king heard the words of the woman, he tore his clothes. As he was passing by on the wall, the people could see that he was wearing sackcloth next to his skin under his robe.

<sup>31</sup> Then he said, "God do so to me, and more also, if the head of Elisha the son of Shaphat stays on his shoulders today."

<sup>32</sup> But Elisha was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him. The king sent a messenger but before the messenger arrived, Elisha said to the elders, "Are you not aware that this son of a murderer has sent someone to cut off my head? When the messenger arrives, shut the door and hold it closed against him. Is not the sound of his master's feet coming behind him?"

<sup>33</sup> Right then, while he was yet talking with them, the messenger arrived. He said, "This evil is from the LORD. Why should I wait for the LORD any longer?"

DASV: 2 Kings 7

<sup>1</sup> Then Elisha said, "Hear the word of the LORD: This is what the LORD says, 'Tomorrow about this time, five quarts of fine flour will be sold for a shekel, and ten quarts of barley for a shekel, in the gate of Samaria.'"

<sup>2</sup> Then the officer on whose arm the king leaned answered the man of God, "Even if the LORD should open the windows of heaven, could this really happen?" Elisha replied, "You will see it with your own eyes, but you will not eat any of it."

<sup>3</sup> Now there were four leprous men at the entrance of the gate. They said to each other, "Why should we just sit here until we die?"

<sup>4</sup> If we say, 'We will enter the city,' there is famine in the city, and we will starve to death there. If we sit here, we will die too. So come on, let's surrender to the Aramean army. If they spare our lives, we will live, and if they kill us, we would have died anyway."

<sup>5</sup> So they got up in the twilight to go to the camp of the Arameans. When they came to the edge of the Aramean camp, there was no one there.

<sup>6</sup> For the Lord had caused the Aramean army to hear the sound of chariots and horses, and the sound of a great army. They said to each other, "The king of Israel has hired the kings of the Hittites and the Egyptians to fight against us."

<sup>7</sup> So they got up and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, horses and donkeys. They left the camp just as it was and ran for their lives.

<sup>8</sup> When these lepers came to the edge of the camp, they went into one tent, and ate and drank, and carried off silver, gold, and clothes, and went and hid them. Then they came back, and entered into another tent, and carried off its spoils also, and went and hid them.

<sup>9</sup> Then they said to each other, "This isn't right. This day is a day of good news, and we haven't told anyone. If we wait until morning, we will be punished. So let's go and tell the royal palace."

<sup>10</sup> So they came and called out to the gatekeepers of the city. They told them, "We went to the camp of the Arameans, and there was no one there. The horses and donkeys were tied up, and the tents were left as they were, but there was not a sound from anyone there."

<sup>12</sup> The king got up in the night, and said to his officers, "I will tell you what the Arameans have done to trick us. They know that we are starving; so they have left the camp and are hiding in the field, thinking, 'When they come out of the city, we will take them alive, and get into the city.'"

behind, they will be just like all the Israelites who are going to die anyway. Let us send them out and find out what's going on."

<sup>14</sup> They took two chariots with horses; and the king sent them after the Aramean army, saying, "Go and find out what's going on."

<sup>15</sup> They followed them as far as the Jordan River, all the way was littered with garments and equipment that the Arameans had thrown away in their haste. The messengers returned and told the king.

<sup>16</sup> Then the people went out and plundered the camp of the Arameans. So five quarts of fine flour was sold for a shekel, and ten quarts of barley for a shekel, just as the word of the LORD had said.

<sup>17</sup> The king put the commander on whose arm he leaned in charge of the city gate. The people trampled him to death in the city gate, just as the man of God had predicted, who spoke when the king came down to him.

<sup>18</sup> The man of God told the king, "Tomorrow about this time in the gate of Samaria ten quarts of barley will be sold for a shekel, and a five quarts of fine flour for a shekel."

<sup>19</sup> For that officer had said to the man of God, "Even if the LORD should open the windows of heaven, how could such a thing be?" Elisha replied, "You will see it with your own eyes, but you will not eat any of it."

<sup>20</sup> So this is precisely what happened to him. The people trampled him to death in the city gate.

DASV: 2 Kings 8

<sup>1</sup> Now Elisha had spoken to the woman, whose son he had restored to life, saying, "You and your family should go to live somewhere else, for the LORD has called for a famine on the land that will last for seven years."

<sup>2</sup> The woman did as the man of God had said. She and her family settled in the land of the Philistines for seven years.

<sup>4</sup> Now the king was talking with Gehazi the servant of the man of God, saying, "Tell me, all the great things that Elisha has done."

<sup>5</sup> As he was telling the king about how Elisha had restored to life one who was dead, the woman whose son he had brought back to life, appealed to the king for her house and her land. So Gehazi said, "My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Elisha brought back to life."

<sup>6</sup> When the king asked the woman about it, she told him what had happened. So the king assigned a certain officer to her, saying, "Give back everything that was hers, along with all the produce of the field since the day that she left the land until now."

<sup>7</sup> Elisha went to Damascus, while Benhadad the king of Aram was sick. He was told, "The man of God has come here."

<sup>8</sup> The king said to Hazael, "Take a present in your hand, and go, meet the man of God, and inquire of the LORD through him, 'Will I recover from this sickness?'"

<sup>9</sup> So Hazael went to meet him, and took presents with him, from all the good things of Damascus loaded on forty camels. He came and stood before him, and said, "Your son Benhadad king of Aram has sent me to you, asking, 'Will I recover from this sickness?'"

<sup>10</sup> Elisha said to him, "Go tell him, 'You will surely recover,' but the LORD has revealed to me that he will surely die."

<sup>11</sup> Elisha looked straight at Hazael staring at him until Hazael became embarrassed. Then the man of God wept.

<sup>12</sup> So Hazael asked, "Why are you crying my lord?" Elisha replied, "Because I know the evil that you will do to the children of Israel. You will set their fortresses on fire, kill their young men with the sword, dash their little ones in pieces, and rip open their pregnant women."

<sup>13</sup> But Hazael said, "But how could your servant, who is merely an insignificant dog, do this great thing?" Elisha answered, "The LORD has revealed to me that you will be king over Aram."

<sup>14</sup> Then Hazael left Elisha, came to his master, who asked him, "What did Elisha tell you?" Hazael answered, "He told me that you would surely recover."

<sup>15</sup> But the next day, Hazael took a blanket, soaked it in water and spread it on his face, so that he died. Then Hazael reigned in his place.

<sup>16</sup> In the fifth year of Joram the son of Ahab king of Israel, Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat king of Judah began to reign.

<sup>17</sup> He was thirty-two years old when he became king and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

<sup>18</sup> He walked in the way of the kings of Israel, just as the house of Ahab did for he had married the daughter of Ahab. He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD.

<sup>20</sup> In his days Edom revolted against the hand of Judah, and set up their own king.

<sup>21</sup> Then Jehoram [also called Joram] passed over to Zair with all his chariots. He got up at night and struck down the Edomites who had surrounded him and his chariot commanders; but his troops fled back home.

<sup>22</sup> So Edom revolted against the rule of Judah to this day. The town of Libnah also revolted at that same time.

<sup>26</sup> Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he became king and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Athaliah the granddaughter of Omri king of Israel.

<sup>27</sup> He walked in the way of the house of Ahab. He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as the house of Ahab had done, for he was related by marriage to the house of Ahab.

<sup>28</sup> He went with Joram the son of Ahab to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead. Now the Arameans wounded Joram.

<sup>29</sup> King Joram returned to recover in Jezreel from the wounds the Arameans had inflicted on him at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael king of Aram. Then Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah went down to see Joram the son of Ahab in Jezreel, because he was wounded.

DASV: 2 Kings 9

<sup>1</sup> Elisha the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said to him, "Tuck your cloak up into your belt, and quickly take this flask of olive oil in your hand, and go to Ramoth Gilead.

<sup>2</sup> When you arrive there, look for Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat the son of Nimshi, and go in and get him away from his companions, and bring him to a private inner chamber.

<sup>3</sup> Take the flask of olive oil, pour it on his head, and say, "This is what the LORD says, 'I have anointed you king over Israel.'" Then open the door, and get out of there quickly.

<sup>4</sup> So the young servant of the prophet went to Ramoth Gilead.

<sup>5</sup> When he arrived, the army officers were sitting around. He announced, "I have a message for you, commander." Jehu asked, "For which one of us?" He replied, "For you, commander."

<sup>6</sup> So he got up and went into the house. Then the prophet poured the olive oil on his head, and said to him, "This is what the LORD says, the God of Israel, 'I have anointed you king over the LORD's people, Israel.

<sup>7</sup> You will strike down the house of Ahab your master, so that I may avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the LORD shed by Jezebel.

<sup>8</sup> For the whole house of Ahab will perish, and I will cut off from Ahab every male child, slave or free that is left anywhere in Israel.

<sup>9</sup> I will make the house of Ahab like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha the son of Ahijah.

<sup>10</sup> The dogs will eat Jezebel in the parcel of land in Jezreel, and no one will bury her.'" Then he opened the door, and fled.

<sup>11</sup> When Jehu returned to his master's officers, one of them asked him, "Is everything all right? Why did this madman want to talk to you?" Jehu replied, "You know what type of person he is and the types of things they usually say."

<sup>12</sup> They said, "That isn't true, come on tell us." So he said, "This is what he said to me, 'This is what the LORD says, 'I have anointed you king over Israel.'""

<sup>13</sup> Then each of them quickly took off his cloak and spread them under Jehu's feet on the stairs. They blew the trumpet, shouting, "Jehu is king."

<sup>14</sup> So Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat the son of Nimshi conspired against Joram. Now Joram and all Israel were guarding Ramoth Gilead against Hazael king of Aram.

<sup>15</sup> But king Joram had returned to recover in Jezreel from the wounds the Arameans had given him, when he fought with Hazael king of Aram. Jehu said, "If this is what you want, then don't let anyone escape from the city, to report it in Jezreel."

<sup>16</sup> So Jehu rode in a chariot, and went to Jezreel, where Joram lay wounded and Ahaziah king of Judah had come down to see Joram.

<sup>17</sup> Now the watchman was standing on the tower in Jezreel, and he spotted the troops of Jehu as he came, and announced, "I see troops." Joram said, "Send a horseman to meet them, and let him ask, 'Are you coming in peace?'"

<sup>18</sup> So a horsemen rode out to meet Jehu, and said, "This is what the king says, 'Are you coming in peace?'" Jehu replied, "What have you to do with peace? Fall in behind me." The watchman reported, "The messenger came to them, but he isn't coming back."

<sup>19</sup> So the king sent out a second rider, who came to them, and asked, "This is what the king says, 'Are you coming in peace?'" Jehu replied, "What have you to do with peace? Fall in behind me."

<sup>20</sup> The watchman reported, "He came to them but he isn't coming back either. The driving is like the driving of Jehu the son of Nimshi; for he drives like a maniac."

<sup>21</sup> Joram said, "Make ready." So they got his chariot ready. Then Joram king of Israel and Ahaziah king of Judah went out, each in his chariot, to meet Jehu. They met him in the portion of land belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite.

<sup>22</sup> When Joram saw Jehu, he asked, "Have you come in peace, Jehu?" He answered, "What peace can there be, as long as the idolatry and witchcraft of your mother Jezebel continue?"

<sup>25</sup> Then Jehu ordered Bidkar, his officer, "Pick him up, and throw him into the portion of the field belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite. Remember when you and I rode together behind Ahab his father, that the LORD made this pronouncement of judgment on him.

<sup>26</sup> 'Surely I have seen the blood of Naboth, and the blood of his sons yesterday,' says the LORD. I will repay you on this plot of ground' says the LORD. Now therefore pick him up and throw him into the plot of ground, in accordance with the word of the LORD."

<sup>27</sup> But when Ahaziah the king of Judah saw this, he fled by the way of Beth-haggan. Jehu chased after him, and said, "Shoot him too." So they shot him in the chariot at the ascent of Gur, near Ibleam. He fled to Megiddo, and died there.

<sup>28</sup> His servants took him in a chariot to Jerusalem, and buried him in his tomb with his fathers in the city of David.

<sup>29</sup> Ahaziah began to reign over Judah in the eleventh year of Joram the son of Ahab.

<sup>30</sup> When Jehu came to Jezreel, Jezebel heard it, so she painted her eyes, and fixed her hair, and looked out the window.

<sup>31</sup> As Jehu entered in the city gate, she said, "Have you come in peace, Zimri, your master's murderer?"

<sup>32</sup> He lifted up his face to the window, and shouted, "Who is on my side? Who?" Two or three eunuchs were looking out at him.

<sup>33</sup> He ordered, "Throw her down." So they threw her down, and some of her blood was splattered on the wall, and on the horses as Jehu trampled her under their hooves.

<sup>34</sup> When he had come in, he ate and drank, and he said, "Take care of this cursed woman, and bury her; for she is a king's daughter."

<sup>35</sup> They went to bury her but found only her skull, feet and the palms of her hands.

<sup>36</sup> When they came back and told him, he said, "This is the word of the LORD, which he spoke through his servant Elijah the Tishbite, saying, 'In the plot of ground in Jezreel dogs will devour the flesh of Jezebel.'

<sup>37</sup> Jezebel's corpse will be as dung on the face of the ground in the territory of Jezreel, so that no one will say, "This is Jezebel.'"

DASV: 2 Kings 10

<sup>1</sup> Now Ahab had seventy sons living in Samaria. Jehu wrote letters, and sent them to Samaria, to the rulers of Jezreel, the elders, and to the guardians who brought up the sons of Ahab, saying,

<sup>2</sup> "Since your master's sons are with you, and there are at your disposal chariots and horses, a fortified city, and weapons, as soon as this letter arrives

<sup>3</sup> select the best and ablest of your master's sons, and set him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's house."

<sup>4</sup> But they were absolutely terrified, and said, "Look, two kings could not stand against him, how then can we?"

<sup>5</sup> So the overseer of the palace, mayor of the city, the elders, and those guardians of the king's children, sent this message to Jehu, "We are your servants, and will do whatever you tell us. We will not make anyone king. Do whatever you think best."

<sup>6</sup> Then he wrote a letter the second time to them, saying, "If you are on my side, and if you will obey my voice, then take the heads of your master's sons, and come to me in Jezreel by this time tomorrow." Now the seventy king's sons were with the leading men of the city who brought them up.

<sup>7</sup> When the letter came to them, they took the king's sons, and killed all seventy of them, and put their heads in baskets, and sent them to Jehu at Jezreel.

<sup>8</sup> A messenger came and told him, "They have brought the heads of the king's sons." Jehu ordered, "Stack them into two heaps at the entrance of the city gate until morning."

<sup>9</sup> In the morning, he went out and stood there, and told all the people, "You are innocent. It was I who conspired against my master, and killed him; but who struck down all these?"

<sup>10</sup> Know now that not one of the LORD's words which the LORD spoke concerning the house of Ahab will fall to the earth unfulfilled. The LORD has done exactly what he promised through his servant Elijah."

<sup>11</sup> So Jehu struck down all who remained of the house of Ahab in Jezreel, and all his leading officials, his close friends and his priests. He left no survivors.

<sup>12</sup> Then he got up and left to go to Samaria. On the way, while he was at Beth-eked of the shepherds,

<sup>13</sup> Jehu met with the relatives of Ahaziah king of Judah, and asked, "Who are you?" They answered, "We are relatives of Ahaziah. We have come down to visit the sons of the king and the queen mother."

<sup>14</sup> So he ordered, "Take them alive." So they captured them alive, and killed all forty-two of them at the well of Beth-eked. He left no survivors.

<sup>15</sup> When he left there, he met Jehonadab the son of Rechab who was coming to meet him. He saluted him, and said to him, "Is your heart as loyal to me, as my heart is loyal to you?" Jehonadab answered, "I am." "If you are," Jehu said, "give me your hand." So he gave him his hand, and he helped him up into the chariot.

<sup>16</sup> Then he said, "Come with me, and see my zeal for the LORD." So they had him ride along in his chariot.

<sup>17</sup> When he came to Samaria, he struck down all who remained from Ahab's family in Samaria; he totally destroyed them, according to the word of the LORD that he spoke to Elijah.

<sup>18</sup> Jehu gathered all the people together, and told them, "Ahab served Baal a little, but Jehu will serve him a lot.

<sup>19</sup> Now therefore assemble before me all the prophets of Baal, along with all his worshippers and priests. Make sure none of them are missing for I am offering a great sacrifice to Baal. Whoever fails to come will not live." But Jehu was deceiving them so that he might destroy the worshippers of Baal.

<sup>20</sup> Then Jehu announced, "Consecrate a solemn assembly for Baal." So they proclaimed it.

<sup>21</sup> Then Jehu sent messengers throughout all Israel, and all the worshippers of Baal came; so that there was no one left who did not come. They entered the temple of Baal; and the temple of Baal was filled from one end to the other.

<sup>22</sup> Jehu said to the keeper of the wardrobe, "Bring out the ceremonial robes for all the worshippers of Baal." So he brought out robes for them.

<sup>23</sup> Then Jehu and Jehonadab the son of Rechab entered the temple of Baal. He announced to the worshippers of Baal, "Look around and make sure that none of the servants of the LORD are here with you, but only the worshippers of Baal."

<sup>24</sup> They went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings. Now Jehu had stationed eighty men outside, and said, "If any of the men whom I bring into your hands escape, you will pay for his life with your own life."

<sup>25</sup> As soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, Jehu ordered the guard and commanders, "Go in, and kill them. Let none of them escape." So they struck them down with the edge of the sword; and the guard and commanders threw them out. Then they went into the inner citadel of the temple of Baal.

<sup>26</sup> They ripped out the pillars that were in the temple of Baal, and burned them.

<sup>27</sup> They demolished the pillar of Baal, and broke down the temple of Baal, and made it a public toilet to this day.

<sup>29</sup> However, Jehu did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, by which he led Israel to sin--the golden calves that were in Bethel and Dan.

<sup>30</sup> The LORD said to Jehu, "Because you have done well in accomplishing what is right in my eyes, and have done to the house of Ahab according to all that was in my heart, your sons will sit on the throne of Israel to the fourth generation."

<sup>31</sup> But Jehu was not careful to walk in the law of the LORD, the God of Israel, with all his heart. He did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam, by which he led Israel to sin.

<sup>32</sup> In those days the LORD began to reduce Israel's territory. Hazael defeated them throughout all the territory of Israel

<sup>33</sup> east of the Jordan River including all the land of Gilead, the Gadites, the Reubenites, and the Manassites, from Aroer, which is by the Arnon gorge, as far as Gilead and Bashan.

<sup>34</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Jehu, and all that he did, and all his might, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

DASV: 2 Kings 11

<sup>1</sup> Now when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she set out to destroy all the royal family.

<sup>2</sup> But Jehosheba, the daughter of king Joram and sister of Ahaziah, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and slipped him away from the rest of the king's sons who were killed. She hid him and his nurse in the bedroom. They hid him from Athaliah, so he was not killed.

<sup>3</sup> He was hidden by her in the temple of the LORD for six years while Athaliah herself reigned over the land.

<sup>4</sup> In the seventh year, Jehoiada sent and brought the captains over hundreds of the Carites and the palace guard, and brought them to him in the temple of the LORD. He made a covenant with them, and made them take an oath in the temple of the LORD, then he showed them the king's son.

<sup>5</sup> He commanded them, saying, "This is what you must do. A third of you who are on duty on the Sabbath, will be guardians over the king's palace.

<sup>6</sup> A third of you will stand guard at the Sur Gate and another third at the gate behind the royal guard. This is how you will take turns guarding the palace.

<sup>7</sup> The other two units, that go off duty on the Sabbath, will keep guard of the temple of the LORD to protect the king.

<sup>8</sup> You must surround the king and every man must have his weapon in his hand. Whoever approaches your ranks is to be killed. Stick with the king whenever he goes out, and whenever he comes in."

<sup>9</sup> So the captains over hundreds did exactly as Jehoiada the priest commanded. They took all their men who were on duty on the Sabbath, along with those who were off duty on the Sabbath, and came to Jehoiada the priest.

<sup>10</sup> The priest gave to the captains over hundreds the spears and shields that had been king David's, which were in the temple of the LORD.

<sup>11</sup> The guards stood, each man with his weapon in his hand. They lined up from the south side of the temple to the north side, around the altar and the temple, surrounding the king.

<sup>12</sup> Then he brought out the king's son, and put the crown on him, and presented to him the covenant. They installed him as king, anointed him, and clapped their hands, proclaiming, "Long live the king."

<sup>13</sup> When Athaliah heard the noise of the guard and the people, she came to the people at the temple of the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> She looked, and there was the king standing by the pillar, as was the custom, with the captains and the trumpeters beside the king. All the people of the land rejoiced and blew trumpets. Then Athaliah tore her clothes, and screamed, "Treason! treason!"

<sup>15</sup> Jehoiada the priest commanded the captains of hundreds that were set over the host, and said to them, "Bring her out between the guards and anyone who follows her strike down with the sword." For the priest said, "Don't allow her to be killed in the house of the LORD."

<sup>16</sup> So they seized her and took her to the king's palace by the way the horses enter, and there she was put to death.

<sup>17</sup> Now Jehoiada made a covenant between the LORD, the king and the people, that they should be the LORD's people. He also made a covenant between the king and the people.

<sup>18</sup> All the people of the land went to the temple of Baal, and tore it down. They smashed his altars and his images they broke in pieces. They slew Mattan, the priest of Baal, in front of the altars. Then the priest posted guards at the LORD's temple.

<sup>19</sup> He took the captains over hundreds, the Carites, the guard, and all the people of the land and they brought down the king from the LORD's temple. They entered by the way of the gate of the guards into the king's palace. He took his seat on the royal throne.

<sup>20</sup> So all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet after they struck down Athaliah with the sword at the king's palace.

<sup>21</sup> Joash was seven years old when he began to reign.

DASV: 2 Kings 12

<sup>1</sup> Joash [also called Jehoash] began to reign in the seventh year of Jehu, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zibiah of Beersheba.

<sup>2</sup> Joash did what was right in the eyes of the LORD all his days because Jehoiada the priest instructed him.

<sup>3</sup> Nevertheless the high places were not taken away; the people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places.

<sup>4</sup> Joash said to the priests, "All the money for the sacred offerings brought into the temple of the LORD, including the money collected for the census tax, the money received from personal vows and all the money brought voluntarily to the temple of the LORD, <sup>5</sup> let the priests take some from each of those donating and use it to repair whatever damage to the temple is found.

<sup>6</sup> But by the twenty-third year of king Joash, the priests still had not made the repairs on the temple.

<sup>7</sup> Then king Joash summoned Jehoiada the priest and the other priests, and asked them, "Why haven't you repaired the damage to the temple? Now therefore do not take any more money from your donors for yourselves, but use it to pay for repairing the damage to the temple."

<sup>8</sup> So the priests consented that they would not take any more money from the people, nor would they themselves repair the damage to the temple.

<sup>9</sup> But Jehoiada the priest took a chest and bored a hole in its lid. He set it beside the altar, on the right side as one enters the house of the LORD. The priests who guarded the entrance put in it all the money that was brought into the temple of the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> When they saw that there was a lot of money in the chest, the king's scribe and the high priest came up, counted the money that was found in the temple of the LORD and put it in bags.

<sup>11</sup> They gave the money that was weighed out to the construction supervisors, who had the oversight of the temple of the LORD. They hired the carpenters and the builders, who worked on the temple of the LORD,

<sup>12</sup> along with the masons and the stonecutters. They bought timber and cut stone to repair the damage to the temple of the LORD, as well as paid for any other expenses required to repair the temple.

<sup>13</sup> But the money brought to the temple of the LORD was not used for cups of silver, wick trimmers, basins, trumpets, or any other articles of silver or gold.

<sup>14</sup> It was paid to those who did the work and with it repaired the temple of the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> They did not ask for an accounting of the supervisors into whose hand they had delivered the money to give to those who did the work; for they were honest.

<sup>17</sup> Then Hazael king of Aram went up, fought against Gath and captured it. Hazael then decided to go up against Jerusalem.

<sup>18</sup> So Joash king of Judah took all the sacred objects that Jehoshaphat, Jehoram and Ahaziah, his fathers, kings of Judah, had consecrated, and his own sacred items, and all the gold that was found in the treasuries of the temple of the LORD, and the king's palace, and sent it to Hazael king of Aram, who then withdrew from Jerusalem.

<sup>19</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Joash, and all that he did, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah?

<sup>21</sup> It was Jozacar the son of Shimeath and Jehozabad the son of Shomer, his servants, who struck him down so that he died. He was buried with his fathers in the city of David and Amaziah his son reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Kings 13

<sup>1</sup> Jehoahaz the son of Jehu began to reign over Israel in Samaria in the twenty-third year of Joash the son of Ahaziah, king of Judah. He reigned seventeen years.

<sup>2</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and followed the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, by which he led Israel to sin; he did not turn from them.

<sup>3</sup> The anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, so he repeatedly handed them over to the hand of Hazael king of Aram, and Ben Hadad the son of Hazael.

<sup>4</sup> But Jehoahaz sought the LORD's help, and the LORD listened to him; for he saw the oppression of Israel and how the king of Aram was oppressing them.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD gave Israel a deliverer, so they got out from under the domination of the Arameans. Then the Israelites lived in their homes as before.

<sup>6</sup> Nevertheless they did not turn away from the sins of the house of Jeroboam, by which he led Israel to sin, but walked in them. The Asherah pole also remained in Samaria.

<sup>7</sup> So Jehoahaz was left with an army of only 50 horsemen, 10 chariots and 10,000 foot soldiers. The king of Aram destroyed them and trampled them like the dust at threshing time.

<sup>8</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Jehoahaz, and all that he did, and his might, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

<sup>10</sup> Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz began to reign over Israel in Samaria in the thirty-seventh year of Joash king of Judah. He reigned sixteen years.

<sup>11</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not turn from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, by which he led Israel to sin; but he walked in them.

<sup>12</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Jehoash, and all that he did, and his might and how he fought against Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

<sup>14</sup> Now Elisha had fallen sick with the illness by which he would ultimately die. Jehoash the king of Israel came down to visit him, and wept over him, and said, "My father, my father, the chariots of Israel and its horsemen!"

<sup>15</sup> Elisha told him, "Get a bow and arrows," so he got a bow and arrows.

<sup>16</sup> Then he said to the king of Israel, "Draw the bow with your hand," so he drew the bow with his hand. Then Elisha laid his hands on the king's hands.

<sup>17</sup> He said, "Open the window to the east," so he opened it. Then Elisha said, "Shoot," so he shot. He said, "This is the LORD's arrow of victory, even the arrow of victory over Aram. For you will defeat the Arameans in Aphek, till you have consumed them."

<sup>18</sup> Then Elisha said, "Take the arrows," so he took them. Then he said to the king of Israel, "Strike the ground with them," so he struck three times and stopped.

<sup>19</sup> The man of God was angry with him, and said, "You should have struck five or six times then you would have struck Aram until you had totally destroyed it. But now you will strike Aram only three times."

<sup>20</sup> Then Elisha died, and they buried him. Now the Moabite raiding parties invaded the land in the spring of the year.

<sup>21</sup> As they were burying a man, they spied a raiding party. So they threw the man into the tomb of Elisha. As soon as the man touched the bones of Elisha, he came to life and stood up on his feet.

<sup>23</sup> But the LORD was gracious to them, had compassion on them and he turned his favor toward them because of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. To this day he has not destroyed them or banished them from his presence.

<sup>25</sup> Then Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz took back from the hand of Ben Hadad the son of Hazael the towns he had taken in battle from the hand of Jehoahaz his father. Three times Jehoash defeated him and recovered the towns of Israel.

DASV: 2 Kings 14

<sup>1</sup> Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah began to reign in the second year of Jehoash son of Jehoahaz king of Israel.

<sup>2</sup> He was twenty-five years old when he became king. He reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jehoaddin from Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> He did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD, yet not like his father David. He did all the things that Joash his father had done.

<sup>4</sup> But the high places were not removed; the people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places.

<sup>5</sup> As soon as Amaziah had firmly gained control of the kingdom, he killed the servants who had murdered his father the king.

<sup>6</sup> He did not put to death the children of the murderers; according to what is written in the scroll of the law of Moses, where the LORD commanded, "The fathers should not be put to death for the children, nor the children be put to death for the fathers; but every person must be put to death only for his own sin."

<sup>7</sup> He killed 10,000 Edomites in the Valley of Salt and captured Sela in battle. He renamed it Joktheel, as it is called to this day.

<sup>8</sup> Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash, the son of Jehoahaz son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, "Come, let's meet face to face in battle."

<sup>9</sup> Jehoash the king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, "The thistle that was in Lebanon sent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, saying, 'Give your daughter to my son to wife.' Then a wild animal passed by that was in Lebanon, and trampled down the thistle.

<sup>10</sup> You have indeed defeated Edom, but now your heart has lifted you up. Be content with your glory and stay in your palace. Why do you want to stir up trouble which will only result in your own demise and Judah's as well?"

<sup>13</sup> Jehoash king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Joash the son of Ahaziah, at Beth Shemesh. He then went to Jerusalem, and broke down 600 feet of the wall of Jerusalem from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner Gate.

<sup>14</sup> Jehoash carried off all the gold and silver, all the vessels that were found in the temple of the LORD and in the treasuries of the king's palace, as well as some hostages, and returned to Samaria.

<sup>15</sup> Now the rest of the acts that Jehoash did, and his might, and how he fought with Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

<sup>16</sup> Jehoash slept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel. Then Jeroboam his son reigned in his place.

<sup>18</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Amaziah, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah?

<sup>19</sup> There was a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem so he fled to Lachish. But they sent after him to Lachish and killed him there.

<sup>20</sup> His body was carried back by horse and he was buried at Jerusalem with his fathers in the city of David.

<sup>23</sup> Jeroboam the son of Jehoash king of Israel began to reign in Samaria in the fifteenth year of Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah. He reigned forty-one years.

<sup>24</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not turn away from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, by which he led Israel to sin.

<sup>25</sup> He restored the border of Israel from Lebo Hamath to the Sea of the Arabah [Dead Sea], according to the word of the LORD, the God of Israel, spoken by his servant Jonah the son of Amittai, the prophet from Gath-hepher.

<sup>26</sup> For the LORD saw the bitter affliction of Israel, for there was no one left, slave or free, to help Israel.

<sup>27</sup> The LORD had promised that he would not blot out the name of Israel from under heaven, so he saved them by the hand of Jeroboam the son of Jehoash.

<sup>28</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, and all that he did, and his might, how he fought and recovered Damascus and Hamath, which had belonged to Judah, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

<sup>29</sup> Jeroboam slept with his fathers, the kings of Israel. Zechariah his son reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Kings 15

<sup>1</sup> Azariah son of Amaziah king of Judah began to reign in the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel.

<sup>2</sup> He was sixteen years old when he began to reign. He reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jecoliah from Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> He did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, just as his father Amaziah had done.

<sup>4</sup> But the high places were not taken away, the people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD struck the king with leprosy which he suffered with to the day of his death. He lived in a separate house, while Jotham, the king's son, was in charge of the palace, governing the people of the land.

<sup>6</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Azariah, and all that he did, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah?

<sup>8</sup> Zechariah the son of Jeroboam began to reign over Israel in Samaria six months in the thirty-eighth year of Azariah king of Judah.

<sup>9</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as his fathers had done. He did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, by which he led Israel to sin.

<sup>11</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Zechariah are written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

<sup>12</sup> This fulfilled the word of the LORD which he promised Jehu, "Your sons will sit on the throne of Israel to the fourth generation." That is exactly what happened.

<sup>13</sup> Shallum the son of Jabesh began to reign in the thirty-ninth year of Uzziah king of Judah. He reigned for one month in Samaria.

<sup>14</sup> Menahem the son of Gadi went up from Tirzah, came to Samaria, and attacked Shallum the son of Jabesh in Samaria. Menahem slew him and reigned in his place.

<sup>15</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Shallum, and the conspiracy he devised, they are written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

<sup>16</sup> Then Menahem came from Tirzah and destroyed Tiphshah and all who were in it, along with its surrounding territory, because they would not open it to him. Therefore he attacked it and ripped open all the pregnant women living there.

<sup>17</sup> Menahem the son of Gadi began to reign over Israel in the thirty-ninth year of Azariah king of Judah. He reigned ten years in Samaria.

<sup>18</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. All his days he did not turn from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, by which he led Israel to sin.

<sup>19</sup> Pul the king of Assyria invaded the land. Menahem gave Pul thirty-seven tons of silver, to gain his support and sanction his control of the kingdom.

<sup>20</sup> Menahem exacted the money of Israel by taxing the wealthy, fifty shekels of silver from each one, which he then paid to the king of Assyria. So the king of Assyria withdrew, and did not remain in the land.

<sup>21</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Menahem, and all that he did, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel?

<sup>23</sup> Pekahiah the son of Menahem began to reign over Israel in Samaria in the fiftieth year of Azariah king of Judah. He reigned for two years.

<sup>24</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not turn from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, by which he led Israel to sin.

<sup>25</sup> Pekah the son of Remaliah, his captain, conspired against him, and with fifty men from Gilead he struck him down in the citadel of the king's palace in Samaria, along with Argob and Arieah. Pekah assassinated him and reigned in his place.

<sup>26</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Pekahiah, and all that he did, they are written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

<sup>27</sup> Pekah the son of Remaliah began to reign over Israel in Samaria in the fifty-second year of Azariah king of Judah. He reigned twenty years.

<sup>28</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not turn from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, by which he led Israel to sin.

<sup>29</sup> In the days of Pekah king of Israel, Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria came and captured Ijon, Abel-beth-maacah, Janoah, Kedesh, Hazor, as well as the regions of Gilead, Galilee, and all the land of Naphtali. He carried them captive to Assyria.

<sup>30</sup> Hoshea the son of Elah conspired against Pekah the son of Remaliah, assassinated him and reigned in his place, in the twentieth year of Jotham the son of Uzziah.

<sup>31</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Pekah, and all that he did, they are written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

<sup>32</sup> Jotham the son of Uzziah king of Judah began to reign in the second year of Pekah the son of Remaliah king of Israel.

<sup>33</sup> He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign. He reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jerusha the daughter of Zadok.

<sup>34</sup> He did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, just as his father Uzziah had done.

<sup>35</sup> But the high places were not removed. The people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places. He built the Upper Gate at the temple of the LORD.

<sup>36</sup> The rest of the acts of Jotham, and all that he did, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the kings of Judah?

<sup>37</sup> In those days the LORD began to send Rezin the king of Aram, and Pekah the son of Remaliah against Judah.

<sup>38</sup> Jotham slept with his fathers, and was buried with them in the city of David his father. Ahaz his son reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Kings 16

<sup>1</sup> Ahaz the son of Jotham king of Judah began to reign in the seventeenth year of Pekah the son of Remaliah.

<sup>2</sup> Ahaz was twenty years old when he began to reign. He reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem and he did not do what was right in the eyes of the LORD his God, like David his father.

<sup>3</sup> Instead he walked in the way of the kings of Israel. He even made his son to pass through the fire, following the detestable practices of the nations whom the LORD drove out before the Israelites.

<sup>4</sup> He sacrificed and burned incense on the high places, on the hills and under every green tree.

<sup>5</sup> Then Rezin king of Aram and Pekah son of Remaliah king of Israel came up to attack Jerusalem. They besieged Ahaz, but could not conquer him.

<sup>6</sup> At that time, Rezin king of Aram recovered Elath for Aram, and drove the Jews from Elath. The Arameans came to Elath, and live there to this day.

<sup>7</sup> So Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, saying, "I am your servant and your son. Come up, and rescue me from the hand of the king of Aram, and from the hand of the king of Israel, who are attacking me."

<sup>8</sup> Then Ahaz took the silver and gold that was found in the temple of the LORD, and in the treasuries of the king's palace, and sent it as a present to the king of Assyria.

<sup>9</sup> The king of Assyria agreed with his request and the king of Assyria attacked Damascus, and took it. He carried its people away captive to Kir, and killed Rezin.

<sup>10</sup> King Ahaz went to Damascus to meet Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria. There he saw the altar that was at Damascus, so King Ahaz sent to Uriah the priest a drawing of the altar and its design, giving the exact details needed for building it.

<sup>12</sup> When the king returned from Damascus and saw the altar, the king approached the altar and offered sacrifices on it.

<sup>13</sup> He burned his burnt offering and his grain offering, and poured out his drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of his peace offerings on the altar.

<sup>14</sup> The bronze altar which was before the LORD, he removed from the front of the temple, from between his altar and the temple of the LORD, and put it on the north side of his altar.

<sup>15</sup> King Ahaz ordered Uriah the priest, "On the large altar burn the morning burnt offering and the evening grain offering, and the king's burnt offering, and his grain offering, along with the burnt offering for all the people of the land, and their grain offering, and their drink offerings. Sprinkle all the blood of the burnt offering and all the blood of the sacrifice on it. The bronze altar shall be my personal altar to inquire by.

<sup>16</sup> So Uriah the priest did everything that King Ahaz commanded.

<sup>17</sup> King Ahaz cut off the frames and removed the basins from the portable stands. He took down the Sea from the bronze oxen that were under it, and put it on the stone pavement.

<sup>18</sup> He also removed the covered canopy used on the Sabbath that they had built inside the palace, and the king's special outside entry to the temple of the LORD, because of the king of Assyria.

<sup>19</sup> Now the rest of the acts which Ahaz did, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah?

<sup>20</sup> Ahaz slept with his fathers, and was buried with them in the city of David. Hezekiah his son reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Kings 17

<sup>1</sup> Hoshea the son of Elah began to reign in Samaria over Israel in the twelfth year of Ahaz king of Judah. He reigned for nine years.

<sup>2</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, yet not as badly as the kings of Israel who were before him.

<sup>3</sup> Shalmaneser king of Assyria came up against him and Hoshea became his vassal, and paid him tribute.

<sup>4</sup> The king of Assyria found out that Hoshea was plotting against him for Hoshea had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and did not pay his annual tribute to the king of Assyria. Therefore the king of Assyria arrested him and locked him up in prison.

<sup>5</sup> Then the king of Assyria marched throughout all the land, and went up to Samaria, and besieged it for three years.

<sup>6</sup> In the ninth year of Hoshea, the king of Assyria took Samaria and deported the Israelites to Assyria. He resettled them in Halah, and along the Habor River, the river by Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

<sup>7</sup> This happened because the Israelites had sinned against the LORD their God, who brought them up out of the land of Egypt from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, where they had worshipped other gods;

<sup>8</sup> and walked in the customs of the nations whom the LORD had driven out before the Israelites, and in the practices the kings of Israel had introduced.

<sup>9</sup> The Israelites secretly did things that were not right against the LORD their God. They built high places in all their towns, from the watchtower to the fortified walled city.

<sup>10</sup> They set up sacred pillars and Asherah poles on every high hill and under every green tree.

<sup>11</sup> There they burned incense on all the high places, as did the nations whom the LORD carried away before them. They did wicked things that provoked the LORD to anger.

<sup>12</sup> They served idols, although the LORD had told them, "You must not do this."

<sup>13</sup> Yet the LORD warned Israel and Judah through every prophet and seer, saying, "Turn from your evil ways. Obey my commandments and my statutes, according to the entire law I commanded your forefathers that I sent to you by my servants the prophets."

<sup>14</sup> But they still would not listen, but were as stubborn as their forefathers had been, who did not believe in the LORD their God.

<sup>15</sup> They rejected his statutes and his covenant that he made with their forefathers, as well as his warnings by which he warned them. They pursued worthless idols, and became worthless themselves by following the practices of the nations that surrounded them, concerning whom the LORD had ordered that they should not do like them.

<sup>16</sup> But they abandoned all the commandments of the LORD their God, and made cast metal images of two calves, an Asherah pole, and worshipped all the hosts of heaven, and served Baal.

<sup>17</sup> They caused their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire, and used divination and sorcery. They sold themselves to do what was evil in the sight of the LORD provoking him to anger.

<sup>19</sup> Judah also refused to keep the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the practices Israel had introduced.

<sup>20</sup> So the LORD rejected all the descendants of Israel, afflicted them and delivered them into the hands of those who plundered them, until he had thrown them out of his sight.

<sup>21</sup> He tore Israel from the house of David. They made Jeroboam the son of Nebat king and Jeroboam drove Israel from following the LORD, and made them commit a great sin.

<sup>23</sup> until the LORD removed Israel out of his sight, as he spoke by all his servants the prophets. So Israel was exiled from their own land to Assyria to this day.

<sup>24</sup> The king of Assyria brought foreigners from Babylon, Cuthah, Avva, Hamath and Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria to replace the Israelites. They took possession of Samaria and lived in its towns.

<sup>25</sup> So it was when they first settled there, that they did not worship the LORD, therefore the LORD sent lions among them, which killed some of them.

<sup>26</sup> The king of Assyria was told, "The nations you have carried away, and resettled in the towns of Samaria, do not know the law of the god of the land, so he has sent lions among them, and they are killing them, because they do not know the law of the god of the land.

<sup>27</sup> Then the king of Assyria commanded, "Send back one of the priests whom you have deported from there and let them go and live there. Let him teach them the law of the god of the land."

<sup>28</sup> So one of the priests whom they had carried away from Samaria came back and lived in Bethel; and taught them how they should worship the LORD.

<sup>29</sup> But the residents from every nation made gods of their own, and put them in the shrines on the high places that the Samaritans had made, every national group did this in the towns where they were resettled.

<sup>30</sup> The people of Babylon made Succoth Benoth, the people of Cuth made Nergal, the people of Hamath made Ashima, <sup>31</sup> the Avvites made Nibhaz and Tartak, and the Sepharvites burned their children in the fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim.

<sup>32</sup> So they worshipped the LORD, and appointed from among themselves priests for the high places, who sacrificed for them in the shrines on the high places.

<sup>33</sup> They worshipped the LORD, and served their own gods, after the manner of the nations among whom they had been deported.

<sup>34</sup> To this day they still practice their previous religious rituals. They did not worship the LORD nor did they obey the statutes, regulations, law or the commandment that the LORD commanded the children of Jacob, whom he named Israel.

<sup>35</sup> The LORD had made a covenant, and commanded them, "Do not worship other gods, bow down to them, serve them or sacrifice to them.

<sup>36</sup> But worship the LORD, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt with great power and with an outstretched arm. Bow down and offer sacrifices to him.

<sup>37</sup> Carefully observe forever all the statutes, regulations, laws and the commandments, he wrote for you. Do not worship other gods.

<sup>38</sup> You must not forget the covenant that I have made with you. Do not worship other gods.

<sup>39</sup> But worship the LORD your God and he will deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies."

DASV: 2 Kings 18

<sup>1</sup> Hezekiah the son of Ahaz king of Judah began to reign in the third year of Hoshea son of Elah king of Israel.

<sup>2</sup> He was twenty-five years old when he became king and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abi the daughter of Zechariah.

<sup>3</sup> He did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, just as David his father had done.

<sup>4</sup> He removed the high places, broke down the sacred pillars, and cut down the Asherah poles. He broke in pieces the bronze serpent that Moses had made because up to that time the Israelites had burned incense to it, and it was called Nehushtan.

<sup>5</sup> He trusted in the LORD, the God of Israel, so that after him there was no one like him among all the kings of Judah, or among those who were before him.

<sup>6</sup> For he remained loyal to the LORD. He did not depart from following him, but kept the commandments the LORD had given Moses.

<sup>7</sup> So the LORD was with him. He was successful in everything he attempted. He rebelled against the king of Assyria, and refused to serve him.

<sup>8</sup> He defeated the Philistines as far as Gaza and its borders, from the watchtower to the fortified city.

<sup>9</sup> In the fourth year of king Hezekiah, which was the seventh year of Hoshea son of Elah king of Israel, Shalmaneser king of Assyria came up against Samaria and besieged it.

<sup>10</sup> At the end of three years they captured it. In the sixth year of Hezekiah, which was the ninth year of Hoshea king of Israel, Samaria was captured.

<sup>11</sup> The king of Assyria deported Israel to Assyria, and put them in Halah, and along the Habor River, the river by Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

<sup>12</sup> This happened because they had not obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, but violated his covenant, even all that Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded. They refused to listen to or obey it.

<sup>13</sup> Now in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah, and captured them.

<sup>14</sup> Hezekiah king of Judah sent a message to the king of Assyria at Lachish, saying, "I have done wrong. Withdraw from me and whatever you impose on me I will pay it." The king of Assyria demanded from Hezekiah king of Judah eleven tons of silver and one ton of gold.

<sup>15</sup> Hezekiah gave him all the silver that was found in the house of the LORD and in the treasuries of the king's palace.

<sup>16</sup> At that time Hezekiah stripped off the gold from the doors of the temple of the LORD, and from the pillars that Hezekiah king of Judah had overlaid, and gave it to the king of Assyria.

<sup>17</sup> The king of Assyria sent his commander-in-chief, his field commander and his chief adviser with a great army from Lachish to king Hezekiah in Jerusalem. They came up to Jerusalem and stood by the aqueduct of the Upper Pool, which is by road to the field where clothes are washed.

<sup>18</sup> When they had summoned king Hezekiah, Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah, who was over the palace, Shebna the scribe and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder came out to meet them.

<sup>19</sup> The chief adviser said to them, "Tell Hezekiah, 'This is what the great king, the king of Assyria says, "What is the source of your confidence?"

<sup>20</sup> Do you think that you have a strategy or strength for war? In whom are you trusting, that you have rebelled against me?"

<sup>21</sup> Now look, you are depending on Egypt that staff that splinters like a reed whenever someone leans on it. Its splinters pierce into one's hand. This is what Pharaoh king of Egypt is like to anyone who trusts on him.

<sup>22</sup> But if you tell me, 'We trust in the LORD our God.' Isn't he the one whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has torn down, and told Judah and Jerusalem, 'You must worship before this altar in Jerusalem'?"

<sup>23</sup> Now therefore, strike a deal with my master the king of Assyria: I will give you two thousand horses, if you are even able to find enough riders for them.

<sup>24</sup> How then can you repulse a single captain who is the least of my master's officials, and put your trust in Egypt for chariots and horsemen?"

<sup>25</sup> Furthermore, am I not attacking this place to destroy it without LORD's direction? The LORD told me, 'Go up against this land, and destroy it.'""

<sup>26</sup> Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah, Shebna, and Joah, said to the chief adviser, "Please speak, to your servants in Aramaic for we understand it. Do not speak to us in Hebrew, within the hearing of the people who are on the wall."

<sup>27</sup> But the chief adviser said to them, "Has my master sent me just to speak these words to you and your master? Has he not sent me to the people who sit on the wall, who are doomed with you to eat their own excrement and to drink their own urine?"

<sup>28</sup> Then the chief adviser stood, and cried with a loud voice in Hebrew, saying, "Listen to the word of the great king, the king of Assyria.

<sup>29</sup> This is what the king says, 'Let not Hezekiah deceive you for he will not be able to rescue you from my hand.

<sup>30</sup> Do not let Hezekiah convince you to trust in the LORD, by saying, "The LORD will surely rescue us, and this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria."

<sup>31</sup> Don't listen to Hezekiah. For this is what the king of Assyria says, 'Make your peace with me, and surrender to me then everyone will eat from his own vine, and from his own fig tree, and will drink from the waters of his own cistern.

<sup>32</sup> Then I will come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olive trees and of honey, so that you may live, and not die. Do not listen to Hezekiah, when he tries to persuade you, saying, "The LORD will rescue us."

<sup>33</sup> Have any of the gods of the other nations ever rescued their land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

<sup>34</sup> Where are the gods of Hamath and of Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena and Ivvah? Have they rescued Samaria out of my hand?

<sup>35</sup> Who among all the gods of the various countries has rescued their country out of my hand, that the LORD should be able to rescue Jerusalem out of my hand?"

<sup>36</sup> But the people were silent, and did not answer him a word for the king had ordered, "Do not answer him."

<sup>37</sup> Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was in charge of the palace, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, returned to Hezekiah with their clothes torn, and told him the words of the Assyrian chief adviser.

DASV: 2 Kings 19

<sup>1</sup> When king Hezekiah heard it, he tore his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and went into the temple of the LORD.

<sup>2</sup> He sent Eliakim, who was in charge of the palace, and Shebna the scribe, and the leading priests, clothed with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz.

<sup>3</sup> They said to him, "This is what Hezekiah says, 'This is a day of trouble, insults and humiliation; like when children are ready to be born, but there is no strength to bring them out.

<sup>4</sup> It may be the LORD your God will hear all the words of the chief adviser, whom his master the king of Assyria sent to mock the living God. When the LORD your God hears maybe he will punish them. Therefore pray for the remnant that is left.'"

<sup>6</sup> Isaiah said to them, "This is what you shall tell your master, 'This is what the LORD says, "Do not be not afraid of the words that you have heard, by which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

<sup>7</sup> I will put a spirit in him, so he will hear a rumor, and will return to his own land. I will cause him to be killed by the sword in his own land.'"

<sup>8</sup> So the chief adviser returned, and found the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah; for he heard that the king had left Lachish.

<sup>9</sup> When he heard the report concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, "He is come out to fight against you," he sent messengers again to Hezekiah, saying,

<sup>10</sup> "Tell Hezekiah king of Judah, 'Let not your God in whom you trust deceive you, saying, 'Jerusalem will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.'

<sup>11</sup> Look, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by totally destroying them and you think you will be delivered?

<sup>12</sup> Have the gods of the nations my forefather destroyed rescued them--Gozan, Haran, Rezep, and the people of Eden that were in Tel-assar?

<sup>13</sup> Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, or Ivvah?"

<sup>14</sup> Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers and read it. Then Hezekiah went up to the temple of the LORD and spread it before the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> Hezekiah prayed before the LORD, "O LORD, the God of Israel, who sits enthroned between the cherubim. You are God alone of all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made heaven and earth.

<sup>16</sup> Incline your ear, O LORD, and listen. Open your eyes, O LORD, and see. Hear the words of Sennacherib, which he has sent to mock the living God.

<sup>17</sup> It is true, O LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste the nations and their lands.

<sup>18</sup> They have cast their gods into the fire; for they were not real gods, but wood and stone crafted by men's hands. Therefore they were destroyed.

<sup>19</sup> Now therefore, O LORD our God, I beg you, save us out of his hand, so that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you LORD are God alone."

<sup>20</sup> Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says, 'I have heard your prayer against Sennacherib king of Assyria.

<sup>21</sup> This is the word that the LORD has spoken concerning him: 'The virgin daughter of Zion despises and laughs at you. The daughter of Jerusalem shakes her head in contempt as you flee.

<sup>22</sup> Whom have you mocked and blasphemed? Against whom have you raised your voice and lifted up your eyes in arrogance? It was against the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>23</sup> By your messengers you have mocked the Lord, and have said, 'With my many chariots I have conquered the height of the mountains, to the remote parts of Lebanon. I have cut down its tallest cedars, and its finest cypress trees. I have entered its farthest lodging place, its thickest forest.

<sup>24</sup> I dug wells and drank foreign waters, and with the soles of my feet I dried up all the rivers of Egypt.'

<sup>25</sup> Haven't you heard how I did it long ago, and determined it in ancient times? Now I have made it happen, so that you would smash fortified cities into heaps of rubble.

<sup>26</sup> Their inhabitants are drained of strength, they are dismayed and confused. They are scorched like the grass of the field, green vegetables, grass on the rooftops, and like grain before it has time to grow up.

<sup>27</sup> But I know your sitting down, your going out and coming in, and your raging against me.

<sup>28</sup> Because you rage against me, and because your arrogance has come up to my ears, therefore will I put my hook in your nose, and my bridle in your mouth, and I will lead you back the way you came.

<sup>29</sup> This will be the sign for you, Hezekiah: 'You will eat this year that which grows by itself, and in the second year that which grows up on its own you'll eat. In the third year sow, reap and plant vineyards and eat their fruit.

<sup>30</sup> Then the surviving remnant of the house of Judah will again take root downward, and produce fruit upward.

<sup>31</sup> A remnant will go out of Jerusalem, and from Mount Zion survivors will escape. The zeal of the LORD will do this.'

<sup>32</sup> Therefore this is what the LORD says concerning the king of Assyria, 'He will not come to this city, shoot an arrow here, come before it with a shield, or build a siege ramp against it.

<sup>33</sup> He will go back by the same way he came. He will not come to this city,' says the LORD.

<sup>34</sup> For I will defend this city to save it, for my own sake, and for the sake of my servant David."

<sup>35</sup> So it happened that night, that the angel of the LORD went out, and killed 185,000 in the camp of the Assyrians. When men got up early in the morning, there were all the dead bodies.

<sup>37</sup> One day when he was worshipping in the temple of his god Nisroch, Adrammelech and Sharezer assassinated him with the sword. They escaped into the land of Ararat. His son Esarhaddon reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Kings 20

<sup>1</sup> In those days Hezekiah became sick to the point of death. Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him, and said, "This is what the LORD says, 'Set your house in order, for you are about to die; you will not recover.'"

<sup>3</sup> "Remember, O LORD, I entreat you, how I have walked before you in truth with a perfect heart, and have done what was good in your sight." Then Hezekiah wept bitterly.

<sup>5</sup> "Go back, and tell Hezekiah the leader of my people, 'This is what the LORD says, the God of David your father, "I have heard your prayer; I have seen your tears. I will heal you. In three days you will go up to the temple of the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> I will add fifteen years to your life and will rescue you and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria. I will defend this city for my own sake, and for my servant David's sake.'"

<sup>7</sup> Then Isaiah said, "Bring here a fig poultice." So they took and spread it on the boil, and he recovered.

<sup>8</sup> Hezekiah asked Isaiah, "What will be the sign that the LORD will heal me, and that I will go up to the temple of the LORD on the third day?"

<sup>9</sup> Isaiah replied, "This will be your sign from the LORD, that the LORD will in fact do the thing that he has promised. Do you want the shadow to go forward ten steps, or to go backward ten steps?"

<sup>10</sup> Hezekiah answered, "It is simple for the shadow to lengthen ten steps. Rather, let the shadow move backward ten steps."

<sup>11</sup> Isaiah the prophet called to the LORD; and he made the shadow move ten steps backward, after it had gone down on the stairway of Ahaz.

<sup>12</sup> At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah because he had heard that Hezekiah had been sick.

<sup>13</sup> Hezekiah welcomed them, and showed them all the treasury with its cache of silver, gold, spices, and precious olive oil, and his armory, and everything that was found in his royal treasuries. There was nothing in his palace or in all his kingdom, that Hezekiah did not show them.

<sup>14</sup> Then Isaiah the prophet came to king Hezekiah, and asked him, "What did these men say? Where did they come from?" Hezekiah replied, "They have come from a far country, from Babylon."

<sup>15</sup> Isaiah asked, "What have they seen in your palace?" Hezekiah answered, "They have seen everything in my palace. There is nothing in my treasuries that I did not show them."

<sup>16</sup> Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of the LORD:

<sup>17</sup> 'The time is coming, when all that is in your palace, and that which your fathers have stored up to this day, will be carried to Babylon. Nothing will be left,' says the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> Some of your own sons, whom you will father, will be taken away and will become eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon."

<sup>19</sup> Then Hezekiah replied to Isaiah, "The word of the LORD you have spoken is good." For he thought, "At least there will be peace and security in my days."

<sup>20</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and all his might, including how he built a pool, and a tunnel to bring water into the city, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the kings of Judah?

<sup>21</sup> Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and Manasseh his son reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Kings 21

<sup>1</sup> Manasseh was twelve years old when he began to reign. He reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem and his mother's name was Hephzibah.

<sup>2</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, after the detestable practices of the nations whom the LORD drove out before the Israelites.

<sup>3</sup> He rebuilt the high places Hezekiah his father had destroyed. He set up altars for Baal, and made an Asherah pole like Ahab king of Israel had done, and worshipped all the hosts of heaven, and served them.

<sup>4</sup> He built altars in the temple of the LORD, concerning which the LORD said, "In Jerusalem will I put my name."

<sup>5</sup> He built altars for all the host of heaven in the two courtyards of the temple of the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> He made his son to pass through the fire, practiced sorcery, used enchantments, and consulted with those who conjure up spirits and psychics. He did much evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger.

<sup>7</sup> He set the carved image of Asherah, that he had made, in the temple of which the LORD said to David and his son Solomon, "I will put my name forever in this temple and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel.

<sup>8</sup> I will not cause the feet of Israel to wander any more out of the land that I gave their forefathers, if only they will be careful to do all that I have commanded them, and all the law that my servant Moses commanded them."

<sup>9</sup> But they did not listen. Manasseh enticed them to do more evil than the nations the LORD had destroyed before the Israelites.

<sup>10</sup> The LORD said through his servants the prophets, <sup>11</sup> "Because Manasseh king of Judah has done these terrible sins, and has done more wickedness than all that the Amorites did before him, and has caused Judah to sin with his idols.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore this is what the LORD, the God of Israel says, 'I am about to bring such disaster on Jerusalem and Judah, that everyone who hears about it, both of his ears will ring.

<sup>13</sup> I will stretch over Jerusalem the measuring line of Samaria, and the plumb line of the house of Ahab. I will wipe Jerusalem as clean as a man wipes a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down.

<sup>14</sup> I will reject even the surviving remnant of my inheritance, and deliver them into the hand of their enemies. They will be looted and plundered by all their enemies

<sup>15</sup> because they have done what was evil in my sight, and have provoked me to anger, since the day their forefathers came out of Egypt, even to this day.'"

<sup>16</sup> Moreover Manasseh shed so much innocent blood that he filled Jerusalem from one end to the other, besides his sin by which he made Judah commit by doing what was evil in the sight of the LORD.

<sup>17</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and all that he did, and his sin that he committed, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah?

<sup>19</sup> Amon was twenty-two years old when he began to reign. He reigned two years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Meshullemeth the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.

<sup>20</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as his father Manasseh had done.

<sup>21</sup> He walked in all the ways that his father walked in, and served the idols his father had served and worshipped.

<sup>22</sup> He abandoned the LORD, the God of his forefathers, and did not walk in the way of the LORD.

<sup>24</sup> But the people of the land killed all those who conspired against king Amon and the people of the land made his son Josiah king in his place.

<sup>25</sup> Now the rest of the acts that Amon did, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah?

<sup>26</sup> He was buried in his tomb in the garden of Uzza and Josiah his son reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Kings 22

<sup>1</sup> Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign. He reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jedidah the daughter of Adaiah of Bozkath.

<sup>3</sup> In the eighteenth year of king Josiah, the king sent the scribe Shaphan, the son of Azaliah the son of Meshullam, to the temple of the LORD, saying, <sup>4</sup> "Go up to Hilkiyah the high priest, have him count the total amount of money brought into the temple of the LORD, that the gatekeepers have collected from the people.

<sup>5</sup> Let them give it to the foremen who have the oversight of the temple of the LORD. Let them give it as wages to the workmen who do the repairs on the temple of LORD, <sup>6</sup> to the carpenters, builders and masons; and for buying timber and cut stone to repair the temple.

<sup>7</sup> But do not keep an account of the money with the supervisors that is delivered into their hand; for they are honest."

<sup>8</sup> Hilkiyah the high priest said to Shaphan the scribe, "I have found the scroll of the law in the temple of the LORD." Hilkiyah delivered the scroll to Shaphan, and he read it.

<sup>9</sup> Then Shaphan the scribe came to the king and reported, "Your servants have paid out the money that was found in the temple, and have delivered it into the hand of the foremen who have the oversight of the temple of the LORD."

<sup>10</sup> Shaphan the scribe told the king, "Hilkiyah the priest has delivered a scroll to me." Then Shaphan read it out loud to the king.

<sup>11</sup> When the king heard the words of the scroll of the law, he tore his clothes.

<sup>12</sup> The king commanded Hilkiyah the priest, Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Achbor the son of Micaiah, Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah the king's servant, saying,

<sup>13</sup> "Go, inquire of the LORD for me, the people and all Judah, concerning the words of this scroll that has been discovered. For great is the wrath of the LORD that has been kindled against us, because our fathers have not obeyed the words of this scroll, to do all that is prescribed for us to do."

<sup>14</sup> So Hilkiyah the priest, Ahikam, Achbor, Shaphan and Asaiah went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvah, the son of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe; she lived in Jerusalem in the Misneh Quarter where they consulted with her.

<sup>15</sup> She said to them, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Tell the man you sent to me, <sup>16</sup> "This is what the LORD says, 'I am about to bring disaster on this place, and on its inhabitants, according to all the words of the scroll which the king of Judah has read.

<sup>17</sup> Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense to other gods, provoking me to anger with all the work of their hands; therefore my wrath will be kindled against this place, and it will not be quenched."

<sup>18</sup> But to the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, tell him, 'This is what the LORD, the God of Israel says concerning words you have heard,

<sup>19</sup> "because your heart was sensitive and you humbled yourself before the LORD, when you heard what I spoke against this place and against its inhabitants, that they should become a desolation and a curse, and have torn your clothes and wept before me; I also have heard you," says the LORD.

<sup>20</sup> Therefore, I will gather you to your fathers, and you will be gathered to your grave in peace. You will not witness all the disaster I will bring on this place.'" Then they brought back the message to the king.

DASV: 2 Kings 23

<sup>2</sup> The king went up to the temple of the LORD, with all the people of Judah, all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the priests, the prophets and all the people, both small and great. He read in their hearing all the words of the scroll of the covenant that was found in the temple of the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> The king stood by the pillar and renewed the covenant before the LORD, pledging to follow the LORD by keeping his commandments, testimonies and his statutes, with all his heart and soul, to perform the words of this covenant that were written in this scroll. All the people confirmed the covenant.

<sup>4</sup> Then the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, the priests of the second rank, and the guardians of the temple gate, to take out from the temple of the LORD all the items made for Baal, Asherah and all the hosts of heaven. He burned them outside of Jerusalem in the fields of the Kidron Valley, and carried their ashes to Bethel.

<sup>5</sup> He eliminated the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had ordained to burn incense on the high places in the towns of Judah and even around Jerusalem including those who burned incense to Baal, and to the sun, moon, planets and to all the hosts of heaven.

<sup>6</sup> He brought the Asherah pole from the temple of the LORD, outside Jerusalem and burned it in the Kidron Valley. It was then ground to dust and its dust scattered on the graves of the common people.

<sup>7</sup> He broke down the houses of the male shrine prostitutes, that were in the house of the LORD, where the women were weaving for the Asherah.

<sup>8</sup> He brought all the priests out of the towns of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests had made offerings, from Geba to Beersheba. He tore down the high places of the gates that were at the entrance of the Gate of Joshua, the city governor, which were on the left side of the city gate.

<sup>9</sup> While the priests of the high places did not come up to the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, they did eat unleavened bread along with their fellow priests.

<sup>10</sup> He defiled Topheth, which is in the Valley of Ben Hinnom, so that no one could burn his son or his daughter as a offering to Molech.

<sup>11</sup> He removed the horses that the kings of Judah had put at the entrance of the temple of the LORD in dedication to the sun. They were kept near the quarters of Nathan-melech the eunuch, that was in the precincts. Josiah burned the chariots of the sun with fire.

<sup>12</sup> Josiah also tore down the altars that were on the roof of the upper chamber of Ahaz, that the kings of Judah had made and the altars that Manasseh had made in the two courtyards of the temple of the LORD. He smashed them and threw their dust into the Kidron Valley.

<sup>13</sup> Josiah also defiled the high places that were east of Jerusalem, to the south of the Mount of Corruption, which Solomon the king of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the abomination of the Sidonians, for Chemosh the abomination of Moab and for Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

<sup>14</sup> He broke the pillars in pieces and cut down the Asherah pole desecrating them by covering them with human bones.

<sup>15</sup> Furthermore he tore down the altar that was at Bethel, the high place built by Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who led Israel to sin--the altar and the high place. He burned the high place and ground it to dust, and burned the Asherah pole.

<sup>16</sup> As Josiah turned, he noticed the tombs that were there on the hill. So he sent and took the bones out of those tombs and burned them on the altar and defiled it, just as the word of the LORD the man of God had predicted.

<sup>17</sup> Then he said, "What is that monument I see?" The men of the town told him, "It is the tomb of the man of God who came from Judah and predicted these things that you have done against the altar of Bethel."

<sup>18</sup> He said, "Leave it alone. Let no one move his bones." So they let his bones alone, along with the bones of the prophet who came out of Samaria.

<sup>19</sup> Josiah also removed all the shrines of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made, provoking the LORD to anger. He did to them just as he had done at Bethel.

<sup>20</sup> Josiah sacrificed all the priests of the high places who were there on the altars and burned human bones on them. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>21</sup> The king commanded all the people, "Keep the Passover to the LORD your God, as it is written in this scroll of the covenant."

<sup>22</sup> Surely there had not been such a Passover celebration from the days when the judges led Israel, or in all the days of the kings of Israel or the kings of Judah.

<sup>23</sup> This Passover was celebrated to the LORD in Jerusalem in the eighteenth year of king Josiah.

<sup>24</sup> Josiah also removed the mediums and psychics, the household gods, the idols and all the abominations that were seen in the land of Judah and Jerusalem so that he might fulfill the words of the law which were written in the scroll that Hilkiah the priest found in the temple of the LORD.

<sup>25</sup> There was no king like him before or after who turned to the LORD with all his heart, all his soul and with all his might, following all the law of Moses.

<sup>26</sup> Still the LORD did not turn from the fierceness of his great wrath, by which his anger was kindled against Judah, because of all the evil things Manasseh had provoked him with.

<sup>27</sup> The LORD said, "I will remove Judah out of my sight, just as I have removed Israel. I will reject this city that I have chosen, even Jerusalem, and the temple of which I said, 'My name will be there.'"

<sup>28</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and all that he did, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah?

<sup>29</sup> In his days Pharaoh Neco king of Egypt went up to the Euphrates River to help the king of Assyria. King Josiah marched out against him, but when Pharaoh Neco met him, he killed him at Megiddo.

<sup>30</sup> His servants carried him dead in a chariot from Megiddo, brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his own tomb. The people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and anointed him, and made him king in place of his father.

<sup>31</sup> Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign. He reigned three months in Jerusalem and his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

<sup>32</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, just as all his forefathers had done.

<sup>33</sup> Pharaoh Neco put him in chains at Riblah in the land of Hamath, so that he might not reign in Jerusalem. He imposed a tax of 7,500 pounds of silver and 75 pounds of gold.

<sup>34</sup> Pharaoh Neco made Eliakim the son of Josiah king in the place of Josiah his father, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. But he deported Jehoahaz to Egypt and he died there.

<sup>35</sup> Jehoiakim gave the silver and gold to Pharaoh but he taxed the land in order to get the money to meet the demands of Pharaoh. He exacted the silver and gold from the people of the land each one according to his valuation, to give it to Pharaoh Neco.

<sup>36</sup> Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign. He reigned eleven years in Jerusalem and his mother's name was Zebidah the daughter of Pedaiah from Rumah.

<sup>37</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, just as all his forefathers had done.

DASV: 2 Kings 24

<sup>1</sup> In Jehoiakim's days, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and Jehoiakim became his servant three years, then he turned and rebelled against him.

<sup>3</sup> Surely these troubles happened to Judah at the command of the LORD, to remove them out of his sight, because of the sins Manasseh had done, <sup>4</sup> and also because of the innocent blood that he shed. For he filled Jerusalem with innocent blood and the LORD was unwilling to pardon it.

<sup>5</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the scroll of the Annals of the Kings of Judah?

<sup>7</sup> The king of Egypt did not come again out of his land, for the king of Babylon had captured from the Brook of Egypt to the Euphrates River, everything that belonged to the king of Egypt.

<sup>8</sup> Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he began to reign. He reigned in Jerusalem three months and his mother's name was Nehushta the daughter of Elnathan from Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, just as his father had done.

<sup>10</sup> At that time the servants of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up to Jerusalem and besieged the city.

<sup>13</sup> Nebuchadnezzar carried off all the treasures of the temple of the LORD, and the treasures of the king's palace, and cut in pieces all the vessels of gold Solomon king of Israel had made in the temple of the LORD, just as the LORD had predicted.

<sup>14</sup> He carried off all Jerusalem, all the officials, and all the warriors, including 10,000 captives, including all the craftsmen and the artisans. No one was left except the poorest people of the land.

<sup>15</sup> He carried off Jehoiachin to Babylon, the king's mother, the king's wives, his officers, and the chief men of the land. They were deported into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon.

<sup>16</sup> He also deported all the men of valor, 7,000, and the craftsmen and the artisans, 1,000, all of them strong and fit for war. These were the ones the king of Babylon brought captive to Babylon.

<sup>17</sup> The king of Babylon made Mattaniah, Jehoiachin's uncle, king in his place, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

<sup>18</sup> Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign. He reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

<sup>19</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, just as Jehoiakim had done.

<sup>20</sup> Because of the anger of the LORD these things happened in Jerusalem and Judah, until he finally cast them out of his presence. Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

DASV: 2 Kings 25

<sup>2</sup> So the city was besieged until the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.

<sup>3</sup> On the ninth day of the fourth month the famine was so severe in the city that there was no food left for the people of the land.

<sup>4</sup> Then a breach was made in the city wall, and all the men of war fled at night through the gate between the two walls by the king's garden though the Babylonians had the city totally surrounded. They fled toward the Arabah.

<sup>5</sup> But the Babylonian army pursued the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho. All his army scattered deserting him.

<sup>6</sup> When they captured the king, they took him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah where they rendered judgment on him.

<sup>7</sup> They slaughtered the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, then put out Zedekiah's eyes, bound him in chains and deported him to Babylon.

<sup>8</sup> Now on the seventh day of the fifth month, in the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard, a servant of the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup> He burned the temple of the LORD and the king's palace and all the houses of Jerusalem. He burned down every great house.

<sup>10</sup> Then the entire Babylonian army who were with the captain of the guard, broke down the walls that surrounded Jerusalem.

<sup>12</sup> But the captain of the guard left some of the poorest people of the land to be vinedressers and farmers.

<sup>13</sup> The pillars of bronze that were in the temple of the LORD, and the movable water stands and the bronze Sea that were in the temple of the LORD the Babylonians broke into pieces and carried off the bronze to Babylon.

<sup>14</sup> They also took the pots, shovels, lamp snuffers, incense dishes and all the bronze utensils used in service of the temple.

<sup>15</sup> The captain of the guard also carried off the censers and the basins made of silver and gold.

<sup>16</sup> The two pillars, the one Sea, and the movable water stands which Solomon had made for the temple of the LORD, the bronze from all these vessels was beyond being weighed.

<sup>17</sup> The height of the one pillar was twenty-seven feet. The bronze capital on top of it was four and a half feet tall, with bronze latticework and pomegranates decorating the capital all around it. The second pillar had the same latticework.

<sup>18</sup> The captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three gatekeepers.

<sup>19</sup> He took out of the city an officer who was in charge over the men of war, five of the king's advisers who were found in the city; and the scribe of the captain of the army, who oversaw the drafting of the people of the land; and sixty other people of the land who were found in the city.

<sup>20</sup> Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

<sup>21</sup> Then the king of Babylon had them put to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried into exile from its land.

<sup>22</sup> King Nebuchadnezzar appointed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shapan as governor over the people who were left in the land of Judah.

<sup>23</sup> Now when all the commanders of the army and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah governor, they came to Gedaliah at Mizpah. They were Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, Johanan the son of Kareah, Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah the son of the Maacathite along with their men.

<sup>24</sup> Gedaliah swore to them and their men, "Do not be afraid because of the Babylonian officials. Live in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it will go well for you."

<sup>25</sup> But in the seventh month, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the royal family came with ten men and killed Gedaliah, along with the Jews and the Babylonians who were with him at Mizpah.

<sup>26</sup> Then all the people, both small and great, along with the commanders of the army, fled to Egypt, because they were afraid of the Babylonians.

<sup>27</sup> In the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, on the twenty-seventh day of the twelfth month, Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the year that he began to reign, released Jehoiachin king of Judah from prison.

<sup>29</sup> So Jehoiachin changed out of his prison clothes and ate daily with the king for the rest of his life.

<sup>30</sup> For his allowance there was a regular daily portion given to him by the king as long as he lived.

<sup>9</sup> The sons of Cush: Seba, Havilah, Sabta, Raama, and Sabteca. The sons of Raamah: Sheba and Dedan.

<sup>10</sup> Cush was the father of Nimrod; he was the first heroic warrior on the earth.

<sup>18</sup> Arphaxad was the father of Shelah, and Shelah was the father of Eber.

<sup>19</sup> To Eber were born two sons: the name of the one was Peleg; for in his days the earth was divided; and his brother's name was Joktan.

<sup>33</sup> The sons of Midian: Ephah, Epher, Hanoch, Abida, and Eldaah. All these were the sons of Keturah.

<sup>42</sup> The sons of Ezer: Bilhan, Zaavan, and Jaakan. The sons of Dishan: Uz and Aran.

<sup>3</sup> The sons of Judah: Er, Onan, Shelah. These three were born to him by Bathshua, a Canaanite woman. Er, Judah's first-born, was wicked in the sight of the LORD; so he killed him.

<sup>7</sup> The sons of Carmi: Achar, the troubler of Israel, who trespassed by taking what was to be devoted to God.

<sup>8</sup> The son of Ethan: Azariah.

<sup>10</sup> Ram was the father of Amminadab, and Amminadab was the father of Nahshon, prince of the sons of Judah.

<sup>11</sup> Nahshon was the father of Salma, and Salma was the father of Boaz.

<sup>12</sup> Boaz was the father of Obed, and Obed was the father of Jesse.

<sup>13</sup> Jesse was the father of his first-born Eliab, Abinadab the second, Shimea the third,

<sup>20</sup> Hur was the father of Uri, and Uri was the father of Bezalel.

<sup>21</sup> Afterward Hezron went in to the daughter of Makir, the father of Gilead, whom he married when he was sixty years old. She bore him Segub.

<sup>22</sup> Segub was the father of Jair, who had twenty-three villages in the land of Gilead.

<sup>23</sup> Geshur and Aram took the towns of Jair from them, along with Kenath, and its sixty villages. All these were the sons of Makir the father of Gilead.

<sup>24</sup> After the death of Hezron in Caleb Ephrathah, then Abijah, Hezron's wife, bore him Ashhur the father of Tekoa.

<sup>25</sup> The sons of Jerahmeel the firstborn of Hezron were Ram, the first-born, Bunah, Oren, Ozem, and Ahijah.

<sup>26</sup> Jerahmeel had another wife, whose name was Atarah; she was the mother of Onam.

<sup>27</sup> The sons of Ram, the first-born of Jerahmeel, were Maaz, Jamin, and Eker.

<sup>28</sup> The sons of Onam were Shammai and Jada. The sons of Shammai: Nadab and Abishur.

<sup>37</sup> Zabad was the father of Ephlal, and Ephlal was the father of Obed.

<sup>38</sup> Obed was the father of Jehu, and Jehu was the father of Azariah.

<sup>39</sup> Azariah was the father of Helez, and Helez was the father of Eleasah.

<sup>40</sup> Eleasah was the father of Sismai, and Sismai was the father of Shallum.

<sup>41</sup> Shallum was the father of Jekamiah, and Jekamiah was the father of Elishama.

<sup>42</sup> The sons of Caleb, the brother of Jerahmeel, were Mesha his first-born, who was the father of Ziph; and his second son Mareshah, the father of Hebron.

<sup>44</sup> Shema was the father of Raham, the father of Jorkeam; and Rekem was the father of Shammai.

<sup>45</sup> The son of Shammai was Maon. Maon was the father of Beth-zur.

<sup>49</sup> She also bore Shaaph the father of Madmannah, Sheva the father of Machbenah, and the father of Gibe. The daughter of Caleb was Achsah.

<sup>50</sup> These were the sons of Caleb, the son of Hur, the first-born of Ephrathah: Shobal the father of Kiriath-jearim,

<sup>54</sup> The sons of Salma: Beth-lehem, the Netophathites, Atroth-beth-joab, and half of the Manahathites, and the Zorites.

<sup>55</sup> The families of scribes that dwelt at Jabez: the Tirathites, Shimeathites, and Sucathites. These are the Kenites who came from Hammath, the father of the house of Rechab.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 3

<sup>1</sup> These were the sons of David that were born to him in Hebron: The first-born, Amnon, by Ahinoam the Jezreelitess; the second, Daniel, by Abigail from Carmel;
<sup>2</sup> the third, Absalom the son of Maacah the daughter of Talmi king of Geshur; the fourth, Adonijah, the son of Haggith;

<sup>4</sup> Six were born to him in Hebron, where he reigned seven years and six months. He reigned thirty-three years in Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> These were born to him in Jerusalem: Shimea, Shobab, Nathan, and Solomon, four, by Bathsheba the daughter of Ammiel.

<sup>21</sup> The sons of Hananiah: Pelatiah and Jeshaiiah. Jeshaiiah's son Rephaiah, whose son was Arnan, whose son was Obadiah, whose son was Shecaniah.

<sup>22</sup> The son of Shecaniah: Shemaiah. The sons of Shemaiah: Hattush, Igal, Bariah, Neariah, and Shaphat, six in all.

<sup>24</sup> The sons of Elioenai: Hodaviah, Eliashib, Pelaiah, Akkub, Johanan, Delaiah, and Anani, seven in all.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 4

<sup>1</sup> The sons of Judah: Perez, Hezron, Carmi, Hur, and Shobal.

<sup>2</sup> Reaiah the son of Shobal was the father of Jahath; and Jahath was the father of Ahumai and Lahad. These were the families of the Zorathites.

<sup>3</sup> These were the sons of Etam: Jezreel, Ishma, and Idbash; and the name of their sister was Hazzelponi.

<sup>4</sup> Penuel was the father of Gedor, and Ezer was the father of Hushah. These are the sons of Hur, the first-born of Ephrathah, the father of Bethlehem.

<sup>8</sup> and Koz was the father of Anub, Zobebah, and the families of Aharhel the son of Harum.

<sup>9</sup> Jabez was more honorable than his brothers; and his mother called his name Jabez, saying, "Because I bore him with such pain."

<sup>10</sup> Jabez called on the God of Israel, saying, "Oh that you would bless me and enlarge my border, and that your hand might be with me, and that you would keep me from harm, so that I will not suffer pain!" God granted him what he requested.

<sup>11</sup> Kelub, the brother of Shuhah was the father of Mehir, who was the father of Eshton.

<sup>12</sup> Eshton was the father of Beth-rapha, Paseah, and Tehinnah the father of Irnahash. These were the men of Recah.

<sup>14</sup> Meonothai was the father of Ophrah; and Seraiah was the father of Joab the father of Ge-harashim; for they were craftsmen.

<sup>15</sup> The sons of Caleb the son of Jephunneh: Iru, Elah, and Naam. The son of Elah and Kenaz.

<sup>18</sup> His Judean wife bore Jered the father of Gedor, Heber the father of Soco, and Jekuthiel the father of Zanoah. These were the sons of Bithiah the daughter of Pharaoh, whom Mered married.

<sup>20</sup> The sons of Shimon: Amnon, Rinnah, Ben-hanan, and Tilon. The sons of Ishi: Zoheth, and Ben-zoheth.

<sup>21</sup> The sons of Shelah the son of Judah: Er the father of Lecah, Laadah the father of Mareshah, and the families of the house of those who make fine linen at Beth-Ashbea;

<sup>22</sup> Jokim, and the men of Cozeba, and Joash, and Saraph, who had ruled in Moab, and Jashubi Lehem. These are from the ancient records.

<sup>27</sup> Shimei had sixteen sons and six daughters; but his brothers did not have many children, so their whole family was not as numerous as the descendants of Judah.

<sup>33</sup> and all their villages surrounding these same towns, as far as the town of Baal.

These were their settlements. They have their genealogical records.

<sup>37</sup> Ziza the son of Shiphi, the son of Allon, the son of Jedaiah, the son of Shimri, the son of Shemaiah --

<sup>38</sup> these mentioned by name were leaders in their families, and their clans increased greatly.

<sup>39</sup> They went to the entrance of Gedor, even to the east side of the valley, to seek pasture for their flocks.

<sup>40</sup> They found good lush pasture, and the land was spacious, quiet, and peaceable; for they that lived there before were descendants of Ham.

<sup>41</sup> These recorded by name came in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and attacked their tents, and the Meunim who were found there. They totally destroyed them to this day, and settled in their place, because there was pasture there for their flocks.

<sup>42</sup> Some of them, 500 from the tribe of Simeon, went to mount Seir, under the leadership of Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel, the sons of Ishi.

<sup>43</sup> They destroyed the survivors of the Amalekites who had escaped, and live there to this day.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 5

<sup>1</sup> The sons of Reuben, the first-born of Israel (for he was the first-born; but because he defiled his father's bed, his birthright was given to the sons of Joseph the son of Israel instead; so the genealogy is not reckoned in the normal birth order.

<sup>2</sup> For Judah prevailed over his brothers, and from him came the ruler; but the birthright was Joseph's.)

<sup>6</sup> Beerah his son, whom Tilgath-pileser king of Assyria carried into exile; he was a tribal chief of the Reubenites.

<sup>7</sup> His brothers by their families, as listed in the genealogical records: Jeiel was the chief, then Zechariah, <sup>8</sup> and Bela the son of Azaz, the son of Shema, the son of Joel, who lived in Aroer, to Nebo and Baal-meon.

<sup>9</sup> To the east he settled as far as the entrance of the wilderness from the Euphrates River, because their cattle had multiplied in the land of Gilead.

<sup>10</sup> In the days of Saul, they made war with the Hagarites, who fell by their hand; and they lived in their tents throughout all the area east of Gilead.

<sup>11</sup> The descendants of Gad lived next to them, in the land of Bashan to Salecah.

<sup>12</sup> Joel was the chief, Shapham the second-in-command, Janai and Shaphat were in Bashan.

<sup>14</sup> These were the sons of Abihail, the son of Huri, the son of Jaroah, the son of Gilead, the son of Michael, the son of Jeshishai, the son of Jahdo, the son of Buz.

<sup>15</sup> Ahi the son of Abdiel, the son of Guni, was chief of their clans.

<sup>16</sup> They lived in Gilead in Bashan, and in its villages, and in all the pasturelands of Sharon, as far as their borders.

<sup>17</sup> All these were listed in genealogies in the days of Jotham king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam king of Israel.

<sup>18</sup> The sons of Reuben, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, had 44,760 valiant warriors, men able to carry a shield and sword, and to shoot a bow. They were skilful in warfare, who were able to go out to battle.

<sup>20</sup> They received divine aid them, and the Hagarites were delivered into their hand, and all their allies; for they cried to God in the battle, and he answered them, because they put their trust in him.

<sup>21</sup> They carried off their cattle; 50,000 of their camels, and 250,000 sheep, 2,000 donkeys, and 100,000 men.

<sup>22</sup> For many were killed, because the war was of God. And they lived in their place until the exile.

<sup>26</sup> The God of Israel stirred up the spirit of Pul king of Assyria, that is, the spirit of Tilgath-pileser king of Assyria, and he carried them away, including the Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, and brought them to Halah, Habor, Hara, and to the river of Gozan, to this day.

<sup>21</sup> Zabad his son, and Shuthelah his son. Ezer and Elead were killed by the men of Gath who were born in the land, because they came down to steal their cattle.

<sup>23</sup> He went in to his wife, and she conceived, and bore a son, and he called his name Beriah, because of the tragedy that had come on his house.

<sup>28</sup> Their possessions and settlements were Bethel and its villages, and eastward Naaran, and westward Gezer, with its villages; Shechem and its villages, as far as Ayyah and its villages.

<sup>29</sup> On the borders of Manasseh were Beth-shean and its villages, Taanach and its villages, Megiddo and its villages, and Dor and its villages. This is where the descendants of Joseph the son of Israel lived.

<sup>40</sup> All these were the descendants of Asher, heads of the ancestral clans, choice and mighty warriors, chief of the princes. The number of them reckoned by genealogical records for service in war was 26,000.

<sup>38</sup> Azel had six sons, their names were: Azrikam, Bocheru, Ishmael, Sheariah, Obadiah, and Hanan. All these were the sons of Azel.

<sup>40</sup> The sons of Ulam were mighty warriors and archers. They had many sons, and grandsons, a hundred and fifty total. All these were of the descendants of Benjamin.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 9

<sup>1</sup> So all Israel was listed by genealogical records; they are written in the scroll of the kings of Israel. Judah was carried away into exile to Babylon for their unfaithfulness.

<sup>4</sup> Uthai son of Ammihud, son of Omri, son of Imri, son of Bani, from the descendants of Perez the son of Judah.

<sup>7</sup> From the sons of Benjamin: Sallu son of Meshullam, son of Hodaviah, the son of Hassenuah, <sup>8</sup> Ibneiah son of Jeroham, Elah son of Uzzi, son of Mikri, and Meshullam son of Shephatiah, son of Reuel, son of Ibnijah.

<sup>9</sup> Their relatives, according to their genealogical records, 956. All these men were heads of ancestral clans by their fathers' houses.

<sup>11</sup> Azariah son of Hilkiyah, son of Meshullam, son of Zadok, son of Meraioth, son of Ahitub, the head official of the house of God.

<sup>12</sup> Adaiah son of Jeroham, son of Pashhur, son of Malchijah, and Maasai son of Adiel, son of Jahzerah, son of Meshullam, son of Meshillemith, son of Immer;

<sup>13</sup> Their relatives, heads of their ancestral clans, 1,760; competent men for the work of the service of the house of God.

<sup>14</sup> The Levites: Shemaiah son of Hasshub, son of Azrikam, son of Hashabiah, from the descendants of Merari;

<sup>15</sup> Bakbakkar, Heresh, Galal, and Mattaniah son of Mica, son of Zikri, son of Asaph, <sup>16</sup> Obadiah the son of Shemaiah, son of Galal, son of Jeduthun, and Berechiah son of Asa, son of Elkanah, who lived in the villages of the Netophathites.

<sup>18</sup> who before this served in the king's gate on the east. They were the gatekeepers for the camp of the Levites.

<sup>19</sup> Shallum son of Kore, son of Ebiasaph, son of Korah, and his brothers, of his ancestral clan, the Korahites, were in charge of the work of the service, guardians of the thresholds of the tent, as their fathers had been over the camp of the LORD, guardians of the entrance.

<sup>20</sup> Phinehas the son of Eleazar was ruler over them in former times, and the LORD was with him.

<sup>22</sup> All these who were chosen to be gatekeepers at the entrances were 212. These were listed in the genealogical records in their villages, whom David and Samuel the seer appointed to their trusted office.

<sup>23</sup> So they and their descendants had the oversight of the gates of the house of the LORD, when the house was a tent.

<sup>25</sup> Their relatives in their villages came for a seven-day stint from time to time to serve with them;

<sup>26</sup> for the four chief gatekeepers, who were Levites, were in an office of trust over the chambers and treasuries in the house of God.

<sup>27</sup> They would spend the night at their posts around the house of God, because it was assigned to them; and they were in charge of opening it every morning.

<sup>28</sup> Some of them were in charge of the utensils of service; for they were to be counted when they were brought in and taken out.

<sup>29</sup> Some of them also were appointed over the furniture, and over all the utensils of the sanctuary, and over the fine flour, wine, olive oil, incense, and spices.

<sup>31</sup> Mattithiah, one of the Levites, who was the firstborn of Shallum the Korahite, was in charge of baking the bread used in the offerings.

<sup>32</sup> Some of their brothers, from the sons of the Kohathites, were over the sacred bread, to prepare it every Sabbath.

<sup>33</sup> These are the singers, heads of ancestral clans of the Levites, who lived in the temple chambers and were free from other responsibilities; for they were on duty day and night.

<sup>38</sup> Mikloth was the father of Shimeam. They also lived with their relatives in Jerusalem, with their relatives.

<sup>39</sup> Ner was the father of Kish; and Kish was the father of Saul; and Saul was the father of Jonathan, Malki-shua, Abinadab, and Esh-baal.

<sup>42</sup> Ahaz was the father of Jarah; and Jarah was the father of Alemeth, Azmaveth, and Zimri; and Zimri was the father of Moza.

<sup>43</sup> Moza was the father of Binea; and Rephaiah was his son, Eleasah his son, Azel his son.

<sup>44</sup> Azel had six sons, these are their names: Azrikam, Bocheru, Ishmael, Sheariah, Obadiah, and Hanan; these were the sons of Azel.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 10

<sup>1</sup> Now the Philistines fought against Israel; and the men of Israel fled before the Philistines, and were killed on Mount Gilboa.

<sup>3</sup> The battle grew fierce against Saul; and the archers overtook him and wounded him.

<sup>4</sup> Then Saul told his armor-bearer, "Draw your sword, and stab me with it, so that these uncircumcised enemies may not come and abuse me." But his armor-bearer would not do it; because he was terrified. So Saul took his own sword, and fell on it.

<sup>5</sup> When his armor-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his sword and died.

<sup>6</sup> So Saul and his three sons died, and his entire household died together.

<sup>7</sup> When all the men of Israel who were in the valley saw that the army had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their towns, and fled. The Philistines came and occupied their towns.

<sup>8</sup> The next day, when the Philistines came to strip the dead, they found Saul and his sons dead on Mount Gilboa.

<sup>9</sup> They stripped him, and took his head and his armor, and sent messengers throughout the land of the Philistines, to report the news to their idols, and to the people.

<sup>10</sup> They put his armor in the house of their gods, and fastened his head in the temple of Dagon.

<sup>11</sup> But when all Jabesh-gilead heard everything that the Philistines had done to Saul, <sup>12</sup> all the valiant warriors got up, and rescued the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons, and brought them back to Jabesh. They buried their bones under the oak in Jabesh, and fasted seven days.

<sup>13</sup> So Saul died for his unfaithfulness that he committed against the LORD, because he did not obey the word of that LORD; and also because he asked counsel from a spiritual medium to seek guidance.

<sup>14</sup> He did not inquire of the LORD. So he killed him, and turned the kingdom over to David son of Jesse.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 11

<sup>1</sup> Then all Israel gathered together before David at Hebron, saying, “We are your flesh and bone.

<sup>2</sup> In times past, even when Saul was king, it was you who led Israel’s army out and back. The LORD your God said to you, ‘You will be shepherd of my people Israel, and you will be ruler over my people Israel.’”

<sup>3</sup> So all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron. David made a covenant with them in Hebron before the LORD; and they anointed David king over Israel, according to the word of the LORD given by Samuel.

<sup>4</sup> David and all Israel went to take Jerusalem, that is, Jebus. The Jebusites, who were the original inhabitants, were living there.

<sup>5</sup> The inhabitants of Jebus said to David, “You cannot come in here.” Nevertheless David took the fortress of Zion; that is now called, the city of David.

<sup>6</sup> David said, “Whoever smites the Jebusites first will be chief and commander.” So Joab, the son of Zeruah, went up first, and became chief.

<sup>7</sup> David lived in the fortress; which is why they called it the city of David.

<sup>8</sup> He built up the city around it, from the Millo terraces to the surrounding walls; Joab repaired the rest of the city.

<sup>9</sup> David grew greater and greater; for the LORD of hosts was with him.

<sup>10</sup> Now these are the chief of David’s mighty warriors, who showed their strong support for his kingdom, together with all Israel, to make him king, according to the word of the LORD concerning Israel.

<sup>11</sup> This is the listing of David’s mighty warriors: Jashobeam, a Hachmonite, was the chief of the Three; he lifted up his spear against 300 and killed them in a single battle.

<sup>12</sup> Next to him was Eleazar the son of Dodo, from Ahoh. He was one of the Three special forces.

<sup>13</sup> He was with David at Pas-dammim, when the Philistines were gathered together for battle. There was a plot of ground full of barley; and the army fled before the Philistines.

<sup>14</sup> They made their stand in the middle of the field, and defended it. They killed the Philistines; and the LORD rescued them in a great victory.

<sup>15</sup> Three of the thirty chiefs went down to David at the rock by the cave of Adullam; and the Philistines troops were camped in the Valley of Rephaim.

<sup>16</sup> David was then in the stronghold, and a Philistine garrison was then occupying Beth-lehem.

<sup>17</sup> David longed and said, “O that someone would get me water to drink from the well by the gate of Bethlehem!”

<sup>18</sup> So the Three broke through the Philistines forces, and drew water out of the well by the gate of Bethlehem, and brought it back to David. But David would not drink it, but poured it out to the LORD.

<sup>19</sup> He said, "God forbid that I should do this. Could I drink the blood of these men who have risked their lives?" Because they had risked their lives to get it for him. So he would not drink it. These types of exploits were what the three mighty warriors did.

<sup>20</sup> Abishai, the brother of Joab, was chief over the Three. He lifted up his spear against 300 and killed them, and was famous among the Three.

<sup>21</sup> Over the three, he was given double honor, and was made their commander, although he was not officially one of the Three.

<sup>22</sup> Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, was a valiant warrior from Kabzeel, who had done mighty deeds, he slew the two sons of Ariel of Moab. He also went down and killed a lion in a pit on a snowy day.

<sup>23</sup> He killed a tall Egyptian, who stood seven and a half feet tall. The Egyptian had in his hand a spear like a weaver's beam; and Benaiah attacked him with a club, ripped the spear out of the Egyptian's hand, and killed him with his own spear.

<sup>24</sup> These were the exploits of Benaiah the son of Jehoiada. He was as famous as the Three mighty warriors.

<sup>25</sup> He was more famous than the others of the Thirty, but he was not one of the Three elite force. David put him over his bodyguards.

<sup>26</sup> The mighty warriors of the armies were:

- Asahel the brother of Joab,
- Elhanan son of Dodo of Bethlehem,
- <sup>27</sup> Shammoth from Harod,
- Helez from Pelon,
- <sup>28</sup> Ira son of Ikkesh from Tekoa,
- Abiezer from Anathoth,
- <sup>29</sup> Sibbecai from Hushah,
- Ilai from Ahoh,
- <sup>30</sup> Maharai from Netophah,
- Heled son of Baanah the Netophahite,
- <sup>31</sup> Ithai son of Ribai of Gibeah in the territory of Benjamin,
- Benaiah the Pirathonite,
- <sup>32</sup> Hurai from the wadis of Gaash,
- Abiel from Arabah,
- <sup>33</sup> Azmaveth from Baharum,
- Eliabba from Shaalbon,
- <sup>34</sup> the sons of Hashem from Gizon,
- Jonathan the son of Shagee from Harar,
- <sup>35</sup> Ahiam son of Sacar from Harar,
- Eliphai son of Ur,
- <sup>36</sup> Hopher from Mecherah,

37 Ahijah the Pelonite,
Hezro the Carmelite,
Naarai son of Ezbai,
38 Joel the brother of Nathan,
Mibhar son of Hagri,
39 Zelek the Ammonite,
Naharai from Beeroth, the armorbearer of Joab son of Zeruiah, 40 Ira from Jattir,
Gareb from Jattir,
41 Uriah the Hittite,
Zabad son of Ahlai,
42 Adina son of Shiza the Reubenite, a chief of the Reubenites, and thirty warriors with him,
43 Hanan son of Maacah,
Joshaphat from Mithna,
44 Uzzia from Ashteroth,
Shama and Jeiel, the sons of Hotham the Aroerite,
45 Jediahel son of Shimri,
Joha, his brother, from Tiz,
46 Eliel from Mahavah,
Jeribai and Joshaviah, sons of Elnaam,
Ithmah the Moabite,
47 Eliel, Obed,
and Jaasiel the Mezobaite.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 12

<sup>1</sup> These were those who came to David at Ziklag, while he was hiding from Saul son of Kish. They were among the mighty men who helped in war.

<sup>8</sup> From the Gadites who joined with David at the stronghold in the wilderness, mighty warriors, trained for war, who could handle shield and spear, whose faces were as fierce as lions, and as swift as the gazelles on the mountains.

<sup>9</sup> Ezer was the chief, Obadiah the second in command, Eliab the third,

<sup>12</sup> Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth,

<sup>14</sup> These Gadites were officers of the army, the least led a hundred, and the greatest was over a thousand.

<sup>15</sup> These are those who went over the Jordan in the first month, when it had overflowed all its banks. They put to flight all those living in the valleys, both to the east and west.

<sup>16</sup> There came some from Benjamin and Judah to the stronghold of David.

<sup>17</sup> David went out to meet them, and told them, "If you have come to me in peace to help me, my heart will be bound to you; but if you have come to betray me to my enemies, seeing my hands have done no wrong, may the God of our fathers look on it, and judge you."

<sup>18</sup> Then the Spirit came on Amasai, who was chief of the Thirty, and he said, "We are yours, David. We are on your side, O son of Jesse. Peace, peace to you, and peace be to the ones helping you. For your God is helping you." Then David received them and made them commanders over the troops.

<sup>19</sup> Some from Manasseh deserted to David, when he came with the Philistines against Saul to battle. But they did not help them, for the lords of the Philistines after consulting sent him away, saying, "He will switch loyalties back to his master Saul at the cost of our heads."

<sup>20</sup> As he returned to Ziklag, he was joined by some from Manasseh: Adnah, Jozabad, Jediahel, Michael, Jozabad, Elihu, and Zillethai, commanders of thousands in Manasseh.

<sup>21</sup> They helped David against gangs of raiders, for they were all mighty warriors, and were commanders in the army.

<sup>22</sup> Day after day others came to David to help him, until there was a large army, like the army of God.

<sup>23</sup> These are the numbers of the those who were armed for war, who came to David at Hebron, to offer the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the word of the LORD.

<sup>24</sup> From Judah there were 6,800 who bore the shield and spear armed for war.

<sup>25</sup> From Simeon there were 7,100 mighty warriors.

<sup>26</sup> From the Levites there were 4,600.

<sup>29</sup> From Benjamin, the relatives of Saul, 3,000. The greatest part of them had been loyal to the house of Saul.

<sup>31</sup> From the half tribe of Manasseh 18,000 joined, who were mentioned by name, to come and make David king.

<sup>32</sup> From Issachar, men who understood the times, who knew what Israel ought to do; there were 200 leaders; and all their relatives were under their command.

<sup>33</sup> From Zebulun, 50,000 who were equipped for battle and prepared for war, with all types of weapons, to help David with undivided loyalty.

<sup>34</sup> From Naphtali 1,000 commanders, along with 37,000 armed with shields and spears.

<sup>37</sup> From the Reubenites, Gadites, and of the half-tribe of Manasseh, from other side of the Jordan River, with all types of weapons of war, 120,000.

<sup>38</sup> All these were warriors, who were ready for battle, came to Hebron with the sole intent to make David king over all Israel. All the rest of Israel were united to make David king.

<sup>39</sup> They were there with David three days, eating and drinking; for their relatives had supplied provisions for them.

<sup>40</sup> Also their neighbors, as far away as Issachar, Zebulun and Naphtali, brought bread on donkeys, camels, mules, and oxen. There were supplies of flour, cakes of figs, clusters of raisins, wine, olive oil, oxen, and sheep in abundance, for there was joy in Israel.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 13

<sup>1</sup> David consulted with all the commanders of thousands and hundreds, in fact, with every leader.

<sup>2</sup> David said to all the assembly of Israel, “If it seems good to you, and if it is the will of the LORD our God, let us send out everywhere to our brothers who are left in all the land of Israel, including the priests and Levites who are in their towns with pasturelands, inviting them to join us.

<sup>3</sup> Let us bring again the ark of our God to us; for we did not make inquires of it in the days of Saul.”

<sup>4</sup> All the assembly agreed to do this; for it seemed right in the eyes of all the people.

<sup>5</sup> So David assembled all Israel together, from the Shihor River of Egypt up to Lebo Hamath, to bring the ark of God from Kiriath-jearim.

<sup>6</sup> David and all Israel, went up to Baalah, that is, to Kiriath-jearim, which belonged to Judah, to bring up from there the ark of God, that is called by his name, the LORD, who sits between the cherubim.

<sup>7</sup> They hauled the ark of God up on a new cart, and brought it out of the house of Abinadab. Uzzah and Ahio drove the cart.

<sup>8</sup> David and all Israel celebrated before God with all their might, singing songs, with harps, lyres, tambourines, cymbals and trumpets.

<sup>9</sup> When they came to the threshing floor of Kidon, Uzzah reached out his hand to grab hold of the ark, because the oxen stumbled.

<sup>10</sup> Then LORD was furious with Uzzah, and he killed him, because he reached out his hand to touch the ark. So he died there before God.

<sup>11</sup> David was angry, because the LORD had broken out on Uzzah; and he called that place Perez-uzzah [meaning “Broken out on Uzzah”] to this day.

<sup>12</sup> Then David was afraid of God that day and asked, “How can I bring the ark of God to be with me?”

<sup>13</sup> So David did not bring the ark to him in the city of David, but left it in the house of Obed-edom from Gath.

<sup>14</sup> The ark of God stayed with the family of Obed-edom in his house for three months. The LORD blessed the house of Obed-edom, and all that he had.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 14

<sup>1</sup> Hiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, along with cedar trees, masons, and carpenters, to build him a palace.

<sup>8</sup> When the Philistines heard that David was anointed king over all Israel, all the Philistines went up to search for David. David heard about it and went out against them.

<sup>9</sup> Now the Philistines had come and made a raid in the valley of Rephaim.

<sup>10</sup> David inquired of God, saying, "Shall I go up against the Philistines? Will you hand them over to me?" The LORD replied, "Go up; for I will hand them over to you."

<sup>11</sup> So they went up to Baal-perazim, and David defeated them there. David said, "God has broken my enemies by my hand, like the water bursts out." So they called the name of that place Baal-perazim ["the Lord bursts out"].

<sup>12</sup> They abandoned their gods there, and David gave orders and they were burned up.

<sup>14</sup> David inquired again of God. God told him, "You should not go up after them; circle around them, and come up against them in front of the balsam trees.

<sup>15</sup> When you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the balsam trees, then go out and attack. For God is going out before you to strike down the Philistine army."

<sup>16</sup> David did just as God had commanded him. They struck down the Philistine army from Gibeon to Gezer.

<sup>17</sup> The fame of David spread into all lands; and the LORD brought the fear of him on all nations.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 15

<sup>1</sup> David built buildings for himself in the city of David. He prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched a tent for it.

<sup>2</sup> Then David said, “No one except the Levites ought to carry the ark of God, for the LORD has chosen them to carry the ark of God, and to minister to him forever.”

<sup>11</sup> David summoned Zadok and Abiathar the priests, along with the Levites: Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, Eliel, and Amminadab.

<sup>12</sup> He told them, “You are the heads of the Levitical families. Consecrate yourselves, both you and your relatives, so that you may bring up the ark of the LORD, the God of Israel, to the place I have prepared for it.

<sup>13</sup> Because you did not carry it up the first time, the LORD our God’s anger burst out on us because we did not ask him how to carry it in the proper way.”

<sup>14</sup> So the priests and Levites consecrated themselves to bring up the ark of the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>15</sup> The Levites carried the ark of God on their shoulders with the poles, as Moses commanded according to the word of the LORD.

<sup>17</sup> So the Levites appointed Heman the son of Joel, and of his brothers; Asaph the son of Berechiah; and the sons of Merari and their brothers, Ethan son of Kushaiah;

<sup>19</sup> So the singers, Heman, Asaph, and Ethan, were to sound aloud with bronze cymbals.

<sup>20</sup> Zechariah, Aziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaseiah, and Benaiah, were to play the harps according to Alamoth.

<sup>21</sup> Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, Mikneiah, Obed-edom, Jeiel, and Azaziah, were to lead with the lyres according to Sheminith.

<sup>22</sup> Kenaniah, chief of the Levites, was the music director, for he was instructed and skillful in music.

<sup>24</sup> Shebaniah, Joshaphat, Nethanel, Amasai, Zechariah, Benaiah, and Eliezer, the priests, were to blow the trumpets before the ark of God. Obed-edom and Jehiah were guardians of the ark.

<sup>25</sup> So David and the elders of Israel, and the commanders of the thousands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the house of Obed-edom with celebration.

<sup>26</sup> God helped the Levites who bore the ark of the covenant of the LORD, so they sacrificed seven bulls and seven rams.

<sup>27</sup> David was dressed in a fine linen robe, and all the Levites who bore the ark, and the singers, and Kenaniah the choir director, as well as David, wore a linen vest-like ephod.

<sup>28</sup> So all Israel brought up the ark of the covenant of the LORD with shouting, with the blowing of rams' horns, trumpets, and cymbals, playing with harps and lyres.

<sup>29</sup> As the ark of the covenant of the LORD came to the city of David, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out a window. She saw king David dancing and celebrating, and she despised him in her heart.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 16

<sup>1</sup> They brought in the ark of God, and set it in the middle of the tent that David had pitched for it. They offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God.

<sup>2</sup> When David had finished offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> He gave to every one of Israel, both men and women alike, a loaf of bread, a portion of meat, and a raisin cake.

<sup>4</sup> He appointed certain of the Levites to serve before the ark of the LORD, and to celebrate and to thank and praise the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>6</sup> Benaiah and Jahaziel the priests regularly blew the trumpets before the ark of the covenant of God.

<sup>7</sup> Then on that day David first gave to Asaph and his associates this song of thanks to the LORD:

<sup>8</sup> O give thanks to the LORD, call on his name, make known his deeds among the peoples.

<sup>9</sup> Sing to him, sing praises to him;
tell of all his awesome works.

<sup>10</sup> Glory in his holy name;
let the hearts of those who seek the LORD rejoice.

<sup>11</sup> Seek the LORD and his strength; seek his face constantly.

<sup>12</sup> Remember the awesome works he has done, his miracles, and the judgments of his mouth,

<sup>13</sup> O descendants of Israel, his servant, you offspring of Jacob, his chosen ones.

<sup>14</sup> He is the LORD our God;
his judgments are in all the earth.

<sup>15</sup> Remember his covenant forever, the word he commanded to a thousand generations.

<sup>16</sup> The covenant that he made with Abraham, and his oath to Isaac.

<sup>17</sup> He confirmed it to Jacob as a statute, to Israel as an everlasting covenant,

<sup>18</sup> saying, "To you I will give the land of Canaan, as a portion of your inheritance."

- <sup>19</sup> When they were but few in number,
    yes, very few, and sojourners in the land;
<sup>20</sup> they went about from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another.
<sup>21</sup> He permitted no one to oppress them;
    he even reproved kings for their sakes, <sup>22</sup> saying, “Do not touch my anointed ones, and do my prophets no harm.”
- <sup>23</sup> Sing to the LORD, all the earth, proclaim his salvation from day to day.
<sup>24</sup> Declare his glory among the nations, his awesome works among all the peoples.
<sup>25</sup> For great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised, he is to be feared above all gods.
<sup>26</sup> For all the gods of the peoples are idols, but the LORD made the heavens.
<sup>27</sup> Honor and majesty are before him;
    Strength and joy are in his place.
<sup>28</sup> Ascribe to the LORD, O families of the peoples, ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
<sup>29</sup> Ascribe to the LORD the glory due to his name, bring an offering, and come before him.
    Worship the LORD in his spectacular holiness.
<sup>30</sup> Tremble before him, all the earth, the world is established by him and it cannot be moved.
<sup>31</sup> Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice.
    Let them proclaim among the nations, “The LORD reigns.”
<sup>32</sup> Let the sea roar, and everything in it.
    Let the field and everything in them celebrate.
<sup>33</sup> Then the trees of the forest will sing for joy before the LORD, for he comes to judge the earth.
- <sup>34</sup> O give thanks to the LORD, for he is good, for his loyal love endures forever.
<sup>35</sup> Plead, “Save us, O God of our salvation, and gather us together and rescue us from the nations,
    to give thanks to your holy name,
    and to triumph in your praise.
<sup>36</sup> Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting.

Then all the people said, “Amen,” and praised the LORD.

<sup>37</sup> So David left Asaph and his associates there, before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, to serve before the ark continually, as every day's work required, <sup>38</sup> including Obed-edom with sixty-eight of his associates. Obed-edom, the son of Jeduthun, and Hosah were the gatekeepers.

<sup>39</sup> Zadok the priest, and his associates, the priests, served before the tabernacle of the LORD at the high place that was in Gibeon.

<sup>40</sup> They offered burnt offerings to the LORD on the altar of burnt offering regularly every morning and evening, according to all that is written in the law of the LORD, which he commanded Israel.

<sup>41</sup> With them were Heman and Jeduthun, and the rest who were chosen, specifically by name, to give thanks to the LORD, for his loyal love endures forever.

<sup>42</sup> Heman and Jeduthun were in charge of those sounding the trumpets and cymbals, along with instruments for the sacred songs. The sons of Jeduthun were assigned to guard the gate.

<sup>43</sup> All the people departed every one to his home, and David went home to bless his family.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 17

<sup>1</sup> After David had lived awhile in his house, he said to Nathan the prophet, “Look, I am living in a house of cedar, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD is under a tent.”

<sup>2</sup> Nathan replied to David, “Do all that is in your heart; for God is with you.”

<sup>3</sup> That same night, that the word of God came to Nathan, saying, <sup>4</sup> “Go, tell my servant David, ‘This is what the LORD says, You are not to build me a house to dwell in.

<sup>5</sup> for I have not dwelt in a house since the day that I brought up Israel to this day, but have moved from one tent setup to another in a tabernacle tent.

<sup>6</sup> Wherever I have moved with all Israel, did I ever speak a word with any of the judges of Israel, whom I commanded to shepherd my people, asking, Why have you not built me a house of cedar?’

<sup>7</sup> So now, tell my servant David, ‘This is what the LORD of armies says, I took you from the pasture, from tending sheep, so that you would be ruler over my people Israel.

<sup>8</sup> I have been with you wherever you have gone, and have cut off all your enemies before you. I will make your name, as famous as any of the great ones who have ever lived on the earth.

<sup>9</sup> I will provide a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, so that they may live in their own place, and not be shuffled around any more. The wicked will not oppress them any more, as they have done in the past,

<sup>10</sup> from the time when I commanded judges to be over my people Israel. I will subdue all your enemies. Furthermore, I tell you that the LORD himself will build you a house.

<sup>11</sup> When your days are fulfilled that you must go to be with your forefathers, I will raise up one of your descendants after you, who will be one of your own sons, and I will establish his kingdom.

<sup>12</sup> He will build me a house, and I will establish his throne forever.

<sup>13</sup> I will be his father, and he will be my son. I will not take my loyal love away from him, as I took it from him who ruled before you.

<sup>14</sup> but I will confirm him over my house and over my kingdom forever. His throne will be established forever.”

<sup>15</sup> Nathan told David all these words and the entire vision.

<sup>16</sup> Then David the king went in, and sat before the LORD, and replied, “Who am I, O LORD God, and what is my house, that you have brought me this far?

<sup>17</sup> Even if this was a small thing in your eyes, O God; you have spoken about your servant's house well into the future, and have treated me as though I were a person of high rank, O LORD God.

<sup>18</sup> What more can David say to you for the way in which you have honored your servant? For you know your servant.

<sup>19</sup> O LORD, for your servant's sake, and according to your own heart, you have done this great thing and made known all these incredible things.

<sup>20</sup> O LORD, there is no one like you, there is no other God besides you, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

<sup>21</sup> Who is like your people Israel, one nation in the earth whom God went to redeem as a people for himself. You made a name for yourself by great and awesome deeds when you drove out nations before your people, whom you redeemed out of Egypt?

<sup>22</sup> For you made your people Israel, your own people, forever; and you, O LORD, became their God.

<sup>23</sup> Now, O LORD, let the word that you have promised concerning your servant, and concerning his dynastic house, be established forever. Do as you have promised.

<sup>24</sup> Let your name be established and magnified forever, by saying, "The LORD of armies is God of Israel, is Israel's God; and the house of David your servant is established before you.

<sup>25</sup> For you, O my God, have revealed to your servant that you will build him a dynastic house. Therefore your servant has found courage to pray before you.

<sup>26</sup> Now, O LORD, you are God, and have promised this good thing to your servant.

<sup>27</sup> Now it has pleased you to bless the dynastic house of your servant, that it may continue forever before you. For you, O LORD, have blessed it, and it will be blessed forever."

DASV: 1 Chronicles 18

<sup>4</sup> David took from him 1,000 chariots, 7,000 horsemen, and 20,000 foot soldiers. He hamstringed all the chariot horses except enough for a hundred chariots.

<sup>5</sup> When the Arameans of Damascus came to the aid of Hadarezer king of Zobah, David killed 22,000 of the Arameans.

<sup>6</sup> Then David put garrisons in the Aramean territory of Damascus. The Arameans became subject to David, and brought tribute. The LORD gave victory to David wherever he went.

<sup>7</sup> David took the gold shields carried by the servants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup> From Tibhath and from Cun, cities of Hadarezer, David took a large quantity of bronze, from which Solomon made the bronze sea, the pillars, and the vessels of bronze.

<sup>9</sup> When Tou king of Hamath heard that David had defeated the entire army of Hadarezer king of Zobah, <sup>10</sup> he sent Hadoram his son to king David, to greet him, and to congratulate him, because he also had fought against Hadarezer and defeated him, (for Tou had been at war with Hadarezer). He sent all kinds of vessels of gold, silver, and bronze.

<sup>12</sup> Moreover Abishai the son of Zeruiah killed 18,000 Edomites in the Valley of Salt.

<sup>13</sup> He put garrisons in Edom; and all the Edomites became subject to David. The LORD gave victory to David wherever he went.

<sup>14</sup> So David reigned over all Israel; and he did what was just and fair for all his people.

<sup>15</sup> Joab the son of Zeruiah was over the army; and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was court recorder;

<sup>16</sup> Zadok the son of Ahitub, and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar were priests; Shavsha was scribe;

<sup>17</sup> Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Kerethites and Pelethites; and the sons of David were chief officials around the king.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 19

<sup>1</sup> Some time later, Nahash the king of the Ammonites died, and his son succeeded him.

<sup>2</sup> David said, "I will show kindness to Hanun the son of Nahash, because his father showed kindness to me." So David sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father's death. David's servants came into the land of the Ammonites to Hanun, to offer condolences.

<sup>3</sup> But the Ammonite officials said to Hanun, "Do you really think that David is honoring your father, by sending men to express sympathy to you? Are his servants not come to you to search, explore, and spy out the land?"

<sup>4</sup> So Hanun took David's servants, shaved them, cut off their garments in the middle, exposing their buttocks, and sent them away.

<sup>5</sup> Then someone came and told David how the men were mistreated. He sent messengers to meet them; for they were absolutely humiliated. The king said, "Stay at Jericho until your beards have regrown, and then return."

<sup>6</sup> When the Ammonites saw that they had made themselves repugnant to David, Hanun and the Ammonites sent a 1,000 talents [75,000 pounds] of silver to hire chariots and horsemen from Aram Naharaim, Aram-maacah, and Zobah.

<sup>7</sup> So they hired 32,000 chariots, and the king of Maacah and his army, who came and camped before Medeba. The Ammonites assembled from their towns and came to battle.

<sup>8</sup> When David heard about it, he sent Joab, and all the army of the mighty men.

<sup>9</sup> The Ammonites came out, and deployed their battle lines at the gate of the city, and the mercenary kings who had come were by themselves in the open fields.

<sup>10</sup> Now when Joab saw that the battle was going against him in front and behind, he chose all the elite forces of Israel, and deployed them against the Arameans.

<sup>11</sup> The rest of the people he put under the command of Abishai his brother; and they deployed against the Ammonites.

<sup>12</sup> He said, "If the Arameans are too strong for me, then you should come to my rescue; but if the Ammonites are too strong for you, then I will come to your rescue.

<sup>13</sup> Be courageous! Let us fight bravely for our people, and for the cities of our God; and may the LORD do what seems good to him."

<sup>14</sup> So Joab and the people who were with him advanced against the Arameans for the battle; and they fled before him.

<sup>15</sup> When the Ammonites saw that the Arameans had fled, they likewise fled before Abishai his brother, and retreated into the city. Then Joab returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>16</sup> When the Arameans saw that they were routed before Israel, they sent messengers, and got reinforcements from the Arameans who were beyond the Euphrates River, with Shophach, the commander of the army of Hadarezer at their head.

<sup>17</sup> David was told about it; so he gathered all Israel together, and passed over the Jordan River, and came on them, and advanced against them. So when David had advanced against the Arameans, they fought with him.

<sup>18</sup> The Arameans fled before Israel; and David killed 7,000 Aramean charioteers, and 40,000 foot soldiers. He also killed Shophach the commander of the army.

<sup>19</sup> When the subjects of Hadarezer saw that they were defeated before Israel, they made peace with David, and served him. After that the Arameans would not help Ammonites anymore.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 20

<sup>1</sup> In the spring, at the time when kings normally go out to war, Joab led the army, and attacked the country of the Ammonites, and came and besieged Rabbah. But David stayed in Jerusalem. Joab defeated Rabbah, and destroyed it.

<sup>2</sup> David took the crown of their king off his head, its weight was a talent of gold [75 pounds], and it was set with precious stones. It was set on David's head and he took a huge amount of plunder from the city.

<sup>3</sup> He brought out the people that were in it, and put them to forced labor with saws, iron picks, and axes. David did this to all the towns of the Ammonites. Then David and all the people returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup> After this, war arose at Gezer with the Philistines. Then Sibbecai from Hushah killed Sippai, one of the descendants of the Rephaim; so the Philistines were subdued.

<sup>5</sup> Again there was war with the Philistines; and Elhanan the son of Jair killed Lahmi the brother of Goliath of Gath, the staff of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.

<sup>6</sup> There was another war with Gath, where there was a man of great stature, who had twenty-four fingers and toes, six on each hand and foot. He too was a descendant of the giant Rapha.

<sup>7</sup> When he taunted Israel, Jonathan the son of Shimea, David's brother, killed him.

<sup>8</sup> These were descendants of Rapha of Gath; and they fell by the hand of David and his servants.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 21

<sup>1</sup> Satan stood up against Israel, and incited David to number Israel.

<sup>2</sup> David said to Joab and to the commanders of the army, “Go, number Israel, from Beer-sheba to Dan; and bring back a report, so that I may know their total number.”

<sup>3</sup> But Joab objected, “The LORD make his people a hundred times as many as they are. O my lord the king, are they not all my lord's servants? Why does my lord require this? Why will he bring guilt on Israel?”

<sup>4</sup> But the king's word prevailed against Joab. So Joab departed, and went throughout all Israel, and then returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> Joab reported the census total of the people to David. There were in Israel 1,100,000 men who could wield a sword. Judah had 470,000 who could wield a sword.

<sup>6</sup> But Joab had not included Levi and Benjamin in the census; for the king's word was repulsive to Joab.

<sup>7</sup> God was displeased with this thing, therefore he struck Israel because of it.

<sup>8</sup> Then David confessed to God, “I have sinned greatly, by doing this thing. But now, please take away the guilt of your servant; for I have acted very foolishly.”

<sup>9</sup> The LORD spoke to Gad, David's seer, saying,

<sup>10</sup> “Go, tell David, ‘This is what the LORD says: I offer you three options: choose one of them, so that I may inflict it on you.’”

<sup>11</sup> So Gad came to David, and told him, “This is what the LORD says, ‘Take your pick:

<sup>12</sup> either three years of famine; or three months of devastation by your foes, while the sword of your enemies overtakes you; or three days of the sword of the LORD, that is, pestilence in the land, and the angel of the LORD destroying throughout all of Israel's territory. Now decide what answer I should give to him who sent me.”

<sup>13</sup> David replied to Gad, “I am in a great quandry: Please let me fall into the hand of the LORD; for his mercies are very great; but let me not fall into human hands.”

<sup>14</sup> So the LORD sent a plague on Israel; and 70,000 men of Israel died.

<sup>15</sup> God sent an angel to Jerusalem to destroy it. But as he was about to destroy, the LORD saw it and he relented of the calamity, and said to the destroying angel, “It is enough; stop your hand.” And the angel of the LORD was standing at the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

<sup>16</sup> David lifted up his eyes, and saw the angel of the LORD standing between heaven and earth, having a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Jerusalem. Then David and the elders, clothed in sackcloth, fell on their faces.

<sup>17</sup> David pleaded with God, “Was it not I who commanded the people to be numbered? It is not I who have sinned and done this great wickedness; but these sheep, what have they done? Please let your hand, O LORD my God, be against me, and against my father's house; but not against your people, but spare them of this plague.”

<sup>18</sup> Then the angel of the LORD commanded Gad to tell David, that David should go up, and build an altar to the LORD at the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

<sup>19</sup> So David went up at the direction of Gad, which he spoke in the name of the LORD.

<sup>20</sup> Ornan turned back, and saw the angel; and his four sons that were with him hid themselves. Now Ornan was threshing wheat.

<sup>21</sup> As David approached Ornan, Ornan looked and saw David, and came off the threshing floor, and bowed himself to David with his face to the ground.

<sup>22</sup> Then David said to Ornan, “Sell me this threshing floor, that I may build on it an altar to the LORD. I will pay full price for it, so that the plague may be stopped from the people.”

<sup>23</sup> Ornan replied to David, “It’s yours! Let my lord the king do whatever seems right in his eyes. I am giving you the oxen for burnt offerings, the threshing instruments for wood, and wheat for the grain offering. I will give it all to you.”

<sup>24</sup> Then king David said to Ornan, “No; I insist on paying full price for it. I will not take what is yours for the LORD, or offer a burnt offering that cost me nothing.”

<sup>26</sup> David built an altar to the LORD there, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called on the LORD. He answered him from heaven by sending fire on the altar of burnt offering.

<sup>27</sup> Then the LORD commanded the angel; and he put his sword back into its sheath.

<sup>28</sup> At that time, when David saw that the LORD had answered him at the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, he sacrificed there.

<sup>29</sup> For the tabernacle of the LORD, which Moses made in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering, were at that time at the high place of Gibeon.

<sup>30</sup> But David could not go before it to inquire of God; for he was afraid because of the sword of the angel of the LORD.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 22

<sup>1</sup> Then David said, “This is where the house of the LORD God will be, and this is the place for the altar of burnt offering for Israel.”

<sup>2</sup> David commanded to gather together the foreigners that were in the land of Israel. He got stonecutters to prepare dressed stones to build the house of God.

<sup>3</sup> David prepared large amounts of iron for the nails for the doors of the gates, and for the clamps; so much bronze it could not be weighed;

<sup>4</sup> and cedar logs without number, for the Sidonians and those from Tyre brought a vast number of cedar logs to David.

<sup>5</sup> David said, “Solomon my son is young and inexperienced, and the house that is to be built for the LORD must be absolutely magnificent, famous and glorious throughout all nations. I will therefore make preparation for it. So David procured a tremendous amount of materials before his death.

<sup>6</sup> Then he called for his son Solomon, and charged him to build a house for the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> David said to Solomon, “My son, as for me, it was in my heart to build a house for the name of the LORD my God.

<sup>8</sup> But the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ‘You have shed a lot of blood, and have made great wars. You shall not build a house for my name, because you have shed so much blood on the earth in my sight.

<sup>9</sup> But look, you will have a son, who will be a man of peace; and I will give him rest from all his enemies on every side; for his name will be Solomon [sounds like “peace”], and I will give peace and quiet to Israel in his days.

<sup>10</sup> He will build a house for my name; and he will be my son, and I will be his father; and I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Israel forever.’

<sup>11</sup> Now, my son, the LORD be with you; and prosper you, and may you build the house for the LORD your God, as he has spoken concerning you.

<sup>12</sup> Only the LORD give you discretion and understanding, when he puts you in charge of Israel, so that you may keep the law of the LORD your God.

<sup>13</sup> Then you will prosper, if you observe to do the statutes and regulations that the LORD commanded Moses for Israel. Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or be overwhelmed.

<sup>14</sup> I have made every effort to prepare for the house of the LORD a hundred thousand talents of gold [4,000 tons], and a million talents of silver [40,000 tons], and of bronze and iron beyond weighing; for there is so much of it. Timber also and stone have I prepared; and you may add even more.

<sup>16</sup> in gold, silver, bronze, and iron, craftsmen beyond numbering. Get up and get at the work, and the LORD be with you.”

<sup>18</sup> “Is not the LORD your God with you? Has he not given you rest on every side? For he has delivered the inhabitants of the land into my hand; and the land is subdued before the LORD, and before his people.

<sup>19</sup> Now set your heart and soul to seek the LORD your God. Get up and build the sanctuary of the LORD God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and the holy vessels of God into the house that is to be built for the name of the LORD.”

DASV: 1 Chronicles 23

<sup>1</sup> Now David was old and full of days; and he made Solomon his son king over Israel.

<sup>3</sup> The Levites were numbered from thirty years old and older and their total came to 38,000 men.

<sup>4</sup> “Of these, 24,000,” David said, “were to oversee the work of the temple of the LORD; and 6,000 were officials and judges.

<sup>5</sup> 4,000 were gatekeepers; and 4,000 praised the LORD with the instruments which I made for the purpose of praise.”

<sup>9</sup> The sons of Shimei: Shelomoth, Haziël, and Haran, three in all. These were the heads of the families of Ladan.

<sup>10</sup> The sons of Shimei: Jahath, Zina, Jeush, and Beriah. These four were the sons of Shimei.

<sup>11</sup> Jahath was the chief, and Zizah the second, but Jeush and Beriah did not have many sons, therefore they were counted as a single family with only one assigned duty.

<sup>12</sup> The sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, four in all.

<sup>13</sup> The sons of Amram: Aaron and Moses. Aaron was set apart so that he and his descendants could consecrate the most holy things forever, to make offerings before the LORD, to serve him, and to pronounce blessings in his name forever.

<sup>14</sup> But as for Moses the man of God, his sons were included as part of the tribe of Levi.

<sup>22</sup> Eleazar died, and had no sons, but only daughters. Their cousins, the sons of Kish, married them.

<sup>24</sup> These were the sons of Levi after their ancestral families, even the heads of the families of those who were counted individually, who did the work for the service of the house of the LORD, from twenty years old and up.

<sup>25</sup> For David said, "The LORD, the God of Israel, has given rest to his people; and he has taken up residence in Jerusalem forever.

<sup>26</sup> Now the Levites will no longer need to carry the tabernacle and all its vessels for its service."

<sup>27</sup> For by the final instructions of David the sons of Levi were numbered, from twenty years old and up.

<sup>28</sup> For their job was to assist the sons of Aaron for the service of the house of the LORD, in the courts and chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and other duties in the service of the house of God.

<sup>29</sup> They were to assist also with the bread set on the table, and with the fine flour for the grain offerings, the unleavened wafers, the baked offering, mixing in the olive oil, and all the measuring of quantity and size.

<sup>30</sup> They were to stand every morning to thank and praise the LORD, and also in the evening

<sup>31</sup> and to offer all burnt offerings to the LORD, on Sabbaths, on new moons, and at the designated feasts, according to the set number required by ordinance concerning them, regularly before the LORD.

<sup>32</sup> So the Levites were in charge of the tent of meeting and the holy place, under the supervision of the descendants of Aaron their kinsmen, for the service at the house of the LORD.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 24

<sup>1</sup> The divisions of the descendants of Aaron were these:

The sons of Aaron: Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

<sup>2</sup> But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no sons; so Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests.

<sup>3</sup> David with the help of Zadok from the descendants of Eleazar, and Ahimelech from the descendants of Ithamar, divided them according to their designated duties in their service.

<sup>4</sup> There were more chief men found among the sons of Eleazar than among the sons of Ithamar; so they were divided up accordingly: the sons of Eleazar had sixteen family leaders; while the sons of Ithamar had only eight family leaders.

<sup>5</sup> They were divided up by lot, with officials for the sanctuary, and officials for God, from both the descendants of Eleazar and Ithamar.

<sup>6</sup> Shemaiah the son of Nethanel, a Levite, who was a scribe, recorded their names in the presence of the king, and the officials, Zadok the priest, Ahimelech son of Abiathar, and the family leaders of the priests and Levites; one family being chosen by lot for Eleazar, and one chosen for Ithamar.

<sup>7</sup> Now the first lot fell to Jehoiarib, the second to Jedaiah,

<sup>8</sup> the third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

<sup>9</sup> the fifth to Malchijah, the sixth to Mijamin,

<sup>10</sup> the seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abijah,

<sup>11</sup> the ninth to Jeshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

<sup>12</sup> the eleventh to Eliashib, the twelfth to Jakim,

<sup>13</sup> the thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeshebeab,

<sup>14</sup> the fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,

<sup>15</sup> the seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Happizzetz,

<sup>16</sup> the nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezkel,

<sup>17</sup> the twenty-first to Jachin, the twenty-second to Gamul, <sup>18</sup> the twenty-third to Delaiah, and the twenty-fourth to Maaziah.

<sup>19</sup> This was the designated order of their service, to enter the house of the LORD according to the regulations established for them by Aaron their father, as the LORD, the God of Israel, had commanded him.

<sup>30</sup> The sons of Mushi: Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the sons of the Levites listed by their ancestral families.

<sup>31</sup> These likewise cast lots just as their relatives the sons of Aaron did in the presence of David the king, Zadok, Ahimelech, and the heads of the families of the priests and Levites, the ancestral families from the oldest son down to those of the youngest.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 25

<sup>1</sup> David and the commanders of the army set apart for service some of the sons of Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun, who prophesied with harps, lyres, and cymbals. The following men were designated for the work and their duties:

<sup>2</sup> From the sons of Asaph: Zaccur, Joseph, Nethaniah, and Asharelah. The sons of Asaph, under the oversight of Asaph, who prophesied under the direction of the king.

<sup>3</sup> From Jeduthun, the sons of Jeduthun: Gedaliah, Zeri, Jeshaiah, Hashabiah, and Mattithiah, six in all, under the oversight of their father Jeduthun, who prophesied with the harp, giving thanks and praising the LORD.

Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, and Romamti-ezer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

<sup>5</sup> All these were the sons of Heman the king's seer. God had promised to exalt him giving Heman fourteen sons and three daughters.

<sup>6</sup> All these were under the oversight of their fathers for the music in the house of the LORD, with cymbals, harps, and lyres, for the service of the house of God. Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman being under the direction of the king.

<sup>7</sup> The number of them and their relatives who were trained and skilled in singing to the LORD, was 288.

<sup>8</sup> They cast lots for their duties, both young and old, the teacher as well as the student.

<sup>9</sup> Now the first lot fell to Asaph's son Joseph and his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

the second to Gedaliah and his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>10</sup> the third to Zaccur, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>11</sup> the fourth to Izri, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>12</sup> the fifth to Nethaniah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>13</sup> the sixth to Bukkiah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>14</sup> the seventh to Jesharelah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>15</sup> the eighth to Jeshaiah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>16</sup> the ninth to Mattaniah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>17</sup> the tenth to Shimei, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>18</sup> the eleventh to Azarel, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>19</sup> the twelfth to Hashabiah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

<sup>20</sup> for the thirteenth, Shubael, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;

- <sup>21</sup> for the fourteenth, Mattithiah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>22</sup> for the fifteenth to Jeremoth, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>23</sup> for the sixteenth to Hananiah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>24</sup> for the seventeenth to Joshbekashah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>25</sup> for the eighteenth to Hanani, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>26</sup> for the nineteenth to Mallothi, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>27</sup> for the twentieth to Eliathah, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>28</sup> for the twenty-first to Hothir, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>29</sup> for the twenty-second to Giddalti, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>30</sup> for the twenty-third to Mahazioth, his sons and relatives, twelve in all;
<sup>31</sup> for the twenty-fourth to Romamti-ezer, his sons and relatives, twelve in all.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 26

<sup>1</sup> The division of the gatekeepers:

From the Korahites, Meshelemiah son of Kore, of the sons of Asaph.

<sup>2</sup> Meshelemiah had sons:

Zechariah the firstborn,

Jediael the second,

Zebadiah the third,

Jathniel the fourth,

<sup>3</sup> Elam the fifth,

Jehohanan the sixth, and Eliehoenai the seventh.

<sup>4</sup> Obed-edom had sons:

Shemaiah the firstborn,

Jehozabad the second,

Joah the third,

Sacar the fourth,

Nethanel the fifth,

<sup>5</sup> Ammiel the sixth,

Issachar the seventh, and Peullethai the eighth; for God blessed Obed-edom.

<sup>6</sup> His son Shemaiah had sons, who were leaders over the house of their father; for they were men of great ability.

<sup>7</sup> The sons of Shemaiah: Othni, Rephael, Obed, and Elzabad. His brothers, Elihu and Semachiah, were capable men.

<sup>8</sup> All these were descendants of Obed-edom; they and their sons and their relatives, were competent men capable of fulfilling their duties. There were 62 descendants of Obed-edom.

<sup>9</sup> Meshelemiah had sons and relatives, capable men, eighteen in all.

<sup>10</sup> Hosah, one of the descendants of Merari, had sons: Shimri the chief, (for though he was not the firstborn, yet his father made him chief),

<sup>11</sup> Hilkiyah the second, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth: all the sons and brothers of Hosah were thirteen in all.

<sup>12</sup> These divisions of the gatekeepers, corresponding to their chief men, were assigned duties just like their relatives, to minister in the house of the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> They cast lots, both young and old, according to their ancestral families, for every gate.

<sup>15</sup> To Obed-edom the lot fell for the south gate; and his sons were assigned to the storehouse.

<sup>16</sup> To Shuppim and Hosah the lot for the west gate, along with the Shallecheth gate, by the road that goes up, each watch equally divided.

<sup>17</sup> On the east there were six Levites posted every day, four on north, four on the south, and two at a time at the storehouse.

<sup>18</sup> At the court to the west, four were posted on the road, and two at the court.

<sup>19</sup> These were the divisions of the gatekeepers; from the descendants of Korah, and from the descendants of Merari.

<sup>20</sup> From the Levites, Ahijah was over the treasuries of the house of God, and over the treasuries of the dedicated gifts.

<sup>24</sup> Shebuel the son of Gershom, the son of Moses, was the supervisor of the treasuries.

<sup>25</sup> His relatives: from Eliezer were Rehabiah his son, Jeshaiiah his son, Joram his son, Zichri his son, and Shelomoth his son.

<sup>26</sup> This Shelomoth and his brothers were in charge over all the treasuries of the dedicated gifts donated by David the king, the heads of the ancestral families, the commanders over the thousands and hundreds, and the commanders of the army.

<sup>27</sup> Out of the spoil won in battles they dedicated some of it to repair the house of the LORD.

<sup>28</sup> All that Samuel the seer, Saul the son of Kish, Abner the son of Ner, and Joab the son of Zeruah had dedicated, whoever else had dedicated anything, it was under the care of Shelomoth, and of his relatives.

<sup>29</sup> From the Izharites, Kenaniah and his sons were assigned duties outside the temple as officers and judges for Israel.

<sup>30</sup> From the Hebronites, Hashabiah and his brothers, 1,700 capable men, had the oversight of Israel west of the Jordan River, for all the work of the LORD, and for the service of the king.

<sup>31</sup> From the Hebronites, Jerijah was the chief of the Hebronites according to their genealogical records by ancestral families. In the fortieth year of the reign of David they searched the records, and there were found among them capable men at Jazer of Gilead.

<sup>32</sup> Jeriah had 2,700 capable relatives who were heads of ancestral families, whom king David appointed overseers over the Reubenites, Gadites, and half-tribe of the Manasseh, for every matter pertaining to God, and for the affairs of the king.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 27

<sup>1</sup> This is the list of the Israelite heads of families, the commanders of thousands and hundreds, and their officers who served the king, in all the matters of the divisions that came on and off duty month by month throughout the year. Each division had 24,000 men.

<sup>2</sup> Jashobeam son of Zabdiel was over the first division for the first month.

There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>3</sup> He was a descendant of Perez, the chief of all the commanders of the army for the first month.

<sup>4</sup> Dodai the Ahohite was over the division for the second month, Mikloth was chief officer of his division. There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>5</sup> Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada the priest was the third commander of the army for the third month, he was the chief of his division. There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>6</sup> This is the Benaiah, who was a mighty man among the Thirty, and over the Thirty; his son Ammizabad was chief officer of his division.

<sup>7</sup> Asahel the brother of Joab was the fourth commander for the fourth month.

Zebadiah his son succeeded him. There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>8</sup> The fifth commander for the fifth month was Shamhuth the Izrahite.

There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>9</sup> The sixth commander for the sixth month was Ira son of Ikkesh from Tekoa.

There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>10</sup> The seventh commander for the seventh month was Helez from Pelon, an Ephraimite.

There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>11</sup> The eighth commander for the eighth month was Sibbecai from Hushah, a Zerahite.

There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>12</sup> The ninth commander for the ninth month was Abiezer from Anathoth, a Benjamite.

There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>13</sup> The tenth commander for the tenth month was Maharai from Netophah, a Zerahite.

There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>14</sup> The eleventh commander for the eleventh month was Benaiah from Pirathon, an Ephraimite. There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>15</sup> The twelfth commander for the twelfth month was Heldai from Netophah, a descendant of Othniel. There were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>16</sup> Over the tribes of Israel:
for the Reubenites, Eliezer son of Zikri was the tribal leader;
for the Simeonites, Shephatiah son of Maacah;
<sup>17</sup> for Levi, Hashabiah son of Kemuel;
for Aaron's descendants, Zadok;
<sup>18</sup> for Judah, Elihu, one of David's brothers; for Issachar, Omri son of Michael;
<sup>19</sup> for Zebulun, Ishmaiah son of Obadiah;
for Naphtali, Jeremoth son of Azriel;
<sup>20</sup> for Ephraimites, Hoshea son of Azaziah;
for the half-tribe of Manasseh, Joel son of Pedaiah:
<sup>21</sup> for the half-tribe of Manasseh in Gilead, Iddo son of Zechariah; for Benjamin, Jaasiel son of Abner;
<sup>22</sup> for Dan, Azarel son of Jeroham.

These were the commanders of the tribes of Israel.

<sup>23</sup> But David did not count those twenty years old and under, because the LORD had promised he would increase Israel as the stars of heaven.

<sup>24</sup> Joab the son of Zeruah began to count them, but did not finish because wrath came on Israel on account of this census. The number was not entered into the records of the annals of King David.

<sup>25</sup> Azmaveth the son of Adiel was over the king's treasuries. Jonathan son of Uzziah was over the treasuries in the fields, in the cities, in the villages, and in the towers.

<sup>26</sup> Ezri the son of Chelub was over the farmers who tilled the ground.

<sup>27</sup> Shimei from Ramah was over the vineyards. Zabdi from Shepham was over the produce of the vineyards put in the wine cellars.

<sup>28</sup> Baal-hanan from Geder was over the olive and sycamore trees that were in the Shephelah foothills. Joash was over the olive oil storehouses.

<sup>29</sup> Shitrai from Sharon was over the herds that grazed in Sharon. Shaphat the son of Adlai was over the herds in the valleys.

<sup>30</sup> Obil the Ishmaelite was over the camels. Jehdeiah from Meronoth was over the donkeys.

<sup>31</sup> Jaziz from Hagrite was over the flocks. All these were the officials overseeing King David's possessions.

<sup>32</sup> Jonathan, David's uncle, was a counselor, a man of understanding and a scribe; and Jehiel the son of Hachmoni was responsible for caring for the king's sons.

<sup>34</sup> After Ahithophel was Jehoiada son of Benaiah and Abiathar. Joab was the commander of the king's army.

DASV: 1 Chronicles 28

<sup>1</sup> David assembled to Jerusalem all the officials of Israel, the officials of the tribes, and the commanders of the divisions that served the king, and the commanders of thousands and hundreds, and the officials over all the property and livestock of the king and of his sons, the palace officials, the elite forces, and all the warriors.

<sup>2</sup> Then David the king rose to his feet, and said, “Hear me, my brothers and my people. I wanted to build a house of rest for the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and for the footstool of our God; and I began preparations for building it.

<sup>3</sup> But God told me, ‘You shall not build a house for my name, because you are a man of war, and have shed blood.’

<sup>4</sup> Yet the LORD, the God of Israel, chose me out of all the house of my father to be king over Israel forever. He has chosen Judah to rule, and from the house of Judah, the house of my father; and among my father’s sons he took pleasure in me to make me king over all Israel.

<sup>5</sup> From all my sons, for the LORD has given me many sons, he has chosen Solomon my son to sit on the throne of the kingdom of the LORD over Israel.

<sup>6</sup> He said to me, ‘Solomon your son is the one who will build my house and my courts, for I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be his father.

<sup>7</sup> I will establish his kingdom forever, if he remains faithful to do my commandments and my regulations, as is happening today.’

<sup>8</sup> Now therefore in the sight of all Israel, the assembly of the LORD, and in the hearing of our God, observe and pursue all the commandments of the LORD your God; that you may possess this good land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children after you forever.

<sup>9</sup> And you, Solomon my son, know the God of your father, and serve him with a whole heart and a willing mind, for the LORD searches all hearts, and understands every motive of one’s thoughts. If you seek him, you will find him; but if you forsake him, he will reject you forever.

<sup>10</sup> Be careful now; for the LORD has chosen you to build a Temple for his sanctuary. Be strong, and do it.”

<sup>11</sup> Then David gave to Solomon his son the plans for the temple porch, its buildings, its treasuries, its upper rooms, its inner chambers, and the place for the mercy seat.

<sup>12</sup> He gave him the plans for all that he had in mind, for the courts of the Temple of the LORD, all the surrounding chambers, for the treasuries of the Temple of God, and for the treasuries of the dedicated gifts.

<sup>13</sup> He gave him directions for the divisions of the priests and Levites, and for all the work of the service of the Temple of the LORD, and for all the vessels used in service in the Temple of the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> He specified the weight of gold for the golden vessels, for all vessels of every kind of service; and the weight of silver for all the silver vessels, for all vessels of every kind of service;

<sup>15</sup> the weight for the golden lampstands, and for its gold lamps, including the weight for every lampstand and its lamps; and the weight for every silver lampstand and for its lamps, according to the use of each lampstand;

<sup>16</sup> and the gold by weight for each of the tables of showbread, and silver for the silver tables;

<sup>17</sup> and pure gold for the meat hooks, basins, and cups; and for the golden bowls specifying the weight for each bowl; as well as the weight for each of the silver bowls;

<sup>18</sup> and the weight of refined gold for the altar of incense. He also gave him his design plans for the gold chariot, with the cherubim, that spread out their wings and covered the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

<sup>19</sup> “All this,” David said, “I have put in writing from the hand of the LORD, that he gave me insight in the design patterns for all the works.”

<sup>20</sup> David said to his son Solomon, “Be strong and courageous, and do it. Do not fear, or be dismayed; for the LORD God, even my God, is with you. He will not fail you, or forsake you, until all the work for the service of the house of the LORD is finished.

<sup>21</sup> Here are the divisions of the priests and Levites, for all the service of the Temple of God. There will be joining you every one willing and capable in every skilled craft for any kind of service. The officials and all the people will be totally at your command.”

DASV: 1 Chronicles 29

<sup>1</sup> King David said to all the assembly, “My son Solomon, whom alone God has chosen, is yet young and inexperienced, and the work is great; for this Temple is not for man, but for the LORD God.

<sup>2</sup> So I have made every effort to provide for the temple of my God, the gold for what will be made of gold, silver for what will be made of silver, bronze for what will be made of bronze, iron for what will be made of iron, and wood for what will be made of wood; onyx stones, and settings of antimony and other stones of many colors, and all types of precious stones, and marble in abundance.

<sup>3</sup> Now because of my commitment to the house of my God, I now donate my own personal treasure of gold and silver to the temple of my God, over and above all that I have collected for this holy temple:

<sup>4</sup> 3,000 talents [112 tons] of gold from Ophir, and 7,000 talents [262 tons] of refined silver for overlaying the walls of the buildings;

<sup>5</sup> gold for what is made of gold, and silver for what is made of silver, and for all the work to be made by the craftsmen. Who else will donate willingly consecrating himself this day to the LORD?”

<sup>6</sup> Then the leaders of the ancestral families, and the tribal leaders of Israel, and the commanders of thousands and hundreds, with the officials over the king's work gave willingly.

<sup>7</sup> They gave for the service of the temple of God 5,000 talents [188 tons] and 10,000 daric coins of gold, and 10,000 talents [375 tons] of silver, 18,000 talents [675 tons] of bronze and 100,000 talents [3,750 tons] of iron.

<sup>8</sup> Whoever had precious stones gave them to the treasury of the temple of the LORD, under the oversight of Jehiel the Gershonite.

<sup>9</sup> Then the people rejoiced over their voluntary donations, because they had wholeheartedly and voluntarily contributed to the LORD. King David also was delighted.

<sup>10</sup> Then David praised the LORD before the entire assembly. David said, “May you be praised, O LORD, God of our father Israel, forever and ever.

<sup>11</sup> Yours, O LORD, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heavens and in the earth is yours. Yours is the kingdom, O LORD, and you are exalted as head above all.

<sup>12</sup> Both riches and honor come from you, and you rule over all. In your hand are power and might. It is in your hand to make great and to give strength to all.

<sup>13</sup> Now, our God, we thank you, and praise your glorious name.

<sup>14</sup> But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to voluntarily contribute so much? For all things come from you, and we have only given back what is yours.

<sup>15</sup> For we are sojourners and aliens in your presence, as all our fathers were. Our days on the earth are a mere shadow and there is nothing lasting.

<sup>16</sup> O LORD our God, all this wealth that we have provided to build a house for your holy name comes of your hand and already belongs to you.

<sup>17</sup> I know also, my God, that you search the heart, and have pleasure in integrity. As for me, with the uprightness of my heart I have willingly donated all these things. Now I have seen with joy your people, who are present here, willingly contribute to you.

<sup>18</sup> O LORD, the God our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, preserve forever the purposes and motives of your people, and direct their hearts to you.

<sup>19</sup> Give my son Solomon a wholehearted desire to keep your commands, laws, and decrees, and to do everything required to build the temple, for which I have made provision.”

<sup>20</sup> Then David said to all the assembly, “Now praise the LORD your God.” So all the assembly praised the LORD, the God of their fathers, and bowed their heads, and worshipped the LORD, and the king.

<sup>21</sup> The next day they made sacrifices to the LORD, and offered burnt offerings to the LORD. They offered: 1,000 bulls, 1,000 rams, and 1,000 lambs, with their drink offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

<sup>22</sup> They ate and drank before the LORD on that day with great celebration. They made Solomon, David’s son king the second time, anointing him to be the leader before the LORD, and Zadok to be priest.

<sup>23</sup> Then Solomon sat on the throne of the LORD as king instead of his father David. He prospered and all Israel obeyed him.

<sup>25</sup> The LORD exalted Solomon in the sight of all Israel, and bestowed on him such royal majesty as had never been on any king before him in Israel.

<sup>27</sup> He ruled forty years over Israel; he reigned seven years in Hebron, and thirty-three years in Jerusalem.

<sup>28</sup> He died at a good old age, full of days, riches, and honor; and his son Solomon ruled in his place.

<sup>29</sup> Now the acts of King David, from first to last, they are recorded in The Annals of Samuel the Seer, The Annals of Nathan the Prophet, and The History of Gad the Seer.

<sup>30</sup> They record all his reign and his might, and everything that happened to him and Israel, and all the surrounding kingdoms.

DASV: Digital American Standard Version*DASV: 2 Chronicles 1

<sup>1</sup> Solomon son of David was established in his kingdom, and the LORD his God was with him and made him very great.

<sup>2</sup> Solomon summoned all Israel, the commanders of thousands and hundreds, and the judges, all the leaders of Israel, and the heads of the ancestral families.

<sup>3</sup> So Solomon and the entire assembly with him, went to the high place at Gibeon; for the tent of meeting of God was there which Moses the servant of the LORD had made in the wilderness.

<sup>4</sup> But the ark of God David brought up from Kiriath-jearim to the place that David had prepared for it, for he had pitched a tent in Jerusalem for it.

<sup>5</sup> But the bronze altar that Bezalel son of Uri, son of Hur, had made was there in front of the tabernacle of the LORD. So Solomon and the assembly prayed to God there.

<sup>6</sup> Solomon went up there to the bronze altar before the LORD, which was at the tent of meeting. He offered 1,000 burnt offerings on it.

<sup>7</sup> That night God appeared to Solomon and said to him, "Ask for whatever you want me to give you."

<sup>8</sup> Solomon replied to God, "You have shown great loyal love to my father David, and have made me king in his place.

<sup>9</sup> Now, O LORD God, let your promise to David my father be realized, for you have made me king over a people as numerous as the dust of the earth.

<sup>10</sup> Give me wisdom and knowledge, so that I may lead this people; for who can govern this great people of yours?"

<sup>11</sup> God answered Solomon, "Because this was in your heart, and you have not asked for riches, wealth, honor, or the life of those who hate you, nor have you asked for long life; but have asked for wisdom and knowledge for yourself, that you may govern my people, over whom I have made you king,

<sup>12</sup> wisdom and knowledge are granted to you. I will also give you riches, wealth, honor, such as none of the kings have had before you, and no one will have after you."

<sup>13</sup> So Solomon left the high place at Gibeon and the tent of meeting, to return to Jerusalem where he reigned over Israel.

<sup>14</sup> Solomon accumulated chariots and horsemen. He had 1,400 chariots, and 12,000 horsemen, whom he stationed in the chariot cities and with the king at Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup> The king made silver and gold as common in Jerusalem as stones, and he made cedars as abundant as sycamore-fig trees are in the Shephelah foothills.

<sup>17</sup> They imported a chariot from Egypt for 600 silver shekels, and a horse for 150; then they were exported to all the kings of the Hittites and of Aram.

<sup>3</sup> Solomon sent to King Hiram of Tyre, “Do for me as you did for my father David, when you sent him cedars to build a palace to live in.

<sup>4</sup> I am about to build a temple for the name of the LORD my God, to dedicate it to him, and to burn fragrant incense before him, and for the regular arrangement of the showbread, and for the morning and evening burnt offerings, on the Sabbaths, new moon festivals, and the appointed feasts of the LORD our God. This is a permanent ordinance for Israel.

<sup>5</sup> The temple I intend to build will be great; for our God is greater than all other gods.

<sup>6</sup> But who is able to build a temple for him, seeing heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain him? Who am I then, that I should build a temple for him, except as a place to burn offerings before him?

<sup>7</sup> Now then, send me a man skillful in working with gold, silver, brass, iron, and in purple, crimson, and blue, and who knows how to engrave. He will work with the craftsmen who are with me in Judah and Jerusalem, provided by my father David.

<sup>8</sup> Send me also cedar, pine, and algum wood from Lebanon; for I know that your servants in Lebanon know how to cut timber. My servants will work with your servants

<sup>9</sup> to prepare a large amount of timber for me; for the temple which I am about to build will be great and magnificent.

<sup>10</sup> I will give to your servants, who cut the timber, 100,000 bushels of crushed wheat, and 100,000 bushels of barley, and 110,000 gallons of wine, and 110,000 gallons of olive oil.”

<sup>11</sup> Then Hiram, the king of Tyre, answered in a letter to Solomon, “Because the LORD loves his people, he has made you king over them.”

<sup>12</sup> Hiram continued, “Praise the LORD, the God of Israel, who made heaven and earth, who has given to King David a wise son, endowed with discretion and understanding, who will build a temple for the LORD, and a royal palace for himself.

<sup>13</sup> I am sending a master craftsman, Hiram-abi; he is very skilled.

<sup>14</sup> His mother is from Dan and his father was from Tyre. He is skillful in working with gold, silver, bronze, iron, stone, wood, and with purple, blue, crimson, and fine linen. He is also able to engrave any type of engraving, and to understand any design presented to him. He will work with your skilled artisans and with the craftsmen of my lord, David your father.

<sup>15</sup> Now regarding the wheat and barley, olive oil and wine, that my lord has spoken of, let him send it to his servants.

<sup>16</sup> We will cut as much timber as you need out of Lebanon, and we will bring it to you in rafts by sea to Joppa. Then you can haul it up to Jerusalem.

<sup>17</sup> Solomon counted all the foreigners in the land of Israel, after the census that his father David had taken. There was a total of 153,600.

<sup>18</sup> He designated 70,000 of them as laborers, and 80,000 as stonecutters in the mountains, and 3,600 as overseers to make sure the people worked.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 3

<sup>1</sup> Then Solomon began to build the temple of the LORD at Jerusalem on Mount Moriah, where the LORD had appeared to his father David. This was the place that David had designated, on the threshing-floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

<sup>2</sup> He began to build on the second day of the second month, in the fourth year of his reign.

<sup>3</sup> Now these are the foundation measurements which Solomon laid for the building of the temple of God. Using the length by cubits after the old standard of measurement, it was 60 cubits [90 feet] long, and 20 cubits [30 feet] wide.

<sup>4</sup> The porch that was in front of the temple was 30 feet wide matching the width of the temple, and the height was 20 cubits [30 feet]. He overlaid the inside with pure gold.

<sup>5</sup> He paneled the main room with pine, which he overlaid with fine gold, and decorated it with carvings of palm trees and chains.

<sup>7</sup> He also overlaid the temple's beams, thresholds, walls, and doors with gold; with carved cherubim on the walls.

<sup>8</sup> He made the most holy place. Its length matched its width at 30 feet. He overlaid it with 600 talents [23 tons] of fine gold.

<sup>9</sup> The weight of the nails was 50 shekels [20 ounces] of gold. He also overlaid the upper chambers with gold.

<sup>10</sup> In the most holy place he made two cherubim of carved wood and overlaid them with gold.

<sup>11</sup> The wings of the cherubim were 30 feet long. One wing was 7 ½ feet, reaching to the wall of the temple. The other wing was also 7 ½ feet, so that it touched the wing of the other cherub.

<sup>12</sup> The wing of the other cherub was also 7 ½ feet, reaching to the wall of the temple. The other wing was 7 ½ feet, joining to the wing of the other cherub.

<sup>13</sup> The wingspan of these cherubim was 30 feet. They stood on their feet, facing toward the nave of the temple.

<sup>14</sup> He made the curtain of blue, purple, crimson, and fine linen, and embroidered cherubim into it.

<sup>15</sup> In front of the temple he made two pillars 27 feet tall, and the capital on the top of each of them was an additional 7 ½ feet high.

<sup>16</sup> He made ornamental chains and put them on the tops of the pillars; and he made 100 decorative pomegranates, and attached them to the chains.

<sup>17</sup> He set up the pillars in front of the temple, one on the right side, and the other on the left. He named the one on the right [south] Jachin, and the one on the left [north], Boaz.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 4

- <sup>1</sup> He made an altar of bronze, 30 feet long, and 30 feet wide, and 15 feet high.
- <sup>2</sup> Also he made the cast metal basin called "The Sea." It was circular 15 feet across from rim to rim; and 7 ½ feet deep and about 45 feet around.
- <sup>3</sup> Under it were figures like bulls each 15 feet all around the Sea. The bulls were in two rows, cast with the basin itself.
- <sup>4</sup> It stood on twelve bulls, three facing north, three facing west, three facing south, and three facing toward the east. The Sea was set on top of them, and all their backsides were toward the inside.
- <sup>5</sup> It was 3 inches thick; and its brim was made like the brim of a cup, like the flower of a lily. It could hold 17,500 gallons.
- <sup>6</sup> He made also ten wash basins, and put five on the right hand and five on the left. They were used for rinsing for the burnt offering; but the Sea was exclusively for the priests to wash in.
- <sup>7</sup> He made ten lampstands of gold according to the specifications concerning them. He set them in the temple, five on the right hand and five on the left.
- <sup>8</sup> He made ten tables and placed them in the temple, five on the right side and five on the left. He also made a 100 gold basins.
- <sup>9</sup> He made the court of the priests and the great court and doors for the court. He overlaid their doors with bronze.
- <sup>10</sup> He set the sea on the right side, near the southeast corner.
- <sup>11</sup> Hiram-abi also made the pots, shovels, and bowls. So Hiram-abi finished the work that he did for King Solomon on the temple of God,
- <sup>12</sup> the two pillars, and two bowl-shaped capitals that were on the top of the pillars, and the two chain networks covering the two bowls of the capitals that were on the top of the pillars,
- <sup>13</sup> the four hundred pomegranates for the two chain networks; two rows of pomegranates for each network, to decorate the two bowls of the capitals that were on top of the pillars.
- <sup>14</sup> He made also the stands, and the basins to be set on the stands,
- <sup>15</sup> the Sea, and the twelve oxen under it,
- <sup>16</sup> pots and shovels, and the meat-hooks. All its items, Hiram-abi made for King Solomon for the house of the LORD of polished bronze.
- <sup>17</sup> In the plain of the Jordan the king cast them in the clay ground between Succoth and Zeredah.
- <sup>18</sup> Solomon made all these items in great quantities so much that its weight of the bronze could not be ascertained.
- <sup>19</sup> So Solomon made all the items that were in the house of God, the golden altar, the tables for the bread of the Presence,
- <sup>20</sup> and the lampstands with their gold lamps, to burn according to the regulations before the inner sanctuary;
- <sup>21</sup> the flowers, the lamps, and the tongs, of pure gold;

<sup>22</sup> the snuffers, basins, ladles, and the firepans were all of pure gold. As for the entry of the temple, its inner doors for the most holy place, and for the doors of the main Temple, were all of gold.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 5

<sup>1</sup> So all the work that Solomon did for the temple of the LORD was finished. Solomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated, the silver and gold, and all the articles, and put them in the treasuries of the temple of God.

<sup>2</sup> Then Solomon assembled the elders of Israel, all the leaders of the tribes, and the chiefs of the ancestral families of the Israelites, to Jerusalem, in order to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the city of David, that is, Zion.

<sup>5</sup> The priests and Levites brought up the ark, the tent of meeting, and all the holy vessels that were in the tent.

<sup>6</sup> King Solomon and all the congregation of Israel, who were assembled with him, went before the ark, sacrificing so many sheep and cattle that they could not be counted or numbered.

<sup>7</sup> The priests brought the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place, into the inner sanctuary of the temple, in the most holy place and put it under the wings of the cherubim.

<sup>8</sup> For the cherubim spread their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubim covered the ark and its poles from above.

<sup>9</sup> The poles were so long that the ends protruding out from the ark were seen from in front of the inner sanctuary; but they could not be seen from outside the Holy Place. They remain there to this day.

<sup>10</sup> There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets that Moses put in there at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the Israelites when they came out of Egypt.

<sup>11</sup> The priests came out of the holy place, for all the priests who were present had consecrated themselves, regardless of their division.

<sup>12</sup> All the levitical musicians, including Asaph, Heman, Jeduthun, and their sons and their relatives, wore fine linen, with cymbals, harps and lyres. They stood at the east side of the altar, and with them a 120 priests blowing the trumpets.

<sup>13</sup> When the trumpeters and singers played in unison, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the LORD; and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets, cymbals and instruments of music, they praised the LORD singing, "For he is good, for his loyal love endures forever." Then the temple, the temple of the LORD, was filled with a cloud.

<sup>14</sup> The priests could not continue to minister because of the cloud; for the glory of the LORD filled the temple of God.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 6

<sup>1</sup> Then Solomon said, “The LORD has said that he would dwell in thick darkness.

<sup>2</sup> I have built you a fabulous temple, a place for you to dwell in forever.”

<sup>3</sup> The king turned around, and blessed all the assembly of Israel, as the entire assembly of Israel stood there.

<sup>4</sup> He said, “Praise be the LORD, the God of Israel, because he has fulfilled what he promised to my father David, saying,

<sup>5</sup> ‘Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I have not chosen a city out of all the tribes of Israel to build a temple in, so that my name might be there, neither did I choose anyone to be ruler over my people Israel.

<sup>6</sup> But now I have chosen Jerusalem, that my name might be there, and have chosen David to be over my people Israel.’

<sup>7</sup> It was in the heart of my father David to build a temple for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>8</sup> But the LORD said to my father David, ‘Because it was in your heart to build a temple for my name, you did well to have this intention in your heart.

<sup>9</sup> Nevertheless you shall not build the temple; but your son who will be born to you, he will build the temple for my name.’

<sup>10</sup> The LORD has kept his word that he promised; for I have succeeded my father David, and now sit on the throne of Israel, just as the LORD promised and I have built the temple for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>11</sup> I have put the ark there, in which is the covenant of the LORD that he made with the Israelites.”

<sup>12</sup> Then Solomon stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of the entire assembly of Israel and spread out his hands.

<sup>13</sup> He had made a bronze platform, 7 ½ feet long by 7 ½ feet wide, and 4 ½ feet high, and had set it in the middle of the court. He stood on it, and kneeled down before the entire assembly of Israel and spread out his hands toward heaven.

<sup>14</sup> Then he said, “O LORD, the God of Israel, there is no God like you, in heaven, or on earth; who keeps the covenant and loyal love with your servants who walk before you with all their heart.

<sup>15</sup> You have kept your promise with your servant my father David. Yes, you promised with your mouth, and have fulfilled it with your hand, just as it is this day.

<sup>16</sup> Now therefore, O LORD, the God of Israel, fulfill with your servant my father David what you have promised him, saying, ‘You will not fail to have a successor before me to sit on the throne of Israel, if only your children are careful in their way, to walk in my law as you have walked before me.’

<sup>17</sup> Now therefore, O LORD, the God of Israel, let your promise be fulfilled that you swore to your servant David.

<sup>18</sup> But will God really dwell with humans on the earth? Even highest heavens cannot contain you; how much less this house that I have built!

<sup>19</sup> Yet listen favorably to the prayer of your servant, and to his plea for help, O LORD my God. Listen to the cry and prayer that your servant prays before you.

<sup>20</sup> May your eyes be open toward this temple day and night, even toward the place of which you have promised that you would put your name there. May you listen to the prayer that your servant prays toward this place.

<sup>21</sup> Listen to the requests of your servant and your people Israel, when they pray toward this place. Hear from heaven your dwelling place; and when you hear, forgive.

<sup>22</sup> If someone sins against his neighbor, and is made to take an oath pronouncing a curse against himself, and he come and swears before your altar in this house,

<sup>23</sup> then hear from heaven, and act, and judge your servants, repaying the guilty bringing what he has done back on his own head. But vindicate the righteous giving him what his righteousness deserves.

<sup>24</sup> If your people Israel are defeated before the enemy, because they have sinned against you, and will turn again and confess your name, pray and plead for help before you in this temple,

<sup>25</sup> then hear from heaven, and forgive the sin of your people Israel, and bring them again to the land you have given to them and to their forefathers.

<sup>26</sup> When the heavens are shut up, and there is no rain, because they have sinned against you, if they pray toward this place, and confess your name, and turn from their sin when you punish them,

<sup>27</sup> then hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of your servants, and your people Israel. Teach them the good way in which they should walk, and then send rain on your land you have given to your people for an inheritance.

<sup>28</sup> If there is a famine in the land, of plague, blight, mildew, locusts, or caterpillars; if their enemies besiege them in the land of their gates, whatever plague or sickness occurs

<sup>29</sup> whatever prayer and request is made by anyone, or by all your people Israel, who each acknowledge his individual plague and sorrow, and shall spread out his hands toward this temple;

<sup>30</sup> then hear from heaven, your dwelling place, and forgive. Render to everyone according to all his ways, for you know each heart, for truly you alone know the human heart.

<sup>31</sup> so that they may fear you by walking in your ways, as long as they live in the land you gave to our forefathers.

<sup>32</sup> Concerning the foreigner, who is not part of your people Israel, when he comes from a far country for your great name's sake and your mighty hand and your outstretched arm, when they come and pray toward this house,

<sup>33</sup> then hear from heaven your dwelling place, and do according to all that the foreigner asks you for; so that all the peoples of the earth may know your name, and fear you, as do your people Israel, and that they may know that this temple I have built is called by your name.

<sup>34</sup> If your people go out to battle against their enemies, by whatsoever way you send them, and they pray to you toward this city you have chosen, and the temple I have built for your name;

<sup>35</sup> then hear from heaven their prayer and their plea, and support their cause.

<sup>36</sup> If they sin against you--for there is no one who does not sin--and you are angry with them, and deliver them over to the enemy, so that they carry them away captive to a land far away or near;

<sup>37</sup> yet if they come to their senses in the land where they are carried captive, and repent, and plead with you in the land of their captivity, saying, 'We have sinned, we have done wrong, and have acted wickedly;'

<sup>38</sup> if they return to you with all their heart and all their soul in the land of their captivity, where they have been carried captive, and pray toward their land you gave to their forefathers, and the city you have chosen, and toward the temple I have built for your name,

<sup>39</sup> then hear from heaven, your dwelling place, their prayer and their pleas, and support their cause, and forgive your people who have sinned against you.

<sup>40</sup> Now, O my God, please let your eyes be open and your ears attentive to the prayer that is made in this place.

<sup>41</sup> Now arise, O LORD God, come to your resting place, and the ark of your strength; let your priests, O LORD God, be clothed with salvation, and let your saints rejoice in your goodness.

<sup>42</sup> O LORD God, do not reject your anointed one. Remember your loyal love to your servant David."

DASV: 2 Chronicles 7

<sup>1</sup> When Solomon finished praying, fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices, and the glory of the LORD filled the temple.

<sup>2</sup> The priests could not enter into the temple of the LORD, because the glory of the LORD filled the LORD's house.

<sup>3</sup> All the Israelites looked on, when the fire came down, and the glory of the LORD was on the temple; and they bowed with their faces down to the pavement and worshipped. They gave thanks to the LORD, saying, "For he is good; for his loyal love endures forever."

<sup>4</sup> Then the king and all the people offered sacrifices before the LORD.

<sup>5</sup> King Solomon offered a sacrifice of 22,000 oxen, and 120,000 sheep. So the king and all the people dedicated the temple of God.

<sup>6</sup> The priests stood at their posts; the Levites also with musical instruments dedicated to the LORD, which David the king had made to give thanks to the LORD, for his loyal love endures forever. The priests sounded trumpets opposite the Levites, and all Israel stood.

<sup>7</sup> Solomon consecrated the middle of the court that was in front of the temple of the LORD; for there he offered the burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the bronze altar which Solomon had made was not able to hold the burnt offerings, grain offerings, and the fat.

<sup>8</sup> So Solomon celebrated the festival for seven days, and all Israel with him. It was a very great assembly, from Lebo-Hamath to the Brook of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup> On the eighth day they held a solemn assembly; for they held a dedication of the altar for seven days, and the festival was seven days.

<sup>10</sup> On the twenty-third day of the seventh month he sent the people away to their homes, joyful and happy for the goodness that the LORD had shown to David, Solomon, and to his people Israel.

<sup>11</sup> So Solomon finished the temple of the LORD, and the royal palace. Solomon successfully completed all that he had planned to make in the temple of the LORD and in his own palace.

<sup>12</sup> The LORD appeared to Solomon at night, and said to him, "I have heard your prayer, and have chosen this place for myself as a house for sacrifices.

<sup>13</sup> When I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, or command the locust to devour the land, or send pestilence among my people, <sup>14</sup> if my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

<sup>15</sup> Now my eyes will be open, and my ears alert to the prayer that is made in this place.

<sup>16</sup> For now have I chosen and consecrated this house, that my name may be there forever; and my eyes and my heart will be there always.

<sup>17</sup> As for you, if you will walk before me as David your father did, and do everything I have commanded you, and will keep my statutes and my regulations;
<sup>18</sup> then I will establish the throne of your kingdom, just as I promised your father David, saying, ‘You will never fail to have a descendant to rule over Israel.’

<sup>19</sup> But if you turn away, and forsake my statutes and my commands that I have set before you, and go and serve other gods and worship them,

<sup>20</sup> then I will pluck them up by the roots out of my land that I have given them; and this temple, I have consecrated for my name, I will cast out of my sight, and I will make it a mocking proverb and ridicule among all peoples.

<sup>21</sup> And this house, which is now so awesome, everyone who passes by it will be astonished, and say, ‘Why has the LORD done this to this land and to this temple?’

<sup>22</sup> They will answer, ‘Because they forsook the LORD, the God of their forefathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and embraced other gods, worshipped and served them. Therefore he has brought all this disaster on them.’”

DASV: 2 Chronicles 8

<sup>1</sup> After twenty years, in which Solomon built the house of the LORD and his own house, <sup>2</sup> Solomon rebuilt the cities which Hiram had given to him, and had Israelites relocated there.

<sup>4</sup> He built Tadmor in the wilderness and all the storage cities he built in Hamath.

<sup>5</sup> He also rebuilt Upper Beth-horon and Lower Beth-horon, fortifying these cities with walls, gates, and bars.

<sup>6</sup> He rebuilt Baalath, and all the storage cities that Solomon had as well as all the cities for his chariots and his horsemen. Whatever Solomon wanted to build he built in Jerusalem, Lebanon, and in any territory of his kingdom.

<sup>7</sup> As for all the non-Israelite people who were left from the Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, Jebusites, who were not of Israel;

<sup>8</sup> from their descendants who still remained in the land, whom the Israelites had not wiped out, Solomon conscripted them into forced labor, as is still the case to this day.

<sup>9</sup> But Solomon did not make any of the Israelites slaves for his work; rather they served as soldiers, officers, and commanders of his chariots and horsemen.

<sup>11</sup> Solomon brought Pharaoh's daughter up out of the city of David to the palace he had built for her; for he said, "My wife should not live in the house of David king of Israel, because the places where the ark of the LORD has entered are holy."

<sup>12</sup> Then Solomon offered burnt offerings to the LORD on the altar of the LORD, which he had built in front of the temple porch.

<sup>13</sup> He performed the daily duty, offering according to the commandment of Moses for the Sabbaths, new moons, and the three annual feasts--the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the Feast of Weeks, and in the Feast of Tabernacles.

<sup>14</sup> According to the ordinance of David his father, he appointed the divisions of priests to their service, and the Levites to their offices, to praise, and to serve the priests, as the daily tasks required. He also assigned the gatekeepers by their divisions at every gate for this is what David, the man of God, had commanded.

<sup>15</sup> They did not deviate from the commandment of the king to the priests and Levites concerning any matter, or concerning the treasuries.

<sup>16</sup> Now all the work of Solomon was prepared from the day of the foundation of the temple of the LORD until it was finished. So the temple of the LORD was completed.

<sup>17</sup> Then Solomon went to Ezion-geber and Elath, on the Red Sea coast in the land of Edom.

<sup>18</sup> Hiram sent him ships and experienced sailors who had knowledge of the sea. They along with the servants of Solomon went to Ophir, and brought back 450 talents [about 17 tons] of gold, and gave it to king Solomon.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 9

<sup>1</sup> When the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to Jerusalem to test Solomon with hard questions. She arrived with a great caravan including camels carrying spices, large amounts of gold and precious stones. When she came to Solomon, she consulted with him on all that was on her mind.

<sup>2</sup> Solomon answered all her questions; and there was nothing hid from Solomon which he did not explain to her.

<sup>3</sup> After the queen of Sheba had witnessed the wisdom of Solomon, and the palace he had built, <sup>4</sup> and the food on his table, and the seating of his officials, and the attendance of his servants, and their clothes, his cupbearers and their robes, and his burnt sacrifices which he offered at the temple of the LORD; it took her breath away.

<sup>5</sup> She said to the king, “The report that I heard in my own country of your accomplishments and of your wisdom is true.

<sup>6</sup> Although I did not believe their words, until I had come and seen it with my own eyes. Indeed, I was not told of half of the greatness of your wisdom. You have exceeded the report that I had heard.

<sup>7</sup> Happy are your attendants, and happy are these your servants, who stand continually before you, and get to hear your wisdom.

<sup>8</sup> Praise be the LORD your God, who delights in you, to set you on his throne, to be king for the LORD your God. Because your God loved Israel and wanted to establish them forever, he has made you king over them to rule with justice and righteousness.”

<sup>9</sup> Then she gave the king 120 talents [9,000 pounds] of gold, and a large quantity of spices, and precious stones. Never has there been any such special spices as the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

<sup>10</sup> The servants of Hiram, and the servants of Solomon, brought gold from Ophir, and also brought algum wood and precious stones.

<sup>11</sup> The king made algum wood steps for the temple of the LORD, and for the king's palace as well as lyres and harps for the singers. Nothing like them had ever been seen before in the land of Judah.

<sup>12</sup> King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she wanted, whatever she asked for, more than she had brought to the king. So she left, and returned to her own land, both she and her attendants.

<sup>13</sup> Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was 666 talents [25 tons] of gold, <sup>14</sup> besides that which the traders and merchants brought. All the kings of Arabia and the governors of that country also brought gold and silver to Solomon.

<sup>15</sup> King Solomon made 200 large shields of beaten gold; 600 shekels [15 pounds] of beaten gold went into each shield.

<sup>18</sup> There were six steps up to the throne, with a footstool of gold, which were fastened to the throne, and on both sides of the seat there were armrests and two lions statues beside the armrests.

<sup>19</sup> Twelve lion statues stood, one on each side of the six steps. There was nothing like it made in any other kingdom.

<sup>20</sup> All King Solomon's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the Palace of the Forest of Lebanon were of pure gold. Silver was considered as nothing in the days of Solomon.

<sup>21</sup> The king's ships went to Tarshish with the servants of Hiram. Once every three years the ships came from Tarshish bringing gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks.

<sup>22</sup> So King Solomon surpassed all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

<sup>23</sup> All the kings of the earth sought an audience with Solomon, to hear his wisdom, which God had put in his heart.

<sup>24</sup> They each brought gifts, vessels of silver and gold, and clothes, weapons, spices, horses, and mules, at set rate year by year.

<sup>25</sup> Solomon had 4,000 stalls for his horses and chariots, and 12,000 horsemen, which he kept in the chariot cities and with the king at Jerusalem.

<sup>26</sup> He ruled over all the kings from the Euphrates River even to the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

<sup>27</sup> The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones, and cedars he made to be as plentiful as the sycamore trees that are in the Shephelah foothills.

<sup>28</sup> They brought horses for Solomon out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

<sup>29</sup> Now the rest of the deeds of Solomon, from first to last, are they not written in The History of Nathan the Prophet, and in The Prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in The Visions of Iddo the Seer, concerning Jeroboam the son of Nebat?

<sup>31</sup> Then Solomon slept with his forefathers, and he was buried in the city of his father David. His son Rehoboam succeeded him.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 10

<sup>1</sup> Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had come to Shechem to make him king.

<sup>2</sup> When Jeroboam the son of Nebat heard about it, for he was in Egypt where he had fled from the presence of King Solomon, he returned from Egypt.

<sup>3</sup> They sent and called for him. Then Jeroboam and all Israel came and spoke to Rehoboam:

<sup>4</sup> “Your father made our yoke heavy. Now therefore lighten the heavy yoke and harsh labor that he put on us, and we will serve you.”

<sup>6</sup> King Rehoboam consulted with the older men, who had advised his father Solomon while he was still alive, asking, “How would you advise me to respond to this people?”

<sup>7</sup> They told him, “If you are kind to this people and please them, and speak pleasant words to them, then they will be your servants forever.”

<sup>8</sup> But Rehoboam rejected the counsel the old men gave him, and took counsel instead with the young men who had grown up with him and were now advising him.

<sup>9</sup> He asked them, “What advice would you give how we should answer this people who have spoken to me, saying, ‘Make the yoke that your father put on us lighter’?”

<sup>10</sup> The young men who had grown up with him replied, “This is what you should say to the people who spoke to you, ‘Your father made our yoke heavy, but make it lighter for us’” tell them, ‘My little finger is thicker than my father's waist.

<sup>11</sup> My father put a heavy yoke on you, but I will make it even heavier. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions!’”

<sup>12</sup> So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king had requested, saying, “Come back to me on the third day.”

<sup>14</sup> Instead he spoke to them according to the advice of the young men, saying, “My father made your yoke heavy, but I will make it even heavier. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions.”

<sup>15</sup> So the king refused to listen to the people; for it was brought about by God, so that the LORD might establish his word, which he spoke by Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

<sup>16</sup> When all Israel saw that the king refused to listen to them, the people answered the king, saying, “What portion have we in David? We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse. Everyone to your tents, O Israel! Look after your own house, David.” So all Israel left to their tents.

<sup>17</sup> But as for the Israelites who lived in the towns of Judah, Rehoboam continued to reign over them.

<sup>18</sup> When King Rehoboam sent Hadoram, who was over the men conscripted into forced labor, the Israelites stoned him to death. King Rehoboam quickly jumped into his chariot, and fled to Jerusalem.

<sup>19</sup> So Israel, the northern tribes, have been in rebellion against the house of David to this day.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 11

<sup>1</sup> When Rehoboam came to Jerusalem, he assembled the house of Judah and Benjamin. He chose 180,000 chosen troops who were warriors, to fight against Israel in order to restore the kingdom to Rehoboam.

<sup>2</sup> But the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah the man of God:

<sup>3</sup> “Tell Rehoboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah and all Israel in Judah and Benjamin, <sup>4</sup> this is what the LORD says, ‘Do not go up and fight against your brothers. Everyone go home; for this thing is from me.’” So they obeyed the words of the LORD and turned away from attacking Jeroboam.

<sup>10</sup> Zorah, Aijalon, and Hebron, which were fortified towns in Judah and Benjamin.

<sup>11</sup> He fortified these strongholds, and put commanders in them, along with stores of food, olive oil and wine.

<sup>12</sup> He also put shields and spears in every town, and made them very strong. So Judah and Benjamin remained his.

<sup>13</sup> The priests and Levites who were in all Israel supported him from all their territories.

<sup>14</sup> For the Levites left their pasturelands and their possession, and immigrated to Judah and Jerusalem for Jeroboam and his sons had prohibited them from executing the priest's office to the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> Instead he appointed his own priests for the high places, and for the goat and calf idols that he had made.

<sup>16</sup> Those out of all the tribes of Israel, who had set their hearts to seek the LORD, the God of Israel, migrated to Jerusalem to sacrifice to the LORD, the God of their forefathers.

<sup>17</sup> So they strengthened the kingdom of Judah, and strengthened Rehoboam the son of Solomon for three years. For those three years they followed in the way of David and Solomon.

<sup>18</sup> Rehoboam married Mahalath the daughter of Jerimoth the son of David, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the son of Jesse.

<sup>20</sup> After her he married Maacah the daughter of Absalom, and she bore him Abijah, Attai, Ziza, and Shelomith.

<sup>21</sup> Rehoboam loved Maacah the daughter of Absalom more than all his wives and his concubines, for he had taken eighteen wives and sixty concubines. He fathered twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters.

<sup>22</sup> Rehoboam appointed Abijah the son of Maacah to be chief prince over his brothers; for he intended to make him king.

<sup>23</sup> He dealt wisely, and distributed many of his sons throughout all the districts of Judah and Benjamin, and to every fortified town. He gave them plenty of provisions and he arranged many wives for them.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 12

<sup>1</sup> Once the rule of Rehoboam was firmly established and strong, he forsook the law of the LORD, and all Israel with him.

<sup>2</sup> In the fifth year of King Rehoboam, because they had been unfaithful to the LORD, Shishak king of Egypt came to attack Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> He had 1,200 chariots, 60,000 horsemen and an innumerable army came with him from Egypt including the Libyans, Sukkites, and Ethiopians.

<sup>4</sup> He captured the fortified towns of Judah and then came to attack Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> Now Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and to the officers of Judah who were huddled together in Jerusalem because of Shishak and told them, “This is what the LORD says, ‘You have abandoned me, therefore I have abandoned you into the hand of Shishak.’”

<sup>6</sup> Then the officers of Israel and the king humbled themselves and said, “The LORD is right.”

<sup>7</sup> When the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah, saying, “They have humbled themselves; so I will not destroy them. I will soon grant them deliverance, and my wrath will not be poured out on Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.

<sup>8</sup> However they will be his servants, so that they may know the difference between serving me and serving the kingdoms of other countries.”

<sup>9</sup> So Shishak king of Egypt came up to attack Jerusalem, and took away the treasures of the temple of the LORD, and the treasures of the king's palace. He took everything even the gold shields which Solomon had made.

<sup>10</sup> King Rehoboam replaced them with bronze shields and committed them to the hands of the commanders of the guard, who guarded the door of the king's palace.

<sup>11</sup> Whenever the king entered into the temple of the LORD, the guards would come carrying them, and later would bring them back to the guardroom.

<sup>12</sup> Because he humbled himself, the wrath of the LORD was turned away from him, so he did not totally destroy him. Even so there were still some good things found in Judah.

<sup>13</sup> So King Rehoboam established himself in Jerusalem, and reigned. Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city that the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there. His mother's name was Naamah and she was an Ammonite.

<sup>14</sup> He did that which was evil, because he did not set his heart to seek the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> Now the acts of Rehoboam, from the first to the last, are they not written in the histories of Shemaiah the prophet and Iddo the seer, as part of the genealogical record? There were continual wars between Rehoboam and Jeroboam.

<sup>16</sup> Rehoboam slept with his forefathers, and was buried in the city of David. His son Abijah reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 13

- <sup>1</sup> In the eighteenth year of king Jeroboam, Abijah began to reign over Judah.
- <sup>2</sup> He reigned three years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Micaiah, the daughter of Uriel of Gibeah. There was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.
- <sup>3</sup> Abijah went out to battle with an army of valiant warriors, 400,000 select men. Jeroboam deployed his troops of 800,000 select and valiant warriors against him.
- <sup>4</sup> Abijah stood up on Mount Zemaraim, which is in the hill-country of Ephraim, and declared, "Listen to me, Jeroboam and all Israel!
- <sup>5</sup> Don't you realize that the LORD, the God of Israel, gave the kingship over Israel to David forever, to him and his sons by a covenant of salt?
- <sup>6</sup> Yet Jeroboam the son of Nebat, the servant of Solomon the son of David, rose up, and rebelled against his master.
- <sup>7</sup> Worthless scoundrels gathered around him, who defied Rehoboam the son of Solomon when Rehoboam was young and inexperienced and could not withstand them.
- <sup>8</sup> Now you think you can withstand the kingdom of the LORD in the hand of the sons of David. You are a great multitude and have with you the golden calves that Jeroboam made for you as gods.
- <sup>9</sup> Have you not driven out the priests of the LORD, the sons of Aaron, along with the Levites, and made priests for yourselves after the manner of the peoples of other lands? Whoever comes to consecrate himself with a young bull or seven rams, can become a priest for those which are not gods.
- <sup>10</sup> But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forsaken him. We have priests serving the LORD, who are the sons of Aaron, and the Levites aid them in their service.
- <sup>11</sup> They offer to the LORD every morning and every evening burnt offerings and sweet incense. They also set the showbread in order on a purified table, and the lampstand of gold with its lamps every evening, for we keep the charge of the LORD our God, but you have abandoned him.
- <sup>12</sup> God is with us as our leader. His priests with the trumpets will sound the alarm against you. O Israelites, do not fight against the LORD, the God of your forefathers; for you will not succeed."
- <sup>13</sup> Jeroboam, however, had set an ambush in order to come from behind them while he was in front of Judah, and the ambush was behind them.
- <sup>14</sup> When Judah looked back, they discovered the battle was both in front of them and behind. So they cried out to the LORD, and the priests blew their trumpets.
- <sup>15</sup> Then the men of Judah gave a shout and as the men of Judah shouted, God defeated Jeroboam and all Israel before Abijah and Judah.
- <sup>16</sup> The Israelites fled before Judah and God handed them over to Judah.

<sup>17</sup> Abijah and his people defeated them with a great slaughter. There were 500,000 killed in action from Israel's chosen men.

<sup>18</sup> So the Israelites were defeated at that time, and the people of Judah prevailed, because they relied on the LORD, the God of their forefathers.

<sup>19</sup> Abijah pursued Jeroboam, and took towns from him, Bethel with its villages, Jeshanah with its villages, and Ephron with its villages.

<sup>20</sup> After that Jeroboam never recovered power in the days of Abijah; and the LORD struck him, and he died.

<sup>21</sup> But Abijah grew strong, and married fourteen wives, and fathered twenty-two sons and sixteen daughters.

<sup>22</sup> The rest of the acts of Abijah, and his ways, and his sayings, are written in The Midrash of the Prophet Iddo.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 14

<sup>3</sup> He took away the foreign altars and the high places, demolished the sacred pillars, and cut down the Asherah poles.

<sup>4</sup> He commanded Judah to seek the LORD, the God of their forefathers, and to keep the law and its commands.

<sup>5</sup> He also took away the high places and the incense altars from all the towns of Judah. The kingdom had rest during his reign.

<sup>6</sup> He built fortified cities in Judah during that time when the land was at rest. He had no war in those years, because the LORD had given him peace.

<sup>7</sup> For he said to Judah, "Let us fortify these cities, and make walls surrounding them, with towers, gates, and bars. The land is still ours, because we have sought the LORD our God; we have sought him, and he has given us secure tranquility on every side." So they built and prospered.

<sup>8</sup> Asa had an army from Judah of 300,000 men armed with large shields and spears, and from Benjamin 280,000 who carried shields and drew bows. All these were mighty men of valor.

<sup>9</sup> Zerah the Ethiopian came out to attack them with an army of a million with 300 chariots, and he came to Mareshah.

<sup>10</sup> Then Asa went out to engage him in battle, and they drew up their battle lines in the valley of Zephathah at Mareshah.

<sup>11</sup> Asa cried out to the LORD his God: "O LORD, there is no one but you to help, between the mighty and the one who has no strength. Help us, O LORD our God; for we rely on you, and in your name are we come against this tremendous army. O LORD, you are our God; let no mere human prevail against you."

<sup>12</sup> So the LORD defeated the Ethiopians before Asa, and before Judah; and the Ethiopians fled.

<sup>13</sup> Asa and the people who were with him pursued them to Gerar. There fell so many of the Ethiopians that they could not recover; for they were wiped out before the LORD, and before his army. The Judean troops carried off much plunder.

<sup>14</sup> They defeated all the towns around Gerar; for the fear of the LORD came on them. They plundered all the towns for there was a lot of spoil in them as well.

<sup>15</sup> They also attacked the tents of those tending the livestock, and carried off a great number of sheep and camels and then returned to Jerusalem.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 15

<sup>1</sup> The Spirit of God came upon Azariah the son of Oded.

<sup>2</sup> He went out to meet Asa, and said to him, "Listen to me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin: The LORD is with you, while you are with him. If you seek him, he will be found by you; but if you forsake him, he will forsake you.

<sup>3</sup> Now for a long time Israel had no true God, and was without a teaching priest, and without law.

<sup>4</sup> But when in their distress they turned to the LORD, the God of Israel, and sought him, he was found by them.

<sup>5</sup> In those days it was not safe to travel abroad or at home, but there was absolute chaos for all the inhabitants of the lands.

<sup>6</sup> They were shattered with one nation being against another, and city against city; for God brought all types of trouble on them.

<sup>7</sup> But be strong, and do not let your hands relax; for your work will be rewarded."

<sup>8</sup> When Asa heard these words, and the prophecy of Azariah son of Oded the prophet, he was encouraged, and removed the abominable idols out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the towns which he had taken from the hill-country of Ephraim. He repaired the altar of the LORD, that was in front of the porch of the temple of the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> He gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and those from Ephraim, Manasseh, and Simeon who were residing with them, for many had fled to him there out of Israel, when they saw that the LORD his God was with him.

<sup>10</sup> So they gathered together at Jerusalem in the third month of the fifteenth year of the reign of Asa.

<sup>11</sup> They sacrificed to the LORD at that time, from the plunder which they had brought back, 700 cattle and 7,000 sheep and goats.

<sup>12</sup> They entered into a covenant to seek the LORD, the God of their forefathers, with all their heart and with all their soul.

<sup>13</sup> Whoever refused to seek the LORD, the God of Israel, was to be put to death, whether young or old, man or woman.

<sup>15</sup> All Judah rejoiced at the oath for they had made the vow with all their heart. They sought him with their whole desire and he was found of them. The LORD gave them rest on every side.

<sup>16</sup> King Asa removed his grandmother Maacah from being queen mother, because she had made an abominable idol for an Asherah pole. Asa cut down her idolatrous pole, and ground it to dust and burned it in the Kidron Valley.

<sup>17</sup> But the high places were not taken away out of Israel. Nevertheless the heart of Asa was totally faithful all his days.

<sup>18</sup> He brought into the temple of God the sacred items that his father had consecrated, and that he himself had dedicated--silver, gold, and utensils.

<sup>19</sup> There was no more war until the thirtieth-fifth year of Asa's reign.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 16

<sup>1</sup> In the thirty-sixth year of the reign of Asa, Baasha king of Israel attacked Judah, and fortified Ramah, in an attempt to prevent anyone going out or coming in to the land of Asa king of Judah.

<sup>2</sup> Then Asa took the silver and gold out of the treasuries of the temple of the LORD and from the king's palace, and sent it to Ben-hadad king of Aram, who ruled in Damascus, saying, <sup>3</sup> “Let there be a treaty between me and you, as there was between my father and your father. Look, I have sent you silver and gold. Go, break your treaty with Baasha king of Israel, that he may withdraw from attacking me.

<sup>5</sup> When Baasha heard about it, he stopped fortifying Ramah, and abandoned this project.

<sup>6</sup> Then King Asa mustered all Judah and they carried off the stones of Ramah, and its timber, with which Baasha had used to fortify it. Asa used the materials to fortify Geba and Mizpah.

<sup>7</sup> At that time Hanani the seer came to King Asa of Judah, and told him, “Because you have relied on the king of Aram, and have not relied on the LORD your God, the army of the king of Aram has slipped out of your hands.

<sup>8</sup> Were not the Ethiopians and the Libyans a huge force, with a tremendous number of chariots and horsemen? Yet, because you relied on the LORD, he delivered them into your hand.

<sup>9</sup> For the eyes of the LORD run back and forth throughout the whole earth, to strengthen those whose hearts are totally committed to him. You have acted foolishly, for from now on you will have wars.”

<sup>10</sup> Then Asa was angry with the seer, and put him in prison; for he was enraged against him because of this matter. Asa also oppressed some of the people at that time.

<sup>11</sup> The acts of Asa, from first to last, they are written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

<sup>12</sup> In the thirty-ninth year of his reign Asa developed a disease in his feet. This disease was very severe yet even in his disease he did not seek the LORD, but went to the physicians instead.

<sup>13</sup> Asa slept with his forefathers, and died in the forty-first year of his reign.

<sup>14</sup> They buried him in his own tomb, which he had dug out for himself in the city of David, and they laid him on a bed filled with sweet odors and all kinds of spices prepared by the perfumer's art. They made a very great fire to honor him.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 17

<sup>2</sup> He stationed forces in all the fortified cities of Judah, and set garrisons in the land of Judah, and in the towns of Ephraim that Asa his father had captured.

<sup>3</sup> The LORD was with Jehoshaphat because he walked in the earlier ways of his father David, and did not seek the Baals, <sup>4</sup> but sought the God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the behaviors of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> Therefore the LORD established the kingdom in his hand; and all Judah brought tribute to Jehoshaphat, and he had great riches and honor.

<sup>6</sup> His heart was committed to following the ways of the LORD; and he removed the high places and the Asherah poles from Judah.

<sup>7</sup> In the third year of his reign he sent his officials Ben-hail, Obadiah, Zechariah, Nethanel, and Micaiah, to teach in the towns of Judah.

<sup>8</sup> Along with them were the Levites, Shemaiah, Nethaniah, Zebadiah, Asahel, Shemiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonijah, Tobijah, and Tob-adonijah, and along with them the priests Elishama and Jehoram.

<sup>9</sup> They taught in Judah, taking copies of book of the law of the LORD with them. They went around to all the towns of Judah, and taught among the people.

<sup>10</sup> The fear of the LORD fell on all the kingdoms of the lands surrounding Judah, so that they did not make war against Jehoshaphat.

<sup>13</sup> He implemented many projects in the towns of Judah. He recruited soldiers and valiant warriors to Jerusalem.

<sup>14</sup> This was the list of them according to their ancestral families: From Judah, the commanders of thousands: Adnah the commander, and with him 300,000 mighty warriors;

<sup>15</sup> and next to him Jehohanan the commander, and with him 280,000 troops.

<sup>16</sup> Next to him was Amasiah the son of Zikri, who willingly offered himself to the LORD; and with him 200,000 troops.

<sup>17</sup> From Benjamin: Eliada, a valiant warrior, and with him 200,000 men armed with bows and shields, <sup>18</sup> and next to him Jehozabad, and with him 180,000 trained warriors.

<sup>19</sup> These were the ones who served the king, besides those whom the king had stationed in the fortified cities throughout all Judah.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 18

<sup>1</sup> Now Jehoshaphat had great riches and honor; and he made an alliance with Ahab and ratified it by marriage.

<sup>2</sup> After several years he went down to Ahab in Samaria. Ahab slaughtered many sheep and oxen for a banquet in his honor, and for the people who were with him. Ahab persuaded him to join his attack of Ramoth-gilead.

<sup>3</sup> Ahab king of Israel asked Jehoshaphat king of Judah, "Will you go with me to attack Ramoth-gilead?" He answered him, "I am as you are, and my people as your people; we join with you in the war."

<sup>4</sup> Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, "Please, let's inquire first for a word from the LORD."

<sup>5</sup> Then the king of Israel gathered four hundred prophets together, and asked them, "Should we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or should I hold back?" They replied, "Go up; for God will deliver it into the hand of the king."

<sup>6</sup> But Jehoshaphat objected, "Is there not a prophet of the LORD here that we may ask him?"

<sup>7</sup> The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "There is only one man by whom we may inquire of the LORD, but I hate him because he never prophesies anything good about me, but always disaster. He is Micaiah the son of Imla." Then Jehoshaphat replied, "King, don't talk like that."

<sup>8</sup> Then the king of Israel called an officer, and said, "Quickly, get Micaiah the son of Imla."

<sup>9</sup> Now the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah each sat on their thrones, dressed in their royal robes. They were sitting in an open place at the entrance of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets were prophesying before them.

<sup>10</sup> Zedekiah the son of Kenaanah made horns of iron, and said, "This is what the LORD says, 'With these you will gore the Arameans until they are destroyed.'"

<sup>11</sup> All the prophets prophesied the same, saying, "Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and be successful; for the LORD will deliver it into the hand of the king."

<sup>12</sup> The messenger that went to call Micaiah spoke to him, saying, "Look, the words of the prophets are in absolute agreement predicting the king's success. Let your word agree with theirs; and speak favorably."

<sup>13</sup> Micaiah retorted, "As surely as the LORD lives, whatever my God says, that is what I must say."

<sup>14</sup> When Micaiah was brought to the king, the king asked him, "Micaiah, should we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or should I hold back?" He said, "Go up, and succeed! They will be delivered into your hand."

<sup>15</sup> But the king lectured him, "How many times must I make you promise to tell me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?"

<sup>16</sup> Then Micaiah replied, “I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd, and the LORD said, ‘These have no master; let them return everyone to his own home in peace.’”

<sup>17</sup> The king of Israel demurred to Jehoshaphat, “Didn’t I tell you that he would not prophesy anything good about me, but only disaster?”

<sup>19</sup> Then the LORD asked, ‘Who will entice Ahab king of Israel, so that he will go up and be killed at Ramoth-gilead?’ One suggested this and another that.

<sup>20</sup> Finally, a spirit came forward, and stood before the LORD, and said, ‘I will entice him.’ The LORD asked him, ‘How?’

<sup>21</sup> He replied, ‘I will go forth, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets.’ The LORD said, ‘You will indeed entice him, and will succeed. Go out and do it.’

<sup>22</sup> So you see, the LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouth of these prophets of yours. The LORD has spoken disaster against you.”

<sup>23</sup> Then Zedekiah the son of Kenaanah came near, and slapped Micaiah on the cheek, and asked, “Which way did the Spirit of the LORD go when he went from me to speak to you?”

<sup>24</sup> Micaiah said, “Look, you will see on that day you go into an inner room to hide yourself.”

<sup>25</sup> The king of Israel said, “Take Micaiah, and take him back to Amon the governor of the city, and to Joash the king's son.

<sup>26</sup> and tell him, “This is what the king says, ‘Put this fellow in the prison, and feed him with meager rations of bread and water, until I return safely.’”

<sup>27</sup> Micaiah declared, “If you return safely, the LORD has not spoken by me.” He said, “Listen, every one of you.”

<sup>28</sup> So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to attack Ramoth-gilead.

<sup>29</sup> The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “I am going to disguise myself and go into the battle. But you put on your royal robes.” So the king of Israel disguised himself and they went into the battle.

<sup>30</sup> Now the king of Aram had ordered the commanders of his chariots, “Do not attack anyone small nor great, except the king of Israel.”

<sup>31</sup> When the commanders of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, they assumed, “It is the king of Israel.” Therefore they turned about to attack him. But Jehoshaphat cried out and the LORD helped him. God diverted them away from him.

<sup>32</sup> When the commanders of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, they turned away from pursuing him.

<sup>33</sup> But someone randomly drew his bow and shot the king of Israel between the joints of his armor; so he told the driver of the chariot, “Turn around and get me out of the battle, for I am severely wounded.”

<sup>34</sup> The battle raged that day, although the king of Israel propped himself up in his chariot against the Arameans until the evening. Then at sundown he died.

<sup>2</sup> Jehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him, and said to King Jehoshaphat, “Should you have helped the wicked, and love those that hate the LORD? Because of this, the LORD is angry with you.”

<sup>3</sup> Nevertheless there are some good things you have done, for you have removed the Asherah poles out of the land, and have set your heart to seek God.”

<sup>4</sup> Jehoshaphat lived in Jerusalem. He went out again among the people from Beersheba to the hill country of Ephraim, and brought them back to the LORD, the God of their forefathers.

<sup>5</sup> He appointed judges in the land throughout all the fortified cities of Judah, city by city, <sup>6</sup> and said to the judges, “Think carefully about what you do, for you are not judging for man, but for the LORD. He will be with you as you render each verdict.

<sup>7</sup> Now therefore let the fear of the LORD be upon you. Be careful what you do, for the LORD our God does not accept injustice, favoritism or the taking of bribes.”

<sup>8</sup> Moreover in Jerusalem Jehoshaphat appointed special Levites, priests, and the heads of the ancestral families of Israel, to render judgment for the LORD, and to settle civil disputes among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup> He charged them: “This is how you are to carry out your duties: in the fear of the LORD, faithfully, and with integrity of heart.

<sup>10</sup> Whenever any controversy comes to you from your kindred who dwell in their cities, whether it involves bloodshed, or matters of law, commandments, statutes or regulations, you shall warn them so that they not sin against the LORD, resulting in his wrath coming on you and on your kindred. Do this and you will not be guilty.

<sup>11</sup> Amariah the chief priest will preside over you in all matters of the LORD; and Zebadiah the son of Ishmael, the ruler of the house of Judah, will preside over all of the king's matters. The Levites will serve as your officials. Deal courageously, and may the LORD be with those who do what is good.”

DASV: 2 Chronicles 20

<sup>1</sup> After this, the Moabites and Ammonites, and with them some of the Meunites, came to attack Jehoshaphat.

<sup>2</sup> Some messenger came who told Jehoshaphat, "A large army is coming to attack you from beyond the Sea from the direction of Edom. They are already in Hazazon-tamar (that is, En-ge-di).

<sup>3</sup> Jehoshaphat was terrified, and set himself to seek the LORD. He even proclaimed a fast throughout all Judah.

<sup>4</sup> Judah assembled, to ask for help of the LORD; from all the towns of Judah they came to seek the LORD.

<sup>5</sup> Jehoshaphat stood up in the assembly of Judah and Jerusalem, in the temple of the LORD, in front of the new courtyard.

<sup>6</sup> He prayed, "O LORD, the God of our forefathers, are you not God in heaven? Are you not ruler over all the kingdoms of the nations? In your hand are power and might, so that no one is able to stand against you.

<sup>7</sup> Did you not, O our God, drive out the inhabitants of this land before your people Israel, and give it forever to the descendants of Abraham your friend?

<sup>8</sup> They lived in it, and have built a sanctuary for your name in it, saying,

<sup>9</sup> 'If disaster comes upon us, the sword, judgment, pestilence, or famine, we will stand before this temple and before you, for your name is in this house, and cry out to you in our distress, and you will hear and save us.'

<sup>10</sup> But now, look, the Ammonites, Moabites and Mount Seir, whom you refused to let Israel invade when they came out of the land of Egypt, but they went around them, and did not destroy them.

<sup>11</sup> Look how they are repaying us. They are coming to throw us out of your possession that you have given for us to inherit.

<sup>12</sup> O our God, will you not judge them? For we are powerless against this great army that comes against us. We do not know what to do, but our eyes are on you?"

<sup>14</sup> Then the Spirit of the LORD came upon Jahaziel son of Zechariah, son of Benaiah, son of Jeiel, son of Mattaniah, the Levite of the descendants of Asaph, in the midst of the assembly.

<sup>15</sup> He said, "Listen, all Judah, you inhabitants of Jerusalem, and King Jehoshaphat: This is what the LORD says to you: 'Do not be afraid, or be troubled because of this great army; for the battle is not yours, but God's.

<sup>16</sup> Tomorrow go down against them. They are coming up by the Ascent of Ziz; and you will find them at the end of the valley in front of the wilderness of Jeruel.

<sup>17</sup> You will not need to fight in this battle. Take up your positions, stand still, and see the LORD's victory. He is with you, O Judah and Jerusalem; do not be afraid, or be troubled. Tomorrow go out against them, for the LORD is with you."

<sup>18</sup> Jehoshaphat bowed his head with his face to the ground; and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell down before the LORD and worshiped the LORD.

<sup>19</sup> Then the Levites, from the Kohathites and Korahites, stood up to praise the LORD, the God of Israel, with a very loud voice.

<sup>20</sup> They rose early in the morning and went out into the wilderness of Tekoa. As they deployed, Jehoshaphat stood and said, "Listen to me, O Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem! Believe in the LORD your God, and you will be secure. Believe his prophets, and you will be successful."

<sup>21</sup> When he had taken counsel with the people, he appointed those who were to sing to the LORD, and give praise in holy splendor, as they went ahead of the army, saying, "Give thanks to the LORD; for his loyal love endures forever."

<sup>22</sup> When they began to sing and to praise, the LORD set ambushes against the Ammonites, Moabites, and Mount Seir, who were invading Judah; and they were routed.

<sup>23</sup> For the Ammonites and Moabites attacked the inhabitants of Mount Seir, totally destroying them. When they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, they all began destroying each other.

<sup>24</sup> When Judah came to the site overlooking the wilderness, they looked on the large army; and they saw dead corpses strewn on the ground, and there were no survivors.

<sup>25</sup> When Jehoshaphat and his people came to take the spoil off them, they found among them great quantities of goods, clothing and valuables. They stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away. There was so much there that they were three days in taking the spoil.

<sup>26</sup> On the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Beracah, for there they praised the LORD. So that place was called the Valley of Beracah [Blessing] to this day.

<sup>27</sup> Then everyone from Judah and Jerusalem led by Jehoshaphat in front of them returned to Jerusalem with joy; for the LORD had made them to rejoice over their enemies.

<sup>28</sup> They came to Jerusalem with lyres, harps and trumpets to the house of the LORD.

<sup>29</sup> The fear of God was on all the kingdoms of the countries, when they heard that the LORD fought against the enemies of Israel.

<sup>30</sup> So the kingdom of Jehoshaphat enjoyed tranquility; for his God gave him rest all around.

<sup>31</sup> Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah. He was thirty-five years old when he began to reign and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Azubah daughter of Shilhi.

<sup>32</sup> He walked in the ways of Asa his father, and did not turn aside from it, doing what was right in the eyes of the LORD.

<sup>33</sup> However the high places were not removed; neither had the people set their hearts on the God of their forefathers.

<sup>34</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, from the first to last, are written in The History of Jehu the son of Hanani, which is recorded in The book of the Kings of Israel.

<sup>35</sup> After this Jehoshaphat king of Judah allied himself with Ahaziah king of Israel; who was very wicked.

<sup>36</sup> He allied himself with him to make ships to go to Tarshish. They also built ships in Ezion-geber.

<sup>37</sup> Then Eliezer the son of Dodavahu of Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, "Because you have allied yourself with Ahaziah, the LORD has destroyed what you have made." The ships were wrecked, so that they were unable to go to Tarshish.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 21

<sup>1</sup> Jehoshaphat slept with his forefathers, and was buried with his forefathers in the city of David; and his son Jehoram reigned in his place.

<sup>2</sup> He had brothers, the sons of Jehoshaphat: Azariah, Jehiel, Zechariah, Azariah, Michael, and Shephatiah; all these were the sons of Jehoshaphat king of Israel.

<sup>3</sup> Their father gave them many gifts, of silver, gold, and valuable items, along with some fortified cities in Judah, but the kingdom itself he gave to Jehoram, because he was the firstborn.

<sup>4</sup> Now when Jehoram had risen to power over the kingdom of his father, and had established himself, he murdered all his brothers with the sword, and also many of the officials of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

<sup>6</sup> He walked in the way of the kings of Israel, just as the house of Ahab had done; for he was married to the daughter of Ahab. He did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> But the LORD would not destroy the house of David, because of the covenant he had made with David. He had promised to give a lamp to him and to his descendants forever.

<sup>8</sup> In his days Edom revolted from the rule of Judah, and set up a king for themselves.

<sup>9</sup> Then Jehoram passed over with his commanders and all his chariots. The Edomites had him and the commanders of his chariots surrounded, but he got up at night and was able to escape.

<sup>10</sup> So Edom revolted from under the rule of Judah to this day. Then Libnah revolted at the same time from under his rule because he had forsaken the LORD, the God of his forefathers.

<sup>11</sup> Moreover he built high places in the mountains of Judah, and led the inhabitants of Jerusalem into idolatrous prostitution, and led Judah astray.

<sup>12</sup> Jehoram received a letter from Elijah the prophet, saying, "This is what the LORD says, the God of David your forefather, Because you have not walked in the ways of Jehoshaphat your father, or in the ways of Asa king of Judah,

<sup>13</sup> but have walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and have led Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem into idolatrous prostitution, just as the house of Ahab did, and also have slain your brothers of your father's house, who were better than you,

<sup>14</sup> the LORD will strike you, your people, your children, your wives, and all your substance with a great plague.

<sup>15</sup> You yourself will become very sick with a chronic disease in your intestines, daily worsening until your intestines fall out because of the sickness."

<sup>16</sup> The LORD stirred up against Jehoram the anger of the Philistines and Arabs who reside near the Cushites.

<sup>17</sup> They attacked Judah, and invaded it, and carried off everything that was found in the king's palace, as well as his sons and wives; so that there was not a son left to him, except Jehoahaz, the youngest.

<sup>18</sup> After all this, the LORD smote him in his intestines with an incurable disease.

<sup>19</sup> In course of time, after two years, his intestines fell out as a result of his sickness, and he died of a chronic disease. His people made no honorific burning for him, like the burning they made in honor of his fathers.

<sup>20</sup> He was thirty-two years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. He died to no one's regret; and they buried him in the city of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 22

<sup>1</sup> The inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ahaziah, Jehoram's youngest son, king in his place; for the raiding troops who came with the Arabs to the camp had killed all the older sons. So Ahaziah the son of Jehoram reigned as king of Judah.

<sup>2</sup> Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he began to reign; and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

<sup>3</sup> He also walked in the ways of the house of Ahab; for his mother was his counselor in advocating wickedness.

<sup>4</sup> He did evil in the sight of the LORD, as the house of Ahab did. They became his counselors, after the death of his father, leading to his destruction.

<sup>5</sup> He followed their advice, and went with Joram the son of Ahab king of Israel to attack Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth-gilead. The Arameans wounded Joram.

<sup>6</sup> He returned to recover in Jezreel of the wounds he had sustained at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael king of Aram. Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah went down to see Joram the son of Ahab in Jezreel, because he was wounded.

<sup>7</sup> Now the downfall of Ahaziah was ordained by God. When he went to visit Joram he went out with Joram against Jehu the son of Nimshi, whom the LORD had anointed to cut off the house of Ahab.

<sup>8</sup> When Jehu was executing judgment on the house of Ahab, he discovered the officials of Judah, and the sons of Ahaziah's brothers accompanying Ahaziah, so he killed them.

<sup>9</sup> He searched for Ahaziah, and they caught him while he was hiding in Samaria, and they brought him to Jehu and they executed him. Then they buried him, for they said, "He is the son of Jehoshaphat, who sought the LORD with all his heart." The house of Ahaziah had no ability to rule the kingdom.

<sup>10</sup> Now when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she attempted to destroy all the royal family of the house of Judah.

<sup>11</sup> But Jehoshabeath, the daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and hid him away from among the king's sons who were being killed, and put him and his nurse in a bedroom. So Jehoshabeath, the daughter of king Jehoram was the wife of Jehoiada the priest and the sister of Ahaziah. She hid Joash from Athaliah, so that she could not kill him.

<sup>12</sup> He was hidden by them in the temple of God for six years, while Athaliah reigned over the land.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 23

<sup>1</sup> In the seventh year Jehoiada became courageous and made a pact with the commanders of hundreds, Azariah son of Jeroham, Ishmael son of Jehohanan, Azariah son of Obed, Maaseiah son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat son of Zikri, to covenant with him.

<sup>2</sup> They went throughout Judah and gathered the Levites out of all the towns of Judah, and the heads of ancestral families of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> The entire assembly made a covenant with the king in the temple of God. Jehoiada said to them, “The king's son will reign, as the LORD has promised concerning the descendants of David.

<sup>4</sup> Here’s what you must do: a third of you priests and Levites who come on duty on the Sabbath, will be gatekeepers guarding the entrances, <sup>5</sup> and a third of you will be stationed at the king's palace; and a third part of you at the Foundation Gate. All the people will be in the courts of the temple of the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> But let no one enter the temple of the LORD, except the priests and those Levites who minister. They will enter because they are consecrated, but all the rest of the people must observe the instructions of the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> The Levites will surround the king, everyone with his weapons in his hand. Whoever tries to forcibly enter the temple must be killed. Stick with the king whether he goes in or out.”

<sup>8</sup> So the Levites and all Judah did according to all that Jehoiada the priest had ordered. Each of them took his men, those who were on duty on the Sabbath; along with those who were off duty on the Sabbath. Jehoiada the priest did not dismiss any of the priestly divisions.

<sup>9</sup> Jehoiada the priest gave the commanders of hundreds the spears, large and small shields, that had been king David's that were stored in the temple of God.

<sup>10</sup> He set all the people, everyone with his weapon in his hand, from the right or south side of the temple to the left or north side, near the altar and the temple, surrounding the king.

<sup>11</sup> Then they brought out the king's son, and put the crown on him, and gave him a copy of God’s covenant, and made him king. Jehoiada and his sons anointed him and they shouted, “Long live the king.”

<sup>12</sup> When Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she went with the people into the temple of the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> She looked, and there stood the king by his pillar at the entrance, with the commanders and the trumpets beside the king. All the people of the land rejoiced and blew trumpets, and the singers also with their instruments of music led the celebratory singing. Then Athaliah tore her clothes, and screamed, “Treason! treason!”

<sup>14</sup> Jehoiada the priest brought out the commanders of hundreds that were set over the troops, and told them, "Bring her out between the ranks and whoever follows her, let them be put to the sword." For the priest said, "Do not kill her in the temple of the LORD."

<sup>15</sup> So they made way for her; and she went to the entrance of the Horse Gate to the king's palace where they executed her.

<sup>16</sup> Jehoiada made a covenant between himself, and all the people, and the king that they should be the LORD's people.

<sup>17</sup> All the people went to the temple of Baal, and tore it down, and smashed its altars and its images in pieces. They also killed Mattan the priest of Baal in front of the altars.

<sup>18</sup> Jehoiada put the priests and Levites in charge of the temple of the LORD, whom David had assigned duties in the temple of the LORD, to offer the burnt offerings of the LORD, as is written in the law of Moses, with rejoicing and with singing, according to the edict of David.

<sup>19</sup> He set gatekeepers at the gates of the temple of the LORD, so that no one who was unclean in any way would enter.

<sup>20</sup> He took the commanders of hundreds, the nobles, the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought the king down from the temple of the LORD and they came through the Upper Gate to the king's house. Then they installed the king upon the royal throne.

<sup>21</sup> So all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet after Athaliah had been slain with the sword.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 24

<sup>1</sup> Joash was seven years old when he began to reign; and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zibiah from Beersheba.

<sup>2</sup> Joash did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD all the days of Jehoiada the priest.

<sup>3</sup> Jehoiada arranged two wives for him; and he fathered sons and daughters.

<sup>5</sup> He assembled the priests and Levites, and told them, "Go out to the cities of Judah, and gather from all Israel funds to repair the temple of your God annually; and see that you act quickly." However the Levites did not respond quickly.

<sup>6</sup> The king summoned Jehoiada the chief, and said to him, "Why have you not required the Levites to bring in from Judah and Jerusalem the tax of Moses the servant of the LORD, and from the assembly of Israel for the Tent of the Testimony?"

<sup>7</sup> For the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken into the temple of God; and all the dedicated things from the temple of the LORD they used for the Baals.

<sup>8</sup> So the king commanded, and they made a chest, and set it outside the gate of the temple of the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> They made a proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem, to bring in for the LORD the tax that Moses the servant of God required of Israel in the wilderness.

<sup>10</sup> All the princes and all the people rejoiced, and brought in funds, and dropped them into the chest, until it was full.

<sup>11</sup> Whenever the chest was brought to the king's officers by the Levites, and they saw that there was a lot of money in it, the king's scribe and the chief priest's officer came and emptied the chest, and took it and carried it back again. They did this daily and collected a great deal of money.

<sup>12</sup> The king and Jehoiada gave it to those doing the work of repairing the temple of the LORD. They hired masons and carpenters to restore the temple of the LORD, including those who could work in iron and bronze to repair the temple of the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> So the workmen labored, and the work of repairing went forward by their hands. They restored the temple of God to its original state and reconditioned it.

<sup>14</sup> When they had completed it, they brought the rest of the money to the king and Jehoiada, from the surplus made vessels for the temple of the LORD, utensils with which to serve and to make burnt offerings, ladles, and items of gold and silver. So they offered burnt offerings in the temple of the LORD regularly all the days of Jehoiada.

<sup>15</sup> But Jehoiada grew old and was full of days, and he died at 130 years of age.

<sup>16</sup> They buried him in the city of David among the kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his temple.

<sup>17</sup> Now after the death of Jehoiada the officials of Judah came and made obeisance to the king. The king listened to them.

<sup>18</sup> They abandoned the temple of the LORD, the God of their fathers, and served the Asherah poles and the idols. As a result, wrath came on Judah and Jerusalem for this guilt of theirs.

<sup>19</sup> Yet he sent prophets to them to bring them back to the LORD; and they testified against them, but they would not listen.

<sup>20</sup> Then the Spirit of God came on Zechariah son of Jehoiada the priest. He stood up in front of the people, and declared to them, “This is what God says, ‘Why are you violating the commandments of the LORD so that you cannot prosper? Because you have forsaken the LORD, he has also forsaken you.’”

<sup>21</sup> They conspired against Zechariah, and stoned him on order from the king in the court of the temple of the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> King Joash did not remember the kindness that Jehoiada his father had shown him, but killed his son. As Zechariah was dying, he said, “Let the LORD look on this, and avenge it.”

<sup>23</sup> At the end of the year, the army of Aram attacked Joash. They invaded Judah and Jerusalem and destroyed all the officials of the people. They sent all their plunder back to the king of Damascus.

<sup>24</sup> For the army of Aram had come with just a few men, and the LORD delivered a very great army into their hand, because they had forsaken the LORD, the God of their forefathers. So they executed judgment on Joash.

<sup>25</sup> When Aram had withdrawn, they left him severely wounded. His own servants conspired against him for the blood of the sons of Jehoiada the priest. They murdered him on his bed, and they buried him in the city of David. They did not, however, bury him in the tombs of the kings.

<sup>26</sup> These are the ones who conspired against Joash: Zabad son of Shimeath the Ammonitess, and Jehozabad son of Shimrith the Moabitess.

<sup>27</sup> Now concerning his sons, and the many oracles proclaimed against him, and the rebuilding of the temple of God, they are written in The Commentary of the Book of the Kings. Amaziah his son succeeded him.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 25

<sup>1</sup> Amaziah was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jehoaddan from Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> He did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, but not with a whole heart.

<sup>3</sup> Now when he had firmly secured the kingdom, he executed his servants who had killed his father the king.

<sup>4</sup> But he did not put their children to death, but did according to that which is written in the law in the book of Moses, as the LORD had commanded, "Fathers should not die for the children, nor should children die for the fathers; but everyone should die for their own sin."

<sup>5</sup> Amaziah assembled Judah together, and ordered them according to their ancestral families, under commanders of thousands and of hundreds, all Judah and Benjamin. He numbered those from twenty years old and up, and found that there were 300,000 chosen men, fit for military duty, who could handle spear and shield.

<sup>6</sup> He also hired a 100,000 warriors out of Israel for a hundred talents [7,500 pounds] of silver.

<sup>7</sup> But a man of God came to him, saying, "O king, do not let the army of Israel join you; for the LORD is not with Israel, that is, with all the Ephraimites.

<sup>8</sup> But if you do go and bravely fight the battle, God will defeat you before your enemy; for God has power to help and to defeat."

<sup>9</sup> Amaziah said to the man of God, "But what about the hundred talents I paid for this army of Israel?" The man of God answered, "The LORD is able to give you much more than that."

<sup>10</sup> So Amaziah discharged the army that had come to him out of Ephraim to go home again. This made them furious at Judah, and they returned home in rage.

<sup>11</sup> Amaziah took courage, and led his army to the Valley of Salt, and defeated 10,000 Edomites from Seir.

<sup>12</sup> The troops of Judah captured 10,000 alive, and brought them to the top of a cliff, and threw them off the top of the cliff, so that they were dashed to pieces.

<sup>13</sup> But the men of the army Amaziah had sent back, whom he would not allow to go with him into battle, attacked the cities of Judah, from Samaria to Beth-horon, and killed 3,000 people and carried off much plunder.

<sup>14</sup> Now after Amaziah returned from the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought the gods of the people of Seir, and set them up to be his gods. He bowed down before them and burned incense to them.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore the LORD became angry with Amaziah, and he sent a prophet to him, who asked him, "Why have you pursued the gods of this people who have not even been able to deliver their own people out of your hand?"

<sup>16</sup> While he was talking with him, the king said to him, “Have we made you one of the king's royal advisors? Stop it, why should you be killed?” Then the prophet stopped, and said, “I know that God has determined to destroy you, because you have done this and because you have not listened to my advice.”

<sup>17</sup> Then Amaziah king of Judah consulted his advisors, and sent to Joash, son of Jehoahaz son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, “Come, let us meet face to face in battle.”

<sup>18</sup> Joash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, “The thorn bush that was in Lebanon sent to the cedar in Lebanon, saying, ‘Let your daughter marry my son. There passed by a wild beast that was in Lebanon and trampled down the thorn bush.’”

<sup>19</sup> You think, ‘Look, I have defeated Edom,’ and your heart is arrogant. Boast about your success but stay at home. Why should you stir up trouble for yourself only to harm yourself and Judah along with you?”

<sup>20</sup> But Amaziah would not listen; for it was God’s intention to deliver them into the hand of Joash because they had pursued after the gods of Edom.

<sup>21</sup> So Joash king of Israel went up and he and Amaziah king of Judah attacked each other face to face at Beth-shemesh of Judah.

<sup>23</sup> Joash king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah, son of Joash, son of Jehoahaz, at Beth-shemesh. He brought him back to Jerusalem and broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate, a 600 foot long section.

<sup>24</sup> He seized all the gold and silver, with all the vessels that were found in the temple of God that were under the care of Obed-edom, including the treasures of the king's palace and hostages as well. Then he returned to Samaria.

<sup>25</sup> Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah lived fifteen years after the death of Joash son of Jehoahaz king of Israel.

<sup>26</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Amaziah, from first and last, are they not written in The Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel?

<sup>27</sup> Now from the time that Amaziah turned away from the LORD, they made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem. He fled to Lachish, but they sent assassins after him to Lachish who killed him there.

<sup>28</sup> They transported him back on horses and buried him with his forefathers in the city of David.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 26

<sup>1</sup> All the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in place of his father Amaziah.

<sup>3</sup> Uzziah was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jecoliah from Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup> He did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD, just as his father Amaziah had done.

<sup>5</sup> He determined in himself to seek God in the days of Zechariah, who had understanding in the fear of God. As long as he sought the LORD, God made him prosper.

<sup>6</sup> He went out and made war against the Philistines and broke down the walls of Gath, Jabneh, and Ashdod. He built towns in the area near Ashdod, and elsewhere among the Philistines.

<sup>7</sup> God helped him against the Philistines, against the Arabs who lived in Gur-baal, and against the Meunites.

<sup>10</sup> He built towers in the wilderness, and dug many cisterns, for he had much cattle; in the Shephelah foothills, and in the plain. He had farmers and vinedressers in the mountains and in the fruitful fields, for he loved the soil.

<sup>11</sup> Uzziah had an army of fighting men, that went out to war by divisions, according to the number of their muster made by Jeiel the scribe and Maaseiah the officer, under the direction of Hananiah, one of the king's commanders.

<sup>12</sup> The whole number of the heads of ancestral families, even the mighty warriors, was 2,600.

<sup>13</sup> Under their direction was an army of 307,500 who were skilled warriors capable in helping the king against his enemies.

<sup>14</sup> Uzziah provided for them, as for all the troops, shields, spears, helmets, coats of armor, bows, and stones for slinging.

<sup>15</sup> He constructed in Jerusalem war machines, invented by skilled men, to be on the towers and at the wall corners, from which to shoot arrows and great stones. His fame spread far abroad for he was marvelously supported until he became powerful.

<sup>16</sup> But when he became powerful, his heart became proud which destroyed him. He was unfaithful to the LORD his God, and he entered the temple of the LORD to burn incense on the altar of incense.

<sup>17</sup> Azariah the priest went in after him, and with him eighty priests of the LORD, who were brave men.

<sup>18</sup> They confronted Uzziah the king, and told him, “You are not allowed, Uzziah, to burn incense to the LORD, but it is only for the priests the sons of Aaron who are consecrated to burn incense. Get out of the sanctuary for you have disobeyed; and the LORD God will not honor you.”

<sup>19</sup> Then Uzziah was angry. He had a censer in his hand prepared to burn incense. While he was angry with the priests, leprosy broke out on his forehead in front of the priests in the temple of the LORD, beside the altar of incense.

<sup>20</sup> Azariah the chief priest, and all the priests, looked at him, and he was leprous on his forehead. So they quickly threw him out of there. He himself hurried to get out, because the LORD had struck him.

<sup>21</sup> King Uzziah was a leper to the day of his death. He lived in isolated quarters, as a leper. He was banned from the temple of the LORD. Jotham his son was in charge over the king's palace and governing the people of the land.

<sup>22</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Uzziah, from first to last, were recorded by Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz.

<sup>23</sup> So Uzziah slept with his fathers; and they buried him near his forefathers in the burial plot that belonged to the kings, for they said, “He had leprosy.” Jotham his son reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 27

<sup>1</sup> Jotham was twenty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jerushah the daughter of Zadok.

<sup>2</sup> He did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that his father Uzziah had done, although he did not irreverently enter the temple of the LORD. But the people still acted corruptly.

<sup>3</sup> He built the Upper Gate of the temple of the LORD, and did extensive construction on the wall of Ophel.

<sup>4</sup> He built cities in the hill country of Judah, and in the forests he built forts and towers.

<sup>5</sup> He also fought with the king of the Ammonites, and defeated them. The Ammonites gave him that same year a hundred talents [7,500 pounds] of silver, and ten thousand measures [50,000 bushels] of wheat, and ten thousand [50,000 bushels] of barley. This is how much the Ammonites paid him in the second and third year also.

<sup>6</sup> So Jotham became mighty, because he carefully ordered his ways before the LORD his God.

<sup>7</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his wars and his ways, they are written in The Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

<sup>8</sup> He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup> Jotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David. Ahaz his son reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 28

<sup>1</sup> Ahaz was twenty years old when he began to reign; and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. He did not do what was right in the eyes of the LORD, like his forefather David.

<sup>2</sup> Instead, he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and also made cast metal idols for worshipping the Baals.

<sup>4</sup> He sacrificed and burned incense on the high places, on the hills, and under every green tree.

<sup>5</sup> Therefore the LORD his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Aram, and they defeated him, and carried away captive many of his people and brought them to Damascus. He was also delivered into the hand of the king of Israel, who defeated him with heavy casualties.

<sup>6</sup> For Pekah the son of Remaliah killed 120,000 in Judah in a single day, all of them valiant warriors; because they had forsaken the LORD, the God of their forefathers.

<sup>7</sup> And Zikri, a mighty warrior of Ephraim, killed Maaseiah the king's son, and Azrikam the commander of the palace, and Elkanah who was second to the king.

<sup>8</sup> The children of Israel carried away captive 200,000 of their kin's wives, sons, and daughters, as well as much spoil and brought it back to Samaria.

<sup>9</sup> But a prophet of the LORD was there, whose name was Oded; and he went out to meet the army that came to Samaria, and said to them, "Because the LORD, the God of your fathers, was angry with Judah, he has delivered them into your hand, and you have killed them in a rage that has reached up to heaven.

<sup>10</sup> Now you intend to keep the people of Judah and Jerusalem as male and female slaves for yourselves. But don't you also have your own guilt against the LORD your God?

<sup>11</sup> Now listen to me, and send back the captives, that you took captive from your relatives; for the fierce wrath of the LORD is upon you."

<sup>12</sup> Then certain of the leaders of the Ephraimites, Azariah son of Johanan, Berechiah son of Meshillemoth, Jehizkiah son of Shallum, and Amasa the son of Hadlai, stood up against those who were returning from the war.

<sup>13</sup> They said to them, "Don't bring those captives here. Are you proposing that which will bring on us guilt against the LORD, adding to our sins and trespasses? For already our guilt is great, and there is fierce wrath against Israel."

<sup>14</sup> So the armed men left the captives and the plunder before the officials and all the assembly.

<sup>15</sup> Then the men who had been mentioned by name got up, took the captives, and from the plunder provided clothes for all who were naked among them. They provided them with clothes and sandals, and gave them food and drink, and anointed them. They carried all the feeble on donkeys, and brought them to Jericho, the city of palm trees, to their relatives. Then they returned to Samaria.

<sup>17</sup> The Edomites had again come and attacked Judah, and carried off captives.

<sup>18</sup> The Philistines had invaded the cities of the Shephelah foothills and the Negev of southern Judah. They had already captured and settled in Beth-shemesh, Aijalon, Gederoth, and Soco with their surrounding villages, Timnah with its villages, and Gimzo with its villages.

<sup>19</sup> For the LORD humbled Judah because of Ahaz king of Israel, for he had encouraged Judah to sin and had been unfaithful to the LORD.

<sup>20</sup> So Tilgath-pileser king of Assyria came and attacked him, rather than strengthening him.

<sup>22</sup> In the time of trouble this same King Ahaz rebelled even more against the LORD.

<sup>23</sup> For he offered sacrifices to the gods of Damascus, who had defeated him. For he concluded, "It was because the gods of the kings of Aram helped them, therefore I will sacrifice to them, so that they may help me." They were, however, the ruin of him and all Israel.

<sup>24</sup> Ahaz gathered together the items of the temple of God, and cut in pieces the items of the temple of God, and closed the doors of the temple of the LORD and erected altars in every corner of Jerusalem.

<sup>25</sup> In every city of Judah he made high places to burn incense to other gods, and provoked to anger the LORD, the God of his forefathers.

<sup>26</sup> Now the rest of his acts, and all his ways, from first to last, they are written in The Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

<sup>27</sup> Ahaz slept with his forefathers, and they buried him in the city of Jerusalem, but they did not put him in the tombs of the kings of Israel. Hezekiah his son reigned in his place.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 29

<sup>1</sup> Hezekiah began to reign when he was twenty-five years old; and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abijah, the daughter of Zechariah.

<sup>2</sup> He did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that David his forefather had done.

<sup>3</sup> In the first month of the first year of his reign, he opened the doors of the temple of the LORD and repaired them.

<sup>4</sup> He brought in the priests and Levites, and gathered them together into the square at the east end.

<sup>5</sup> He said to them, "Listen to me, Levites! Consecrate yourselves, and then consecrate the temple of the LORD, the God of your forefathers, and haul out the filthiness from this holy place.

<sup>6</sup> For our fathers were unfaithful, and did what was evil in the sight of the LORD our God, and have forsaken him, and have turned away their faces from the dwelling place of the LORD, and turned their backs on him.

<sup>7</sup> They also shut the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps. They have not burned incense or offered burnt offerings in the holy place to the God of Israel.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore the wrath of the LORD was on Judah and Jerusalem, and he has made them an object of horror, scorn, and ridicule, as you can see with your own eyes.

<sup>9</sup> For our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons, daughters and wives are in captivity for this.

<sup>10</sup> Now it is in my heart to make a covenant with the LORD, the God of Israel, that his fierce anger may turn away from us.

<sup>11</sup> My sons, do not be negligent now; for the LORD has chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and that you should be his ministers and burn incense to him."

<sup>12</sup> Then the Levites arose, Mahath son of Amasai and Joel son of Azariah, from the Kohathites; and from the Merarites, Kish son of Abdi and Azariah son of Jehallelel; and from the Gershonites, Joah son of Zimmah and Eden son of Joah;

<sup>13</sup> and from the descendants of Elizaphan, Shimri and Jeuel; and of the descendants of Asaph, Zechariah and Mattaniah;

<sup>14</sup> and from the descendants of Heman, Jehuel and Shimei; and from the descendants of Jeduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel.

<sup>15</sup> They gathered their brothers, and sanctified themselves, and went in according to the order of the king following the instructions of the LORD, to cleanse the temple of the LORD.

<sup>16</sup> The priests went into the inner part of the temple of the LORD, to cleanse it, and brought out everything that was unclean that they found in the temple of the LORD into the court of the temple of the LORD. The Levites removed it and carried it out to the Kidron Valley.

<sup>17</sup> They began on the first day of the first month to consecrate it, and on the eighth day of the month they came to the porch of the LORD; and they consecrated the temple of the LORD in eight days; and on the sixteenth day of the first month they finished.

<sup>18</sup> Then they went in to Hezekiah the king and said, "We have cleansed all the temple of the LORD, and the altar of burnt offering, with all its utensils and the table of the Bread of the Presence with all its utensils.

<sup>19</sup> All the utensils which King Ahaz in his reign threw away when he was unfaithful we have now prepared and sanctified. They are in front of the altar of the LORD."

<sup>20</sup> Then Hezekiah the king arose early, and summoned the officials of the city, and went up to the temple of the LORD.

<sup>21</sup> They brought seven bulls, seven rams, seven lambs, and seven he-goats, for a sin offering for the kingdom, for the sanctuary and for Judah. He commanded the priests, the sons of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> So they killed the bulls, and the priests took the blood and sprinkled it on the altar. Then they killed the rams and sprinkled the blood on the altar. Finally, they killed the lambs, and sprinkled the blood on the altar.

<sup>23</sup> They brought the male goats for the sin offering before the king and the assembly. They laid their hands on them, <sup>24</sup> and the priests killed them. They made a sin offering with their blood on the altar, to make atonement for all Israel. For the king had commanded that the burnt offering and the sin offering should be made for all Israel.

<sup>25</sup> He stationed the Levites in the temple of the LORD with cymbals, harps, and lyres, according to the directions of David, of Gad the king's seer, and Nathan the prophet, for the commandment was from the LORD by his prophets.

<sup>26</sup> The Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets.

<sup>27</sup> Hezekiah ordered that they offer the burnt offering on the altar. When the burnt offering began, the song of the LORD also began, and the trumpets, along with the instruments of David king of Israel.

<sup>28</sup> All the assembly worshipped, the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded. All this continued until the burnt offering was finished.

<sup>29</sup> When they had completed the offerings, the king and all who were present with him bowed down and worshipped.

<sup>30</sup> Hezekiah the king and the officials directed the Levites to sing praises to the LORD with the words of David, and of Asaph the seer. They sang praises with gladness, and they bowed their heads and worshipped.

<sup>31</sup> Then Hezekiah said, “Now you have consecrated yourselves to the LORD; come near and bring sacrifices and thank offerings into the temple of the LORD.” The assembly brought in sacrifices and thank offerings. As many as were of a willing heart brought burnt offerings.

<sup>32</sup> The number of burnt offerings that the assembly brought was 70 bulls, 100 rams, and 200 lambs; all these were presented for a burnt offering to the LORD.

<sup>34</sup> But there were too few priests, so that they could not skin all the burnt offerings. So their brothers, the Levites, helped them until the work was finished and until the priests could consecrate themselves. For the Levites were more conscientious in sanctifying themselves than the priests were.

<sup>35</sup> There were burnt offerings in abundance. The fat of the peace offerings, and the drink offerings were also made for every burnt offering. So the service of the temple of the LORD was set in order.

<sup>36</sup> Hezekiah and all the people rejoiced, because of what God had done for the people; for the thing was done quickly.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 30

<sup>1</sup> Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and wrote letters also to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the temple of the LORD at Jerusalem, to observe the Passover to the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>2</sup> For the king, his officials, and all the assembly in Jerusalem, had decided to observe the Passover in the second month.

<sup>3</sup> For they could not keep it at the prescribed time, because the priests had not consecrated themselves in sufficient number, and the people had not assembled together at Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> So they established a decree to make proclamation throughout all Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, that they should come to celebrate the Passover to the LORD, the God of Israel, at Jerusalem; for they had not observed it in such great numbers as prescribed.

<sup>6</sup> So the couriers went with the letters from the king and his officials throughout all Israel and Judah, at the command of the king, saying, "You Israelites, turn again to the LORD, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, that he may return the remnant who have escaped from the hand of the kings of Assyria.

<sup>7</sup> Do not be like your forefathers, and like your brothers, who trespassed against the LORD, the God of their forefathers, so that he destroyed them, as you see.

<sup>8</sup> Now do not be stubborn, as your forefathers were; but submit to the LORD. Enter his sanctuary, which he has consecrated forever. Serve the LORD your God, so that his fierce anger may turn away from you.

<sup>9</sup> For if you turn again to the LORD, then your brothers and your children will find compassion before their captors and will come again into this land. For the LORD your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if you return to him."

<sup>10</sup> So the couriers went from city to city through the territory of Ephraim and Manasseh, as far as Zebulun; but they laughed scornfully at them and mocked them.

<sup>11</sup> Nevertheless, certain men of Asher, Manasseh and Zebulun humbled themselves, and came to Jerusalem.

<sup>12</sup> Also in Judah the hand of God gave them unity of heart to obey the command of the king and officials by the word of the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> Many people assembled at Jerusalem to keep the Feast of Unleavened Bread in the second month. It was an immense crowd.

<sup>14</sup> They arose and removed the altars that were in Jerusalem; as well as all the altars for incense and threw them into the Kidron Valley.

<sup>15</sup> Then they killed the Passover lamb on the fourteenth day of the second month. The priests and Levites were ashamed, consecrated themselves, and brought burnt offerings into the temple of the LORD.

<sup>16</sup> They stood at their stations as prescribed by the law of Moses the man of God. The priests sprinkled the blood that they received from the hand of the Levites.

<sup>17</sup> For there were many in the assembly who had not consecrated themselves. Therefore the Levites had the charge of killing the Passover lambs for everyone who was not clean, to consecrate them to the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> A majority of the people from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves, yet ate the Passover in violation to what had been written. For Hezekiah had prayed for them, saying, "May the good LORD pardon everyone

<sup>19</sup> who sets his heart to seek God, the LORD, the God of his forefathers, even though he is not cleansed according to the purification standards of the sanctuary."

<sup>21</sup> The Israelites who were present at Jerusalem kept the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days with great gladness; and the Levites and priests praised the LORD day by day, accompanied with loud instruments for the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> Hezekiah expressed his appreciation to all the Levites who had good skill in the service of the LORD. So they ate throughout the feast for the seven days, offering sacrifices of peace offerings and gave that to the LORD, the God of their forefathers.

<sup>23</sup> The whole assembly took counsel to continue for seven more days. So they celebrated another seven days with gladness.

<sup>24</sup> For Hezekiah king of Judah gave to the assembly 1,000 bulls and 7,000 sheep for offerings; and the officials gave to the assembly 1,000 bulls and 10,000 sheep. A great number of priests consecrated themselves.

<sup>25</sup> The whole assembly of Judah, with the priests and Levites, and the whole assembly that came out of Israel, and the resident foreigners who came out of the land of Israel, and who lived in Judah, rejoiced.

<sup>26</sup> So there was great joy in Jerusalem, for since the time of Solomon the son of King David of Israel there was nothing like it in Jerusalem.

<sup>27</sup> Then the priests and Levites arose and blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up to his holy dwelling in heaven.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 31

<sup>1</sup> Now when all this was finished, all Israel who were present went out to the towns of Judah, and broke in pieces the sacred pillars, cut down the Asherah poles, and broke down the high places and the altars throughout all Judah and Benjamin, and also in Ephraim and Manasseh, until they had destroyed them all. Then all the Israelites returned to their towns, each one to his possession.

<sup>2</sup> Hezekiah appointed the divisions of the priests and Levites according to their classification, each one according to his service, both priests and Levites, for burnt offerings and for peace offerings, to minister, and to give thanks and praise in the gates of the camp of the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> The king himself personally donated from his possessions for the morning and evening burnt offerings, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbath, New Moons, and for the appointed feasts, as it is written in the law of the LORD.

<sup>4</sup> He commanded the people that dwelt in Jerusalem to give the portion due to the priests and Levites, that they might devote themselves to the law of the LORD.

<sup>5</sup> As soon as the decree was issued, the Israelites gave generously from the firstfruits of grain, new wine, olive oil, and honey, and of all the produce of the field. They brought in abundantly the tithe of everything.

<sup>6</sup> The people of Israel and Judah who lived in the towns of Judah also brought in the tithe of cattle and sheep, and the tithe of dedicated things which were consecrated to the LORD their God, and piled them up in heaps.

<sup>7</sup> In the third month they began piling their donations up in heaps, and finished them in the seventh month.

<sup>8</sup> When Hezekiah and the officials came and saw the heaps, they praised the LORD, and blessed his people Israel.

<sup>9</sup> Then Hezekiah questioned the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.

<sup>10</sup> Azariah, the chief priest, who was from the house of Zadok, answered him, "Since the people began to bring the oblations into the temple of the LORD, we have eaten and have had enough, and had plenty left over, for the LORD has blessed his people; and this large amount is what is left over."

<sup>11</sup> Then Hezekiah commanded to prepare storerooms in the house of the LORD, and they prepared them.

<sup>12</sup> They brought in the contributions, tithes and the dedicated things faithfully. Conaniah the Levite was put in charge of this, and Shimei his brother was second in charge.

<sup>13</sup> Jehiel, Azaziah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismachiah, Mahath, and Benaiah, were overseers under the supervision of Conaniah and Shimei his brother, by the appointment of Hezekiah the king, and Azariah the official in charge of the temple of God.

<sup>14</sup> Kore the son of Innah the Levite, the guard at the east gate, was over the freewill offerings of God, to distribute the contributions given to the LORD, and the most holy things.

<sup>15</sup> And under him were Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah, in the towns of the priests, in their office of trust, to give to their fellow priests by divisions, to the young as well as the old.

<sup>16</sup> In addition, they distributed gifts to all males from three years old and upward, even everyone who entered into the house of the LORD, as the daily duties required, for their service in their offices according to their divisions.

<sup>17</sup> Those who received gifts were listed in the genealogical records of the priests by their fathers' houses, and the Levites from twenty years old and upward, according to their offices by their divisions.

<sup>18</sup> They were reckoned by genealogy including all their little ones, their wives, and their sons and daughters, the entire congregation; for they were faithful in consecrating themselves.

<sup>19</sup> Also for the sons of Aaron, the priests, who were in the fields at the outskirts of their towns, in every town, there were men who were mentioned by name to give portions to all the males among the priests, and to all who were reckoned by genealogy among the Levites.

<sup>20</sup> Hezekiah did this throughout all Judah, and he did what was good, right and faithful before the LORD his God.

<sup>21</sup> In everything that he began in the service of the temple of God, and in obedience to the law and the commandments to seek his God, he did it with all his heart, and so he prospered.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 32

<sup>1</sup> After these faithful acts, Sennacherib king of Assyria came and invaded Judah, and encamped against the fortified cities, intending to win them for himself.

<sup>2</sup> When Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib had come, and that he intended to attack Jerusalem, <sup>3</sup> he took counsel with his officials and his commanders to stop up the waters of the springs that were outside the city; and they helped him.

<sup>4</sup> So many people there gathered together, and they stopped up all the springs, and the brook that flowed through the land, saying, “Why should the kings of Assyria come, and find plenty of water?”

<sup>5</sup> So he resolutely worked to rebuild all sections of the wall that were broken down, and erected towers and an outer wall, and strengthened the Millo terraces of the city of David, and made many weapons and shields.

<sup>6</sup> He appointed military commanders over the people, and gathered them together to him in the square at the gate of the city, and encouraged them, saying,

<sup>7</sup> “Be strong and courageous. Don’t be afraid or dismayed because of the king of Assyria, and the huge army with him; for there are more with us than with him.

<sup>8</sup> For he has only an arm of flesh; but the LORD our God with us is to help us, and to fight our battles.” The people found courage in the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

<sup>9</sup> After this Sennacherib king of Assyria while he was attacking Lachish, and all his troops were with him there, sent his messengers to Jerusalem, to Hezekiah king of Judah, and to all Judah that were at Jerusalem, saying, <sup>10</sup> “This is what Sennacherib king of Assyria says, What are you trusting in that you think you can undergo a siege at Jerusalem?

<sup>11</sup> Isn’t Hezekiah deceiving you, turning you over to die by famine and thirst, claiming, ‘The LORD our God will deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria’?

<sup>12</sup> Hasn’t this same Hezekiah destroyed his high places and his altars, and commanded Judah and Jerusalem, saying, ‘You must worship before one altar, and on it alone you must burn sacrifices’?

<sup>13</sup> Don’t you realize what I and my forefathers have done to all the peoples of the other lands? Were the gods of the nations of those lands in any way able to deliver their land out of my hand?

<sup>14</sup> Who among all the gods of those nations that my forefathers utterly destroyed was able to deliver his people out of my hand? Do you really believe that your God will be able to deliver you out of my hand?

<sup>15</sup> Now don’t let Hezekiah deceive or mislead you like that. Don’t believe him, for no god of any nation or kingdom has been able to deliver his people out of my hand, and out of the hand of my forefathers. So how much less can your God deliver you out of my hand?"

<sup>17</sup> He also wrote letters, to ridicule the LORD, the God of Israel, and to speak against him, saying, "As the gods of the other nations of the lands could not deliver their people out of my hand, so the God of Hezekiah will be unable to deliver his people out of my hand."

<sup>18</sup> Then they cried out in the Judean language to the people of Jerusalem that were on the wall, to scare and terrify them so that they might capture the city.

<sup>19</sup> They spoke of the God of Jerusalem, as if he were one of the gods of the peoples of the earth, which are merely the work of human hands.

<sup>20</sup> Because of this, King Hezekiah and the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz prayed and cried out to heaven.

<sup>21</sup> Then the LORD sent an angel, who destroyed all the mighty warriors, commanders and officers in the camp of the king of Assyria. So he returned disgraced to his own land. And when he entered the house of his god, some of his own sons slew him there with the sword.

<sup>22</sup> So the LORD saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib the king of Assyria, and from the hand of all others, and protected them on every side.

<sup>23</sup> Many brought gifts to the LORD at Jerusalem, and precious gifts to Hezekiah king of Judah, so that he was respected in the sight of all nations from then on.

<sup>24</sup> After those days Hezekiah was terminally ill. He prayed to the LORD, and he answered him and gave him a sign.

<sup>25</sup> But Hezekiah was not grateful for the benefit done to him, for his heart became arrogant. Therefore wrath came on him, Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>26</sup> Then Hezekiah humbled himself from the pride of his heart, as did the inhabitants of Jerusalem. So the wrath of the LORD did not come upon them in the days of Hezekiah.

<sup>27</sup> Hezekiah was very rich and highly honored. He built treasuries for his silver, gold, precious stones, spices, shields, and for all kinds of valuable possessions.

<sup>28</sup> He also built store-houses for the harvest of grain, new wine and olive oil; as well as stalls for all kinds of cattle, and flocks in pens.

<sup>29</sup> He built cities and acquired flocks and herds in abundance; for God had given him great wealth.

<sup>30</sup> This Hezekiah also stopped up the upper spring of the waters of the Gihon spring, and brought them straight down on the west side of the city of David. Hezekiah prospered in all his endeavors.

<sup>31</sup> However when the envoys of the officials of Babylon sent to him to inquire of the incredible wonder that had been done in the land, God left him to test him in order to know all that was in his heart.

<sup>32</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and his good deeds, they are written in the vision of the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz, in The Annals of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

<sup>33</sup> Hezekiah slept with his forefathers, and they buried him on the ascent of the tombs of the sons of David. All Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem honored him at his death. Then Manasseh his son succeeded him as king.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 33

<sup>1</sup> Manasseh was twelve years old when he began to reign; and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> He did evil in the sight of the LORD, in the manner of the abominations of the nations whom the LORD had driven out before the Israelites.

<sup>3</sup> For he rebuilt the high places that his father Hezekiah had broken down; and he set up altars for the Baals and made Asherah poles, and worshipped all the hosts of the sky and served them.

<sup>4</sup> He built altars in the temple of the LORD, concerning which the LORD said, "In Jerusalem my name shall be forever."

<sup>5</sup> He built altars for all the host of the sky in the two courts of the temple of the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> He also forced his own children to pass through the sacrificial fires in the Ben Hinnom Valley; and he practiced divination, omens and sorcery, and consulted with those who were mediums and used witchcraft. He did much evil in the sight of the LORD provoking him to anger.

<sup>7</sup> He set up a carved image of an idol that he had made in the temple of God, of which God had told David and Solomon his son, "In this temple in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name there forever.

<sup>8</sup> I will never again remove the feet of Israel out of the land which I have appointed to your forefathers, if only they will observe to do all that I have commanded them, even all the law, statutes and ordinances given through Moses."

<sup>9</sup> Manasseh misled Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so that they did more evil than did the nations whom the LORD had destroyed before the Israelites.

<sup>10</sup> The LORD spoke to Manasseh and his people but they did not pay attention.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore the LORD brought on them the commanders of the army of the king of Assyria, who took Manasseh away in chains, bound with fetters, and carried him off to Babylon.

<sup>12</sup> When he was in distress, he sought the LORD his God, and greatly humbled himself before the God of his forefathers.

<sup>13</sup> Manasseh prayed to God and he was moved and responded to his pleading, and brought him back to Jerusalem to his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD was God.

<sup>14</sup> After this Manasseh built an outer wall around the city of David, on the west side of Gihon, in the valley, all the way to the entrance at the Fish Gate continuing around the Ophel. He built it up to a very great height and he stationed valiant commanders in all the fortified cities of Judah.

<sup>15</sup> He removed the foreign gods and the idol out of the temple of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built in the mountain of the temple of the LORD and in Jerusalem and threw them out of the city.

<sup>16</sup> He rebuilt the altar of the LORD, and offered on it sacrifices of peace and thank offerings, and commanded Judah to serve the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>17</sup> Nevertheless, the people still sacrificed at the high places, but only to the LORD their God.

<sup>18</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his prayer to his God, and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, they are written in the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

<sup>19</sup> His prayer also, and how God was moved by his entreaty, and all his sin and unfaithfulness, and the places where he built high places, and set up the Asherah poles and the graven images, before he humbled himself, they are written in the History of the Seers.

<sup>20</sup> So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own house. Amon his son succeed him as king.

<sup>21</sup> Amon was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem.

<sup>22</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as his father Manasseh had. Amon sacrificed to all the graven images which Manasseh his father had made and served them.

<sup>25</sup> But the people of the land slew all those who had conspired against King Amon; and the people of the land made Josiah his son king in his place.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 34

<sup>1</sup> Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign; and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> In the eighth year of his reign, while he was still young, he began to seek after the God of David his forefather. In the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem of the high places, Asherah poles, craved idols, and cast images.

<sup>4</sup> And they knocked down the altars of the Baals in his presence; and incense altars that were high above them he cut down, and smashed the Asherah poles, craved idols, and cast images, and ground them to dust, and scattered it over the graves of those who had sacrificed to them.

<sup>5</sup> He burned the bones of the priests on their altars, and purified Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>6</sup> He also did this in the cities of Manasseh, Ephraim and Simeon, as far as Naphtali, and in their surrounding ruins.

<sup>7</sup> He knocked down the altars, and smashed the Asherah poles and the carved images into powder, and cut down all the incense altars throughout all the land of Israel. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup> Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land and the temple, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the mayor of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the temple of the LORD his God.

<sup>9</sup> They came to Hilkiah the high priest, and delivered the money that was brought into the temple of God, which the Levites, and gatekeepers had collected from the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, and from all the remnant of Israel, all Judah and Benjamin, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup> They delivered it into the hand of the workmen who had the oversight of the temple of the LORD; and the workmen who worked in the temple of the LORD gave it for fixing and renovating the temple.

<sup>11</sup> They gave it to the carpenters and builders to buy cut stone, timber for joists and to make beams for the buildings that the kings of Judah had let fall into ruin.

<sup>12</sup> The men did the work faithfully. Their overseers were Jahath and Obadiah, the Levites, from the sons of Merari; and Zechariah and Meshullam, from the sons of the Kohathites, who directed them. Other Levites, all who were skillful with instruments of music, <sup>13</sup> supervised the laborers and all those who did the work in every kind of service. Some of the Levites there were scribes, officials, and gatekeepers.

<sup>14</sup> When they brought out the money that had been brought into the temple of the LORD, Hilkiah the priest found the scroll of the law of the LORD given through Moses.

<sup>15</sup> Hilkiyah told Shaphan the scribe, "I have found the scroll of the law in the temple of the LORD." Then Hilkiyah gave the scroll to Shaphan.

<sup>16</sup> Shaphan brought the scroll to the king, and then reported to the king, saying, "All that was committed to your servants they are doing.

<sup>17</sup> They have emptied out the money that was found in the temple of the LORD, and have turned it over to the supervisors and the workmen."

<sup>18</sup> Shaphan the scribe told the king, "Hilkiyah the priest has given me a scroll." Then Shaphan read it in front of the king.

<sup>19</sup> When the king heard the words of the law, he tore his clothes.

<sup>20</sup> The king commanded Hilkiyah, Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Micah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah the king's servant,

<sup>21</sup> "Go, inquire of the LORD for me, and for those who are left in Israel and Judah, concerning the words of the scroll that is found; for great is the LORD's wrath that is poured out on us, because our forefathers have not kept the word of the LORD, to do according to all that is written in this scroll."

<sup>22</sup> So Hilkiyah, and those whom the king had sent, went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tokhath, the son of Hasrah, keeper of the wardrobe. (She lived in Jerusalem in the Mishneh Quarter.) They spoke to her regarding this.

<sup>23</sup> She told them, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel says: Tell the man who sent you to me, <sup>24</sup> This is what the LORD says: 'I will bring disaster on this place, and on its inhabitants, even all the curses that are written in the scroll that they have read before the king of Judah.

<sup>25</sup> Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense to other gods, they have provoked me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath is poured out on this place, and it will not be quenched.'

<sup>26</sup> But tell the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, This is what the LORD, the God of Israel says concerning the words that you have heard, <sup>27</sup> because your heart was sensitive, and you humbled yourself before God, when you heard his words against this place, and against its inhabitants, and have humbled yourself before me, and have torn your clothes, and wept before me; I have heard you, says the LORD.

<sup>28</sup> I will gather you to your fathers, and you will be gathered to your grave in peace, your eyes will not see all the disaster that I will bring on this place, and on its inhabitants." They brought back this word to the king.

<sup>29</sup> Then the king sent and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>30</sup> The king went up to the temple of the LORD, along with all the men of Judah, the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the priests and Levites, and all the people both great and small. Then he read in their ears all the words of the scroll of the covenant that was found in the temple of the LORD.

<sup>31</sup> The king stood in his place and made a covenant before the LORD to follow the LORD, and keep his commandments, decrees, and statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant that were written in this scroll.

<sup>32</sup> Then he made all who were in Jerusalem and Benjamin agree to it. The inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, the God of their forefathers.

<sup>33</sup> Josiah removed all the abominations from all the regions that belonged to the children of Israel, and made all that were found in Israel to serve the LORD their God. All his days they did not turn away from following the LORD, the God of their forefathers.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 35

<sup>1</sup> Josiah kept a Passover to the LORD in Jerusalem; and they slaughtered the Passover lamb on the fourteenth day of the first month.

<sup>2</sup> He assigned the priests to their offices, and encouraged them to the service of the temple of the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> He said to the Levites who taught all Israel, who were holy to the LORD, “Put the holy ark in the temple that Solomon the son of David king of Israel built; no longer should it be carried on your shoulders. Now serve the LORD your God and his people Israel.

<sup>4</sup> Prepare yourselves after your fathers' houses by your divisions, according to the written instructions of David king of Israel and his son Solomon.

<sup>5</sup> Stand in the holy place according to the divisions of the ancestral houses of your kindred of the people, and let there be Levites for each portion of the ancestors' household.

<sup>6</sup> Slaughter the Passover lamb, and consecrate yourselves, and prepare it for your brothers, to do according to the word of the LORD by Moses.”

<sup>7</sup> Josiah gave to the common people, from the flock, lambs and kids, all of them for the Passover offerings for all that were present, 30,000, and 3,000 bulls; the king provided these from his possessions.

<sup>8</sup> His officials gave contributions to the people, to priests and Levites. Hilkiyah, Zechariah and Jehiel, the rulers of the house of God, gave to the priests for the Passover offerings 2,600 lambs and goats, and 300 bulls.

<sup>9</sup> Conaniah also, and his brothers Shemaiah, Nethanel, Hashabiah, Jeiel and Jozabad, the leaders of the Levites, gave to the Levites for the Passover offerings 5,000 sheep and goats, and 500 bulls.

<sup>10</sup> So the service was prepared, and the priests stood in their places, and the Levites by their divisions, according to the king's command.

<sup>11</sup> They slaughtered the Passover lamb, and the priests sprinkled the blood that they received from their hand, and the Levites skinned them.

<sup>12</sup> They removed the burnt offerings so that they might give them according to the divisions of the forefathers' houses of the people, to offer to the LORD, as it is written in the scroll of Moses. And they did same thing with the bulls.

<sup>13</sup> They roasted the Passover lamb with fire according to the ordinance; and boiled the holy offerings in pots, pans and caldrons, and quickly served them to all the people.

<sup>14</sup> Afterward they made preparations for themselves and the priests, because the priests, the descendants of Aaron, were busy with offering the burnt offerings and the fat until night. Therefore the Levites made the preparations for themselves and for the priests the descendants of Aaron.

<sup>15</sup> The singers, the descendants of Asaph, were in their place, according to the direction of David, Asaph, Heman, and the king's seer Jeduthun. The gatekeepers were stationed at every gate. They did not have to leave their posts for their fellow Levites made preparations for them.

<sup>16</sup> So all the service of the LORD was prepared that same day, to keep the Passover, and to offer burnt offerings on the altar of the LORD, according to the command of king Josiah.

<sup>17</sup> The Israelites who were present kept the Passover at that time, and the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days.

<sup>18</sup> There was no Passover like it observed in Israel since the days of Samuel the prophet; nor did any of the kings of Israel ever celebrate such a Passover as Josiah celebrated, with the priests and Levites, and all Judah and Israel that were present, along with the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

<sup>19</sup> In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah this Passover was observed.

<sup>20</sup> After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Neco king of Egypt went up to fight at Carchemish on the Euphrates, and Josiah went out against him.

<sup>21</sup> Neco sent envoys to him, saying, "What have I to do with you, king of Judah? I have not come against you today, but against the kingdom that I am at war with; and God has commanded me to hurry. Stop opposing God, who is with me, so that he will not destroy you."

<sup>22</sup> Josiah would not back off from him, but disguised himself, so that he might fight with him. He did not listen to the words of Neco from the mouth of God, and came to fight in the Megiddo plain.

<sup>23</sup> The archers shot at King Josiah; and the king said to his servants, "Get me out of here; for I am seriously wounded."

<sup>24</sup> So his servants took him out of the chariot, and put him in the second chariot that he had, and brought him back to Jerusalem. He died and was buried in the tombs of his forefathers. All Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

<sup>25</sup> Jeremiah lamented for Josiah, and all the singing men and women spoke of Josiah in their lamentations to this day. They made a tradition in Israel and it is recorded in The Book of Laments.

<sup>26</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, including his good deeds done in accordance with what was written in the law of the LORD, <sup>27</sup> and his acts, from the first to last, they were written in The Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

DASV: 2 Chronicles 36

<sup>1</sup> Then the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and made him king in place of his father in Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign; and he reigned three months in Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> The king of Egypt deposed him in Jerusalem, and demanded a land tax of a hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.

<sup>4</sup> The king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. Neco then took his brother Jehoahaz and carried him away to Egypt.

<sup>5</sup> Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign; he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. But he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God.

<sup>6</sup> Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up against him and bound him with fetters, to deport him to Babylon.

<sup>7</sup> Nebuchadnezzar also carried off the vessels of the temple of the LORD to Babylon, and put them in his palace in Babylon.

<sup>8</sup> The rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and his abominations that he did, and what was found against him, they are written in The Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah; and his son Jehoiachin reigned in his place.

<sup>9</sup> Jehoiachin was eight years old when he began to reign. He reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem. He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> In the spring of the year king Nebuchadnezzar sent, and brought Jehoiachin to Babylon, with the goodly vessels of the temple of the LORD, and made his uncle Zedekiah king over Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>11</sup> Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem.

<sup>12</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God. He did not humble himself before the prophet Jeremiah who spoke from the mouth of the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> He also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him take a vow of allegiance in God's name. He was recalcitrant and hardened his heart refusing to turn to the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>14</sup> Moreover all the leaders of the priests and the people became very unfaithful following after all the abominations of the nations. They polluted the temple of the LORD that he had consecrated in Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup> The LORD, the God of their forefathers, sent warnings to them by his messengers repeatedly, because he had compassion on his people and on his dwelling place.

<sup>16</sup> But they mocked the messengers of God, despised his words, and scoffed at his prophets, until the wrath of the LORD rose against his people, to the point that there was no remedy.

<sup>17</sup> Therefore he brought against them the king of the Chaldeans, who slew their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary. He did not spare a young man or virgin, old man or the infirm; he gave them all into his hand.

<sup>18</sup> All the vessels of the temple of God, large and small, and the treasures of the temple of the LORD, and the treasures of the king, and of his officials, all these he carried off to Babylon.

<sup>19</sup> They burned down the temple of God, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem, and burned all its palaces, and destroyed all its valuable vessels.

<sup>20</sup> Those who escaped from the sword he carried off to Babylon; and they became servants to him and his sons until the kingdom of Persia rose to power.

<sup>21</sup> This fulfilled the word of the LORD spoken by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed its Sabbaths. As long as it lay desolate it kept the Sabbath fulfilling the seventy years.

<sup>22</sup> Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, in fulfillment of the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it in writing:

<sup>23</sup> “This is what Cyrus king of Persia says, ‘The LORD, the God of heaven has given me all the kingdoms of the earth. He has commissioned me to build a temple for him in Jerusalem in Judah. Whoever among you from all his people, the LORD his God be with him, and let him go up.’”

Digital American Standard Version*DASV: Ezra 1

<sup>1</sup> In the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, in order that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD roused the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout his entire kingdom, and also put it in writing:

<sup>2</sup> "This is what Cyrus king of Persia says, 'The LORD, God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth and he has charged me to build a temple for him at Jerusalem, which is in Judah.

<sup>3</sup> Anyone among you who are from all his people, may his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the temple of the LORD, the God of Israel. He is the God who is in Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup> Let any of the survivors, in any place where they are living, be assisted by his neighbors with silver, gold, goods and with animals, including the freewill offerings for the temple of God that is in Jerusalem."

<sup>5</sup> Then the heads of the families of Judah and Benjamin and the priests and Levites, everyone whose spirit God had roused, prepared to go up to build the temple for the LORD that is in Jerusalem.

<sup>6</sup> All their neighbors around them supported them with items of silver, gold and with goods and animals, and with valuable gifts, besides all that was freely offered.

<sup>7</sup> Cyrus the king also brought out the vessels of the temple of the LORD that Nebuchadnezzar had carried off from Jerusalem and had put in the temple of his gods.

<sup>8</sup> Cyrus king of Persia had them released into the hand of Mithredath the treasurer who in turn counted them out to Sheshbazzar the prince of Judah.

<sup>9</sup> The inventory of these items was: 30 gold basins, 1,000 silver basins, 29 silver censers, <sup>10</sup> 30 gold bowls, 410 other silver bowls, and 1,000 other items.

<sup>11</sup> There were a total of 5,400 items of gold and silver. Sheshbazzar brought all of these with them, when the exiles were brought up from Babylon to Jerusalem.

DASV: Ezra 2

<sup>1</sup> Now these are the people of the province, who went up out of captivity from those who were exiled whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away to Babylon. They returned to Jerusalem and Judah, each one to his own town.

<sup>2</sup> They came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispar, Bigvai, Rehum and Baanah. The number of the men of the people of Israel were:

<sup>3</sup> the descendants of Parosh, 2,172;

<sup>4</sup> the descendants of Shephatiah, 372;

<sup>6</sup> the descendants of Pahath-moab, from the descendants of Jeshua and Joab, 2,812;

<sup>14</sup> the descendants of Bigvai, 2,056;

<sup>23</sup> the men of Anathoth, 128;

<sup>24</sup> the descendants of Azmaveth, 42;

<sup>30</sup> the descendants of Magbish, 156;

<sup>35</sup> the descendants of Senaah, 3,630.

- <sup>36</sup> The priests:
the descendants of Jedaiah, from the house of Jeshua, 973;
- <sup>37</sup> the descendants of Immer, 1,052;
- <sup>38</sup> the descendants of Pashhur, 1,247;
- <sup>39</sup> the descendants of Harim, 1,017.
- <sup>40</sup> The Levites:
the descendants of Jeshua and Kadmiel, from the descendants of Hodaviah, 74;
- <sup>41</sup> the singers from the descendants of Asaph, 128.
- <sup>42</sup> The gatekeepers were the descendants of Shallum, Ater, Talmon, Akkub, Hatita, and Shobai, 139.
- <sup>43</sup> The temple servants:
the descendants of Ziha, Hasupha, Tabbaoth,
- <sup>44</sup> Keros, Siaha, Padon,
- <sup>45</sup> Lebanah, Hagabah, Akkub,
- <sup>46</sup> Hagab, Shamlai, Hanan,
- <sup>47</sup> Giddel, Gahar, Reaiah,
- <sup>48</sup> Rezin, Nekoda, Gazzam,
- <sup>49</sup> Uzza, Paseah, Besai,
- <sup>50</sup> Asnah, Meunim, Nephisim,
- <sup>51</sup> Bakbuk, Hakupha, Harhur,
- <sup>52</sup> Bazluth, Mehida, Harsha,
- <sup>53</sup> Barkos, Sisera, Temah,
- <sup>54</sup> Neziah and Hatipha.
- <sup>55</sup> The descendants of Solomon's servants:
the descendants of Sotai, Hassophereth, Peruda,
- <sup>56</sup> Jaalah, Darkon, Giddel,
- <sup>57</sup> Shephatiah, Hattil, Pokereth-hazzebaim and Ami.
- <sup>58</sup> All the temple servants and the descendants of Solomon's servants, were 392.
- <sup>59</sup> These were those who came up from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Kerub, Addan, and Immer; although they could not prove their families were descendants from Israel:
- <sup>60</sup> the descendants of Delaiah, Tobiah, Nekoda, 652.
- <sup>61</sup> Some of the priests were the descendants of Habaiah, Hakkoz, Barzillai, who married the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called by their name.
- <sup>62</sup> These searched for their family records in the genealogical records, but they were not found. As a result they were deemed to be unclean and excluded from the priesthood.

<sup>63</sup> The governor told them that they were not allowed to eat of the most holy food, until there was a priest who could inquire using the Urim and Thummim.

<sup>65</sup> besides their male and female servants, of whom there were 7,337. There were also 200 male and female singers.

<sup>66</sup> They had 736 horses, 245 mules,

<sup>68</sup> When they came to the temple of the LORD in Jerusalem, some of the family leaders made freewill offerings for the rebuilding of the temple of God on its original site.

<sup>69</sup> They gave according to their ability into the treasury for this project 61,000 gold coins, and 6,250 pounds of silver, and 100 priestly garments.

<sup>70</sup> So the priests, the Levites, the singers, the gatekeepers, the temple servants and some of the regular people lived in their towns, and all the rest of Israel in their towns.

DASV: Ezra 3

<sup>1</sup> When the seventh month had come, and the Israelites were settled in their towns, the people gathered together as one to Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> Then Jeshua the son of Jozadak along with his fellow priests, Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and his family built the altar of the God of Israel, so that they could offer burnt offerings on it, as it is written in the law of Moses the man of God.

<sup>3</sup> They set the altar on its base, even though they were afraid of the local residents from other countries. They offered burnt offerings on it to the LORD, in the morning and evening.

<sup>4</sup> They kept the Feast of Tabernacles, just as it was written, and offered the set number of the daily burnt offerings according to the requirement for each day.

<sup>5</sup> Afterward they offered the regular burnt offerings, and the offerings for the new moons, and all the prescribed sacred feasts of the LORD, including all those who willingly offered a freewill offering to the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> From the first day of the seventh month they began to offer burnt offerings to the LORD. But the foundation of the temple of the LORD had not yet been laid.

<sup>7</sup> So they gave money to the masons and carpenters, and food, drink and olive oil to those from Sidon and Tyre for them to bring cedar trees from Lebanon by sea to Joppa, according to the grant that they had from Cyrus king of Persia.

<sup>8</sup> Now in the second year after their arrival at the temple of God in Jerusalem, in the second month, Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and the rest of their fellow priests and Levites, and all those who had come out of captivity to Jerusalem, began the rebuilding work having appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and older to oversee the work of the temple of the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> Then Jeshua with his sons and his brothers, Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah, began their oversight of the workmen in the temple of God along with the sons of Henadad, with their sons and their brothers the Levites.

<sup>10</sup> When the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, they set the priests in their vestments with trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with cymbals, took their positions in order to praise the LORD, according to the directions of David king of Israel.

<sup>11</sup> They sang antiphonally to one another praising and giving thanks to the LORD: "For he is good, for his steadfast love endures forever toward Israel." Then all the people shouted loudly as they praised the LORD, because the foundation of the temple of the LORD had been laid.

<sup>12</sup> But many of the older priests, Levites and heads of families who had seen the first temple, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept aloud while many of the others were shouting for joy.

<sup>13</sup> People could not distinguish the sound of the shout for joy from the sound of the people weeping, for the people were shouting so loudly that the sound could be heard a long way away.

DASV: Ezra 4

<sup>1</sup> When the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the former exiles were building a temple for the LORD, the God of Israel;

<sup>2</sup> they approached Zerubbabel, and the heads of families and said to them, "Let us help you build it, for we seek your God, just like you do. We have been sacrificing to him since the days of Esarhaddon king of Assyria, who brought us here."

<sup>3</sup> But Zerubbabel, Jeshua and the rest of the heads of families of Israel, replied to them, "You will have nothing to do with helping us rebuild a temple to our God; but we will build it by ourselves alone for the LORD, the God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia commanded us."

<sup>4</sup> Then the people of the land discouraged the people of Judah, and made them afraid to continue building.

<sup>5</sup> They bribed consultants against them, to frustrate their purpose, all the days of Cyrus king of Persia, even until the reign of Darius king of Persia.

<sup>6</sup> Later in the reign of Ahasuerus [also called Xerxes], in the beginning of his reign, they wrote an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>7</sup> Then in the days of Artaxerxes, Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of his associates, wrote to Artaxerxes king of Persia. The letter was written in Aramaic, and then translated for the king.

<sup>8</sup> Rehum the commander and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king as follows:

<sup>9</sup> Then wrote Rehum the commander, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their associates, the judges, the officials, the secretaries, the Persians, the Erechites, the Babylonians, the people of Shusha, that is, the Elamites, <sup>10</sup> and the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Ashurbanipal deported, and settled in the city of Samaria, and in the rest of the region west of the Euphrates River.

<sup>11</sup> This is the copy of the letter that they sent: "To King Artaxerxes, from your servants the people of the province west of the Euphrates:

<sup>12</sup> The king should be aware, that the Jews who came up from you to us have gone to Jerusalem. They are rebuilding this rebellious and wicked city. They are finishing the walls, and have repaired its foundations.

<sup>13</sup> The king should be aware that if this city is rebuilt, and the walls completed, they will refuse to pay any more taxes, customs, or tolls, and in the end it will be detrimental to the royal revenue.

<sup>14</sup> Now because we loyally eat the salt of the palace, and it is not appropriate for us to witness the king being dishonored, therefore we have sent and informed the king,

<sup>15</sup> so that a search may be made in the records of your fathers. You will discover in the records, and realize that this city is a rebellious city, and harmful to kings and provinces, and that they have instigated sedition from long ago which is why this city was destroyed.

<sup>16</sup> We are informing the king that if this city is rebuilt, and the walls finished, you will have no portion in the province west of the Euphrates River."

<sup>17</sup> Then the king sent a reply: "To Rehum the commander and to Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their associates who dwell in Samaria, and in the rest of region west of the Euphrates River. Greetings.

<sup>18</sup> The letter you sent to us has been translated and read before me.

<sup>19</sup> I have given orders and a search has been made. It was found that this city from long ago has made insurrection against kings, and that rebellion and sedition have been made in it.

<sup>20</sup> There have been mighty kings over Jerusalem, who have ruled over the entire province to the west of the Euphrates River. Taxes, customs and tolls have been paid to them.

<sup>21</sup> Therefore give the order to force these men to stop, that this city must not be rebuilt, until further orders come from me.

<sup>22</sup> Take care not to be slack in this matter. Why should damage accrue to the harm of the king?"

<sup>23</sup> Then when the copy of king Artaxerxes' letter was read before Rehum, Shimshai the scribe, and their associates, they quickly went to Jerusalem to the Jews, and forced them to stop.

<sup>24</sup> Then the work of the temple of God in Jerusalem ceased. It was put on hold until the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

DASV: Ezra 5

<sup>1</sup> Now the prophets, Haggai and Zechariah the son of Iddo, prophesied to the Jews who were in Judah and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israel who was over them.

<sup>2</sup> Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, got up and began to rebuild the temple of God in Jerusalem, and the prophets of God were with them helping them.

<sup>3</sup> At the same time Tattenai, the governor of the region west of the Euphrates River, and Shethar-bozenai and their associates came to them and asked them, "Who gave you permission to rebuild this temple, and to finish this structure?"

<sup>4</sup> They also asked, "What are the names of the men building this building?"

<sup>5</sup> But their God was watching over the elders of the Jews, and they would not stop until a report came to Darius, and then the response was returned by letter concerning it.

<sup>6</sup> This is a copy of the letter that Tattenai, the governor of the province west of the Euphrates River and Shethar-bozenai, and his associates the officials of the region west of the Euphrates River, sent to Darius the king.

<sup>7</sup> They sent a letter to him as follows: "To Darius the king, all peace.

<sup>8</sup> Let it be known to the king, that we went into the province of Judah, to the temple of the great God. It is being rebuilt with large stones and with timber laid in its walls. This work is proceeding with diligence and success in their hands.

<sup>9</sup> We asked those elders, 'Who gave you permission to build this temple, and to finish this structure?'

<sup>10</sup> We also asked for their names, so that we might write down the names of their leaders in order to inform you.

<sup>11</sup> This was their response, 'We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth. We are rebuilding the temple that was built so many years ago by a great king of Israel who built and finished it.

<sup>12</sup> But after that our forefathers provoked the God of heaven to wrath, so he gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, the Chaldean, who destroyed this temple, and exiled the people to Babylon.

<sup>13</sup> But in the first year of Cyrus king of Babylon, Cyrus the king made a decree to rebuild this temple of God.

<sup>14</sup> Even the gold and silver vessels of the temple of God which Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple in Jerusalem and brought into the temple of Babylon, these items Cyrus the king took out of the temple of Babylon, and delivered to a man by the name of Sheshbazzar, whom he had appointed as governor.

<sup>15</sup> Cyrus told him, "Take these vessels, go, put them in the temple in Jerusalem, and let the temple of God be rebuilt on its original site."

<sup>16</sup> Then this same Sheshbazzar came and laid the foundations of the temple of God in Jerusalem. Since that time even until now it has been under construction although it has not been completed yet.'

<sup>17</sup> Now therefore, if it seems good to the king, let a search be made in the king's royal archives that are there in Babylon whether this is so, that a decree was made by Cyrus the king to rebuild this temple of God in Jerusalem. Then let the king send us what he wishes us to do concerning this matter."

DASV: Ezra 6

<sup>1</sup> Then Darius the king made a decree and a search was made in the treasury archives that were stored in Babylon.

<sup>2</sup> A scroll was found in the palace at Ecbatana that is in the province of Media. In it was written: "A record:

<sup>3</sup> In the first year of king Cyrus, he made a decree concerning the temple of God at Jerusalem: 'Let the temple be rebuilt as a place where they may offer sacrifices. Let its foundations be laid 90 feet high and 90 feet wide, <sup>4</sup> with three courses of large stones and one course of timber. Let its cost be paid for out of the royal treasury.

<sup>5</sup> Also let the gold and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple at Jerusalem and brought to Babylon, be restored and brought back to the temple at Jerusalem. Let everyone of them be put back in their place in the temple of God."

<sup>6</sup> Darius ordered: "Now Tattenai, governor of the province west of the Euphrates River, Shethar-bozenai, and your associates the officials who are also in the province west of the Euphrates River should get away from there.

<sup>7</sup> Leave the work on this temple of God alone. Let the governor of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build this temple of God on its original site.

<sup>8</sup> Moreover I make a decree that you are to assist the elders of the Jews in the rebuilding of this temple of God. The cost is to be paid in full without delay from the royal treasury and from the taxes collected in the province west of the Euphrates River so that their work will not be delayed.

<sup>9</sup> Whatever is needed, whether young bulls, rams, or lambs for burnt offerings to the God of heaven, along with wheat, salt, wine, and oil, as required by the priests in Jerusalem, let it be given to them daily without fail, <sup>10</sup> so that they may offer pleasing sacrifices to the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king and his sons.

<sup>11</sup> Also I have made a decree, that whoever alters this edict, let a beam be pulled out of his house, and let him be lifted up and impaled on it. Let his house be turned into a pile of rubble.

<sup>12</sup> May God who has made his name to dwell there overthrow any king or people that puts out their hand to alter this decree, to destroy this temple of God at Jerusalem. I Darius have made a decree. Let it be done with all diligence."

<sup>13</sup> Then Tattenai, the governor of the province west of the Euphrates River, Shethar-bozenai, and their associates, because Darius the king had sent it, implemented it with all diligence.

<sup>14</sup> So the elders of the Jews continued building and prospered, accompanied by the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. They built and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Israel and the decree of Cyrus, Darius and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia.

<sup>15</sup> The temple was finished on the third day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of the reign of king Darius.

<sup>16</sup> The people of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the exiles, celebrated the dedication of this temple of God with joy.

<sup>17</sup> They offered at the dedication of this temple of God 100 bulls, 200 rams, 400 lambs, along with a sin offering for all Israel of 12 male goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

<sup>18</sup> They appointed the priests by their divisions, and the Levites by their divisions, for the service of God in Jerusalem; as it is written in the book of Moses.

<sup>19</sup> The exiles kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

<sup>20</sup> For the priests and Levites had purified themselves and all of them were clean. They killed the Passover lamb for all the returned exiles, for their fellow priests, and for themselves.

<sup>21</sup> The Israelites who had come back from captivity, along with those who had separated themselves from the uncleanness of the nations of the land to seek the LORD, the God of Israel ate <sup>22</sup> and kept the feast of Unleavened Bread seven days with joy; for the LORD had made them joyful and had turned the heart of the king of Assyria favorably toward them, to assist them in the work of the temple of God, the God of Israel.

DASV: Ezra 7

<sup>1</sup> Now after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah,

<sup>2</sup> the son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub,

<sup>3</sup> the son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth,

<sup>4</sup> the son of Zerahiah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki, <sup>5</sup> the son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest;

<sup>6</sup> this Ezra came up from Babylon. He was a scribe skilled in the law of Moses, that the LORD, the God of Israel, had given. The king granted him everything he requested, for the hand of the LORD his God was on him.

<sup>7</sup> Some of the Israelites, and some of the priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers and temple servants also went up to Jerusalem in the seventh year of Artaxerxes the king.

<sup>8</sup> Ezra came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, in the seventh year of the king.

<sup>9</sup> On the first day of the first month he began to go up from Babylon. On the first day of the fifth month he arrived at Jerusalem, for the good hand of his God was on him.

<sup>10</sup> For Ezra had set his heart to study the law of the LORD, to do it and to teach its statutes and regulations in Israel.

<sup>11</sup> This is the copy of the letter that king Artaxerxes gave to Ezra the priest and scribe. He was a man trained in matters concerning the commandments of the LORD, and his statutes for Israel:

<sup>12</sup> "Artaxerxes, king of kings, to Ezra the priest, the scribe of the perfect law of the God of heaven.

<sup>13</sup> I now make a decree, that any of the people of Israel in my kingdom, along with their priests and Levites, who wants to go to Jerusalem may go with you.

<sup>14</sup> You are sent by the king and his seven advisers, to inquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the law of your God which is in your hand.

<sup>15</sup> Also you are to take the silver and gold the king and his advisers have freely offered to the God of Israel, whose dwelling is in Jerusalem, <sup>16</sup> and all the silver and gold that you may find in all the province of Babylon along with the freewill offerings of the people and the priests for the temple of their God in Jerusalem.

<sup>17</sup> With this money be sure to buy bulls, rams, lambs, along with their grain offerings and their drink offerings, and sacrifice them on the altar at the temple of your God in Jerusalem.

<sup>18</sup> Whatever seems good to you and your brethren to do with the rest of the silver and gold, do it according to the will of your God.

<sup>19</sup> The vessels that are given to you for the service of the temple of your God, deliver to the God of Jerusalem.

<sup>20</sup> Whatever else you need for the temple of your God, which you have to supply, you may take it from the royal treasury.

<sup>21</sup> I, Artaxerxes the king, make a decree to all the treasurers in the province west of the Euphrates River, that whatever Ezra the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, requests of you, let it be done with all diligence, <sup>22</sup> up to 7,500 pounds of silver, 500 bushels of wheat, and to 550 gallons of wine, and 550 gallons of olive oil, and an unlimited amount of salt.

<sup>23</sup> Whatever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be done exactly for the temple of the God of heaven. Why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons?

<sup>24</sup> Also we are notifying you, that it is not lawful to impose a tax, custom or toll on any of the priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, temple servants, or attendants of this temple of God.

<sup>25</sup> Now you, Ezra, in accordance with the wisdom of your God that is in your hand, appoint magistrates and judges, who may judge all the people that are in the province west of the Euphrates River, all who know the laws of your God, and instruct anyone who does not know them.

<sup>26</sup> Anyone who does not obey the law of your God and the law of the king, let punishment be executed on him, whether it be death, banishment, confiscation of goods or imprisonment."

<sup>27</sup> Blessed be the LORD, the God of our fathers, who has put such a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify the temple of the LORD in Jerusalem, <sup>28</sup> and has extended steadfast love to me before the king, his advisers and all the king's mighty nobles. I was strengthened because the hand of the LORD my God was on me, and I gathered together the chief leaders of Israel to go up with me.

DASV: Ezra 8

<sup>1</sup> These are the heads of their families, and this is the genealogy of those who went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king:

from the descendants of Ithamar, Daniel; from the descendants of David, Hattush,

from the descendants of Parosh, Zechariah, and with him were registered 150 men;

<sup>4</sup> from the descendants of Pahath-moab, Eliehoenai son of Zerariah, and with him 200 men;

<sup>5</sup> from the descendants of Zattu, Shecaniah the son of Jahaziel, and with him 300 men;

<sup>6</sup> from the descendants of Adin, Ebed the son of Jonathan, and with him 50 men;

<sup>7</sup> from the descendants of Elam, Jeshaiiah the son of Athaliah, and with him 70 men;

<sup>8</sup> from the descendants of Shephatiah, Zebadiah the son of Michael, and with him 80 men;

<sup>9</sup> from the descendants of Joab, Obadiah the son of Jehiel, and with him 218 men.

<sup>10</sup> from the descendants of Shelomith, the son of Josiphiah, and with him 160 men;

<sup>11</sup> from the sons of Bebai, Zechariah the son of Bebai, and with him 28 men;

<sup>12</sup> from the descendants of Azgad, Johanan the son of Hakkatan, and with him 110 men;

<sup>13</sup> from the descendants of Adonikam, who came later, and these are their names: Eliphelet, Jeuel and Shemaiah, and with them 60 men.

<sup>15</sup> I gathered them together at the canal that runs to Ahava, and we camped there three days. I reviewed the people and the priests, and discovered there were no descendants of Levi.

<sup>16</sup> So I sent for Eliezer, Ariel, Shemaiah, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah and Meshullam, who were leaders and also for Joiarib and Elnathan, who were wise.

<sup>17</sup> I sent them to Iddo the leader in the place Casiphia. I told them what they should say to Iddo, and his brothers the servants of the temple at Casiphia, that they should bring to us ministers for the temple of our God.

<sup>18</sup> Since the good hand of our God was on us, they brought us Sherebiah, a man of discretion, from the descendants of Mahli, the son of Levi, the son of Israel; along with his sons and his brothers, 18 men;

<sup>19</sup> and Hashabiah and with him Jeshaiiah from the descendants of Merari, his brothers and their sons, 20 men;

<sup>20</sup> besides 220 temple servants, whom David and the officials had appointed to assist the Levites. All of them were mentioned by name.

<sup>21</sup> Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the Ahava canal, that we might humble ourselves before our God, to seek from him a safe journey for ourselves, our little ones and all our goods.

<sup>22</sup> For I was ashamed to ask the king for a platoon of soldiers and horsemen to protect us against the enemy on the way, because we had told the king, "The hand of our God is gracious on all those who seek him, but his power and his wrath is against all those who forsake him."

<sup>23</sup> So we fasted and prayed to our God about this, and he answered our prayer.

<sup>24</sup> Then I set apart twelve of the leading priests: Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brothers with them, <sup>25</sup> and I weighed out to them the silver, gold and vessels, the offering for the temple of our God, that the king, his advisers, his princes and all Israel who were present there had offered.

<sup>26</sup> I weighed into their hand 24 tons of silver, and 7,500 pounds of silver vessels and 7,500 pounds of gold, <sup>27</sup> 20 gold bowls, worth 1,000 gold coins, and two vessels of fine bright bronze, as valuable as gold.

<sup>28</sup> I said to them, "You are holy to the LORD, and the vessels are holy. The silver and the gold are a freewill offering to the LORD, the God of your forefathers.

<sup>29</sup> Guard and protect them, until you weigh them before the chief priests, Levites and the family leaders of Israel at Jerusalem, in the chambers of the temple of the LORD."

<sup>30</sup> So the priests and Levites received the silver, gold and the vessels as they were weighed out, in order to bring them to Jerusalem to the temple of our God.

<sup>31</sup> Then we left from the Ahava canal on the twelfth day of the first month, to go to Jerusalem. The hand of our God was on us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy and from bandits by the way.

<sup>32</sup> So we came to Jerusalem, and stayed there three days.

<sup>33</sup> Then on the fourth day, the silver, gold and vessels were weighed in the house of our God into the hand of Meremoth the son of Uriah the priest, and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas; along with Jozabad the son of Jeshua, and Noadiah the son of Binnui, the Levites.

<sup>34</sup> Everything was accounted for by number and weight, and all the weight was recorded at that time.

<sup>35</sup> The exiles who were returning from exile, offered burnt offerings to the God of Israel, 12 bulls for all Israel, 96 rams, 77 lambs, 12 male goats for a sin offering. All this was a burnt offering to the LORD.

<sup>36</sup> They delivered the king's edicts to the king's satraps, and to the governors of the province west of the Euphrates River who then helped support the people and the temple of God.

DASV: Ezra 9

<sup>1</sup> Now after these things had been done, the leaders approached me, saying, "The people of Israel, the priests and the Levites, have not separated themselves from the peoples of the lands who are practicing their abominations, from the Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Jebusites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians and Amorites.

<sup>2</sup> They have taken some of their daughters as wives for themselves and their sons, so that the holy seed has been mixed with the peoples of the lands and even worse the leaders and officials have led the way in this unfaithfulness."

<sup>3</sup> When I heard this, I tore my tunic and my robe, and pulled out the hair of my head and beard, and sat down in shock.

<sup>4</sup> Then all who trembled at the words of the God of Israel because of the unfaithfulness of the exiles assembled around while I sat devastated until the evening sacrifice.

<sup>5</sup> At the evening sacrifice I got up from my humiliation, with my tunic and my robe torn. I fell on my knees and spread out my hands to the LORD my God.

<sup>6</sup> I said, "O my God, I am too ashamed and embarrassed to lift up my face to you, my God; for our iniquities have risen over our heads, and our guiltiness has reached up to the heavens.

<sup>7</sup> From the days of our forefathers we have been very guilty to this day. Because of our iniquities we, our kings and our priests, have been delivered into the hand of the kings of the foreign lands, to the sword, to captivity, to plunder and to open shame, as it is this day.

<sup>8</sup> But now for a brief moment of grace shown by the LORD our God, he has left us an escaped remnant and given us a secure stake in his holy place, so that our God has brightened our eyes, and given us a little respite from our bondage.

<sup>9</sup> For although we are slaves yet our God has not forsaken us in our bondage, but has shown us kindness in the sight of the kings of Persia. He has revived us in order to set up the temple of our God, and to repair its ruins, and to give us a wall in Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup> Now, what can we say after this, O our God? For we have forsaken your commandments

<sup>11</sup> which you have commanded by your servants the prophets, 'The land which you are entering to possess is defiled from the pollutions of the peoples of the lands, through their abominations. They have filled it from one end to another with their filthiness.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore do not give your daughters to their sons in marriage, or take their daughters for your sons in marriage. Do not ever seek their peace or their prosperity so that you may be strong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children forever.'

<sup>13</sup> After all that has come on us for our evil deeds and our great guilt, seeing that you, our God, have punished us less than our iniquities deserve and have permitted such a remnant of us to survive.

<sup>14</sup> Should we again break your commandments and intermarry with the peoples who do these abominations? Would you not be angry with us until you had consumed us, so that there would not be any remnant or survivor?

<sup>15</sup> O LORD, the God of Israel, you are righteous for we are left just a remnant who have escaped this day. Here we are before you in our guilt, though no one can stand before you because of this."

DASV: Ezra 10

<sup>1</sup> While Ezra prayed and made confession, weeping and throwing himself down before the temple of God, there was a great gathering of men, women and children with him from Israel. The people wept bitterly.

<sup>2</sup> Shecaniah the son of Jehiel, one of the descendants of Elam, addressed Ezra, "We have been unfaithful to our God, and have married foreign women from the peoples of the land, but even now there is hope for Israel in spite of this issue.

<sup>3</sup> Therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives with their children, according to the counsel of my lord and of those who tremble at the commandment of our God. Let it be done according to the law.

<sup>4</sup> Get up, for the issue is yours to deal with, and we are with you. Be strong and do it."

<sup>5</sup> Then Ezra got up and made the leaders of the priests and Levites and all Israel swear that they would do as they had proposed. So they all swore to it.

<sup>6</sup> Then Ezra got up from before the temple of God, and went into the room of Jehohanan the son of Eliashib. While there he did not eat bread or drink water because he was grieving over the unfaithfulness of the exiles.

<sup>7</sup> They made a proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem to all the exiles, that they should assemble themselves at Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup> Whoever did not come within three days, all his property would be forfeited according to the counsel of the officials and the elders, and he himself would be banned from the assembly of exiles.

<sup>9</sup> Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin assembled at Jerusalem within the three days. It was the twentieth day of the ninth month and all the people sat in the open square before the temple of God, trembling because of this matter and because it was raining hard.

<sup>10</sup> Ezra the priest stood up, and said to them, "You have been unfaithful and have married foreign women, and so increased the guilt of Israel.

<sup>11</sup> Now therefore make confession to the LORD, the God of your fathers, and do his will. Separate yourselves from the peoples of the land and from the foreign wives.

<sup>12</sup> Then all the assembly answered with a loud voice, "Yes, we must do what you have told us to.

<sup>13</sup> But the people are many, and it is the rainy season, and we are not able to stand outside. This is not a situation that can be resolved in a day or two; for we have sinned greatly in this matter.

<sup>14</sup> Let our leaders represent the entire assembly. Let everyone who has married a foreign woman in our cities come at appointed times, and with them the elders and the judges of every town, until the fierce wrath of our God because of this issue is turned away from us."

<sup>15</sup> Only Jonathan the son of Asahel and Jahzeiah the son of Tikvah opposed this solution supported by Meshullam and Shabbethai the Levite.

<sup>16</sup> So the returned exiles did this. Ezra the priest, selected certain family leaders, according to their families, each of them designated by their name. These were set apart and they sat down on the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

<sup>17</sup> On the first day of the first month they finished dealing with all the men who had married foreign women.

<sup>18</sup> Among the sons of the priests there were found those who had married foreign women: from the descendants of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and his brothers: Maaseiah, Eliezer, Jarib and Gedaliah.

<sup>19</sup> They promised that they would put away their wives, and their guilt offering was a ram of the flock for their guilt.

<sup>20</sup> From the descendants of Immer:

Hanani and Zebadiah.

<sup>21</sup> From the descendants of Harim:

Maaseiah, Elijah, Shemaiah, Jehiel and Uziah.

DASV: Digital American Standard Version*DASV: Nehemiah 1

<sup>1</sup> The words of Nehemiah the son of Hacaliah. Now in the month Chislev, in the twentieth year, as I was in the citadel of Susa, <sup>2</sup> one of my brothers, Hanani came along with certain men from Judah. I asked them about the Jews who had survived, having escaped the exile, and about Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> They told me, "The remnant who survived the exile in the province are in great trouble and humiliation. The wall of Jerusalem is broken down, and its gates have been burned with fire."

<sup>4</sup> When I heard these words, I sat down and wept, and mourned for days, fasting and praying before the God of heaven.

<sup>5</sup> I prayed, "O LORD, the God of heaven, the great and awesome God, who keeps his covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments, <sup>6</sup> let your ear be attentive and your eyes open to hear the prayer of your servant that I am now praying before you both day and night for the Israelites your servants. I confess the sins of the people of Israel that we have sinned against you. Yes, both I and my family have sinned.

<sup>7</sup> We have acted very corruptly against you, and have not kept the commandments, the statutes, or the regulations you commanded your servant Moses.

<sup>8</sup> Please remember the word you told your servant Moses, 'If you trespass, I will scatter you among the nations,

<sup>9</sup> but if you return to me, and keep my commandments and do them, even though your exiles are scattered to the most distant places under the heavens, yet even from there will I gather them, and will bring them back to the place where I have chosen, to make my name to dwell.'

<sup>10</sup> Now these are your servants and your people, whom you have redeemed by your great power and strong hand.

<sup>11</sup> O Lord, please let your ear be attentive to the prayer of your servant, and to the prayer of your servants who delight to fear your name. Please, give your servant success today, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man." Now I was cupbearer to the king.

DASV: Nehemiah 2

<sup>1</sup> Now in the month Nisan, in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when wine was brought to him, I picked up the wine and gave it to the king. Now I had never before been sad in his presence.

<sup>2</sup> The king asked me, "Why is your face so sad, when you aren't sick? This is nothing but sadness of heart." Then I was very afraid.

<sup>3</sup> I replied to the king, "May the king live forever. Why shouldn't my face be sad, when the city where my forefathers are buried is in ruins and its gates destroyed by fire?"

<sup>4</sup> Then the king asked me, "What would you request?" So I prayed to the God of heaven.

<sup>5</sup> Then I answered the king, "If it pleases the king, and if your servant has found favor in your sight, I request that you send me to Judah, to the city of my forefathers' tombs so that I may rebuild it."

<sup>6</sup> The king said to me with the queen sitting by him, "How long will your journey take and when will you be coming back?" After I had set a date, it pleased the king to send me.

<sup>7</sup> I also asked the king, "If it pleases the king, let him give me letters for the governors of the province west of the Euphrates River, that they may grant me safe passage until I reach Judah.

<sup>8</sup> May I also have a letter to Asaph the keeper of the king's forest, that he may provide me with timber to make beams for the gates of the fortress adjacent to the temple, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I will live in." So the king granted my requests, for the gracious hand of my God was on me.

<sup>9</sup> Then I came to the governors of the province west of the Euphrates River, and gave them the king's letters. Now the king had sent with me army officers and horsemen.

<sup>10</sup> When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the Ammonite official heard about it, they were very displeased that someone had come to seek the welfare of the people of Israel.

<sup>11</sup> So I arrived at Jerusalem, and was there three days.

<sup>12</sup> I got up during the night, I and some others with me. I did not tell anyone what my God had put in my heart to do for Jerusalem. There were no animals with me, except the one I was riding on.

<sup>13</sup> I went out by night through the Valley Gate, even toward the Dragon's Well and the Dung Gate, and inspected the walls of Jerusalem that had been broken down and its gates that had been destroyed by fire.

<sup>14</sup> Then I went on to the Fountain Gate and to the King's Pool, but there was no room for the animal that was under me to pass.

<sup>15</sup> Then I went up in the night by the valley, and inspected the wall. I turned back and entered, returning by way of the Valley Gate.

<sup>16</sup> The officials did not know where I went, or what I was doing; for I had still not told the Jews, the priests, the nobles, the rulers, or the rest who were going to do the work.

<sup>17</sup> Then I said to them, "You see the trouble we are in, how Jerusalem lies in ruins, and its gates are burned with fire. Come, and let us rebuild the wall of Jerusalem, so that we will no longer suffer humiliation."

<sup>18</sup> I told them how the hand of my God had been gracious to me, and also the words the king had spoken to me. They affirmed, "Let us rise up and rebuild." So they committed their hands to this good work.

<sup>19</sup> But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the Ammonite official, and Geshem the Arabian heard it, they laughed at us and despised us, and asked, "What do you think you are doing? Are you rebelling against the king?"

<sup>20</sup> Then I answered them saying, "The God of heaven will give us success, therefore we, his servants, should arise and rebuild. But you have no share, right or historic claim on Jerusalem."

DASV: Nehemiah 3

<sup>1</sup> Then Eliashib the high priest along with his fellow priests set to work on rebuilding the Sheep Gate. They dedicated it and set up its doors, rebuilding as far as the Tower of the Hundred and the Tower of Hananel.

<sup>2</sup> Next to him the men of Jericho built, and next to them Zaccur the son of Imri built.

<sup>3</sup> The sons of Hassenaah rebuilt the Fish Gate. They laid its beams and set up its doors with its bolts and bars.

<sup>4</sup> Next to them Meremoth the son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz made repairs. Next to them Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabel made repairs. Next to them Zadok the son of Baana made repairs.

<sup>5</sup> Next to them the people of Tekoa made repairs, but their town leaders would not work under their supervisors.

<sup>6</sup> The Old Gate was repaired by Joiada the son of Paseah and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah. They laid its beams and set up its doors, with its bolts and bars.

<sup>7</sup> Next to them Melatiah the Gibeonite, Jadon the Meronothite along with the men of Gibeon and Mizpah made repairs, from towns under the jurisdiction of the governor of the province west of the Euphrates River.

<sup>8</sup> Next to him Uzziel the son of Harhaiah, a goldsmith made repairs. Next to him Hananiah, one of the perfumers, made repairs; and they renovated Jerusalem as far as the Broad Wall.

<sup>9</sup> Next to them Rephaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of half the district of Jerusalem made repairs.

<sup>10</sup> Next to them Jedaiah the son of Harumaph, made repairs across from his house. Next to him Hattush the son of Hashabneiah made repairs.

<sup>11</sup> Malchijah the son of Harim and Hasshub the son of Pahath-moab, repaired another section of the wall and the Tower of the Ovens.

<sup>12</sup> Next to him Shallum the son of Hallohesh, the ruler of half the district of Jerusalem, with the aid of his daughters made repairs.

<sup>13</sup> The Valley Gate was repaired by Hanun and the inhabitants of Zanoah. They rebuilt it and set up its doors with its bolts and bars. They repaired 1,500 feet of the wall all the way to the Dung Gate.

<sup>14</sup> The Dung Gate was repaired by Malchijah the son of Rechab, the ruler of the district of Beth-haccherem. He rebuilt it and set up its doors with its bolts and bars.

<sup>15</sup> The Fountain Gate was repaired by Shallun the son of Col-hozeh, the ruler of the district of Mizpah. He rebuilt it, put a roof on it, and set up its doors with its bolts and bars. He also repaired the wall of the Pool of Siloam by the king's garden, as far as the stairs that go down from the City of David.

<sup>16</sup> After him, Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, the ruler of half the district of Beth-zur made repairs across from the tombs of David as far as the artificial pool and on to the House of the Warriors.

<sup>17</sup> After him, the Levites made repairs under Rehum the son of Bani. Next to him, Hashabiah, the ruler of half the district of Keilah, made repairs for his district.

<sup>18</sup> After him, their relatives under Bavvai the son of Henadad, the ruler of half the district of Keilah made repairs.

<sup>20</sup> After him, Baruch the son of Zabbai worked hard on repairing another section of the wall, from where the wall angles to the door of the house of the high priest Eliashib.

<sup>21</sup> After him, Meremoth the son of Uriah the son of Hakkoz repaired another section from the door of the house of Eliashib to the end of the house.

<sup>22</sup> After him, the priests and the men of the surrounding area made repairs.

<sup>23</sup> After them, Benjamin and Hasshub made repairs across from their house. After them, Azariah the son of Maaseiah the son of Ananiah made repairs beside his own house.

<sup>24</sup> After him, Binnui the son of Henadad made repairs on another section, from the house of Azariah to the turning angle and corner of the wall.

<sup>25</sup> Palal the son of Uzai worked across from the angle of the wall and the tower that projects out from the king's upper house, which is by the court of the guard. After him, Pedaiah the son of Parosh

<sup>26</sup> and the temple servants who live on Ophel made repairs to the place across from the Water Gate on the east and the projecting tower.

<sup>29</sup> After them, Zadok the son of Immer made repairs across from his own house. After him, Shemaiah the son of Shecaniah, the keeper of the East Gate made repairs.

<sup>30</sup> After him Hananiah the son of Shelemiah and Hanun the sixth son of Zalaph repaired another portion. After him, Meshullam the son of Berechiah made repairs across from his living quarters.

<sup>32</sup> Between the room above the corner and the Sheep Gate the goldsmiths and the merchants did their repair work.

DASV: Nehemiah 4

<sup>1</sup> Now when Sanballat heard that we were rebuilding the wall, he became angry and furious, and mocked the Jews.

<sup>2</sup> He said in front of his brothers and the army of Samaria, "What are these feeble Jews doing? Will they repair their wall? Will they sacrifice? Will they finish it in a day? Can they bring back to life the burnt stones pulled out of the rubbish heaps?"

<sup>3</sup> Tobiah the Ammonite who was beside him, observed, "That stone wall they are building would collapse if even a fox would scamper up it."

<sup>4</sup> I prayed, "Hear, O our God, for we are despised. Turn back their ridicule on their own head, and give them up as plunder carried off to a land of captivity.

<sup>5</sup> Do not cover their iniquity, and do not let their sin be blotted out of your sight, for they have hurled insults in the face of the builders."

<sup>6</sup> So we rebuilt the wall and all the wall was joined together up to half of its full height, for the people were determined to work.

<sup>7</sup> But when Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabians, the Ammonites and the Ashdodites heard that the repair of the walls of Jerusalem was progressing, and that the gaps began to be closed, they were furious.

<sup>8</sup> So they all conspired together to come and fight against Jerusalem, and to cause chaos.

<sup>9</sup> But we made our prayer to our God, and stationed a guard to protect against them day and night.

<sup>10</sup> The people of Judah complained, "The strength of the laborers is failing, and there is so much rubbish that we are not able to rebuild the wall."

<sup>11</sup> Our adversaries claimed, "They will not know or see anything, we will infiltrate and kill them, and stop this work."

<sup>12</sup> When the Jews who lived near them came, they warned us ten times over, "They will attack us from every direction."

<sup>13</sup> Therefore they posted people with their swords, spears and bows by the lowest places behind the wall, in the exposed places.

<sup>14</sup> I inspected the work, and said to the nobles, rulers and the rest of the people, "Do not be afraid of them. Remember the Lord, who is great and awesome, and fight for your brothers, your sons, your daughters, your wives and your homes."

<sup>15</sup> When our enemies heard that we were aware of their plot, and God had frustrated their plans, we all returned to the wall, every one to his own work.

<sup>16</sup> From that time on, half of my workers actually worked, and the other half stood guard with spears, shields, bows and the coats of mail. The leaders stationed themselves behind all the people of Judah

<sup>17</sup> who were building the wall. Those who hauled the loads worked with one hand and with the other they held a weapon.

<sup>19</sup> Then I said to the nobles, rulers and the rest of the people, "The work is extensive and spread out, and we are separated far from each other on the wall.

<sup>20</sup> Whenever you hear the sound of the trumpet, join us at that point. Our God will fight for us."

<sup>21</sup> So we labored at the work with half of them holding the spears from sunrise until the stars came out.

<sup>22</sup> I also told the people at that time, "Let every man with his servant spend the night inside Jerusalem, so that they may help us with guard duty by night and as workers by day."

<sup>23</sup> So we did not even change clothes; I, my brothers, my servants or the men of the guard who followed me. Each one carried his weapon even when they went for a drink.

DASV: Nehemiah 5

<sup>1</sup> Then there arose a great cry from the people and their wives against their fellow Jews.

<sup>2</sup> There were some who complained, "We are many with our sons and our daughters. Let us have grain that we may eat and stay alive."

<sup>3</sup> Others were saying, "We had to mortgage our fields, our vineyards and our houses to get grain during the famine."

<sup>4</sup> Then still others said, "We have had to borrow money to pay the king's tax on our fields and vineyards."

<sup>5</sup> Even though we are the same flesh and blood as our brothers, and our children are just like their children, yet we had to sell our sons and our daughters into slavery just to live. Some of our daughters have already been enslaved and we are helpless to do anything about it because our fields and our vineyards belong to someone else."

<sup>6</sup> When I heard their complaint and these words, I was very angry.

<sup>7</sup> After thinking it over, I brought charges against the nobles and officials, and said to them, "You are charging interest to your fellow countrymen." So I called for a great assembly against them.

<sup>8</sup> I said to them, "To the best of our ability we have bought back our fellow Jews who had been sold to the Gentiles, but you are selling your own kin, so that we must turn around and buy them back?" They were absolutely silent having nothing to say.

<sup>9</sup> I continued, "What you are doing is not good. Shouldn't you walk in the fear of our God, in order to avoid making ourselves a laughing stock among our Gentile enemies?"

<sup>10</sup> I myself, my brothers and my workers, will lend them money and grain. Stop charging interest.

<sup>11</sup> Give them back their fields, vineyards, olive groves and their houses this very day. Repay the interest you charged on the grain, new wine and olive oil."

<sup>12</sup> Then they replied, "We will pay them back, and will not require anything from them. We will do as you have told us to." Then I called the priests, and made them take an oath that they would do what they had promised.

<sup>13</sup> I also shook out the folds in my garment, and said, "Just as empty as this garment may God shake out every man from his house and property, who does not keep this promise." Then all the assembly said, "Amen," and praised the LORD. Then the people did just as they had promised.

<sup>14</sup> From the time I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, that is, from the twentieth year to the thirty-second year of King Artaxerxes, twelve years, neither I nor my officials ate from the governor's food allowance.

<sup>15</sup> But the former governors before me laid heavy burdens on the people, and took food and wine from them, besides forty shekels of silver. Yes, even their servants lorded it over the people. Because of the fear of God I could not behave that way.

<sup>16</sup> I devoted myself to the work on this wall, not even buying any land for ourselves and all my servants were gathered there for the work.

<sup>17</sup> There were at my table, 150 men from the Jews and the officials, besides those who came from among the nations around us.

<sup>18</sup> Now the daily provisions for me were one ox, six choice sheep and birds and every ten days all sorts of wine was brought. Yet for all this, I did not demand the governor's food allowance because the work load was already heavy on this people.

<sup>19</sup> Remember me for good, O my God, for all that I have done for this people.

DASV: Nehemiah 6

<sup>1</sup> Now when it was reported to Sanballat, Tobiah, Geshem the Arabian and to the rest of our enemies that I had rebuilt the wall, and that there was no breach left in it, even though at that time I had not set up the doors in the gates, <sup>2</sup> that Sanballat and Geshem sent to me, saying, "Come, let us meet together in one of the villages in the plain of Ono." But they were intending to harm me.

<sup>3</sup> So I sent messengers to them, saying, "I am doing a great work and cannot come down. Why should the work stop while I leave it to come down to you?"

<sup>4</sup> They sent to me four times in this way and I answered them the same way each time.

<sup>5</sup> Then Sanballat sent his servant to me the same way the fifth time with an open letter in his hand.

<sup>6</sup> In it was written, "It is reported among the nations, and Geshem confirms it, that you and the Jews are planning to rebel which is why you are rebuilding the wall. According to this report you are wanting to be their king.

<sup>7</sup> You have also appointed prophets to proclaim concerning you at Jerusalem, saying, 'There is a king in Judah.' Now this report will certainly get back to the king. So come and let us talk it over."

<sup>8</sup> Then I sent to him, saying, "There are no such things happening as you claim, but you are making it up in your own head."

<sup>9</sup> They were attempting to scare us, saying, "Their hands will be weakened from the work, so that it won't get done." I prayed, "But now, O God, strengthen my hands."

<sup>10</sup> Now when I went to the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah the son of Mehetabel, who was confined to his home, he said, "Let us meet together in the temple of God, within the temple itself, and let us close the doors of the temple, for they are coming to kill you. Yes, tonight they are coming to kill you."

<sup>11</sup> But I replied, "Should a man like me run away? Would someone like me enter the temple to save his life? I will not go."

<sup>12</sup> I realized that God had not sent him, for he had pronounced this prophecy against me because Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

<sup>13</sup> He was hired to intimidate me and make me sin, so that they might have an evil report with which to discredit me.

<sup>14</sup> Remember, O my God, Tobiah and Sanballat what they have done, and also the prophetess Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets who were attempting to scare me.

<sup>15</sup> So the wall was finished in the twenty-fifth day of the month of Elul, in fifty-two days.

<sup>16</sup> When all our enemies heard about it, all the nations that surrounded us were afraid and discouraged in their own eyes, for they were well aware that this work had been accomplished with the help of our God.

<sup>17</sup> In those days, the nobles of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah, and letters from Tobiah came to them.

<sup>18</sup> For there were many in Judah who had sworn allegiance to him, because he was the son-in-law of Shecaniah the son of Arah, and his son Jehohanan had married the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berekiah.

<sup>19</sup> They also told me of his good deeds, and reported my words back to him. But Tobiah sent letters to intimidate me.

DASV: Nehemiah 7

<sup>1</sup> Now after the wall had been built, and I had set up the doors, the gatekeepers, and singers and the Levites were appointed.

<sup>2</sup> I put my brother Hanani and Hananiah the commander of the citadel in charge over Jerusalem, for he was a faithful man and feared God more than most do.

<sup>3</sup> I ordered them, "Do not open the gates of Jerusalem until the sun is hot, and even when they stand guard, keep the doors shut and barred. Appoint guards from the inhabitants of Jerusalem, some at their guard posts and some near their homes."

<sup>4</sup> Now the city was wide and large, but the people in it were few and the houses had not been rebuilt.

<sup>5</sup> Then my God put into my heart to gather the nobles, officials, and the people to be registered by genealogy. I found the genealogical records of those who had first come back. Here is what I found written in it:

<sup>6</sup> These are the people of the province, who returned from the captivity of those exiles whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon deported, and who had returned to Jerusalem and to Judah, each one to his own town.

<sup>7</sup> They came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum and Baanah.

The number of the men of Israel was:

- <sup>8</sup> the descendants of Parosh, 2,172;
- <sup>9</sup> the descendants of Shephatiah, 372;
- <sup>10</sup> the descendants of Arah, 652;
- <sup>11</sup> the descendants of Pahath-moab, from the line of Jeshua and Joab, 2,818;
- <sup>12</sup> the descendants of Elam, 1,254;
- <sup>13</sup> the descendants of Zattu, 845;
- <sup>14</sup> the descendants of Zaccai, 760;
- <sup>15</sup> the descendants of Binnui, 648;
- <sup>16</sup> the descendants of Bebai, 628;
- <sup>17</sup> the descendants of Azgad, 2,322;
- <sup>18</sup> the descendants of Adonikam, 667;
- <sup>19</sup> the descendants of Bigvai, 2,067;
- <sup>20</sup> the descendants of Adin, 655;
- <sup>21</sup> the descendants of Ater, from Hezekiah, 98;
- <sup>22</sup> the descendants of Hashum, 328;
- <sup>23</sup> the descendants of Bezai, 324;
- <sup>24</sup> the descendants of Hariph, 112;
- <sup>25</sup> the descendants of Gibeon, 95;

<sup>27</sup> the men of Anathoth, 128;

<sup>28</sup> the men of Beth-azmaveth, 42;

29 the men of Kiriath-jearim, Kephirah, and Beeroth, 743;
 30 the men of Ramah and Geba, 621;
 31 the men of Michmas, 122;
 32 the men of Bethel and Ai, 123;
 33 the men of the other Nebo, 52;
 34 the descendants of the other Elam, 1,254;
 35 the descendants of Harim, 320;
 36 the descendants of Jericho, 345;
 37 the descendants of Lod, Hadid and Ono, 721;
 38 the descendants of Senaah, 3,930.

39 The priests:
 the descendants of Jedaiah from the family of Jeshua, 973;
 40 the descendants of Immer, 1,052;
 41 the descendants of Pashhur, 1,247;
 42 the descendants of Harim, 1,017.

43 The Levites:
 the descendants of Jeshua through Kadmiel, from the line of Hodevah, 74.

44 The singers:
 the descendants of Asaph, 148.

45 The gatekeepers:
 the descendants of
 Shallum, Ater, Talmon, Akkub, Hatita, Shobai, 138.

46 The temple servants:
 the descendants of
     Ziha, Hasupha, Tabbaoth,
 47      Keros, Sia, Padon,
 48      Lebana, Hagaba, Salmi,
 49      Hanan, Giddel, Gahar,
 50      Reaiah, Rezin, Nekoda,
 51      Gazzam, Uzza, Paseah.
 52      Besai, Meunim, Nephushesim,
 53      Bakbuk, Hakupha, Harhur,
 54      Bazlith, Mehida, Harsha,
 55      Barkos, Sisera, Temah,
 56      Neziah and Hatipha.

57 The descendants of Solomon's servants:
     Sotai, Sophereth, Perida,

58 Jaala, Darkon, Giddel,
59 Shephatiah, Hattil, Pochereth-hazzebaim and Amon.
60 All the temple servants, and the descendants of Solomon's servants, were 392.

61 These were those who returned from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Kerub, Addon and Immer; but they could not verify their fathers' houses or their descent whether they did in fact belong to Israel:

62 The descendants of Delaiah, Tobiah, and Nekoda, 642.

63 From the priests:

the descendants of Hobaiah, Hakkoz and Barzillai, who married a wife from the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called by their name.

64 These searched their registry in the genealogical records, but they could not be found. Therefore they were excluded from the priesthood as unclean.

65 The governor told them, not to eat of the most holy food, until there was a priest who could use the Urim and Thummim.

66 The entire assembly totaled 42,360,

67 not including their 7,337 male and female servants and 245 male and female singers.

68 They had 736 horses, 245 mules,

69 435 camels and 6,720 donkeys.

70 Some of the family leaders contributed to the work. The governor gave to the treasury 1,000 gold coins, 50 bowls, 530 priestly robes.

71 Some of the family leaders gave to the treasury for the work 20,000 gold coins and 2,750 pounds of silver.

72 The rest of the people gave 20,000 gold coins, 2,500 pounds of silver and 67 priestly robes.

73 So the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, some of the people, the temple servants and all Israel lived in their own towns. When the seventh month came, the Israelites were settled in their towns.

DASV: Nehemiah 8

<sup>1</sup> All the people gathered together as one in the town square that was in front of the Water Gate. They asked Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded Israel.

<sup>2</sup> Ezra the priest brought the law before the assembly, both men and women and all who could understand it, on the first day of the seventh month.

<sup>3</sup> He read it facing the town square that was in front of the Water Gate from early morning until midday, in the presence of the men and the women, and those who could understand. The ears of all the people were attentive to the book of the law.

<sup>4</sup> Ezra the scribe stood on a wooden platform that they had built for this purpose. Beside him on the right stood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Uriah, Hilkiah and Maaseiah; and on his left were Pedaiah, Mishael, Malkijah, Hashum, Hashbaddanah, Zechariah and Meshullam.

<sup>5</sup> Then Ezra opened the book in full view of all the people for he was standing above all of them. When he opened it, all the people stood up.

<sup>6</sup> Ezra praised the LORD, the great God, and all the people responded, "Amen, Amen," lifting their hands. They bowed their heads and worshipped the LORD with their faces to the ground.

<sup>7</sup> Also Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, all of whom were Levites, helped the people understand the law, while the people stood in their places.

<sup>8</sup> They read from the book the law of God, explaining and interpreting its meaning, so that they could understand what was read.

<sup>9</sup> Nehemiah the governor, and Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who taught the people, said to all the people, "This day is holy to the LORD your God. Do not mourn or weep." For all the people wept when they heard the words of the law.

<sup>10</sup> Then he said to them, "Go your way, eat rich food, and drink sweet drinks, and send portions of food to those who have nothing prepared; for this day is holy to our Lord. Do not grieve; for the joy of the LORD is your strength."

<sup>11</sup> So the Levites quieted all the people, saying, "Be quiet, for this day is holy. Do not grieve."

<sup>12</sup> All the people went their way to eat, drink and to send portions of food, and to celebrate with great joy, because they had understood the words that were made known to them.

<sup>13</sup> On the second day the family leaders of all the people, the priests and the Levites, met with Ezra the scribe, in order to give careful attention to the words of the law.

<sup>14</sup> They found written in the law, how that the LORD had commanded by Moses that the Israelites should live in booths during the feast of the seventh month,

<sup>15</sup> and that they should publish and proclaim in all their towns and in Jerusalem: "Go out to the hills, and gather branches of olive and wild olive trees, and myrtle, palm and other leafy trees, to make temporary huts, as it is written."

<sup>16</sup> So the people went out and brought them back, and built booths for themselves, each on the roof of their houses, in their courts and in the courts of the temple of God, and in the town square by the Water Gate, and in the square by the Ephraim Gate.

<sup>17</sup> All the assembly that had returned from captivity made booths, and lived in them. Since the days of Joshua the son of Nun until that day, the Israelites had not done this. There was great joy.

<sup>18</sup> Ezra read from the book of the law of God day after day, from the first day to the last. They celebrated the feast for seven days, then on the eighth day there was a solemn assembly, according to the requirement.

DASV: Nehemiah 9

<sup>1</sup> On the twenty-fourth day of this month, the Israelites were assembled with fasting, sackcloth and dust on their heads.

<sup>2</sup> The descendants of Israel separated themselves from all foreigners and stood and confessed their sins and the iniquities of their forefathers.

<sup>3</sup> For a fourth of the day they stood up in their place, and read from the book of the law of the LORD their God; and for another fourth they confessed their sins and worshipped the LORD their God.

<sup>4</sup> Then standing on the stairs were the Levites--Jeshua, Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Kenani--who cried out with a loud voice to the LORD their God.

<sup>5</sup> Then the Levites--Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah--said, "Stand up and praise the LORD your God from everlasting to everlasting." Then they praised, "Blessed be your glorious name, may it be exalted above all blessing and praise.

<sup>6</sup> You are the LORD, you alone. You made heaven, the highest heavens, with all their stars, the earth and all things that are in it, the seas and all that is in them. You give life to them all, and the host of heaven worships you.

<sup>7</sup> You are the LORD God, who chose Abram, and brought him out of Ur of the Chaldeans, and gave him the name of Abraham.

<sup>8</sup> You found his heart to be faithful to you and made a covenant with him to give his descendants the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Jebusites and Girgashites. Now you have kept your promise for you are righteous.

<sup>9</sup> You saw the affliction of our forefathers in Egypt, and heard their cry at the Red Sea.

<sup>10</sup> You performed signs and wonders against Pharaoh, and against all his servants and all the people of his land, for you knew how arrogantly they acted against them. You made a reputation for yourself which has lasted to this day.

<sup>11</sup> You divided the sea before them, so that they crossed through the sea on the dry ground. But you threw their pursuers into the depths of the sea, like a stone sinks in mighty waters.

<sup>12</sup> You led them by day in a pillar of cloud, and in a pillar of fire by night, to give them light in the way in which they should go.

<sup>13</sup> You also came down on Mount Sinai, and spoke with them from heaven. You gave them just regulations, true laws, good statutes and commandments.

<sup>14</sup> You made known to them your holy Sabbath, and prescribed commandments, statutes, and a law for them through Moses your servant.

<sup>15</sup> You gave them bread from heaven when they were hungry, and brought water out of the rock when they were thirsty. You commanded them to go in to possess the land that you had sworn to give them.

<sup>16</sup> But they, our forefathers, acted arrogantly and stiffened their stubborn necks, and would not obey your commandments.

<sup>17</sup> They refused to obey, neither did they recall the wonders that you did among them. Instead they stiffened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a leader to return to their slavery. But you are a God ready to forgive, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in steadfast love. You did not abandon them, <sup>18</sup> even when they had cast an image of a calf for themselves, and declared, 'This is your God who brought you up out of Egypt,' and had committed terrible blasphemies.

<sup>19</sup> Yet you in your great compassion did not abandon them in the wilderness. The pillar of cloud did not stop leading them by day, nor did the pillar of fire stop guiding them by night shining on the way they were to go.

<sup>20</sup> You gave your good Spirit to instruct them, and did not withhold your manna from their mouths and continued to give them water for their thirst.

<sup>21</sup> For forty years you sustained them in the wilderness, and they lacked nothing. Their clothes did not wear out and their feet did not swell.

<sup>22</sup> You gave them kingdoms and peoples and granted them every corner of the land. So they took possession of the land of Sihon king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

<sup>23</sup> You multiplied their children as the stars of heaven, and brought them into the land concerning which you told their forefathers to go in and possess it.

<sup>24</sup> So their descendants went in and possessed the land, and you subdued before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites. You delivered them into their hands, along with their kings and the peoples of the land, that they might do with them whatever they pleased.

<sup>25</sup> They captured fortified cities and a fertile land. They took possession of houses full of all good things, cisterns already dug, vineyards, and olive groves, and fruit trees in abundance. So they ate and were filled and became fat delighting themselves in your great goodness.

<sup>26</sup> Nevertheless, they were disobedient and rebelled against you. They threw your law behind their backs, killed your prophets who warned them to turn back to you, and they committed terrible blasphemies.

<sup>27</sup> Therefore you delivered them into the hand of their enemies, who oppressed them. But in their time of trouble they cried out to you and you heard from heaven. Then according to your great compassion you gave them deliverers who saved them from the hand of their enemies.

<sup>28</sup> But as soon as they had rest, they did evil again before you. So you abandoned them again to the hand of their enemies, so that they ruled over them. Yet when they returned, and cried out to you, you heard from heaven and many times you rescued them because of your great compassion.

<sup>29</sup> You warned them attempting to turn them back to your law. Yet they acted arrogantly and did not obey your commandments, but sinned against your ordinances, those by which if a man does them he will live. Yet they turned their shoulder away and stiffened their neck and refused to obey.

<sup>30</sup> For many years you were patient with them, and warned them by your Spirit through your prophets, but they would not listen. Therefore you delivered them into the hand of the peoples of the lands.

<sup>31</sup> Nevertheless in your great mercies you did not completely destroy them or abandon them, for you are a gracious and merciful God.

<sup>32</sup> Now therefore, our God, the great, mighty and awesome God, who keeps his covenant and steadfast love, let it not seem insignificant to you all the hardship that has come on us, our kings, leaders, priests, prophets, forefathers, and on all your people, since the time of the kings of Assyria to this day.

<sup>33</sup> You have been just in all that has happened to us, for you have treated us faithfully even though we have acted wickedly.

<sup>34</sup> Our kings, leaders, priests, and forefathers have not kept your law, or paid attention to your commandments or your testimonies by which you warned them.

<sup>35</sup> For even while they were in their own kingdom, with your great goodness you had lavished on them, in the large and fertile land you gave them, they still did not serve you or turn from their wicked works.

<sup>36</sup> So now, here we are slaves this day, in a land you gave to our forefathers to eat its fruit and enjoy its good things, yet we are slaves.

<sup>37</sup> Its rich produce goes to the kings whom you have set over us because of our sins. They rule over our bodies and over our cattle as they please, while we are in great distress."

<sup>38</sup> [The people affirmed,] "Because of all this we make a solemn covenant, written and signed with the seals of our leaders, Levites and our priests."

DASV: Nehemiah 10

<sup>1</sup> Now those who sealed it were: Nehemiah the governor, the son of Hacaliah and Zedekiah,

<sup>2</sup> These were the priests:

<sup>5</sup> Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch,
<sup>6</sup> Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah,
<sup>8</sup> Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin, Maaziah, Bilgai and Shemaiah.

<sup>9</sup> The Levites were: Jeshua the son of Azaniah, Binnui of the sons of Henadad, Kadmiel.

<sup>10</sup> and their fellow Levites:

Shebaniah, Hodiah, Kelita, Pelaiiah, Hanan,
<sup>11</sup> Mica, Rehob, Hashabiah,
<sup>12</sup> Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah,
<sup>13</sup> Hodiah, Bani, and Beninu.

<sup>14</sup> The leaders of the people were:

Parosh, Pahath-moab, Elam, Zattu, Bani,
<sup>15</sup> Bunni, Azgad, Bebai,
<sup>16</sup> Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin,
<sup>17</sup> Ater, Hezekiah, Azzur,
<sup>18</sup> Hodiah, Hashum, Bezai,
<sup>19</sup> Hariph, Anathoth, Nebai,
<sup>20</sup> Magpiash, Meshullam, Hezir,
<sup>21</sup> Meshezabel, Zadok, Jaddua,
<sup>22</sup> Pelatiah, Hanan, Anaiah,
<sup>23</sup> Hoshea, Hananiah, Hasshub,
<sup>24</sup> Hallohesh, Pilha, Shobek,

<sup>28</sup> The rest of the people including the priests, Levites, gatekeepers, singers, temple servants, and all who separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the law of God, their wives, sons and daughters, everyone who was able to understand--

<sup>29</sup> joined with their brothers, their nobles, and entered into a curse and took an oath to walk in God's law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the LORD our Lord, along with his ordinances and statutes.

<sup>30</sup> We promised not to give our daughters to the peoples of the land, or to take their daughters in marriage for our sons.

<sup>31</sup> If the peoples of the land bring their wares or any grain on the Sabbath or on any holy day to sell, we will not buy it. We will forgo planting crops on the seventh year and will cancel all debts.

<sup>32</sup> We will also impose an ordinance on ourselves to pay one third of a shekel for the service of the temple of our God,

<sup>33</sup> for the bread of the Presence and for the continual grain offerings, the continual burnt offerings, Sabbaths, the new moons, the appointed festivals, the holy offerings, and the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the temple of our God.

<sup>34</sup> "We--the priests, Levites and the people--cast lots for when each family should bring the wood to burn on the altar of the LORD our God at the temple of our God, during the times appointed, year by year, as it is written in the law.

<sup>35</sup> We also promise to bring the first fruits of our ground and the first fruits of all types of trees, year by year, to the temple of the LORD.

<sup>36</sup> We also will bring the firstborn of our sons and our cattle, and the firstlings of our herds and our flocks as it is written in the law, to bring them to the temple of our God, to the priests who minister in the temple of our God.

<sup>37</sup> We will bring the best of our flour, our contributions, and the fruit of every type of tree, the new wine and the olive oil to the priests, to the storerooms of the temple of our God. We will also bring the tithes of our land to the Levites for the Levites will collect the tithes in all the cities where we labor.

<sup>38</sup> The priest, the descendant of Aaron, will be with the Levites when the Levites collect tithes. The Levites will bring up the tithe of the tithes to the temple of our God, to the storerooms of the treasury.

<sup>39</sup> For the Israelites and the Levites will bring the contribution of the grain, new wine, and olive oil to the storerooms, where the utensils of the sanctuary are, and the priests that minister, the gatekeepers and the singers are. We will not neglect the temple of our God."

DASV: Nehemiah 11

<sup>1</sup> The leaders of the people settled in Jerusalem. The rest of the people cast lots to have one out of every ten settle in Jerusalem the holy city, while the other nine parts remained in the other towns.

<sup>2</sup> The people blessed all the men who volunteered to live in Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> Now these are the leaders of the province who lived in Jerusalem, but the rest of Israel, priests, Levites, temple servants and the descendants of Solomon's servants settled in the towns of Judah, everyone on his own property in their towns.

<sup>4</sup> Certain of the descendants of Judah and descendants of Benjamin settled in Jerusalem.

From the descendants of Judah:

Athaiah the son of Uzziah, the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shephatiah, the son of Mahalalel, from the descendants of Perez;

<sup>5</sup> and Maaseiah the son of Baruch, the son of Col-hozeh, the son of Hazaiah, the son of Adaiah, the son of Joiarib, the son of Zechariah, the descendant of the Shelah.

<sup>6</sup> All the sons of Perez who lived in Jerusalem were 468 valiant men.

Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Joed, the son of Pedaiah, the son of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ithiel, the son of Jeshaiiah.

<sup>10</sup> From the priests:

Jedaiah the son of Joiarib, Jachin,

<sup>11</sup> Seraiah the son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, the ruler of the temple of God,

<sup>12</sup> and their associates who did the work of the temple, 822; and Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi, the son of Zechariah, the son of Pashhur, the son of Malchijah,

<sup>13</sup> and his associates, who were heads of the families, 242; and Amashsai the son of Azarel, the son of Ahzai, the son of Meshillemoth, the son of Immer, <sup>14</sup> and their associates, mighty men of valor, 128; and their overseer was Zabdiel, the son of Hagedolim.

Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Bunni;

<sup>16</sup> Shabbethai and Jozabad, leaders of the Levites, who were in charge of the outside work of the temple of God;

<sup>17</sup> Mattaniah the son of Mica, the son of Zabdi, the son of Asaph, who was the leader of thanksgiving and prayer, and Bakbukiah, the second among his associates; and Abda the son of Shammua, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun.

<sup>18</sup> All the Levites in the holy city were 284 in all.

<sup>20</sup> And the rest of Israel, along with the priests, the Levites were in all the towns of Judah, everyone on his property inheritance.

<sup>21</sup> But the temple servants lived on Ophel. Ziha and Gishpa were over the temple servants.

<sup>22</sup> The overseer of the Levites in Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Mica, of the descendants of Asaph, the singers, in charge of the work of the temple of God.

<sup>23</sup> For there was a command from the king concerning them, which determined the daily routines for the singers.

<sup>24</sup> Pethahiah the son of Meshezabel, of the descendants of Zerah the son of Judah, was the king's adviser in all matters concerning the people.

<sup>25</sup> As for the villages with their surrounding fields, some of the descendants of Judah lived in Kiriath-arba and its villages, and in Dibon and its villages, and in Jekabzeel and its villages,

<sup>26</sup> in Jeshua, in Moladah and Beth-pelet,

<sup>27</sup> in Hazar-shual, in Beersheba and its villages,

<sup>28</sup> in Ziklag, in Meconah and its villages,

<sup>30</sup> Zanoah, Adullam, and their villages, Lachish and its fields, Azekah and its villages. So they camped from Beersheba to the valley of Hinnom.

<sup>31</sup> The descendants of Benjamin settled in Geba, Michmash, Aija and at Bethel and its villages,

DASV: Nehemiah 12

<sup>1</sup> These are the priests and the Levites that went up with Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua:

<sup>2</sup> Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,
<sup>4</sup> Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,
<sup>6</sup> Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,
<sup>7</sup> Shemaiah, and Joiarib, Jedaiah.
 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiyah, Jedaiah.

These were the leaders of the priests and their associates in the days of Jeshua.

<sup>10</sup> Jeshua was the father of Joiakim, and Joiakim the father of Eliashib, and Eliashib the father of Joiada, <sup>11</sup> Joiada the father of Jonathan, Jonathan the father of Jaddua.

<sup>12</sup> In the days of Joiakim the priests, family leaders were:

of Seraiah, Meraiah;
 of Jeremiah, Hananiah;
<sup>13</sup> of Ezra, Meshullam;
 of Amariah, Jehohanan;
<sup>14</sup> of Malluchi, Jonathan;
 of Shebaniah, Joseph; <sup>15</sup> of Harim, Adna;
 of Meraioth, Helkai;
<sup>16</sup> of Iddo, Zechariah;
 of Ginnethon, Meshullam;
<sup>17</sup> of Abijah, Zichri;
 of Miniamin and of Moadiah, Piltai; <sup>18</sup> of Bilgah, Shammua;
 of Shemaiah, Jehonathan;
<sup>19</sup> of Joiarib, Mattenai;
 of Jedaiah, Uzzi;
<sup>20</sup> of Sallai, Kallai;
 of Amok, Eber;
<sup>21</sup> of Hilkiyah, Hashabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethanel.

<sup>22</sup> As for the Levites, in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jaddua the heads of the families were recorded as were the priests in the reign of Darius the Persian.

<sup>23</sup> The sons of Levi, heads of families, were recorded in the Book of the Annals until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib.

<sup>24</sup> The leaders of the Levites were: Hashabiah, Sherebiah and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their associates who stood across from them, to praise and give thanks, as commanded by David the man of God, with one group opposite the other group.

<sup>26</sup> These all served in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor and of Ezra the priest and scribe.

<sup>27</sup> For the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites from wherever they lived, to bring them to Jerusalem to celebrate the dedication with gladness, thanksgiving and singing, accompanied by cymbals, harps and lyres.

<sup>28</sup> The singers also assembled themselves, from the region around Jerusalem and from the villages of the Netophathites, <sup>29</sup> and from Beth-gilgal, and from the region of Geba and Azmaveth; for the singers had built villages for themselves around Jerusalem.

<sup>30</sup> The priests and the Levites purified themselves; then they purified the people, the gates and the wall.

<sup>31</sup> Then I brought up the leaders of Judah to the top of the wall, and appointed two large choirs that gave thanks and went in procession. One went to the right on the wall toward the Dung Gate.

<sup>35</sup> along with some of the priests with trumpets, Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph;

<sup>38</sup> The other choir of those who gave thanks went to the left to meet them, and I followed them, with half of the people, on the wall, above the Tower of the Ovens, to the Broad Wall, <sup>39</sup> then over to the Gate of Ephraim, and by the Jeshanah Gate, the Fish Gate, and the Tower of Hananel, and the Tower of the Hundred, then on to the Sheep Gate. They stopped at the Gate of the Guard.

<sup>40</sup> So the two choirs of those who had given thanks stood in the temple of God. I and half of the officials with me,

<sup>41</sup> along with the priests Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah and Hananiah, with trumpets;

<sup>42</sup> and Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malchijah, Elam and Ezer. The singers sang with Jezrahiah as their director.

<sup>43</sup> That day they offered great sacrifices and rejoiced, for God had made them rejoice with great joy. The women and children also rejoiced, so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard far off in the distance.

<sup>44</sup> On that day men were appointed over the storerooms for the offerings, contributions, the first fruits and for the tithes, to gather the portions allotted by the law for the priests and Levites from the fields of the towns; for Judah was delighted in priests and Levites who ministered there.

<sup>45</sup> They performed the service of their God, and the service of the purification, as did the singers and the gatekeepers, according to the commandment of David and his son Solomon.

<sup>46</sup> For in the days of David and Asaph long ago there was a director for the singers and there were songs of praise and thanksgiving to God.

<sup>47</sup> So all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel and in the days of Nehemiah, gave daily food portions to the singers and the gatekeepers as required. They set aside that which was for the Levites; and the Levites set aside that which was for the sons of Aaron.

DASV: Nehemiah 13

<sup>1</sup> On that day they read aloud from the book of Moses in the hearing of the people; and it was found written, that no Ammonite or Moabite should ever enter the assembly of God, <sup>2</sup> because they did not meet the Israelites with bread and water, but hired Balaam, to curse them, although our God turned the curse into a blessing.

<sup>3</sup> When they heard the law, they separated from Israel all those of foreign descent.

<sup>4</sup> Now before this, Eliashib the priest had been appointed over the storerooms of the temple of our God. He was related to Tobiah, <sup>5</sup> and had prepared for Tobiah a large storage room, where they had previously stored the grain offerings, the incense, and the vessels, including the tithes of grain, new wine and olive oil, which were given by commandment to the Levites, singers and the gatekeepers; and the contributions for the priests.

<sup>6</sup> During all this, I was not in Jerusalem; for in the thirtieth-second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon I had returned to the king. After a while I asked permission to leave the king

<sup>7</sup> and return to Jerusalem. Then I learned about the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in preparing a storeroom for him in the courtyard of the temple of God.

<sup>8</sup> I was very upset and threw out of the storeroom all the household belongings of Tobiah.

<sup>9</sup> Then I commanded that they cleanse the storerooms, and I brought back the utensils of the temple of God, with the grain offerings and frankincense.

<sup>10</sup> I perceived that the food rations of the Levites had not been given them; so that the Levites and the singers who were to conduct the service, had gone back to their fields.

<sup>11</sup> Then I confronted the officials, and said, "Why has the house of God been forsaken?" I gathered them together and reassigned their proper duties.

<sup>12</sup> Then all Judah brought the tithe of the grain, new wine and olive oil into the temple storehouses.

<sup>13</sup> I designated treasurers over the storehouses, Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe; and from the Levites, Pedaiah and their assistant was Hanan the son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah. They were considered to be faithful, and their job was to distribute to their associates.

<sup>14</sup> Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my good deeds that I have done for the temple of my God, and for its services.

<sup>15</sup> In those days I saw in Judah some men treading winepresses on the Sabbath, and bringing in grain, and loading it on donkeys; along with wine, grapes, figs and all kinds of merchandise that they brought to Jerusalem on the Sabbath day. So I warned them about the day they were selling their food.

<sup>16</sup> The people of Tyre who lived there brought in fish, and all kinds of merchandise and sold them on the Sabbath to the people of Judah, and in Jerusalem.

<sup>17</sup> I confronted the nobles of Judah, and said to them, "What evil thing is this that you are doing, profaning the Sabbath day?"

<sup>18</sup> "Didn't your fathers do this, and didn't our God bring all this disaster on us and on this city? Yet you are bringing even more wrath on Israel by profaning the Sabbath."

<sup>19</sup> When the gates of Jerusalem began to darken before the Sabbath, I ordered the doors to be shut, and that they should not be opened until after the Sabbath. I set some of my servants over the gates so that no merchandise would be brought in on the Sabbath day.

<sup>20</sup> So the merchants and sellers of all kinds of merchandise spent the night outside Jerusalem once or twice.

<sup>21</sup> Then I warned them and said to them, "Why are you spending the night near the wall? If you do it again, I will lay hands on you." From that time on they did not come on the Sabbath.

<sup>22</sup> Then I ordered the Levites to purify themselves and that they should come and guard the gates, in order to maintain the Sabbath day as holy. Remember me for this, O my God, and spare me according to the greatness of your steadfast love.

<sup>23</sup> In those days I also saw Jews who had married women from Ashdod, Ammon, and Moab.

<sup>24</sup> Half of their children spoke in the language of Ashdod, and they could not speak the language of Judah, but only the language of the other peoples.

<sup>25</sup> I confronted them, and cursed them, struck some of them and pulled out their hair. I made them swear to God, saying, "You must not give your daughters to their sons, or take their daughters for your sons or for yourselves.

<sup>26</sup> Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by doing these things? There was no king like him among many nations, and he was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel. Yet foreign women caused even him to sin.

<sup>27</sup> Should we then listen to you and do all this great evil, to be unfaithful to our God by marrying foreign women?"

<sup>28</sup> Then one of the sons of Joiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was son-in-law to Sanballat the Horonite. So I chased him away from me.

<sup>29</sup> Remember them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood and the Levites.

<sup>30</sup> So cleansed I them from everything foreign, and assigned tasks for the priests and the Levites, each one had his own job.

<sup>31</sup> I also made sure there was wood for the offerings and first fruits at required times. Remember me, O my God, for good.

DASV: Digital American Standard Version*DASV: Esther 1

<sup>1</sup> Now these things happened in the days of Ahasuerus (this Ahasuerus, [also called Xerxes], reigned over 127 provinces from India to Ethiopia).

<sup>3</sup> in the third year of his reign, he made a feast for all his officials and servants.

The commanders of the army of Persia and Media, the nobles and governors of the provinces were present.

<sup>5</sup> When these days were completed, the king made a feast for all the people who were present in the citadel of Susa, both great and small. It lasted seven days and was held in the courtyard of the garden of the king's palace.

<sup>6</sup> There were white and blue linen curtains with cords of fine linen and purple ribbons tied to silver rings to pillars of marble. The couches were of gold and silver on a mosaic pavement of porphyry, marble, mother-of-pearl, and other costly colored stones.

<sup>7</sup> Drinks were served in gold goblets with each one different from the other, and royal wine was in abundance at the king's expense.

<sup>8</sup> The drinking was according to the instructions that there should be no restrictions, for the king had ordered all the officers of his house, that they should give to each of the guests whatever they desired.

<sup>9</sup> Queen Vashti also hosted a feast for the women in the royal palace that belonged to King Ahasuerus.

<sup>10</sup> On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagtha, Zethar and Carcas, the seven eunuchs who served in the presence of Ahasuerus the king, <sup>11</sup> to bring Vashti the queen before the king wearing the crown royal, to show the peoples and the princes her beauty; for she was very beautiful.

<sup>12</sup> But Queen Vashti refused to come at the king's command by the eunuchs. Then the king became infuriated and his anger burned within him.

<sup>13</sup> Then the king consulted with the wise men, who understood the times (for it was the king's custom to consult with those who understood the law and justice, <sup>14</sup> and those next to him were Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven officials of Persia and Media, who regularly saw the king's face and held the highest positions in the kingdom).

<sup>15</sup> "What should be done to Queen Vashti according to law, because she has not obeyed the command of King Ahasuerus by the eunuchs?"

<sup>16</sup> Then Memucan responded before the king and the princes, "Queen Vashti has not done wrong just to the king, but also to all the officials, and to all the peoples throughout the provinces of the King Ahasuerus.

<sup>17</sup> For this action of the queen will become know to all women, encouraging them to treat their husbands with contempt, since they will say, 'King Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before him, but she would not come.'

<sup>18</sup> This day the noble women of Persia and Media who have heard about the queen's behavior will rebel against all the king's nobles the same way and there will be no end of the contempt and wrath.

<sup>19</sup> So if it pleases the king, let a royal decree be issued by him, and let it be written in the laws of the Persians and the Medes so that it cannot be altered, that Vashti be banished from the presence of King Ahasuerus, and let the king give her royal estate to another who is more worthy than she.

<sup>20</sup> Then when the king's decree is published throughout his entire kingdom, as vast as it is, all the wives will give to their husbands honor from greatest to the least."

<sup>21</sup> The saying pleased the king and the officials, so the king followed the advice of Memucan.

<sup>22</sup> He sent letters to all the royal provinces, into every province in its own script and to each people in their own language, that every man should be ruler in his own home, and should speak the language of his own people.

DASV: Esther 2

<sup>1</sup> After these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerus [or Xerxes] had calmed, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what had been decreed against her.

<sup>2</sup> Then the king's personal attendants suggested to him, "Let a search be made for beautiful young virgins for the king.

<sup>3</sup> Let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather all the beautiful young virgins to the citadel of Susa, to the harem under the supervision of Hegai the king's eunuch who is in charge of the women and provide them with whatever cosmetics they need.

<sup>4</sup> Let the young woman who pleases the king be made queen instead of Vashti." This proposal pleased the king, so that is what he did.

<sup>5</sup> Now there was a certain Jew in the citadel of Susa whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjaminite, <sup>6</sup> who had been deported from Jerusalem with the exiles who had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, by King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon.

<sup>7</sup> He brought up Hadassah, also called Esther, his uncle's daughter for both her father and mother had passed away and Mordecai had adopted her as his own daughter. The woman had a lovely figure and was beautiful.

<sup>8</sup> So when the king's commandment and his decree was announced and when many young women were gathered together to the citadel of Susa under the custody of Hegai, Esther was taken into the king's palace and placed in the custody of Hegai, who was in charge of the women.

<sup>9</sup> The young woman pleased him and she won his favor. He quickly gave her cosmetics and a portion of food and provided her with the seven maidens out of the king's palace. He promoted her and her maidens to the best place in the royal harem.

<sup>10</sup> Esther had not told her people or her family for Mordecai had prohibited her from telling them.

<sup>11</sup> Every day Mordecai would walk in front of the court of the harem, to find out how Esther was doing and what was happening to her.

<sup>12</sup> Now before each young woman came to King Ahasuerus, she had twelve months of beauty treatments. The standard treatments were: six months with oil of myrrh, and then six months with special perfumes and cosmetics for women.

<sup>13</sup> Then when each woman went to the king she was granted whatever she desired to take with her from the harem to the king's palace.

<sup>14</sup> In the evening she went there and in the morning she returned into the second harem which was under the supervision of Shaashgaz, the king's eunuch, who was in charge of the concubines. She would not return to the king unless the king delighted in her and called her by name.

<sup>15</sup> Now when the turn came for Esther, the daughter of Abihail, her uncle Mordecai, who had adopted her as his daughter, to go in to the king, she asked for nothing but what Hegai the king's eunuch, who was in charge of the women, recommended. Esther won the favor of all who saw her.

<sup>16</sup> So Esther was taken to King Ahasuerus to his royal palace in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

<sup>17</sup> The king loved Esther more than any of the other women, and she won his favor and kindness more than any of the other virgins. So he set the royal crown on her head and made her queen instead of Vashti.

<sup>18</sup> Then the king hosted a great feast for all his officials and servants in honor of Esther. He announced a holiday to the provinces, and gave gifts at the king's expense.

<sup>19</sup> When the virgins were gathered the second time, Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate.

<sup>20</sup> Esther still had not yet divulged her family background or her people as Mordecai had directed her. Esther still followed Mordecai's direction just like when she was brought up by him.

<sup>21</sup> In those days, while Mordecai was sitting in the king's gate, two of the king's eunuchs, Bigthan and Teresh, who guarded the king's private threshold, were angry and conspired to assassinate King Ahasuerus.

<sup>22</sup> Mordecai found out about the plot. He informed Queen Esther about it and Esther told the king in Mordecai's name.

<sup>23</sup> When the matter was investigated, it was found to be true. They both were hanged on the gallows. It was written in the book of the annals before the king.

DASV: Esther 3

<sup>1</sup> After these things, King Ahasuerus [or Xerxes] promoted Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and set his seat above all the officials who were with him.

<sup>2</sup> All the king's officials who were at the king's gate, would bow down and pay homage to Haman, for the king had commanded it concerning him. But Mordecai refused to bow down or pay homage.

<sup>3</sup> Then the king's officials who were in the king's gate, said to Mordecai, "Why are you violating the king's command?"

<sup>4</sup> They spoke to him day after day about it, but he refused to listen to them, so they told Haman, to see whether Mordecai's response would be tolerated, for he had told them he was a Jew.

<sup>5</sup> When Haman saw that Mordecai refused to bow or pay him homage, Haman was furious.

<sup>6</sup> But he disdained the idea of laying hands on Mordecai alone, for he was told who Mordecai's people were. So Haman plotted to destroy all the Jews, Mordecai's people, throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus.

<sup>7</sup> In the first month, which is the month Nisan, in the twelfth year of King Ahasuerus, they cast Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman to determine the best day and month. The lot fell on the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.

<sup>8</sup> Haman said to King Ahasuerus, "There is a certain people scattered and dispersed among the peoples in all the provinces of your kingdom; and their laws are diverse from those of every other people, furthermore they do not keep the king's laws. Therefore it is not beneficial for the king to tolerate them.

<sup>9</sup> If it please the king, let there be a decree to destroy them. I myself will pay 375 tons of silver into the king's treasuries for those officials who will carry out this, the king's business.

<sup>10</sup> So the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it to Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews' enemy.

<sup>11</sup> Then the king said to Haman, "Keep your silver, the people are yours to do whatever pleases you."

<sup>12</sup> Then the royal scribes were summoned on the thirteenth day of the first month. Everything Haman commanded was written to the king's satraps and governors who were over all the provinces, and to the nobles of every people, to every province in their own script and their own language. The decree was written in the name of King Ahasuerus and sealed with the king's signet ring.

<sup>13</sup> Letters were sent by couriers to all the king's provinces, to destroy, kill, and exterminate all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, and to plunder their possessions.

<sup>14</sup> A copy of the decree was to be issued as a decree in every province and proclaimed to all the peoples, so that they would be ready for that day.

<sup>15</sup> The couriers quickly went out by the order of the king, and the decree was issued from the citadel of Susa. The king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city of Susa was thrown into confusion.

DASV: Esther 4

<sup>1</sup> Now when Mordecai learned about all that had happened, he tore his clothes and put on sackcloth and ashes. He went out into the city wailing with a loud and bitter cry.

<sup>2</sup> He went up only as far as the entrance of the king's gate for no one was allowed to enter the king's gate clothed in sackcloth.

<sup>3</sup> In every province, the king's commandment and decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews. They fasted, wept and wailed with many laying in sackcloth and ashes.

<sup>4</sup> Esther's attendants and her eunuchs came and told her about it. The queen was deeply distressed. She sent clothes for Mordecai to put on, so he could take off his sackcloth, but he refused them.

<sup>5</sup> Then Esther summoned Hathach, one of the king's eunuchs who had been appointed to attend her, and directed him to go to Mordecai, to find out what was happening and why he was doing it.

<sup>6</sup> So Hathach went to Mordecai in the open square of the city in front of the king's gate.

<sup>7</sup> Mordecai told him of all that had happened to him, and the exact amount of the money Haman had promised to pay to the royal treasuries to destroy the Jews.

<sup>8</sup> Mordecai gave Hathach a copy of the decree that was issued from Susa for their destruction, so that it might be shown to Esther and inform her. He also requested that she go in to the king to beg and to make a request before him on behalf of her people.

<sup>9</sup> Hathach returned and told Esther what Mordecai had said.

<sup>10</sup> Then Esther spoke to Hathach, and gave him a message to take back to Mordecai:

<sup>11</sup> "All the king's officials, and even the people from the king's provinces know that there is only one law for any man or woman who comes to the king in the inner court who has not been invited: he must be put to death, except for those to whom the king holds out the golden scepter, that person may live. I have not been summoned to the king for the last thirty days."

<sup>13</sup> Mordecai sent back the following reply to Esther: "Do not imagine that because you are in the king's house you alone will escape any more than the rest of the Jews.

<sup>14</sup> For if you are silent at a time like this, then relief and deliverance will arise for the Jews from another place, but you and your father's house will perish. Who knows whether you have been granted royal status for such a time as this."

<sup>15</sup> Then Esther sent this reply to Mordecai:

<sup>16</sup> "Go, gather all the Jews found in Susa, and fast for me. Do not eat or drink for three days, day or night. I also and my attendants will fast the same way. Then I will go in to the king, even though it is against the law. If I perish, I perish."

<sup>17</sup> So Mordecai went away and did just as Esther had directed him.

DASV: Esther 5

<sup>1</sup> Now on the third day, Esther put on her royal robes, and stood in the inner court of the king's palace, across from the king's quarters. The king was sitting on his royal throne, opposite the entrance of the palace.

<sup>2</sup> When the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, she won favor in his sight, and the king held out the gold scepter that was in his hand to Esther. So Esther approached and touched the top of the scepter.

<sup>3</sup> Then the king said to her, "What do you want, Queen Esther? What is your request? Whatever it is will be given to you, even up to the half of the kingdom."

<sup>4</sup> Esther said, "If it pleases the king, let the king and Haman come today to the banquet that I have prepared for the king."

<sup>5</sup> Then the king said, "Bring Haman quickly, so that it may be done as Esther has requested." So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

<sup>6</sup> While they were drinking wine the king said to Esther, "What is your wish? It will be granted to you. What is your request? Even to the half of the kingdom, it will be granted."

<sup>7</sup> Then Esther replied, "My wish and my request is this:

<sup>8</sup> If I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it pleases the king to grant my wish and to grant my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I will prepare for them. I will do tomorrow what the king has asked about."

<sup>9</sup> Then Haman left that day happy with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he did not rise or tremble before him, he was furious at Mordecai.

<sup>10</sup> Nevertheless Haman restrained himself and went home. Then Haman sent and invited his friends and his wife Zeresh to join him.

<sup>11</sup> Haman recounted to them the impressiveness of his riches, his many children, and all the ways in which the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him over the other nobles and officials of the king.

<sup>12</sup> Haman continued, "Yes, Esther the queen invited no one but me and the king to the banquet that she had prepared. Tomorrow she has also invited me to dine with the king.

<sup>13</sup> Yet all this means nothing to me, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate."

<sup>14</sup> Then his wife Zeresh and all his friends suggested to him, "Let a seventy-five foot high gallows be built, and in the morning speak to the king that Mordecai may be hanged on it. Then go with the king to the banquet satisfied." The suggestion pleased Haman so he had the gallows built.

DASV: Esther 6

<sup>1</sup> That night the king could not sleep, so he commanded to bring the book of historical records, the annals, and they were read to the king.

<sup>2</sup> It was found written that two of the king's eunuchs who guarded the king's private quarters, Bigthana and Teresh, Mordecai had uncovered their conspiracy to assassinate King Ahasuerus.

<sup>3</sup> The king asked, "What honor and dignity has been bestowed on Mordecai for this?" Then the king's attendants replied, "Nothing was done for him."

<sup>4</sup> The king asked, "Who is in the courtyard?" Now Haman had come into the outer courtyard of the king's palace, to request permission from the king to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.

<sup>6</sup> So Haman came in, and the king asked him, "What should be done to the man whom the king wishes to honor?" Now Haman thought to himself, "Who would the king want to honor more than me?"

<sup>7</sup> So Haman replied to the king, "For the man the king desires to honor, <sup>8</sup> let a royal robe be brought which the king has worn, and a horse the king has ridden on, the one with a royal insignia on it.

<sup>9</sup> Let the royal robe and the horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble officials, have him robe the man the king wishes to honor, and let him lead him on horseback through the city square, and proclaim before him, "This is what is done to the man whom the king desires to honor."

<sup>10</sup> Then the king said to Haman, "Quickly, take the robe and the horse, as you have just suggested for Mordecai the Jew, who sits at the king's gate. Do not leave anything out of all that you have proposed."

<sup>11</sup> Then Haman took the robe and the horse, and dressed Mordecai, and led him on the horse through the city square, proclaiming before him, "This is what will be done to the man the king desires to honor."

<sup>12</sup> Mordecai returned to the king's gate. But Haman hurried home, agonizing and shamefully covering his head.

<sup>13</sup> Haman told his wife Zeresh and all his friends everything that had happened to him. Then his wise men and his wife Zeresh warned him, "If Mordecai, before whom you have begun to fall is Jewish, you will not prevail. You will surely be unsuccessful against him."

<sup>14</sup> While they were still talking with him, the king's eunuchs came and hurried Haman off to the banquet Esther had prepared.

DASV: Esther 7

<sup>2</sup> The king again asked Esther on the second day of the banquet of wine, "What do you want, Queen Esther? It will be granted to you. What is your request? Even if it costs up to the half of the kingdom, it will be granted to you."

<sup>3</sup> Then Queen Esther replied, "If I have found favor in your sight, O king, and if it pleases the king, let my life be granted to me by my petition, and the lives of my people at my request.

<sup>4</sup> For both I and my people have been sold, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to be annihilated. But if we had merely been sold as male and female slaves, I would have held my peace, for such distress would not have justified disturbing the king."

<sup>5</sup> Then King Ahasuerus spoke and said to Esther the queen, "Who is he, and where is he who would dare to do such a thing?"

<sup>6</sup> Esther declared, "The adversary and the enemy is this wicked Haman." Then Haman was terrified before the king and queen.

<sup>7</sup> The king arose in his outrage from the banquet of wine and stepped out into the palace garden. Haman stood up to beg Queen Esther for his life; for he realized that the king was determined to destroy him.

<sup>8</sup> When the king returned from the palace garden to the banquet of wine, Haman had thrown himself on the couch where Esther was sitting. Then said the king, "Will he even assault the queen before me in the palace?" As soon as the word went out of the king's mouth, his attendants covered Haman's face.

<sup>9</sup> Then Harbonah, one of the eunuchs attending the king said, "Look, there is a seventy-five foot high gallows Haman had built at his house for Mordecai, who was the one who spoke to save the king." So the king ordered, "Hang him on it."

<sup>10</sup> So they hanged Haman on the gallows he had built for Mordecai. Then the king's rage subsided.

DASV: Esther 8

<sup>1</sup> On that day King Ahasuerus [or Xerxes] gave the house of Haman, the enemy of the Jews, to Queen Esther. Mordecai came before the king for Esther had explained how he was related to her.

<sup>2</sup> The king took off his signet ring, which he had taken back from Haman, and gave it to Mordecai. Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman.

<sup>3</sup> Esther spoke again with the king, and fell down at his feet, begging him with tears to put an end to the evil plan of Haman the Agagite, and the plot he had devised against the Jews.

<sup>4</sup> Then the king held out the golden scepter to Esther. So Esther arose and stood before the king.

<sup>5</sup> She said, "If it pleases the king, and if I have found favor in his sight, and if he thinks it is the right thing to do, and if he is pleased with me, then let an order be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman, the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, in which he wrote to destroy the Jews who are in all the king's provinces.

<sup>6</sup> For how can I bear to watch such calamity come on my people? Or how can I stand to watch the destruction of my relatives?"

<sup>7</sup> Then King Ahasuerus said to Queen Esther and to Mordecai the Jew, "Look, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and they have hanged him on the gallows, because he conspired to lay his hand on the Jews.

<sup>8</sup> You may write in behalf of the Jews, whatever you wish in the king's name and seal it with the king's ring. Any edict written in the king's name and sealed with the king's ring, cannot be reversed."

<sup>9</sup> So the king's scribes were summoned at that time, on the twenty-third day of the third month, which is called Sivan. An edict was written according to all that Mordecai ordered and sent to the Jews, the satraps, the governors and the officials of all 127 provinces from India to Ethiopia, to every province in its own script, and to every people in their own language, and also to the Jews in their own script and language.

<sup>10</sup> Mordecai wrote in the name of King Ahasuerus, and sealed it with the king's signet ring, and sent the letters by mounted couriers, riding on swift steeds that were bred for the king's service, sired by the royal stud.

<sup>11</sup> In these letters the king granted the Jews in every city the right to assemble and defend their lives; to destroy, slay, and annihilate any armed force of whatever people and province that might attack them, their women and children, and plunder their property.

<sup>12</sup> This was to happen on one selected day in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month Adar.

<sup>13</sup> A copy of the edict was to be issued in every province and published to all the peoples, and on that day the Jews were to be ready to avenge themselves on their enemies.

<sup>14</sup> So the couriers who rode on the swift royal steeds went out hurriedly urged on by the king's command. The decree was issued from the citadel in Susa.

<sup>15</sup> Mordecai went out from the presence of the king in royal robes of blue and white, and with a great gold crown and a purple mantle of fine linen. The city of Susa shouted and was glad.

<sup>16</sup> For the Jews there was exuberant happiness and joyful honor.

<sup>17</sup> In every province and in every city the king's command and decree arrived, the Jews had gladness and joy, celebrating with a feast and a holiday. Many from among the peoples of the land became Jews because the fear of the Jews had fallen upon them.

DASV: Esther 9

<sup>1</sup> Now on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, that is the month Adar, when the king's command and his decree was about to be implemented, on the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to gain power over them, quite to the contrary, the Jews gained mastery over those who hated them.

<sup>2</sup> The Jews assembled themselves in their cities throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus [or Xerxes], to strike at those trying to harm them. No one could withstand them, for the fear of them fell on all the peoples.

<sup>3</sup> All the officials of the provinces, the satraps, the governors, and those who did the king's bidding, helped the Jews, because the fear of Mordecai had fallen on them.

<sup>4</sup> For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame spread throughout all the provinces as Mordecai grew more and more powerful.

<sup>5</sup> The Jews struck all their enemies with the sword, killing and destroying them, and did whatever they wanted to those who hated them.

<sup>10</sup> the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Jew's enemy. They did not lay a hand on the plunder.

<sup>11</sup> On that day the number of those killed in the citadel of Susa was reported to the king.

<sup>12</sup> The king said to Queen Esther, "The Jews have killed and destroyed 500 men in the citadel of Susa, along with the ten sons of Haman. What then have they done in the rest of the king's provinces! Now what else do you want? It will be granted to you. Do you have a further request? It will be done."

<sup>13</sup> Then answered Esther, "If it pleases the king, let the Jews who are in Susa be allowed to do tomorrow what they have done according decree for today. Let Haman's ten sons be hanged on the gallows."

<sup>14</sup> The king commanded it to be done and a decree was given out in Susa and they hanged Haman's ten sons.

<sup>15</sup> So the Jews who were in Susa assembled themselves also on the fourteenth day of the month Adar. They killed 300 men in Susa but did not lay a hand on the plunder.

<sup>16</sup> The other Jews who were in the king's provinces assembled themselves in order to defend their lives. They gained relief from their enemies and killed 75,000 of those who hated them, but did not lay a hand on the plunder.

<sup>17</sup> This was done on the thirteenth day of the month Adar. Then on the fourteenth day of the same month they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.

<sup>18</sup> But the Jews who were in Susa assembled on both the thirteenth and fourteenth day, then on the fifteenth day they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.

<sup>19</sup> Therefore the Jews of the villages, who lived in the rural towns, make the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting, and a holiday when they send gifts of food to each other.

<sup>20</sup> Mordecai wrote these things down and sent letters to all the Jews who were in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, both near and far,

<sup>21</sup> to have them keep the fourteenth and fifteenth days of the month Adar, annually, <sup>22</sup> as the days on which the Jews had relief from their enemies, and the month when their sorrow was turned to gladness, and from mourning into a holiday. These days were to be days of feasting, gladness, sending food to another and gifts to the poor.

<sup>23</sup> So the Jews determined to do as they had begun to do, and as Mordecai had written to them.

<sup>24</sup> For Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them and had cast Pur, that is the lot, to crush and destroy them.

<sup>25</sup> But when the matter came before the king, he gave written orders that Haman's wicked plot, which he had devised against the Jews, should come back on his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows.

<sup>26</sup> That is why they called these days Purim, after the name of Pur [lot] and because of all the words of this letter, and what they had seen in this matter and what had happened to them.

<sup>27</sup> The Jews established and accepted this tradition for themselves, their descendants and on all who joined them, that without fail they should keep these two days as it is written and according to the appointed time annually.

<sup>28</sup> These days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province and every city. These days of Purim should not fail to be celebrated by the Jews, nor should the remembrance of them perish from their descendants.

<sup>29</sup> Then Queen Esther, the daughter of Abihail, and also Mordecai the Jew, wrote with full authority to confirm this second letter of Purim.

<sup>30</sup> He sent letters to all the Jews, to the 127 provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, with words of peace and truth, <sup>31</sup> to establish these days of Purim in their appointed time, just as decreed by Mordecai the Jew and Queen Esther, and as they had established for themselves and their descendants, with regard to the fasts and lament.

<sup>32</sup> The command of Esther confirmed these practices of Purim, and it was written in the annals.

DASV: Esther 10

<sup>1</sup> Now King Ahasuerus [or Xerxes] laid tribute on the land and on the coastlands of the sea.

<sup>2</sup> All the acts of his power and might, and the full account of the greatness of Mordecai, to which the king promoted him, are they not written in the scroll of the annals of the kings of Media and Persia?

<sup>3</sup> For Mordecai the Jew was second only to King Ahasuerus. He was great among the Jews and esteemed by many of his relatives because he sought the good and advocated for the welfare of all his people.

DASV: Digital American Standard Version*DASV: Job 1

<sup>1</sup> There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job. That man was blameless and upright, and one who feared God and turned away from evil.

<sup>2</sup> He had seven sons and three daughters.

<sup>3</sup> He owned 7,000 sheep, 3,000 camels, 500 yoke of oxen, 500 female donkeys, and a large number of servants. He was the greatest of all the people of the east.

<sup>4</sup> His sons would take turns holding a feast at their houses and they would send and invite their three sisters to eat and drink with them.

<sup>5</sup> When the days of their feasting were completed, Job would send and sanctify them. He would get up early in the morning, offer a burnt offering for each one of them. For Job said, "It may be that my sons have sinned, and renounced God in their hearts." This was Job's regular habit.

<sup>6</sup> Now it came to pass on the day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, that Satan also came with them.

<sup>7</sup> The LORD asked Satan, "Where have you come from?" Satan answered the LORD, "From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it."

<sup>8</sup> The LORD asked Satan, "Have you considered my servant Job? There is no one like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, one who fears God, and turns away from evil."

<sup>9</sup> Then Satan answered the LORD, "Does Job fear God for no reason?"

<sup>10</sup> Have you not made a hedge around him, his house, and all that he has, on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his livestock have increased in the land.

<sup>11</sup> But reach out your hand now, and strike all that he has, and he will curse you to your face."

<sup>12</sup> The LORD said to Satan, "All right, everything he has is in your power, only do not lay a hand on Job himself." So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> One day, when Job's sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in the house of their oldest brother,

<sup>14</sup> a messenger came to Job, and announced, "The oxen were plowing, and the donkeys were feeding beside them;

<sup>15</sup> and the Sabeans attacked and carried them away. They have struck down the servants with the edge of the sword and I am the only one who has escaped to tell you."

<sup>16</sup> While he was still speaking, another messenger came and announced, "The fire from God has fallen from heaven, and has burned up the sheep and the servants, and consumed them; I am the only one who escaped to tell you."

<sup>17</sup> While he was still speaking, another messenger came and announced, "The Chaldeans made three raiding parties, and made a raid on the camels and made off with them, and have struck down the servants with the edge of the sword, and I am the only one who has escaped to tell you."

<sup>18</sup> While he was still speaking, another messenger came and announced, "Your sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in the house of the oldest brother;

<sup>19</sup> a great wind swept in from the desert, it struck the four corners of the house, and it collapsed on the young men, and they are dead; and I am the only one who has escaped to tell you."

<sup>20</sup> Then Job got up, and tore his robe, shaved his head and fell down on the ground and worshipped.

<sup>21</sup> He said, "Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked I will return there. The LORD gave, and the LORD has taken away. Blessed be the name of the LORD."

<sup>22</sup> In all this Job did not sin or charge God with wrongdoing.

DASV: Job 2

<sup>1</sup> One day, when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, Satan also came with them to present himself before the LORD.

<sup>2</sup> The LORD asked Satan, "Where have you come from?" Satan answered the LORD, "From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it."

<sup>3</sup> The LORD asked Satan, "Have you considered my servant Job? There is no one like him in the earth, a blameless and upright man, one who fears God, and turns away from evil. He still holds onto his integrity, although you incited me against him, to destroy him for no reason."

<sup>4</sup> Satan answered the LORD, "Skin for skin, a man will give all he has to save his own life.

<sup>5</sup> But reach out your hand now, and strike his flesh and bones, and he will curse you to your face."

<sup>6</sup> Then the LORD said to Satan, "All right, he is in your hand, only spare his life."

<sup>7</sup> So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD, and struck Job with horrible boils from the sole of his foot to top of his head.

<sup>8</sup> He used a piece of broken pottery to scrape himself with while he sat among the ashes.

<sup>9</sup> Then his wife advised him, "Do you still hold onto your integrity? Curse God and die."

<sup>10</sup> But he replied, "You are speaking like one of the foolish women would speak. Shall we receive good at the hand of God and not bad?" In all this Job did not sin with his lips.

<sup>11</sup> Now when Job's three friends, Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite, heard of all this trouble that had come on him, they each came from their homes and met together to come in order to comfort and sympathize with him.

<sup>12</sup> When they saw him in the distance, they did not recognize him. They wept aloud, tore their robes and sprinkled dust into the air on their heads.

<sup>13</sup> After that they sat down with him on the ground seven days and seven nights, and no one said a word to him, for they saw that his suffering was severe.

DASV: Job 3

<sup>1</sup> After this, Job opened his mouth, and cursed the day of his birth.
<sup>2</sup> Job said:
<sup>3</sup> "Let the day perish on which I was born, and the night it was said, "A boy has been conceived."
<sup>4</sup> Let that day be turned to darkness, let God above not seek for it, nor let the light shine on it.
<sup>5</sup> Let darkness and the shadow of death claim it for their own.
Let a dark cloud settle over it;
let blackness of the day terrify it.
<sup>6</sup> As for that night, let thick darkness seize upon it.
Let it not be counted among the days of the year.
Let it not come into the number of the months.
<sup>7</sup> Let that night be childless.
Let no joyful sound ring out in it.
<sup>8</sup> Let those who curse days, curse that day, those who are ready to rouse Leviathan.
<sup>9</sup> Let its stars of dawn be dark.
Let it wait for daybreak, but find none, nor let it see the beams of the morning light, <sup>10</sup> because it did not shut the doors of my mother's womb, or hide trouble from my eyes.

<sup>11</sup> Why did I not die at birth?
Why did I not expire as I came from my mother's womb?
<sup>12</sup> Why did the knees receive me?
Why were there breasts that I should nurse?
<sup>13</sup> For now I would be lying down and quiet;
I would have slept and been at rest
<sup>14</sup> with kings and advisors of the earth, who built places for themselves that are now in ruins, <sup>15</sup> or with princes who had gold, who filled their palaces with silver.

<sup>16</sup> Or why was I not buried like a stillborn child, as infants who never have seen the light?
<sup>17</sup> There the wicked cease from causing trouble; and there the weary are at rest.
<sup>18</sup> There the prisoners are at ease together, they no longer hear the voice of the taskmaster.
<sup>19</sup> The small and the great are there, and the slave is free from his master.

20 Why is light given to him who is in misery, and life to those bitter in soul,
21 who long for death, but it does not come,
and search for it more than for hidden treasures;
22 who rejoice full of happiness,
and are glad, when they can find the grave?
23 Why is light given to one whose way is hidden, and whom God has hedged in with trouble?

24 For my sighing comes instead of my food, and my groanings are poured out like water.
25 For the thing I feared has come on me,
and that which I was afraid of has overcome me.
26 I have no peace and quiet,
I have no rest, only trouble has overtaken me."

DASV: Job 4

<sup>1</sup> Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, <sup>2</sup> "If one ventures a word with you, will you be grieved?
But who can keep from speaking?
<sup>3</sup> Look, you have instructed many,
and you have strengthened the hands of the weak.
<sup>4</sup> Your words have supported the one who was falling, and you have made firm the feeble knees.
<sup>5</sup> But now it comes to you, and you are depressed, it touches you, and you are dismayed.
<sup>6</sup> Is not your fear of God your confidence, and the integrity of your ways your hope?
<sup>7</sup> Ponder this: who ever perished, being innocent?
Or where were the upright ever cut off?
<sup>8</sup> It's just like what I have seen,
those who plow iniquity, and sow trouble,
reap the same.
<sup>9</sup> By the breath of God they perish, and by the blast of his anger they are consumed.
<sup>10</sup> The roaring of the lion, and the growling of the fierce lion,
and the teeth of the young lions are broken.
<sup>11</sup> The strong lion perishes for lack of prey, and the lioness' cubs are scattered.

<sup>12</sup> Now a word secretly came to me, and my ear picked up a whisper of it.
<sup>13</sup> In troubled thoughts from dreams in the night, when men fall into deep sleep,
<sup>14</sup> fear and trembling came upon me, which made all my bones shake.
<sup>15</sup> Then a spirit drifted past my face, making the hair of my flesh stand up.
<sup>16</sup> It stood still, but I could not discern its appearance, its phantom like form was before my eyes,
I heard a whispering voice:
<sup>17</sup> 'Can a mortal be more righteous than God?
Can a man be more pure than his Maker?
<sup>18</sup> If he puts no trust in his servants, and if he charges even his angels with error, <sup>19</sup> how much more those who dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust,

who are crushed as easily as a moth!
20 Between morning and evening they are destroyed, they perish forever without anyone even being aware it.
21 Is not their tent-cord pulled up?
They die, even then without wisdom.'

DASV: Job 5

1 Call now. Is there anyone who will answer you?
To which of the holy ones will you turn?

2 For anger kills the foolish, and jealousy slays the simple.

3 I have seen the fool taking root, but suddenly I cursed his dwelling place.

4 His children are far from safety, they are crushed in court at the gate,
and there is no one to deliver them.

5 The hungry eat up his harvest, and they take it even from the thorns,
and the thirsty pant for their wealth.

6 For affliction does not just grow from the dust, nor does trouble sprout out of the ground;

7 but man is born for trouble,
as surely as sparks fly upward.

8 If I were you, I would seek God, and would present my case to God.

9 He does great and unsearchable things, marvelous things without number.

10 He gives rain on the earth, and sends water on the fields.

11 He sets on high those who are lowly, and those who mourn are lifted to safety.

12 He frustrates the schemes of the crafty, so that their hands cannot accomplish their plans.

13 He traps the shrewd in their own craftiness, and the schemes of the cunning are brought to a quick demise.

14 They meet with darkness in the daytime, and grope at noonday as if it were night.

15 But he rescues the needy from the sword of their mouth, even the poor from the hand of the mighty.

16 So the poor have hope, and injustice shuts her mouth.

17 Blessed is the one whom God corrects, therefore do not despise the discipline of the Almighty.

18 For while he wounds,
he also bandages up;
He cuts to pieces,

but his hands also heal.
19 He will rescue you from six disasters,
yes, even in seven no evil will touch you.
20 In famine he will redeem you from death,
and in war from the power of the sword.
21 You will be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and you will not be afraid of violence when it comes.
22 You will laugh at destruction and famine, and you will not be afraid of the beasts of the earth.
23 For you will have an agreement with the stones of the field, and the beasts of the field will be at peace with you.
24 You will know that your tent is safe.
You will inspect your sheepfold, and there will be nothing missing.
25 You will realize that your descendants will be many,
and your offspring like the grass of the earth.
26 You will come to your grave in a full age, like stacks of grain harvested in its season.
27 We have checked it out, and this is true, listen to it and apply it to yourself."

DASV: Job 6

<sup>1</sup> Then Job answered,
<sup>2</sup> "O that my agony could be weighed,
and all my misfortune put on the scales!
<sup>3</sup> It would be heavier than the sand of the sea, this is why my words have been so rash.
<sup>4</sup> For the arrows of the Almighty have stuck in me, my spirit drinks their poison.
The terrors of God are aligned against me.
<sup>5</sup> Does the wild donkey bray when it has grass?
Or does the ox bellow when it has fodder?
<sup>6</sup> Is tasteless food eaten without salt?
Or is there any taste in the white of an egg?
<sup>7</sup> My appetite refuses to touch them, they are like repulsive food to me.

<sup>8</sup> O that I might have my request, and that God would grant what I long for:
<sup>9</sup> that it would please God to crush me, that he would let loose his hand and cut me off!
<sup>10</sup> This would be my comfort, then I would rejoice even in continual pain, for I have not denied the words of the Holy One.

<sup>11</sup> What is my strength, that I should wait?
What is my end, that I should prolong my life?
<sup>12</sup> Is my strength like the strength of stones?
Or is my flesh made of bronze?
<sup>13</sup> Am I not powerless to help myself, and any success driven from me?

<sup>14</sup> He who withholds kindness from his friend, forsakes the fear of the Almighty.
<sup>15</sup> My brothers have been as unreliable as a seasonal stream, as torrential brooks that flow away.
<sup>16</sup> They are black because of ice, and surging with melting snow.
<sup>17</sup> When it warms up, they vanish, when it becomes hot,
they disappear from their place.
<sup>18</sup> The caravans turn aside from their ways, they go up into the wasteland and perish.

19 The caravans of Tema look for streams, the travelers of Sheba search for them.
20 They were ashamed because they had hoped,
they came there, but were disappointed.
21 For now you have proven to be of no help, you see my calamity and are afraid.
22 Did I ever say, 'Give me something?'
Or, 'Offer me a bribe from your wealth?'
23 Or, 'Deliver me from the enemy's hand?'
Or, 'Ransom me from the hand of the oppressors?'

24 Teach me, and I will be silent; make me understand where I have gone wrong.
25 How painful are honest words!
But what does your reproof really prove?
26 Do you think you can reprove with mere words, and treat the words of one despairing as wind?
27 Yes, you would cast lots to sell an orphan, and even auction off your friend.

28 But now have the decency to look at me, for I will not lie to your face.
29 Please turn, let there be no injustice, turn back for my righteousness is at stake.
30 Is there any injustice on my tongue?
Cannot my palate discern evil?

DASV: Job 7

1 Is it not a difficult struggle for humanity on earth?
Are not his days like the days of a hired worker?
2 Like a slave who earnestly longs for the shadow, and like a hired worker who looks for his wages;
3 so I am assigned to months of futility, and nights of misery are appointed to me.
4 When I lie down, I ask, 'When will I get up?'
but the night creeps on while I constantly toss and turn until dawn.
5 My flesh is clothed with maggots and dirt;
my skin breaks open and festers.

6 My days pass faster than a weaver's shuttle, and come to an end without hope.
7 Remember that my life is a mere breath,
my eyes will never again see good.
8 The eye of one who sees me will see me no more;
your eyes will look for me, but I will be gone.
9 Just as the cloud dissipates and vanishes, so the one who goes down to the grave will never come back.
10 He will no longer return to his house, nor does his place know him anymore.

11 Therefore I will not restrain my mouth,
I will speak from the anguish of my spirit,
I will complain from the bitterness of my soul.
12 Am I a sea, or a sea monster, that you put a guard over me?
13 When I say, 'My bed will comfort me, my couch will ease my complaint,' 14 Then you frighten me with dreams, and terrify me with visions,
15 so that I would choose to be strangled, and death rather than live with these bones of mine.
16 I hate my life, I do not want to live forever, leave me alone, for my days are a mere breath.

17 What is a human being that you make so much of him, and that you pay such close attention to him?
18 You visit him every morning, and test him every moment?
19 How long, will you not please look away from me, or leave me alone long enough for me to swallow my spit?

20 If I have sinned, what have I done to you, O watcher of men?
Why have you made me your target?
Have I become a burden to you?
21 Why do you not pardon my transgression, and remove my iniquity?
For now I will lie down in the dust;
then you will diligently search for me,
but I will be gone."

DASV: Job 8

<sup>1</sup> Then Bildad the Shuhite responded, <sup>2</sup> "How much longer will you go on speaking these things?
How long will the words of your mouth be like a howling wind?
<sup>3</sup> Does God pervert justice?
Does the Almighty pervert what is right?
<sup>4</sup> If your children have sinned against him, he delivered them over to the consequences of their sin.
<sup>5</sup> If you would seek God,
and make your appeal to the Almighty;
<sup>6</sup> if you were pure and upright, surely now he would rouse himself for you,
and would restore your rightful home.
<sup>7</sup> Though your beginning was small, yet your latter days will be very great.

<sup>8</sup> Inquire of previous generations, and consider what their fathers have searched out.
<sup>9</sup> For we were born only yesterday, and know nothing,
because our days on earth are as fleeting as a shadow.
<sup>10</sup> Will they not teach and tell you?
Will they not utter words from their deep understanding?
<sup>11</sup> Can papyrus flourish where there is no marsh?
Can reeds grow where there is no water?
<sup>12</sup> While it is beginning to flower and not ready for cutting, it withers faster than any other plant.
<sup>13</sup> Such are the paths of all who forget God, the hope of the godless perishes.
<sup>14</sup> Their confidence will break as easily as a thread, whose trust is as insecure as a spider's web.
<sup>15</sup> He leans on its house, but it does not hold up, he grabs hold of it, but it will not endure.
<sup>16</sup> He is like a lush plant facing the sun, his shoots sprout over his garden.
<sup>17</sup> Its roots are penetrated down through the stone pile, it takes hold among the rocks.
<sup>18</sup> If it is uprooted out of its place, that place will disown it, saying, 'I have never seen you.'
<sup>19</sup> Look, it rots by the side of its path, then out of the earth others spring up.

20 God will not reject a blameless person, or lend a supporting hand to evildoers.
21 He will yet fill your mouth with laughter, and your lips with joyful shouts.
22 Those who hate you will be clothed with shame, and the tent of the wicked will be no more."

DASV: Job 9

<sup>1</sup> Then Job answered,
<sup>2</sup> "Obviously I know that this is so.
But how can a person be just before God?
<sup>3</sup> If someone wanted to contend with him,
he could not answer him once in a thousand times.
<sup>4</sup> He is wise in heart and mighty in strength, who has resisted him and succeeded?
<sup>5</sup> He moves mountains and they do not know it, when he overturns them in his anger.
<sup>6</sup> He shakes the earth out of its place, and its pillars tremble.
<sup>7</sup> He commands the sun and it does not rise, and he seals up the stars.
<sup>8</sup> He alone stretches out the heavens, and treads on the wave crests of the sea.
<sup>9</sup> He makes the Bear, Orion and the Pleiades, and the southern constellations.
<sup>10</sup> He does great things beyond finding out, yes, marvelous things without number.
<sup>11</sup> He passes by me, but I cannot see him, he moves on, but I cannot perceive him.
<sup>12</sup> If he snatches away, who can stop him?
Who can say to him, 'What are you doing?'
<sup>13</sup> God will not restrain his anger, the helpers of the sea monster Rahab bow beneath him.

<sup>14</sup> How then can I answer him?
how can I choose my words to argue with him?
<sup>15</sup> Even though I am righteous, I could not answer him,
I could only plead to my judge for mercy.
<sup>16</sup> If I could summon him and he would answer me,
I do not believe that he would listen to my voice.
<sup>17</sup> For he crushes me with a tempest, and multiplies my wounds for no reason.
<sup>18</sup> He will not let me catch my breath, but fills me with bitterness.
<sup>19</sup> If it is a question of strength, he is the strong one!
If it is a matter of justice, who can summon him?
<sup>20</sup> Though I am right, my own mouth would condemn me.
Though I am blameless, he would prove me perverse.

21 I am blameless.
    It does not matter to me.
        I despise my life.
22 It is all the same.
    Therefore I say,
        'He destroys the blameless and the wicked.'
23 If disaster results in sudden death, he mocks the calamity of the innocent.
24 The earth has been given into the hand of the wicked, yet he covers the faces blinding its judges.
        If it is not he, then who is it?

25 Now my days are swifter than a runner, they flee away without seeing any good.
26 They glide by like papyrus boats,
    as the eagle swooping down on its prey.
27 If I say, 'I will forget my complaint,
    I will put off my sad face, and be of good cheer.'
28 I am afraid of all my sorrows,
    I know you will not hold me innocent.
29 I will be condemned.
    Why then do I weary myself in vain?
30 If I wash myself with soap, and make my hands clean with lye,
31 yet you will plunge me into a slimy pit, and my own clothes will abhor me.
32 For he is not a human being like I am,
    that I might answer him,
        that we could go to court against each other.
33 There is no mediator between us, who might lay his hand on both of us,
34 who might take his rod away from me,
    so that his terror would not frighten me.
35 Then I would speak and not fear him, but I am not able to do it by myself.

DASV: Job 10

1 I loathe my life;
    I will give unrestrained expression to my complaint.
    I will speak from the bitterness of my soul.
2 I will say to God,
    Do not condemn me.
    Tell me what charges you are bringing against me.
3 Does it seem good to you to oppress?
    Should you despise the work of your hands, while looking with favor on the schemes of the wicked?
4 Do you have eyes of flesh?
    Or do you see like human beings see?
5 Are your days like the days of a mortal, or your years like the years of a human,
6 that you should search for my iniquity,
        and seek for my sin,
7 even though you know that I am not guilty, and there is no one who can deliver out of your hand?
8 Your hands have formed and made me, but now you totally destroy me.
9 Remember that you have made me like clay, and will you turn me back to dust again?
10 Have you not poured me out like milk, and curdled me like cheese?
11 You have clothed me with skin and flesh, and knit me together with bones and sinews.
12 You have granted me life and steadfast love, and your care has preserved my spirit.
13 Yet these things you have hid in your heart;
    I know that this was your purpose.
14 If I sin, then you will watch me, and you will not acquit me of my guilt.
15 If I am wicked, woe to me.
    But if I am righteous, yet I still cannot lift up my head.
I am filled with shame,
        and gaze upon my misery.
16 If my head were held high,
    you would hunt me like a lion,
        and again unleash your incredible power against me.
17 You bring your witnesses against me, and escalate your anger against me, and bring fresh troops against me.

18 Why then did you bring me out of the womb?
I wish I had died before any eye had seen me.
19 If only I had never existed;
carried right from the womb to the grave.
20 Are not the days of my life few?
Stop it then, and leave me alone,
that I may find a little comfort,
21 before I go, never to return, to the land of darkness and shadowy gloom;
22 the land of absolute darkness, like shadowy gloom and chaos, and where even the light is like darkness."

DASV: Job 11

<sup>1</sup> Then Zophar the Naamathite responded, <sup>2</sup> "Should not this profusion of words be answered?
Should one so full of talk be vindicated?
<sup>3</sup> Should your empty babble reduce others to silence?
When you mock, should no one make you ashamed?
<sup>4</sup> For you claim, 'My teaching is pure,
I am clean in God's eyes.'
<sup>5</sup> But if only God would speak, and open his lips against you,
<sup>6</sup> and reveal to you the enigmas of wisdom!
For true understanding has two sides.
Know therefore that God has already forgiven some of your sin.
<sup>7</sup> Can you by searching figure out the mysteries of God?
Can you discover the limit of the Almighty?
<sup>8</sup> It is higher than heaven, what can you do?
It is deeper than Sheol, what do you know?
<sup>9</sup> Its measure is longer than the earth, and wider than the sea.
<sup>10</sup> If he passes by, and imprisons, then summons a court, who can stop him?
<sup>11</sup> For he knows how deceptive humans are.
When he sees injustice, will he not consider it?
<sup>12</sup> But a stupid person will gain understanding, when a wild donkey's colt is born a human.

<sup>13</sup> If you would set your heart right, stretch out your hands toward him.
<sup>14</sup> If iniquity is in your hand, put it far away, and do not let injustice stay in your tents.
<sup>15</sup> Surely then you will lift up your face without blemish, you will be secure and will not fear.
<sup>16</sup> For you will forget your misery, you will remember it as waters that have flowed by.
<sup>17</sup> Your life will be brighter than the noonday;
though there is darkness, it will break like the dawn.
<sup>18</sup> You will be confident, because there is hope; you will be protected and lie down in safety.
<sup>19</sup> You will lie down, and no one will make you afraid;
many will seek your favor.
<sup>20</sup> But the eyes of the wicked will fail, the way of escape will elude them, and their only hope is to breathe their last."

DASV: Job 12

<sup>1</sup> Then Job answered,
<sup>2</sup> "No doubt you are the people, and wisdom will die with you.
<sup>3</sup> But I have understanding as well as you;
I am not inferior to you.
Who does not know these things?

<sup>4</sup> I am a laughing-stock to my friends,
I, who called on God and he answered,
a just and blameless person, am a laughing-stock.
<sup>5</sup> To those at ease there is contempt for misfortune;
it is ready for them whose feet slip.
<sup>6</sup> But the tents of robbers are at peace, and those who provoke God are secure;
who bring their god in their hand.

<sup>7</sup> But ask the animals, and they will teach you;
the birds of the heavens, and they will tell you.
<sup>8</sup> Speak to the earth, and it will instruct you;
and the fish of the sea will declare to you.
<sup>9</sup> Who among all these does not realize that the hand of the LORD has done this?
<sup>10</sup> In his hand is the life of every living thing, and the breath of every human being?
<sup>11</sup> Does not the ear test words, just as the tongue tastes its food?
<sup>12</sup> Wisdom is found among aged, and understanding comes with length of days.

<sup>13</sup> With God are wisdom and might;
to him belong counsel and understanding.
<sup>14</sup> If he tears down, it cannot be rebuilt;
if he locks someone up, there is no release.
<sup>15</sup> If he withholds the waters, they dry up;
if he releases them, they inundate the earth.
<sup>16</sup> With him is strength and wisdom, both the deceived and the deceiver are his.
<sup>17</sup> He leads counselors away stripped, and makes judges into fools.
<sup>18</sup> He loosens the robe belts of kings, and binds a loincloth around their waist.

19 He leads priests away stripped, and overthrows the mighty.
20 He removes the speech of the trusted advisers, and takes away the discretion of the elders.
21 He pours contempt on princes, and loosens the belt of the strong.
22 He discloses deep things out of the darkness, and brings the dark shadow to light.
23 He builds nations up, then destroys them.
He enlarges nations, then leads them away captive.
24 He takes away understanding from the leaders of the earth, and causes them to wander in a pathless wilderness.
25 They grope in the dark without light, and he makes them stagger like a drunkard.

DASV: Job 13

1 Look, my eye has seen all this, my ear has heard and understood it.
2 What you know, I also know,
I am not inferior to you.
3 But I want to speak to the Almighty, and I desire to argue my case with God.
4 As for you, you smear me with lies;
you are all worthless physicians.
5 If only you would be totally silent, that would be your wisdom.
6 Listen now to my reasoning,
